VOL. 2, NO. 45. RICO, COLO., SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1881. WHOLE NO. 97

AN ORATION.
Delivered on July 4th, by Pop-Eyed Caterpillar, of the Ute Nation.
From Bill Nye's Laramie Boomerang.
Warriors of my people!—You come to-day together to-day beneath the forest shade, to celebrate the white man's anniversary. It is a proud day for the paleface. It marks the crowding years since he got the bulge on his oppressors. It is the tally by which he reckons the flight of time since he bugged the snoot of tyrannym.

This glorious day is not for the red man. He feels the thrill of conscious pride and greatness, it is true, but on the following day he awakes to find nothing but vain regret. The joy of the red man is fleeting. It is a hollow mockery, a snare and a delusion. I see the flush mantle in your dark cheeks to-day, but to-morrow it will be a bob-tail flush. The patriotism you feel to-day will only give place to depression and gloom. You are proud now, and complacent, and you are drunk. You are brave and high-strung and head bad man from away back; but when another sun shall rise upon White river my people will be subdued.

Look at Bran Mash Susan. She comes here to-day clothed as the Goddess of Liberty. She is the fair daughter of the full moon. That is why she is full. Look at Peeled Nose Billizard, the daughter of the whirlwind. She represents the state called by the paleface the Empire state. She is clothed in a flour sack, as the emblem of purity. Across her back, in red letters, is the inscription:
S N O W F L A K E
F L O U R
X X X X
That is because she is the flower of our tribe. And yet she, too, is as drunk as a billed owl. As her tawny features are turned toward mine I see that she does not know whether there are two orators or nine addressing this audience.

Look at Vnegar Bitters Pocahontas. Clothed in a coffee sack and gloom, she is in the land of slumber. On this great day she sleeps the hours away, while the blue-tail fly frolics over her copper-colored nose. We were once a nation of orators. Our people once listened to the silvery tones of those who told them of their wrongs and bade them brace up. Now the shattered fragment of a great nation gathers in the hot canon, wrapped in nothing but a brown study, and snores through the tardy hours.

A few more summers and your tale will be told. The red man never weeps. He may suffer, but he scorns to cry like a woman. Pop-eyed Caterpillar's heart is filled with sorrow for his people, but he will not squal. His soul is full of agony, but he will not give way to scalding weep. Each year we go upon the warpath, but we do no damage. We kill a few, it is true, but it is not a glittering success. Our warriors are too prone to relent when there is danger near. They spare the paleface who happens to be armed and show mercy to the able-bodied Caucasian with the double-barreled shotgun. He always spares the paleface who is loaded. Once we went upon the warpath to protect our devoted squaws. Then they were fair to look upon and brave and true. We gladly faced death to show our devotion to the bronze beauties of our nation. Now it is not so. Times have changed. The maidens and matrons of our tribe are not beautiful. They have ruined their complexions with fat pork and whiskey. Most of them would stop a clock with their wild peculiar beauty. Look at Coyote Kate, who walked away with the clam-shell bracelets voted to the most beautiful belle of the White river agency. Her nose is three-quarters of an inch out of plumb, and she has a wart over her eye like a moss agate.

Warriors! must we lay down our lives in order to leave a widow who wears cavalry pants and whose cooing voice sounds like the sad refrain of a plaining mill? I trow not. When we die and are laid to rest beneath the cottonwood in the valley, we want to be mourned over by brown-eyed gazelles, whose general appearance will not kill vegetation. We cannot give up our heart's blood for sweethearts and wives with feet like a sugar-cured ham, and hair like the soft tresses of a bald-headed shoe brush. The only hope for our tribe is for each warrior to plight his troth to one of these club-footed damsels and then rush madly into battle, that they may climb the golden stair and thus avoid their herd fate. If there be aught that would nerve our flagging warriors to brave death and destruction, it is this.

The President's Assassin.
The assassin Guitteau is a well-known figure at the White House. He has tried on several occasions to pass himself off as a newspaper reporter. He frequently wrote notes to the president, of which the following is a sample.
"I regret the trouble you are having with senator Conkling. You are all right and should maintain your position. You have my support and that of all patriotic citizens. I would like an audience of a few moments."
He used to gaze upon White House stationery, take some of it off, and write innumerable letters. He would also utilize blank cards by securing himself a supply if he should ever need them, and one day Colonel Crook, disbursing clerk, said to him:
"You seem to make yourself at home and be laying in a supply of stationery."
Said Guitteau to him in an insulting manner: "Do you know who I am? I am one of the men who make presidents."

Last Tuesday he met one of the employees and enquired very particularly when the president would leave, and by what train and road. He has an idiotic grin on his face at times. One day he said: "This is a hell of a government; the people are no better than slaves."
HIS EARLY HISTORY.
Charles Jules Guitteau is a native of Illinois, about 40 years of age. He is the son of a poor Guitteau, who for many years to the time of his death, which occurred about two years ago, resided at Freeport, Illinois. About twenty-five years ago, the father, accompanied by his son, Charles Jules, then about 16 years old, joined the Oneida Community in New York state. The father remained but a short time, and then returned to Freeport. The son remained several years, and next turned up in Chicago as a lawyer. By a boy, and up to the time of his arrival at Chicago, he was known as Charles Jules Guitteau, but changed his name, dropping the "Jules," soon after reaching that city. He visited Washington about two years ago, and lectured in Lincoln hall on Second Adventism, in which at that time he professed to believe. Gentlemen in the city who have met him here, pronounce him a lunatic on the subject of religion.

HIS CAREER IN WASHINGTON.
Charles Guitteau came here in February, with a recommendation from several parties in Illinois to secure the United States Consularship to Marseilles, France. He went in March to the well-known boarding house of Mrs. Lockwood, formerly Mrs. Hines, and secured a room, and tried to secure board. Mrs. Lockwood did not like his appearance, and gave him an out-of-the-way room in the house in the hopes of getting rid of him. He pretended to know General Logan and others then boarding there. Mrs. Lockwood states that he acted strangely at times, and about the middle of the month, when she presented his bill he could not pay it. He afterwards left the house, and sent Mrs. Lockwood a note, saying he expected a $6,000 dollar position and would soon pay his bills. Mrs. Lockwood showed the note to General Logan, who said the man was crazy. Three weeks ago he met Mr. Lickford, of Mrs. Lockwood's boarding house, on the street and requested her not to say anything about the bill he owed, as it would hurt him in his efforts to secure a position. Mrs. Lockwood said Guitteau was a great both in his endeavors to secure a position, and in his efforts in his behalf. Since leaving Mrs. Lockwood's house he has been stopping at various places, never at a great length of time, for he appears to have no funds. He told one of the boarders at Mrs. Lockwood's that he expected to be appointed Minister to France, but did not desire it known.

Another of those pleasing little episodes which makes the Star-Lit Paris a desirable resort occurred on Tuesday evening the 28th ult. It appears that Sanderson's stage from Lake City to Alamosa, was stopped by two masked men, ten miles west of Alamosa. One man held the horses, the other turned the reflector to shine inside the stage. He then commanded five men and one woman to come out, one at a time, on his side of the road, and, if any one went out on the other side, they would be shot. After placing a sack over each, making the men fold their hands over sack and kneel in a row, they were searched, the robbers securing between eight and nine hundred dollars in cash and one pistol. Everything else was returned. Then they made the woman hold the lamp while they ransacked the United States mail bags, and taking the cash from the stage company's box, jumped on their horses and rode off. No description of the men can be given by the passengers. The robbery was committed very quickly and quietly. Later advices state the robber or robbers were captured.—San Juan Herald.

Mill sites may be located under the provisions of the mining act, and must be recorded. Locators of mining claims have the exclusive right of possession of the surface ground included within the lines of their locations, upon compliance with the laws of the United States, and with the state, territorial and local regulations governing their possessory titles, where no adverse claim existed before May 10, 1872. But a mill site must be on non-mineral land. The owners of the mill site are entitled to the timber growing thereon. It is the rule of the General Land Office under section 2338 United States Revised Statutes, to require that mill sites shall be located and recorded in the same manner as a vein or lode, and in case of a mill site not held and worked in connection with a lode claim, the customary certificate that $500 worth of improvements have been placed upon the claim is demanded. Mill sites can only be 5 acres, and on no consideration can more be taken up.—Aurora Herald.

Claims on the Ute Reservation.
You request to be informed by what means persons now in occupation of valuable mining claims, which within a few months have been ascertained to be within the limits of the Ute Reservation, may maintain their possessions. You state that these claims have been located at various times since 1876, under the supposition that they were situated upon public land subject to sale, and outside the Indian Reservation. You also say that the claims have been sold in instances for large sums of money (aggregating from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000) to equally innocent purchasers; and that since the fact that these claims are situated in Indian country has been ascertained, many of them have been "jumped" by outside parties. Notwithstanding the hardships which accrue from the facts stated, it is perfectly clear that none of the locations made are legal, and the locators were and are trespassers, though, perhaps, not intentionally so. The "jumpers" are willful trespassers. No valid possessory title has been or can be acquired until the land is declared subject to occupation, and the parties who have made locations and those who have purchased claims, have no possessory rights which can be maintained.

The Same Old Round.
From the Brooklyn Eagle.
"Could I see the editor?" she asked, looking around for him and wondering what was going on under the table.
"Eh! yes, I'm here," responded the editor, evolving himself and slipping a cork into the "rest pocket." "What can I do for you?"
"I am a student at Packer Institute," responded the blushing damsel, "and I have written a little article 'Our School Days,' which I would like to have published in the Brooklyn Eagle, if you think it good enough."
"Certainly," replied the editor, gazing in unconscious admiration upon the beautiful face before him.
"Please to commence 'Our school days' how the words linger in sweet cadences on the strings of memory! Is that the way it runs?"
"Why, yes," responded the beaming girl. "Then it goes on, 'How we look forward from them to the time when we shall look back to them!' How did you know?"
"Never mind," said the editor with the engaging smile which has endeared him to the citizens of Brooklyn. "After that comes, 'So sunshiny! So happy with the pleasure that makes you glad, they have flown into the immutable past and come to us in after life only as echoes in the caves of sweet recollection.' Isn't that it?"
"It certainly is," answered the astonished girl, radiant with delight. "How could you know what I had written?"
"Then it changes from the pianissimo and becomes more tender. The shadows gather around our path. The roses of friendship are withering, but we may hope that they will bloom again as we remember the affection that bound us here and made us—"
"No, you're wrong there," and the soft eyes looked disappointed.
"Is it 'Hope on, hope ever?'" asked the editor.
"That comes in further on. You had it nearly right. It is 'The sun shadows close around us. The flowers of friendship are sleeping, but not withered, and will bloom again in the affectionate remembrance of the chains that bound us so lightly.'"
"Strange that I should have made that mistake," said the editor musingly. "I never missed one before. From there it goes, 'Schoolmates, let us live so that all our days shall be as radiant as those we have known here, and may we pluck happiness from every bush, forgetting never that the thorns are below the roses, and pitying those whose hands are bruised in the march through life.'"
"That's it!" exclaimed the delighted girl. "And then comes 'Hope on, hope ever.'"
"Sure you're born!" cried the editor, blushing with pleasure, and once more on the right track. "Then it runs: 'And as for you, teachers, dear!'"
"Yes, yes, you're right," giggled the girl. "I can't see how you found me out! Would you like to print it?" and her face assumed an anxious shade.
"Certainly," responded the editor. "I'll say it's by the most promising young lady in Brooklyn, the daughter of an esteemed citizen and a lady who has already taken a high social rank!"
"That finishes the school commencement at one swoop," sighed the editor gloomily, as the fair vision floated out. "Can't see how I made that blunder about the shadows and friendship. Either I'm getting old or these girls have struck out something original. Here, Swipes, tell the foreman to put this slush in the next tax sales supplement," and the editor felt in his hair for the cork, and wondered what had happened to his memory.

Shooting on the Florida.
From the Durango Record.
The news of the shooting at Corigan's camp on the Florida, about ten miles from town, came in last night, at about 12 o'clock, and sheriff Hunter started immediately for the scene of difficulty, accompanied by Dr. Clay. The latter got back this morning, and reports having seen one man killed, and three seriously wounded, besides the man "Slim," who is now in bed in a building opposite the Harp and Shamrock theatre. We called on Slim, this forenoon and found the man very severely wounded, one ball having entered at the back of the neck and coming out in front of the right shoulder, another piercing through the forearm, and a third across the chest. He does not seem to feel much pain, yet complains of a little in the wounded arm. As he has abundant courage, and is the possessor of a vigorous constitution, we think he will recover. Judging from some previous bad feeling and general misunderstanding, and every one, becoming once more excited in a general quarrel giving rise to criminal and re-criminations, began to shoot indiscriminately.
We learn that Tom Payne was killed outright. Nothing more definite can be arrived at, in regard to the matter until the sheriff returns. Coroner Wright started this afternoon for the camp, taking a jury with him, for the purpose of holding an inquest.

Just before going to press, the rumor reaches us that the bodies of five men, have been discovered in and about the scene of conflict. This report, however, we are unable to substantiate at the present writing.
The great ten mile running race at Boulder, between Miss Curtis, of Topoka, and Miss Rineker, of Boulder, came off Friday, and ended in victory for the Colorado lady. Some magnificent riding was exhibited by both ladies, and Miss Rineker won by a distance of only half a mile, with the Kansas lady fast gaining at the close of the race. It is conceded that had the distance been greater, the result would have been different.

Running the Gauntlet.
St. Louis, July 9.—General John R. Zuloaga, Walter Carrington and A. R. Hammond have arrived here from Chihuahua, Mexico. These gentlemen are largely engaged in silver mining in Chihuahua and are en route to Chicago, New York and London in the interest of their mines.
From reports of the recent killing by Indians of five ranchmen near Santa Clara, they came through from Chihuahua to El Paso in their own conveyance and escaped attack by the Indians only by mounting to the top of their coach while passing through the Candelaria mountains and keeping up a continuous shouting and firing off their pistols, which frightened the Redskins. The latter, however, afterward attacked General Zuloaga's party out seventy-five miles from the frontier and ran off all his loose stock. This party met the south bound stage which was attacked by the Indians, who killed the driver, wounded one passenger and captured and carried off Thomas Pugh, son of ex-senator George E. Pugh, of Ohio, and nephew of Governor Hendricks, of Indiana. The day before these gentlemen passed through the mountains, a band of forty Indians attacked Lieutenant Gonzales of the Mexican army, and killed several men, but Gonzales captured fifteen head of the Indians' stock. The Indians also attacked a wagon that had been taking supplies to a party of surveyors belonging to the Atchinson, Topoka & Santa Fe railroad and killed the men who were returning to El Paso in the wagon.

Colorado's Gold.
Gold was the magic talisman which allured thousands of adventurous spirits to Pike's peak in 1859. Silver was unthought of in those stirring times, but to-day Colorado is the largest silver-producing state in the Union. Although a possible twenty millions has been gold placer product of the past decade from what was known as the Pike's peak country, still it is through the direct agency of that old gold excitement that rich and prosperous Colorado has been added to the sisterhood of states. Search after gold disclosed these massive silver deposits throughout all our mountain ranges, which are the wonder of the world. California gulch had yielded his millions in gold dust and been practically abandoned long before Leadville carbonates were understood.

But although silver mining so largely predominates in all sections of the state, it must not be inferred that Colorado is barren of rich and extensive placer ground and gold quartz ledges. The gold obtained by means of lode mining has steadily increased in the past ten years, until it has nearly doubled the entire yield of that obtained from placers, or in round numbers, about $35,000,000, making the total gold product of Colorado since 1859 about $55,000,000. In both gold and silver this state has produced over $110,000,000. So far the gold and silver output are nearly equal, but the immense silver deposits now developed will hereafter eclipse all comparison with the gold yield, even though the gold lodes continue their generous output, and new discoveries add their glittering quota. The placer area is large and rich, yet in yield is overshadowed by the immensity of the silver production.
Placer mining, even where the ground is known to be rich, has been retarded or abandoned from various reasons, among which are insufficient water power, dump facilities, impetuosity of owners, and especially some process in marked improvement upon time honored methods of extracting the gold from among the boulders, gravel and clay, in which it is imbedded. Some such process must yet be discovered to reward the labor and thought bestowed upon it, and then many thousands of now idle acres of rich placer ground will give up its golden wealth, known to exist in so many of the counties of the state.—Cor. Denver Tribune.

Progress in Mining.
Since mining men have introduced improved machinery there has been a very noticeable progress in mining. The rapidity with which numerous prospects have been developed to extraordinary depths, and oftentimes to pay, has astonished those who are familiar with the various kinds of machinery used so advantageously in mining. It is a good sign when a district discards as much as possible the primitive methods, and adopts those which are more modern. A good power engine and a hoister, with an industrial force of practical miners, will accomplish more in one week's time than the same force would do in a month by the older method. As soon as a miner is confident that his location is upon minerals, and few will care to labor anywhere else, he should use every endeavor to facilitate the work by introducing machinery. In this no time should be wasted. Success in mining is attained, other things being equal, by adapting to end. It is not so much a game of chance as in using good business judgment. The calling is just as legitimate and is far more likely than many other branches in which men engage. The sooner miners get over the idea that the fickle gods preside over their fate—that luck has more to do in making locations than developing—the sooner they will be rewarded. In entirely new districts, where snow is upon the ground or where nothing has been learned of the successive formations, it might be granted that fortune has something to do with it, but it is a poor thing to be guided by, and is seldom attended with the success desired by miners. The best men in mining camps are those who go about the work legitimately, and who use much the same forethought which is found in any other business. These win the highest success soonest, and use their so-called good fortune to better advantage when it is secured.—Leadville Democrat.

Clay Allison.
From the Denver Inter-Ocean.
A good story, with a touch of the pathetic in it, is told regarding the notorious outlaw of New Mexico, Allison, and a distinguished editor now of this state. The latter went at one time to Trinidad and became the editor of a small daily publication at that place called the Enterprise. About that time Allison had been raiding the saloons of Trinidad. Feeling in an unusually happy mood one morning the editor took up his pen and dashed off the following brilliant paragraph:
"We have a curiosity to see this pest Allison—this monster in human form, from whom men run and hide.
On the next day about nine o'clock the editor sat in his sanctum with his feet cocked back and a ripple of amusement breaking over his handsome visage as he perused the racy productions of his fertile brain in the columns of the Enterprise. A stranger built on an unusually tall frame suddenly threw open the door, and striding into the room, announced himself as follows:
"My name is Allison—Clay Allison. Is Editor Dill in?"
The man in the chair hesitated a moment and then answered, "No, sir—Dill is still in bed. My name is Smith."
It is of this Allison that the story is told regarding the killing of a gambler named Chubb at Cimarron, New Mexico. Court was in session when the murder was committed and the sheriff took Allison immediately before the judge. When Allison came to the front he suddenly whipped out a big navy revolver, and placing it before him on the table, said: "Judge, don't make no mistake! I want justice done, and propose to hold this court responsible."
"Sheriff, disarm the prisoner," said the judge.
"Your honor, I beg to be excused," replied the sheriff.
"Summon a posse," ordered the judge. "I will kill the first man that moves," exclaimed Allison.
"This court stands adjourned for the present term," was the only further order of the court, and the prisoner and the court moved out of the building from opposite doors.
The Durango Herald says: "The new terminus of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway is called Arboles. It is on the Piedra river, in the neighborhood of 45 miles from Durango. Sanderson's coaches leave Arboles immediately after the arrival of the passenger train from the east, reaching Durango at about half past eleven at night, and return, leaving Durango at five o'clock in the morning and arriving at Arboles at two o'clock in the afternoon, in time to connect with the east bound passenger train. The round trip to the present end of the track is thus made in eighteen hours. This makes the stage ride comparatively easy. Arboles is on the reservation and the flat has gone forth from Washington that the presence of saloons and dance-halls will not be permitted there. All such places will be removed by troops if necessary.

Harvey Lewis of this city met with a narrow escape from death on the 15th inst., while engaged in the bottom of the shaft of the British Queen removing the water. The water barrel had been drawn to the top and emptied and was about being returned, when it accidentally became uncoupled and fell, striking Mr. Lewis on his shoulder, knocking him against the side of the shaft, cutting his scalp and causing concussion of the brain and unconsciousness. He fell into the water, which was seven feet deep and impregnated with giant powder. He nearly drowned before his companions succeeded in rescuing him, which they did by diving into the water. Dr. Rapp was summoned by telephone and responded immediately. Mr. Lewis was brought to this city on Tuesday night and is being well cared for at the Occidental.—Mining Register.

A letter addressed to General Arthur, as President of the United States, by the grace of Guitteau, was found on the person of the assassin. In that letter his possible accident is reminded of the fact that he was made president by the undersigned, and that his suggestions should be heeded. He appoints for Mr. Arthur a cabinet, with Roscoe Conkling as Secretary of State, Levi P. Morton, Secretary of the Treasury, John A. Logan Secretary of War, Emory A. Storrs Attorney General, etc. To make the revolution complete, Guitteau proposes to abrogate the rule or practice that two cabinet officers may not be chosen from the same state. This greater fool than he who fired the Ephesian temple, ought to be in a straight jacket or a living tomb instead of building cabinets and castles in the air.
Chris Cogan has just returned from Rico and corroborates all former reports regarding the strike in the Wabash, and he reports from 800 to 700 tons in the dump, which will mill from 15 to 300 ounces silver and from one-half to five ounces in gold. They have about twenty men engaged in drifting and sinking and as yet no side walls have been encountered. Chris reports eighty feet of mineral and declares it to be the richest and best timbered mine in San Juan, if not on the state. The adjoining claims are the Pierson, Blackbird and Nora Lily. All Rico needs is smelting facilities to boom her to the front.—Muldoon.
CANTONMENT ON THE UNCOMPAHGRE, July 6, via Lake City, July 7.—The Ute Commissioners have just returned after a month's trip. They traveled over five hundred miles on horseback with a pack train, and examined the lands in western Colorado and eastern Utah. They encountered many privations, travelling for whole days without water. They have selected a location, and the Indians will be removed to it as soon as the requisite arrangements can be made.
It is singular how numerous a man will become if you owe him thirteen dollars and twenty cents, and can't pay him. You will meet him everywhere. He is awful plenty. He rises up in the most unexpected places. You even go on a back street and he is there. But when he owes you eleven dollars and eighty cents, and can't pay it, he becomes painfully scarce—he is not at home. Where he was plenty before he becomes very few indeed. Where do all the people go to, anyway, that owe money? Nobody can find them.—Exchange.

Prices reduced at the Old Reliable Assay Office of Eggers Bros. on Commercial street opposite the Court house. Call and see.

When you buy anything and do not come around and examine our goods and prices, you decidedly use no good judgment. Cahn Brothers.

ATTENTION! MINERS!! We have received wheelbarrows, anvils, bellows, bar iron, and a full assortment of all kinds of miners tools, which we sell at living prices. Cahn Bros.

NO MISTAKE! Cahn Bros. carry the largest stock of goods ever brought to Rico, and as to prices, the amount of goods we sell will testify.

RICO MINERS UNION—Regular weekly meeting Alderman's Hall on Saturday evenings at 7 P. M.

All members of Sister Lodges, in good standing, are cordially invited to attend. J. H. BURGHARDT, President.

J. H. BURGHARDT, President. J. H. BURGHARDT, Sec. Secretary. 74

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION. The copartnership heretofore existing between the undersigned under the firm name and style of the Bank of Rico is this day dissolved. A. Krille having purchased the entire interest of Eugene B. Curshing.

A. KRILLE, EGGENE B. CURSHING, Rico June 25th, 1881.

DISSOLUTION. The copartnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the firm name of Habermann & Meyer, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. Either party is authorized to collect debts due the firm, and all parties owing said firm are requested to settle their accounts. Mr. Habermann will continue the business at the old stand.

LOUIS HABERMANN, C. B. MEYER, Rico, June 11, 1881.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP. Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between L. Alderman and John Gault, under the firm name of Alderman & Gault, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. L. Alderman retiring and John Gault purchasing the entire interest. The latter party will assume all indebtedness and collect all outstanding debts.

L. ALDERMAN, JOHN GAULT, Rico, July 12, 1881.

SPECIAL NOTICE. Notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern: That parties have jumped the Delta and renamed it the Mountain Spring lode, on Telescope mountain; therefore all parties are warned against purchasing the said lode, or any part thereof, as we, the undersigned, will contest the right of ownership of the said property.

Very respectfully, L. TINNLER, E. R. WILLARD, J. H. FISHER.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

SILVER CRESCENT LODGE NO. 46, I.O.O.F. meets every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at Odd Fellow's hall, (Tremble's building), on Commercial street. All members in good standing cordially invited. JACOB SUMMA, N. G. LEON EGERS, Secretary.

RELIGIOUS. Sunday School at the court house every Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Good music and a hearty welcome to all.

We are indebted to John G. Williams, of Ophir, for favors extended.

The State Press Association of Colorado, met in Denver on the 12th inst.

Jimmie Hall was able to sit up a little this week and will probably hobble out about town in a day or two.

Tom Stanton's new rig was out many times this week. The team of iron grays is well matched and handsome.

R. G. Dun & Co., the mercantile agency men report 2,862 failures in the United States since the 1st of January.

Charles R. Johnston, of Rico, has joined the army of Notaries Public, having been commissioned on the 11th inst.

Cahn Bros. new stone warehouse in the rear of their store building is going up rapidly with a large force of men at work thereon.

The firm of Alderman & Gault is one of the things of the past, as will be seen by dissolution notice elsewhere. Gault has purchased the entire business, Alderman retiring and he will probably go east for a time.

There will be a raffle next Saturday evening of $575 worth of jewelry, guns, pistols, etc., to take place at Lacombe's. There will be 100 chances at $5 a chance, and 25 prizes, the highest being a watch valued at $175.

An agreement was entered into this week between D. Biedler and Frank Walker, in which the former agrees to run 100 feet on the vein of the Mammoth, on Colorado Infant mound, for one-half interest in said property. It is said to be a good lode.

B. E. Ladd returned this week from a trip to the end of the track to see about the shipment of some freight for the Exposition Billiard Hall. The three billiard tables will arrive to-day or to-morrow and will be kept in use day and night by the pushers of the ivory. Rico is a great billiard town.

A petition was in circulation this week to have Kockwood created a place of departure for our mail. By this arrangement our mail can arrive nearly a day ahead of present time, with Cascade as a starting point. Contractors cannot take the responsibility of hurrying things until ordered by the department.

The removal of the Utes and the toll-road question are two subjects which bear a great similarity to each other, as there is constant talk but little or no action. To judge from dispatches in the past year the Utes have been removed several times. The cost of wiring these dispatches would have purchased every Ute warrior a farm in Kansas.

Mrs. Higgins will open the old Rico hotel some time next week. This is good news to those who know this place of old. No lady in the west is so thoroughly qualified to conduct a hotel as Mrs. H., and the excellence of her management is thoroughly attested by the numerous boarders which crowd her tables. The opening will be anxiously looked for.

The Miner's Benevolent Union has issued tickets for their first annual ball to be given at their hall on the 25th inst. when they hope to see all their friends as well as the rest of our citizens who enjoy tripping the "light fantastic." The best music obtainable will be furnished. Here is an opportunity for all to add their mite to an excellent institution and a praiseworthy object.

Messrs. John Taylor Jr. and W. F. Mars, owners of the Johnny Bull mine at Rico, were at the Leland the first of the week.—Durango Herald.

This item being news to us, we commenced investigating and found that no transfer of the Johnny Bull has been made. Negotiations; however, for the purchase of Hull and Boaro's interest, (if) are now pending, hence the Herald's mistake. Mr. Mars represents a large capital, and expects to invest heavily in good, well-developed properties. He, in company with others, has a smelter project on foot. He is expected here to-day.

Eskridge sustained a very painful operation on his foot Wednesday afternoon. The foot was cut open laying the wound bare along its entire length. The ball had penetrated quite deeply into the foot, shattering the small bones and, turning, passed out at the left under side of the foot. It the ball had continued on the course in which it entered, it would have passed out at or near the joint of the big toe, and the necessity of amputation could not have been avoided. The surgeons, London and McDonald, removed several pieces of decayed bone and thoroughly cleansed the main bone, rendering it quite smooth. Under ordinary circumstances the wound will now heal rapidly, and it is thought that the patient will not be permanently crippled.

PERSONAL PRODS.

J. B. Erhardt is expected to-day.

Tom Flanigan came up from Durango this week.

J. M. Semple has gone to Silverton on a business trip.

Gus. Hefferman, well known to Rico, is welcomed by many friends.

A. Krille is absent on a visit to Trinidad. He will return in two weeks.

Jim. Raynor hasn't been to Durango for a couple of weeks. How's that, Jim?

Joe Lacombe started yesterday morning for Durango on a business trip. Will return in a few days.

Messrs. Frank Raymond and W. H. Bean went down the river Thursday to slay a fawn or two.

Aleck McCaw favored Rico with a visit this week. He says that Ophir is lively, and much work is going on there.

Cal. House, a partner of H. Melvin's, was up from the ranch this week. It is lonely there since poor H. was killed.

Dison Eskridge got back on Wednesday from La Sal, just in time to be present at the operation on his brother's foot.

Judge D. D. Gregory, of Afton, Iowa, is here on his annual visit. For three consecutive seasons he has found his way to Rico.

Ike Stockton and M. C. Cook were up from Durango a few days this week to see their wounded comrades of the Indian fight.

Frank Walker, formerly a resident of San Juan, but now of Los Angeles, California, is in Rico on a business trip and will remain here for a few days.

Mr. Hirsch, a gentleman from Denver, paid Rico a short visit this week and will return shortly to give the mines a more thorough investigation. He accompanied Mrs. Higgins to this point.

Mrs. Higgins can't stay away from Rico, as is evidenced by her return this week, and from henceforth, forever, she will be as much a fixture and as permanent as the everlasting hills. She is a very welcome fixture too.

E. P. Hugill, formerly of Deadwood, D. T., arrived in Rico last evening. He has been for a long time principal of the Deadwood high school and is a gentleman of pleasing address. He is a brother-in-law of Perley Wason, of stage-line fame. He expects Mr. W. in Rico the first of next week; when he will probably establish an office here, selling through tickets to Denver, Pueblo and all intermediate points.

R. W. Elstun, who has been a resident of Rico during the past five or six weeks, and who has made many friends while here, left yesterday for Emporia, Kansas. This step was necessary on account of some business venture of his father's, which requires more attention than he alone can give it. We regret his departure, and so does he, but believes that filial duty is of more importance than worldly treasure in the shape of lead carbonates.

We were pleased this week to meet Mr. Robert Dunlap, who comes among us for the purpose of practicing law. He is an apparently pleasant gentleman and will be a valuable and agreeable acquisition to the Rico bar. In speaking of this gentleman, the Denver Republican says:

Mr. Robert Dunlap, who has been just long enough in Denver to make numerous friends, leaves this morning for Rico, to locate there in the practice of the law. Mr. Dunlap is a graduate of the Cincinnati Law school, and enjoyed the confidence of the Cincinnati bar. As he has determined to cast his lot in Dolores, the editorial force of the Republican commends him to Rico as a man who will do to tie to.

Next Tuesday night there will be a raffle for a horse, now the property of Arg. Eskridge. It is a bay roan filly, 3 years old, well broke to saddle and gentle. It is well-built and stout. The number of chances will be 25 at $3 per chance. The object of raffling off the horse is to raise funds to assist in helping him to pay his doctor bill, and under these circumstances where is the man who is not eager to help him.

A new water-jacket for the Grand View smelter was shipped from Durango on Sunday and will be here soon. We hope the company will keep up its lick and not stop at the shipment of a water-jacket. Wonder if this is the same water-jacket that Endlich and Arnold went after last fall?

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

Ballou & Cowen, Hotel Windsor, Durango, can fill the hungry cavern, satisfy the yearning appetite and put an aldermanic protuberance on the leanest in less time than it takes to tell about it. We get ours there so we speak from pleasant experience. Then those luxuriant beds are enticing beyond description.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.

Whereas, C. Enderich, by his certain trust deed, dated the 10th day of August, 1880, and recorded in the records of the county of Ouray, in the state of Colorado, in book G 2, page 39, conveyed to F. W. Raymond, of the county of Ouray, in the state of Colorado, as trustee, the premises hereinafter described to secure the payment of a certain promissory note of even date with said deed, executed by said C. Enderich for the sum of seven hundred and thirty-seven dollars, payable nine and one-half months after date, to the order of Dennis Elliott, which said deed contains a provision that in case of default in the payment of said promissory note or interest thereon or either of them, it shall be lawful for the said trustee to sell and dispose of the premises by said deed conveyed, and all right, title, benefit and equity of redemption of the said C. Enderich in and to said premises at public auction, at the front door of the Post Office at Rico, then in Ouray county, but now in Dolores county, in the state of Colorado, thirty days public notice having been previously given of the time of such sale by advertisement in one of the newspapers published in said Ouray county, and whereas, default has been made in the payment of said promissory note and the statutory rate of interest thereon, from the date of maturity and the legal holder of said note, Robert L. Kuhn, to whom said note has been duly assigned, has applied to me to sell and dispose of said premises in accordance with the provisions of said Trust deed, and claims there is due on said note the sum of seven hundred and forty dollars, and whereas, the county of Dolores was by an act of the Legislature of the state of Colorado, approved February 18th 1881, created out of the then territory embraced in the county of Ouray. Now, therefore, I, F. W. Raymond, trustee aforesaid, hereby give public notice, that in pursuance of such application and by virtue of the power given me by said Trust deed, I shall on Monday, the 26th day of August, A. D. 1881, at the front door of the Post office, in the town of Rico, in said county of Dolores, and state of Colorado, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash in hand, all the premises conveyed to me by said deed of trust, situated in the town of Rico, in said county of Dolores, and state of Colorado, and described as follows, to-wit: Lots number thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six and thirty-seven, in block number fourteen, and also lot number one, in block number twelve, with all the improvements thereon situated, and all right, title, benefit and equity of redemption of the said C. Enderich, his heirs and assigns therein. Rico, Dolores county, Colorado, July 2, 1881. F. W. RAYMOND, Trustee. JULIUS THOMPSON, Attorney.

The Hotel Windsor, Durango, captures the epicures (for even this western country has its dainty palates) and holds their custom by dint of wholesome food, prepared in an appetizing manner and served in an attractive style.

GRAND VIEW SMELTER. Parties holding notes of the Grand View company can exchange them at our dry goods, groceries, hats, caps, boots, shoes, and furnishing goods at T. A. & E. L. DAVIS.

To insure publication, all legal notices should be brought to the News no later than Friday evening. We cannot receive them on Saturday, unless it is a case wherein the writing cannot be done earlier. It is of great inconvenience to us.

EDWIN A. WILDER. Landscape and portrait photographer. Views of Rico mines and mountain scenery for sale. Pictures copied and enlarged. All kinds of outdoor work executed in the best manner possible. Glasgow avenue, opposite Bank of Dolores.

A cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable lung disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches are certain to give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, Consumption and Throat Diseases. For thirty years the Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. They are not new and untried, but having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Public speakers and singers use them to clear and strengthen the voice. Sold at twenty-five cents a box everywhere.

The railway mail service of the United States embraces sixty-nine lines of railway post office, some of them longer than necessary to reach across a whole European kingdom. Including steamboat routes, the annual service foots up 109,166,001 miles, on which mails are constantly being received, distributed and delivered, with a saving in time over the old methods, upon each letter or package handled, of from twelve to twenty-four hours, and in one year the employees in the railway mail service distributed 2,658,483,320 letters and pieces of mail matter.

THE FOLLOWING WILL ANSWER Many Letters of Inquiry Concerning Rico and Its Resources, Etc.

Rico is situated in the heart of the Dolores mining camp, in the new county of Dolores. This mining town and camp is a part of what is known as the Great San Juan Mining Region. Rico is distant from various points, viz: From Durango, 45 miles. Silverton, 35 " Ouray, 75 " Lake City, 75 " Ophir, 22 " San Miguel, 30 "

Fare from Durango to Rico, via stage and horse-back transportation, ten dollars. Fine American horses and ponies are kept on the line, to connect with the stage line.

Express and pack trains run regular to Rico. Express trains make round trips between Durango and Rico in five days. Freight pack trains make round trips in six and seven days.

We cannot give with accuracy, the population, as it varies with the changes of the seasons of the year. It is now estimated at 1,500. During the present summer and coming fall, the population will doubtless increase to 3,000. Of this number, there will be fully 1,000, or perhaps 1,200, who will locate as permanent citizens of Rico and Pioneer Mining District.

Rico is a rich camp, with a good reputation, of which it is deserving.

We have at hand a great abundance of WATER, WOOD and COAL.

Water is being taken through the principal streets of the city, and much improvement is being made generally. A large number of new buildings are in course of erection, and many more to be commenced soon.

The number of mines and prospects located in the camp, counted over 3,200 last fall, and we are safe to assert that there are over 3,500 mines and prospects, each and all of which have been developed more or less, with shafts, tunnels, adits, etc., varying in depth from 10 to 200 and 300 feet. There are twenty-three paying mines, and a large number of ore producing mines, which development will make paying mines.

There are four large general merchandise stores, one good exclusive hardware house, two banks, and two large hotels. There are three saw-mills, one smelter, two brick yards. There are three livery stables, three blacksmith shops, seven carpentering and contracting firms, and numerous mining contractors.

There are two bakeries, three restaurants, two meat markets, one lodging house, two confectionary stores, three tobacco and cigar stands, three billiard halls, and fifteen saloons.

There are two drug stores, one insurance agent, one tailor, one boot and shoe maker, two barbers, one jeweler, one gun-smith, one dress-maker, two news dealers, and several laundries.

There is one water wagon, one express wagon; there are three painters, three assay offices, and one mattress and furniture factory.

There are four lawyers, four physicians, and numerous conveyancers and notaries public.

There are two ice houses and a large number of wood yards.

One wagon shop, one stage and express office, five ore cabinets, one photograph gallery, one book and ladder company, one military company, armed.

Roads to the saw-mills are splendid, and lumber can be procured on short notice.

Rico has a money-order postoffice, and was compelled to be made such within a shorter time after the establishment of the office than any other postoffice in the United States, on account of the great demand and increased call for money order business.

INDIANS. There are no Indians at or near Rico, and we are in no more danger from Indians than are the people of Massachusetts or Vermont.

In the Dolores valley, along the river, above and below Rico, a water power may be had, which will supply the requisite for any kind of machinery in the known world.

There is enough saw-timber around Rico to build a city of several square miles. Board in first class hotel $10 per week do and lodging, $12 do

A GOOD MINER WANTS a First-Class Pick AND AN EQUALLY GOOD SHOVEL.

His experience is that it is next to impossible to get them in a new camp. We have handled such goods for thirteen years, and through the acquaintance we have had with the best miners in the United States we have been able to obtain the best patterns and induce manufacturers to make the goods as we want them.

The "COLLINS" PICK and "MOORE" SHOVEL are made after these patterns, and are perfect in shape and quality.

The Pick has four inches of best steel on each point, not a small bit as most picks have; and the SHOVEL is made stiff, half spring and full spring, and with a "gang" that will deliver its load in the easiest manner for the miner.

We are the only house in the state that carries a full stock of GROCER'S and BUTCHER'S HARDWARE for fitting up stores; Scales, Trucks, Oil Tanks, Coffee Mills, Meat Cutters, Stuffers, Saws, and everything else needed.

We shall be glad to hear from any Miner, Grocer or Butcher, in regard to these goods, as well as from anybody requiring anything in the HARDWARE or HOUSE-FURNISHING lines. Write us that you saw this advertisement.
