City delays action on re-zoning

Argument develops over budget, salary increases

In a hot and lengthy city council meeting Monday evening, aldermen postponed decision on a re-zoning proposal, approved a proposed site for a new sanitary landfill, and gave tentative approval of the 1977-78 budget which includes salary increases for city employees.

A lengthy agenda, packed with far-reaching subjects, extended the meeting until almost midnight. And at times the discussions got as hot as the temperature of the room, where the noisy air conditioner was turned off to permit better hearing.

As has occurred during the past few meetings when the subject of re-zoning was on the agenda, the room was filled to standing-room-only capacity. However, only a handful remained to hear arguments over the budget, which came later in the evening.

The re-zoning issue was a recommendation of the city's Planning and Zoning Commission to re-zone block 31 of the Texas Addition from single family residential to general residential, or multi-family residence.

An entire block between Texas and Aldine streets, on the west side of Third Street is the area being considered.

At present the area is undeveloped and is covered by mesquite trees and weeds. It is considered infeasible to develop for single-family residence but a business concern is proposing to construct one and two story multi-family housing which would be federally subsidized both in construction and rent.

Alderman C.A. Hicks, speaking against the re-zoning said the project would be to the detriment of the neighborhood which is composed of "good, fine citizens" with a life-long investment. "We don't need any subsidized people" in the neighborhood, Hicks said.

Mayor Johnny Crawford, who spoke strongly in favor of re-zoning, pointed out the Planning and Zoning Commission had made a lengthy study of the housing proposal and said the city badly needs more housing.

Crawford pointed out the cost of developing the block for single family residence would drive the price of homes so high they would not sell. Primary costs would be the developer's purchase of the land and building three block-long streets, as well as installation of utilities.

Answering charges that the housing would not only be undesirable, but likely the people who would live in subsidized housing would also be undesirable, Mayor Crawford reminded the council and audience that there is already subsidized houses in the city, and that the city government has no right to take anything else under consideration than the best use of the land.

Hicks' motion to reject the proposal died for a lack of a second, as did Gregory Ross' motion to accept. Members then voted to table the issue for further study.

After the tabling vote was counted, Jimmy Alsop, who lives in the neighborhood, asked the council how much longer the decision would be put off. "We would like to see you vote either yes or no, so we would know," he said.

In response, Crawford made the statement "At some point in time it'd be refreshing for this community to be FOR something," referring to the protests of re-zonings which have faced the council in recent weeks.

Many of those at the meeting who were objecting to the multi-family zoning were at the council meeting a few weeks ago, protesting a proposal to rezone another lot in the same area for an eating establishment.

BUDGET HASSLE

Though Monday's meeting was designated as the required public hearing on the proposed new budget, an extensive argument was held before its reading and explanations could be given.

As City Administrator Gene Britton was making preliminary comments on the $1,054,430 budget, Alderman Hicks stood and demanded the floor to make objections to the budget. When it became apparent that he insisted on speaking at that time, rather than waiting for the budget's reading, Mayor Crawford allowed him to speak.

Hicks then produced a two-page, type-written statement, with copies for the council and press. As he read it, the mayor had difficulty in controlling vocal objections to Hicks' statements from members of the audience, but succeeded.

"I personally consider this budget excessive. The Council Members are engulfed in numbers - but are starved for information. This budget is half revealing - and only half informative. Instead of the budget being only a 9% increase it is in fact in excess of 15%," Hicks said reading from his statement.

He objected to two new staff positions which were included in the budget proposal, claimed that several salary increases had already been given employees in recent years, declared there were hidden amounts of money included in the budget, and objected to equipment being purchased for the fire department.

Though the mayor and administrator pointed out errors in his figures, such as revenue sharing being included in this year's budget but not in last year's, Hicks refused to change his opinion. Britton pointed out that the actual increase in expenditures in the budget was actually only three per cent more than the 1976-77 budget.

The alderman received strong rebuttal from members of the Volunteer Fire Department, who pointed out several of his errors contained in the statement.

They contended that Hicks had talked with two members, where he referred to conversations with "several", and pointed out that the $2,200 siren requested was not for the department, but Civil Defense alert for the public.

To the proposal that salaries be increased an average of seven per cent, which includes individual raises ranging from two per cent to 15 per cent, Hicks read from his statement that he felt a five percent increase would be permissible "if we trimmed elsewhere."

During a discussion, however, Hicks said "I don't object to a salary increase. I would like to see them get 15 to 20 per cent more." He claimed employees were "wall to wall" in city hall.

Alderman Joe Singer told Hicks "We have no choice but to increase these salaries, and be competitive with the towns 15 miles from us, or we lose them after we've trained them. The percentage of increase we're giving them actually does not keep up with inflation."

Salaries were approved and the budget tentatively approved also, with 3-1 votes, Hicks voting against both.

A called council meeting will be held next Thursday to adopt the budget.

NEW SITE SELECTION

Following an executive session of the council, it was pointed out that a sanitary landfill site which was approved at the last meeting, southwest of the city, had been sold and was not available for lease.

The council approved application for approval from the state to utilize a five to eight acre tract of land southeast of Lake Buffalo Lake dam, which the city owns.

Estimates were made that the land would satisfy the needs of the city for three to five years.

Trustees approve athletic budget

The Iowa Park school board Tuesday night approved a proposed athletic budget for the 1977-78 school year of $58,189.

In other action the board hired some new personnel, made some salary adjustments, accepted bids to supply gasoline and motor oil for next year, and got first look at the new school policy book.

Head Coach Pat Tone presented a budget which totals $58,189 for the coming year for both high school and junior high. The figure is net anticipated expense, and does not include anticipated income from gate receipts for the sports.

Tone did anticipate income of $20,000 for football games, which would lower the budget expense to $38,189. But there were no estimates on income from the other sports.

Broken down, football will cost $36,371; boys basketball $4,442; baseball $2,798; boys track $4,003; volleyball $1,669; girls basketball $3,581; girls track $1,923; golf $1,335; and tennis $3,044.

The total athletic budget for last year was $48,913, from which there was some $2,000 carryover.

Trustees approved hiring of Mike Craig as head junior high coach, with a coaching bonus of $2,000.

The New Mexico Highlands graduate, who has coached four years at Hobbs, N.M., will also teach social studies. He replaces Neil Billingsley at the junior high, and Billingsley will move to the high school where he will be assistant football and head track coach.

Also hired were three West Wichita Cooperative teachers, Danielle Kinney, to replace Linda Hecker, at Valley View; Evilene Tamms to replace Cozette Marek at Holliday; and Patty Drake to replace Donna Ford at City View.

Hired as Title I aides were Sue

McCarthy and Pat Raby.

The three West Wichita employees replaced had tendered their resignations, as did Sherry Hacker, fifth grade social studies and art teacher at Valley View. Her post will not be filled, due to shrinkage of enrollment at that campus.

Another new employ hired was Jack Blagg, in maintenance.

Several members of the coaching staff received salary adjustments. Neil Billingsley received $375 for working as head track coach, while Doug Chaney and Bob Gray received $200 each because they worked one coach short at the junior high.

Salary changes for next year's contracts included: Marvin Brixey, $1,600 bonus, to be head junior varsity coach next year; Coach Williams, $250 added to his contract, head baseball coach next year; Jacky Denton, coaching salary increased to $1,400 for taking head freshman position; and Liz Billingsley, additional $200 to coach junior high next year.

Catlin Gulf was named low bidder to supply gasoline and oil to the school for the coming year, starting in August. The firm's bids were lower than those submitted by Kidd's Texaco, which had the contract for the past year. Catlin's bids were two cents lower on both regular and lead-free gasoline.

Dr. John McFarlin, of North Texas State Univ., went over the first three chapters of the new school policy book with trustees. Chapters included community relations, board of education, and business and non-instructional operations.

The noted educator was commissi-

Both city and school taxpayers wishing to appear before the tax equalization board, will be able to do so at 9 a.m. next Wednesday.

The board will meet at the school board meeting room in the administration building.

This will be the first meeting of the board since the responsibility of collecting city taxes was commissioned to the school tax assessor/collector, Bill Steger.

The same board will hear complaints on both city and school taxes, for personal and real property.

The following Tuesday, June 28, the board will be in session to hear from utility companies and petroleum industries.

Johnson to be subject of more jury study

A federal grand jury is expected in six weeks to rekindle its probe into the dealings of missing Iowa Park grainman Bobby Johnson.

The federal panel is scheduled to convene Aug. 1 in Wichita Falls, said Asst. U.S. Atty. Ron Eddins of Fort Worth.

"We are going to be presenting some additional material to the grand jury that relates to Robert Johnson's dealings," Eddins said in a telephone interview Wednesday morning.

The same grand jury one month ago indicted Johnson on 13 counts of interstate transportation of stolen wheat.

Eddins would not comment on whether or not Tommy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Clark or H.C. Johnson would be called to testify before the grand jury in August.

It was disclosed two weeks ago in a hearing in 78th District Court in Wichita Falls that Bobby Johnson may have been seen in Iowa Park about six weeks after he reportedly fell from a fishing boat and drowned Jan. 3 in the Gulf of Mexico near Port Aransas.

Perry Wesbrooks, a Wichita Falls attorney representing creditors in an involuntary bankruptcy suit against Johnson and his companies, said Mr. and Mrs. Clark made statements to officials that Tommy Johnson told them he had seen his missing uncle in mid February in the home of his father, H.C. Johnson.

Wesbrooks disclosed statements by the Clarks had been supplied the U.S. Attorney's Office and Dist. Atty. Tim Eysen.

Both Eddins and Eysen will not deny or confirm they have statements by the Clarks.

Guarding his statements on the coming grand jury session, Eddins only allowed it would be "very interesting."

"We hope to make some progress with the grand jury this next session," Eddins said.

Eddins indicated his office would be devoting more time on the Johnson case between now and Aug. 1, and that he expected his investigation to be complete by September.

The roller skate was invented by J. L. Plimpton in 1863.

She explained that walking with God meant traveling in the same direction with Him, walking worthily which demanded newness of life.

A salad luncheon followed the program.

Others present were Mmes. L. Shelton, John Clapp Sr., Tom Venhaus, Rev. E.B. Compton Jr., Alicia and Stephanie Compton.

Cook of the Week

A special treat for the Father's day edition of the Leader is to have "Danny, the Daddy" for the Cook of the week. He likes to cook and quote "to eat", and if he has a specialty it could well be Italian food using some of the recipes of his mother, who was born in Italy.

He admitted that he was not sharing some of his favorite recipes of true Italian origin, reserving the right to keep them esoteric.

Certain foods seem to be allied to certain countries. Mention Italian cuisine and the non-Italians immediately think of pasta, served as spaghetti, ravioli or noodles. Herbs, spices and wine play an important part in "la cucina italiana" to achieve tantalizing aromas. Cheeses are generously and cleverly applied to certain dishes and Italians also have a great many sauces. Although Danny's recipes today are American, a hint of southern Italy surfaces.

Danny and his wife, nee Jodi Guthrie, have come back to Iowa Park after a few years spent in Wichita Falls, Jasper and Lubbock and opened Petal Pushers, a new florist shop. They have two children, Peyton four and a half and Ryder, a year old.

Focusing attention upon Danny, he graduated from Iowa Park High School and attended Midwestern State University three years. At the university, he was a member of A Cappella Choir, Phi Mu Alpha, a music fraternity, and sang with the choir on Carnegie Hall stage.

He has served as choir director for the First United Methodist and First Christian churches in Iowa Park, taught private voice lessons and was in charge of choreography and music for several Miss Iowa Park pageants.

He has served as emcee for Little Miss pageants in Texas, Oklahoma and La. He organized the Kirkpatrick Singers, a summer group, in Iowa Park and the Summer Spectacular in Wichita Falls. He started the Danny and Kansas City Dolls, performing first for school carnivals in Iowa Park, then at Wichita Falls, later at the Jasper county Fair and was invited to the Southern State Fair of Texas.

While the Parkersons lived at Jasper, Danny was named the Jaycee of the Year and nominated for Newcomer of the Year.

Home canning, fruits and vegetables

By DEE JAMES
County Agent

Improved methods of home canning make it more enjoyable for the homemaker to preserve the natural goodness of foods. Foods spoil because of the action of yeasts, molds, bacteria and enzymes. In canning, the homemaker stops this action by processing food with heat and protecting it with an airtight seal. The processing time and temperature vary with different kinds of food.

Only two methods of home canning are recommended. One method is the boiling-water bath which is recommended for canning fruits, fruit juices, tomatoes, tomato juice, rhubarb and pickled vegetables. It is not recommended for any other vegetable. Water bath canners may be purchased; however, any big, clean kettle with a rack and tight-fitting lid will do if it is deep enough to hold the cans or jars upright and permit the water to boil gently 1 or 2 inches over the top of them.

The other method is in the pressure canner which is necessary for processing all non-acid vegetables in order to prevent possible spoilage and/or botulism. Botulism cannot be detected except in extreme cases, as the flavor, texture and odor are not necessarily affected. Before tasting, bring home canned, low acid vegetables to a rolling boil; then cover and boil at least 10 minutes. Boil spinach and corn 20 minutes.

Do you have a surplus of green beans or can you buy them at a reasonably low cost? Try canning them so that you can have summer goodness in the middle of winter.

You haven't canned green beans before? Here is how.

Prepare the beans just as you would for cooking - by snapping or cutting them into 1 or 2 inch pieces - or you might leave them whole. Pack them tightly into clean jars to 1/2 inch of the top of the jars while still raw. Cover them with boiling water leaving 1/2 inch space at the top of the jar. If salt is desired, add 1/2 teaspoon for a pint and 1 teaspoon for a quart. Wipe off the sealing surface of the jars and close according to the type of lid being used, following the manufacturer's directions.

Place the closed jars of hot beans in a pressure canner, which has 1 1/2 to 2 inches of boiling water and a rack to hold the jars off the bottom of the cooker.

Place the lid on the canner and fasten securely. If the lid has clamps, tighten opposite clamps moderately at first. Then go back over the whole set to tighten each

Science teacher to attend course

Ray E. Hornbaker, a science teacher at Iowa Park High School, has been selected to attend a special course on "Electric Power and the Environment" June 20 through July 1 at the University of Texas at Austin.

Hornbaker will be among high school science teachers from across the state who will examine different methods of generating electricity and their effects on the environment.

In addition to class lectures and discussions, the class will tour research facilities at the university and Texas Electric's lignite-fired generating plant near Fairfield.

Electric utilities in Texas sponsor the annual summer course along with the university.

Residents feted with ice cream

Residents at the local nursing home were treated with an ice cream social Wednesday of last week.

The ice cream was donated by Harvey's and six cakes by the summer homemaking class.

Entertainment was piano playing by Mrs. Thelma Gay, and a sing along was held also.

At the end of the program a certificate for volunteer work, signed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, was presented to Mrs. Gay.

pair as much as possible, with your fingers only.

Leave the petcock open until the steam escapes steadily for 10 minutes so that no air is left in the cooker then close the petcock. If air is left in, it causes a vacuum and draws the liquid off the beans.

Count the processing time as soon as the pressure reaches 10 pounds. Keep a uniform pressure by adjusting the heat or by moving the canner carefully.

Process the snap beans 20 minutes for pints and 25 minutes for quarts. At the end of the processing time, remove the canner from the heat. Allow the canner to cool until the gauge registers zero. Open the petcock gradually, and remove the cover. Leave the beans in the canner about 5 minutes. Take them out of the canner and place them right side up on a rack far enough apart to cool quickly. Do not place them in a draft or on a cold surface to prevent them from breaking.

Remember - no better beans will come out of the jars than went into them, so be sure to use good quality beans. If you do this and follow the directions carefully, you will come out with beans that are olive green in color and have the flavor of freshly cooked green beans.

Soil survey books arrive

According to Randy Underwood, Soil Conservationist at Iowa Park, the Wichita County Soil surveys have arrived. The soil survey books are available to the public upon request. There is no charge for the publication.

The soil survey is useful in showing the suitability and limitations of the soils in Wichita County. The survey shows the limitations of a certain soil for such things as septic tank absorption fields, sewage lagoons, dwellings without basements and many others. Soil surveys are useful to engineers, developers, realtors, land appraisers and farmers.

Mrs. Metz hosts Friendship class

Mrs. C.L. Metz was hostess for the meeting of Friendship class of First Baptist Church Monday evening.

Mrs. Elmer Singleton had charge of the business when the group voted a monetary contribution for cookies for the Vacation Bible School as a community project for June. The standing projects are contributions to the church's remodeling fund and bus ministry.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson gave a devotion on "Inner Peace" and directed a period of recreation.

Also present were Mmes. Ola McLaurin, Joe Bell, M.E. Goforth, C.A. Hicks and Homer Blalock.

CANNING TOMATOES

It is tomato season again. Do you have a surplus or can you buy them at a reasonably low price? You can have them to eat, or use in soup or any other dish requiring cooked tomatoes. They are good sources of vitamins A and C, needed for good health of every cell in the body.

How are they canned? Wash and sort fresh, firm, vine ripened tomatoes. Put them in a wire basket or thin cheese cloth bag and dip them in boiling water for 1 minute or until the skins crack. Plunge them into cold water immediately. Remove the core and skins. Leave them whole or cut them into halves or quarters. Pack them into clean jars leaving 1/2 inch at top of the jars, pressing gently to fill spaces. Add no water. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to each pint or 1 teaspoon to each quart.

Wipe off the sealing surface of the jars and close according to the type of lid being used, following the manufacturer's directions.

Place the jars in a boiling water bath canner which is a large container with a rack in the bottom to hold the jars about one inch from the bottom. It should be tall enough to have space to cover the jar with about one or two inches of water and about the same amount of space above the water.

The water should be hot but not boiling when you place the filled jars in the canner. Place lid on the canner and bring the water to a rolling boil, but reduce the heat just to boiling. This prevents the juice from being drawn out of the jars.

Boil pint jars 35 minutes and quart jars 45 minutes. Remove the jars from the water bath and let them cool. The tomatoes can be canned without salt for the

CANNING PEACHES

Why not can your peaches. Do you have a surplus or can you purchase them at a reasonable price? You can have them any time of the year by canning them. You haven't canned before? Well here is how.

Wash and peel them just as you would prepare them to be eaten fresh, or plunge them in boiling water for 2 minutes or until the skins slip. They can be halved or sliced, but be sure to remove the pits. Pack the peaches in clean jars, leaving 1/2 inch at the top of jars. Cover with boiling syrup made with 2 cups sugar to 4 cups of water. If you like a sweeter syrup, add more sugar. Wipe off the sealing surface of the jar and close according to the type of lid being used.

Place the jars in a boiling water bath canner. (Refer to instructions for tomatoes.) Boil pint jars 25 minutes and quart jars 35 minutes.

Remove the jars from the water bath and let them cool away from a draft. The peaches can be canned without sugar if you prefer.

Cotton demonstration is planted

By DON DECKER
County Agent

John Mann of Punkin Center is planting the cotton variety demonstration for us this year. The purpose of the demonstration is to keep cotton growers in the area informed on the varieties which are adapted plus gaining information concerning their individual characteristics.

Varieties included in the trial include LX571, Lankart 57, Locket 4789A, and Lankart 611. I had hoped to include SP37 in this test, however, seed was not available in this area. All of these are top varieties and should perform very well.

This is a field size demonstration which includes three acres of each variety per plot. Information will be gained on yield, grade, staple length, and micronaire. Each variety will be harvested with a stripper under normal field conditions.

The demonstration site is located on FM 25, approximately three miles northwest of Punkin Center. The plots will be marked so other growers in the area can watch these varieties as they develop during the year.

This field is level with uniform soils which should provide us with a good variety comparison. The fertility program includes about 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. John's seeding rate is fifteen pounds of acid delinted cottonseed per acre.

This test is being sponsored by the county crops committee headed by Loys Barbour of Iowa Park and the Pioneer Seed Company of Lockett who furnished the seed.

The second and final week of registration for the national Beef Referendum begins Monday, June 13, and ends Friday, June 17.

Wichita County producers can register at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office in Iowa Park, then return the first two weeks of July to cast their votes.

This proposed beef check-off program is designed to allow the establishment of advertising, promotion, research, education, and producer and consumer information on cattle, beef, and beef products.

The Plan would be funded by a 30c per $100 deduction on all cattle sales, but any producer who does not want to participate can get a refund. It is based on an added value system where each owner contributes his share.

"If a producer does not register, June 6-17, he can't vote in the referendum", according to James Foster, county chairman of the beef information program. "This is a major decision for the cattle industry, and each producer should participate." Any producer who has owned cattle in the past 12 months is eligible to register and vote.

This year's cotton acreage is being increased slightly by Charles Washburn of Punkin Center. He is planting 70 acres this year compared to a normal planting of approximately 50 acres. He uses cotton production in rotation with wheat to profitable aid in the control of wild oats in wheat.

Washburn uses a four-row planter. His seeding rate runs about 15 pounds of delinted seed per acre. Preplant trellan is used for weed control.

An intensive cotton insect control program is planned by the county crops committee. The main effort will be directed toward the control of the over-wintering boll weevils and fleahoppers. Careful monitoring of the cotton insect situation will be used to advise producers on timely spray applications.

The key in boll weevil control is to apply control measures after the weevil enters the field but before egg laying can occur in the small squares. This can be accomplished with one or two spray applications just as the oldest squares in the field reach the size of a matchhead.

Through a producers scouting program I will keep you advised on the timing of the boll weevil application.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" when it comes to dealing with pinkeye in cattle. The best prevention is fly control and pasture mowing or shredding.

Bright sunny days combined with other eye irritation provide the ingredients for pinkeye in cattle. Flies not only cause eye irritation but they also transmit the pathogen from one animal to another. Grazing in tall grass and weeds causes additional eye irritation.

My experience with pinkeye is about the same as with a cold - treatment is usually erratic. The best treatment I've seen is the injection of antibiotics into the eyelid then cover the eye with a dark patch.

If you get a tough pinkeye case, you might try this method. I suggest your picking-up a 3 cc syringe from the local veterinarian along with a supply of Tylan, Combotic, and Azium.

One cc of each drug is drawn into the syringe as a mixture. Using a pencil on top of the eyelid, roll the top eyelid back until the inside is showing. The tiny needle is injected on the underside of the top eyelid.

As the drug mixture is injected, the eyelid will "balloon-up" into a small ball. A dark patch is placed over the eye by using back tag glue at the corner of the patch. This patch eliminates the irritation from the bright sun.

The Azium reduces the pain caused by pinkeye while Tylan and Combotic provide antibiotic treatment. This technique keeps the infected eye bathing in the drugs over an extended period of time. When the patch wears off, the eye is usually well.

Wheat harvest is due to start this week with an above average crop in Wichita County. Darryl Blackwell, farm demonstration agent, and I will be harvesting wheat demonstrations early this week ahead of the combines.

The variety demonstration with Weldon Roth at Punkin Center includes 22 different wheats. The Mexican wheat is being demonstrated with Louie McCarthy and Terry Brogdon at Iowa Park.

The micro nutrient demonstration on wheat is being conducted by Johnny Allred at Valley View. This includes soil treatments with four different minor elements.

I had a call from Emory Boring, Extension entomologist, indicating two Area-wide Texas Commercial Pesticide Applicator Workshops have been set for Wichita Falls.

The first is scheduled for July 12-13, at Midwestern University under the sponsorship of the Texas Plant Food Institute. A second workshop is scheduled for 9:00 A.M., August 23-24, in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Company.

Commercial Pesticide Applicators in North Texas will want to get these dates on their calendar.

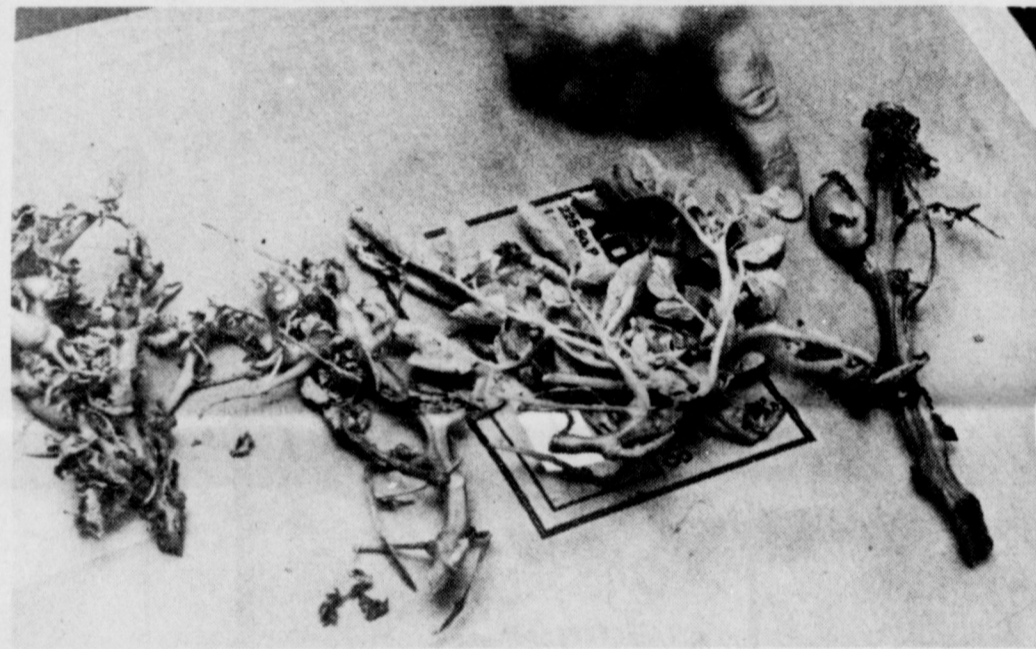

I'm going to have to quit going out to Frank Morton's for awhile. It rains every time I go out to work with him on our herbicide demonstration.

We completed application of the post-emerge herbicide trials last week. Atrazine was applied broadcast over the top of the sorghum at 1/2 pound, 1 pound, and 1 1/2 pounds per acre. One pint per acre of surfactant (Agri King) was used with each one of these treatments. Heavy rains fell the night following application.

The pre-emerge treatments are located in the same field. These include 1 1/2 pounds Miloguard, 2 1/2 pounds of Igran, and 2 pounds of Mow Down per acre. Our evaluation of the pre-emerge treatment is one pound of Miloguard per acre would do a good job with little to no crop damage on sandy lawn soils.

I've got an office full of apricots with black or brown areas on the fruit. This is scab, and it is too late for any control measures.

This fungus disease is controlled on apricots, peaches, and plums by entering the Spring spray program beginning when 75 percent of the petals fall

RARITY SPECIMEN - Mrs. Ruth Gensler, 307 W. Daisy, discovered something very rare in her garden when she was digging her potatoes last week. She was attracted to a growth on one of the vines and upon examining it found that it was a potato. Closer inspection of the vines in the garden showed that several had potatoes forming on them. They also had large potatoes underneath the ground.

Retail promotion set for September

Worth Quoting

The newest threat to our American way of life is the metric system.

We know that most of you have by now heard at least a little about the proposal to change our American system of weights and measurements to the metric system, which is currently in vogue in Europe.

Frankly, we have seen few systems developed in Europe that it would benefit our nation to adopt, but our congress is rushing pell-mell into the conversion to metric, and unless they do an about-face, the metric system will be the next millstone to be draped over an unsuspecting public's neck.

Why should America -- the nation who first landed men on the moon -- be told that its systems of weights and measurements are antiquated?

Charles Lindbergh would undoubtedly turn over in his grave if he were to realize that some of his own countrymen were at this moment suggesting that he might have been better prepared to make his historic first crossing of the Atlantic Ocean by airplane if he could have figured his fuel requirements, aerodynamics, time, etc., by the metric system.

We know that some of you are going to say, "Why we didn't know that Bill was an old fogey. Everyone knows that the metric system is the simplest in the world, and that it converts our complicated system of pounds, ounces, feet, inches, miles, and degrees into a standardized system."

Well, maybe we are a bit of an old fogey, but we can't see why our government and its agencies should spend all of the money they plan to spend simply to convert miles into kilometers.

Just the other day we heard that it would cost the government [which means you and me, baby] something like 80 billion dollars to make the necessary changes on everything from road signs and maps to untold millions of books and pamphlets.

We are of the opinion that the 80 billion could be invested in a number of ways that would better serve our nation. Put it into energy research. Spend half of it to determine if we really do have an energy crisis. That would be better spent than printing volumes to inform us that 32 degrees Fahrenheit equals zero degrees Celsius. It's just as cold, either way.

In December of 1975, Congress went on record supporting the conversion to the metric system. It did not impose a deadline for the conversion for citizens and businesses, but indicated that agencies of the government will be required to make the conversion.

That is why we fear an avalanche of spending that won't move our nation a bit closer to perfection, if that is what they think the metric system is.

From what we read and hear, the system was not necessarily a cure-all in Europe.

So far, the fact that we still deal in such outdated terms as pounds and gallons has not necessarily hindered our nation's trade with other countries, and this is about the only valid reason for changing that has been advanced.

We feel about switching to the metric system the same way we have felt about the possibility of having to teach in two or more languages, and printing ballots and legal notices in more than one language.

Our nation has its universal language and system of weights and measures. If anyone wants to live here, it should behoove that individual to learn the language, along with our other customs.

"When in Rome," someone said a long time ago, "Do as the Romans do."

As I See It... by BOB HAMILTON

Our mayor jogged me, and I hope most of the rest of the citizens of our community ... and maybe the citizens of our nation ... at the council meeting Monday night when he said it was time for us to be for (in favor of) something.

I really hadn't thought about it, but he was right. We've not been for much of anything in the town the past year, other, maybe, than creation of The Friendly Door for our older citizens.

We've not been for a lot of things, and I guess it's time.

Maybe we should each get a copy of Norman Vincent Peale's "Power of Positive Thinking".

It's often been pointed out, that the most simple stand is to be against something. There's just not much work on that part of the field.

But to be for something, to be constructive, to offer, well, that's another part of the field where the hoeing is tough.

Maybe Alderman Joe Singer brought it to light, when he asked a group opposing the re-zoning of a block what would be the best use of the land.

It had already been pointed out that the tract was priced too high in the first place, clearing would raise the price, and then development would make the land sky high.

Everyone who voiced an opinion agreed they knew what they didn't want, multi-family housing which was subsidized by the government. But not one person responded to Singer's question.

Maybe Peale's suggestions for positive thinking would help in the problem.

Maybe if we think positively, those structures would be much more attractive than the unattractive growth now on the land. Maybe the people who would rent those homes would be nice, and good to have in our town. We might even like some of them.

But the re-zoning issue isn't the only area where some positive thinking is needed. Far from it.

We've got a small group of positive thinking people who actively want to provide our community with nicer parks and recreation facilities; with a larger and better library; with a building and facilities for us all to use; with safer streets; with improved government; with a lot of things.

Maybe, from this soap box, some might think I believe anyone who disagrees with every plan that comes along is wrong. I don't.

When a plan is proposed, it often is someone's recognition that there is a shortcoming, or problem, and they are offering a suggestion on how it might be improved.

If you disagree, give a reason why, or offer suggestions on how it might be improved.

Tell them you like it like it is, that it can't be improved, and we take another ... back to the stone ages.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

We feel we have just met four of Iowa Park's finest. We have just come from a vacation on Padre Island, where we met Dan, Dennis, Brian, and Johnny. What a pleasure it was to get to know these four fine young men. They are a real tribute to their school, community and their homes. Getting to know them made us want to know Iowa Park. If we ever have the opportunity we are going to come by and visit you.

The Lay Family
Edmond, Oklahoma

Dear Bob:

I received a copy of the letter to you from ESA World Headquarters regarding our bike ride, so I'll make my letter short.

We all just want you to know how much we appreciate all your help and the promotion you gave to our ride. You've always been real good about giving ESA good publicity.

Our bike rides for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital would not be successful without the help of others. Our publicity is as important as the volunteer workers, sponsors and riders.

We will probably be asking for your help again next year. Because, again, we'll be ... Riding for the lives of little children.

Thanks a "Million"

Former resident is indicted

A former Iowa Park resident has been arraigned by the grand jury for embezzlement at Altus, Okla.

According to reports from that city, Lee C. Turner was arraigned for embezzlement of a $200 sofa. He has been released on bond, with a preliminary hearing on his case set for June 30.

Turner retired from the Air Force to live in Iowa Park. He worked here, was a member of the Volunteer Fire Department, city fire marshal and a member of the city council.

At the time of his arraignment he was manager of the Montgomery Ward store in Altus.

Comprehensive plan funds being sought

Nortex Regional Planning Commission's general membership will be asked today to approve an application from the City of Iowa Park for money to update the city's comprehensive plan.

The city is seeking a $10,000 grant from the Texas Department of Community Affairs, according to Tom Merritt, Nortex's urban planner.

The grant would enable the city to hire a professional planner to revise Iowa Park's comprehensive plan, according to Gene Britton, city administrator.

If approved the plan would include a land use survey, identification of streets and updating of planning and zoning and subdivision ordinances, Britton said.

Theft, vandalism are reported here

Iowa Park police were investigating a theft and a case of criminal mischief reported this week.

Police received a report from Tommy Johnson, 701 W. Manes, that a CB radio had been stolen from his pickup parked near his residence.

Burglars gained entrance to the locked vehicle by using a coat hanger to open the door, police said. The stolen CB was valued at $90, according to the police report.

Guy Crumpton, 511 N. First, reported three windows of his travel trailer had been broken with rocks, police said.

School board opposes flood control project

Holliday school board voted Monday night to go on record opposed to the most recent Holliday Creek-Lake Wichita Flood Control Project proposal.

A portion of the proposed project, designed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, is in the Holliday school District including Lakeside City.

Jimmy Horany of Lakeside City appeared before the school board Monday night, seeking the board's support in a collective effort to have the project quashed.

Horany said the project is estimated to cost more than $16-million and will take three years to complete.

Lake Wichita would be drained dry during part of the construction period, Horany said.

The city council of Lakeside City and owners of the more than 100 homes on the lake are concerned the value of their property would drop when the lake was drained for dam and spillway work, Horany said.

"We don't want to lose that value, and I'm sure the school district doesn't either," Horany argued.

Although the project is in the embryonic stages of finding its way through the federal government's bureaucratic maze, Horany contended it was better to nip it in the bud.

The Holliday school board voted to join the fight against the proposal through letters to government agencies and congressmen.

In other action Monday night the board voted to send a resolution to Archer County Commissioners Court seeking repairs to an old county road near Lake Wichita.

Repairs to the lake road could slice 10 miles off the lake bus route, Supt. Ray Coe explained.

The school board reiterated its pledge to build a new band hall, however, it appears no firm action will be taken for at least another month because of finances.

CLOSED SESSION

The school board voted itself into executive session for about an hour Monday night.

Don Lucy, head coach and athletic director, was with the board when it went into executive session. Dan Owen, elementary principal, joined the board about a half hour later.

When the meeting was reopened to the public, the board unanimously voted to accept the bid of City National Bank of Wichita Falls for the school's banking services during the coming year.

The board had tabled action on the bank bids earlier in the meeting.

Two bids were submitted in writing, the City National Bank bid and another by State National Bank of Iowa Park. Officers from both banks were present.

A verbal bid was submitted by an officer from First State Bank of Archer City.

City National Bank currently services Holliday Independent School District.

Also in the wake of the executive session the board voted to accept the request of coach Scotta Schroeder that she coach only junior high sports during the coming year.

Schroeder, who also coached high school girls sports last year, will receive the same salary for her duties as junior high coach.

The board approved the hiring of three elementary teachers and a high school teacher.

The board also accepted the resignation of Walter Lemons as assistant football coach and head basketball coach.

Lemons disclosed last week he was resigning his post with Holliday High School to go into real estate. From a field of three bids, the board accepted a bid of $60 from Danny White to purchase one of the school's old station wagons.

Royce Coats was the only board member absent from Monday night's regular session.

Holliday News

City postpones action on new fire station

In a called session Monday night the Holliday City Council postponed action on a proposal to build a new fire station here.

Garland Ray said he would donate three lots to the city if a fire station would be built on them, it was reported.

The council decided much work would have to go into preparing the lots for construction and decided to try and find a place closer to city hall.

It was the consensus of aldermen that money from the second annual firemen's auction, July 16, would go toward paying for the new fire truck.

The council voted to let John Harrigal contact Fire Appliance in Wichita Falls to alter the lights and siren unit on the new truck so it will fit into the present fire station.

Fire Appliance is outfitting the new fire engine.

The council voted to set water meters at the homes of Raymond Entrop and Curtis Dolberry south of the city.

Councilmen also voted to pay checks every two weeks beginning July 1.

All council members were present Monday night.

Visitors included Entrop, Glenn Woods, Junior Akers, Linda Willis, Harrigal, H.C. Loyd and Dolberry.

City's request goes to Nortex

Holliday's request for federal aid in updating its water system will go to Nortex Regional Planning Commission's general membership for approval today.

If the proposal receives favorable from the Nortex group, the application will go to the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

The City of Holliday is seeking $170,000 grant and loan combination from FmHA to improve the city's water system.

Nortex membership will meet at noon today at McBride Land and Cattle Co. in Wichita Falls.

AT NUCLEAR SYMPOSIUM - Mark Mankins, left, student at Holliday High School, and teacher Jesse McDonald at the school, attended the 17th Texas Nuclear Science Symposium held at the University of Texas at Austin June 5-8. They were guests of Texas Electric Service Company at the conference, co-sponsored by the university and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation of which TESCO is a member.

Farabee calls for tax reform

Sen. Ray Farabee called recently on Gov. Dolph Briscoe to include provisions for tax reform in the called session of the Legislature which is expected for July. He stated that tax reform should occur to reduce the property tax for financing public school education, utility tax for consumers of small amounts of energy, increase inheritance tax exemption, and allow for taxation of agricultural land on the basis of its productivity.

Farabee said, "We were fortunate to have a surplus during the past year and I feel that some of this money should be returned to the people in the form of tax relief, specifically in the areas of property tax, inheritance tax and utility taxes. The inheritance tax laws have not been revised

West to attend special course

Cody West, a science teacher at Holliday High School, has been selected to attend a special course on "Electric Power and the Environment" Monday through July 1 at the University of Texas at Austin.

West will be among high school science teachers from across the state who will examine different methods of generating electricity and their effects on the environment.

In addition to class lectures and discussions, the class will tour research facilities at the university and Texas Electric's lignite-fired generating plant near Fairfield.

Electric utilities in Texas sponsor the annual summer course along with the university.

for many years. Also, inflation and high utility costs are taking a heavy toll on the taxpayers, especially those who must live on fixed incomes."

Although the Senate passed a measure providing for an expanded Constitutional amendment allowing agricultural land to be taxed on its productive value rather than on its market value, it failed to pass both houses of legislature. The mandatory 140-day session adjourned before the House could concur with Senate amendments to inheritance and utility tax relief plans.

In reference to tax reform in his letter to the governor, Farabee stated, "Because of the uncertainties of agricultural production and prices, the present system is inequitable to farmers and ranchers. I share your goal of making Texas 'Number 1' in agricultural production, and it is my feeling that the legislation mentioned above would provide a needed incentive to Texas' agricultural producers."

The governor is expected to call the special session because the legislature was unable to agree on a public school finance bill before the end of the regular session. During a special session, the legislature may consider only those issues which the governor expressly authorizes.

Tax equalization board meeting set

Property owners concerned with taxes levied by Holliday Independent School District may confront the tax equalization board at 1 p.m. June 27 in the school cafeteria.

Members of the school tax equalization include Don Talley, Sam Lawson, Alvin Parish and Freddie Cramp-ton.

Under the terms of this Ordinance this letter is to be considered notice that if this property is not cleaned up by you in the time allotted, the City will take it upon themselves and have buildings sold to the highest bidder and removed, or take bids on cost of removal and charge such removal cost against above property, and have it cleaned at $10.00 an hour plus $15.00 per lot for mowing and the cost will be charged against your property.

Noon Lions donate to fund

Members of the Noon Lions Club, responding to a plea for additional funds to complete the Bicentennial Swimming Pool facilities, voted Tuesday to donate $250.

Additional funds are needed, according to Don Flowers, to complete financing of the bath house construction.

Flowers, one of an unincorporated group of citizens who are working on the pool project, said additional funds are needed, as well as a bricklayer.

Brick has been on the site almost a month, but no one has been available for hire to lay them on the already-poured flooring.

Estimated to cost $16,000, less materials and labor which has been pledged, the committee had $6,281 in the bank prior to Tuesday's donation.

More than 150 swimmers have attended the pool this summer, on an average. Flowers told the Lions. On the opening day, 130 flocked into the waters the first 30 minutes it was open.

Thirty beginner and intermediate swimmers registered for swimming lessons Monday. Two other sessions will be offered, one in July and the other in August.

Flowers pointed out the necessity of completing the swimming pool, that other worthy projects were awaiting the efforts of citizens, such as a community house and an open-air meeting structure.

The site of the community house, which will be built initially to house The Friendly Door, has not yet been selected. The open-air building will be located at Oscar Park, on the west side of Gordon Lake. A fund already has been started for that project, with more than $1,000.

Tennis clinic session slated

The second session of a tennis clinic will be offered here June 27-July 1.

Instructing beginners will be Dick Wineinger, while Jon Brotherton of Wichita Falls will instruct adults and advanced players.

Beginners will be taught from 2 to 3 each afternoon, advanced 3-4 and adults 4-5.

Those interested in enrolling can contact Wineinger or be mailing name and telephone number to 504 W. Aldine, Iowa Park.

"All of us at Texas Electric get electric bills too, and they're up. That's why I'm trying to use less."

"My electric bills have gone up like everyone's.

Of course, working for Texas Electric, I'm more aware of how expensive new plants are and how high fuel is. But that won't solve my problem at home.

That's why I'm checking the weatherstripping around all my doors and the caulking around the windows.

I mean I could feel air under the door and I'm paying for it. So I put storm doors on and that really made a difference.

Gives me four inches of dead air. And that's a lot better than nothing."

Old ghost towns to be marked Saturday

Senator Ray Farabee will unveil historical markers Saturday commemorating the ghost towns of Bridgetown and Thrift, which were once located northwest of Burkburnett. Wichita County Commissioners and other dignitaries will participate in the day's activities.

Mrs. Catherine Clack of Burkburnett, who was instrumental in having the markers erected, is in charge of the ceremonies. She has asked those persons wishing to attend the unveiling to gather at Mathis Chevrolet in Burkburnett at 10 a.m. A police escort will lead the convoy at 10:30 a.m. to the intersection of Texas 240 and FM 368. The caravan will proceed right two miles to the end of FM 368 then right one-fourth mile for the unveiling of the Thrift marker.

Wichita County Judge Hank Anderson will be master of ceremonies and will introduce as special guests the commissioners of Wichita County. Invocation will be given by County Commissioner Clark Gresham. Sen. Farabee will unveil the marker and explain Texas Historical Commissions' beginnings and purpose. Bill Vincent, whose stepfather was once a postmaster at Thrift, will read the inscription.

The group will then proceed to the intersection of Texas 240 and Bridgetown Road for the unveiling of the Bridgetown marker. Robert Lee Wyatt of Grandfield, Okla., will relate humorous accounts of the colorful Bridgetown at its height. Following the ceremonies Newton Crane will conduct a guided tour of the Bridgetown area. Those wishing may take a picnic lunch.

Bridgetown and Thrift were northwest extensions of the Burkburnett oil field which opened in 1919. Bridgetown sprang up at the Texas end of a mile-long Red River toll bridge built for oil field traffic.

It became the largest and wealthiest of the 12 communities which mushroomed in this area. The population rose to an estimated 10,000 during the early 1920's and as the oil yields diminished the jail, theaters, dance halls and gambling houses vanished. By 1929 only 100 inhabitants remained.

By 1931 the bridge was down and in 1935 the post office closed. Today, the land has reverted to range and farm use and occasional concrete posts and chimneys mark the site of the once notorious town.

Its neighbor Thrift was also known locally as Newtown. The U.S. Post Office chose the name Thrift because it had a bank. Mostly a tent city, Thrift suffered many fires.

After the population shrank to 30 in 1929, the bank, a church, school, and store served people living at oil field pump stations. Like Bridgetown, very little remains to mark the life of the town.

ANNUAL PICNIC for the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department was sponsored Saturday at the city park by the organization's auxiliary, the Iowa Park Drips. It was a day of fun and games, including a water ball fight on Wall, where a ball is suspended on a cable and two hose teams battle for goals.
