Mackey and His Cabin.

Virginia City Enterprise.

In the first months of 1860 times were tough on the Comstock. The winter of 1859-60 was terribly severe, as all old settlers well remember.

At that time Mackey, Kennedy and others were running the old Union tunnel, and were working every day. As times grew rough and grub scarce the number of lodgers in the cabin increased.

As the winter wore away provisions of all kinds became scarce, and famine prices ruled for the time early in the spring.

Jack McCaffery, who was to furnish wood, began to make night raids on the wood piles of the neighbors in order to keep up his part of the cabin supplies.

Jack McCaffery, who was to furnish wood, began to make night raids on the wood piles of the neighbors in order to keep up his part of the cabin supplies.

Finally, hunger got into the cabin, and not a man except Mackey had a cent of money. An attempt to starve the more shiftless into "rustling grub" had proved a failure.

A man had packed in from Placerville that day, and Pat found him near where the Bank of California stands. It was all plaza then—all open country and sagebrush along the present line of C street.

Oklahoma Payne Comes to Grief.

Oklahoma Payne and his boomers were boosted from the Indian Territory last week by Colonel Hatch and his negro soldiers.

Yesterday General Hatch, in company with Adjutant General Finley and Inspector Greene, of the Interior Department, visited Payne's camp, at Rock Falls, and after reading the President's proclamation to him and his assembled followers, directed him to leave the Territory before this morning or they would be ejected.

Early this morning two squadrons of the Ninth United States Cavalry, commanded by Capt. Moore, appeared in the boomers' camp, and under direction of Indian Agent Rogers arrested the whole community and took charge of the printing office.

Payne threatened to cut the throat of the first man who attempted to arrest him, but one colored soldier marched him about the camp for an hour.

Accident at the Ulay Mine.

An accident that might have been—etc., occurred at the Ulay mine of the Crookes M. & S. Co. on Monday at midnight, the hour at which the men in the mine come to the surface for lunch.

There were four men in the bucket—John Rodder, James Boaz, R. C. May and George James—when the bell was rung to hoist. The engineer was temporarily absent, and the fireman took the brake.

Other detachments have been sent to the remaining settlements, who will in like manner arrest the ringleaders and take them to Fort Smith.

How a Mine is Worked.

The Eureka (Nevada) Leader, perpetuates the following: "I wish you would tell me all about the way men get gold and silver out of a mine, my dear," said a lady in Eureka the other day to her husband, as he peeled off his coat and sat down on three chairs for the evening.

"No, I must stop you there. You are getting a little off the vein. You probably have the right idea, but you are using terms that are not correct. After they pinch out the night shift, they salt the contact and pinch out the vertical chibblam. Then they drift for the blossom rock, baled hay and poverty until they strike the varicose vein.

New Mexican Indians.

A Santa Fe dispatch says: Governor Sheldon and party have returned from a ten days' journey through the land of the Navajoes, Zunis, and Lagunas. It was his first visit to that section, and he talks very interestingly of his trip.

It is a good idea to hold low grade mines. The time is coming when ore that will yield from $8 to $12 per ton will pay fair profits to the mine owner without concentration.

We know a miner who has been digging in the mountains for twenty odd years and has never made a discovery of value yet. When he started out last spring he was just as sanguine as he was the first year. Hope is the miner's god.—Denver Mining Review.

MINING MATTERS.

ANOTHER INVOICE. Longenbaugh's teams brought in some heavy machinery for the Rico Reduction Co., arriving this morning.

THE WHEELING. H. W. Carr and Ed Proehl have this week been working on the Wheeling, a Dolores mountain location belonging to them.

CONTRACT ON THE FORT WAYNE. John W. Summers and Ben Hale have a contract to dig a tunnel on the Fort Wayne property and commenced work yesterday.

PROSPECTING. Gus Misch and John Eder returned on Thursday from a prospecting tour in the region back of Telescope mountain, in which they made some locations.

THE LITTLE MAGGIE. John Burghardt is bringing down the Little Maggie ore and has a quantity of it at the platform. Ultimately the wagon road will be continued to the Maggie and Leila Davis mines.

THE PASADENA SMELTER. The smelter at the Pasadena smelter will be in operation within the next few days. Wattles and Jones are now on the road with the last remnants of the machinery, etc., about 6,000 pounds, among which is a lot of arched fire-brick, badly needed. The crusher was in operation yesterday pulverizing flaxing material from the Duda lode. About ten tons of sand are being hauled down from a bank up the river to be mixed with pulverized fire clay and plastered over the flues.

THE MINT. Work on the Mint lode, on the West Dolores slope below the Johnny Bull, was begun to-day by Joe Hoskins and Warren Rose. The property belongs to Louis Schloss and Joe Hoskins.

AN ICE-LAKE BASIN SALE. Parties went up to inspect the gold bearing lode belonging to The Yoho and others in Ice Lake basin, with a view to purchase at $40,000. Yoho owns a one-third interest and seems confident that the sale is a go at the figures named.

THE EUROPEAN. The European is a Mount Wilson claim belonging to Giamboni & Giannini, two gentlemen whose names entitle them to take prominent places in Her Majesty's Italian Opera Troupe. The European to-day sent in a burro train load of galena ore to the Pasadena smelter.

SILVER BELL SHEPHERDS. The Silver Bell, at Ophir, is making regular shipments of very fine ore to the Pasadena smelter at Rico. The latest receipt of ore was yesterday and hereafter every three days, a train of thirty jacks will pack ore from the mine to the mill. Frank Mogenson, the owner of the mine, was down on Wednesday.

THE RIVERSIDE FURNACE. As will be seen by reference to notice in advertising columns, Messrs. Weston & Barber, of Ouray, have placed their Riverside lode in the market for sale. The claim is situated just across the river on Expectation mountain and adjoins the town-site of Rico. The title to the mine is indisputable, being a United States patent, and the development on the vein indicates that it is a valuable property.

THE LERIA DAVIS. The chute in the Leila Davis has been furnishing the ore supply this week, and Manager Cox sent down word Thursday evening that he was working in a very nice body of ore in the breast of the tunnel. Their trail is in the best shape and the ore is to be sent down in stone-boats, a process which is said at this mine to save $1 per ton in packing and $1.50 per ton in sacking the ore, which will handsomely increase the profits on shipments for the season.

HAVE QUIT FOR THE PRESENT. Messrs. Joe Wilkinson and A. J. Clark left Rico this morning for the La Plata Peaks country, where they will develop some of their mining property for the next few weeks. They will then return and resume work on the Skeptical, expecting by that time the surface water will have ceased to trouble them. Their hunt for the contact has been a long, expensive and not very progressive one, but we hope when once found it will amply repay them.

THEY ARE INTERESTED. The Lake City people are interested in the Pasadena smelter, as indicated by the following clipping from the Register of that place: "We are very much interested in the success of the Pasadena smelter at Rico. We want it to smelt. We want its projectors to win. We have grown so tired of failures that one grand success in this particular branch of our mining industry will do us a world of good." We are happy to inform the Register that it will be but a short time before the success will be fully and practically demonstrated. Everything is progressing favorably and rapidly and there will be no such word as "fail."

AWAITING THE RESULT. There are a great many mine-owners who have mines which may be considered as producers, who are doing nothing in the way of working their properties, but announce that immediately upon the first successful run of the Pasadena smelter they will commence shipments. Should all pursue this policy, there could be no "first run," but several mines are making daily shipments to the smelter, and the time is rapidly shortening to the busy days and nights when the ore will be converted into bullion and refined silver. Most of the mines will be as good as their owners' word and if all work as extensively as their owners intimate, Rico will drain the San Juan of idle miners.

and J. J. Graham own the Hattie, Minta, Minnie, (all on the Big Casino vein) the Sarah and Dilworth. The latter is now being developed. Frank Melick is superintending the work on the properties of the Komenan company and this week struck the Hidden Treasure vein in the Mountain Queen tunnel. The Black Bear, a very promising property, is being worked. Mr. Komenan is still in Chicago, but is expected out early in September. He has been making tests on some concentrating ore and will bring out a concentrator to operate on the Black Bear ore. A Mr. Seville, a prominent Chicago machinery man, is interested in the company.

THE BLACK HAWK NOT THE FIRST. On one or two occasions we have said, in referring to the Black Hawk, that it was the first location in the district. This we now find is not the case and that to the Atlantic Cable the honor is due, as the time on its stakes antedates that of the Black Hawk by some days, although the stakes of both mines were set in the same month (May, 1878). The "prior location" troubles will never afflict these mines. The Atlantic Cable has since passed into the hands of a stock company—the Dolores Silver Mining Company, which is stocked at a phenomenally low figure ($7,000). It is better, however, than some properties we have seen in San Juan with a capitalization of millions. It has a horizontal contact 22 feet thick, showing galena, copper, iron pyrites and zinc. It is located within and excluded from the town site of Rico.

THE HORRORS OF THE GREELY EXPEDITION seem to be only half told and that in connection with the expedition was the most shocking cannibalism. The Wednesday dispatches from Washington say, in speaking of the condition of the bodies here found: "The bodies were dug from their graves in the little hill just back of the permanent camp, established in October, 1883. Most of the blankets contained nothing but heaps of white bones, many of them picked clean. The remains could be identified only by the marks on the blankets. It is reported that the only men who escaped the knife were three or four who died of scurvy. The amputated limbs of men who afterward perished were eagerly devoured as food. Charles B. Henry's death was particularly tragic. Driven to despair by his frightful hunger, Henry saw an opportunity to steal a little more than his share of the rations, and he made the attempt. He was found out and shot for his crime. When the body was found his hands and face, though shrunken, were intact and recognizable, but nearly every where else the skin had been stripped from him and the flesh picked from the bones. Even his heart and lungs were eaten by his comrades. One rib was found shattered by a bullet, and to another small fragment of lead were attached. A bullet hole was found in the skin. The body was in this condition when it was interred in Cypress Hill cemetery, last Saturday.

ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE BY THE Grand View smelter people to secure N. R. Wilson as their new metallurgist. He was telegraphed at Leadville on Wednesday last to start as soon as possible and he is expected to arrive here on Tuesday evening next and within a week after his arrival the Grand View smelter will blow in. Mr. Wilson is the metallurgist who had charge of the Warner smelter at Ames last season, and has been employed by the La Plata Mining & Smelting Co. and the Cummings & Finn, two of Leadville's largest and most successful smelting establishments. The "H" which has commenced the names of the three preceding metallurgists (Hardess, Hawley and Hoffman) is dropped. The Phoenix and Grand View veins are the company properties which are producing ore. The patents for the Grand View, Phoenix, Pelican, Major and Yellow Jacket lodes were placed on file with the County Clerk this week.

THE TWO DENVER REPUBLICAN DAILIES, the Tribune and the Republican are no longer separate concerns, and in future will be issued under one roof, heading and management. The title is Tribune Republican and the first issue under the changed condition of affairs was dated Tuesday. The entire Tribune force, editors, reporters, office men, pressmen, compositors, carriers, etc., are out of a job, not one of them being retained on the consolidated paper. The only change from the old Republican management is that Kemp G. Cooper, manager, is displaced and Hon. H. R. Wolcott succeeds him. There was a total of ninety-eight men on the payroll of the Tribune, most of whom will leave Denver. The only reason assigned for the absorption of the absorbed by the absorber is merely a business one—that two dailies could make a decent living while three could not exist.

THE INTEREST IN THE CLIFF AND CAVE dwellers is not abating. Professor Stevenson, of the Smithsonian Institute has gone with a party of explorers to the region of the cliff and cave dwellers, to make a collection of relics and curiosities to be taken to the New Orleans Cotton Centennial Exposition. Their exploration will be made in Arizona and New Mexico, and conducted in part, among certain villages which have never before been visited. They will probably come up towards the San Juan country and explore the wonderful dwellings in the cañons of the Aztec region. Dolores county has remains of the cliff dwellers, which have never yet been thoroughly explored. They are located in the western portion of the county, near the Utah line and the slight investigation so far made of their nature and extent give reason to anticipate wonderful developments.

THE WASHINGTON HATCHET paints the future before the little Traut heirress in brilliant colors and winds up with: "And when she grows up, Won't she be a masher? With her boodie and her diamonds And her fancy haberdasher. She'll have lace, she'll have horses, And dresses all galloping, And she'll knock the girls all silly in the Palais Royal store."

IT IS SAID THAT Senator Galloway will desert the productive Dolores valley and return to Antelope Park. We don't believe it.

A Great American Earthquake.

On last Saturday night an earthquake occurred along the eastern Atlantic shore, which was felt as far north as Portland, Maine, and as far south as Washington, D. C. At Washington in the observatory of the United States Signal Service the time of the earthquake and its duration were noted. Assistant Observers R. E. Hinman and Merring were at the time in the office, about 200 feet above the level of the street. The first intimation of the earthquake was a slow rumbling sound, like muttering distant thunder, which was immediately followed by a shock like that of a violent explosion, which caused the building to quiver, although it did not shake it perceptibly. The rattling continued about eight seconds, and was accompanied by a rumbling sound which gradually died away. At Coney Island the piazza and dining rooms of the great hotels were well filled, when a rumbling noise was heard, followed by rocking of the ground, which made the windows rattle, and shook the dishes and wine glasses from the table. There was a general rush for the open air, and for some time great excitement prevailed. At the new pier there was a similar shock, and even the chairs rattled about. There was a general rush toward the main entrance, the people being under the impression that the structure was giving away. As the shocks did not recur, all apprehensions on this score were soon allayed.

The Greely Cannibals.

The horrors of the Greely expedition seem to be only half told and that in connection with the expedition was the most shocking cannibalism. The Wednesday dispatches from Washington say, in speaking of the condition of the bodies here found: "The bodies were dug from their graves in the little hill just back of the permanent camp, established in October, 1883. COMPANY E, OF THE RICO GUARDS are endeavoring to perfect arrangements to go to the Exposition to compete for honors in competitive drill. Should a favorable answer be received to requests forwarded to Denver, the company will depart for that place about September 1st. A gold medal is offered for "the best drilled Military Company during the season of 1884." This, it will be observed, does not bar any company outside of the state, and the commissioners have information to the effect that a company in New Mexico is prepared to enter and compete for the medal. The military of Colorado cannot well afford to permit this prize to go out of the state without a sharp contest therefor. Among the Rico company are two or three very expert drillmen, and as a company they rank far above the average.

THE DURANGO IDEA brings us news of a La Plata county horror, which occurred out on Pine River one day last week. Richard Garner killed Mrs. Lutitia Lignowski by crushing in her skull with a blacksmith hammer for reasons unknown. He then fled and cut his throat, producing early death. The father of Mrs. Lignowski was sending bullets from his rifle across a field at Garner when the latter cut his windpipe. The husband of the dead woman is the man who killed Nick Wom on Pine River last year and fled into Arizona. We notice among the names of the coroners jury two familiar to Rico—E. T. Peeples and F. M. Crispin.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS REPUBLICAN passed into the hands of a receiver, the Summit County Leader and the Denver Evening Bulletin suspended, the Denver Tribune and Republican consolidated. Beyond these changes, all made this week, Colorado newspapers are about as usual, thank you.

"DOLORES COUNTY DAY" at the exposition this year will be September 22d. Ouray, Mesa, Montrose, Delta and San Miguel counties will share it. The entire state by counties is disposed of in very short order. Dolores county will have no special commissioner this year.

PARTIES taking up sulphur springs would do well to recognize the fact that the General Land Office does not regard sulphur springs as saline or mineral, so as to come within the prohibition of the statutes against including mineral and saline lands in pre-emption entry or scrip location.

THE DENVER EVENING BULLETIN lasted "very soon." Its life was ended in two brief days. There is talk of revival.

REPRESENTATIVE CULBERTSON will not die from the effects of his suicidal attempt.

FOUR more deaths from Texas fever occurred among cattle in Denver.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE Constitution of the State of Colorado.

PUBLIC NOTICE. It is hereby given that at the general election to be held in the several precincts of the State of Colorado on the Fourth (4th) day of November, A. D. 1884, and pursuant to the provisions of an act of the general assembly of the state of Colorado, passed at the fourth session thereof, being an act entitled:

"An act to submit to the qualified electors of the state of Colorado amendments to sections six (6), nineteen (19) and twenty-two (22), of article five (5) of the Constitution of the state of Colorado, concerning legislative department." Approved February 11, 1883.

The following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the state of Colorado will be submitted to the electors of said state for their approval or rejection, which when ratified by a majority of those voting thereon shall be valid and effectual in the Constitution of said state, that is to say: "Section six (6), of article five (5), of the Constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows, to-wit:—

"SECTION 6.—Each member of the general assembly, until otherwise provided by law, shall receive, as compensation for his services, seven dollars—$7.00—for each day of attendance and fifteen cents for each 'mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government, and shall receive no other compensation, per diem, site or allowance whatsoever. No session of the general assembly shall exceed ninety days. No general assembly shall fix its own 'compensation.'"

"Section nineteen (19)—of said article five (5)—of the Constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows, to-wit:—

"SECTION 19.—No act of the general assembly shall take effect until ninety days after its passage, except in case of emergency, which shall be expressed in the act—(unless the general assembly shall by a vote of two-thirds of all the members present in either 'house of the general assembly after the first 'thirty days of the session shall become a law.'"

"Section twenty-two (22)—of said article five (5)—of the Constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows, to-wit:—

"SECTION 22.—Every bill shall be read by title when introduced, and at least twice on two different days in each house; all substantial amendments thereto shall be printed for the use of the members before the final vote is taken on the bill, and no bill shall become a law except by a vote of a majority of all the members elected to each house, nor unless on its final passage the vote be taken 'by yeas and nays and the names of those voting be entered on the Journal of each house.'"

"And by said act submitting said amendments it is further provided that 'desires of voting for or against all of the amendments as a whole, shall deposit in the ballot box a ticket wherein shall be written or printed the words 'For the amendments,' or the words 'Against the amendments.' Any such elector not desirous of voting as aforesaid may express his approval or rejection of any one or more of said amendments as in the other cases provided. The ballot shall designate any amendment so approved or rejected by him, by number in the order in which it occurs in this act, and that the votes cast for the adoption or rejection of said amendments or of either of them shall be canvassed and the result determined in the manner provided by the laws of the state for the canvass of votes for representative 'in congress.'"

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the state of Colorado, at Denver, in said state, this first day of August, A. D. 1884. MELVIN EDWARDS, Secretary of State.

SAM NICHOLS, the Disappointment cattle man who was shot by the Indians near Bowen's Ferry early this spring, came in Wednesday.

PAT MURRAY came in from the West Dolores yesterday. He says he will discard the rabbit-track diet this winter and seek a lower altitude.

One of the parties who registered at the St. James hotel this week was from Telluride, we suppose. It appeared "talented" on the register.

Two citizens indulged in a bloodless battle across the river Thursday morning. No patriotic citizen will go outside the town to have his little scrimmage.

CHARLIE ALLENDORF left Rico on Monday for Columbus, Ind., his former home. He has stood behind Harry Cahn's counter for the past several months.

JOSEPH MEREDITH, superintendent of the Grand Duke Mining Co. left on Tuesday for Denver, going by way of Montrose. He will be gone but a brief period.

H. F. BUSHEY has completed the covering of the amalgamation building of the Rico Reduction Co. The shingles are on and it is ready for occupancy.

The boiler for Bemis' saw mill was this week removed from the Skeptical mine, where it last did duty to its new field of action at the mouth of Iron gulch.

The milk cows in the Riverside dairy were taken to Ophir this week, they having been sold by W. T. Ryman and N. Dickenson to some parties over there. John Eggers, the lessee of the dairy has gone over on the West Dolores and will not again retail the lactical fluid for time.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Quigley, Mrs. A. J. Mattson, Mrs. C. A. Jones and Miss Gussie Bartlett returned from the West Dolores.

No news has been received from the place where Jim Burns was drowned. Whether or not his body has been recovered is unknown as yet in Rico, although it very likely was not.

MATHIAS EBERT this week before County Judge Robinson renounced allegiance to William, Emperor of Russia, and took out final papers naturalizing him as a citizen of the United States.

MRS. H. A. WILKEN has been quite ill during the week, being prostrated by an attack of mountain fever. She is now rapidly recovering, thanks to attentive care of her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Mundee.

FRANK H. BISHOP is now the sole proprietor of the business heretofore conducted by Cahn & Bishop. The firm dissolved partnership yesterday. Nath Cahn will next month go to Columbus, Ind.

JACK SEARS came in on Monday and remained a day or two on business. As will be seen by local notice, he has concluded to dispose of all his choice stock cattle, which are now grazing on his Lone Cone range.

AARON STULL, who was one of the men on the Arizona prospecting expedition two years ago, came in Wednesday. Lately he has been employed at the Highland Mary mine, over in Cunningham gulch, near Silverton.

What has become of the Rico Brass Band? An occasional musical note from below floats sweetly out upon the evening air, but beyond this gentle reminder, the idea of an organized band seems to be relegated to oblivion.

CHAS. H. WARD, of New York City, was an arrival of Wednesday evening. He is a friend of John McCassey and on Thursday accompanied the latter gentleman to some of his mining claims—the Richard K. Fox among them.

The advertisement of D. R. Clay & Co. at the top of this page does not need to have attention called to it; no one can glance at the page without seeing it. They want to make room for a heavy fall and winter stock and will make it an object to you to buy of them.

JAMES E. WATSON, who is one of the phenomenal Kansas democrats, rejoices in the rainy season. He says that when it rains here it may rain in Kansas, that when it rains in Kansas, it makes good corn crops, that corn makes whisky and that whisky makes democrats.

C. R. MABLEY, one of the best known clothing men in America, will be in Rico next week. He is now, and has been for several days, in Telluride, where he informed the Journal man that he expended $75,000 annually in advertising. Wonder if he could be induced to start a branch house in Rico.

The mountain raspberries will soon be ripe in glorious plenty. A few days more sunshine will complete the process. Strawberries, which ripen earlier, have been ready for the picker for some little time. Both varieties are profusely plentiful this year, owing to the excessive moisture in the shape of late snows and frequent rains.

CHARLIE PENCE came in from Telluride Thursday and will return in a day or two. He divides his time between practicing law and training his luxuriant summer growth of mutton chops and mustache, in both of which pursuits we believe he is eminently successful—we are positive of the latter because of ocular demonstration and are satisfied of the former because of popular remark.

Yesterday morning County Judge Robinson reached a decision in the cases of Musgrave, Thompkins, Overman, Williamson, Mathews, Smith and other lienholders against the Rico Reduction Co. The suit was decided in favor of the lienholders, from which decision an appeal has been taken to the District Court. Judge Gerry will find a pile of work accumulated for him. No criminal business, but civil suits without number.

J. L. RUSSEL, of Durango, came in on Monday evening and has been busy in the county court as the counsel of the Rico Reduction Co. in the cases against them by miners who labored on the mines of the Little Suse group last winter. Mr. Russel is one of the early lawyers of La Plata county, having occupied an office in the "rush times of Animas City." He is now a law partner of the representative of La Plata county, M. J. McCloskey.

LAFE PENCE and family returned from Telluride on Thursday. Mr. Pence has been in attendance upon the term of district court for San Miguel county. The Euclid Avenue mining suit, in which J. M. Ohlhausen, of Rico, is a contestant for a one-half interest in the property named, did not come to trial and will come before the next term, provided a compromise is not made before that time, which will probably be done. It means a good many thousand dollars to "Uncle Munn."

Geo. R. Leach, of Kansas City, arrived on Thursday evening on business fully described elsewhere.

Messrs. W. L. Hull, D. A. Holmes, John Bissell and Steve James returned from the West Dolores on Sunday, where for several days they had sported with nature. Mr. Holmes imagined that the river was a hot spring and enjoyed a plunge bath. The sport of the fishermen of the party was followed by a continued rain the latter days of the trip.

Col. Chas. A. Mantz, the first editor of the News, is now in the book and stationery business in St. Louis, and exchanges Scasides with the same felicitous smile he used to wear in his little tent on Glasgow avenue. We hope the old gentleman will rise on fortune's tide for he deserves it. He has worked hard under various ups and downs and should begin to gather in a harvest.

MASTERS COURT Landon and Judson Nixon came into the office with a nice little piece of poetry which they wanted set up for the paper. They were given a case and so far as they have gone, here it is. We could hold the issue longer for a continuation:

Two little kitties one stormy night began to quarrel and then to fight; one bag a mouse? the other had none and that iz tip wey the quaril becom ill have that mous said the big sercat youll have that mous will see about that iz will have that mous said the older kat

The Silverton Democrat of last Saturday comes to us with a double-headed article headed "A Cowardly Assault," in which it asserts that the editor of that paper was assaulted at 2 o'clock Saturday morning in Cohen's Arica Hall by Tom Cain, presumably for articles published during the Cain Maher trial. The paper "opens out" on the "Cain gang" and says that it will make it so hot for them that they will be glad of an opportunity to leave the country. Tom Cain has had many friends in the San Juan country, but such actions as the one the Democrat describes will go far towards alienating them from him. The moral in the story seems to be that unprotected editors should not be out at 2 o'clock in the morning, when there is a speck of war upon the horizon. They should go to bed at dark or earlier when necessary, and bolt, bar and lock the doors. Now, for instance, on last Saturday evening we received a special grapevine telegram from the signal station on Dolores mountain that there was danger ahead; that a German lady from Cork was coming down the Little Maggie trail with a club in her hand and blood in her eye and that her destination was our sanctum sanctorum. Instead of wasting the few moments at our disposal in writing out a will, we speedily dispatched the business of the day and retired in good order and did not again appear upon the arena until the danger signal was at half mast. By this method instead of being a battered, mangled, bleeding corpse, talked to death and laid away in the cold and silent tomb, we are enjoying our usual robust health. We give fair warning that the office will again be vacant this evening immediately after publication. These pointers are valuable, Brother Condict, and are at your disposal, without money and without price.

McCord & Nave Mercantile Co.
The above named well-known western firm on yesterday morning purchased the H. Cahn merchandising business and will in future continue it, having taken charge immediately after the purchase. The purchase was made by Mr. Geo. E. Leach, of Kansas City, the secretary of the company, who arrived on the stage Thursday evening. Mr. Leach will remain here for the ensuing week or ten days, when he will be relieved by a permanent manager and the secretary will resume his business duties in Kansas City. Besides the stock on hand, the purchase includes the store building, fire-proof warehouse and the lot on which they are situated. The business will be carried on and the rumor that it was the intention to close out the stock and quit business is unfounded. The McCord & Nave Mercantile Company is one of the most extensive establishments in the United States, and supply more goods to the western trade than does any house in the wholesale grocery business. They have immense main houses in Kansas City, St. Joe and Pueblo, in which are stored every conceivable variety of goods needed in the grocery trade, with which are connected various smaller houses in other towns.

The retiring from business of Harry Cahn will be a matter of regret to some old-timers who have drawn supplies from the house ever since the early days of Rico. The firm of Cahn Bros. first began business in a small way at Gladstone, San Juan county, then moved to Silverton and finally to Rico, where in the early days they built up a fine business. Ben Cahn died in 1881, William withdrew and went to Russia and the dissolution of Nath. and Harry left the business in the sole charge of Harry and he now drops out of the arena and leaves the firm of Cahn Bros. nothing but a memory. His plan of future operations is as yet uncertain. He will remain in Rico for a time, at least.

As announced, the Republicans of Rico on last Saturday evening organized a Blaine and Logan club. W. H. Bean was made chairman of the meeting and E. A. Robinson, secretary, and a club, 35 strong, to which many additions have since been made, was enrolled. An election of officers resulted:

President, Jos. Meredith.
Vice President, Piler L. Thompson.
Secretary and Treasurer, D. R. Clay.

An executive committee composed of Wm. Davidson, F. L. Thompson, W. H. Bean, Jos. Spurlock and Theo Barlow was appointed. A committee of three, D. R. Clay, E. A. Robinson and J. W. Park, were appointed by the chair to draw up a constitution which they did in short order, and was read and adopted as submitted. After these proceedings the club adjourned to meet again this evening, when it will participate in the convention to nominate three delegates to attend the state convention to convene September 10th, at Colorado Springs.

Kephart & Co. have fully stocked up in every line of groceries and are ready to supply all orders for staple or fancy goods in any quantity.

For Sale.
The Riverside ledge claim, situated at the Junction of Silver creek and the Dolores river, adjoining the Town site of Rico, as shown on Wannemaker's & Munroe's map. Title, U. S. Patent. Price $10,000; owners, Weston & Barber, Ouray. Apply to Chas. Jones, office of this paper.

Republican Convention.
The Republicans of Dolores county are called to meet in Convention at Armorey Hall, Saturday evening, 16th inst., at 8 o'clock for the purpose of nominating three delegates to attend the state convention, to be held at Colorado Springs Sept. 10th, 1884. F. L. THOMPSON, Chairman R. C. C.

A Rare Opportunity.
I will sell at my ranch west of Lone Cone, near the head of Disappointment creek, on September 4th, 300 head of choice stock cattle, in large or small quantities to suit the purchaser. All parties wishing to buy fine stock cattle will do well to be on hand at that time and place. Any additional particulars may be had by addressing me, until Sept. 1st, at Telluride, Colo. JACK H. SEARS, 257-260

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.
Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between Nathaniel Cahn and Frank H. Bishop, doing business under the firm name of Cahn & Bishop, is this day dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. Cahn retiring from the firm. The business will be continued by Frank H. Bishop, who assumes all liabilities and will collect all debts due the late firm. Dated at Rico, Dolores County, Colorado, this 15th day of August, A. D. 1884. NATHANIEL CAHN, FRANK H. BISHOP.

Mistaken For a Bustle.

Cincinnati Commercial. A very pretty, modest young woman came slyly into a notion store the other day. Approaching a clerk she pointed to a base-ball catcher's mask in the show window, and with a demi blush, said: "Please let me examine that." "Certainly," beamed the gallant salesman. Then he extricated the mask from among the other base ball goods, while he whispered to our reporter: "One of the female nice, sure as I'm a sinner. Didn't know they were in town." The young lady turned the mask around gingerly in her daintily gloved hands, examined it critically and asked, with a pert, upward glance: "Isn't it rather short?" "Oh, no; they come in that size always," smiled the clerk. "I never saw one made exactly like this before; new invention, I suppose," ventured she. "Oh, no; been in use three years at least," said Henry. "Indeed! How strange. Do you think they are better than those made of whalebone?" "Undoubtedly," was the ready reply, though he mentally asked, "Who ever heard of a whalebone mask?" "And the strings?" asked she, turning it around. "Strings?" echoed Henry in perplexity. "That is, the straps—the fasteners—how does one keep it on?" "Let me show you," said he, reaching for it. "Oh, don't trouble yourself," cried she with a half scream; and then she turned pale as death, while Henry took the mask into his hands. As he stood loosening the straps, preparatory to adjusting the affair, the customer seemed paralyzed with deep emotion and on the verge of a dead faint, but when Henry pulled the mask over his face the color returned. She gasped for breath, opened wide her eyes and panted: "Why, what in the world is it?" "Why, a baseball mask, to be sure. Didn't you know?" smiled Henry through the mask. "I—no—that is—I thought it was—oh, dear!" Her now prostrate form was laid on the counter.

Clews' Circular.

The last monthly financial circular of Henry Clews & Co., surveys the general financial condition of the country and says: All the facts of recent experience go to show that while abuses of credit and speculation have grown up during the last ten years of general prosperity, and while the recent panic was to a large extent a natural breaking up at those weak points, yet at the same time the extent of the unsoundness was much more limited than that usually developed by these decennial crises—a fact which is perhaps attributable to the extra ordinary degree of the prosperity with which the nation has been favored during the last decade. There has been no previous period in our history in which the national wealth has made such large and solid accumulations; and the most significant fact has been that the achievements of our enterprise have been accomplished mainly from home resources and that we have simultaneously paid off very large amounts of obligations held in foreign countries. We have felt firmly convinced that a panic following years of such solid and compact progress must find less to feed upon than in ordinary times. Even now the panic has spent its force and its comparative feebleness has been exposed. It is reasonable to expect that the causes here alluded to as having mitigated the force and effect of the panic will facilitate the process of recovery. Neither the shock to confidence nor the extent of the insolvencies nor the general disruption of business arrangements is at all in proportion to that extent of wreck which followed the panic of 1873.

A Living Lasso.

From the Carson Appeal. On Tuesday last, at Forest's ranch, near Genoa, one of the hands noticed a cow charging furiously at a thicket. An investigation showed that the animal was fighting a big black snake, and tried to tramp it to death with her fore feet. The thicket was an isolated clump of sage brush, and the snake did not seem disposed to leave it and trust its life in the open country. Finally the cow lowered her head and attempted to impale the snake on her horns. In an instant the snake sprang to the cow's head and rapidly coiled itself about her horns. The cow stood dazed for an instant and then set off on a run, occasionally kneeling to rub her head against the ground, but she was unable to rid herself of her enemy. She again sought the sagebrush and tried to brush the incubus off, but the snake only coiled itself the tighter and refused to be dislodged. The cow seemed finally to realize that all her efforts were useless, and uttering a terrible bellow set off at full gallop. The hands made an effort to follow her and turn her back, but in her frantic flight she outstripped the horses, and when cornered would charge everything in sight. Occasionally the snake would half untwist itself, and its head would play before the cow's eyes. On these occasions the poor animal would bellow with terror and sometimes go fifty yards backward to escape. For three hours she ran wildly about the fields, with the foam and blood flying from her lips and sweat streaming from her sides. The rest of the hired help tried to throw a lasso over her horns, but could not get near enough, and finally the poor brute dropped from sheer exhaustion and panted out her life. The snake was immediately dispatched and was a blacksnake five feet long.

Nine Horsethieves Dead in a Bunch.

A Helena, Montana, dispatch gives us the particulars of another slaughter of horsethieves in the Musselshell region, 150 miles west of Helena, last week by cowboys. While they were in pursuit of stolen horses, a log house was discovered in the timber on the mountain side, and it was secretly watched for a day or two, during which time several small parties of men came and went, some by day and others by night, having in their possession a number of stolen horses. It becoming evident that the place was a horsethieves' rendezvous, the cowboys congregated, and last Monday night they crawled up close to the house and attacked fourteen horsethieves who were about the premises at the time. Nine of them were killed and five escaped; the cabin was set afire and burned.

No particulars have yet been received of the fight between Granville Stuart's cowboys with a band of thieves at the mouth of the Musselshell, though a fight must have occurred several days ago. The locality is over 200 miles from Helena with no telegraphic communication. Never was there a period in the history of any other territory when there was so much horsethieving going on. Citizens are determined to effectually stop it and fully fifty thieves have been hanged or shot in the past month.

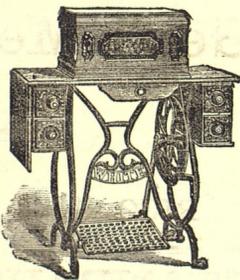

Mexican Pearls.

For more than a hundred years fishing for pearls has been carried on in the waters of the Gulf of California, with more or less profitable results. During the last year, according to a correspondent from La Paz, Lower California, to the Two Republics newspaper of the City of Mexico, notable pearls have been brought to the surface in that quarter. One of light bluish color with dark shading weighing sixty five carats of the estimated value of $8,000, found by Manuel Urbano, was bought and sent to Paris, by Messrs. Gonzalez & Ruff, of the City of Mexico. Another of pear shape, pearly color shot with some dark specks, weighing forty-four carats, estimated at $7,500, found by Mepeleon Savin, was sent to Paris by Messrs. Pablo, Hidalgo & Co. of La Paz. This house sent another pearl to France of oval shape light and sandy in color, perfect in contour and brilliant in lustre, weighing thirty-two carats and having an estimated value of $5,500.

Two years ago near Loreto a Mexican diver came up with the loveliest of them all, a perfect pearl weighing one hundred carats now said to belong to the ex-Queen Isabella. In 1882 the diver Savin found two pearls respectively, of forty-five and thirty-one carats which, of surpassing lustre, brought nearly $7,000.—Exchange.

Thirty miles of river front up in Weld county were burned over by a destructive prairie fire last week. The fire existed on the range between Denver Junction and the mouth of the Frenchman on the Platte. The width of the burned district is unknown. A portion of the range of Gov. Routt suffered.
