Miss Hart, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hart of Gruver, wore an emerald green taffeta gown for the annual queen's contest. When asked what she thought the strong point of Farm Bureau was, Miss Hart said, services. Farm Bureau

Board chooses depository bank

PAIGE HOLT

The Gruver Independent School Board met July 10 at 7:30 in the morning.

Those members present for the regular meeting were Supt. Jack H. Weldon, Wayne Garrett, Bob Gillispie, Tony Shapley, Dennis Stedje, Ronnie Williams and Rick Barkley. Barkley has been appointed by the board to replace Randy Brown. Barkley was administered the oath of office at a special board meeting held June 11.

The minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved by the board.

A motion was made by Stedje to accept the bid of the Gruver State Bank as the depository bank for a two year period, which will end Aug. 31, 1987. The motion was accepted by Williams and carried unanimously.

The board read replies, concerning the annual GHS senior trip, from the eight senior sponsors. Following discussion, the board decided to obtain input via a survey taken from GHS seniors and their parents. The responses from the survey will be reviewed by the board in August.

A motion was made by Shapley and seconded by Stedje to pay cash for the IBM hardware package for the school business office, instead of a five year payout as previously decided. The motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by Bob Gillispie and seconded by Shapley to appoint Mack Hoel as the 1985 auditor, with the stipulation that the audit be presented at the December meeting. The motion carried unanimously.

Williams made the motion for GISD to employ the following people as 1985-86 bus drivers: Jackie Barkley, Royce Blackshear, Ron Blessingame, Orville Boese, Russ Chisum, James Dorman, Doug Frick, Peggy Frick, Linda Haenisch, Bill Henderson, Clifton Horton, Lloyd Looper, Roy Mayhew and David Steele. The motion was seconded by Barkley and unanimously carried by the board.

A motion was made by Shapley, seconded by Stedje and carried unanimously to adopt a resolution approving the changes of the Hansford Appraisal District. The fiscal year will be changed to Oct. 1 through Sept. 30 and directors will be appointed at staggered terms.

Stedje made the motion to reject two gasoline bids that had been received by GISD. New bids will be requested in August for the gasoline for the fuel pumps located behind the high school. Shapley seconded Stedje's motion and the board accepted unanimously.

A motion was made by Stedje and seconded by Gillispie to authorize bids be taken for 2-way radios for school buses. The motion did not pass.

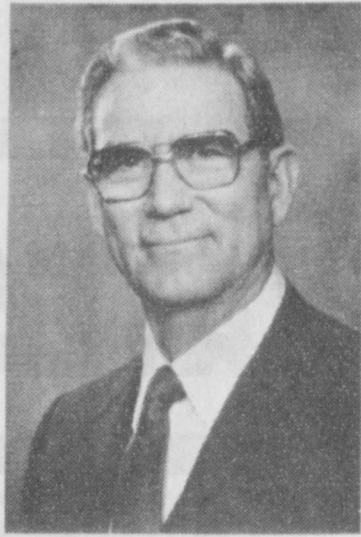

The board voted for Williams to pay bills, and the meeting adjourned at 11:15 a.m.

Key Changes in SPS Leadership

BILL ESLER

AMARILLO, TEX.-The board of directors of Southwestern Public Service (SPS) today announced key executive changes in the electric utility's leadership in preparation for the pending retirement on Aug. 31, 1985, of board chairman and

Crisis Center can help

A certain client who had not yet been battered, but who had reason to suspect that such an incident was on its way, called the Panhandle Crisis Center (435-5008). There she found counseling for what she might do to avoid the incident, or what to do if it did actually occur.

This client was several steps ahead of her problem. She was very wise.

We realize that many women are reluctant to reveal to anyone that such a problem exists for them. For these women, we offer the following suggestions:

Violence in the home is a sign that help is needed. It does not necessarily mean that the family must split. Sometimes counseling can help the situation to such an extent that violence does not re-occur. But violence does tend to increase. It is extremely important that you seek help at the very outset. The Panhandle Crisis Center can provide you with the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of agencies that offer this kind of help. Do not hesitate to call us even if you want nothing more than information.

But suppose counseling seems not to be an avenue open to you.
There are still things you can do:
Learn what legal right you, as a victim, have. Learn what will happen if you call the police. Learn what happens if you decide to file charges. Can the County Attorney's office help you, and how?
Learn the differences between restraining orders and protective orders, and whether either of these will help you in your situation. You can also call the West Texas Legal Services (806-373-6808) to see whether they can help you. The Panhandle Crisis Center can answer many of your questions, or can give you referrals for whatever additional information you need.

If you are a victim, it is good to tell your family or friends or neighbors that you are having problems, for in an emergency you many need their help. When violence is threatened or is about to happen, or is happening, you should not be concerned about what will the family/friends/neighbors think. Probably they adequately suspect that you are having problems and want to help. If you are fearful for your children's safety, don't leave them when you go for help. However, if you have no choice, call the law enforcement agencies - the Police Department or the Sheriff's Department. You may need to call the Texas Department of Human Resources (435-4710, for, though they are qualified to investigate all cases of child abuse, they are concerned about potential danger to children. They have no wish to separate children and parents, but they are dedicated to protecting all children.

Violence is not necessarily related to alcohol, but drinking often aggravates a tendency to violence.
You may need counseling in you family for both alcohol and violence.
Perryton Family Services (435-3671) can offer help for both.
Alcoholics Anonymous has three numbers where you can call for help with a drinking problem: 435-3590, 435-5081, and (their club house) 435-9974. If you prefer a center that it not in the local area, call the Panhandle Crisis Center during office hours for information about out-of-the-area locations.

The same applies to other drug-related problems.

Pastors, ministers, priests are also resources. If they cannot themselves help you, perhaps they can recommend some other resource that can help.

All right, so you don't want to break up your home, but safety is a problem. In that case, you must develop a plan in which you know whom you can call, where you can go, how you will get there, how long you will stay before you return home. And you must be aware of what you might face when you do return.

If all else fails, you may want to consider a period of separation from the one who is battering you.
Often a separation will help a batterer decide that he does indeed stand in need of counseling, and he will follow through with a determination to seek it. The separation will also give you an opportunity to think things through while you are not in crisis situation. In addition, it provides a time of calm for the children, who suffer from the violence whether or not they are themselves victims.

If you are considering divorce, you need to hire an attorney.
Determine at the beginning what fees will be charged, what will be involved, etc. of course both partners in divorce situation need an attorney. The children are the responsibility of the parents. If you think there is a possibility of violence, plan ahead what you will do so you will not have to leave the children in the home while you seek help.

Usually batter has a 3-part cycle:
1) the "tension-building stage," in which the victim suffers minor beatings and tries to placate the batterer; 2) the "acute battering incident," which may be provoked by something outside the home that involves the batterer, or by the victim's getting angry; 3) the "I'm truly sorry" stage, in which the batterer pleads for forgiveness and promises never to batter again. But sooner or later the cycle begins again, so plan ahead to seek help.
Help is available. But you must ask for it. The "I'm truly sorry" stage may be the time for you to make sure the batterer gets the needed counseling.

The staff or volunteers of the Crisis Center need certain information if they are to help you adequately. We need your name, address, telephone number where you can be reached, what the immediate situation is, the safety of the family members, and your willingness to work with us. The information is absolutely confidential.

Suppose you choose not to follow through with the suggestions offered. The choice is always yours. Of course, if we are obligated by law to report an incident, we will do so, as, for example, child abuse. We expect you to call us a second or third time if you are victimized, even if you have chosen to remain where you are. But if the situation is to improve, you must make decisions along the way. Be sure to think well about the suggestions and the information provided, etc.
Even if you have had only a telephone contact, please call us back to let us know what decision(s) you have made. It helps us to help others if we know how we have helped you.

If the Crisis Center has provided shelter for you, please keep in touch with the volunteer while you are in the decision-making process.

The Crisis Center also has support groups for victims who are in, or who have been in family-violence/sexual assault situations.
Call the office to inquire about these.

Remember. We are truly interested in you and your well-being.
This goes for the victim, the batterer, and the children involved.

An orator isn't always a thinker.

Advice is usually expensive, one way or the other.

Born-McClenagan vows read

MR. & MRS. WARREN McCLENAGAN

Marian Kay Born became the bride of Warren McClenagan in an afternoon ceremony Saturday, June 8, in the St. John Congregational Church, near Follett. The wedding vows were read by Rev. Floyd Thiessen, pastor of the church, in a candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Born of Darrouzett, and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Dean McClenagan of Gruver.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace. The bodice featured a high collar of lace, and a v-shaped yoke of illusion embroidered with Schiffler lace and seed pearls. The full skirt of silk organza featured two wide rows of lace and two rows of flounced organza at the bottom in front, where they joined three rows of lace and three rows of organza which swept into a full chapel train. The veil, made by the bride, was edged in Chantilly lace and secured to a cap covered with lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and lavender and white daisies with baby's breath and lavender streamers.

Barbara Duke of Darrouzett was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Becky Smith of Plainview and Cindy Virden of Gruver. They wore identical dresses of lavender taffeta and carried bouquets of lavender and white daisies with lavender streamers. All of the flower arrangements were made by Judy Virden of Gruver.

The groom wore a formal white tuxedo with tails and lavender tie and cummerbund.

Brian McClenagan, Gruver, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Tim Pruitt, Guymon, Ok., and Gregg Peterson, Steamboat Springs, Colorado. All wore silver-gray tuxedos with matching ties and cummerbunds.

Cousins of the bride, Debbie and Craig Schoehals of Carthage, Mo., served as candlelighters. Ushers were Daniel Born of Darrouzett, brother of the bride, and Rafi Ali of Singapore. Guests were registered by Lori Fletcher of Gruver, cousin of the groom.

Organist for the event was Lovella Thiessen of Follett. She accompanied Mrs. Ruth Schoehals, Darrouzett, the bride's aunt as she sang, "Let Us Climb the Hill Together" and "The Wedding Prayer". The other musical selection, "Just You and I", was presented by Betty Chisum, Gruver and Brian McClenagan.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall and carried out the bride's chosen colors. Serving table was presided over by Lori Fletcher, Viva Renner, and Rayma Born.

The couple honeymooned in Red River, N.M. before returning to their home in Plainview where they are both attending Wayland Baptist University, Warren majoring in Composite Science and Marian in Business. Mr. McClenagan is presently employed by Cargill's Paymaster at Akins, Texas.

On The Go With Joy

We completed Little League play the second week in July, then the Little Older League took over playing ball. At least, I think that is what they are doing. I can hear the bones creaking clear over to my house. I haven't watched the men with their shenanigans but I watched the women one night and after the observing them with twisted ankles, sore backs and pulled muscles, I believe if it was me, I'd sur pray for rain on the night I was supposed to play.

Anyhow, that reminds me of the newest way to tell that we are getting old is when we hear the "snap, crackle, and pop" in the mornings, and it isn't our cereal. Now some of us are in better shape for playing ball, but some of us (like me) are only in shape for the rocking chair and the knitting needles. For instance, I'm a whiz at finishing things after working on them for nearly 20 years. Anyhow, the sweater I started for a daughter 20 years ago, will fit the granddaughter (if I get it sewed together).

So speaking of how we know we are over 40--here are a few dandys I came across recently.

"You know you are over 40 when...."

You participate in a ball game on Sunday and hurt until Wednesday (recognize anyone friends?)--getting a little action means your prune juice is working--you start reading the ads for hemorrhoids, constipation, hair loss, and various pain relievers. You begin buying the stuff--worse, it helps--you stop to think and sometimes for get to start again.--You appreciate the luxury of a nap in front of the T.V.--You start entering Senior, Master and Veteran Class sport events and still lose. And here is one for all the people who have recently attended school and family reunions. You know you are over 40 when.... everyone looks soooo old. All your classmates are overweight and instead of combing your hair, you start "arranging it". There is more hair on your chest than on your head. Some of your friends grow beards on their chins to camouflage the loss on the top part of their heads.

Texas-Our Heritage of Faith

HOUSTON -- From the stately Spanish missions that dot South Central Texas, to the gothic Polish and Czech cathedrals of towns with names like Panna Maria and Cestahowa, to the simple, open-air "camp meetings" nestled in the Piney Woods of the east, religious faith has been a strong force in the shaping of Texas' cultural history. And now, this religious influence will be the star of a television series, "Texas - Our Heritage of Faith," to air for the Texas Sesquicentennial in 1986.

The series, produced by KHBUTV of Houston, will begin during the second half of the Sesquicentennial year, said Father Bert Akers of the Diocese of Galveston/Houston's Office of Film and Television. The Diocese is the sponsor of the 13- to 16-segment series, which will be available to public and commercial television stations alike.

Each thirty-minute segment will be narrated by a well-known Texas personality and will tell a story through location photography, antique furnishings, clothing and photographs. Planners opted for a story format (as opposed to straight documentary) in order to give viewers more of a feel for the times -- what it was really like to be a circuit rider, going from town to town to spread the Gospel in all kinds of weather and primitive situations, for example, said Fr. Akers.

While the series is being produced for the Sesquicentennial, planners are hopeful that its value will extend far past 1986.

For more information about "Texas - Our Heritage of Faith," contact Fr. Bert Akers, Director, Office of Film and Television, Diocese of Galveston/Houston, 1700 San Jacinto, Houston, Texas 77001, or call 713/659-5461.

Corps of Engineers review . . . Lake project approved

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in a Washington review of their proposal for a Palo Duro Creek lake took the unprecedented step last week of approving a water project with a pipeline system to supply water to communities for municipal use.

Action by the Corps was without precedent because the federal agency has never built a water project with a conveyance system, explains Johnnie Lee of Spearman, general manager of the Palo Duro River Authority.

The PDRA executive was in Tulsa, Okla., on Wednesday to meet with district Corps officials and determine the impact of the decision on the project.

The Washington decision apparently gives the Tulsa office authority to continue with its planning study on the project. The approval was for an interim report, published in January, 1983.

Construction of the dam and water supply system by the federal agency is one of two routes for the Palo Duro Lake.

The other is a privately-financed project by the Palo Duro River Authority, which is composed of Moore and Hansford counties. Its member cities, and future water customers, include Dumas, Sunray, Cactus, Gruver, Spearman and Stinnett.

A lake to supply the municipalities with water would be built at the junction of the Palo Duro and Horse creeks, northwest of Spearman, under both plans.

"The Corps of Engineers study is for a lake twice the size of what we propose," explains Lee. "It will include provisions for flood control while the PDRA project does not."

Another difference between the two projects is its administration. If built with PDRA and state funds, the water authority would retain control of the lake and the surrounding recreation areas.

If built with federal funds, the lake would be administered by the Corps and would sell water to the PDRA.

The PDRA project proposes a lake of 60,000 acre feet of water, at a cost of approximately $53 million - an estimate which also includes the water purification plant and a supply pipeline.

The Corps of Engineers project is designed around a 170-foot tall dam which would impound a lake with 2,122 surface acres. Cost is estimated at $150 million.

"I'm in Tulsa to determine what this means to us," he reports. "The Corps has never stepped out of the project even though the river authority is looking in another direction to build and finance the water project."

The PDRA general manager believes that the Washington decision during a review last week came because "they realized that the Ogala underground water formation is being depleted and we are going to need a water supply."

He points out that this is the first time the Corps of Engineers has approved a project with a municipal water supply system.

In another development this week, Lee learned a hitch may have developed that would hold up Texas water development funds of $15 million earmarked for the North Plains project.

"The funds we anticipated apparently were diverted to another project by an amendment on a legislative bill, passed the last day of the 69th session," he reports.

State water board officials informed Lee of the apparent delay Monday.

"I will meet Monday with state water development board," Lee declares. "I don't know the facts yet or how it will affect our project."

Superior grain yields with a good grazing bonus.
Excellent straw strength, too!

Our researchers were impressed by the tremendous pasture production and grain yields from these new varieties during testing. And now that the varieties have stood the test of actual production on many farms under many conditions, the proof is in!

They grow off well and show strong resistance to SBMV, leaf rusts, fungal leaf blights, and the Hessian fly.

• New 2157 gives you good, early grazing, then stays with you through the winter. And the grain yields are right up there with anything you care to compare it against. Choose 2157 for dryland or limited water production.

• New 2165 works with your irrigation program to make the most of all you put into the crop. Pasture comes on strong in the fall and grain yields are among the best you'll find, bar none.

A note of thanks To God:

Mrs. E.A. Greever

Friends more this week about the three in one, Father, Son and Holy Ghost. God who was in the beginning and we read in the final eternal abode the Holy City He will dwell with his people and be their God. Before that time no one had seen God but all things are of God who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ. 11 Cor. 5:18. Reconciled brought into harmony with God. The law was weak through the flesh God sending his Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin condemned sin in the flesh that the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us who walk not after the flesh but after the spirit. Rom.8:3-4.

The foundation of God standeth sure having this seal the Lord knoweth them that are his and let everyone that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity(sin) 11 Tem.2:19. God is a spirit and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. Everything God wants done is fulfilled by his son Jesus, and the price was paid by him for our spirit soul and body. Though he continually went about doing good all he knew it seems was suffering. Friends we certainly are not reading a fable, fairy story or anything of the work of man when we read the Bible neither do we learn of Gods plan concerning us by a New Years resolution, plan to turn over a new leaf, or make up our mind we are going to live a better life, there must be a sincere deep desire we have a changed sinless life and this we receive by seeking the Lord with all our heart and Gods word tells us when we do that we are found of him. God is a spirit and they who worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth and Jesus is the way the truth and the life. He is the door into the sheep fold by him we enter in and are saved and go in and out through him and find pasture and to climb up any other way the same is a thief and a robber. Jno. 10:1-17. Suffering great suffering Jesus knew before bearing the cross, turned his back to the smiters, beaten and bruised that we can have healing for our mortal body this wonderful benefit until we put on immortality. The Bible declares he is alive forevermore and is the same yesterday today and forever. Jesus was the teacher yes really all humanity needed when walking on the earth went back to the Father and asked him to send another Comforter that people all over the world whose life was holy free from sin by the blood he shed at Calvary could have a teacher. This was the Holy, and we read in the Bible when he comes he will not speak of himself but will testify of Jesus. Jesus gave command to his disciples to tarry until the Holy Ghost came to give them power to carry on the things Jesus can do for we creatures of dust and said teach the people to do whatsoever I have commanded you. We are told he will abide with us forever(as long as we are in these mortal bodies). When changed to immortality we will be in his image. Oh what a glorious hope. When John the Baptist was asked if he was the Christ he replied, I indeed baptise you with water unto re-empentance but he that cometh after me is mightier than I whose shoes I am not worthy to bear he shall baptise you with the Holy Ghost and with fire.

By Gods grace I am one in the time of the latter rain at the beginning of this century who repented of my sins and was forgiven, then came to Jesus and surrendered to him my life, he accepted my offering(life)and sanctified also restored my voice. I had for 2 1/2 years only been able to speak in a whisper. When tarrying as he commanded was baptised with the Holy Ghost and the fire burned within my soul, a zeal to tell others of these blessings, and one day after prayer asking the Lord as to what and where I could work for him I opened the Bible at the book of Ruth and as I read of the instructions given her it was as if they were given me by the Lord right here where you live remain and glean after the reapers have passed by. Oh how wonderful it has been to me to know his divine will concerning my like and with all that is within me I am striving to be obedient and am lifted up into a heavenly sphere as I try to lift up Jesus and his word to others. Its not Gods will anyone perish but that all come to repentance

With a song writer I agree who said, It is no secret what God can do and what he has done for others he will do for you. I'm rejoicing I have a small place to labor in the vineyard of the Lord and now I feel it is high time for me to again say "Thank You" to Mr. William M. Miller for giving space week after week in the Spearman Reporter he owns and publishes for these articles God wants published.

George Strait at Fair again

Amarillo Tri State Fair officials are happy to announce the appearance of George Strait for the second straight year at the fair coliseum on Friday, September 20th at 8:00 p.m. When George Strait released his first single, "Unwound" in the summer of 1981, it marked one of the most auspicious debuts in the history of country music. He accomplished the rare feat of scoring a top ten single his first time out. What's more, his subsequent releases proved that George was no one-hit wonder. He fulfilled that early promise with a string of solid hit recordings, including "You Look So Good In Love," "A Fire I Can't Put Out," "Amarillo By Morning," "Fool Hearted Memory," and "Marina Del Rey," among others. Simple stated, this soft-spoken, amiable Texan, is one of the more talented singer to emerge on the country western scene in the 1980's. Judging by the significant success and consistent quality of his albums and single releases, George will be around for many years to come. Shy and modest, the handsome, green-eyed singer tends to downplay all the acclaim he has received. "I feel real lucky to be where I am", George says, "I'm just real serious about my music and I hope I'm doing the same thing for years to come." George is a man of few words, but his music speaks for itself. Tickets for the George Strait Show are $10.00 each and may be purchased by mail until August 26th when they go on sale across the counter at Western Plaza Mall in Amarillo. Mail orders should be sent to Tri State Fair, Box 31087, Amarillo, Texas 79120.

Jill McLain, 16, was crowned the overall winner of the 1985 Texas State Charisma Girl Pageant on Saturday evening in Arlington, Texas.

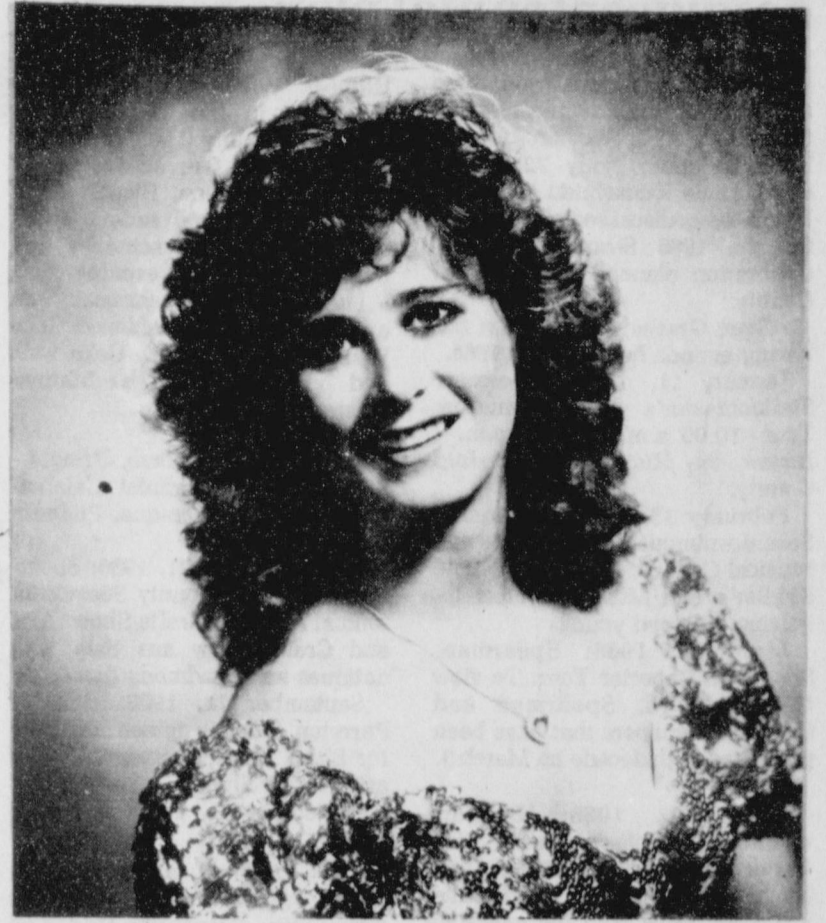

Miss McLain, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McLain of Spearman, received the highest awards in the teen beauty, teen talent and teen model divisions. She received a $500 scholarship, two crowns, three trophies and three banners in last weekend's competition.

Miss McLain also received an all expense paid trip to Hollywood, Calif., where she will compete in the National Charisma Girl Pageant Aug. 15, 16 and 17. She will be staying in the Sheraton Hotel located on the Universal Studio lot.

For the teen beauty division, Miss McLain modeled a powder blue pantsuit and beige sandals. She also modeled a long, silver and blue sequined evening dress, accented with a heart neckline. For the beauty division, Miss McLain was also judged on personality in an interview with pageant judges.

Miss McLain tap danced to "Tiger Rag" for the teen talent division. She performed in a peacock colored costume, which was decorated with scattered rhinestones and beaded fringe.

For the teen model division, Miss McLain modeled a black scoop necked swimsuit, trimmed with white ruffles. In the sleep wear or lounge wear competition, she sported a powder blue sleep shirt. In the street dress competition, she modeled a royal blue T-shirt dress. She also modeled her sportswear and evening gown for the modeling competition.

Twenty girls competed in the pageant, which provides preparation for those interested in competing in The Miss Texas Pageant. The contestants are judged and scored as if they were competing in one of the national pageants.

Miss McLain will be competing for $1500 in scholarships, $500 in cash, a fur jacket, a personal appearance contract, a diamond necklace, appearances on the cover and fashion layouts of a national magazine throughout her reign and a one-week all expense paid holiday in Hawaii when she travels to Hollywood.

Bridge construction underway

AMARILLO -- Construction work is underway on the southbound State Highway 136 Canadian River bridge three miles north of Borger.

The southbound bridge deck will be reconstructed and widened under a $1,958,722 contract awarded in April by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission to Heavy-Highway Constructors, Inc., of Amarillo and Washburn.

While the widening and reconstruction work is progressing, SH 136 traffic will be carried on the northbound bridge only one lane in each direction separated by a concrete median barrier.

Jay L. Hawley, Jr. of Borger,

State Department of Highways and Public Transportation Resident Engineer, said the detour will be in effect until the work is completed about mid or late summer of 1986.

Hawley said the deck, or riding surface, of the southbound bridge was built in 1950 and has deteriorated because of winter freeze-thaw

The existing deck will be removed. A new and wider concrete bridge deck will be poured supported by an additional row of columns. The existing deck is narrower than the approach roadways and the new and wider riding surface will then better align with the highway approach to the bridge.

Hawley is asking for the patience and cooperation of Borger area motorists while the reconstruction work is underway.
