BLANCHE BATES AS "CIGARETTE." After an interval of some seasons Charles Frohman sends direct from New York, a production of no small magnitude and mooted merit in Paul M. Potter's spectacular meodrama "Under Two Flags," adapted from Ouida's romantic novel of the same name, the presentation of which is announced at the Opera house for next Saturday

vening under arrangement with David Belasco. The piece was first produced by Mr. Frohman at the Garden Theater, New York, early last winter, and continued there throughout the spring until re-cently, when it became necessary to terminate its run and prepare for the transportation to the Pacific coast of its multitudinous and weighty stage effects together with its ensemble stage effects together with its ensemble of nearly 100 players and mechanics, saying nothing of the thoroughbred horses introduced in the action.

The original cast returns hither from the Pacific undisturbed, with Miss Blanche Bates at its head, in her pop-lar creation of "Cigarette, the Vivandiere," a role that report says she has made her own, and is but one of the many trophies she has acquired within the brief time she has been away from this section, to which she belongs by Shortly after the novel was published which was in 1858, the role of "Cigarette" was played by Lotta, as a com to the main theme—the unrequited love of the heroine. The drama therefore

BIG DAY IN COURT-The police court did a rushing business yesterday. There were 15 men in all before the court. As none of them had the nec essary price to regain liberty, they all were committed. there is no good reason why the mass should be made to change for the few. The last meeting before this club was as a patient a young lady 16 years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. Sulphur the Leading Germicide

This has been proven true even in its crude state. Dr. Ellison has incorporated this great remedy into a combination of remedial agents so that what is known as Dr. Ellison's Attenuated Sulphur treatment produces astonishing results in the treatment of tubercular diseases of the lungs and throat. He devotes his entire professional time to the treatment of consumption, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis, hay fever and chronic diseases of men, women and children and gives consultation and thorough examination free to all who call at his office at 24 North Tejon street.

Dr. Ellison treats consumption, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, hay fever and the chronic diseases common to men, women and children, devoting his professional time exclusively to this class of practice. In every vocation specialty work is now demanded. This is notably true when life and health are at stake. It is then that the best medical service the profession affords should be procured. This is only possible when you employ the physician who has attained professional skill by making investigation concerning the care and treatment of certain diseases. If you suffer from acute disease, call your family physician; if you suffer from chronic disease, consult Dr. Ellison. Nearly two thousand tubercular lung and throat cases have been treated by his attenuated sulphur, with the lowest death rate on record. The sulphur treatment can be taken at your home. THE FLOWER SHOW.

HE ANNUAL exhibit of the Horticultural society which is to be held in this city on August 15 and 16, is already attracting a good deal of attention and bids fair to be of great interest. When we consider how much this city owes to its trees and its lawns, its gardens, shrubs and flowering plants, we cannot fail to recognize that an association that devotes its chief effort to the encouragement of horticulture is one that deserves the most widespread support and interest.

The flower show has been very successful in past years and it promises to be even more so this year. One of the most valuable features of the work of this society is the interest aroused by it among the children, who are encouraged in every possible way to take an interest in flower growing and who are rewarded by special prizes for their success in this line. Such work is sure to bring a rich reward, for the benefit of the city, not only in the present, but also in future years.

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT.

HE LIVING AGE for August 3 contains the first half of a translation of an article written by Ferdinand Brunetiere for the Revue des Deaux Mondes. This article is a review of a book recently published under the title of "L'Ame Americaine," and itself written by M. Edmond de Nevers. The purpose of the book is announced by its author, who is a French Canadian, to be to ascertain what the American spirit is, if one exists, with a view to determine the attitude of French Canadians and of Frenchmen and of those of French race generally towards the problems which concern the extension of the power and the territory of the American republic.

The article as it appears in the Living Age is particularly well worth reading not only for its intrinsic merit but also because it presents the opinions of an ceeds in gaining a majority. outside observer who has evidently given very serious thought to a matter of great importance that has not as yet received the consideration it deserves.

In the first half, which is all we have at hand, particular attention is given to the composite character of our population, with the evident purpose of showing that coming election and then to take further action that the American race does not get exist, but is rather in will disfranchise a large number of the voters of the the country our population was made up of very diverse elements. The author has not the advantage of the tabulations of the recent census, which are not yet complete, and his figures are lacking in novelty, but they are none the less important and even startling to any who may not be familiar with them. He declares, for tion law, they announce themselves in favor of passing instance, that there are in this country 2,500,000 Swedes and Norwegians, 1,600,000 Italians, 2,000,000 Poles, 1,300,-000 French Canadians, 1,000,000 French, Belgians and Swiss, 600,000 Hungarians, 600,000 Czechs, 125,000 Danes | federal Constitution and the preservation of the right to and 250,000 Chinamen. In addition to these M. de a free vote and a fair count for every citizen of the Nevers counts 20,000,000 Germans, and 26,000,000 Irish. state. Such an attitude may be good politics in Mary-As for the English stock, our author allows it only six or land, but it will weaken the sympathy extended to the

Without discussing the reliability of M. de Nevers' figures, or the fairness of his claim that America is rather Celtic than Anglo-Saxon, it is only fair to point out that the presence of these elements in our population does not necessarily imply the absence of an American spirit tained, they cannot expect that the Republicans of other or the weakness of the American nation. Neither does it, follow that our spirit is not primarily Anglo-Saxon be- ing. cause the majority of our people did not derive their birth or parentage from England. What may be the American spirit of the future we do not know, but it is a fact that at the present time our language, our laws, ing from the Grand Junction Sentinel is especially valued: our literature, our religion, our social customs, our political system and methods, our methods of thought, and even our ideals and aspirations, are determined according to the English model, from which indeed we vary more or less, but which we follow more nearly than that of any other people. And we do this the more easily because the English are themselves a composite race made of successive aggregations of people from widely different sources and of greatly varying quality.

To test the quality of the American spirit is not sufficient to analyze the component parts of our population. The chemist who traces to their ultimate analysis the elements that go to make up the petals of the rose or of is perfume is performing only an imperfect operation. To judge the American spirit one must consider not its composition, but its product; not its dissected parts, but its flower and its action. STATE DAYS IN COLORADO SPRINGS.

HE COSMOPOLITAN character of Colorado Springs is too well known to need proof in these columns. Every state in the union and many foreign countries are represented here, and many of them in considerable numbers. A striking proof of this was given last winter when the Gazette published a series of articles, illustrated by portraits, upon Colorado Springs citizens born in other states.

Quite recently a movement has begun toward holding special reunions or celebrations by citizens and visitors of the various states. The Missourians have already had their meeting and Kansans have announced their intention of meeting for such a purpose, and there are doubtless others who will follow the example.

The idea is a good one, and there is no reason why t should not result in a valuable addition to our summer life in this city, and the more so if in connection with these annual reunions societies should be established of a more permanent nature.

The promoters of the Kansas and Missouri reunions have the best wishes of the Gazette and we hope their efforts may have many imitators.

THE ANDERSON JURY CHARGES.

HE CHARGES that attempts had been made to bribe the jury in the Anderson case in order to secure the conviction of the accused come with too much force to be ignored. Five jurymen have made affidavits that an attempt was made to bribe them by offers of money and of positions, and such definite and substantial charges should receive the most thorough and searching investigation that it is possible

From the facts as presented it appears evident either that a most audacious attempt has been made to secure the conviction of Anderson by the most corrupt methods, or else that there is an attempt equally bold and equally dishonest to creat a public sentiment in his favor and to secure the end of the prosecution against

In either case a most villainous perversion of justice has been attempted and the courts and citizens of Denver owe it to their own honor and safety to probe the affair to the bottom and to determine the rights of the

Pending the result of such an investigation the Gaette reserves further comment, merely expressing the emphatic opinion that the result of the investigation ought to be such a punishment for whoever may be found guilty as will forever prevent the repetition of any such scandal and injury to the good name of our state and to the cause of justice.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS.

▼ HE STATE CONVENTION of Maryland Repub licans met at Baltimore yesterday, nominated candidates for the minor state offices to be filled at the next election and adopted a platform. The real fight in the election will come upon the members of the state legislature, and the state platform represents chiefly the party policy which the Republican legislators may be expected to pursue if their party suc-

By means of this law rather than by their superiority of numbers the Democrats expect to carry the the purpose of formation, and that consequently it is state and give their party a permanent control of its particularly difficult if not impossible to ascertain and to affairs. The Republicans do not appear to have accepted the issue as frankly as an advocate of universal suffrage might wish. They condemn the present iniquitous elecmore stringent measures against corrupt practices at elections and to regulate the primaries, but they do not come out openly in favor of the strict observance of the Republicans of Maryland by their fellow Republicans in other states. If the Republicans there are not willing to meet the negro question fairly and squarely and to declare that the guarantees now existing in the state and national constitutions should be observed and mainstates will pity them for the fate which they are invit-

Among the many complimentary notices received for the Quarto-centennial edition of the Gazette, the follow-The Colorado Springs Gazette, in its Quarto-centennial edition, was easily one of the greatest papers issued in this state. Colorado people do not have to look to Denver papers any more to secure a great state paper. The edition was 40 pages and comprehended in full detail every item of interest relating to the first quarter century period of this state. For many years the people of the state and the newspapers drew their cue from the utterances of several of the big daily papers of Denver. The fact of today is that all of the Denver publications will have to look carefully to the future if they would not be outdone by the Colorado Springs papers.

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION. REPRESENTATION OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY

Superstition and Frovidence,

(Topeka Capital.) The New York Evening Post, a paper noted for its usual sane common sense, persists in sharp criticism of a certain ement of expansionists for professing o believe that the hand of divine Provence has been in the recent history of Spain and the United States. Of all hypocrisies this, to the Evening Post, the most repulsive. The belief ouch American citizens that Providence ad a certain supervision over the way with Spain, the naval campaigns, the remarkable consequences in the expiration of the Spanish colonial system and the succession of the United States as a colonial power, is characterized by the Post as childish superstition, ttle less than blaspheme If the Evening Post and papers which low after it mean to say that the be lief of millions of intelligent human beings that divine purposes are at work

n the world and have been from the beginning of time is childish superstiion, it follows that in their opinion he only thing that is not childish and the only thing that is not childish and superstitious is pure atheism. The Post has too much sense to maintain such an extreme view. But on the other hand, if there is "a destiny that shapes our ends" on a grand and majestic plan, if in the long run divine purposes are carried out in the affairs of nations, there is a want of logic and consistency in accusing persons of onsistency in accusing persons of asphemy and superstition who profess to believe that in particular events of vast present and future importance and uence on the course of history th nand of Providence is to be recognized In the war with Spain and its diect results one chapter of history closd and another opened. Many Amercans, and if the truth were known doubtless many Spaniards, believe that the destruction of Spain as a colonia power after four centuries of trial during which period ignorance, cruelty and oppression marked its policy to wards its dependents, was a direct pur ishment by the hand of the suprem judge of nations. They believe tha authority was wrested from Spain be cause it had been weighed in the balances and found wanting, that the time had come when judgment was to be declared and punishment executed They are further of the belief that this power was transferred to the Unite States not only because this nation had become ready and fitted to assume it but because of the unselfishness of its people, the only instance in history one nation making war on another f the benefit of a third. If it is conceiable at all that at any time or unde any circumstances a higher power in tervenes in human affairs, the Spanish war and the strange and epoch-mak vents growing out of it, unthough of by the American people or government when the war was entered upo would seem to be on a sufficient gigantic scale to inspire the belief. I is further impressed on the minds o many Americans by the unprecedented circumstances that attended the war That two of the greatest naval bat tles of history, both in the number engaged and the destructive power o he warships on both sides, should have resulted in each case in the total an-nihiliation of one party without the loss of a ship or even of a man of the other, is certainly an astounding fact, worthy, if any event can be, of being regarded as miraculous and providen It is impossible to complacently elim inate Providence from among the fac-tors in history. Repeatedly during the Revolutionary war and later, Washing-ton, in solemn words, declared his relance upon divine power and aid, a estified his conviction that the favo ble issue was due to the intervention of Providence. When Lincoln took leave of his townspeople at Springfield favor of the Almighty could save nation. Throughout the war his rel ance on and faith in providential a vere many times reiterated, and in second inaugural address he asserte his belief that the terrible Civil wa was a chastisement of the America people by the hand of the ruler of na their national sin of huma slavery. If it was not childish supe stition in Washington and Lincoln ecognize the direct intervention of d power in the affairs of the coun-forty or a hundred years ago, it is ficult to see on what ground such a charge can be brought in relation to the Spanish-American war and events provoking and growing out of it. Pueblo Is the Largest Smelting City

(Pueblo Opinion.)

Last Thursday the Colorado Springs Gazette issued one of the handsomest editions ever gotten out by a Colorado daily newspaper. It gave many places splendidly written articles, and among these was a column on Pueblo. The these was a column on Pueblo. The writer intended to be complimentary to Pueblo, but the article in one respect did Pueblo great injustice. We refer to the smelting of ores. The article says that "Pueblo is the greatst smelting center in the west, Denver excepted." The Opinion has from time to time alled attention to the fact that Pueblo is the greatest smelting center in the world, and the figures have been given to prove it. We again reproduce the figures that our readers may see how much of a smelting town Denver is as compared with Pueblo:

Denver's American smelters for 1900 produced 362,191 ounces of gold; 8,-859,127 ounces of silver; 615,382 pounds of copper, and 87,770,000 pounds of lead. Pueblo American smelters (2) produced 197,145 ounces of gold; 6,526,309 ounces of silver; 31,682 pounds of copper and 92,880,000 pounds of lead.

The Philadelphia smelter of Pueblo lone produced in 1900 206,332 ounces o gold: 8,180,435 ounces of silver; 72,127,651 pounds of lead, and 8,850,331 pounds of copper, making a total for Pueble smelters of 403,477 ounces of gold; 14, 706.744 ounces of silver: 8.882.193 po copper, and 165,014,000 pounds of

A comparison of the above figures how that one plant (the Philadelphia) produced almost as much in dollars and cents as did all the smelters of Denver, nd that the combined smelters of Pue produced about twice as much as did Denver's smelters.

Another fact is that Pueblo's smelters eated about 51 per cent. of the smeltng ores of Colorado last year, and this ar will reach 60 or 65 per cent. And when the American Smelting ompany complete their improvements Pueblo will be so much greater as a nelting center that no other town will nake another boast of being in it with

THE STOCK REVENUE TAX

May Be Declared Unconstitutional Which Would Exempt Local Traders and Give Them Grounds for Damage Suits.

In the New York Tribune for August | the regulations in the case of Mr there is an interesting piece of news in regard to the constitutionality of the cates. Although there is a touch of the acetious in the article, it seems prob-ble that the test which Mr. Thomas is ing to make is in good faith. Inas-uch as the finding of the court will be ust as vital to Colorado Springs as to York brokers the test case wil obably be followed with interest here If the law is declared unconstitutiona of only will the revenue on stock certificates be declared off, but all those who have paid it in Colorado Springs an collect damages from the United

The article is as follows: George C. Thomas, one of the directors of the Consolidated Stock and Peroleum exchange, is to be arrested to lay on his own invitation by an agent of the internal revenue department. In order to give occasion for the arrest Mr. Thomas has openedly refused to comply with the regulations under which Charles H. Treat, the collector of internal revenue for the second dis-trict of New York, has been collecting for the government $2 for every 100 shares of stock sold by the brokers in the exchanges. The tax on stock transers has been a part of the war tax. dr. Thomas and other brokers were dvised months ago by lawyers that tax was unconstitutional. Mr. Thomas decided to make a test case by ransferring stock without affixing the stamps and paying the tax. lector of internal revenue, and, order that there should be no con e law, he made a report to his legal idvisers, and the lawyers sent notice to Collector Treat. Mr. Thomas has con

Thomas until yesterday, when a revenue agent waited upon Mr. Thomas and told him to appear at the office of Collector Treat at noon today and be ar-that there was an arrangement to have Mr. Thomas taken before United States Commissioner Shields and held for trial on the charge of violating the internal revenue law. Mr. Thomas will be able to give bail, and his counsel will de-mur to his trial on the ground that the law providing for the tax he refused to pay is unconstitutional. If the contention of the lawyers is sustained by the courts, Mr. Thomas gets off easily. If the law is declared to be constitutional, he has no defense and must plead guilty to the charge of violating the law. Some friends of Mr. Thomas said veserday that he was taking a great risk in making the test case. The penalty for violating the tax regulation is a fine of not less than $500 and not more than $1,000, or imprisonment for six months, or both, in the discretion of the ourt. As Mr. Thomas has been refusing to pay the tax for more than two months, his friends say that he has made himself liable to fines amounting to more than $1,000,000 and to imprisonment for about 500 years. He was reported to have said yesterday that he night be willing to be kept in jail 500 okers will be interested in the case of Mr. Thomas, because the tax on stock transfers will have to stop if the law is declared unconstitutional, and brokers who have paid the tax will have claims against the government for the amount of the tax collected. Mr. Thomas is a popular broker in Wall street and has been well known Collector Treat. Mr. Thomas has continued to transfer stocks unstamped since May, and the lawyers have continued to keep Mr. Treat informed of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum exchange and was elected a director.

A BALD NEWSPAPER MAN.

Getting a New Crop of Hair, and Has No More Dandruff. Everybody in the northwest knows Colonel Daniel Searles, the veteran ournalist and publicist of Butte. January 10, 1900, the colonel writes: 9 used a couple of bottles of Newbro's Heroicide with marvelous results. The dandruff disappeared; a new crop of hair has taken root, and the bald spot is rapidly being covered." Herpicide is he only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ that digs up the scalp in scales as it burrows its way into the oot of the hair, where it destroys the itality of the hair, causing the hair to all out. Kill the dandruff germ, with

St. Paul led the wheat carrying roads. St. Faul led this division with a gain at one time of holders whose margins were being 25%, touching 157%. On the other hand, thinned. In the day's trade spots of Atchison spurted up almost as much when corn displayed continued heaviness. Support was noticeable for stocks which were especially weak yesterday, these including the eastern soon influencing the former market, trunk lines, southwesterns, tractions September sold between 56% and 57½ of from 1 to 31/2 points. Receipts were 253 cars. Sugar felt an early resumption of yesterday's weakness but after losing a point sold up four. All these gains were considerably reduced during the late selling movement and net gains were limited to fractions. Trading in the stack was comparatively light.

Sentempor sold between 253 cars.

Purely local conditions governing clamation, no other names coming be fore the conention. Interest therefore the speeches, all of which teemed with denunciation of Democracy in general and Former Senator Gorman in par-

by the Democrats in the platform adopted by them at last week's conven-tion was ignored in the declaration upon which the Republican candidate will stand, but it came in for unfavrable mention in the speeches. Phillips Lee Goldsborough, chairman f the Republican central committee, indicated clearly the course to be pursued by his party in the coming fight with regard to this issue in his opening address to the convention.

"To the cry that this is a white man's negro bogy will scare no man. It is disgusting but humorous, it is sham and fraud; It is without force. The sugthe white population of the state is in jeopardy from that standpoint, from the

Consumptives who die in the East

Only a small percentage of consumptives come to this climate for relief. Most of them stay in the east and die because the eastern physicians, dividing their knowledge and practice among every form of disease, are unable to conquer consumption.

But not all eastern consumptives die. Many of them take the Shepard Treatment and get well. They say so in their letters to Dr. Shepard which you may see. They have been cured and are living safely in every state of the union. However the cure is much quicker and more certain if treatment is taken or at least started in this Colorado climate. After sufficient progress is made you may return east to complete the cure and

Live there permanently in safety

The Shepard treatment is a natural and effective cure for tubercular trouble. It first expels the disease and gradually throws off the diseased portions of the lungs, then the remaining portions are restored to perfect health and strength and thoroughly healed over.

When consumption is cured by the Shepard treatment, the patient's lungs are in every way as strong as they ever were,

It's different with the usual treatments. They do not reach the lungs direct. The body's strength is built up, and the dry air offsets the progress of the disease until the bacilli lie dormant. But they are not gone. Go to a lower place for a while and they become active again, and the disease works more rapidly than ever. You'd better be sure you are cured before you take any chances.

In the pursuit of his investigations into consumption and its cure, Dr. Shepard has examined thousands of cases. He still offers all sufferers
