Athletes are honored at all-sports banquet

Iowa Park High School's most outstanding year of athletics was appropriately climaxed Friday night with the holding of the annual All-Sports Banquet, honoring the athletes and awarding individual recognitions.

It was a year in which the Green and White colors not only dominated the District 2-A track and tennis championships, but the long-evasive state football crown.

The evening's keynote speaker was representing another championship team. He was Emory Bellard, offensive backfield coach of the national champion University of Texas Longhorn football team.

Coach Bellard held the rapt attention of a near-capacity crowd in the high school cafeteria as he spoke on parent pride, athlete motivation, self discipline, sense of responsibility, sense of values and respect of people.

"There's no way you can do your thing and exclude everyone around you. You're going to have to make some contribution whether you want to or not. It may be good or it may be bad, but it will be a contribution to society," he told his youth-dominated audience.

To the athletes, he said, "You are a fortunate people. You had the opportunity to fight, and you won. The outcome is attributed to your ability and support.

The coach of two high school state championship teams, San Angelo and Breckenridge, Bellard complimented the Hawk coaching staff and teams when he stated, "There is no group of men anywhere the University of Texas coaching staff admires any more, or follows more closely, than the coaching staff of Iowa Park."

Coaches of football, basketball and track presented their outstanding athletes, whose names were engraved on a permanent trophy exhibited in the school.

Coach Tommy Watkins introduced the following players:

- "Best Hustler", Dale Beall;
- "Ball Hawker", Lee Dawson;
- "Outstanding Hawk", Jim Clapp and Steve Berry.

Basketball coach, Ernie Reusch, recognized the following:

"Rebound Award", Gary Frazier;
 "Free Shooting Award", Jimmy Duggins.
 A new award, recognizing the outstanding athlete in the spring sports which includes tennis, golf, volleyball and track, was presented by Coach Jerry McWilliams. It went to Gary Williams, for his efforts in track.

Previous winners of these awards were as follows:
 "Ball Hawker"--Larry Thompson, 1964; Greg Webb, 1965; Ted Berry, 1966; Rocky French, 1967; and Mark Thompson, 1968.
 "Best Hustler"--Jerry Wakefield, 1963; Jimmy Bradberry, 1964; Mark Brubaker, 1965; Glen Britt, 1966; Perry Green, 1967; and Lee Dawson, 1968.
 "Outstanding Hawk"--Drew Sawyer, 1963; Larry Thompson, 1964; Robert Dawson, 1965; Greg Webb and Mickey Patterson, 1966; Harry Price, 1967; and James Eke, 1968.

Previous winners in basketball were: "Rebound Award"--Rocky French, 1967 and 1968; and Clark Lemond, 1969.

"Free Throw Award"--Robert Dawson, 1966; Robert Fletcher, 1967; Jim Clapp, 1968; and Jimmy Duggins, 1969 as well as 1970.

Several presents were presented, including gifts for each coach from respective athletic teams, and by the cheerleaders.

Probably the outstanding gift of the evening was a gift from the Evening Lions Club. It was a permanent trophy to the school in recognition for the state football championship. All players' and coaches' names were engraved on it. The trophy was presented in the memory of Weldon Bradberry, outstanding Hawk athlete who died in 1969, to whom the football players had dedicated the season and championship.

Tragedy in Holliday

By RUSSELL ALLEN

Little A.J. Howell, known to his foster parents as Andy, didn't get a chance to show them the shiny penny he received for being the best behaved in his first grade class at Holliday.

The 7-year-old child fell dead of a heart attack while pretending to play baseball during an afternoon recess at school.

Again, tragedy had struck the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fischer. The Fischers lost another child in 1967. Eleven-year-old Michael, who was adopted, died of cancer.

"Michael was only 15 months old when we got him," stated Mrs. Fischer. "He was a perfectly normal child who seemed to be very healthy and when it was discovered that he had cancer--we just couldn't believe it," she added. Young Michael died nine weeks after it was discovered. In Andy's case, it was quite different. He was suffering from a heart ailment and brain damage according to officials at the foster home where he

ALL IN A DAY'S WORK--Carlton Hicks considers returning a swarm of bees to their hive all in a day's work. When it happens, he places a hive beneath the swarm, lowers the branch on which the bees are swarming, and knocks them loose. After they are in the wooden hive, he simply returns the lid and moves the hive back to its desired location.

MR. AND MRS. BILLY HOUSE

Local couple's marriage has international flavor

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Billy Gene House are among the Air Force couples in Iowa Park whose lives have been touched by the warp and woof of the international loom. Their "This Is Your Life" story is spiced with a flavor of Europe, the Orient and Middle East.

Paris, France will always have a sort of sentimental magic to the couple, because it was there that Cupid started speeding his darts on the way to their hearts.

Mrs. House, the former Cecilia Yeagan, moved to Iowa Park with her parents when her father became minister of the First Presbyterian Church. She had graduated from high school at Robstown and was attending Austin College at Sherman, where she later received her degree.

When Billy graduated from Iowa Park High School, he attended Arkansas College at Batesville and later joined the Air Force.

The two knew each other only casually in Iowa Park; and it was not until after she had finished college and taught two years that one of them ever gave the other a serious thought, at least, romantically speaking.

An opportunity presented itself one summer for Cecelia to tour Europe with a group of students and educators at the time Billy was stationed in Paris. He learned from someone in Iowa Park when her itinerary would take her to Paris and at what hotel she would be registered. As a matter of courtesy to a hometown girl and perhaps, too, to satisfy a nostalgia for his hometown, he got in touch with her and invited her out for an evening.

When the visit to Paris ended, Cecelia continued with the tour group and returned home. Within about two months, Billy got a leave and came home, and they were married in December.

They realize that they have been more fortunate than some Air Force couples in that the family has been able to join him on overseas assignments.

Their three children are Gary, 14, Alan 11, and Cynthia 10.

The family went to Iran, ancient Persia, in the Middle East in 1962 and lived in the capital city of Tehran for two years. They will keep fresh in their memory at least two of their experiences there; an earthquake and a Moslem wedding. Among the souvenirs they brought back were scenic oil paintings, a camel's saddle, samovars and other small items.

Mrs. House learned to like dolmeh, a popular dish of the country made with grapeleaves filled with a meat and rice mixture seasoned with cinnamon. She said that it was sort of like the cabbage roll in the U.S.

Sgt. House was sent to Okinawa in 1967, and the family joined him in 1968. While there, Gary attended junior high school in an old prisoner of war camp and studied conversational Japanese. His mother also studied conversational Japanese and played the organ for the Protestant services at the base chapel.

They were on the island during several typhoons but they always heeded the warnings and typhoonized their house, so they suffered only a few inconveniences. The family made a trip to Taiwan where they toured the capital city of Taipei. There they saw the Presidential Palace, a Buddhist Temple and a Shrine to Confucius.

They also visited the National Museum there, which contains one of the largest collections of Chinese art in the Free World. This was especially fascinating to Mrs. House since her aunt, who served as a missionary to China for the Episcopal Church for 30 years, had brought her a few pieces of art from the country.

When purchasing souvenirs, they purposely concentrated on smaller items, but they did bring back an ornately-carved shoji screen, which can be used as a room divider or for a decorative accessory. Their collection includes handleless tea cups with lids, lacquered wood chop sticks, replicas of Shishi lion dogs, one believed to chase the evil spirits away and the other to let good luck into a household, and a replica of a Chinese pot that goes back to the Shing Dynasty of 1700 B.C.

Sgt. House, the son of Mrs. W.N. House and the brother of Wayne House, is presently at Carswell AFB in Fort Worth. He plans to retire in Jan. 1971.

Mrs. House is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. M.C. Yeagan of Sulphur, Okla. She has taught school at Vernon, Robstown and Bradford elementary in Iowa Park. She is an accomplished pianist and organist; she is one of the organists at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Modern Music Study Club presented the A Cappella choir of the Iowa Park High School in Sacred Concert Thursday evening for the club's last meeting of the year. The choir, presenting eight numbers, was directed by Darrell Dick and Karen Huff was the accompanist.

Spray pecan next week

The first three days of next week is the time to spray for the number one pest insect to pecans, the Pecan Nut Case Bearer, according to county agriculture agent, B.T. Haws. Haws states the chemicals best effective on the insect are Sevin plus Zinc Sulfate, Malathion or Toxaphene.

Should a second spraying be desired, Haws suggests the safest timing is seven days after the first spraying.

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

John L. Maples, minister, church of Christ, Iowa Park.

QUESTION: Can you worship God through Buddhism, and if so, how? L.M. Iowa Park.

ANSWER: This question is answered in 1 Timothy 2:5, "For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all. . . ." Again Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (John 14:6). We are further told, "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; One Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all." (Ephesians 4:4-6). God is an exclusive God, and the religion that He has prescribed whereby we might worship and serve Him is an exclusive religion. We may not worship Him through any other than His Son Jesus, the Christ.

Sorority members attend state ESA convention

Iowa Park's Epsilon Eta chapter was represented at the 21st annual State Convention of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority in Dallas last week end.

Those attending were Mesdames James Dyer, Marian Johnson, Pete Koonce, D.W. Mercer, Chester Morrison, O.N. Newman, Luther Shaw and R.W. Sargent from Electra.

The husbands who accompanied the group were Johnson, Koonce, Mercer, Morrison, Newman, Shaw and Sargent.

The chapter received recognition for the outstanding work with the annual Mothers March for the National Foundation. The Texas State Council is divided into ten districts with Iowa Park being located in District VI. Mrs. Johnson served the district as historian and compiled a scrapbook which covered the activities of the district. She was assisted by Mrs. Raymond Cope, Mrs. R.B. Faulkner and Mrs. Pete Koonce.

Mrs. Faulkner compiled the chapter's scrapbook with the assistance of Meses Johnson, Koonce and John Sibley.

Mrs. Harlin prepared and compiled the history for District VI which won first place in state competition.

As publishers of the Tesan, a state newspaper and monthly publication, the editors, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Mercer, prepared a workshop about publicity for the 562 delegates who registered at the convention.

The chapter has been informed that the Tesan has been placed in the top five of all the publications from ten other states of the U.S. and other countries. The winner will be announced from these five at the International Convention which will be held in St. Paul, Minn. in July.

Mrs. Shaw was honored as third place winner of the Outstanding ESAer award in the state.

Americanism youth topic

A renewal of faith in the future of the United States was the result of Tuesday's Noon Lions Club program.

Three Iowa Park High School students, Judy Spruiell, Glenda Spruiell and Scott Julian, spoke on "What I Can Do For My Country" and "I Am Proud To Be An American". Their talks were prepared for competition earlier this year in a county-wide elimination contest held by the Farm Bureau. Winners at the contest are sent to an annual seminar on patriotism.

The students were presented by Mrs. Bertha McDonald, IPHS history teacher who also sponsors a credited class in world affairs. In introducing the students, Mrs. McDonald commented these were students who "do not want to war down, but rather build up" their country.

Club president, Faris Nowell, reminded the members the District convention will be held May 30, in Wichita Falls.

Judgement needed in selecting seed

With the many excellent and Hegari varieties to use hybrids containing these varieties in their parentage where they are available. These hybrids should produce higher yields and still have much the same forage quality characteristics of the two varieties.

The sweetness of the various forage sorghums hybrids depends largely on their parentage. Due to apparent animal preference and increased palatability, hybrids with both a sweet male and sweet female parent, have become more popular in recent years. However, in silage studies, higher fermentation losses have sometimes occurred in sweet sorghum types than in non-sweet types, especially if the moisture is quite high at harvest. These losses have been attributed to over-fermentation caused by high sugar levels in the sweet sorghums.

If early forage production is desired or late planting becomes necessary, then early maturing sorghums should be selected, explains County Agricultural Agent B.T. Haws. However, maximum forage production is usually obtained with later maturing forages. Another advantage is the fact that large maturing types have the ability to remain dormant during periods of limited moisture and still make a crop from late summer rains. These forages often yield 10 to 15 tons of silage per acre from late August rainfall following a prolonged dry period.

Haws encourages producers that will use Red top cane

ONIAL KING moved up in the world two ways last week. First, he was elected Commander of VFW Post 2147 in Wichita Falls. Secondly, he and his wife moved to 200 Hope Lane in Iowa Park. The garage superintendent for National Linen Service will not take his VFW office officially until June 9.

VALLEY VIEW HONOR STUDENTS--Lon Fulfer, left, has been named Valedictorian of the Valley View graduating class, and Robert Sutton, Salutatorian. Fulfer completed his high school career with a grade average of 91.58, while Sutton's average is 89.45. Both have been extremely active in school activities and sports, and are highly popular with the student body.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capital

BY VERN SANFORD

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

In the space of less than an hour, the State Finance Commission accepted the retirement of "Mr. Banking" himself--State Banking Commissioner, J.M. Falkner; named a new banking commissioner; fired State Consumer Credit Commissioner Francis A. Miskell; and named a new credit commissioner.

These actions brought to an end long-time controversies over Falkner's replacement and Miskell's position.

Commissioner Falkner, who has been with the banking department nearly 50 years (23 as commissioner), has been wanting to retire for some time, but the Finance Commission could not agree on someone to take his place.

Falkner wanted his deputy commissioner (since 1965), Robert E. Stewart, to fill the post, but there was dissension on the board. However, the problems were worked out before the meeting, and Stewart was picked unanimously.

In a surprise move, Commission voted 6-2 to discharge Commissioner Miskell and named Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Kelley to succeed him immediately.

Miskell weathered one storm threat early this year, when it was rumored segments of the loan industry were out to "get him" because of administrative actions against them. After stern talk, Commission refused to accept Miskell's resignation in February. There was no warning in the latest round. Commission members blamed administrative differences and the fact that four key agency staff positions had not been filled.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said in a recent ruling.

Opinion concluded that whether the corporation in which a legislator owns stock is precluded from contracting with the state or county must be determined on the basis of each individual case.

In another ruling, Martin said state agencies may sponsor seminars on appropriate matters and charge registration fees to defray expenses. State employees and officials may be reimbursed for registration expense.

APPOINTMENTS--Gov. Preston Smith named Sam Kinch, Sr. of Austin and John T. Steen of San Antonio, chairman and vice-chairman of American Bicentennial Commission of Texas to plan nation's 200th anniversary program. Other members of the commission include Marcella Perry of Houston, Dr. George Woolfolk of Prairie View, Ina May McAdams of Austin, Dr. Charles Ray Ritcheson of Dallas and Frank Tolbert of Dallas. Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. serves as ex-officio commission secretary.

Smith announced creation of Texas Urban Development Commission and named Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergriff, chairman and Dr. Earl Lewis of San Antonio vice-chairman.

He designated James Goodwin of Austin to represent the state in the Southern Regional Environmental Conservation Council of Southern Governor's Conference.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes named Sens. Bill Moore of Bryan, Jack Hightower of Vernon and David Radloff of Stamford to the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy.

Speaker Gus Mutscher named former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr; Harry Hubbard, Jr., Texas AFL-CIO; Houston Attorney Searey Bracewell; and Reps. James Sluder of Naples, Jack Ogg of Houston and Joe Hawn of Dallas to the Committee to Study Alternative Methods of Attracting New Industry to Texas.

CHEM. CALS.--Agricultural chemicals containing DDT will not be accepted for registration by the Texas Department of Agriculture until a study on their effect is completed, Commissioner John C. White announced.

Suspension of registration "does not mean that any ill effects from the agricultural use of DDT compounds have been reported or found," White said. He added that household products containing DDT will continue to be registered for COURTS SPEAK--State Supreme Court overturned lower courts and held that Texas Aeronautics Commission had full authority to grant the Air Southwest Company of San Antonio a certificate to operate commuter flights linking Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio. Three major airlines have fought the application in a two-year-old legal battle.

Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that Amos Gaines of Houston, convicted of murder in Harris County in 1962 and sentenced to 99 years, should have a new trial. Court said the record of his first trial had been destroyed and the only way to make sure no error was made by the lower court was to have a new trial.

AG RULES--A member of the legislature cannot be paid from funds appropriated by the legislature for goods or services the lawmaker or firm of which he is a member sells the state,

We Want Privacy

Voters in Iowa Park need privacy... and we're not getting it.

Along with the American's privilege of voting, is the right to cast a secret ballot. It is the obligation of the election officials to insure a voter that no one can or ever, will know how an individual votes in an election.

During heavy voter turnout at the polls in the recent elections, citizens were forced to sit elbow to elbow at tables while marking their ballots. Several lodged complaints later about the lack of privacy. Some even spoke of knowing how a particular candidate was making out after glancing around the room.

The various factions holding elections in the community should band together in a meeting and come up with a plan for financing some sort of isolation voting areas, booths, or something which will allow secret ballot.

Until they do, we might as well hold our elections by a show of hands. At least that would save on time and election costs.

use. Governor Smith has appointed an advisory committee to study the use and effects of DDT and other pesticides. It will report its findings, probably before the end of August, White said.

FUNDS APPROVED--A $326,999 community Action Grant has been approved for Community Committee on Youth Education and Job Opportunities in Corpus Christi.

Other grants announced by the governor include:

- $31,429 for operation head start in West Orange Grove school district.
- $10,289 for head start in Erath County.
- $8,936 for a legal services program to the newly formed Brewsville.
- $9,255 for City of Fort Worth to train police in traffic administration.

SHORT SNORTS

Criminal Justice Council, after some discussion of whether it was usurping power only the Legislature has, voted to give the newly-formed Texas Board of Private Detectives $30,068 (Legislature appropriated only $11,000 for the present fiscal biennium) so it can begin its task of licensing every private investigator and guard in the state.

Attorney General Martin's anti-trust and consumer protection division accepted in district court here a voluntary compliance offer from a Dallas retail sewing machine outlet to discontinue allegedly false and deceptive advertising.

Lonesome life led at Sheppard's 'back forty'

B-52s and jackrabbits keep company on Sheppard's "back forty". Rattlesnakes and coyotes peer through the security fence at the camouflaged giants poised on the ready line.

The men of Detachment 1, 2nd Bomb Wing, live and work far from the mainstream of life on Sheppard, in and around building 2560, an old Strategic Air Command Alert Facility. SAC returned to Sheppard in July, 1969 when Detachment 1 was activated as part of the permanent dispersal plan for the bomber fleet. Now, each week, air crews deploy from their home base at Barksdale AFB, La., for a seven-day tour of duty on alert at Sheppard. There are about 70 men permanently assigned to the detachment. Many of these are security policemen who stand guard over the aircraft. Others include command post and administration personnel all commanded by Lt. Col. Sidney J. Ward, Jr.

"Because we are so far away from our main base and our alert commitment is so demanding, our people must stay here for their entire tour of duty," said Lt. Col. Edward L. Newman, Colonel Ward's deputy. "We've got to bring a few comforts and conveniences to the men if we can," he continued.

They have succeeded very well in their year at Sheppard. The old SAC swimming pool was reactivated. It had been presented to the old 494th Bomb Wing by the Wichita Falls Rotary Club and closed when the unit was inactivated. There is also a tennis court close to the building and, by coincidence, the distance around the perimeter fence is just a shade under one mile. This makes it convenient for joggers to keep up their sport.

The basement of the alert facility is pleasantly decorated with bedrooms for the crews, a lounge, offices, a command post and a miniature dining hall.

"We get outstanding support from the Sheppard people who take care of our food," said Colonel Newman.

"We eat very well and normally have charcoal-grilled steaks at least once during each crew's period on alert," commented Lt. Col. Harold B. King, an aircraft commander deployed from Barksdale.

The dining hall is run by TSgt. Levi Freeland, 3750th Air Base Group. Students from Sheppard furnish assistance for a week at a time. This food service operation feeds an average of 50 men per meal.

"The imaginative, careful preparation and presentation of this food does much to make our meals and duty tours more pleasant," he maintained.

Security is tight as one can readily see on walking out of the alert facility. But, the men who maintain it know it is necessary as they guard their "birds" and remain ready for the day they hope never comes. Should it come, the men on Sheppard's "back forty" would be ready to fulfill their commitment.

Small grain tour Monday

The annual county small grain tour, jointly sponsored by the Extension Service and the Iowa Park Experiment Station, will be held Monday.

County agriculture agent, B.T. Haws says this year's demonstrations on fertilizer tests and small grain varieties were "extremely good" and should be beneficial to all farmers.

The tour will begin at the Crumpler Montgomery farm in the Friberg-Cooper Community, at 9 a.m. At 10, the Clark and Dillion farm at Highway 369 and Burk Burnett will be visited. Two farms in the Punkin Center area will be next. They are the Wilbur Glass farm on Highway 240, at 11 a.m., followed by the Turner Farm at 1:30 p.m.

The tour will come to Iowa Park's Barbee farm, across the road from the city dump grounds, on 367, at 3 p.m.

Virgil Woolfin, manager of the Iowa Park Experiment Farm, will be working with Haws throughout the day's touring.

Corsages made especially to please you at Iowa Park Florists, 114 W. Park.

Furniture comes in many sizes today

Furniture now comes in mini, midi, and maxi styles, a size to fit middle-sized, large-sized or tiny living quarters.

Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent, says the mini-scaled furniture is suited especially to young single persons who live in mini-sized apartments. This is one answer for the young singles furniture problems.

Another answer is to buy furniture with more than one use—let one piece do the work of two. Interchangeable furniture permits more flexibility, promotes the uncluttered look and saves the young person money.

Here are some furniture ideas from Miss Wirges.

A commode with drawers and drop-lid compartment can be used in the living or bedroom. It is interchangeable as a wall chest or bedside stand and can hold books, magazines, records or shirts and sweaters.

A little table with a gallery on three sides could hold the hall telephone, a living room lamp or items used at bedside.

A wall unit which is finished on all sides can stand free as a room divider and serve as a storage unit to hold books and art objects.

A very unusual piece which is a bachelor's special is an ottoman that can be made into a single bed. It has a rattan base in two sections which telescope together so the two cushions stack for use as an ottoman. It converts from seat to bed by means of two locking hooks.

The last item for young single persons is a chest-desk with spacious drawers and a top which opens to disclose a desk with pigeon holes and slide-out writing surface.

Wichita County Home Demonstration Clubs are having demonstrations this month on Color in the Home. Thelma Wirges is giving the demonstration. Visitors are welcome in all sections of the county.

Modern geometric and sculptured lamps are an integral part of today's new metal-look in all home furnishings.

Lamps are made from a variety of materials, according to Miss Wirges.

Chrome is the most dominant metal used, but in many lamps, material is mixed: Chrome with see-through acrylics, brass with bronze and other colored acrylics.

Plastic is popular for lamps of the 1970's. Plastics are clear or tinted with red, blue and purple glows.

The current trend is toward geometric shapes, such as circles, squares, and rectangles, and sculptured lamps that blend lighting and form.

Form is very important and it ranges from lamps that are pure, unfunctional lighted sculpture to lamps to read by. Many new lamps look mechanical; designers let construction such as nuts and bolts show decoratively.

Another big item in lighting is the illuminated tables. They range from simple cubes to pedestals and cylinders that glow to see-through tops that give needed light for reading.

Mrs. Harris has program

Mrs. Omega Harris taught the second chapter of "Missions in the North East" for a meeting of the Night WMS of the First Baptist Church Monday in the home of Mrs. Lee Smith. Miss Doslia Smith was co-hostess.

During the business directed by Mrs. D.O. James, a nominating committee composed of Mrs. J. Louis Quick, Mrs. J.A. Berg and Miss Ela Simmons was elected.

A letter was read from the Wichita County Red Cross chapter expressing thanks for the cakes the organization had sent to the Sheppard AFB Hospital. It was voted to make a contribution to the River Ministry project of the church.

Mrs. Bill Curry was in charge of the Calendar of Prayer for missionaries who observed their birthdays Monday; special emphasis was given to missionaries in Nigeria.

Others present were Meses, Roy B. Smith, V.I. Woodfin, Carroll Duke, Carl McKinnon, J.C. Roby and Nelson Johnson.

Honor president

Members of the 23 Study Club who attended a reception in Burkburnett Sunday afternoon honoring Mrs. Phillip Carpenter, president of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, were Mesdames Chauncey Weller, James A. Sewell, T.M. Clark, Sam Hill, D.O. James, N.E. McKinnon and Miss Ethyle Kidwell.

It is calculated that hydrogen comprises 90% of all matter and over 99% of matter in interstellar space.

THEY'LL BE SEEING each other quite a bit beginning this fall. They are Texas University assistant football coach Emory Bellard and graduating all-state Hawk lineman Gary Frazier, who has signed a scholarship agreement to play in burnt orange colors. Coach Bellard was guest speaker here Friday night at the annual All-Sports banquet.
