City hires police chief; Singer replaces Turner

Former Wichita Falls policeman named new chief

Dissension surfaced at Monday night's Iowa Park City Council meeting concerning appointment of a new police chief, and in an unexpected move councilmen appointed Joe Singer to fill the unexpired term of Lee Turner, who was determined to have vacated the office.

Turner's replacement was the first major item on the council's agenda.

Alderman C.E. Thompson made reference to the Handbook for Mayors and City Councilmen and General Law Cities, which states, in part, "...if any councilman is absent for three regular consecutive meetings—unless because of sickness or without first having a leave of absence at a regular meeting—he shall be deemed to have vacated his office."

Turner was absent Monday night for the third consecutive meeting.

"We're not doing this because we want to, but because the law says so," said Mayor Arch Hughes.

Hughes said Turner's letter of resignation was "in the mail." He said Turner was attending school in Nacogdoches.

Asked about the procedure to fill the vacancy, City Atty. O.N. Newman said it was the practice of past councils to appoint the candidate who attained the next largest number of votes in the last municipal election.

During the April 1975 municipal races, Singer was slimly defeated by Alderman Bill Gilmore 254-253 following a re-count controversy.

The council unanimously voted to appoint Singer to fill Turner's unexpired term.

George Trammell, city secretary, tried to telephone Singer during the meeting to have him come to city hall and be sworn into office. However, no one answered at Singer's residence.

During a telephone interview later Monday night, Singer said he would accept the appointment.

Second reading of Ordinance 214 establishing a police department and office of police chief was unceremoniously approved by the council.

"Well, Iowa Park has a police ordinance," Hughes said following the vote.

One person in the audience half-heartedly applauded.

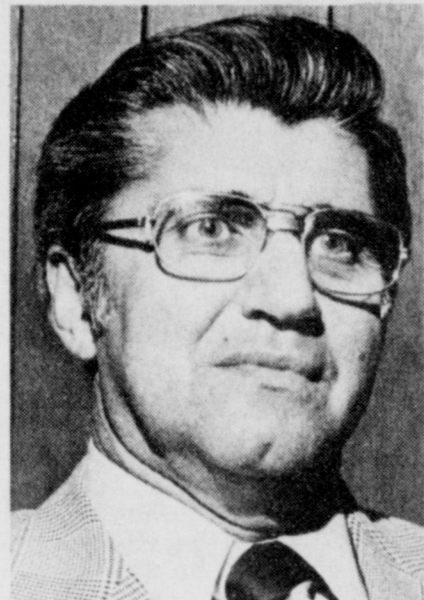

Next item on the agenda was appointment of a police chief.

NAME CHIEF

Alderman L.W. Teel Jr. motioned to appoint Gideon Swedberg, acting chief of police, as new police chief. However, the motion died on the floor without a second.

Although it was discussed briefly, councilmen refrained from going into executive session to further discuss the issue. Asked after the meeting if Swedberg would remain on the force, Hughes answered, "I have no answer at this time."

Gilmore motioned to appoint Charles E. Beavers, who applied for

...new alderman

the chief's position. Thompson seconded the motion and along with Alderman Floyd Adams, the appointment carried.

Beavers formerly was a patrolman with the Wichita Falls Police Department and had served as civil defense coordinator for the City of Wichita Falls.

Two items on the agenda were tabled. The first was a request from Bobby Griffith, waste water treatment operator, for a refrigerator for use in laboratory work at the plant.

Second item tabled was a report from city attorneys on procedures for city council meetings and appointment of a city administrator.

Bill Wischmeyer was authorized to enter into contract with the city to survey the sewer system in the northern portion of Iowa Park and compile alternative improvement plans.

"I would agree that you have a problem...I don't think there's a simple answer," Wischmeyer told the council.

"We're talking about something of major importance because of the cost," he maintained. "I think you would be wrong in spending any amount of money without addressing the whole situation. The city is going to have to come to grips with how to provide utility services to these areas."

The council also endorsed a two-week extension of sick leave for a dispatcher, and approved a $441 bid from Deryl James to overhaul the engine and transmission of a police cruiser.

Aldermen voted to purchase a 1,000-gallon diesel storage tank from Exxon Co. for $375.

Thompson proposed the council retain an architect to devise a master plan of improvements of the municipal office complex. The city possibly will undertake a piecemeal project, revamping city council chambers first, Thompson suggested.

Although the council did not formally vote on the issue, it was the consensus to follow the proposal.

PROGRAM GETS UNDERWAY - Iowa Park merchants this week began displaying counter signs, window stickers and badges encouraging local shoppers to "Try Iowa Park First." The promotion is designed to ask shoppers to at least give them the first chance for Christmas shopping. "Iowa Park stores are stocked to the brim with about every major brand of merchandise shoppers want, and if people will just give them a chance, they will find friendly sales people waiting with good products, at a competitive price," says Don Flowers, president of the Retail Merchants Committee. Oh, yeah! The merchant being "pinned" by his smiling sales clerk, Sherry Langford, is A.K. "Bumps" Settle.

Merchants ask shoppers 'Try Iowa Park First'

"Try Iowa Park First." That's the slogan adopted by Iowa Park merchants and promoted by the Retail Merchants Committee (RMC) of the Chamber of Commerce. The purpose is to encourage local and area residents to do their shopping in town.

As part of the program, according to Don Flowers, chairman of the RMC and president of State National Bank, local merchants have received a supply of buttons for their clerks to wear between now and Christmas. The buttons, red and green in color, picture a Christmas tree and bear the legend "Try Iowa Park First."

Each store will also display a door sticker, featuring the slogan, counter cards reading "Santa Thanks You For Shopping In Iowa Park," and posters for the merchants' windows.

"We think shopping at home is important," said Flowers. "Iowa Park stores carry more and better merchandise every year. Today practically any item that can be found in larger cities, can be found right here in Iowa Park."

Flowers also cited the benefits to the local economy of shopping at home, mentioning the indirect value of keeping dollars in the Iowa Park economy, providing more jobs, and encouraging the growth and development of new stores and shopping areas, not to mention the direct return of sales tax to the city treasury.

"We're not telling people to shop only in Iowa Park," said Flowers. "We're simply encouraging everyone to 'Try Iowa Park First,' because in all probability, it can be found right here!"

Trustees approve audit

Iowa Park schools spent less money than received during the 1974-75 school year, it was disclosed Monday night at a called meeting of the board of trustees.

The meeting was called to approve the annual audit report.

Auditor Nalan Smith pointed out that the school received $2,778,000 during the year, above the anticipated budget of $2,744,000, and in addition spent $123,000 less than was budgeted.

"When you increase the fund balance by $187,000, that's something to be extremely proud of. The school district is financially sound," Smith told trustees.

He pointed out that there were no over expenditures in any functions (funds budgeted), and that current taxes were 98 percent collected, leaving only $13,000 uncollected. Smith said this was not unusual.

Smith complimented the board on having switched over to computer records keeping.

A 15-member school textbook committee was approved by the board. Members include Faris Nowell, chairman, James Ward, vice chairman, George Taylor, Arlene Welch, Ann Dick, Betty Cash, Bob Cole, Charlie Curry, Karen Whisnand, Joy B. McKinnon, Lucy Heard, Cris Cullison, Mozelle Sullivan, Denise Thayer and Dean Miller.

Nowell pointed out that the board was mostly of elementary school personnel because this was the year elementary books were to be approved for purchase.

Trustees approved a contract with Lone Star Gas Company to move a six-inch transmission line which would pass underneath the new junior high athletic room now under construction, unless it were moved. Cost of the move is $3,700.

Local Bicentennial program receives national approval

Iowa Park has officially been designated as a National Bicentennial community.

Announcement of the designation was first learned last weekend when Bill Bates, local Bicentennial Committee chairman, and Mayor Arch Hughes were informed through a letter from Gene Brownrigg, executive director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas.

Bates said the next action to be taken will be a meeting of his committee chairmen and advisors to map out plans for a proper Bicentennial flag presentation and observation of the program's commencement.

Brownrigg stated in his letter:

"May we be among the first to offer our congratulations to you and your committee on the selection of your community as a National Bicentennial community. We feel that this action as taken by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration is a significant step in the progress of your local Bicentennial celebration.

"To formally recognize your community, we suggest that an appropriate National Designation Ceremony be scheduled for the presentation of the State Certificate, National Certificate, and National Bicentennial Flag. A minimum of sixty days from the date of your National Endorsement is needed to adequately coordinate this ceremony with the ARBA. Please contact this office for confirmation and details on the scheduling of your ceremony.

"The Commission is proud that you have received this National recognition. We look forward to working with you and your committee during the forthcoming Bicentennial celebration."

Numerous thefts reported

A rash of thefts were reported to Iowa Park police during the past week.

Wednesday of last week, Donna Beals, 1301 Sunset, reported to police at 6 p.m. that the locked lid to the gas tank on her new car had been pried open and gasoline taken. Damage to the car resulted to more than the value of the gas.

A number of tools and a CB radio were taken from a pickup owned by A.L. Miller, 614 Rebecca. He said he locked the vehicle Saturday afternoon, and Sunday found the tool box open and door to the cab standing open.

Miller listed as taken two drills, two jacks, three large wrenches and numerous other tools, from the tool box, which had the lock knocked off. The radio was taken from inside the cab.

Someone reportedly carted off 60 feet of cyclone fence, valued at $100, from the back yard of 128 Garden Dr., Arch Moody reported Sunday morning.

The band hall at the junior high was forcibly entered Sunday night, between midnight and Monday morning, according to Greg Miller, director.

Windows on the south side of the building were broken, but entry not gained. Then the window in the door was knocked out to get inside. A window in the door to the director's office was also broken. Bricks and rocks were used for all the breakage.

Taken was a Channel Master cassette player/recorder. No value was given on the report.

Someone reportedly used a vehicle to knock down some 30 feet of new fence being installed around the Wichita County Water District No. 2 yard at 500 E. Jefferson one night last week. The incident, which is still under investigation, was reported by Don Richter, supervisor.

Two drivers were arrested for "drunk in auto" in separate incidents early Saturday morning.

Glenn Aubrey Ladd of Burkburnett was taken into custody at 1:15 a.m., and Mickey Wayne Alexander, 23, of 1008 S. Wall, was arrested at 3:53 a.m.

Both were lodged in city jail and later released after posting bond.

Santa coming

Santa Claus will be in Iowa Park Saturday morning!

He will make his appearance in the vacant lot between Park West Shopping Center and Shaw Motor Company at 10:30 a.m., and stay until 11:30.

And he'll be giving away free candy to all the youngsters.

MRS. ROBERT F. KIESLING

McKee-Kiesling vows read in double-ring ceremony

Miss Sandra Janine McKee became the bride of Robert F. Kiesling of Burleson in a double-ring ceremony performed Saturday evening. The First Christian Church was the scene of the formal ceremonies during which the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt McKee was married to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kiesling of Burleson. The Rev. Keith D. Pierce, pastor, was the officiant.

The ceremony took place before a satin-covered prayer bench entwined with commodore foliage backgrounded by a tall standard arrangement of white gladioli flanked by arched candelabra filled with glowing cathedral candles. Other candles burning in branched candelabra accented with commodore foliage on either side of the prayer bench and at the extremities of the lower altar completed the candlelight setting.

Kerry Johnston, organist, provided the wedding music. His pre-nuptial selections were "Meditation" by Massenet, "Wither Thou Goest I Shall Go" by Martin and "Ave Maria" by Bach. He also played the traditional from the composition of Wagner and concluded his offerings with the recessional by Mendelssohn.

The bride's father escorted her to the altar where he presented her in marriage for both parents. She wore a lovely formal silk organza gown over peau de soie enhanced with scalloped alencon lace dotted with sequins. The lace formed the wide collar around the high neckline, capped the Juliet sleeves, graced the front of the skirt in wide panels on either side and in appliques above the hemline. Double rows of the lace added delicate distinction to the chapel length illusion veil drifting from a Juliet cap of lace and sequins. She carried a Venetian bouquet of white Jack Frost roses centered with a white cattleya orchid which was lifted from the bouquet to complement her going away ensemble.

Completing the bride's wedding gown were the sentimental traditions including a linen handkerchief which belonged to her late maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Sally Combs, for "something old"; a sixpence in her shoe worn by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dwayne McKee, at her wedding for "something borrowed" and the good luck token; and the traditional blue garter.

Miss Lana Browning of Denton participated in the wedding as maid of honor. Mrs. Frank Wright of Wichita Falls and Miss Beverly Hitchcock of San Marcos were bridesmaids. They were attired in purple crepe floor length gowns designed with Empire waists, V-necks with stand-up collars in the back, bishop sleeves fastened to button-trimmed cuffs and A-line skirts. The petite bridesmaids were Staci Wright of Iowa Park and Misti McKee of Sherman, cousin and niece of the bride. They wore long orchid crepe Empire gowns featuring round necklines, bishop sleeves and purple velvet ribbon sashes around their tiny waistlines that tied in bows with streamers in the back. They wore matching velvet bows in their hair. Each of the bride's attendants carried a colonial bouquet of orchid carnations combined with purple velvet loops and streamers.

Carey Wright, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles preceding the wedding.

Thomas P. Galbraith of Wichita Falls was the groom's best man. The groomsmen were John C. Kiesling of Dallas, brother of the groom, and Wayne Morrow of Wichita Falls. Sharing duties of ushering and seating guests were Dwayne McKee of Iowa Park and James McKee of Sherman, brothers of the bride.

The groom and fathers of the bride and groom wore black Windsor tuxedos. Groomsmen, ushers and candlelighter were attired in white Windsor jackets trimmed in black velvet, black pants, black velvet vests and ties and light orchid shirts.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception honoring the newlyweds held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The tables characterized by delicate, meticulous decorations were the focal points of interest, with the bride's table commanding the attention of all guests.

Draped to the floor with a white satin cloth overlaid with lace, the bride's table was centered with a handsome silver candelabrum holding a bouquet of flowers and candles in shades of purple and orchid. One extremity was marked with the lavish four-tiered cake featuring dividers to add height and frosting purple and orchid confection flowers. The table decor was completed with the crystal service and silver appointments. Mrs. Joe Obeile and Mrs. Ray Stubbs, aunt of the bride, served at the table during the reception.

The groom's table covered in an off-white cloth held two large greenery-entwined antique candle holders, the interlocking rings chocolate cake and silver coffee service. Mrs. James McKee, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the table.

Mrs. Dwayne McKee, another sister-in-law, of the bride, directed signatures of the guests in the bride's book at the registry table laid with lace over white satin. The decorative appointment was a silver candelabrum holding purple and orchid flowers and candles.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner

Shower fetes bride elect

Miss Debbie Wilson of Wichita Falls, bride-elect of Gary Williamson of Iowa Park, was honored at a bridal shower Monday evening. The event took place in the home of Mrs. Johnnie Yocum in Wichita Falls where pink and burgundy were featured in the decorative scheme.

The refreshment table was covered with white and centered with a mirror tray holding a pink shower umbrella. Other appointments and refreshments were in keeping with the chosen colors.

The honoree and mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. Glen Wilson and Mrs. John Williamson, were presented with corsages from the hostesses.

The couple will be married Jan. 3 in the Highland Heights Baptist Church in Wichita Falls.

Kathy Johnson wins 1st prize

Kathy Johnson, Iowa Park's only junior division entry in the County Pecan Show held Saturday at Sikes Senter, took first place for the second consecutive year in pecan cake baking.

Her prize was a silver tray.

Miss Balsley given pre-nuptial courtesies

A miscellaneous shower given in the Fellowship Hall of Faith Baptist Church Saturday afternoon was the first of several pre-nuptial courtesies planned to honor Miss Bramley Balsley, bride-elect of Randy Black.

Decorations for the affair followed a color scheme of pink and burgundy, the colors chosen by Miss Balsley for her wedding January 3. The chosen combination was noted especially on the registration and refreshment tables and in the carnations corsages presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Larry Balsley, and the prospective groom's mother, Mrs. Donald Black of Hurst.

The table where guests registered in the bride's book with a burgundy feathered pen was covered with a pink crepe cloth. The corners at the top of the pleated skirt that fell to just above the floor were marked with nosegays fashioned of burgundy ribbon, white wedding bells and doves, lilies of the valley and touches of pink and white tulle. The same decorative accessories were repeated in the circle around a pink pillar candle that topped a white ceramic Bible on the table.

The refreshment table featured a white crocheted cloth over burgundy silk. In the center white spiral candles burned in a five-branched silver candelabrum accented with decorations corresponding to those on the registration table. Pink and burgundy were the colors noted in the refreshments and napkins bearing the names "Bramley and Randy."

Gifts were displayed on tables decorated like huge white packages wrapped with burgundy ribbon.

Mrs. Ruth Balsley of Iowa Park and Mrs. Opal Black of Hurst, grandmothers of the engaged couple, were among the special guests. Others included Misses Sherry, Vikki and Cindy Black of Hurst, sisters of the future groom, and Mrs. Marion Ellis of Springtown, Ill.

Mrs. Ron Woods and Miss Julie Woods will be hostesses for a shower honoring Miss Balsley, when members of the younger set will make up the invitation list, during the Christmas holidays and a rice bag party is another planned pre-nuptial courtesy.

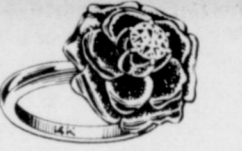

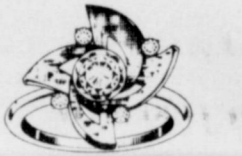

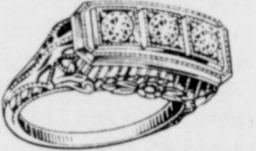

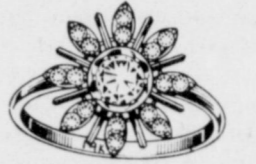

Friday evening at Gateway Inn in Wichita Falls.

The mothers of the bride and groom complemented their formal gowns worn at the wedding with cream-colored cymbidium orchids. Mrs. McKee chose a long pink crepe double knit dress fashioned with a jeweled neckline, long sleeves and A-line skirt. Mrs. Kiesling wore a floral pink crepe dress styled with long sleeves and an A-line skirt.

Out-of-town relatives and friends attending the wedding were Messrs. and Mmes. Guy Smith of Baldwin Park, Calif., Robert Roy of Livermore, Calif., Tommy Maley of Amarillo, Rodney McCommas and Fred Kiesling of Burleson, A.H.J. Kunkel and Arville Kunkel of Olney, Mrs. W.L. West of Phoenix, Ariz., Miss Renee Kiesling and Ronnie Kiesling of Burleson, Mr. and Mrs. Carol McCurley, Mrs. Ruby Reaves and Miss Brenda Dewber from Bowie.

Venezuelan student here for Thanksgiving

Carlos Garcia, 16, of Anaco, Venezuela is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rains during the Thanksgiving holidays. A high school senior student at Allen Academy at Bryan, he played football there this fall and became acquainted with Craig Rains, who is also a student at the academy, and was very pleased to accept the invitation to spend the holidays with the Rains family. His country does observe Thanksgiving but it comes in March instead of November.

Carlos came to the United States to complete his high school education because he plans to follow in his father's footsteps by attending Texas A&M University. His father, Carlos Garcia Sr., a native of Venezuela, who is an engineer with Texaco Oil Co., was graduated from Texas A&M and during the time the family was in Texas Carlos was born, but they returned to Venezuela when he was three months old.

His mother was born in Italy. Both parents speak English and Spanish and his mother also speaks Italian, German.

The young South American has an unbounded love for his new homeland, especially the sport of football. The only thing that he does not easily adjust to is the "cold" weather. Football, one of the greatest attractions to Carlos, became even more appealing when he made the team at Allen Academy this fall and the team advanced into state playoffs for one game. Facing facts realistically he remarked that his participation in football was short-lived with this fall being his first and last opportunity to play. When asked if he had aspirations to play with Texas A&M, he said "I am too short; I could never make the team," but with his enthusiasm for the game he could very well overcome that obstacle.

In comparing high schools in Venezuela and Texas, Carlos said that subjects were more difficult with more tests and homework in his country. School starts there the first of October and ends the last of June. If students have not maintained at least a B average throughout the year, they have to take tests that are very hard and require much studying during the month of July.

Carlos did not study

English in Venezuela; however, since his parents speak English and his close association with Americans who work for oil companies there, he was not entirely unfamiliar with the language when he came to Texas. He confesses almost apologetically at times, especially during interviews with Americans, that he does not always clearly understand what one is saying to him in English and that he does not have the ability to make his listeners understand what he is trying to say. Judging from the strides he has made within three months, he will soon master the language and be an eloquent speaker.

The young student finds amusement in some of the sports here that he participated in in his native country including soccer, baseball, tennis, basketball, fishing and hunting. "Cars are more expensive, gas is cheaper and one cannot get a driver's license in my country until he is 18 years of age," he said.

Another thing that Carlos likes about Texas is the big, juicy hamburgers. Yes, they have them in Venezuela but not the deluxe ones that one can buy in the Lone Star State. Discussing foods briefly, he observed that many were the same in both countries. One of the special dishes in his homeland during December is hallacas, made of beef, cheese, eggs and vegetables. Other foods he mentioned with a bit of nostalgia were arepas, cachapas and empanadas.

Carlos has two sisters. The older one is Annabelle, a freshman student at Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky. and Ana Maria, an eighth grade student at Anaco. He will spend Christmas with his sister in Kentucky and will spend next summer at home in South America before returning to Texas next fall to enter Texas A&M University.

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

FEED SHOCKS
Red Top Cane and other similar types of feed crops were harvested with a cussed contraption called a row binder. The binder was pulled behind a tractor or team of horses. When it was working properly (my uncle said there was no such thing as one that worked properly) it cut the feed, tied it in bundles about ten inches in diameter with binder twine and dumped the bundles out behind it on the ground. Farm hands came along soon after, gathered the bundles and shocked them. Several bundles would be stacked up on their ends by leaning them against each other. They were left that way for several days to dry properly.

The shocks resembled Indian teepees and when we were kids we pretended that's what they were. We used to move the bundles around somewhat to make a door and a little room inside.

There would be many shocks in each field so each kid could have his very own teepee. We would pretend a lot and use the places for hideouts. Grownups didn't much like for us to play in feed shocks because spiders and snakes liked to play in them, too. Also, if the bundles were moved around too much, the shock might collapse and have to be built back again.

When the feed had dried properly, it was loaded onto a wagon and hauled to the stack lot where the bundles were laid in neat rows side by side and stacked very high. In the winter when all the good pasture grass was gone the cattle were fed from the stack lot. Several bundles were pulled off each night and thrown over the fence to the cows. In most years there was enough feed in the stack lot for the cattle to get by until the next spring when the new crop of grass came.

MESQUITE MUSINGS

When the head of the house puts on his exhibition of turkey carving this Thanksgiving, we would ask him to treat the bird with respect for the turkey is more of a native American than those of us sitting around the table.

The Pilgrims brought turkeys to the New World, but Cortez and his men were the first Europeans to see turkeys, which were domesticated by the Aztec Indians. Stock taken by the conquistadores to Spain soon spread to north Europe and were returned to mix with the wild birds on the east coast.

The importance of turkeys to the Indians is indicated by designs drawn on pre-Columbian pottery found in New Mexico. How the name turkey originated is still in question, for it has nothing to do with the nation.

Time was, when most farm wives raised a few turkeys for Christmas money, but the problems were many. Nothing is as crazy as a turkey. They do not have sense enough to come in out of the rain, but will stand and drown. We have seen them commit suicide by eating too many red ants or cherry seeds. They love to play Russian roulette with the coyotes, by roosting in the open, and will often leave a good home and wander off with a bunch of wild turkeys.

If you are thinking about saving money by killing a wild bird, the Parks and Wildlife people say that only one hunter in four is lucky enough to bag one of these most crafty and wary of game birds. On the average it takes about ten days of hunting to get a tom turkey and that is usually done hiding in a blind.

Whether your Thanksgiving dinner is turkey with all the trimmings or cornbread and beans; like us you will eat it with a heart full of gratitude to the Heavenly Father that we have all been permitted to live another year in this beautiful land we call America.

As I See It....

by BOB HAMILTON

The city's naming of Charles Beavers as police chief Monday night should bring to a halt the problems Iowa Park has suffered the past three months.

I hope it does, anyway. Our community has suffered, both within itself and through exposure in surrounding towns, since the untimely death of the late chief, L.D. Jones.

The Leader has not campaigned for anyone in particular for the job, though it might have appeared that way. Our only goal was to see that actions were taken through the lawfully prescribed procedures. And these procedures were not followed at times.

One had to sit back and absorb Monday's actions for a while, before deciding how lawful they were.

For one thing, the naming of the chief was not added to the meeting's agenda until Monday morning. That may be legal under the eyes of the law, but it certainly does not give due notice to the public, in my opinion.

The open meetings law requires a 72-hour posting of the agenda, and whether additions are approved, I don't know.

Also, the ordinance approved Monday night which establishes the police department, states "The Chief of Police and other members of the Police Department shall be appointed and removed by the Mayor, by and with the advice and consent of the City Council..."

Action at the meeting was not like that. In fact the reverse. The mayor sought to appoint another than Beavers, but the council voted and approved Beavers.

A matter of interpretation. I feel sure everything was all right, because City Attorney O.N. Newman was in attendance at the meeting. For that reason, I'm accepting the actions as lawful.

So, like I said, I'm glad it's all over, and now maybe we can look forward to mending our wounds, getting together, and work toward a better, united community.

FIRST STAKE driven Sunday afternoon for the new building of United Pentecostal Church on North First Street. The church is now worshipping on W. Lafayette. Rev. G.W. Milner is the pastor.

Cook of the Week

When Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Teel Jr. held open house recently at their expanded and remodeled Park Pharmacy store, one of the drawing cards that made people want to go back for more was the Hot Spiced Percolator Punch. Its intriguing taste of pineapple juice, cranberry juice cocktail and spices was a crowd pleaser and people naturally wanted to know who made it.

Who did make it? Meet her through the Leader's Cook of the Week—Mrs. George McClarty of Burk Burnett, mother of Mrs. Teel. When she offered to help her son-in-law and daughter in any way that she could with the open house little did she dream that she would be the Cook of the Week for the Thanksgiving edition. She is sharing some real goodies with us that make us realize that she is a cook with somewhat of a magic touch for both holiday and every day cookery.

The Green Tomato Mince Meat is an old recipe which Mrs. McClarty prefers to all other mince meat recipes, and if it is made now it will be ready for use in pies around New Year. The Hot Chicken (or turkey) Salad recipe will probably give many housewives a hint about using the leftover Thanksgiving turkey, and notice that Mrs. McClarty's recipe for the popular Fresh Apple Cake has a distinction all its own. A resident of Burk Burnett since 1936, she was born at Quanah and reared at Paduch. After graduation from high school, Mrs. McClarty finished Draughton's Business College in Wichita Falls and worked as a secretary for Mathis and Caldwell, lawyers. Her husband owned the Corner Drug Store at Burk Burnett for 38 years and still works there.

Mrs. McClarty has been active in church, federated club and civic activities through the years. An inactive member of the Burk Burnett Study Club, she is a former secretary of the now Santa Rosa District. She is presently outreach leader for her Sunday School class at First Baptist Church and enjoys doing decorative and tile painting and gardening.

"I am a lover of nature, mountains and animals. I love picnicking, hiking, fishing and my six grandkids," she said. She loves to spend the summers in the Valley of the Pines, Red River, N.M. where the McClartys have a summer home. She rode with the Burk Burnett Quadrille for eight years—the group did eight different square dances on horses. They were visitors to the Texas-Oklahoma Fair each year and one year she won the prize for being the best horsewoman in the parade.

In addition to Mrs. Teel, the McClartys have a son, Bill, who is a dentist at Amarillo.

1 small can crushed pineapple, drained

Beat condensed milk, add lemon juice and beat. Add pineapple and nuts, fold into Dream Whip. Pour into 9-inch graham cracker or baked crust. Chill.

HINT: Use powdered sugar instead of granulated sugar in graham cracker crust. Sprinkle very lightly with water; bake at 350° about 4-5 minutes for a firm but crunchy crust.

PECAN PRALINES
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 T corn syrup
1/2 cup evaporated milk
Chop five large marshmallows
3 cups pecans
1 stick oleo

Cook slowly and stir constantly until soft ball stage when tested in cold water. Pour syrup over oleo; stir until thick. Add nuts; drop by spoonfuls on wax paper.

Mrs. McClarty brought other delicious-sounding recipes and it was not easy to choose which ones to use. Among those that we did not have space for was a Red Velvet Cake with a Mystery Icing.

Country-Western group entertains at meeting

A buffet supper followed by entertainment featuring a program of country music that merited several encore numbers were the highlights of the monthly meeting of the Christian Workers class of First United Methodist Church Thursday night.

Hosts for the event were Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Ralston, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hester, Mrs. Effie Walsh and Mrs. Katherine Sue Jaquart. Emphasizing a fall and harvest theme, the tables were decorated with oak leaves, nandina berries, ceramic figures of birds, squirrels and strutting turkey gobblers. A large pumpkin centered the head table.

During the musical entertainment, the spotlight was on 10-year-old Billy Curtis and his fiddle. Diana Fisher was the pianist and others in the group who played guitars, a harmonica and sang were Boyd Curtis, director, Hood Little, Joe Arroyo and David Fisher. Miss Carolyn Hester, a teacher at City View who is one of Billy's teachers, introduced the musicians. Special guests were four foreign airmen at Sheppard AFB: T/Sgt. Fikre Edo and T/Sgt. Dessaigne Girma, both from Ethiopia, Zafir Al-Shihri and Abdulziz Saeed, warrant officers from Saudi Arabia. They were accompanied by Ruby Swadley, clerk steno in the Office of Foreign Military Affairs.

Mrs. Kathleen Hatten presided during the business when it was decided to have a gift exchange at the Dec. 18th meeting.

During the business, the club voted to send a monetary gift to the Wichita Falls State Hospital for gifts for patients at Christmas. A committee was appointed to select a place for the Christmas banquet. Four visitors were introduced.

The club holds monthly meetings and the next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 18.

These bright lighting ideas can help you save energy.

We all need to use adequate lighting for reading, working, and security, but we also need to use it wisely. These ideas can help.

- Don't leave security lights on during the day. A photoelectric cell or a timer can control them for you.

- Use low-watt bulbs where you can. The lower the wattage, the less energy the bulb uses.

- Use fluorescent lights where possible. They produce about 2 1/2 times more light per watt than incandescent bulbs.

- Leave three-way bulbs on the lowest setting until more light is needed.

- Use light colors in lamp shades, walls, and floors to get the most reflectivity from light.

For more details, call us. We'd like to help.

Fantasy of Lights Tuesday

The MSU-Burns Fantasy of Lights will be turned on Tuesday, at 6 p.m. for a season to extend through Saturday, Dec. 27. Special music is being arranged by the MSU Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma band organizations.

The displays include the new one featuring Santa Claus and Astronaut extending "Spirit of Christmas" greetings to the world. Among people responsible for the new display are Sam Atkins, chief engineer for the displays and physics teacher at Rider High School; Richard E. Johns, volunteer construction worker and welder; Marvin D. Perks, volunteer; Lawrence Smith, MSU food services director who donated welding equipment; Jack Wells, volunteer; and Glen Wood, Rider industrial arts teacher.

Painting and art work was done by Beret Anderson, WFHS student; and Mike Vaughn, MSU student. Materials used in the display were contributed by Hancock Fabrics #1, Expando Production Co., Sears Roebuck & Co., Stewart's Sewing Center, and Wichita Tool Supply Co.

Replacements were supplied to some of the displays including work on the camels and wisemen by Karen Gregg, MSU alumnae and Pattie Stewart, MSU student; and new costumes for the two girl skaters made by Mrs. J.B. Patterson, mother of a MSU graduate.

Live animals for the manger scene are being arranged for Friday and Saturday nights by Carter McGregor. Care for the animals will be supplied by the Future Farmers of America at Rider High.

1975-76 HAWK VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Hawks drop season opener 97-51 to WFHS Coyotes

Iowa Park's young Hawk varsity basketball team found the going rough in its season opener Monday against the Wichita Falls High Coyotes, losing 97-51.

Three sophomores, a junior and one senior started for new head basketball coach Phil Harmon.

The Hawks were to play Bowie Tuesday night in their first home game, and then will not see action until Monday, taking off time for the Thanksgiving holidays. Their Monday opponent will be the Rider Raiders, 63-50 victors last Monday over Bowie. The Rider game will be in Wichita Falls, as will be Tuesday's game against the Hirschi Huskies. Then that following weekend they will again travel to the neighboring city to play in the Notre Dame tournament.

Sophomore center Jimmy Rowell led the scoring for the Hawks, hitting four field goals and a pair of charity tosses for 10 points.

Eight other Hawks figured in on the scoring, with Anthony York scoring nine, Doug Rogers eight, Rusty Price seven, Tony Singer, six, Tommy Pappas four, Tom Woods three, Rex Huckaby and Eddy Cannedy two each.

The Coyotes jumped to a 32-12 lead by the end of the first period, extended it to 54-31 at halftime, and went into the final period leading 75-41.

Neal Jeffery to speak here twice next week

Baylor All-American Neal Jeffery will make two speaking appearances at the Faith Baptist Church next week, according to Jacky Newton, pastor.

He will speak at an organizational meeting of the Faith Baptist Church Brotherhood, starting at 7 p.m., Dec. 6, and preach at the morning service the next day.

Another feature of the Saturday meeting will be a pinto bean and cornbread dinner.

Jeffery led the Baylor Bears to the Southwest Conference championship as a senior last year. He was quarterback, captain of the team, named "Player of the Year" for the Southwest Conference by the Associated Press, and was winner of the Kern Tippis Award.

The three-year letterman at Baylor holds the all-time passing record for the school. Drafted by the San Diego Chargers, he is presently a free agent for the Detroit Lions.

Jeffery's speaking engagements range from Venezuela, S. America to Fr. Collins, Colo.

Being a football star is nothing new to the Jeffery family. Neal's father, James, was an All American running back at Baylor also.

Jeffery's talks here are open to all young men interested in hearing him.

Soccer team is second

Iowa Park's girls' soccer team now stands in second place among league teams with a record of 1-1-1, according to coach Jerry Hutchins.

Their first loss came Saturday, 0-4 to Notre Dame. "But the score could have been much worse had it not been for the play of Jackie Tillery, Renea Harrington and Penny Hill," Hutchins said.

The team was scheduled to play here Tuesday night, and Hutchins said he hoped to get one more game here before the season's end.

Iowa Park plays next at the Southwest Boys Club field Dec. 6, starting at 9 a.m.

OUR FLAG Historical Highlights

A NEW CONSTELLATION
Continental Congress passed a resolution that established the Stars and Stripes on June 14, 1777, but did not specify the arrangement of the thirteen stars on the blue union, except to say that they should represent a new constellation. As a consequence, according to the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, we find a variety of forms. The first flag, popularly known as the Betsy Ross flag, had them arranged in a circle, based on the idea that no colony should take precedence.

Aerial-minded Princeton next Big Red opponent

Experience and an impressive passing game most likely will be the two largest road blocks Princeton will throw at the Holliday Eagles when the two teams combat for the Class A regional title at 8 p.m. Friday in Jacksboro.

Princeton, which has an 8-2-1 season record, went to the Class A quarter finals last year, "so they have some experience," said Don Lucy, Eagle head coach. "We're real impressed with Princeton's execution both offensively and defensively," Lucy said Monday afternoon, while viewing a scouting film. "It looks like they do a good job."

Lucy said the Princeton team is not excessively large, team-wise averaging about 165 pounds.

Holliday, which sports a 10-1 season record, averages 170 pounds.

Princeton's quarterback, Cave, No. 12, throws the ball well, according to coaches Ralph Klinkerman and Cody West, who scouted the Princeton-Cooper game last week.

Lucy said he and varsity coaches Walter Lemons and Bill Lee are "real impressed with their passing game."

Princeton's other players worth noting are backs Park, Tallant and Mayfield, a 170-pound fullback, who wears No. 29.

On the game against Van Alstyne, which the Eagles won 20-0 for the bi-district crown, Lucy said he was pleased with the Eagles' performance.

He said the Eagles had been in a position to score another time or two, but failed. Lucy said the cold weather did not substantially influence Holliday's game.

Pep rally Friday

A giant pep rally is planned for 4:30 p.m. Friday at Holliday High School, and school officials are planning for Eagle backers to travel in a caravan to the regional game in Jacksboro.

Also, advance tickets for the game will be on sale until noon Friday at the school administrative offices and at the Whites Auto Store in Holliday.

"We would like to have as much of the public as possible to attend Friday afternoon's pep rally," said Grady "Bud" Enis, high school principal.

He said the band and grade school students had boosted spirit tremendously this football season, but that support from the public at the pep rally would be an outstanding shot in the arm.

Supt. Ray Coe also encouraged the public's attendance at the pep rally. He is hoping a caravan of Eagle fans can leave the school complex directly after the pep rally, about 5 p.m. Friday.

Holliday fans will occupy the visiting bleachers in Tiger Stadium at Jacksboro. They are located on the north side of the stadium, Coe said.

Advanced tickets for adults are on sale for $2.50, and tickets for students are $1.50, Coe said. At the gate, adult admission will be $3, and students will be charged $2.

Part of loot recovered

Food stamps and a check taken in the Nov. 17 robbery of Lyles Grocery and Market have been recovered, said Ronnie Wright, Archer County deputy sheriff.

Food stamps worth $131 and a tax refund check for $23.47 were recovered the day of the robbery. A Vernon woman found the stamps and check at the intersection of Fairway and Seymour Highway in Wichita Falls, Wright said.

However, attendants at a nearby service station were unable to give investigating officers any clues to who might have made the drop. Asked if law enforcement officials had any new leads of suspects, Wright answered, "Not a thing."

Sometime in the afternoon of Nov. 17 $1,235 in cash, checks and food stamps was taken from the grocery and market in Holliday.

Store attendants did not see who took the money, which was located in two bank bags behind the store's cash register under a counter, Wright explained.

HERO slogan is adopted

Holliday Eagles Roll On.

That slogan is cropping up all over town on shoe-polish painted automobiles and posters boosting the Eagles, Holliday's "HERO."

And now that the initial question of what HERO stands for is out of the way, comes the next question: Who thought it up?

High School Principal Grady "Bud" Enis claims the fame. He says the idea was conceived after the game with Archer City to offer a means of boosting spirit.

Enis announced his brain child over the school's public address system, and the cheerleaders quickly latched on to the phrase.

"It's a slogan we can use from week to week and it helps build enthusiasm among the student body," Enis said. So, Rider has "ROHO", Odessa Premian has "MOJO," and Holliday has its "HERO."

RED MACHINE ROLLING -- The epitome of offensive expertise, John Ruby [83] and Larry Veal [52] lead the attack against Van Alstyne to give Running back Danny Lee [30] some breathing room. If you're wondering where the Panthers are, they were blown out by Holliday's grizzly front line.

ENCORE PERFORMANCE -- Amidst cries of victory from the stands intertwined with the Holliday band which was still blasting the fight song, Head Coach Don Lucy and the Holliday Eagles were awarded the Class A bi-district championship cup Friday night in Nocona. It was a return engagement for the Eagles, who took bi-district in 1973, but were dumped for the state playoffs at the regionals.

Eagles shiver past Van Alstyne 20-0 for bi-district crown

Holliday Eagles continued their search for the Class A state championship by defeating Van Alstyne 20-0 in Nocona Friday night for the bi-district crown and a return to Texas schoolboy rankings.

In 1973 the Eagles downed the Albany Lions to take the bi-district title, but Rankin ended Holliday's quest for the Class A championship in the regionals.

The Eagles will get another shot at the regional trophy when they square off with Princeton at 8 p.m. Friday in Jacksboro.

The contest with Van Alstyne was anything but comfortable, both score-wise and weather-wise.

It was the second quarter before the Big Red Machine finally thawed out, but it wasn't until the second half that Holliday exhibited any of the offensive and defensive expertise that had taken them into the playoffs.

Key turnovers for Coach Don Lucy's Eagles came on interceptions by Danny Lee, Johnny Veal and Woody Bowles. Equally pleasing for the shivering Holliday fans were fumble recoveries by Larry Veal and Greg Enis.

The first turnover came in the first period when Larry Veal scooped up a Van Alstyne fumble that set up the Eagle offense on their own 32.

Bob Gilmore picked up a first down, but the Panther defense held their ground and forced the Eagles to punt on the ensuing fourth down, just moments into the second period.

The tough Eagle defense held the Panthers' series to a minimum, and Holliday set up shop on Van Alstyne's 40. Gilmore and Johnny Veal combined for a first down, then Gilmore took it on home on an 18-yard sprint. Enis kicked the PAT, which put the Eagles ahead 7-0 with 9:25 remaining in the first half.

The next turnover was supplied by Lee, who picked off a wild Panther pass and returned it to Van Alstyne's 44. Gilmore and Johnny Veal combined to give Holliday two first downs, but an incomplete pass failed to provide fuel to keep the Eagle drive alive.

It looked as though the Eagles were in big trouble when the Panthers snatched up a wild Holliday pass, then picked up an impressive first down on a fake punt play that caught the Eagle defense looking.

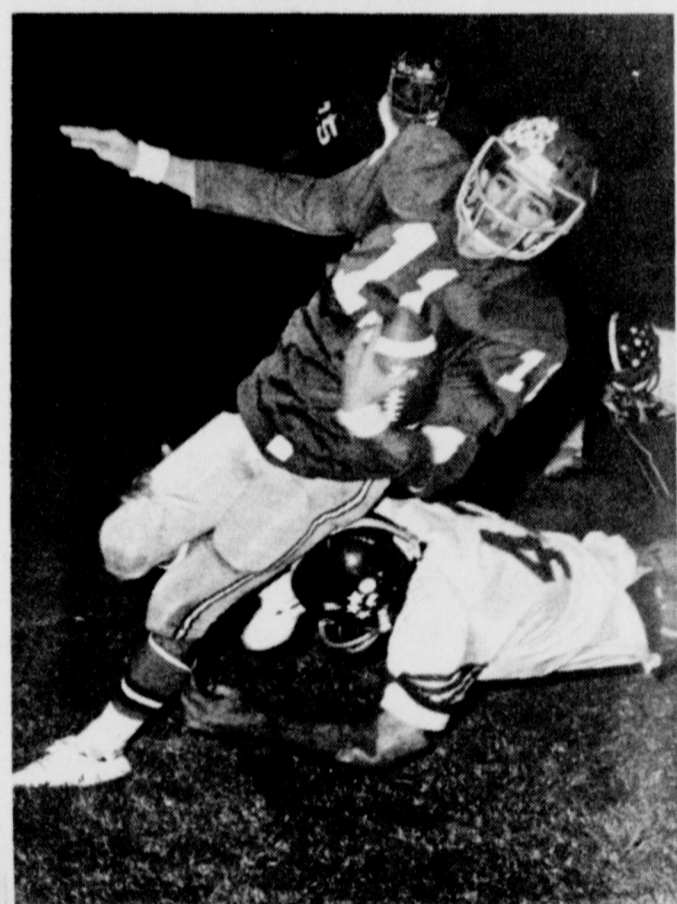

On the following play, Johnny Veal hauled in another interception, but the first half buzzer left the Eagles on Van Alstyne's 18.

The Eagles retired to the dressing room with a slim 7-point lead.

Coach Lucy pretty well summed up the situation when he told the team in the dressing room, "We didn't make a touchdown on our first possession, and it got you all rattled."

Whether it was Lucy's pep talk or an opportunity to warm chilled hands that got the Eagles rolling, nobody will know, but the second half was a different ball game.

Woody Bowles, exhibiting some of the talent he will display as a cager, reached into the chilly sky to haul down a wild Panther pass and return it 17 yards to give the Eagles their second TD of the night with 8:20 left in the third quarter.

RAMBLIN' MAN -- Holliday's Johnny Veal evades a Van Alstyne defender, picking up 18 yards to set up the Eagles' first touchdown of the night. Bob Gilmore took it into paydirt just seconds later to put Holliday on the scoreboard with 9:25 remaining in the second period.

To the Eagle fans, it was as warming as a cup of hot coffee and an electric blanket.

The PAT failed, so it was Holliday 13, Van Alstyne 0. The Eagles were really cookin' by this time and Gilmore was chewing up large hunks of his 113 yards rushing, along with Johnny Veal, who rushed for 44 yards and Lee, who fought for 48 on the ground.

Holliday's next score was set up shortly into the fourth period when Van Alstyne was forced to punt, giving Holliday control on its own 42.

Gilmore picked up five yards on the first play from scrimmage, but a 15-yard penalty set back the Eagles considerably. Remainder of the drive belonged to Lee, who carried five times consecutively, chewing up 36 yards, four first downs and a touchdown to top it off.

With 6:52 left in the game, Enis booted it through the uprights to give Holliday its 20-0 victory.

Bowles made another gallant try later in the fourth when he picked off another mis-fired Panther pass and returned it within inches of the goal line. However, a personal foul against Holliday gave Van Alstyne 15 yards. Two plays later Enis scooped up the second Panther fumble, thus foiling Van Alstyne's efforts to get on the scoreboard.

Still on his toes, Bowles hauled in yet another interception with less than a minute left to play, but the Eagles were unable to march the 18 yards left to paydirt when the final buzzer sounded.

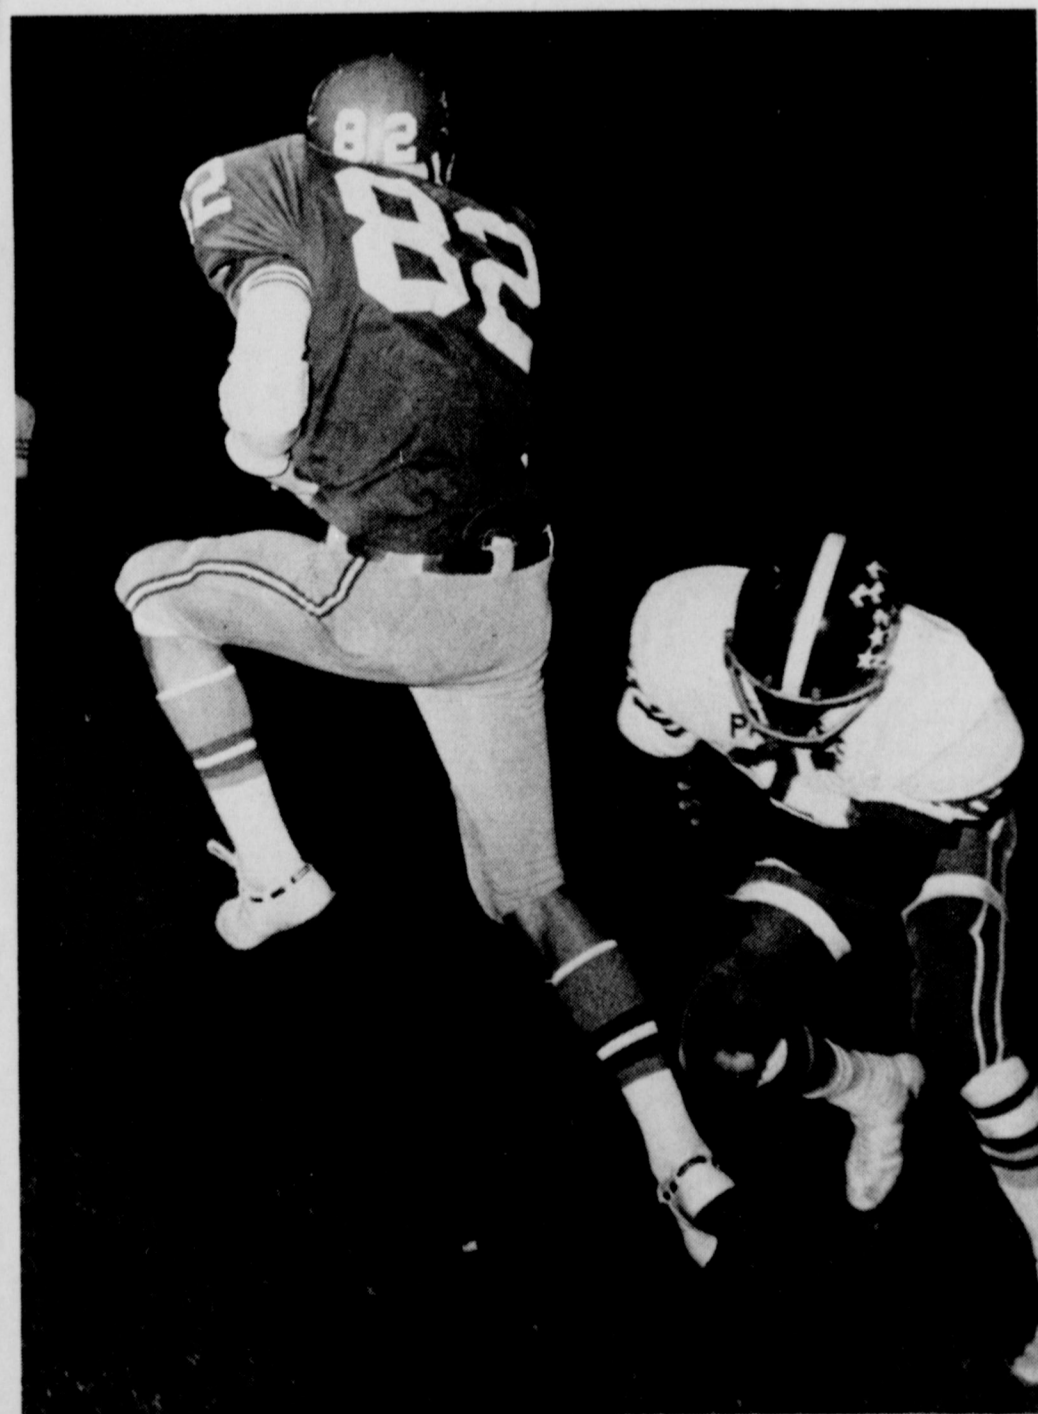

Some statistics worth noting:

--Holliday rushed for 94 yards in the first half, as opposed to Van Alstyne's 76. The Eagles picked up 104 on the ground during the second half, but the Panthers attained only 29.

--Holliday was forced to punt five times, which is about twice as often than during any other contest of the year.

--Van Alstyne passed for 84 yards, while the Eagles picked up only 12 yards via air.

H	VA
12	First Downs	10
198	Yards Rushing	105
12	Yards Passing	84
210	Total Yards	189
15	Passes	5-14
5-37.2	Punts	5-29.2
39	Penalties	5-31

WOODY STRIKES AGAIN -- Woody Bowles gave an impressive defensive performance against Van Alstyne, hauling in three wild Panther passes. Bowles turned one of the interceptions as he returned the prize 17 yards to paydirt in the third quarter.

COLD BABY -- Holliday cheerleaders bundled up in blankets and toboggans Friday night to keep warm on the sidelines as the Eagles did battle with Van Alstyne for the bi-district title in Nocona. Fans in the stands looked like Eskimos in Alaska all bundled up during the freezing game.

TOUGH TD -- It could be said this Holliday touchdown truly belonged to Danny Lee [30], who dives past a hungry pack of Panthers to score Holliday's final touchdown of the night against Van Alstyne. Topping off a drive that originated on Holliday's 36, Lee carried consecutively five times, racking up four first downs and the TD.

SENDING SIGNALS -- Eagle Head Coach Don Lucy wasn't concerned with the post-game meal as he relayed defensive play signals to the team Friday night in Nocona.
