Gruver took their third victory as they downed the McLean Tigers 12-0 Friday night. The Greyhounds made 204 yards on the ground rushing while McLean managed 140 rushing and 23 yards passing.

two plays by Wilson, again and Riley as Gruver took eleven more yards. The Hounds continued to drive down field as Riley and Mathews carried for twelve yards more but the Greyhounds met the McLean defense on the next four tries and were pushed back seven yards, as the third quarter ended.

From this point, McLean took possession and carried from their fifteen yardline to the Gruver 28 where Joe Cluck intercepted. McLean made the drive in only four plays. But Gruver returned with a similar drive as the Hounds led by Mathews for eleven and Wilson and Mathews for fourteen, but a fumble by the Greyhounds gave the Tigers possession on their own 22 yard line. McLean passed for twenty three yards and picked up fourteen followed by five before Gruver took over as the Tiger downs ran out. Gruver closed the game with fourteen yards picked up by Mathews, Riley and Silva. The score was 12-0 in Gruver's favor.

Don Mathews carried the ball 128 yards for the night to lead the Hound offense. He averaged five yards for each carry. Joe Cluck took advantage of the first eighteen seconds of the game as he caught a fumble from McLean and raced twenty-five yards for the first touchdown of the game. Joe also broke up a drive by McLean as he intercepted a pass on the Gruver 28. Gruver intercepted two of the McLean passes for the night as O.E. Gammill took care of the first interception.

Gruver began the first quarter with their first touchdown to lead 6-0 over the Tigers. As the horn of the first quarter blew Frank Silva raced twenty-three yards to the goal to give Gruver a 12-0 lead. Both extra point attempts failed for the Greyhounds.

McLean was never able to push past the 22 yard line of Gruver during the night. The Tigers pushed 37 yards down field at the beginning of the fourth quarter but only managed to reach the Gruver 28 before their drive was broken up by Joe Cluck's interception. As the third quarter ended Gruver had made their way to the McLean 15 but were held as they ran out of downs.

Gruver's Mack Hoel opened the game with the kick to the McLean five yard line. McLean took the kick back to the twenty-five where the player fumbled and Joe Cluck caught the fumble and raced to the goal line for the first touchdown. The extra point attempt failed. McLean took the kick from Gruver but failed to make yardage. Gruver took over on their 33 yardline where Silva and Mathews together carried for thirty three yards and for their first down. McLean tightened the line and held Gruver to a twelve yard loss forcing the Hounds to kick. Still held after one first down the possession of the ball turned to Gruver. Riley and Mathews carried from the Gruver 48 to the McLean 40 but pass attempts on the next plays forced the Hounds to kick.

The Tigers took over but fumbled on their own 48 and O.E. Gammill recovered for the Hounds. The Greyhounds marched down the field with sixteen yards added to the slate as Mathews and Riley carried. Silva carried for one and was followed by two yards by Mathews. On third down Silva carried for twenty three to push the ball over the goal as the 1st quarter came to an end with the score 12-0.

Mack Hoel kicked to open the second quarter after the Greyhound touchdown. But the McLean Tigers met the tough defense led by Gumfory Wilson and Leatherman on the first play and fumbled on the second play as Mathews recovered the fumble and gave the Hounds possession on the McLean 39. The Hounds managed eleven yards in the three plays but took a five yard penalty to force a punt. McLean tried again but Saltzman, Riley and Mathews were there to hold them to only one yard gained. On the third down the Tigers passed into the hands of O. E. Gammill and Gruver took possession on the 23 yardline. Silva and Mathews carried for eleven yards for the first down but a five yard penalty in the next four plays gave the Hounds only five yards gained and McLean took possession. McLean made their first down with the help of Gruver's five yard penalty but couldn't manage any more gain and Gruver took over on thirty-five after Mack Hoel took the kick on the 28 and raced to the 35. Mathews carried for the first down in the next two tries and took four more yards as the half ended.

McLean took the kick from Gruver in the second half on their ten and brought the pigskin back to the 28. The Gruver defense held the Tigers and the possession of the ball changed hands but the McLean defense also proved rough as the possession again changed. Wilson and Mathews carried the ball for Gruver for ten yards and were followed in the next

Spearman's main street in 1921 has a different look from the main street of today

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE PAST TO THE PRESENT

Highlights from the Past to the Present looks at the town of Spearman this week as we take a different picture of Hansford County. This week the history of our county is found in the building and developing of a town.

As we begin we find that Spearman started in 1917 as the town was platted in May of that year. Spearman was named for Thomas E. Spearman, Vice-President of the Santa Fe Railroad. The town began as the promotion of the railroad started.

The First World War delayed the building of the town but in May of 1917 the townsite lots were sold. The lots were purchased from Thomas E. Spearman by the individuals of the area. With the railroad potentials arriving, many citizens of the area saw a future in the town and began work upon moving the town of Hansford to the railroad and to Spearman.

The first building to be moved from Hansford was the John R. Collard Real Estate Office which stood where the present T.G.Y. store stands. It was two years later or in October of 1919 that the train finally reached Spearman. The Santa Fe line branched from the main line at Shattuck and ended at the site of Spearman.

In 1921 the town of Spearman was incorporated and city officials were named to handle the business of the town. Hugh James was named the first Mayor. Lee McClellan served as the City Clerk and was also Alderman. The other four Aldermen were Madison (L.M.) Womble, M.C. Head, Tom Kerr and Fred Brandt.

The two banks were moved from Hansford, as well as the Methodist Church, the hotel and many others. The first banks of Spearman were the First National Bank and the Guaranty State Bank. The Methodist church building was moved and served as the only church of the town for several years. The building is still used and is serving as the First Christian Church Sanctuary at the present.

Albert Liske of Canadian built the first elevator for the county as well as for Spearman. Until this time the farmers freighted their wheat to Texhoma or Guymon to be sold but as the railroad moved into the county the trip was shortened and their grain was carried to Spearman. It was a short while after the railroad was completed before an elevator was built and ready for use but several farmers brought their grain and scooped the grain into box cars rather than freight it to Texhoma or Guymon.

The first brick building on Main Street of Spearman was the Hale Drug. Another first for the town was the show which was built in 1920 and was owned by Tom Finley. It was located where the First Christian Church of Spearman now stands. The show had its own light plant and many early residents recall that they could tell when it was time for the show for they would hear Mr. Finley "crank" up the light plant. Of course the only movies available were silent.

At one time Spearman had six lumber companies. Their two grocery stores were the John Hays Store which was the first building erected on Spearman's Main Street. The other grocery was the Fred Brandt Store or the P.M. Maize store which was moved from Hansford.

One of the trademarks of Spearman is their brick streets and these streets were laid in 1927. Very few towns have brick streets anymore. This was the first paving for the town.

In 1920 the school was moved from Old Hansford and the district of Spearman was made up of the consolidation of Hansford, Happy Jack and Micou school districts. As the years passed there were other areas included in the district.

As the early 1920's rolled around oil was discovered on the north side of the Canadian River and Spearman was the nearest town with a railroad to the oil sites.

There was no bridge across the Canadian River. Therefore all the oil equipment and supplies were shipped into Spearman by rail. The early settlers of the town recall that there would be as many as 100 trucks in the town at a time hauling the equipment out of town to the oil sites south of the county. Spearman was the end of the railroad until 1934 when the line was extended on to Morse and points south.

The school burned to the ground in 1923 and the brick building was erected and in 1930 the High School Building was erected. The first president of the School Board was Mr. A.F. Barkley who was also president of the School Board at Old Hansford.

The first organization for the town was the Chamber of Commerce which was organized by 1921. Their first project was to dig a well for water for the town and after it was in operation the Chamber saw that it was properly in operation. The well was operated by an engine powered by what was called a "Hot Ball Engine" that burned kerosene. Mr. Leo Dacus took care of the city water. The Chamber of Commerce would go from house to house to collect $2 from all that would pay to keep the well in operation. It was some time before the water was piped over town and the citizens would bring their barrel from home to the well in a two wheel cart to carry water home. At first when the well was dug the city officials had a problem of the range stock roaming into town and drinking the water supply.

The Aldermen met for bond elections. They appropriated the bonds for the building of the city light plant which went into operation in about 1924. Another of the jobs for the Aldermen was completed when the ice plant was built. Spearman had no refrigeration at the time or had no way of making ice. The town grew steadily until 1953 with no particular "booms" in population. There were several families who built in Spearman in 1944 after the good wheat crop. Three fires on the main street of Spearman took a great many of the early buildings. There was no way to fight the fires in that time and the men just stood and watched their buildings burn to the ground. After some time the town purchased a hose cart which provided some protection in fighting the fires. Spearman had two doctors, Dr. Gibson and Dr. Haney, but there was no hospital. The nearest hospital was Shattuck Oklahoma or Amarillo and if the patient was quite ill he would be taken to one of these hospitals. The hospital in Spearman was moved from Dalhart but not until the late 1940's

The Spearman Post Office was established in May of 1917 with Hattie Maize, postmistress. The courthouse wasn't moved to Spearman until 1929. The buildings which included the business establishments and homes, were moved by a man and his two sons from Wichita Kansas. The men used steam tractors. For some of the larger jobs mules and horses were tied to the front of the tractors to aid in the moving of the buildings.

Looking back at the establishing and building of Spearman we find that it wasn't the easiest life to live in a town which was just beginning for there was no water, electricity and other privileges which are present in a town today. Beginning from prairies, a railroad promoter promised the townsites a railroad. The various individuals supported the idea of building a town and with these faithful people and supporters, Spearman was established.

HOMEMAKING NOTES

by Linda Webb, H.D. Agent

The hunting season is getting into full swing in every part of the country. Wild game may be coming to your house soon, if members of your family are fond of hunting wild birds and beasts.

Proper care and cooking of any wild game is necessary to get full enjoyment from the hunt.

Game meat adds variety to meals and is high in nutritive value. If the hunter properly cares for the game after it is killed, the home-maker can prepare delicious and palatable game.

An extension bulletin entitled, "Wild Game Care, Cooking", is available at the County Extension office. Included in the 15 page booklet are helps on caring for the game from the field to home, suggestions on home care and preparation hints, for serving delectable game at your table.

Here are a couple of sample recipes from the booklet.

Braised Doves
Salt and pepper the doves and dredge in flour or a combination of flour and corn meal. Heat fat in heavy pan, such as a dutch oven. Brown birds quickly on both sides. Remove most of the fat; add a small amount of water, cover and simmer 1 hour over low heat. Serve hot.

Roasted Pheasant
1 pheasant
1 qt. boiling water
3 stalks celery
1 onion
1 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
4 strips bacon
1 cup water.

Put pheasant in pan and pour boiling water over bird and into cavity. Put the celery and onion in bird. Do not sew up. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in roasting pan and put bacon over breast. Add 1 cup water and roast at 350 degrees uncovered, 2 hours or until tender. Serves 6 to 8.

ATTENTION
those who are interested in the "Make-It-With-Wool" contest. The entry forms for this contest must be in to the County Extension office by November 1, 1964. There is still time to enter the contest, and entry blanks are available at the County Home Demonstration Agents' office. Send the entry forms, completely filled

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McFaddin

Wedding Ceremony Held in Mutual Okla.

Miss Glenda Alberta Cooper of Mutual, Oklahoma became the bride of Charles L. (Bobby) McFaddin formerly of Gruver, Texas now of Downieville, California. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jean Cooper of Mutual, Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knutson of Guymon, Oklahoma. Vows were exchanged September 26th in the Mutual Methodist Church with Reverend Nelson Bradshaw of Nowata, Oklahoma, uncle of the bride, reading the double-ring ceremony at 6:30 in the evening. The altar was decorated with baskets of bronze mums and white pom poms with two pair of seven branched candleabra forming the background. Mrs. Marvin Johns of Wichita, Kansas, Cousin of the bride played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Suzanne Chapman of Bartlesville, Oklahoma as she sang "OPromise Me" and "Because". Miss Chapman concluded the service with the "Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a silk peau de soie gown with fitted bodice and full bouf-ant skirt, ornamented with appliques of Alencon lace, seed pearls and sequins. A scoop neckline and wrist length tapered sleeves were complimented by the full chapel train of the skirt. The chapel train was accented by a bow in the back. Her veil of pure silk illusion fell from a Swedish crown of crystals and pearls. Her only jewelry was a diamond cross necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and white pom poms on a white Bible. The flowers were interlaced with baby's breath and white satin streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Jack Bedwell served her sister as matron of honor. Her dress was bronze brocade highlighted with gold accents fashioned with a fitted sleeveless bodice, with a scoop neckline and a bell skirt. She wore a short sleeved jacket which fastened in the back with self covered buttons. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Francis of Stillwater, Oklahoma, Miss Diana Daugherty of Tulsa, Oklahoma and Miss Lana Beth Shaklee of Jet, Oklahoma. Their dresses were identical to that worn by the matron of honor with the exception that they wore no jacket. Their head pieces were circlets of bronze tulle over fabric roses of the dress material. Their shoes were gold satin. The attendants of the bride each carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white carnations, and white pom poms with white satin streamers.

Candlelighters were Melanie Schaefer, a niece of the groom of Gruver and Deana Sue Newman of Mutual, Oklahoma. Their dresses of cotton broadcloth matched those of the bridesmaids and were trimmed with lace medallions. They wore wristlets of white carnations. Ring bearers were Danny Cooper of College Station, and Bill Cooper of Mutual, Oklahoma, nephews of the bride. Flower girl was Cathy Cooper of College Station, niece of the bride. Her dress was a replica of the candlelighter's and she wore a small veil of matching net held in place by a fabric covered barrette.

Steve Bilyeu of Aaronson City, Nevada served the groom as best man. Other groomsmen were Tom Schaefer of Gruver, brother-in-law of the groom, Robert Denny and Raymond Stahl of Stillwater, Oklahoma. Ushers were Gerald Cooper and Lowell Cooper of Mutual, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cooper wore a sheath dress of rose lace with matching hat and charcoal accessories. The groom's mother wore a beige lace dress with matching hat and brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white chry-

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. The table held a four-tiered white cake, decorated with white bells and bronze icing mums and topped with the same. The bridal bouquet provided the flowers for the center table and the cake was flanked by lighted candles. On either side were smaller round tables which held the silver coffee service and punch bowl respectively. Bronze mums and white carnations were placed around the punch bowl. Mrs. R.J. Cooper of College Station, Texas and Mrs. Lowell Cooper of Mutual, sisters-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Tom Schaefer of Gruver sister of the groom served at the reception tables. Mrs. Linda Payne of Sharon, Oklahoma, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. Mrs. Alan Johnson received the gifts.

For travel the bride chose a Monoco blue suit of double knit, white hat and black patent accessories. Her corsage was of bronze and white mums.

The couple left immediately for Downieville, California where the groom has employment with the U.S. Forestry Service, and where he has been since his graduation from Oklahoma State University last May.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Mutual High School and attended Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, where she was a major in music education. She was a member of the University Choir, Sigma Alpha Iota, Collegiate 4-H Club, Lasso's and Lariats and was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll.

FFA CHAPTER RECEIVES NATIONAL AWARD

Jerry Gumfory
This year the Gruver F.F.A. chapter received the highest award offered any local chapter. The superior rating, given by the National Association in Washington D.C., is the first ever received by the Gruver chapter. This is quite an accomplishment since there are only 200 of these awards given in the United States. This award is given to a chapter because of three basic achievements. These are:

1. Ability to place high in state judging contests.
2. Ability to carry out chapter's program of work.
3. Ability to place high in leadership contest.

Meet The Faculty

by Sandra Riley
Mrs. Pauline Baird O'Keefe, our homemaking teacher was reared in Miami, Texas. She is a widow and has one son and two grandsons living in White Deer. Mrs. O'Keefe has attended Texas Women's University, West Texas State University and the University of California. She has her Bachelor of Science and Master's Degree in Education.

Mrs. O'Keefe has this to say about instruction in the field of homemaking, "There is a crying need for such instruction. Young people are marrying at an early age and having larger families. Unless a girl gets some training along these lines, she will have to learn the hard way, by expensive experiences. She must be taught how much the welfare of the world depends upon her rightful role so that the world will be a better place in which to live."

As a homemaker teacher, Mrs. O'Keefe feels that she can have a small part in making the family a happier group by helping girls see how much their happiness depends on their ability. She feels that from being frill, homemaking is one of the most important subjects in the curriculum.

GRUVER STOPS PANHANDLE 14-6

The "B" Team won their first game of the season Thursday night against Panhandle, 14-6.

To open the game, Panhandle kicked to Gruver who made a first down in two plays. On the next 3 downs Panhandle held and Gruver kicked. The first series of downs resulted in a touch-down on a fifty-five yard pass-run play. Neither team could score after that until Gruver began a scoring drive late in the second quarter. Good runs by Don Kelly Benny Wilson and Steve Butts pushed the ball down close to the goal where Steve went over from the three.

In the second half, the Greyhounds came out fired up and ready to go. Gruver gained possession of the ball with about four minutes left in the third quarter and another scoring drive got underway. Good blocking by Dave Cluck, Jim Beck, Harley Murrell, and O'Dell Webb cleared the way for Hart, Kelly, Butts and Wilson to pick up some long gains. Wilson went over for the score from the one yard line, making the score 12-6 in Gruver's favor. On the extra point try, Butts went around right end behind good blocking for the two points. The final score was 14-6 to give the game to Gruver.

The first grade children studied fire prevention the week of October 5-9 as it was Fire Prevention Week. They helped their parents make a survey of their houses to detect fire hazards, thus becoming Junior Fire Marshalls for which they received red plastic firemen's hats and badges.

Mr. Hoy drove the children and teachers, Mrs. Ellison, Mrs. Hoy, and Mrs. Cotter to the Fire Station Friday afternoon where Mr. Elmo McClellan explained the parts of the fire truck to them. Then he let the children, wearing their bright red hats, sit atop the fire truck and go for quite an exciting ride back to school.

The Poet's Corner

Man's Life is laid in the loom of time
To a pattern he does not see,
While the weavers work and the shuttles fly
Till the dawn of eternity.

He only knows its beauty,
And guides the shuttles which hold
The threads so unattractive,
As well as the threads of gold.
Not till each loom is silent,
And the shuttles cease to fly,
Shall God reveal the pattern
And explain the reason why.

Some shuttles are filled with silver threads
And some with threads of gold
While often but the darker hues
Are all that they may hold.

FORSAKE NOT OUR CHILDREN

"Forsake me not, Oh Lord:" Psalm 38:21

FORSAKE NOT OUR CHILDREN

The Child Evangelism Fellowship held its first booth at the Guymon fair this year. There seemed to be a deep appreciation on the part of many who attended the fair that there were three Christian booths at the fair. There were about one hundred children to come by and sign the register and listen to a Bible story and Bible verses as well as many who just received the tracts and went on by. About fifty adults stopped and talked, gave their names and bought materials.

Mrs. Dolph Young of Turpin, who is director of Beaver county, directed the project. Others who helped and served in the booth at various times were: Mrs. Tom Dortch, Evelyn Kelly, Mrs. Annie Chifton, Mrs. John Thompson and Mr.

"THE WAY I SEE IT"

by Pastor Robert Cordes

"The very stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner, this was the Lord's doing and it is marvelous in our eyes." Matt. 21:42

Everything the Lord does "is marvelous in our eyes." We marvel at the wonders of His creation and thank and praise Him daily for His love and care.

Most of all, however, we marvel at the love He has shown us in His Son, our Merrel Johnson all of Hitchland; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall of Hardesty; and Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Young of Turpin and other workers from Turpin, that did not list their names. Mrs. Mack Dortch of Morse assisted financially.

It is the hope of the directors that from this endeavor will stem some Good News Bible Clubs for boys and girls and some Teacher Training classes in the Guymon area and in Texas and Cimmaron counties.

This concluded the observance of Child Evangelism Week which was October 4 - 11 in which Governor Connally of Texas proclaimed this week as a week set aside for this purpose.

Savior. For Christ is the Cornerstone of our faith. Therefore we sing:

"My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus' blood and righteousness." "He was despised and rejected by men," yet in that very rejection, in the infinite wisdom of God, our salvation was born. For "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed." This is the marvel of marvels.

As amazing as is His love, so awful is His judgment toward those who continue to reject Him. The Cornerstone of our faith shall "grind him to powder."

The greatest sin is the continued rejection of God's love in Christ, and there is no hope for those who are guilty of it.

The way I see it, we need to pause and pray that the Lord continue to open our eyes that we may again and again see the marvels of His Love in the Cornerstone of our faith, Jesus Christ.

And as a result of this love of Christ in you, you can't but help produce works of love and fruits of the faith. For branches that bear no fruit are pruned, cut off and cast in the fire to be burned. Allow God to bear fruit in your life. Call upon Him and His love.

FROM THE AMARILLO GLOBE TIMES

by Thomas H. Thompson, Pulitzer Prize Winning Editor

A couple of Sundays ago I made my regular newstand stop to pick up some out-of-town papers. The old gentleman ahead of me was making a paperback purchase. It was a red, white and blue volume written and published by J. Evetts Haley of Canyon. The book is entitled, "A Texas Looks at Lyndon."

The old gentleman pocketed his change, gave me a truculent look and walked out and got in his car, which was pasted up with Goldwater stickers.

This book is just one of several written about LBJ since he became President on Nov-22nd. I inquired about the sale of Harry Provenca's book on Lyndon Johnson. Also, about Bill White's, summary of which was run on the editorial page of the Globe-Times. I learned that Bill White's book wasn't even in stock. Harry Provenca's was selling fair to mid-dlin'. Then I asked about the Haley book. How is it selling?

The young man on the other side of the counter pointed to it. "That one outsells every thing," he said.

I fished in my billfold for a dollar bill. But I should have saved my money for I had a dozen offered me since, gratis.

I understand there are many 100-lot purchasers who distribute the Haley volume to their friends. The point has been reached where lot purchasers are sending the book to each other.

On the cover the book is described as "A Study in Illegitimate Power."

The book isn't a study. It's castigation of Lyndon B. Johnson--254 pages of warring propaganda.

As an Amarillo man who has known LBJ for years said, "Haley wasn't able to find one redeeming quality in the man."

Haley quotes liberally from any source that will help his thesis. He resorts to the tie-in technique. For example, he ties Lyndon Johnson in with Billie Sol Estes and with the Bobby Baker Case. He doesn't prove the relationship. In the case of Estes he simply ties him in, and, of course, he couldn't prove any relationship. I think we here at the Globe-Times know a little bit more about the Billie Sol Estes case than J. Evetts Haley.

Here is an example of the Haley tie-in technique. To put the Communist label on the President, he said, "On the 6th of November, 1936, Claudia (that's Lady Bird) was joined by her husband, Lyndon B. Johnson, (Texas), State Director of the Communist-ridden National Youth Administration....."

J. Evetts Haley doesn't mind bringing the women of the household into the picture. He gets right after Lady Bird. He does this by quoting the (liberal) Texas Observer and women writers who interviewed Lady Bird or know her socially. Naturally these women always are critical. Says Haley: "Many cultivated women intuitively resent her. In reference to her obsession with money and politics, one southern lady versed in Shakespearean wisdom and illusion sharply wondered: 'In Claudia Taylor Johnson a gentle Portia who outwitted Shylock, or is she more interested in power, such as Macbeth's wife wielded?'"

The Haley book is loaded with hearsay. For example, he chooses to believe that Johnson wasn't drafted for the vice presidential post, but that he demanded the vice presidential nomination and had the support of the late Sam Rayburn, who threatened to take the floor and fight for it. Evetts Haley has Johnson saying, "Tell 'em that I deserve the vice presidency and intend to fight for it."

In his dedicated effort to make Johnson look bad, Haley will lash out with contradictory charges. He said, "Along with power, Johnson loves money. And some experienced observers believe he accepted the nomination for cold cash in hand. Of two stories widely bandied about, one from New York, is to the effect that Joe Kennedy (the late President's father) flew half a million dollars overnight to Los Angeles to tender and be paid to Lyndon Johnson to take second place."

On his own, Haley declares, "There is nothing more significant in Johnson's career--than the fact that he has never been known to take an unpopular position and resolutely go down the line for it."

This is an odd thing to say considering the President's unpopularity in many quarters--when he accepted second place on the Kennedy ticket. It is an odd thing to say in the light of Lyndon's and Lady Bird's hissing and spitting reception in Dallas during the 1960 campaign.

Many people in Amarillo know Lyndon Johnson better than I do. I never saw him in action firsthand until the Canadian River Dam delegation from the Panhandle started making periodic treks to Washington in the late '40s. Then he was a junior senator--energetic, knowledgeable and resourceful.

He was the first man I ever heard describe himself as a politician, and with pride!

I never asked Lyndon Johnson for anything personally, but I have approached him about help for Amarillo and the region and I have been reguffed, rather roughly. Not that Lyndon Johnson hasn't been a friend to Amarillo and the Panhandle. He has. But he does his own picking, and I found that he is a man who is going to choose his own time and his own method and do what he does for his own reasons.

I've heard criticism of Johnson's business dealings in Austin and in Waco, particularly in connection with what was once his and Lady Bird's T.V. property.

One thing has been pretty well established. When the Johnsons acquired their Austin radio-TV property, the seller was happy to have a buyer. He thought he had found himself a bird's nest on the ground. Since then the Johnsons have built their so-called "empire" from scratch and of course, when there is business success, always there are losers and the envious and they are going to sourgrape all the day long.

I know many good men and honest men who have faith in Lyndon Johnson and have backed him all along. There is no man living who had more desire to be President of the United States and has demonstrated more respect for the office. Lyndon Johnson is forceful, tough cagey and realistic. That's the sort of topdrawer man we need at the helm in this chaotic and complicated world.

What about J. Evetts Haley? I first knew him during the time he was attempting to sabotage the Canadian River Dam project down at Austin. For a while he was very successful.

He is a disappointed, embittered and roughshod man with a talent for self-expression. Also he is a frustrated politician, a defeated candidate for governor and a lost-cause man. Also, he is a hero worshipper, but his heroes--men of fiber like Quannah Parker, also a lost cause man--are dead.

The Haley story on General R.S. Mackenzie, the Civil War hero who drove the Comanches and the Apaches out of his country, gives something of a clue to the author's mental process and to the kind of men he admires.

Haley wrote: "His physical fiber was tough and his moral nature was stern. There was no waiting in post for him against an enemy that was a past master of maneuver and movement." He swung north to the Texas Panhandle and caught and soundly whipped the wild tribes on McClellan Creek. He routed their camp, killed many of their warriors, burned 262 of their lodges and carried off 127 of their women and children as captives south of Ft. Concho. Unused to such savage retaliation from the Army, the Indians waked to the fact that a warrior equalled to their own mettle was out against them...With just and undeviating discipline, he sometimes broke his officers for showing less tempered steel than his. But their resentment never led to loss of respect. Somehow they sensed that the ruthless nature of the implacable plains, coupled with the rugged fiber of the red man they faced, would tolerate no other kind."

"Study in Illegitimate Power" may sell a million copies or more, but it is not a legitimate critique.

The people of Texas can be grateful that they never had J. Evetts Haley for governor. We would be participating in the stone age, not the nuclear age.

FROM THE SUNDAY DALLAS TIMES HERALD

The Power of Fantasy Reader Looks at a "A Texan Looks"-
by A.C. Green, Editor of the Editorial Page

WHETHER OR NOT one believes the 7 million copy sales figure reported for the book, "A Texas Looks at Lyndon," there is no doubt it is the most widely read piece of literature in the Southwest.

Written by J. Evetts Haley, of Canyon, it is an attack on Lyndon Johnson which goes far beyond political license, gossip or even the necessities of righteous rage. Haley is a historian with some excellent writing to his credit, but he deserts historical principles and--takes up personal hatred as his guide for "A Texas Looks at Lyndon." It is so outrageously wrong that it is almost impossible to isolate the heavy, sick aura of wrongness and define it.

The result is a book which will appall decent men of good will, even those who severely oppose Johnson the man and the president. The only fit word I can find for it is evil.

Descending Order of Documentation

Haley bases his stories on three levels of documentation. Some are legitimate, reliable sources (although even here one must cautiously inspect the interpretation he gives them). The well documented stories are the well known facts, good and bad about Lyndon Johnson and if the book relied on them for its basis it would be just another book.

A second level of sources to support a vaguer, darker kind of story resorts to such documentation as the Dan Smoot Report, columnist Walter Trohan and Human Events magazine, which few unbiased persons would regard as "disinterested."

But the most lucrative "authorities" Haley appeals to are rumor, presumption and the evil make believe of suspicion. And this is the meat and blood; this is what makes the book sensational. Haley, once he has presented a lurid piece of information with "it was rumored" or "many persons believe," then goes on to base further assumptions on this scrap, offering, time after time, a colossally shocking inference--but never reminding the reader that the whole foundation of the shock was questionable.

Page 109 is a mere example. After a pointless episode which patently causes the reader to link Johnson with an Austin murder, one encounters: "There is a persistent but COMPLETELY UNCONFIRMED STORY that Mrs. Johnson owned one-fourth interest in the giant wartime Sid Richardson Carbon Black plant...picked up from the government at a small fraction of its cost through the political management of Johnson and John Connally."

Then, referring to an $800,000,000 Moroccan air base scandal, "there was NOT MUCH DOUBT in anybody's mind that the responsibility could largely be laid on Lyndon B. Johnson."

'If, As Some Suspect...'

In Page 114, writing about Billie Sol Estes, "It (the public) SUSPECTED the proven master of political maneuver, Johnson, of not only being involved but of having killed the Senatorial investigation." From that point a whole stream of pages go on to build on the assumption that LBJ was behind, beside and in front of Billie Sol--even making a referential link with murders again.

"Certain strange IF NOT SIGNIFICANT stories keep popping up..." (p. 114).

"Bobby Kennedy WAS SUSPECTED of being in daily touch with Judge Barron, and evidently decided the government had trouble enough..." (p. 136).

"Despite all suspicions of Lyndon, he was never proven to be involved, though some tightly closed sessions...INDICATED that the Johnson technique was being applied..." (p. 143).

"And as in the later Bobby Baker case, there were strong suspicions..." (p. 144).

"Certain...incidents were a matter of rumor if not of public knowledge..." (p. 144).

On page 145 begins: "The story got out that it (Johnson's plane) had first flown to Midland, where it was parked away from the terminal and closely guarded...while two men were escorted to it and stayed for an hour..." then in a new paragraph this "story that got out" suddenly becomes a report:

"In the time the report of the Midland flight and the strange and secret conference leaked out" and by the second paragraph, this flat statement concludes: "The two men who had...spent the hour with Vice-President Johnson--they had been seen and identified as Billie Sol Estes and one of his lawyers."

The whole book is such a forest of "And some experienced observers believe..." (p. 199) or "Johnson is reported to have..." (p. 194) and "Gossip used to point to..." (p. 235) that it becomes less an indictment of Lyndon Johnson (who seems to disappear into the incredible fairyland of conspiracy, murder and connivance) than an incredibly erroneous view of a totally corrupt land where all public officials, their relatives, friends and business contacts, are living sinister, Machiavellian careers from which no one is safe.

A more candid subtitle might be, "A Study of Unhospitalized Paranoia."

WHAT ABOUT THIS TEXAN WHO LOOKED AT LYNDON?

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Atlantic City, August 25...While the raffers at Convention Hall are ringing with praise for President Johnson, fanatics of the right are flooding the nation with the most scurrilous literature ever written about a President.

They have dredged the gutters for accusations against President Johnson which they are now spreading by pulp and paperback. Not even Communist literature in Stalin's day was so vituperative in attacking an American leader and portraying the U.S. Government as the enemy of the people.

LIFE'S REPORT

Long before Haley took his look at Lyndon, Life magazine took a look at Haley. This is the magazine that spent six weeks dredging into Mr. Johnson's finances.

In its Feb. 9, 1962, issue, Life had this to say about Haley:

"In the category of the crackpots, it would be difficult to outdo the destructive mischief of an organization called Texans for America. This is the invention of a wealthy west Texas rancher named J. Evetts Haley, who frankly advocates lynching Chief Justice Warren."

BY JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON--A wealthy Texas rancher with close ties to the American Nazi party helped gather the material for the smear biography 'A Texas Looks at Lyndon,' which serves up all the mud and muck against President Johnson in one library pile. This has become the book-of-the-month for rightwing groups, which have passed out an estimated-3,000,000 copies.

Some of the research was done by Thornton Dewey, who has contributed to the American Nazi party and has entertained its funder, George Lincoln Rockwell, on the Dewey Ranch outside Canyon, Texas.

"I dug up information for the book," Dewey acknowledged to this column, "but my late wife was the chief researcher." She died shortly after the book went to press.

They were neighbors of the author, J. Evetts Haley, who owns a ranch six miles up in the hills from the Dewey spread.

Dewey admitted that both he and his wife had worked closely with the biographer. Haley and Dewey would chase down rumors for the book while Mrs. Dewey stayed at the ranch sifting through the material they sent back.

"My help was small," Dewey added, "but my wife gave Haley a great deal of help on the research."

Dewey said they had expected to sell no more than 20,000 copies, but "we did better than that the first week."

While Dewey was entertaining the Nazi leader, Haley brought Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker to his ranch to urge him to run for governor in Texas. This is the general who was forced out of the Army for trying to indoctrinate his troops with John Birch Society literature.

Dewey would not say whether he had introduced Rockwell to Haley. But the two ranchers see "eye to eye" on politics, Dewey said.

WICHITA FALLS TIMES

Wichita Falls, Texas Friday Evening, Sept 4, 1964

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

An Answer To Evetts Haley Book...

Editor The Times:

I have just finished bathing after reading the book "A Texas Looks at Lyndon" by J. Evetts Haley. I am afraid it will take more than one shower to make me feel clean again.

One can see why the author was compelled to publish his book by his own publishing company, the Palo Duro Press, Canyon, Texas, which he owns lock, stock and barrel. No decent company would print it.

Being a staunch Republican and having this book pushed in my face by my Republican friends, I expected something great. As it is, I am ashamed the Republican headquarters here or anywhere else would allow a copy upon its premises.

I am an elderly man with children and relatives in politics over the states and in Washington, D.C. I flew in recently to spend my allotted number of days with relatives here. I, like them, have been a conservative and a Republican all my life and my relatives sit on the Dirksen side of the aisle in the Senate. However, my Republican party is different from the Republican party we have now. The one I have belonged to would not stoop to sponsor the kind of emotional, unverified filth in the book "A Texas Looks at Lyndon." The Party I belonged to was not controlled by extremists. I would not have supported a candidate who obviously sides with the John Birch organization.

A man with the kind of character Haley described Johnson, with not one redeeming virtue, could never have reached the zenith of power Johnson reached in the Senate. Your senators, most of them are intelligent honorable men. They are not fools. On both sides of the aisle, Dirksen, Douglas Keating, and the Democrats, they sought him out. Don't fool yourself. Johnson was a man looked up to, listened to and not without reason. I intend to vote for him.

In Haley's ode to himself on the back of his book why don't you check up on the real feelings of these men toward him at this point? I know, and have known, most of them. Why don't you check these and some of other attacks made in this book? I already have.

PROGRAM ON IRRIGATING WHEAT

Andy Erhart, associated with wheat research at the Garden City Kansas Experiment Station, will present a program on irrigating wheat at the Gruver young farmer's meeting which will be held Thursday, October 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Ag building in Gruver. All interested farmers are invited to attend this meeting.

SAD BUT TRUE

This scene took place at a supermarket check-out counter.

Check-out girl: "The amount is $12.91."

Customer: "No wonder the farmers are getting rich."

These items were in the basket:

- 6 bottles of soda pop
  - 3 pairs of nylons
  - 2 long playing records
  - 4 lb. ice cream salt
  - 1 box corn flakes
  - 1 long-handle mop
  - 1 egg beater
  - 1 quart of milk
- The groceries (corn flakes and milk) came to 62 cents. The farmer's share of the sale was only 14 cents.

MILO RESIDUE MANAGEMENT

The residue from a crop of milo or corn is valuable in the maintenance of soil productivity and should be considered as an asset instead of a liability.

The approximate 6000 lbs. of residue from a 5000 lb. milo crop contains about 85 lbs. of total nitrogen, 25 lbs. phosphorus (P205), and 125 lbs. of potassium (K20). With good management these nutrients can contribute substantially to the requirements of the next crop.

Perhaps of greater importance is the effect of the residue on the maintenance or improvement of the physical structure of the soil as reflected in better water intake and retention, and better tilth.

Many farmers follow the desirable practice of shredding stalks immediately after harvest and the question of whether or not to apply nitrogen to speed up the decomposition often arises. It is evident that for maximum protection against erosion much of the residue should remain on the surface. Surface applied nitrogen on exposed residue cannot be expected to greatly speed up the decaying process and a portion of the nitrogen can be lost to the atmosphere if left on the surface. Nitrogen applied to the residue should be worked into the soil at least partially if the organisms are to be active.

Another factor to consider is that decomposition slows down as soil temperatures drop, and it proceeds fastest when soil temperature is ideal for plant growth. If the residue is likely to be a problem in next years cropping operation, nitrogen applied ahead of land cultivation can speed up residue breakdown. On the heavier soils it may be practical to apply all of the nitrogen needed for next years crop provided the nitro-

Story of the Poppy

Every year on the Saturday before Memorial Day, millions of Americans wear little red poppies over their hearts in memory of our war dead and in memory of those who came home crippled, mangled and some of whom will never be well or whole again.

Those who came back make poppies each year to make a little extra money for their families. This also gives veterans in hospitals all over the country something to do with their hands.

When you wear the red poppy you will know some veteran who fought for your freedom made it in remembrance of those who did not come back.

Almost everyone knows that poppies are worn in memory of the men who lost their lives in the world wars, but they may not be aware of how the poppy came to be the nation's memorial flower.

In 1917 and 1918 American boys fought with determination to end the war but thousands were killed. As the soldiers struggled forward across the shell-torn towns and fields, they saw one touch of life and beauty in all the region where death and destruction reigned. This was the little wild poppy. The brave little poppy grew and bloomed on the hastily dug graves of our American boys. It seemed as if the gallant spirit of the dead had passed into the blood-red blossoms and through the little flowers, was sending a message of courage and hope to those who still lived.

The poppy has become the symbol of the dead, their memorial flower. It has become the sign that the high ideals for which these brave young men gave their lives, still live and are honored.

The poppy covers the soil in France beneath which many of our brave men lie, so in memory of the great sacrifice they made, everyone is urged to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, and nitrogen is not left exposed on the surface.

The practice of applying sufficient fertilizer to take care of residue decomposition while the next crop is growing is quite satisfactory if you remember to use enough to take care of both the residue and crop requirement.

by doing so, to assist the living disabled war veterans and their families.

Cancer Films Available

Mrs. Elmo McClellan Public Education Chairman for the Hansford County Unit of the American Cancer Society, has announced that film on cancer are available to local clubs and organizations interested in having a program on America's number two killer disease.

Films available include "Breast Self Examination" which shows the simple technique of checking for unusual lumps or thickening in the breast; "Time and Two Women" which deals with uterine cancer; and "Life Story" a film about the diagnosis of cancer of the colon. "Smoking and You" an adult film, shows the relationship between smoking and various lung diseases including cancer.

"We would also be glad to show adults the films the Cancer Society has produced to educate students about the hazards of smoking. We know the parents would like to know what their children are being taught about smoking and health," said Mrs. McClellan.

Groups who wish to schedule a cancer society film should contact Mrs. Elmo McClellan, Jr., 902 Garrett, Fireside 7-2316, Gruver, Texas.

The next meeting of the Hansford County Unit of the ACS will be on October 27th at 7:00 p.m.
