Should Mormons be Citizens of any Free State? Stenhouse, in his "Rocky Mountain Saints," tells us that when a Mormon gets poor or entangled in any difficulty, he takes another wife to solace him, and the ex-elder was correct in his conclusions. A Mormon will add to his household on the slightest provocation, and has a certain amount of shrewdness in forming his matrimonial alliances. For instance, G. Q. Cannon, the present delegate to the national congress from Utah, who is the happy husband of four wives, takes an ethereal view of the situation and married ladies of considerable refinement and culture for Mormons, who are capable of adorning his drawing room when friends from the east visit him at Salt Lake. Bu. Brother Hansen, who keeps a tavern at a country cross roads, is not inclined to the same taste. He is generally possessed of an American wife to attend to the parlor, an English wife to attend to the bar, a Welsh wife to do the cooking, a Scotch wife to do the chambermaid work and two or three Scandinavian wives to plant the garden and do the outdoor work. It can be seen that Brother Hansen has a little business mixed in with his polygamy, as has Brother Graham, who publishes a hebdomadally newspaper and wisely chose four wives who were proficient in the art preservative of all arts. On one occasion the writer of this encountered a polygamous Mormon, who was very poor, but possessed of a houseful of wives. We asked him if he did not think he was foolish in accumulating such an extensive family to provide for when his means were so narrow? He answered with a merry twinkle of his eye, that he could not get along without them, as they provided a living for him. He further said that when he first married he did not intend to go into polygamy as his wife was opposed to it, but upon her getting sick he had to employ a woman to do domestic work and being unable to pay the latter when her work was done, he had to marry her in self defense. Such is the case with a good many polygamous families in Utah; society is depraved and tolerates such conduct, while the lower strata of society is, to put it mildly, beastly and think the only province of woman is to slave for a lecherous master. But with all their social vice - and it is enormous - their political condition is worse. No man in Utah who is a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints can have an opinion of his own until it is first promulgated by the Church. The nominations for all civil offices are made by a church conclave and announced from the pulpit the Sunday previous to election. Such a thing as a "scratcher" or a "bolter" is unknown; the voters will tamely take the medicine prescribed by the Church, no matter how repugnant it may be to them. A Mormon will never vote for a Gentile under any consideration, nor will a Gentile if elected be admitted to his seat in their legislative body. The Gentiles have a majority in several of the legislative assembly districts in Utah and have repeatedly elected their candidate, but never yet have the Mormon majority allowed them to take their seats.

Utah is governed by a corrupt and ignorant priesthood, and only the mandates of that priesthood are respected in the Territory. Though the United States has metaphorically, sat down on polygamy, still it cannot be crushed out. A Mormon will not testify against another in a court of law. They are taught by the Church that perjury in their own cause is no crime. Hence the impossibility of convicting any of them of polygamy, though there is not a week passes but the harems have been increased. On a jury, no matter how direct and convincing the evidence may be, a Mormon will always vote for the acquittal of another of his sect. They are taught that they are superior to the law of the United States and look upon it as tyranny and pure meddling on the part of the government to have anything to do with them. They call themselves the only legitimate and favored children of God, and all others not belonging to their church are infidels and accursed of God. A Mormon meeting was never adjourned without first denouncing the United States, prophesying its downfall and fervently praying that that event may speedily occur. In their most sacred and revered religious ceremony, the Endowment, a solemn oath is taken to avenge the death of Joseph Smith on the American people, and use every effort to subvert the government. They fondly hope that the day is not far distant when they will be strong enough to battle with the United States. That is the secret of polygamy and their herculean efforts to propagate their faith in foreign nations and remove their converts to Utah; they want to increase and use unnatural means to effect that end. Such are the people that are being steadily planted in the infant state of Colorado. Such are the institutions they represent and revere and we ask with all candor if the freemen of Colorado, who have the best interests of the state at heart are willing that such people and such institutions are to be planted on our soil? Remember, if they get firmly planted it will take an army to drive them out and if left remain they will convert Colorado into what Utah is - a miniature hell.

The Late Ute Outrage. Perhaps if Mr. A. B. Meachem, late of Oregon, was not at Los Pinos when the difficulty occurred between the Ute Johnson and the freighters, the affair would not have ended in such an outrageous manner. Giving Meachem the benefit of all doubts he is as thorough a rascal as ever lived. A coward by nature, a thief by instinct, a hypocrite by choice, he is the incarnation of pure and undefiled rascality. Meachem can beat any man between the rocky mountains, and the Pacific ocean, praying; and the calm and placid manner in which he does his stealing without leaving tracks, places him without a peer at the head of that business. Meachem's first official position was United States Indian agent at the Klamath reservation in Oregon. He was then a young man, and as poor, meek and lowly as his beloved Jesus. Allan Dave, the head chief of the Klamath tribe, and as brave and intelligent an Indian as there is on the American continent, informed the writer of this a few years ago, that Meachem rode to the agency one fine evening, on a "cayuse" pony, with all his worldly goods tied behind him on the cantele of his saddle. He was indeed poor, had not blankets enough to shield him from the keen blasts of spring, and Allan Dave loaned him two buffalo robes with which to make his bed. These robes he never returned, and may have them at Los Pinos now for all we know to the contrary. He remained three years at Klamath as agent, and when he went away was the owner of several hundred head of cattle and horses. Had money enough to buy a fine ranch in Umatilla county, and build a stately wayside hotel near the famous hot springs in that county, where he had the reputation of fleeing guests in a manner only known to the educated Indian agent. The salary he received as agent at Klamath was only eleven hundred dollars per year, and it may not be an impertinent question to ask where did Meachem get his riches if he did not rob the Indians of the allowance given them by the government? Certainly among his own neighbors in Oregon he had the reputation of being a profound and systematic robber of the red men, as well as being a disgusting hypocrite. He could quote the scriptures at will, was an eloquent exhorter, and his method of singing hymns to Indians who could not understand one word he said, is reported to have been sublime. During all this time, while he was "shooting off his mouth" in prayer, he was filling his pockets with money belonging to the Indians, had turned the agency into a vast warehouse, and run a night freight to Ft. Klamath, it being an open secret that Jay Beach, the post trader, was made consignee of two-thirds of the goods, bought by the government, sent by the government, and consigned by the government, to Meachem, as its agent, for the use of the Indians under his control. His brother-in-law, Capt. Ferree, lived about ten miles from the agency, and was proprietor of a hotel called the Lake View House, a handsome and prominent summer resort, overlooking Great Klamath Lake. A number of Californians and Oregonians were in the habit of spending the summer months at this hotel, and prima facie considerable food should be used. Yet the merchants of Linkville, twelve miles distant, are ready to swear that Ferree purchased nothing but canned goods, eggs, and other delicacies, and that a freight wagon never stopped at his house in the day time. It created wonder where the goods and supplies to run his hotel came from, and a watch was set, when it was discovered that this generous brother-in-law, Meachem, supplied him under cover of night, with goods from the agency. Such is a part of the record of the saintly Meachem, and we ask if a man who would be guilty of his rascalities, would hesitate to destroy a mere life. We had almost forgotten to add that there are several half breed stripplings among the Klamath tribe, whom their mother fondly call "Meachem."

There is no doubt, Berry is a mere incompetent puppy, afraid of his own shadow, without either strength or will. It is notorious that he is ambitious to make money, and is using his position to rob the Utes. We say this advisedly; There is a man at Los Pinos agency at present, receiving a salary of forty dollars per month from Berry, and the only visible employment he is engaged in is making affidavits for Berry. This can be proven; and what is the natural consequence? Why any sane man can see that Berry is not disposing of the supplies under his charge, as the government directs him, or he would have no need to pay a henchman to swear to his honesty. Capt. Cline admitted to the writer that if the young freighter was not given up, all the settlers would have been in danger, and dastard like he turned over the young man to the savages by a prearranged plan, in order to make himself solid with the Indians.

The entire affair is a burning and blasting disgrace, and should be promptly punished. The Intubecile Indian Bureau will enter into a correspondence with Meachem and Berry, receive their lying version of the affair, and do nothing further about it. Whether the executive of Colorado will do anything or not, remains to be determined. In the meantime, though we do not advocate summary proceedings, and believe that in general the law should be allowed to take its course, yet in this case it should not grieve any good citizen to see trees bear such fruit as Cline, Meachem, Berry, Hoyt and Holmes. Neither would powder be sadly wasted if the individuals just named were made smell of it.

Some few weeks ago, a journalistic abortion, published at Ouray, and dubbed the Ouray Times, threw out ominous hints that if the News was not more careful in future, and ready to doff its hat whenever the Times appeared, we should be handled with more force than politeness. The nincompoop, who edits that paper was not aware that he was unable to cope with it in that event. The News published an article taken from the New York Daily Mining News, which the Times claimed never was printed in that journal. We offered to bet any amount under five hundred dollars that we were correct, and have patiently waited since that time to hear the Times apologize for its uncouth expressions concerning us. But the Times is still silent, which induces us to remark, that what the editor of the Times don't know about the amenities of journalism, would fill a large volume. The Ouray Times is at once the most contemptible and venal of Colorado newspapers. It speaks of enterprise, when it knows not what that word means when applied to journalism, and the "red headed rooster" who has the reputation of editing it, had better learn a little of the attributes of a gentleman before he again attempts to lecture his betters on their duty as gentlemen and journalists.

There is neither law, precedent or humanity on the side of Meachem, Berry, et al. The worst dastards of history, or most bloodthirsty savages in America could not have acted in a more cold-blooded manner. To plan the death of a boy whose only crime was defense of his relatives from the murderous hand of an Indian, is beyond the conception of men who wear a heart. The mere thought that a white man could turn over one of his own kind to be burned at the stake is sufficient to goad men to desperate doings.

We would not be doing our entire duty if we neglected to state that there will be a number of disappointed politicians on the morning of the third of November.

If the citizens of Ouray neglect to present Agent Berry with the noose end of a rope, they should at least donate on him a leather medal.

Rico in the course of another year will be the most prosperous mining camp in Colorado.

This is Indian summer.

PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST.

A glance at the daily papers will convince the most skeptical that we, Americans, are a queer people. It is characteristic of us that we like to be humbugged; at least we are often informed that that is a national peculiarity. But the method we have adopted of conferring high honor upon rascals or nincompoops, is so soft and charming in its outline as to point to the delicious. When a rascal distinguishes himself in the art of knavery, or a man exhibits glorious promise of becoming a profound dambpoo, we run him for high office and amuse ourselves by raking up his record to the admiring gaze of his fellow citizens.

At the present time we have worked ourselves up to a state of hilarious excitement over the result of a little contest that will take place on the second of November next. The office of President of the United States is the greatest and most dignified in the civilized world. It is a position far greater than hereditary potentate of any of the effete monarchies of Europe. Now who are we, free and independent American citizens, each of us an absolute sovereign in ourself, going to choose from among us to preside as first citizen of the Republic. It is determined in advance, that it will be either of two men, for, thanks to the party caucus, the responsibility of choosing has long since been taken from the mere citizen. But who are these two men? One of them, whom the Democratic brethren have adopted as their favorite child is W. S. Hancock. We are told by the organs of his party that he is a fine fellow; that he fought, bled, died and saved his country. That he is a citizen of unbounded patriotism and extensive learning in the art of State craft. We are further informed, that they—the Democrats—are pure and holy, childlike and bland, plethoric with love for their God and their country, not caring for offices personally, but willing to accept them in order to confer a blessing, deep and lasting, upon their fellow countrymen.

These modest organs further pursue the subject and say that if Hancock is elected and the pure and noble Democracy made residuary legatees of the loaves and fishes, the land will flow with milk and honey, happiness will hug each of us individually and prosperity envelop us all collectively. Further—the organs inform us—if the hero of Gettysburg becomes President, Christ will remove his residence from Heaven and become a naturalized citizen of the United States and, of course, will vote the Democratic ticket.

The organs of the same party give us a little information, on the side, about the Republican candidate for President, James A. Garfield. The organs don't charge any thing extra for the information; they render it voluntary. They tell us, to begin with, that Garfield is the most vicious thief in the entire country. That before he was two years old, the "little cuss" made a practice of stealing his little infant sister's candy and sweet meats and accepted a bribe from his mother in order to desist from the unholy practice of robbing his sister. That when he was seven years old he stole a canal boat from the Miami canal in Ohio and steered it to New York State and became a bloody and relentless pirate on the raging waters of the Erie canal. That during that bloody period of his life he killed several men, women and children (none of them niggers) and sold the bodies to medical students, from the proceeds of which sales he was enabled to enter college and qualify himself for the position of chairman of the committee of Appropriations of Congress, in which position he expected to be able to rob the people of the United States with ease and elegance. After being expelled from college, for stealing an undershirt from one of the professors, he temporarily reformed and became a minister of the Gospel, but being too free and tender with the female members of his flock, he "dug out" and joined the army. Here his old tendencies broke out fresh and the Democratic organs—to whom we are indebted for this graphic narrative of his life—tell us that he left the men under his command for two entire weeks without food or water and finally, when they were nearly starved, delegations of them went to Ohio and induced the people to elect Garfield to Congress, in order to save themselves from starvation. In Congress, the early habit of stealing, and the vice of bribe taking inculcated by his mother, came into full play. He has been in Congress since and the record of his robberies and bribe takings is beyond comprehension.

Such is the record of the Republican candidate; and it is no more replete with bribery and corruption, than the official acts of the party that has placed him in nomination. The Republican party, we are told by the Democratic organs, was born in hate, nursed in rapine and reared in corruption. It habitually wraps itself in a bloody undergarment, dreading to appear in its nude state, lest the society for the prevention of crime should indict it for indecent exposure. The Democratic organs tell us that the Republicans will be beaten out of sight.

The reverse of this picture can be found in the Republican organs. We are informed by them that Garfield was one of the bravest and most skillful soldiers in the Union Army. That he is the ablest man in Congress, with a broad comprehensive mind, ready to adapt itself to the exigencies of the occasion (in Illinois he is a free trader and in Pennsylvania a protectionist).

The organs of his party deny his stealing and bribe taking propensities, saying such charges are low Democratic lies.

Further, that Oaks Ames was a myth and the Credit Mobilier company a harmless branch of a Sunday School; some of the organs say that $329 was never in Garfield's pocket, while others say he borrowed it, and a few, of the shrewd species say that he took it but did not know what it was. They tell us the Democratic party is a sworn enemy of the government and that if Hancock is elected he will abdicate in favor of Jefferson Davis. That slavery will be again proclaimed and Bob Toombs invited by the general government to call the roll of his slaves at the foot of Bunker Hill. If Garfield is elected the United States, including Alaska, will be converted into a Garden of Eden, while if Hancock is elected the denizens of hell will run riot. The Republican organs don't neglect to tell us something about Hancock; he wears corsets and is a blue blooded aristocrat, who will grind us with an iron heel. During the war he was a rank copperhead at heart, though a patriot in disguise. He offered to surrender the Union army at Gettysburg for seven hundred and thirty five dollars and thirty five cents, and when Longstreet refused to bribe him he got a private soldier to paint him all over with red paint and swore he was wounded. (The soldier who painted him is on the stump in Indiana and exhibit his paint brush as unimpeachable evidence of Hancock's duplicity).

Thus it can be seen what a queer people we are. Half of us, the Democratic party, traitors to the government, according to the Republican organs and the other half of us, the Republicans, robbers and treasury leeches, according to the Democrats, while a faction of both parties called the Greenbackers are by common consent dambpools. The Republicans confidently assert, that the Democrats will be beaten out of sight.

What are we to do about it? Half of us believe, or pretend we believe, that Hancock was a semi-traitor during the war and has treason lurking in his bosom still. The rest of us, or very nearly so, believe, or pretend we believe, that Garfield sold his influence on several occasions for filthy lucre. This is a terrible state of affairs, if we are to believe the organs, but certain it is we have some doubts as to some of their statements.

We will get along all right under the Presidency of either Hancock or Garfield, under the guidance of the Democrats or guardianship of the Republicans. The organs are excited. Uncle Sam will live and boom, no matter who is elected President. Both are worthy, capable gentlemen, possessed of qualities eminently fitted to adorn the high office they aspire to. In the words of an Irishman, one of them is as good as the other and a damn sight better.

RICO'S OPINION.

What Our Citizens Have to Say in Regard to the Murder.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Foote's Hall on Thursday evening last to take action in reference to the recent Ute outrages. The following call was issued:

NOTICE.

A meeting of the citizens of Rico will be held this (Thursday) evening at John Foote's Hall, to take action regarding the murder of freighter Jackson by the Ute Indians on the Cimarrao.

F. W. RAYMOND, Mayor.
 F. M. ENDLICH.
 J. M. SEMPLE.
 C. H. ASHMEADE.

Rico, Colo., Oct. 14, 1880.
 At eight o'clock the meeting was called to order and on motion the resolutions passed by the citizens of Ouray were adopted in a body. They are as follows:

Whereas, On the 29th day of September, A. D. 1880, one A. D. Jackson, a boy of St. Joseph, Missouri, while freighting to Ouray, shot an Indian in defense of himself and comrades, and on the following day surrendered, and was in charge of nearly four hundred United States soldiers, and

Whereas, we are informed and believe that U. S. Indian Agent, W. H. Perry, conspiring with A. B. Meacham, M. W. Cline, J. C. Holmes and S. N. Hoyt for the purpose of turning the said Jackson over to the savages to be tortured and killed, took the said Jackson from the custody of the United States soldiers, against the protest of the officers thereof, and deliberately turned him over to the Indians, who inhumanly and barbarously tortured him to death;

Wherefore, Be it Resolved: First that we, the citizens of Ouray county, demand of the State and Federal authorities that prompt and adequate punishment be meted out to these savages and their white accessories, and Second, be it further resolved, that if the proper authorities refuse or fail to act, we hereby pledge ourselves to see that the guilty are punished.

In addition to the above, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we commend the action of the citizens who went in pursuit of and, as we are informed, captured M. W. Cline and W. H. Berry, and approve of whatever punishment was inflicted on said Cline and Berry for their inhuman act toward the boy Jackson.

Resolved, further, That we hereby pledge ourselves to take up arms at a moment's notice and stand by the people of Ouray and Gunnison in any act of retribution which they may deem proper against the Indians and their white accessories who murdered A. D. Jackson.

The Secretary was instructed to furnish copies of above resolutions to Governor Pitkin, Congressman Belford, Dolores News, Rocky Mountain News, Denver Tribune, Solid Muldoon, Ouray Times, Council Fire, of Washington, and Secretary Schurz.

On motion Dr. Ashmeade was appointed a committee of one to confer with the citizens of Ouray as to appropriate action in the premises.

To these resolutions are appended very nearly 300 names (282 being the actual number), showing the immense feeling in regard to the outrage. During the time that the meeting was in session, a person came in from Ouray with the report that Capt. Cline and Berry had been captured and that Cline had been hung, but Berry escaped. Since that time nothing definite has been learned and it is feared that the report is ungrounded.

Snide Mail Contractors.

The people of Rico should present Messrs. Blake & Meserole with a leather medal. As is generally known these parties are the contractors for carrying the United States mail from Ouray to Rico; they very obligingly (to themselves) carry it when they feel like it, without regard to the comfort and convenience of the general public. It is time this thing was stopped. The Post-office Department never intended that the mail route from Ouray to Rico should be a fair weather route. The service last winter was abominable, but somewhat excusable in the contractors as they did not secure the contract until November and had not time to secure sufficient horses or make adequate preparations of any kind for the winter campaign. But that excuse can not now avail. They have had a summer to prepare in and one winter's experience, yet so far as we can learn they have made preparations to do nothing but draw their pay regularly. These men have acted from the beginning as if every man, woman and child in Rico were under obligations to them. They have repeatedly growled because some people have received small quantities of merchandise through the mails and have even gone so far as to threaten not to bring that species of mail matter. It seems to be their intention to make all the money they can out of the contract during the summer months and then sub-let to other parties during the winter, caring not whether we get our mail once a day or once a month. It is a notorious fact that considerable mail destined for Rico last winter never reached here, and some of it got here in such condition as to be useless. The United States will pay sufficient to have its mail transported, and if Messrs. Blake & Meserole accept the contract at figures too low to make a profit the year round, it is their own lookout. If every person in Rico receives packages of mail every day of less than four pounds it is clearly their duty to carry it, and if they refuse to do so, they lay themselves liable to a criminal prosecution. They were aware of the existence of laws governing mail matter and also knew that the practice of ordering small quantities of goods that could not be had here was quite prevalent. As it is, mail contractors have no right to discriminate between classes of matter. Their contracts call for the carrying of the mail, and whether that mail consists of love letters or of ten-penny nails is of no moment to them. The practice we spoke of is subject to occasional abuses. For instance, we know of a case when a Silverton man sent his boots to Del Norte to be half-soled in the dead of winter at a time when the mail had to be carried by men on snowshoes. This was a gross abuse, but his package came within the provisions of the law, and it had to go and return. So far as we can learn, there is not a horse now on the route of more value than his hide to a tannery. No preparations have been made for the winter, and if we are to accept the past week as a specimen of what they are to do during the ensuing four or five months, the people had better petition the department for relief. The contractors knew the full responsibility they were accepting when they took the contract; they knew that difficulty was to be experienced in winter time and should have made adequate preparations. They should have erected station houses at least ten miles apart along the route, and should have good relays of horses. The route should be traveled every day and then the trail will be kept solid and perfectly passable. If it is not traveled for several days at a time it will be difficult to get over. The contractors owe it to the people that mail should be brought here every day, except when absolutely impossible.

The Hermosa Mining company has filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State. This company organizes with $100,000 capital stock, to mine in Rico. The company is formed of Chicago capitalists, with whose names we are not acquainted.

Meacham and Berry on one end of a rope and Cline and Hoyt on the other, with the middle of the rope gently but firmly resting on a substantial bough of a tree would be a sight that should offend no man.

The News wood pile is the greenest in town, and the hardest to make burn. We make the above statement in justice to the industrious "bachs" who may be otherwise misled.

"Whom the Gods love, die young." Meacham claims that God loves him, and the people of Ouray county should see that he is sent to the bosom of his fathers without delay.

DOLOROS NEWS.

RICO, COLORADO.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1880.

Association with the Utes seems to put Meacham in his natural element.

No doubt Meacham prayed for the repose of the soul of young Jackson. In that line of business he is unrivaled.

Capt. Stillé, of the 23d U. S. Infantry, who arrested the freighters and would have taken them safely to the guard-house at the cantonment if Berry had not interfered, anticipated what would follow and communicated his fears to the agent, but was overruled. Captain Stillé is a thorough soldier, brave and honest, as well as a thorough gentleman, and it is a burning disgrace to the government that he was forced to obey the orders of a parvenu like Berry.

The News will be found on sale at the Postoffice Drug Store of Taft and Lusk, and at the Drug Store News stand of Hunt & Munde.

Parties passing through or stopping in Silverton, will find the Dolores News on sale at MART STOCKTON'S NEWS STAND, opposite Rockwood Hotel.

Mr. L. Palenske, operator, is now prepared to do first class work in the branches of the business, and will furnish various kinds of views in numbers to suit the purchaser. Give him a call, on Mantzvenu, Rico, Colorado.

D. J. Shaw, the well-known San Juan freighter is now running a pack train of 60 jacks between Rico and Cascade Hill and will run a large number of animals throughout the summer. Mr. Shaw has brought a great many loads of provisions into Rico already and will hereafter give his personal attention to buying and selling of live stock of all kinds. Mr. Shaw also has a train of teams and wagons running from Alamosa to Animas City, and from the latter point to Cascade Hill, from which point he will transfer to pack trains to Rico.

Leave Your Address.

Parties going East this fall for the winter, who desire that the people of Rico may know their whereabouts during the time of their absence, may leave their address to be printed in the DOLOROS NEWS for the time, for the sum of two dollars. These notes will be printed under the head of "Addresses," and changed on notification. These notices shall not exceed ten lines nor the period of five months.

WHO IS UNAQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL

SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R. R.

IS THE GREAT CONNECTING LINK BETWEEN THE EAST & THE WEST!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines, the capital of Iowa, Stuart, Atlantic and Avoca; with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine; Washington, Fairfield, Eldon, Booneville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Canton, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Beustport, Independent, Edon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Okaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterest; Atlantic to Lewis and Audubon; and Avoca to Huron. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all through Express trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warrants it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One of our great features of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth, and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

THE PHENOMENAL R. R. CONNECTIONS OF THIS GREAT THROUGH LINE ARE AS FOLLOWS:

AT CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.

AT ENGLEWOOD, with the L. S. & M. S., and St. Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.
