Pipeline may be ready for water by March

If everything works smoothly and no major obstacles interfere, Iowa Park's water pipeline from Wichita Falls could be completed by sometime in March.

The projection was made by engineering consultant Bill Wischmeyer as he spoke to the city council Monday night.

Wischmeyer said his drawings and specifications are now all complete and ready to be sent to the various agencies for approval. Once given the green light, the process of advertising for bids would follow, and if this can be done in time for construction contract signing in early December, then the March completion could be anticipated.

Authorization was also given to send two city employees to a two-day school on code enforcement, sponsored by the Texas Municipal League. Several such schools are slated over the state and the employees will go when time and site are advantageous to them.

Several items were slated for further study before action is to be taken. They include:

- * Plans for a special area in the council room for aldermen, mayor and secretary to sit;
- * How much of the work the city can do on widening Third Street in front of Kidwell Elementary School and building a sidewalk on the school's side, in order to cut cost of the projected $5,413 project;

- * Purchase of six tires for a trash truck, wanting to know more about warranty; and
- * More information required on a dual wheel grinder for the repair department.

The council turned down all bids on purchase of a crawler tractor and will advertise once more for bids. Following a 20-minute closed session, the council decided new specifications should be written into the bid.

HAWKS' NEXT OPPONENTS

Steers want revenge for last year's loss

Probably nobody in the district would like a victory over the Iowa Park Hawks more than the Steers of Graham, and the two clubs get together Friday night for a District 4-AAA clash.

The hosts are having their troubles this year, but appear to be improving rapidly during the middle of the season and have been given heart with injuries suffered by key Hawk personnel.

It's doubtful those returning from the 1970 Graham team will ever forget that humiliation they suffered here, when they here not only shut out 26-0, but held to a mere 57 yards total offense.

Graham was a AAA team that game, and the Hawks were still in the AA division. But they're both in the same class now, and the Steers could make a season by just winning over the mighty Mean Green. With a conference record of 1-2 and season slate standing 2-4, the Steers are beginning to jell into the team Graham's been wanting several years. They're beginning to get the feel of the pro-type offense installed by new coach Bill Anderson, and have the personnel to make the plays work.

The Hawks are crippled with the big loss of tailback Steve Webb, out for the season from Friday night's knee injury in the Stephenville game, and the possibility that Greg Frazier may see only limited duty if his leg injury hasn't healed. Doctors were scheduled to operate on Webb's knee today. Swelling in the leg delayed the operation. The senior tailback will sorely be missed by the Hawk offense who has averaged 7.2 yards per carry his three years on the varsity.

Gordon Woods answers charges on officiating

Sports Fans:

We had a great game with Iowa Park that should have gone down in the books as one of the best games ever played in this tough District.

Unfortunately, this game will not be remembered in the class of Brownwood's 20-22 loss to Hirschi in 1964, or their 20-20 tie with Hirschi in 1965. The attitude of fans is determined by the attitude of the coach. I will cite a couple of examples.

In 1965, we were playing Graham in Graham. In the second quarter of the game, we punted to Graham, the receiver was hit, the ball went into the air and one of our boys caught the ball before it hit the ground. There was a quick whistle and they gave the ball back to Graham. Late in the fourth quarter (2-minutes left), the same thing happened on the other end. We fumbled the ball and they recovered it on the 20-yard line. We won the State and they won four games. They probably couldn't have scored. Their fans cursed us and threatened us and as late as 1969, the Graham newspaper had an article about the famous quick whistle. There wasn't one quick whistle, there were two. What was the difference? Roy Curry, my friend and Graham Coach, threw his hat in the air and stomped and stormed and his fans were up in arms.

I read what Tommy Watkins said about the game . . . "we were beaten by the judgment of the officials." Tommy stormed and protested the call by saying to the Referee that the boy's momentum carried him into the end zone. Tommy was 60-yards from the call and the official was 5-yards from the call. There is not a doubt in my mind that the call was correct-100%. The official called it immediately. The boy intercepted on the 4-yard line under control and ran into the end zone and was tackled. A perfect example of a safety!

On the fourth down play, the back was beaten and he was NOT going for the ball. He definitely tripped our receiver. This call could not be anything but 100% correct.

Concerning the interference call late in the game, one boy was catching the ball while our back was being blocked. Again, this had to be 100% right.

Now, let's look at some other calls in the game.

The second running play of the game: The Iowa Park boy fumbled the ball and we recovered the ball 4-yards downfield. They gave the ball back to Iowa Park. On 3rd & 10, on Iowa Park's 14-yard line, their fine receiver caught the ball and lost it. According to my safety, it hit someone's foot and bounced into his (Tommy's) hand. It should have been an interception. In the JUDGMENT of the official, it hit the ground. This was on Iowa Park's Touchdown Drive.

On 4th & 1 1/2 feet, Iowa Park ran a quarterback sneak. The Referee gets in late. The head lineman has a wide receiver and never gets there. The umpire is 5-yards from the play. The field judge runs in behind the 5-yard line in spotting the ball and he puts it 18-inches beyond the line. The ball was sideways and the officials turned it straight up and down. After two or three minutes, they decided it was a first down by the width of a paper. This WAS a 4th down and Iowa Park scored with 10-seconds left in the half. Their touchdown was a gift!

On the next-to-the-last play in the half, the official had a quick whistle. Had he allowed the lateral, we had a 50-50 chance of scoring. A judgment call.

Webb had gained 612 yards on 102 carries this year. Added with the 1158 yards he gained in 165 times with the ball during the 1970 season, and the 862 yards on 97 totes as a sophomore, he had gained 2,632 yards for his career by carrying 364 times.

Filling in at tailback will be senior Bobby Morgan and sophomore Michael Ebert. In his place as defensive line-backer will be Jerry Chisom.

The knee Webb injured was the same one that was hurt against Floydada two years ago, and again last season in the semifinals against Haskell.

Frazier's injury is a bruise just above the knee in an area not protected by the thigh pad. He received it two weeks ago against Brownwood.

The junior field general attempted only one play last week in the Stephenville mudfest. "He'll be ready for this game," commented Head Hawk Tommy Watkins.

Should Frazier need to be rested, he has two players on the sidelines ready to take his place. They are senior Sam Morrison nd sophomore Leroy Threet.

In that monsoon splasher with the Yellow Jackets, Threet came into his own by passing for one touchdown, two extra point conversions and running for a pair of TDs himself, besides making a timely pass interception on defense.

Watkins says the loss of Webb took away the nearest thing to speed he had in his backfield. "We've got good quickness and good runners, but no speed," he said.

Because the schools will be let out at 3 p.m. Friday, high school principal Bob Dawson said the pep rally will be held at 2:35. Classes will be dismissed early that buses might make their runs and then take the band and pep squad to the game by 7:30.

"ALL OF THEM?" asks Lydia Bushfield, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sefcik. Her problem? The Sefciks own Louis' Jewelry Store. The store sells watches and clocks. Lots of watches and clocks. And Daylight Savings Time ends at 2 a.m. Sunday, which requires all the clocks in the United States to be set back one hour. Lydia had some trouble, like almost all adults, in remembering that she is supposed to set the clock back to 1, when it reaches 2 Sunday morning.

Bands facing busy schedule

Iowa Park school bands are scheduled for three appearances during the next few days. Two will be at football games and two at marching competition.

After making their regular appearance tomorrow night at the Iowa Park-Graham football game, the Hawk Band will travel to Denton where it will participate in the North Texas State Univ. homecoming celebration.

Leaving for Denton at 8:45 a.m., the band will hold a rehearsal at noon with the NTSU band, perform at 1 p.m. in the pre-game parade, and then at halftime of the Drake Univ., NTSU game. Director Larry Kingsley expects the group to arrive home about 7 p.m.

Other bands, including one from Jacksboro, will participate in the event Saturday. They've prepared to play "1812 Overture" during the halftime performance.

Wednesday both the high school and junior high bands, and their twirlers, will compete in the annual marching contest of the University Interscholastic League, which will be held at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls.

The junior high band, competing in Class C, is scheduled to appear at 9 a.m. Making its first competitive appearance in Class AAA, the Hawk band will take the field at 12:30.

During the morning the twirlers will be competing. High school entrants include Sandra Skinner, Phyllis Smith, Beth Cobb, Kathy Sullivan and Jaye Nipper, Junior high twirlers entered are Janice Carver, Brenda Collins and Carla Cole.

For the bands, the marching contest is extremely important because it is the first of a three-part competition with an ultimate goal being "sweepstakes". Bands being awarded "sweepstakes" must earn a Division I not only in marching, but in the spring competition for concert playing and sightreading.

Ratings are not given on a competitive or comparison basis, but rather on the performance of the band itself.

MS drive incomplete

With solicitation still incomplete, Iowa Park has already contributed $594.71 to the Multiple Sclerosis drive, according to Mrs. Howard Schenck.

She reported there are still some solicitors working in the residential areas, and none of the moneys from the business area has been turned in, and they are hopeful of yet exceeding $1,000 for the drive.

Lakes stocked with game fish

Fishermen are liable to be standing in line to get hooks in Iowa Park's three lakes in the next few years.

J. B. Sutton, who manages the state fish hatchery at Lake Diversion, says he has stocked the lakes with more than 58,000 fingerlings during the past month, and more are yet to come in the spring.

Lake Iowa Park, which was poisoned to kill rough fish in August, was stocked with 34,000 channel catfish averaging four inches in length. In addition, he said he put 6,000 in both Buffalo Lake and the City Lake.

Buffalo Lake and City Lake each also were stocked with 6,000 black bass, averaging five inches in length.

Sutton said Lake Iowa Park was also scheduled for a stocking of "fryer size" channel cats in April, as well as some bass.

The two larger lakes, Iowa Park and Buffalo, both fell to dangerously low levels last summer due to the severe drought. Iowa Park Lake, often called the "middle lake", became so polluted and oxygen depleted that all game fish died, prompting the poisoning of the undesirable types of fish. The kill was termed successful by specialists.

As the lake levels continue to rise from beneficial rains, Sutton said more fish would be stocked.

SPOOKY SPOOKS - Some horrible (but adorable) spooks from Holliday almost got lost in the blur, but they wanted to remind everybody in Iowa Park and Holliday that Saturday night has been officially set as trick or treat night, instead of Sunday. Both cities felt it was better to get the treating with candy and fruits over with Saturday night, than see some foreign objects in the collection plates Sunday.

Kidwell spook night is slated Saturday

Study Club hears call for vocation training

The urgent need for vocational, or career, education in high school and the growing response to the need were the emphases of the 23 Study Club program Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. O.E. Lochridge was program coordinator for a dialogue between Mrs. Chauncey Weiler and Mrs. Delbert Todd. She stated that Technical Vocational Education in high school was one of the projects of Mrs. Phillip A. Carpenter, President of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, for her administration.

Mrs. Weiler said that Sydney P. Marlan, U.S. Commissioner of Education, has suggested the abolition of general education and proposed that every graduate have the alternative of a salable skill or preparedness for college.

"Society must stop placing a stigma upon students who do not go to college and must recognize that a college degree is not for everyone," she stated. She continued by saying that the increasing number of high school drop outs had made the public more aware of the importance of training students in certain skills that would enable them to make a living.

Mrs. Todd informed her listeners that 84 per cent of high school graduates do not go to college, due in many cases to the family's economic situation. "Business and industry are crying for skilled help," she asserted, "and the student who is pursuing a vocational education has a purpose in life."

In considering how high schools are responding to the need for vocational education, the speakers gave the Skyline Center for Career Development in Dallas, which is designed to provide every student with a balance of career and academic education, as an example. Describing it as one of the largest and most comprehensive in the U.S. and a new concept in education, they said that it had $4,000,000 worth of scientific and technical equipment.

Mrs. Todd discussed the expanded vocational program in the Iowa Park High School which now offers 13 vocational courses in which 59 per cent of the students are enrolled. These courses are offered in home economics, agriculture, auto mechanics, auto body and upholstery, building and trades, cosmetology, vocational office education, coordinated vocational academic education and office duplication. Many of the students are going to classes half a day and working for businesses in town half a day, and they are paid a salary by their employers.

Mrs. C.E. Birk used "What Is Success?" for a title of the devotion and supplemented it with a poem "The Successful Family."

Mrs. James A. Sewell, pianist, played Brahms' "Rhapsody in G Minor" for the fine arts number.

The meeting took place in the home of Mrs. E.F. Soell and Mrs. Fred Widmoyer was the co-hostess.

A Halloween motif was carried out in the house and table decorations. The first evidence of the festive theme was seen on the entrance porch where a bale of hay was stacked with colorful pumpkins.

The refreshment table was laid with ecru embroidered linen and appointed with chrysanthemums in autumnal hues and Halloween symbols. The napkins were defined with jack-o-lanterns and the favors were cardboard scarecrows clad in rags and tatters with miniature bars of lye soap tied to their slouch straw hats.

The next meeting will be Nov. 4 in the home of Mrs. Joe Singer with Mrs. T.M. Thaxton the assistant hostess.

The other members present were Mmes. Earl Watson, Travis Smith, Sam Hill, T.M. Clark, C.L. Metz, L.E. Brooks, Rollins Woodall, N.E. McKinney, W.G. Steele, M.L. Hines, D.O. James, Homer Blalock and Miss Ethyle Kidwell.

OEA officers installed

Mrs. Jim Medlinger, coordinator of the Office Education Association of Iowa Park High School, conducted the installation of officers at a meeting held Monday night in the high school library.

The interest center featured a table holding a seven-branched gold candelabrum with gold candles which were lighted by the officers as they accepted the duties of their offices, yellow daisy corsages and emblems of the respective offices. The large OEA emblem was set up on an easel to complete the setting.

Harold Cowley, director of the vocational education program in Iowa Park High School, inaugurated the ceremony by lighting small green and gold candles held by those who were to be installed. They in turn started lighting the candles held by members and members continued the process until each held a glowing taper.

As officers, dressed in formal attire, were installed, Mrs. Medlinger pinned their corsages on them and presented them with their emblems.

Assuming duties of leadership were Karen Watson, president; Patti Roberts, vice president; Guin Johnson, secretary-reporter; Carol Sharp, assistant secretary; Ann Gilmore, treasurer; Christy Thompson, historian; and Sherrrie Skelton, parliamentarian.

Following the ceremony, the attractive cake decorated with a green and gold facsimile of the OEA emblem was served with punch to approximately 70 members, parents and guests.

Debbie Bradford and Brenda Collins, representatives of Mr. Nelson's CVAE class, distributed programs to those attending.

Junior pep squad leaders elected

Judy Hastings has been elected president of the Junior High pep squad. Also elected were Kay Sykes, vice president; Shannon Young, secretary-treasurer; La Donna Davis, sergeant at arms; and Therese Sargent, reporter.

The girls decided on their uniforms which will be Kelly green double knit in pants suit style fashioned with a V-neck tunic top with flared leg pants.

Mrs. Henderson hosts HD meeting

The October 20 meeting of the Park Area Home Demonstration Club took place in the home of Mrs. C.V. Henderson with Mrs. A.H. Estes serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Ray Low gave the meditation on "Beautiful Texas" and members answered roll call by naming their most prized possessions.

Mrs. Lee Turner, president, gave a report of the council meeting and conducted the business.

The Achievement Tour for Oct. 25 was announced and plans for attending were made.

A committee composed of Mmes. W.E. Karstetter, J.E. Penn, Carl Sullivan and James Oliver was appointed to plan the Christmas party.

The next meeting will be Nov. 3 at 1:30 p.m. at the county agriculture building.

Others present were Mmes. H.M. Mahler, O.M. Jones, Wm. Bennett, O.B. Nolen Jr., J.C. Roby, James Todd, E.H. Pearce.

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Does the Bible teach that the Genesis flood covered the entire world?
ANSWER: Yes it does! The story of the flood is written in Genesis chapter seven. Here are some excerpts from it. "... the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights... And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth... And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high hills, that were under the whole heaven were covered." In referring to the living things on the earth Moses wrote: "... every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground... they were destroyed from the earth... If only one high hill (mountain) had been covered with water, the flood would have been absolutely universal; for water seeks its own level, and as one writer has pointed out, it seeks its own level in a hurry. The present day Mt. Ararat, it is the same one on or near which the ark rested, is 17,000 feet above sea level. It was covered. Therefore it takes very little logic to be assured that the entire world was covered by the flood.

Quicks return from vacation

Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Quick returned Friday from a month's vacation that took them through 15 states and three Canadian Provinces. They toured or visited many historical sites.

One of the most enjoyable aspects of the trip was an International Cruise through both American and Canadian Locks at Sault Sainte Marie which are one of the great wonders of the new world.

The tour boat the couple took was Bide-A-Wee and it was raised 21 feet to Lake Superior level. They went by the Edison Sault Hydroelectric Power Plant which is one of the largest power houses in the world, and also saw the Alcoa Steel Corporation Plant. During the eight-month navigation season more than 500 Great Lake and ocean vessels load and unload here. Sixteen gates control the water level of Lake Superior.

As Mr. and Mrs. Quick returned through the Canadian lock the emptying valves at Lake Huron opened and lowered them back down 21 feet to Lake Huron level. They crossed the Mackinac Bridge, the world's most beautiful and longest suspension bridge.

At St. Ignace, Michigan the couple took a tour to Mackinac Island which is very quaint. There are no motor vehicles there and transportation is by bicycles or horse drawn carriages. They learned that the Indians first worshipped the island as a shrine and that it was claimed by France in 1634 and later became a Jesuit outpost. The stockades, forts and blockhouses of both the Revolutionary War and War of 1812 are still standing.

The Blue Ridge Parkway which follows closely the highest ridges between the Shenandoah and the Great Smoky Mountains was one of the most inspirational places the couple visited. The birch, buckeye, poplar and beech trees had already become masses of yellow; the leaves of the tulip-trees were blends of brown and yellow; the sassafras had turned a vivid orange; and the maple a brilliant red.

Before returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Quick visited relatives and friends in Indiana, Tennessee and Texas.

WEBB OUT FOR SEASON

Hawks slish way to win over Stephenville, 36-6

Friday's 36-6 conference victory over the Stephenville Yellow Jackets probably will be the most expensive mark on the winning ledger this year. It cost the Hawks the services of their leading ball carrier, Steve Webb, who received a knee injury and is lost for the season.

But at the same time a new star was born for the Mean Green. He's sophomore Leroy Threet, who was called up from the Junior Varsity squad to handle signal calling chores for ailing starter Greg Frazier.

Threet, who might tip the scales at 115 pounds just after eating Thanksgiving dinner, passed for a touchdown and a pair of extra point conversions and then ran for a couple of TDs for himself. For the evening he carried 15 times and gained 68 yards, despite several fumble recoveries created by a rainsoaked ball.

Confident the Hawks could handle the visiting Yellow Jackets without the services of Frazier, the coaching staff held the junior starting quarterback out for all but one play. He received a bruised thigh in the Brownwood game and they wanted to give him all the time necessary without contact to let the leg heal.

Playing before the smallest crowd of the season, estimated at fewer than 2,500, the proud Hawk defense completely dominated Stephenville's offensive attempts. They allowed Yellow Jacket runners nine yards in the first quarter, held them to a minus 10 yards in the second period, and gains of five and nine yards in the final two quarters, for a net gain rushing of 13 yards for the evening.

Two passing plays gave the handful of Stephenville fans about all their evening's cheering. One gained 41 yards and the other 20. A third completion, of 14 attempts, gained two more yards.

Webb was injured on the last play of the first quarter, after picking up three yards. He was helped from the field, and then taken to the dressing room. From there the Mean Green star was taken to Wichita General Hospital, where he remains awaiting surgery today.

Webb set up the first Hawk touchdown when he applied a driving tackle to a Stephenville runner on the second play of the game. The ball bounced loose and Jimmy Brown pounced on it at the Yellow Jacket 30 yard line.

Six plays later, with a fourth and six play facing the Hawks, Threet passed to end Jim Frazier eight yards for the score. Frazier had to make a leaping, over-the-shoulder catch for the completion. The kick for extra point failed.

Stephenville was forced to punt on fourth down of the next series, and again found itself with its back to the goal line. J. Frazier returned the punt from his own 35 yard line to the visitors' four. A penalty took the Hawks back to the nine, however.

Three carries by Webb gained only four yards. Then, faced with fourth down, Webb faked an end run, stopped and passed a TD strike to Jerry Burkhart in the end zone.

Threet then completed the first of his two PAT passes, this time to J. Frazier, making the score 14-0 with 5:26 yet remaining in the initial period of play.

Rain started falling just about the time Threet passed for the first touchdown, and it gained momentum throughout the first quarter and showed promise of floating another ark during the second.

Wet ball conditions played havoc with ball carrying and control in the second period. A Yellow Jacket fumble, recovered by Chuck Buikema on the Stephenville eight yard line, looked like a sure touchdown setup for the Hawks, but Bobby Morgan fumbled on the next play, and Stephenville was in business again.

But the Hawk defense held, and, in fact, after three plays cost seven yards toward their own goal line, the Yellow Jackets attempted to punt from their own one. A hard rush by the powerful Hawk defenders caused the punter to lose some of his concentration, and the ball flittered out of bounds at the two.

Two plays later Morgan plowed over right guard for the third touchdown of the game. Threet's attempt to run for the two-point conversion failed.

The Hawks had one more chance to score with about 20 seconds remaining in the first half, after Stephenville punter Mike Griggs fumbled the snap from center, giving Iowa Park possession on the visitors' 23. But another Hawk fumble snuffed that effort.

Wet conditions led to Stephenville's lone touchdown, early in the third quarter. On the second series of plays by the Hawks, a penalty set them back on their own seven yard line. Jerry Burkhart, attempting to punt out of the end zone, couldn't hold on to the slippery ball, which was covered by Yellow Jacket back Mike Sexton. The attempt to kick for the extra point failed.

That was only the second touchdown scored against a first platoon Hawk team this year, and the first against the offense.

Then the Hawks exhibited their favorite type of offense, ball control. The Hawks were forced to punt after three plays, following the kickoff, and on the next play Threet intercepted a Yellow Jacket pass returning it from the 20 to his own 37.

Iowa Park took more than five minutes to run 16 plays as the Hawks marched to the Stephenville goal line, with Threet skirting left end four yards for the score. He then passed to Perkins for the two-point conversion.

Neither team was able to muster a sustained drive until the Hawks had their last possession of the ball. Then they drove 55 yards for the final TD, sparked by a 23-yard pass from Threet to J. Frazier.

Threet's final score was a two-yard run, again around left end. Ehlert passed to Burkhart for the extra points.

JV here today

The Hawk Junior Varsity will play Hirschi's JV at 4 p.m. today, in a last-minute scheduled match.

After being cancelled by Jacksboro, the JV didn't figure to have a game today, but one was arranged Wednesday morning. They'll play at the early hour because of Hirschi's varsity match with Vernon at Wichita Falls tonight.

Starting at 6 p.m., or as soon as possible after the early game, will be the Freshmen against Jacksboro. Both the JV and Frosh are 5-2 for the season. The JV lost to Vernon 6-14 last week, while the Freshmen were humiliating Vernon 28-6.

Iowa Park's junior high teams will travel to Jacksboro today for a doubleheader, with the seventh grade starting at 6 p.m. and the eighth grade at 8.

The eighth grade was winner of a scorefest here last Thursday when they outran Vernon 56-30. The locals had defeated Vernon earlier in the season, but in that game the combined score of the two teams amounted to only 14 points.

Vernon topped the seventh grade by a 14-0 margin.

Eagles win number 7; face rugged Crowell next

Unbeaten and untied seems to be the theme of the Holliday Eagles as they chalked up their seventh straight win with a convincing 15-0 triumph against Archer City's Wildcats.

The Eagles crossed the goal line twice in the first half and then their ace defenders went to work to limit the Wildcats to only 62 yards rushing and three yards passing.

Holliday spectators proved their loyal support to their highly ranked Eagles by filling the stands in the Archer City stadium and ignored the pounding rain.

Quarterback Loren Gilmore fired a 30 yard pass to end Stan Mason during Holliday's first scoring drive which covered 92 yards. Halfback Rick Allgood cashed in for Holliday with a three-yard TD plunge. Ricky Stone kicked for the Eagles and they led 7-0 with 4 seconds left in the first quarter.

Eagle backs marched the ball 70 yards in the second quarter with Gilmore calling on fullback Buzz Miller to go into the end zone from the one yard line. Following a penalty against Archer City during the extra point kick, Holliday elected to run the ball for two points. Allgood answered the call and collected two points for the Eagles.

Holliday drove within the Wildcat 20 yard line twice in the second half but were unable to score. The Wildcat defense shined in the second half showing much aggressiveness and blasting Eagle backs.

Archer City reached the Eagle 10 yard line in the second half but fumbled to stop the scoring threat. The win for the Eagles established them as the second undefeated team in District 8-A competition.

Friday night the Eagles travel to Crowell to meet another undefeated in 8-A for what some consider to be a showdown for the district crown. Crowell rolled past Monday last week, 34-2.

The Panthers are averaging more than 40 points a game. They have scored 304 points in seven games while holding their opponents to 88 points.

Blackbird shoot held by group

David Williams of Blackflat was host on Sunday to members of the Red River Renegades, for a "blackbird shoot".

The sportsmen, who specialize in the use and study of muzzle loading guns, were able to eliminate a large number of the birds which are destroying the maize crop in the area.

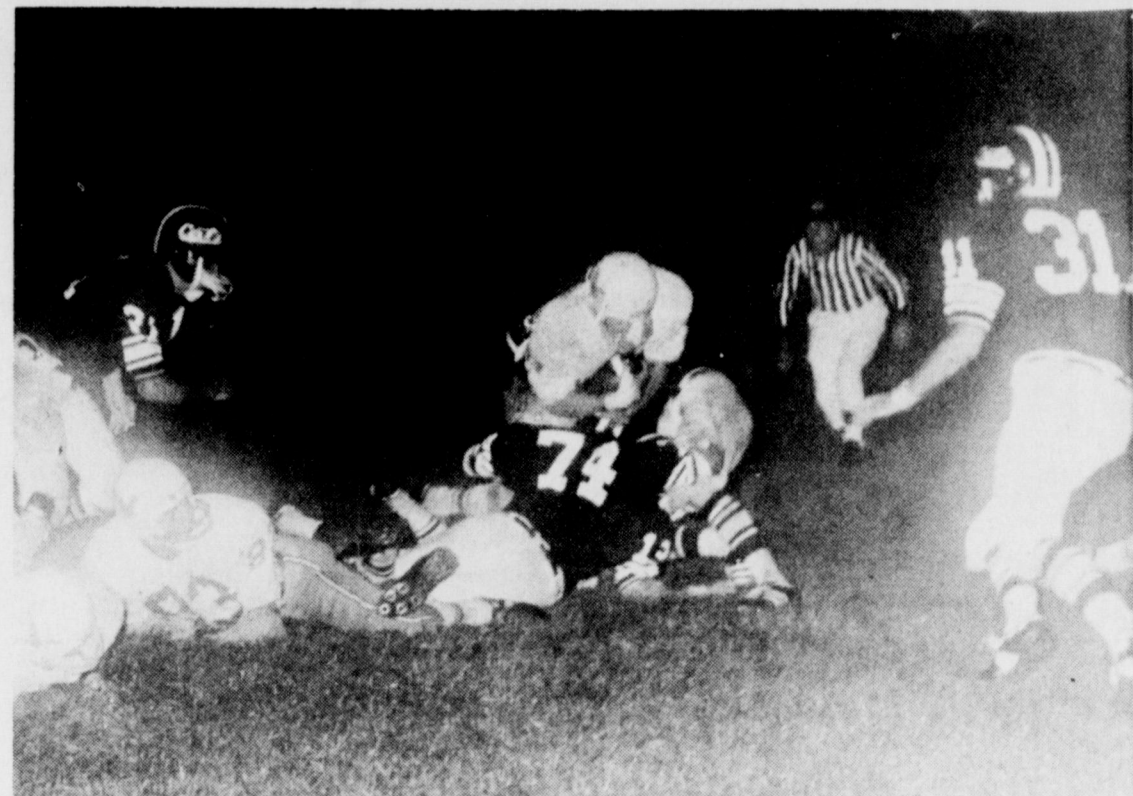

Lloyd Gillis is president of the Renegades. The group meets monthly for practice and annually holds a dove hunt on the Williams ranch.

Holliday has scored 164 points against its opponents, considerably less than Crowell, but the Eagle defense has limited challengers to 25 points.

Other district action last Friday night saw Chillicothe shut Paducah, 18-0.

Friday night's game against Crowell has been billed by some as a showdown between the Panthers staggering offensive machine and the Eagles crushing defensive unit. While Crowell has been averaging 43.4 points a game the Eagles have allowed only 3.5 points scored against them this year. All Holliday residents and other Eagle supporters are urged to travel to Crowell for the game Friday night and help the Eagles earn their second district championship in a row.

ARCHER CITY needed more than rain to keep the Eagles out of their end zone Friday night.

Narrated by Judge Temple Driver, a member of the Military Affairs Committee, the pictures were projected slides, shown by Maj. Sam Tickner, Public Information Officer at SAFB.

In his talk, Judge Driver pointed out the base had almost 2-million trainees to graduate from its technical schools during its 30-year history, and the facility has grown into a $9-million per month institution. Virgil Woodfin was in charge of the program.

A new member, George Trammell, was approved by vote of the membership.

NEW NAME IN SCHOOL

Many students may have observed a wildly decorated car in the parking lot during the pep rally Friday. Some may have wondered that it looked very similar to a person's car when he gets married--what with toilet paper, shaving cream, and the like. It was in reality, just that. Mrs. Almanza, English III and French teacher is no longer to be known as such. She is now Mrs. Savant.

MRS. McDONALD RETURNS

A familiar face around our halls, that of Mrs. McDonald, Government and American History teacher, has returned after an absence of a week. Mrs. "Mac" was laid up in General Hospital for the last week because of her anemic blood. She has returned to come smiling-faced to class and display her collection of flowers that were given to her during her brief "vacation" from school.

SENIOR PROOFS CAME BACK

Wednesday the formal photos taken of the seniors in high school were returned to them for their inspection. The seniors were told to examine the proofs and choose those that they wished to purchase. An order form was to be filled out and returned to the representatives from Henington Studios who came to collect the required money on all pictures ordered.

PLAY REHEARSAL

Rehearsal for "Kind Lady"

To organize 4-H Club

The Holliday 4-H Club will hold an organizational meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Building. Marvin Henry, Archer County agent, will be in charge. All former 4-H members, those interested in becoming members and their parents are invited to attend the meeting.

Fireflies choose new officers

The Holliday Fireflies, auxiliary to the Volunteer Firefighters, met Oct. 18 for election of officers and elected as follows: Mrs. Wayne Ward, president; Mrs. Linda Fields, vice-president; Mrs. Peggy Maier, Sec.; and Mrs. A.M. Carter, reporter.

The group set Dec. 14 as Family Night when each family represented will meet in the Community House for games and refreshments. Next regular meeting will be Nov. 15.

is being held every day from 8:00 to 8:30 each morning and 3:30 until 5:00 in the afternoon on the stage in the auditorium or in Mrs. Smith's room.

SLIDE RULE CLASS

A slide rule class is trying to get started in our high school. So far, only two are in attendance, although there are two more prospective students, and one student who assists the teacher. Classes are held every Tuesday and Wednesday for 30 minutes after school in Mr. Smith's room.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Saturday, October 23, four members from Iowa Park High School's Student Council went to a district meeting at Hirschi. These members were Sam Morrison, president; Mike Kelly, vice president; Steve Gibson, senior representative; and Marsha Taylor, sophomore representative.

The meeting began with everyone registering and then the students got acquainted with each other and visited. The students attending divided and talked about problems in their schools and projects to help their schools. After a luncheon at 12, our representatives left, although the meeting lasted until 3.

STEVE WEBB

In the game last Friday night against Stephenville, one of the Hawk backs was injured. While Steve Webb was running one of his big gainers, he was tackled and acquired a leg injury. Webb is in the hospital. Webb will have to have surgery on his knee. He will probably be out the rest of the season. This injury may hurt the Hawks in future games. Webb averaged over 5 yards a carry in his football career.

9-WEEKS TEST

Today and tomorrow are the dreadful tests that students hate to take. They are the tests which are taken at the end of each 9-week period. The 2nd, 4th, and 6th periods will have tests today, and the 1st, 3rd, and 5th period tests are tomorrow.

HAWKS BEAT STEPHENVILLE

Last Friday night during the massive rain storm, the Hawks tackled Stephenville here at Iowa Park. The Hawks won by a score of 36-6. Due to the rain, neither team had as many fans present as was expected. It was a good game considering the weather conditions.

Greg Frazier was injured, and he was not able to play but only one down throughout the game. Sam Morrison played some plays through the game. The unexpected newcomer,

Donald Henson is president

Donald Henson was reelected president of the Holliday Chaparral Riding Club at the annual election of officers held at Bali-Hai Ranch recently.

Elected to serve with Henson are R.G. Davis, vice-president; Mrs. Billy Patterson, secretary; Mrs. R.G. Davis, treasurer and Mrs. Harold Wilson, parade marshal and reporter. James Yarbrough, Johnny Choate and Jim Johnson were elected as a board of directors to work with the officers and compose the executive committee.

Chris Wilson, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson was elected as Chaparral Sweetheart and will ride at the head of the delegation in parades.

Playdays have been scheduled for each fourth Sunday at 2 p.m. in the riding arena at Stonewall Jackson Park. Harold Wilson and Buddy Patterson will serve as announcers for the events and Mrs. Peggy Robertson will be official timer.

The club which has about ninety members, has set Nov. 6 at 7 p.m. as the time for the annual trophy banquet. The meal will be served in Underwoods Cafeteria at Southmoor Center in Wichita Falls.

Eastern Star holds event

Holliday Chapter 851, OEWS, was represented at the 89th Session Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of Eastern Star, by Worthy Matron Maxine Henke and her pro tems, Veda Rowell and Virginia King. The event was held Oct. 18-22, in the Convention center at Austin and drew some 5,000 registered delegates and a large number of visitors.

Also in attendance was Mrs. Virginia Phillips of Holliday, in her capacity as state chairman of the Board of Grand Benevolences. She spent two days prior to the state meeting, in conference, at Arlington where she serves as chairman of the administrative board of the OES Home there.

WITH A FLAMELESS ELECTRIC DRYER!

How many times have you dreaded seeing washday roll around—because of rain, blue northers, dusty winds or hundred-plus sunshine?

These are hang-ups you wouldn't have to face if you owned a flameless electric clothes dryer. You'd just move the clothes from your washer into the dryer, turn a dial and forget about the weather.

And you could dry clothes any time of the day or night.

If you were drying permanent press clothes, many would come out ready for wearing. Which could save you lots of ironing.

An electric dryer really makes sense. It costs less to buy. Only one energy source is needed. And it saves you hours of work for pennies a load.

See your appliance dealer soon about a flameless electric dryer.

Parasites are costly to farmers, ranchers

Farmers and ranchers should keep a close eye on their cattle for winter tick population build-ups, according to County Agent B.T. Haws. Ticks can cause tremendous losses to cattle through loss of blood, weakened condition, reduced feed conversion efficiency and increases susceptibility to diseases and nutritional disorders. Many troublesome ticks attack primarily during winter months when animals are in their poorest nutritional state, thus creating an extra burden on the animal's defenses. Effective tick control can be accomplished economically through the use of modern spray and dip materials. Thorough coverage with the insecticidal material is necessary for best control. Dipping assures thorough coverage, but sprays can be effective if careful attention is given to thoroughly wetting the hair coat to the skin. A complete listing of recommended tick control materials is available at the county Extension office. Before purchasing and applying livestock insecticides, carefully read the label and pay particular attention to precautions and restrictions listed. Hungry insect pests could be devouring your stored grain. Unless grain was treated with malathion or pyrethrin at the time it was stored, it should be checked every four to six weeks for insect infestation. The possibility of infestation is increased when grain is stored for longer periods of time. Bins should be checked at regular intervals until the temperature of the grain mass is below 20 degrees. Insects become less active at lower temperatures. Most infectious of all diseases is the pneumonic form of plague.

Bike riding is fun in these days of lovely weather when the autumn breeze calls us all to come out and play. Of all outdoor sports, bicycle riding is gaining fastest in popularity, and with an increase in riders there is the rise in the accident rate.

Many bike riders are small precious people, and an accident which involves one of these is a tragedy. October 18-24 is National Child Accident Prevention Week and in observance, the National Safety Council has published a booklet, The Bike Book which lists some basic rules for bicycle safety. 1. Choose a bike that is right for the rider. A middle-weight is good for beginners; a lightweight is strong and fast for long rides but the high rise is for the more skilled riders.

Like automobiles, bikes need to be kept in repair and each one has some twelve points to check before it is safe to ride. Safety rules must also be learned and obeyed. The child in the second or third grade age level is the group most often involved in accidents for he is just then developing self confidence enough to venture out into traffic and still small enough to forget the safety rules.

The booklet is available from the National Safety Council, which is also developing a comprehensive bicycle safety program to be available nationwide in 1972. The aim of the program is three fold, to teach the young bike driver and to show parental and community responsibility for bicycle safety.

The wheel was man's greatest invention--as long as he knows how to control it; whether in his hands as a steering wheel or two wheels on a cycle. Let us rear a generation of bike riders who will grow up to be safe auto drivers.

As I See It . . .

By BOB HAMILTON

The life of a news photographer can be a frustrating one, but most often satisfying.

This point was brought to light last weekend by our reporter at Holliday, Russell Allen. Though some of his efforts were spoiled, from it all came a satisfying end.

Allen, like this writer, was attempting to get some pictures of his football game Friday night. As you know it rained. Precipitation plays havoc with cameras, and sometimes does things to them we don't expect.

Forced from the sidelines by the down-pour, Allen got only a couple of action shots. Then the following day he had some pictures of two other events to photograph. He didn't check his camera, which had allowed some moisture to collect in or on his lens.

The result is a fine, spooky Halloween picture on our front page. Though some of the youngsters aren't identifiable, the resulting photo gives the haunting illusion a photographer often has to work hard to achieve.

Knowing our readers like to see pictures of themselves and their friends, the Leader's staff works hard to give you what you want. We've used an average of four rolls of film for each of the 111 issues we've printed, which would amount to 444 rolls, or 5,328 exposures since they are 12-exposure rolls.

This amounts to a considerable expense, but one which we gladly shoulder since pictures are what you want. Not only does the film cost, but the print paper, chemicals, cameras, print enlarger and all the other equipment. And this doesn't include hours of time for the personnel in shooting the pictures and processing them, as well as the expense of getting them into print on the newspaper.

Of course we've not nearly printed 5,328 photographs in the 111 issues we've published. Often we take several shots of a subject to achieve the desired results. Many times we just don't have room for some photos that really should be used. We've got a whole box of these. And then there are times when we don't completely use an entire roll.

But the ones that really give us the most trouble, are those that something happens and we don't have a picture, when we thought we did. This can happen if the camera acts up; we get a finger in front of the lens; or get our developing chemicals contaminated.

I can remember the way my heart bounced off my toenails a couple of years ago, when I developed the film from that big football game against Floydada. It was blank. A little thing on my camera malfunctioned. And there's no way to get pictures after the event has happened.

And then there's the problem of photographing women. Only once that I can recall, have I ever photographed a female that her first response wasn't "Oh, that's terrible". Don't know what it is, but I just can't seem to make a woman's picture as pretty as she is.

I'll never forget the situation I had with a banker's wife several years ago. As a cub reporter, my assignment was a picture of her in her home for the society page. She insisted on seeing the picture before it was printed in the paper, and promptly turned thumbs down on the results of two different sessions.

Finally, upon showing her the pictures from the third attempt, she commented, "Well, I just don't like it. It just makes me look terrible".

I knew my chances of ever floating a loan at her husband's bank were zero after I, in utter frustration, replied "Lady I'm just a photographer, not a painter. I can't change one thing the good Lord did to you."

WOODS ANSWERS . . .

At the half we were 7-3 behind. Every player and every coach felt we could win because Iowa Park was ahead on a series of flukes.

In the third quarter, we ran the ball from our 35-yard line to Iowa Park's 14-yard line. We got a holding call (long after the back was gone) that put us back to mid-field. Instead of 1st & 10 on the 14-yard line, we had 1st & 25 at mid-field.

Later in the third quarter, Ray Thompson returned a punt for a 60-yard run and an apparent touchdown. He says he wasn't out of bounds. The official (Head Line-man) is 4-yards out of bounds and the Iowa Park Coaches pointed back at what they thought was a clipping. (It didn't exist either.) The official ran back and called the play out of bounds where they were pointing. There were players blocked outside of Ray and two of them doubt very much that he was out of bounds.

Later in the fourth quarter, our end moved (this is legal) and got still. The Iowa Park boy hit him on the back. If this was a reaction, the call should have been called against us. You don't react in a football game by putting your hands on someone's back.

Do you ask why I take so much time to defend a game we won?

There are a lot of fine people in Iowa Park, like Mrs. Railsback, who don't know the rules. They have been misled by their Coach and this is unfortunate.

Iowa Park did not receive any more bad calls than Hirschi did and they didn't come any nearer beating Brownwood. That "Bad Indian" at Burk has almost beaten us every year. I don't believe, however, that he has ever blamed the officials. The Coach is largely responsible for the action of his fans.

In answer to Mrs. Railsback . . . we have lost two games and tied one in District Competition at home and lost two on the road and tied one in 12 years. We hope we are tough on the road, too. Besides this Coach Tommy Watkins agreed on all four of these officials. They were honest and did a fine job.

Very truly yours,
BROWNWOOD LIONS
Gordon Wood, Coach
Brownwood Lions

VICTORY IS A HOLLOW THING
With all the heartache it can bring
To those who play their very best
And trust the officials to do the rest.

Your boys have played the game with care
And they trusted you to do your share.
The game was played for all to see
What the outcome was to be.

You won the game, so they say.
Whether by skill, or foul play.
Someone was watching on that day.
God knows all, he will repay.

Mrs. Railsback writes letter

Dear Members of the Chamber of Commerce:
For many years, we have been told that Brownwood NEVER loses a Conference football game when they play in Brownwood--hanks to the officials they "ship in". This, we wouldn't believe, but after last Friday's night game with Iowa Park, we would believe anything can happen! Never in all my lifetime have I witnessed such unfairness, such dishonesty, as your officials performed at the games. The citizens of Brownwood should be ashamed of yourselves to permit such "going on's" in your schools and your town. After all, winning is not the most important thing--I could not believe my eyes! Surely, if you have 10 honest men left in Brownwood you will do everything in your power to clean up this "mess".
Sincerely,
Mrs. Jack Railsback

WORTH QUOTING...

An interesting side note to the much mused over Brownwood-Iowa Park game last weekend played in Lion Stadium at the Pecan Bayou City.

The battle was obviously a heart-breaker for the Hawks who had skinned up the win ladder for 34 successive wins before the Lions really showed one of the best Iowa Park teams in years what a taste of 4-AAA football is like.

The Mean Green fans were probably not so irate over the outcome of the game or the officials as the Breckenridge Justice of the Peace fine ledger might indicate.

Anyhow, JP Jimmy Duvall was busy this week processing at least seven speeding tickets given to residents of the Iowa Park area.

There may have been one misgiving fan among the Hawk crowd who appeared to have taken to the wing. He was clocked at 91 miles per hour. Again we find solace in frequently chosen words, "The Hawks will be back next year!"

--RON HARDIN, The Graham News

We read where mighty Iowa Park, after taking their first loss in 34 consecutive games, claims that the referees were to blame for the defeat and not the Brownwood team. Learning to be a good winner takes a lot of time, but learning to be a good loser takes even longer.

--DAVID PENN, Olney Enterprise

This Is A Ballot. See The Ballot? You Mark The Ballot With An X

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article and accompanying cartoon were both submitted by Keith Lance, Iowa Park High School senior. With the registration to vote of persons 18 years old and older now, young Lance provided some interesting observations on the upcoming political campaigns.)

Since the constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18, there has been an increase in liberalized politics. With the election year hurriedly approaching, the hopefuls, as well as the incumbents, are doing their best to entice the new voters with promises of ending the war in Indochina, and converting to an all volunteer army. In addition to policy changes, these officials have also been liberalizing their images. However, I am thankful that, at this point, they have not attempted to win our votes by parading around the capitol wide ties and bell bottomed pants. Not only would this be an insult to our intelligence but to theirs as well.

Unlike past generations, this one is looking for statesmen, not politicians. If aspiring government leaders expect to receive these voters' votes, they will not only have to prove their proficiency in government but also their sincerity and desire to make this nation better. This is a factor which has not been considered by political rebels, who condemn the system. The problem lies, not in the system, but in the people in it! However it is not at all probable that we will ever flush our government of these undesirable elements as long as the primary goal of our representatives is to get to the top. . . top. . . top. I am not condemning ambition, but in government there must be a certain element of sacrifice. As John Kennedy said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country." And as corny as that may sound, it should be the motto of every public official we ever elect. If it were, then maybe a few politicians would be well on their way to statesmanship.

However, not expecting a great political upheaval by next year, I would like to leave the new voters with a few words of warning.

First, do not be naive. Throughout the coming election year, candidates will probably fire a barrage of liberal promises concerning the war, the draft and countless other issues directly affecting our lives.

Second, set an example for other generations: research the candidates and weigh, cautiously, their potentials.

Third, place little value on rumors or scandals concerning the private lives of these people. During the coming year, campaign managers will doubtlessly be groping in the past for some trivial mistake which can be blown up and out of proportion to cost votes for their opponents. Chances are, that if they had to look back into the past very far, that candidate must have a good political record. In this case, scrap the rumors as political stunts, which should have little influence on such decisions.

If all eligible voters use this much mature judgment in all elections, we will be taking the first step toward cleaning up our government. If so, maybe the pseudo-liberals will abandon such political practices and together we can build a better America.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Mr. Hamilton,
In your last weeks article on prison and jail riots, I would like to say I am thankful there are still some people who see it like it is. And especially you being an editor. Where did some of the other editors go wrong? I am slowly becoming antipathetic, but it's men like you who keep me hoping that the "others" will someday tell it like it is rather than how it should be. Why does the media, some media, want to make the law look as though it is wrong? It seems like these days the "bad guy" is the "good guy" and the converse.

Well this doesn't say all I feel and time doesn't permit me to do so, but I hope you continue to tell it like it is. Jails are for people who break the laws. And the sooner people realize that there are no such things as "rights" the better off we'll all be. It's a privilege to live in this country, not a right.

No, Bob,
I won't "call it sour grapes." I had no interest in the Brownwood game, one way or "t'other".

But, your diatribe does remind me--to what ludicrous extent physiologically mature people become "wrapped up" in what . . . when stripped to it's honest essential . . . is nothing more than kids playing games. Surely, the Good Lord must have had a deeper purpose in granting us the miracle of life, than the playing of games and the supporting of teams?

Yet, ironically, your comments accomplish some good; you demonstrated, publicly, that the precept "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game" is an anachronism in contemporary America.

So doff your hat and bow your head; another myth is being laid to rest!
