HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE PAST TO THE PRESENT

Let's take a trip back to 1915 and ten miles north of Gruver where we find the family of B.F. Wallin, as Highlights from the Past to the Present takes another look into the history of Hansford County.

Mr. B.F. Wallin was born October 1, 1858 in Tennessee where he spent his childhood days. Accompanied by his family, Mr. Wallin moved to Texas and to Cottle County by wagon from their home in Tennessee. There his father took up farming.

Mary Lou Enochs was born March 4, 1878 in Van-Alstyne, Grayson, County Texas. The two were married in Grayson County Texas in 1894. After their marriage the couple moved back to Tennessee, Mr. Wallin's childhood home, where they remained for about one year. The couple made the long trip by wagon. While living there son Willie was born who later died when only a child. The couple returned to Texas by wagon where they made their home.

They lived for four years in Cottle County Texas where two sons were born, Arthur and Frank. They farmed here as their occupation but later moved to Harmon County Oklahoma where they remained for fifteen years. Their new home in Oklahoma was also a farm. Six other children were born to the couple while they lived there. The children were Eula, Bonnie, Pearl, Ovet, Hobart and Lois.

Mr. Wallin yearned for new land and came to the Panhandle where he traded his land in Oklahoma for a section and a quarter with Mr. E.A. McBride. In 1915 the family moved to Hansford county. The family chartered two cars on the train called immigrant cars. The immigrant cars were cars which could be rented to haul both livestock and machinery. Moving equipment-- and livestock and family came to Texhoma by train, and on to their new home.

Three other children, Jewel, Floyd and Mary were born when the couple moved to this county. Each child was born in the home and the doctor from Texhoma or Old Hansford would make the call.

Upon arrival at their new home the family was faced with a prairie of pastureland with very few fences-- in order to plant row crop they first had to prepare the land and break the sod. The family worked together with the older boys helping their father. The first job was to fence in their farm in order to plant, for it was open range for the cattle to graze when they arrived. Next was the hard chore of breaking the sod, which was done with three twelve inch sod plows. The older boys and their father broke out four hundred and forty four acres by this means. They were aided by three teams of six horses. Planting the grain presented another problem for the men. The planting was done with a syrup buck et which had holes in the bottom. The first man would dig the furrow, then the next would follow dragging the bucket filled with grain along the furrow, and finally the last man would cover the furrow. Luck was with the family for their first year was very wet and they had very good crops. Frank Wallin recalls that one of the first years they were here they sold 25,000 bundles of feed to Bob Brooks for his cattle.

Harvesting the crop was another job for the men. The maize was harvested with a binder and hand headed. After the first three years in Hansford County the men planted wheat which was cut by headers and and barges. In 1926 the family had their first combine, as well as tractor.

The older children attended school at Bethel, Oklahoma but when they moved to the Panhandle they went to McBride school where Mrs. O'Keefe and Violet Burr were the teachers and later to Grand Plains where Elizabeth Beck taught. Lois, Hobart and Bonnie where finished college at Panhandle A and M. at Goodwell.

Entertainment for the family included the gatherings at the school houses for Literary Parties, box suppers, ice cream suppers, and dances. There were Christmas-- programs where the students of the school had recitations and dialogues. Singing conventions met at the various schools over the county and the families would gather for these events. When May Day at Guy-mon began and the fairs the family always attended.

Church was held at the Grand Plains school, the Wallin family recall attending in their "surry with the fringe on top". Brother Franklin was one of the early preachers at the school.

The family moved from the McBride place to the C.S. Peterson place and later to the Maupin place before finally settling on their farm.

During the winter the men would freight their wheat to Texhoma where they would also buy their supplies. During the summer they would only make the trip to buy supplies only once in every two months. Their mail was brought to the Halfway place near what is now-- Bernstein. It was delivered on the Star Route from Guymon to Old Hansford.

The family heated their home with coal and cow chips as did the other pioneers. Their source of lights were coal oil lamps. They first used the Shapley telephone which was five miles away but later got one of their own.

Mr. Wallin built an earth tank which supplied water for the family garden. The garden supplied the food for the Wallin family throughout the year. They also raise chickens and had their own sources of dairy products, and meat. They would gather wild plums and grapes-- from the creeks near by for their fruit.

Their neighbors were the Ropers, Brandviks, Maupins, Shapleys, Smiths, Millers, Brooks, Hemphills, Higgs Wilsons and McClellans. Though some of these did not live next door they were called their neighbors because the area was scarcely populated.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallin moved to Goodwell where they bought a farm in 1925. Frank Wallin bought his father's place. Mr. B.F. Wallin passed away February 10, 1948 in San Diego, California and Mrs. Wallin died February 10, 1948 in San Diego, California and Mrs. Wallin died February 8, 1961 in Tucumcari, New Mexico.

The children are scattered throughout the western United States, A.P. Wallin makes his home in Guymon, while F.R. Wallin lives in Tucumcari, New Mexico, Eula Bakehouse in Gruver, Bonnie DeArmond in Santa Rosa, California, Pearl Shapley in Gruver, Ovet Wallin in Santa Monica, California, Hobart Wallin in Lubbock Texas, Lois Boston in Guymon, Oklahoma, Jewel Hienritz in Casper Wyoming and Floyd Wallin in Oxnarg, California and Mary Grooms in Tucumcari, New Mexico.

We have visited with another of the Hansford County pioneer families this week. Families such as the Wallin Family have made our county of today.

4-H CAMP

A very enjoyable 4-H camp was recently attended by 16, 4-H members, adult leaders and agents of Hansford County. It was wonderful to be able to attend camp with a group that totaled 215 in all. Beaver, Texas, and Cimmaron Counties in Oklahoma let us join them for their annual 4-H camp at Pamhandle A and M College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, July 8, 9, and 10.

The camp was very educational with short courses on hunting safety, life saving, lighting in the home, cooking, horses, speech, ornamental horticulture, and crafts. Recreation of planned parties, swimming, softball games and a talent show by 4-H members were enjoyed by the group. The outdoor picnic planned was rained out and had to be moved inside.

4-H members will be able to use much of the information gained at camp to further 4-H work in Hansford County. Many new friends were made at camp.

Hansford County 4-H members appearing on the assembly programs were: Nancy McCloy and Kaye Johnson presenting a safety demonstration. Wade Parks and Carolyn Henderson giving a magic act. Patricia Henderson, Hansford County 4-H chairman, gave a talk on behalf of Hansford County 4-H members expressing appreciation for being able to attend the 4-H camp.

USE 2,4-D CORRECTLY

This is a reminder to farmers, custom applicator, and chemical companies to use 2,4-D so that susceptible crops will not be damaged. Some grain sorghum will be sprayed and there will be cotton near by. Use the low-volatile ester or the amine form of 2,4-D near cotton so that it will not be damaged. The butyrate vapors from this form can damage susceptible crops. This hot weather we are having will make the butyrate ester form more dangerous as vapors will be released more readily in hot weather.

FARM SAFETY WEEK
July 21-27

"Inspection Plus Correction Equals Protection" is the theme for National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27. President John F. Kennedy, is proclaiming the week, called upon all Americans, especially those allied with agriculture to unite their efforts to cut down the number of farm home and highway accidents.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, long active in the promotion of rural safety, points out the need for making farm and home safety a year-round effort. Prevention of accidents takes action by people and it must be continuous throughout every year, says the Council.

A very high percentage of all farm accidents can be traced to a specific cause, and carelessness, is a major contributor, the councilmen say. A little checking close to home they, all will likely reveal that most crippling or fatal accidents on the farm or in the home result from actions wherein people should know better.

The accident record of agriculture is not good and with the ever-increasing use of power machinery and allied equipment, the rate, can be expected to move higher unless the people involved make up their minds to do something about it, warns the Council. Therefore, they add, it's up to the farm families to find and remove hazards which can cause accidents, and to practice safety in their daily living. The outstanding records in accident prevention by other industries of the nation, haven't just happened,-- says the council, but are the result of well-planned and conducted safety educational programs.

National Farm Safety Week is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and National Safety Council. They work in cooperation with the state Agricultural Extension Services, farm organizations, the farm press, radio, television and other interested individuals and groups.

SCREWORM DECREASE SHOWN

Screwworm eradication program officials report that producers from 104 Texas Counties discovered 439 screwworm infestations during the month of June. This is less than six percent of the 8300 cases that were reported during the same month last year.

Although the number of cases that were reported during the same month last year, Although the numbers of cases are extremely low for this time of year, eradication workers, warn livestockmen cannot afford to become complacent. Infestations have been reported from widely scattered areas of the state; as a result of trying to provide special sterile fly treatment for each reported case, production and release capabilities are being strained to the limit.

To prevent further stress, officials recommend producers spray their livestock with Corral or Koriam every two or three weeks. These materials, which kill newly-hatched screwworm larvae, also give protection against other livestock insects such as horn flies, gnats, lice and ticks, officials stated.

SIDE-DRESS
WITH THE FULL MIGHT OF NITROGEN

It's now or never for this year's cotton and grain crops. The nitrogen needed for an abundant, high quality harvest should be applied before the 12th week of growth or before the plant begins to boot or bloom. Anhydrous ammonia supplies this nitrogen in the largest quantity by volume and in the most usable form. We recommend and sell Shamrock Nitromite because we know it to be a fine brand of anhydrous ammonia, 82.2% nitrogen.

From Shall We Go

by Alfred White

and he answered and he that soweth the seed in the Son of man and the field is the world and the good seed, are the sons of the Son of man; and the tares are sons of the evil ones; the enemy that sowed is the devil; and the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are angels. As therefore the Son of man is gathered up and cast into the furnace of fire; so shall it be at the end of the world. Son of man shall send his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth." (Matt. 13:37-42)

CHURCH OF CHRIST
GRUVER, TEXAS

This parable is teaching the truth regarding the Kingdom of heaven. To better understand it's meaning we must know what is meant Kingdom of heaven. Sometimes it means all that is in heaven and on earth at God has redeemed. (1 Thess. 5:12) The first includes the church of the firstborn in heaven and on earth, God the Father, the spirits of just men made perfect, and Jesus the author of salvation. (Heb. 12:22-24) The second simply means the church of the firstborn on earth. (Col. 1:13; Heb. 12:28; Rev. 1:9) This parable reveals the Kingdom to be the church both living and dead, or "the general assembly and church of the firstborn" purchased with the firstborn's blood.

The good seed are the sowing of the Lord. These are individuals that have obeyed that form of teaching delivered to them" (Rom. 6:17) and are "adopted" (Gal. 4:5) into the family of God. (Rom. 8:16-27; Eph. 2:18-21) They can be living now or have died physically. Their ownership does not change with the passing of the years, nor with the taste of physical death. They are called "Christians" and their salvation from past sins has been accomplished through the blood of Jesus Christ. (Eph. 1:7).

The damel (tare) seed are the children of the wicked one. He (the Devil) is called "a murderer from the beginning, a deceiver, and father of lies." (Jno. 8:44) He is completely diabolical in nature and never ceases to try to "pervert the right way of the Lord." (Acts 13:10) He has many within whom he operates and uses to gain his wicked end. He is called "the spirit of the air, the agent that works in the heart of the disobedient." (Eph. 6:1-2) All souls that have personally transgressed the law of God are his subjects, for Jesus said "that whosoever sins in the servant of sin." (Jno. 8:34) Their end and the end of their father is the lake of fire that shall never be quenched. Rev. 20:10

"The harvest is the end of the world". This is the general resurrection "in which the sicked shall be separated from the just". (Jno. 5:29) This is the time in which all scoffers will wail their anguish and scream their sorrows. This is also the time when the just shall be led into living fountains of water and all tears shall vanish.

The last and most revealing party of this parable is given. The fact that God will send his angels to gather "out of his kingdom" all things that cause stumbling and those that offend". This means that of "the good seed" there are those that will be called out because of lethargy, indifference, and wickedness. It means that in the church the individual that drifts back to the old ways of sin shall be eternally lost. (Rev. 16:16) Yes, he who is trodden under foot
