HARD FIGHTING

Greeks' Gallant Defense of Velesino.

THE TURKS REPULSED

A London Times correspondent graphically describes recent events—fourteen thousand Turks advanced in two columns Sunday evening—twelve thousand Greeks fought them until sunset—sharp struggles during the night—so far the Greek losses have not been heavy—yesterday's fighting was at the eastern end of the line.

London, May 3.—The Times will tomorrow print the following dispatch from its Voio correspondent, dated 3 p. m. today: "When I arrived at Velesino yesterday afternoon, I had seen the Turkish infantry advancing in two columns, intending to cut the railroad. The Greeks, 12,000 strong, under General Smolenski, by whose side I watched the encounter in the rear of the eighth regiment under Colonel Gannikosta, gradually advanced one battalion to hold the railway which had mounted guns on the right center.

The seventh regiment of infantry, under Colonel Regli, advanced to a low plateau on the left, where two batteries were in position. General Smolenski had ordered the shelling to begin when the enemy was well within range, consequently the guns did not open fire before 5:30 p. m. The Turks were evidently about 14,000 strong.

Their cavalry were concealed, but the batteries remained silent until six, and at that time the fire fell short of being effective, though the Greek practice was the best I have yet noticed. The Turks ran away from the shells, but continued to advance in good order. Our right was really never engaged, and the railway station was defended by only a small force, with two Krupin guns. Toward the end, the large Turkish center was seen to advance in the distance, but sunset, at 6:45, caused a temporary cessation.

The Greeks recovered their morale. The Greek troops have entirely recovered their morale and their splendid efforts have proved how great an effect able commanders can produce upon troops. The Greek losses were chiefly due to the previous day; that the Turkish shells exploded, their enemy retreated out of sight toward Larissa during the night. An inspection of the battle field reveals a scene of utter desolation. The Turkish right proved very disastrous, owing to the murderous musketry fire which poured down upon the Turkish infantry and Eyzones. The Turkish cavalry charge on the Greek left seemed an act of sheer madness for the horsemen attacking the Greek position, and the face of two strong intrenchments of infantry.

Monday's Fighting. The Turkish mountain battery on a hill facing the Greek left, approached the end of the wood and burned a small village. Nearly all the fighting today has been done on the extreme left, where the Lake Karla and the eastern Voio road. Whoever gains this road, commands Voio and could cut off railway supplies.

More decisive fighting is expected tomorrow (Tuesday). As yet the Greek losses have not been heavy. The Red Cross society formerly much in evidence, is now conspicuous by its absence, and this fact causes comment.

LONDON DISPATCHES. Latest War News as Published in This Morning's English Papers. London, May 3.—The chief points of interest tonight are: First, that the decision of the ministers who have returned from the Greek frontier is to be in favor of a continuance of the war, and second, that the fighting continues almost incessantly at Velesino from last Thursday until tonight, with the result that General Smolenski has actually been prevented from assuming his new duties as chief of staff.

The Turkish army advancing in three columns on Pharsalos, will an additional column is operating in the direction of Voio. As the Voio column could easily take Velesino in the rear, the Greek position is very precarious. This probably explains the retention of General Smolenski there, as it was natural to expect him to Pharsalos to assume the supreme command. Everything points to an inevitable retreat by the Greeks on Domokos.

The diplomatic situation continues obscure and in a temporary state. All the best officers are being sent to the front, nor is there any intention yet displayed to evacuate Crete.

How Greece Lost. Athens, May 3.—The following dispatch to the Associated Press has been sent from Athens by way of Brindisi, in order to escape the censor: It is probable that no minister ever better deserved humiliation and dismissal than M. Deliyannis, the former premier. A little more than three weeks ago, he declared that everything was prepared for war but until the beginning of the fighting no preparations were made to resist a possible invasion of Thessaly. A few trenches were dug in front of Larissa, and a few earthworks were erected, but ten days ago, not a single word was said to the Greeks to defend the exits of the passes leading to Thessalian plains. All the preparations made were to invade Macedonia, but even these were hopelessly inadequate.

Washington, May 3.—The issue was made quick, as Speaker Reed put it, in the house today, on the speaker's policy of postponing the appointment of the committee on the bill to amend the act relating to the change in the supreme command. Mr. Reed declared that the victory at Velesino was the most splendid achievement of the war, the Greeks capturing an enormous quantity of arms, ammunition and horses. The Turks, after this crushing defeat, Mr. Reed believes are not likely to re-engage in hostilities in that quarter.

From Velesino. The Times will print the following dispatch tomorrow from Velesino: "During the fighting here last week, the Greek losses were not heavy. The Greeks are led against the Turks. There is a strong feeling at Pharsalos that the troops must advance. The despair over the misfortune of the Greeks has been relieved by a desire to regain the esteem of Europe. Only 4,000 soldiers are actually posted at Pharsalos. The remainder are distributed in small detachments. Discipline is improving, though organization is still somewhat defective.

Naval Men Dejected. A dispatch to the Times from Voio says the Greek navy is much dejected by a rumor that the powers have neutralized the Greek navy. The Turkish navy is reported to be advancing from Larissa and Trikalia and that a battle was probable. Three Greek regiments had been sent to Velesino.

Saturday's Battle. A correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Velesino, under date of Saturday, says: "In the battle here yesterday which continued throughout the day, 12,000 Turks made repeated assaults on the Greek position, but were finally driven from the field. The chief feature of the engagement was the brilliant charge of 1,500 Cossack cavalry, which, having broken through the Greek line, was supported on each flank by the strong bodies of the Greek infantry and the Turkish cavalry. The Turkish shells exploded, their enemy retreated out of sight toward Larissa during the night.

Recovered Their Morale. The Greek troops have entirely recovered their morale and their splendid efforts have proved how great an effect able commanders can produce upon troops. The Greek losses were chiefly due to the previous day; that the Turkish shells exploded, their enemy retreated out of sight toward Larissa during the night.

Alarm Partially Subdued by the Arrival of the Warships. Voio, May 3.—12:30 p. m.—A majority of the Turkish army has migrated from this point to Larissa and the island of Euboea. The town is calmer owing to the arrival of the Greek squadron and French, British and Italian warships. Two hundred French sailors are patrolling the streets in order to re-assure the inhabitants.

FAVORABLY IMPRESSED. Greek Ministers Report on the Situation. Athens, May 3.—Colonel Tsakalof, minister of war, and M. Theoklis, minister of the interior, are said to be favorably impressed with the situation at Pharsalos, but they respect the troops and the plan of defense.

When the vote was taken on the proposition the speaker was sustained by practically the solid vote of his party, assisted by 33 Democrats who were present. Mr. Bailey's resolution was defeated, yeas, 52; nays, 124; present and not voting, 13. For the first time this session the factions in the Democratic ranks were in conflict with all of the Populists supported Mr. Lewis. Mr. Low of New York was the only Republican to support the resolution. While eight Democrats and five Republicans answered present, Mr. Bailey denounced in strong terms the spectacle which the Democrats were presenting by their dissent.

Some Unwise Men. "There is not a man on this side of the house who means to support the resolution," Mr. Bailey asserted. Messrs. Lewis and Barlow of California and Simpson declared that they did not intend to support the resolution. Mr. Bailey's resolution was defeated, yeas, 52; nays, 124; present and not voting, 13.

Recovered Their Morale. The Greek troops have entirely recovered their morale and their splendid efforts have proved how great an effect able commanders can produce upon troops. The Greek losses were chiefly due to the previous day; that the Turkish shells exploded, their enemy retreated out of sight toward Larissa during the night.

Alarm Partially Subdued by the Arrival of the Warships. Voio, May 3.—12:30 p. m.—A majority of the Turkish army has migrated from this point to Larissa and the island of Euboea. The town is calmer owing to the arrival of the Greek squadron and French, British and Italian warships. Two hundred French sailors are patrolling the streets in order to re-assure the inhabitants.

FAVORABLY IMPRESSED. Greek Ministers Report on the Situation. Athens, May 3.—Colonel Tsakalof, minister of war, and M. Theoklis, minister of the interior, are said to be favorably impressed with the situation at Pharsalos, but they respect the troops and the plan of defense.

CLOSED TWO BANKS

J. B. Wheeler Assigns at Manitou and Aspen.

CAN PERHAPS PAY DEPOSITORS

Total Assets and Liabilities Unknown—Hon. M. A. Leddy in Charge at Manitou—Long Series of Financial Disasters Led up to These Assignments—Manitou Business Men Not Seriously Affected.

The J. B. Wheeler Banking company of Manitou made an assignment yesterday morning, Hon. M. A. Leddy being named as assignee. No statement of liabilities and assets has been made public, but Senator Leddy is authority for the statement that the depositors will undoubtedly be paid dollar for dollar in a very short time.

The assignment of this bank was precipitated by the assignment of the J. B. Wheeler bank at Aspen, which was also made this morning. Major J. B. Wheeler being president of both these banks. No definite information is obtainable as to the status of the Aspen bank, or of the causes which precipitated its assignment. It is supposed, however, that the general financial stringency of the country and inability to collect on securities for loans, were responsible for the trouble.

Pearcy S. King, attorney for the Manitou bank, filed the notice of assignment with the district clerk early this morning. It was signed by H. H. Grafton, W. E. Smiley and E. H. Jewett, as directors. This bank was started at Manitou about 10 years ago, with a capital stock of $30,000, and transacted a large business for several years. There was a branch institution at Colorado City, which suspended during the panic of 1893, closing the Manitou bank with it, which carried its doors July 19, and remained closed about three months. Arrangements for opening again were then made with creditors and the bank paid off everything in about two years. The present failure will not have any great effect in Manitou, as the deposits have been light for some time, and most of the business men of Manitou now deposit with the Colorado Springs banking company, which is a bank more for checking and convenience than otherwise.

H. I. McMahan, an attorney at Aspen, is acting as assignee of the bank at that place. "The assignment here was made on account of telegraphic advices received yesterday from Major Wheeler, who will arrive from New York next Friday," said Mr. Leddy. "The deposits are not very large, amounting to about $100,000, and I believe that none of the depositors will lose a cent. From all that I know, the assignment was made for the purpose of settling up the business of this bank, and collecting in a large amount of outstanding accounts, which can be got at this way better than any other. I understand that the business of the bank is profitable now for some time. The bank has not been in a position to make any money."

Mr. E. H. Jewett, the cashier of the Manitou bank, when asked for a statement of the affairs of the bank, replied: "I can give you no statement. Mr. Leddy is the assignee and I have nothing to do with it."

When the assignment was made, the failure at Aspen? was asked. "Yes, after the Aspen bank assigned, there was no use of my trying to keep open here to any business."

"What was the cause of the failure of the Aspen bank?" "I don't know. I am in the dark, and know nothing about the business of the bank. Major J. B. Wheeler, the president of the defunct bank, has been one of the most prominent mining and banking men of Colorado for a number of years, and has been heavily interested in other important enterprises in this state. He is the promoter and president of the Manitou Mineral Water company, and the promoter and president of the glass works at Colorado City, which were closed about three years ago, and he was heavily interested in some of the prominent silver mines in Colorado. He is a man of considerable means."

Major Wheeler and his family have been spending the winter at their winter residence in New York City, and are in the home ("Windermeres") is the finest private holding in Manitou.

RULING BY SUPREME COURT

Finding of the District Court of Pueblo County Reversed, and the Defendants Ordered to Grant the Relief Prayed for—A Question of Priority of Water Rights Involved in This Suit.

The supreme court of Colorado yesterday handed down a decision in favor of the Broadmor Dairy and Live Stock company et al., appellants, in its suit against the Brookside Water and Improvement company et al., appellees, for the reversal of the finding of the district court of Pueblo county in this case.

Mr. Justice Goddard delivered the opinion of the court. The suit was brought by appellants in the district court of El Paso county to restrain appellees from diverting through and by means of a pipe line water flowing in Cheyenne ditch, constructed in 1880, for the purpose of appropriating the waters of the creek to the irrigation of certain lands.

In 1882 the district court decreed the first and third priorities to flow down in Cheyenne creek to an amount sufficient to irrigate 400 acres of land. The Brookside Water and Improvement company is the owner of the Wolf ditch, the John Wolfe ditch, the Lowry ditch, a one-third interest in the Alvord ditch, the tenth interest in the Harris ditch, other ditches were adjudged certain priorities subject and subsequent to those of the Cheyenne ditch. The original owners of these ditches were riparian owners of the land on Cheyenne creek, and had used the waters of that creek for domestic purposes continuously from 1858-9.

The company claimed that diversions to the right of its grantors to use the water for domestic purposes and that the adjudication of priorities of the water rights below the point of diversion, for the use of water for such purpose; that it constructed its pipe line for the purpose of utilizing its right, and also for conveying the waters which had succeeded in being carried in such ditches—also for other legitimate purposes. It admits that the Cheyenne ditch has, since its construction, been used for irrigation purposes only, but denies its enlargement in 1882, and alleges that the decree of February 15, 1882, which gave the first and third priorities to the Cheyenne ditch, was null and void because the court was without jurisdiction either of the subject matter or of the claimants now owned by it.

The defendants' side. The court below held that the claim of defendant company to the water, based upon rights acquired by its grantors as riparian owners to the use of the same for domestic purposes, could not be adjudicated in this proceeding nor by the decree of the district court, and that the purpose through its pipe line; held that the requirements of section 2 of the act of 1881 were directory merely, and that the construction of the pipe line, subject matter, and of the parties, but decided the decree void for uncertainty and proceeded to readjust the priorities of the several ditches making order out of Cheyenne creek, and rendered a decree accordingly. From this decree plaintiff appealed, and the court below, and complain of the action of the court below in annulling the decree of February 15, 1882, and in readjusting the priorities of the water flowing in Cheyenne creek. Appellees, by the assignment of cross-appeals, challenge the ruling denying the right of the Brookside company to avail itself of the use enjoyed by its grantors as riparian owners, through and by means of its pipe line, and in holding that the district court of El Paso county had jurisdiction to determine the matter in dispute, and in annulling the decree of February 15, 1882, are considered since the rights of the respective parties depend upon the solution of this question.

The court thereupon reviews the findings of the court below and reverses the judgment, and orders the defendants to grant the relief prayed for in the complaint.

Attention can hardly be called too often in these days to the danger which comes from all attempts at class government. The safety and the success of republican government rests on the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number.

The election of Senator Deboe of Kentucky gives the Republicans one-half of the members of the upper house. Two seats, from Oregon and Florida, are unoccupied. The legislature in Oregon has adjourned without an election, and in Florida there is no immediate prospect of breaking the deadlock.

In New York the rubber tire for carriage wheels has almost entirely supplanted the steel tire. Even the public cabs have adopted it. It is expected that this innovation, together with the horseless carriages, will do much towards keeping the asphalt pavements in good condition.

THE SPIRIT OF THE TIMES. The British authorities are not likely to accept the suggestion that the jubilee celebration should begin on June 17 instead of the 22d. As the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill is the 17th it would not seem so appropriate.

MARSHAL GATHRIGHT

The Second and Long Session of the New Council.

OVER THREE HOURS' STRUGGLE

Captain of Police Gathright Appointed Marshal for the Unexpired Term—Other Positions Filled—$40,000 Worth of City Indebtedness to be Considered—A Lot of Business Transacted.

The second session of the present board of aldermen opened promptly at 8 o'clock last night, and it was not until nearly half past eleven that they could break away from the fascinating pastime of rag-chewing and cross-examining City Attorney Goudy.

As early as half past seven a large crowd, or rather as big a one as the limited quarters of the council chamber can afford sitting and standing room, congregated. The question of the successor to ex-Marshall Dana and the filling of other city places no doubt caused the extra attractiveness of the meeting.

The members were all present at first save Dr. Lecroix, who was rather late in taking his seat. He, however, lost nothing, and subsequently entered the arguments in this characteristically quiet, firm way, which usually carries so much force with it.

Down to Business. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. After that a complaint was read signed by a number of North Tejon street merchants, in which they requested a removal of the obstruction now on the removal of the De Graff block. On motion the complaint was referred to the proper committee for immediate action.

The G. A. R. committee on entertainment for the encampment exercises here the middle of the month, extended an invitation to the council to participate in the parade. The body decided that they would send a delegation to the pageant by their august presence.

Mr. Dana's resignation as chief of police was then read and with regret accepted. Resolutions of praise for his past record and best wishes for a continuance of good fortune were passed and ordered inscribed on the minutes of the meeting. Mr. Dana will be furnished a copy of the eulogistic expressions.

A letter from General Agent Ellison of the Denver and Rio Grande was read wherein he alleged that discrimination had been used by the city purchasing agent against his road. Certain freight, he claimed, was diverted to other companies, and as his line was a very heavy taxpayer in El Paso county, he asked that the city should be asked to give the D. & R. G.

A Resolution. City Clerk Smith, who acts in the capacity of purchasing agent, briefly and warmly spoke out and explained that he believed in staying by one's friends, and as the comparative lines had extended courtesies to both the councilmen and himself that the Rio Grande had not, he had favored the former.

The citizens of the neighborhood of East Huerfano street and the Santa Fe tracks appealed for an improvement of the condition of the thoroughfare. Two ladies, Mrs. Rankin and Mrs. Judd, appeared in the interest of this. The question was referred to the street committee and the mayor with power to act on one.

Applications for the consideration and action of the council in the extension of water mains in several parts of the town were read and referred to the committee. The Pelham Place people complained that their neighborhood was shady and that by removing the electric poles from its present sites more light would be obtained and they made happy. This was referred to the committee, as also were other solicitations for illumination in other dark districts.

A list of applicants for the marshaling was read and filed until later in the evening. More names were called off by Clerk Smith as applying for positions on the police force. These too were placed on file.

Bonds for the chiefs of the various departments under the supervision of the board were filed. Batsy of the fire bureau filed one for $1000, Hopkins of the water works for $2000, Kimball of the sewer system for $2000, and Frame, inspector of meats, for $1000. They were all referred to Attorney Goudy for approval.

Had Their Dates Mixed. At this point the august assembly became anything but august. The off by Clerk Smith as applying for positions on the police force. These too were placed on file.

The wrinkles of worryment disappeared from the mayor's brow, and the representatives of the people behind themselves once more in the settlement of serious affairs.

Financial Puzzles. Alderman Frost arose and in a clear Bostonian accent gave a statement of the financial condition of the city. He started his colleagues with the announcement that expenses to come would in the aggregate foot up something like $100,000. In an algebraic outburst he showed how impossible it was to pay out two sums of money from an amount equal to only one of the sums. He further informed the council in a resolution that it would relieve matters if they voted to restore the fund by the sale of bonds. He went on to say that there were about 20 new houses in the north end of town which needed attention from a water stand-pipe. After several short speeches by the members, another of Frost's resolutions was read and adopted, in effect that $2500 be expended by the city clerk out of contingent fund in the engagement of the city clerk.

MINES, STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS.

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, May 3.—Business was quite brisk at the opening of the Mining Stock Association this week, but prices sank a little as compared with the last day of the month, which was on Saturday last. This was more noticeable in Elkhorn than in any other class, which fell off to 89% before the close of the call. The opening price was 91%, a trifle higher than Saturday's close, but it soon fell off and about the middle of the day was going at 90. After that the drop in price was only gradual, and the price went up and down on several occasions before settling on a fair, comfortable price of 89% at the close of the day. The market for Elkhorn was actually strong.

Isabella started in with a decline and from 31% fell to an even 31, only to advance again to 31% before the close, while the trade in the other classes was considerably heavier. Prospects for an advance in the near future looked good.

Pharmacist was up a little, being strong at 9 cents with a slight advance going on 5 days sale. Portland hovered around 50, a slight advance in price. Union also advanced in price to 13%, and appeared strong at the closing. Fanny B. and Elkhorn had one of its spells of activity, and had over 25,000 sales at from 10% to 10%.

Among the unlisted stocks Arcadia had three quiet best transactions, one block of 33,500 shares, another of 20,000 shares and another of 3750 shares, all going at 3 cents and being bought in by one party.

Buckhorn was another lively seller and advanced to 2 cents, at which 15,000 shares changed hands. Mountain Beauty with 8000 shares at 2 1/2, Gold Standard with 5000 at 3, Fanny B. with 7000 at from 4 to 4 1/2, and Garfield-Grouse with 18,000 at from 4 1/2 to 5 were among the other prominent traders.

Anchorage-Leland was credited with 3000 shares at 90, which went into strong hands.

CREDEE LOOMING UP.

Activity of the Camp Greater Than at any Time Since the First Year of the Boom.

Never since 1883 has Creede shown the output of silver-bearing ore it does today. Never in the history of the camp has such a body of ore as is now being shipped from the Commodore been uncovered. Never has such plans for development and preparation for more extensive shipment ever been undertaken as are now in progress on this property. And never have the stayers in the camp felt more sanguine of the future—even in the next three years with no hope of favorable silver legislation—than they do now. Such is the opinion expressed by J. D. Mahen, president of the Miners' bank of Creede.

The leading property at Creede today is the Commodore, on the south end of Bachelor mountain, adjacent to the Bachelor and Summit. This ore is now being shipped from the entire camp runs from 20 to 25 cars per day, of which fully three-fourths comes from the Commodore. The present treatment is on a scale in what is termed tunnel No. 1, well up the mountain. In this tunnel there is a body of ore from eight to 14 feet wide, and that averages one ounce silver per ton. So far the operators have driven 600 feet on this chute and above them lies 500 feet of stopping ground. Last week a contract was let to drive 1000 feet on a tunnel to start near the creek and to intersect this ore chute. The contractors have the option on a second 1000-foot contract.

The owners of the Bachelor mine, lying below the Commodore, are driving a drift northward off the Nelson tunnel to cut their big ore body at a depth of over 1000 feet, and this contract will soon be completed. Further north on the mountain lessees are shipping ore from the last Chance and Amethyst. Up East Willow gulch work was resumed last month on the Ridge, the great lead producer, which lies on the west side of the creek. On Mammoth mountain, lying on the east side, Harry Allenby has taken a lease on the Eunice, a property showing up high values in chlorides. Next to the Eunice lies the Mollie S., which is shipping the same kind of ore, which is being sent out by lessees.

Because of this rejuvenation the Rio Grande company has found it necessary to discontinue its mixed passenger and freight train, and now new time schedules are in force. Everything points to a revival in the silver mining industry at Creede, and the news comes as a pleasant awakening to many a man who still has his dollars up in the business of a so-far non-producing patented claim or a town lot or two.

With the year again is heard gossip about concentrators and leaching plants. It is a well known fact that the ores of Creede are susceptible to both. A few more live men like the operators of the Commodore and Bachelor are only needed to produce the tonnage and it is believed the plants will follow.

Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

Colorado Springs, May 3.—The brokers made a good showing at the opening call on the Board of Trade, and were busy with Buckhorn, Republic, Fanny B. and Kimberly. As far as quantity was concerned, Republic made the best showing. The sales in this stock amounted to over 90,000 shares, and a good many blocks of 5000 shares changed hands. The price ranged from 2 to 2 1/2 cents, with a majority of the stock going at the even figure, and the strength showing toward the close. On Saturday last the price ranged from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2, so the general tone was an advance.

Buckhorn started to sell at 1 1/2, but there was a sudden advance to 2 cents, a strength which was generally commented upon. It was said with a good deal of truth that although the price declined that the market for Elkhorn was actually strong.

The sales in Fanny B. amounted to 10,000 shares, and the stock went from 10 1/2 to 10 3/4. Kimberly also had about 10,000 shares, all of which went at 10 1/2. The market was again busy at 2 1/2 and 3 1/2 per thousand shares, 21,000 shares changed hands at these figures.

GRANITE HILL ANNUAL.

A Late Session at which the Directors for the Ensuing Year were Elected.

Between the hours of 8 and 10 last night the annual stockholders' meeting of the Granite Hill Mining and Milling company was held at 107 N. Tejon street. There was a very good attendance and 75,000 shares of a total of 1,000,000 was represented, either in person or by proxy.

The election resulted in the following directors being chosen: W. H. Gowdy, L. H. Gowdy, J. P. Madden, J. K. Brunner and E. B. Simmons. The directors did not organize but will do so today.

The treasurer's report showed that over $3,000 had been received in royalties during the past year and that there was now a balance of $1,100 in the treasury and no debts.

The company is now sinking a shaft 125 feet in the clear and Superintendent W. H. Gowdy recommends that it be put down 100 feet before drifts are started. South of this a distance of 100 feet the shafts have a shaft from which they are taking out ore and the company expects to catch the ore chute on its dip at a depth of 75 feet.

In future the company will make quarterly statements to its stockholders. It will show the amount of work done, expenditures, etc., etc.

GRANITE COMPANY WINS.

And the Portland Company Removes the Bulkhead Erected and Withdraws from Granite Ground.

The much-talked-of Granite-Portland case was brought to a sudden climax yesterday at least for the time being, by the withdrawal of the Portland people from the contest and a consequent claim of victory by the Granite side.

A week ago the jurisdiction in the case was tried before Judge Hallet and won by the Granite people. Yesterday the injunction suit was to have been started but the withdrawal of the Portland people from Granite territory makes any ground for an injunction suit void.

The Granite company asked for an injunction because the defendant company, the Portland Gold Mining company, through its employes, by means of drills and blasts of powder, broke through and into the Granite claim, in what is known as the complainant's company's 600-foot drift, and erected a bulkhead therein to the extent alleged in complainant's bill of complaint.

In reply to the plaintiff's plea the attorneys of the defendant company, Messrs. A. T. Gunnell, Thomas, Bryant & Lee, and J. E. Rockwell about as follows: "Now, therefore, the defendant company having been informed, and believing that to do so was unlawful, notice is hereby given that the defendant company withdraws from said Granite claim and will remove said bulkhead, and restore the possession of said 600-foot drift to the complainant as if no such bulkhead had ever been made."

This means that the Portland company withdraws from Granite territory and that consequently there are no grounds for a suit. Mr. Thos. W. Patterson, one of the legal luminaries on the Portland side, was seen at the Antlers hotel last night concerning the matter. He inferred that it could hardly be done, and yet the victory for the Granite people, as the Portland

SMELTER IN SIGHT.

Another Reduction Plan for Colorado City—Chlorination Works Will Also be Enlarged.

The success of the chlorination works, and the success of the Colorado City for the treatment of ores from Cripple Creek and other parts of the state, has for some time induced prominent capitalists to investigate the advisability of the erection of a smelter at Colorado City, and there is now a well-authenticated report to the effect that a party of capitalists has decided to erect a large smelting plant with three stacks, in the iron building which was put up several years ago by the D. R. C. near the mouth of the Fountain creek, by the Western Glass company. There is a large amount of Cripple Creek ore which can not be successfully treated by the chlorination process, and with a smelter at Colorado City, considerably more could be saved on the transportation of ore which is now sent to smelters at Pueblo and Denver. In connection with the chlorination works, this most important reduction center in the state, the Colorado-Philadelphia Reduction company will also, in about three weeks, begin some extensive improvements in their plant, which will increase its capacity to 300 tons per day. Two new roasting furnaces of the same type as those now in use will be added, and the capacity of the cooling tower will also be doubled. Additional buildings will be necessary to accommodate these contemplated improvements, which will cost from $20,000 to $25,000. As it will take several weeks to complete the work there will not be much increase in the amount of ore treated until some time in the fall. The barrel room and all other parts of the mill, except the roasters and cooling floor, were originally constructed with a capacity of 300 tons per day.

BROKERS MARKET LETTERS.

In their weekly letter Messrs. Carnduff & Bussey say: "A strong and active market on Monday was followed during the week by a general decline, and but for the steady support of the market, which has now a considerable factor, prices would probably range even lower. Intending investors seem confident that no stock, however valuable, can advance during the dull season and calmly await the low prices which usually rule through the mid-summer months. Such delays may prove profitable, but the general reduction from Cripple Creek is increasing daily; the mines are being more systematically developed and the stocks are correspondingly depressed. The price of the properties could actually be sold. Even the dividend payers returning at the rate of 25 per cent. and below are allowed to decrease their price. Elkhorn closed today seven cents below last Saturday's quotation and Isabella seems like to again sink below 20. Mutual Stock in the work, a company ably managed, owning a large and patented ground in the heart of the district and shipping 100 tons per month, can be bought for five cents per share. "Arcadia is a very steady performer at four, are also cheap and may be added to the list of shipping mines which will outer edges are all hope. It remains to be seen whether the market will be able to hold up today's figures. Stock in good prospects can be purchased at a few dollars per share. Six points are for sale of interest, these working the claims, is offered at eight dollars per thousand, representing only $10,000 for the entire property. Silver and gold are being purchased at 1 1/2 should also be good purchases. Although the bottom may not be reached it cannot be far off, and we have no hesitations in recommending the purchase of the above stocks at today's figures."

Writing of the Salt Lake market Mr. James Pollock says: "There is but little without a great deal of change in general quotations, the mining stock market was fairly active during the week just closed. Outside inquiries for which investment stocks, especially the gold dividend payers, was somewhat increased, and it seems reasonably certain that this class of securities will see higher prices. The uncertainty as to the future of silver and lead keeps the silver-lead stocks down. "No change occurred in the figures on the Central market. There is but little of the stock market. Some splendid opportunities have occurred at the mines during the past two weeks. Chloride Point was neglected on the market, there being no buyers in. This company is placing treasury stock in the east, and promises a mill this year. Dalton and Dalton & Lark are very inactive and quotations continue low. The Dales were neither especially active and last week's figures again governed. Dexter received the usual booming, but the stock seems to have reached high water mark, for the present at least. With its entire holdings under attachment, East Golden Gate remains in a very deplorable condition. Four boxes in the stock market. "The first dividend on Geyser-Marion will be paid today, and the management promises to repeat it regularly. Fair business in the stock held prices quite firm. Galena recovered some of its lost strength a good buying. At the Horn Silver a vein of low grade ore has been uncovered. This is the first gold found in the properties and is considered an important development. Little Pittsburg was a fraction stronger.

"Ontario paid its regular dividend on the 29th. The stock was not active and prices continued low. Sunbeam has secured an extension on its bond, and higher prices are looked for on the stock. Silver King was not active, and last week's figures remained about unchanged. "Who South Swansea changed but little, Swansea was somewhat stronger. A change in superintendents has occurred at the latter. At both properties the ore is fairly contained, but at the latter Sunshine was slightly stronger, with little stock offered. Sacramento remained without activity. Utah made a nice showing in strength. Its properties are looking remarkably well and sending in some large and rich shipments of ore. The stock should resume dividends in May. "The company's treasury holds a sum sufficient to pay for contemplated improvements and take care of dividends in addition."

crude ounces. At the valuations given, this is equivalent to 25,062 fine ounces, or 35,354,322. As compared with 1895, this shows a decrease of 56,081 fine ounces, or $1,158,194. This reduction of 17.6 per cent. was due chiefly to a fall in the price of mining and the return of many men who engaged in that work for a time to other occupations, either because mining did not prove remunerative or because of the gradual revival of business gave opportunities for work. The chief losses were in the Bathurst and Adelaide districts; the Cobarras side showed considerable gain, and some other districts also increased their production.

The comparatively small output of South Australia also showed a decrease. The office report gives a total for 1896 of 29,094 crude ounces, equivalent to 27,384 fine ounces, or $566,027. As compared with 1895 the loss was 15,408 fine ounces, or $323,154. This decrease, amounting to 37.5 per cent., was the result of the superior attractions of the West Australian goldfields, which have drawn off many miners, and left the South Australian districts in some cases almost deserted. The colony is of great extent, but has only a small population as yet, and much development is needed. Some work has been done in the northern territory, which belongs to this colony, but the results so far have not been very good.

We have now the official returns of gold production of all the Australasian colonies, and we find that while Queensland, Tasmania and West Australia increased their outputs, decreases were reported in the other four colonies.

The total gold production of Australasia as finally ascertained was therefore as below for the year 1896:

Colony. Value. New South Wales $5,354,322. New Zealand 4,306,025. Queensland 566,027. South Australia 566,027. Tasmania 1,142,250. Victoria 15,412,684. Western Australia 10,823,073. Totals $31,266,353. Total, 1895 42,733,524.

The total increase, as compared with 1895, was 45,572, and the average gain of 21 per cent., or somewhat below the estimates made at the close of the year. Nearly all the colonies showed an unexpected falling off in the last quarter of 1896, partly the result of dry weather and scarcity of water.

Australia led the Transvaal in 1896 by a total of $1,891,277, and therefore remains the second gold producer in the world, giving precedence only to the United States. The result for the current year is still uncertain, depending chiefly upon the amount of placer gold obtained, which is just now decreasing. The production of the quartz or vein mines in all the older colonies is very steadily kept up. (Engineering and Mining Journal.)

INCREASED Gold Coin Ore Bodies Appear to be Inexhaustible.

NEW ORE BINS ERECTED

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Colo., May 3.—The output from the Gold Coin mine is steadily increasing. It appears as if the ore bodies are almost inexhaustible and 250 tons of ore were sent out from the mine last week, part of it going to the Metallurgical works at Florence, and part to the Pueblo plant.

A New Ore House. Over shaft No. 1 a new ore house is being erected. It is to be a two-story affair 50x100 feet, with a height of 62 feet. The workings will be equipped with a fine plant of machinery, including two 50-horse power boilers and a 100-horse power engine with a capacity of lifting 150 tons per day.

No. 1 shaft has a depth of 318 feet, and the cross-cut is now in 25 feet, leaving 60 feet more to go to tap the vein. Five feet of ore are now exposed in the second level, and the breast is about 375 feet from the north end of the property.

The drift is now entering a large bulge of ore which indicates that the vein will widen considerably. The breast of the first level is only 115 feet from the north end of the claim and the ore chute to the north is steadily increasing in size and in value, while the south chute seems to be detached from the main ore body, which is about 18 inches wide and less continuous in value than the main chute.

The main values of the big chute extend from Victor avenue continuous to the north end of the claim. The fourth level will be run at a depth of 420 feet, where a known amount of the ore chute to the north has been found to be 30 feet wide and an immense body of low-grade ore with an average value of about $10 per ton. It is thought that the values will be increased at the depth of over 400 feet.

Rich Prospects. The Caledonia gives rich promises of coming to the front again as a heavy shipper after a long holiday. The bond has been taken up by English parties but the Managers' Board is not yet ready to take the property. Not long since a new air compressor was put in place and two drills installed. One of these has been working for some days, and on Sunday when driving a cross-cut from the 150-foot level, a new seam of ore was broken into at a distance of about 20 feet from the shaft.

The vein is about 30 inches wide and some two feet of the vein is composed of a brown quartz and the remaining six inches of a silvanite ore. No assays have yet been made, but the silvanite is not known but the silvanite ore needs no assaying to tell of its richness as it is plainly a discovery was also made at the 100-foot level. Heretofore no stopping has been done above the 30-foot phonetic level.

The manager a few days ago decided to see what lay beyond, and put a force of men to work. So hard was the rock that it took the men about 20 days to make shifts a day to push the shaft 20 feet, but when the shaft was finally pierced the judgment of the manager was fully vindicated. The shaft was 20 feet from the surface, and the preliminary runs to the surface. It is presumed that the shaft will be put to work in a day or so, the force of men increased, and the work will be pushed forward.

Good Silver Ore. The strike in the San Jacinto promises to equal, if not excel, any strike made in the camp since the palmy days of the '90s. Part of the ore carries no lead and is a strike as simply amazing. The ore, which was encountered last Tuesday, has been penetrated across seven feet and the hanging wall has not been reached. The ore is being worked on the line of the shaft, which will be 200 feet from the surface. A shipment was made to the Taylor & Brunton sampler yesterday. Three shifts will be put to work on the ore, and the ore will be put to work on the line of the shaft only till the 10th of June.

The ore body was disclosed through the old workings of the Jenny Lind at a depth of about 200 feet, and near the side line between the San Jacinto and Mayflower claims, and it is a continuation of the celebrated Mayflower chute. This additional disclosure of ore means a new camp and particularly to the section at the head of Keno and Ophir gulches, which will be the coming producing district of the camp.

The Mayflower is by no means worked out. It has plenty of virgin ground below it, and it is being worked on the line of the chute which can be economically, and probably will be eventually, worked through the upraise from the Newman tunnel.

The famous Chat Noir of Paris is closed, and the proprietor has retired to the country, a rich man. It is said that he is going to open a regular theater in Paris, and that he will be so foolish. It is one thing to make money out of a unique idea, and another to make it out of a unique man, and Mr. Weston is doing the latter. Mr. Weston will have a good thing. Mr. Lyman White, the well-known mining man, will this week succeed Superintendent Foley, at the Little mine. It is reported that some of the stockholders of the Little Mining company were not satisfied with the former management and chose Mr. White on account of his large experience and great ability. The choice has given great satisfaction all round. Mr. White was until recently associated with Maloney & Co. in the lease on the Squaw Mountain Tunnel, and is also man-

ANOTHER MISSISSIPPI BUBBLE. Report of an Intelligent Machinist on South African Mining.

M. Higgins, a machinist who has for some years been engaged in setting up machinery in the mining districts of Africa, arrived in this city yesterday on a visit to relatives. "I have had all I want of Africa," said the expert, "and I have seen nearly all of the accessible places of the continent since I left Denver, in Johannesburg, Matabeland, Bulawayo, on the east coast, Zanzibar, in the Soudan, and in Egypt, and though I made money and was paid much better wages than I could earn at the same work in the United States, I do not regret my visit to any white man undertaking the extra risks. There is no place that I have seen in Africa that can compare with the prospect in this country. Of course, it suits some people, and I am only giving expression to my own feelings.

"I worked for a number of companies while on my travels, and among them were the Consolidated company and the United Goldfields Consolidated, two concerns that are backed by large capital. I don't care to say anything of the machinery used, for I have never before seen in any mining district in the world. The building, machinery, plants, etc., are often new and better than anything I have seen, and then the managers go to work to find a mine. If they are successful they get the credit of being wonderful men, and if they fail they are blamed for the expense by the common assertion that they are developing the property.

"When it comes to splendid mining operations, the only one that I have seen in Africa is the one at the mine of the American mining operator is not in it with the people of South Africa. I have seen a number of fine plants of machinery, and the staff of managers, superintendents, etc., and not a bit of ore in the properties, and in some cases without any effort to find any ore. The machinery is all new, and the staff of managers, superintendents, etc., and not a bit of ore in the properties, and in some cases without any effort to find any ore.

"The only place in Africa where any ore is produced is in the Rand, that is, in the Rand district. The Rand district is a solidified company is operating in the Heidelberg mining district. I set up the machinery for that company and worked for it a number of years. The Rand district is a solidified company is operating in the Heidelberg mining district.
