Greyhounds defeat Rangers 58-57

The Gruber Greyhounds made the holiday season very festive when they beat the talented Perryton Rangers in a thriller 58 to 57.

The Pittman boys scored 31 points to lead the Greyhounds. Luke Pittman hit 17, and Kip Pittman scored 14 points.

The Perryton Rangers pulled into a 19-15 1st quarter lead, and blew the hounds out of the gym as they led 39-23 at halftime. The hounds closed to within 8 points of the visiting Rangers trailing by 47 to 39 to end the 3rd quarter. In the 4th quarter the hustling hounds scored 20 points and held the Rangers to 10 to win with a final score of 58-57.

The Perryton JV Boys were just too much for the Gruber JV as they zapped the local boys 58-23 in the Saturday night game at Gruber.

Gruver blasts Clarendon

The Gruber Greyhounds defeated the Clarendon Broncos 72-43 at Gruber Friday night.

Frye hit 19 and Morely 17 to lead the hounds in the lopsided win. Gruber jumped into an 18-8 lead at the end of the 1st quarter and led 35-18 at halftime.

The Greyhounds led 56-31 at the end of the 3rd quarter with the final score 72-43 in favor of the hounds.

The Gruber Greyhound Girls were very impressive in their 44-27 win over the Clarendon girls at Gruber Friday night.

Morris hit 16 points and Lamb 10 points for the Lady Greyhounds.

The real heartbreaker of the evening was the Gruber-Clarendon JV girls overtime game in which Clarendon won 27-25. Almost as thrilling was the Gruber-Clarendon JV boys game which Gruber won 39-33.

Fun & Fitness

Saunas, Steamrooms and Sweat

Saunas and steamrooms are used frequently in health clubs and spas because many people believe excessive sweating is good for their health. However, there are many factors which disprove this theory. Water serves many purposes in the body. It maintains an adequate level of hydration for blood volume, it plays a part in body temperature control, it acts as a catalyst in many chemical reactions in the body, and it transports nutrients to various parts of the body (as well as being a nutrient itself). Did you know that the body is made up of over 60% water? That's over half of what the body is composed of!

The old adage of "too much of anything is a bad thing" is totally true. The purpose of sweating is to keep the body temperature controlled by preventing overheating through water evaporation from the skin. The greater the humidity, the more difficult it is for the body to cool itself. Sweat evaporates slowly, and cooling is decreased. Excess water loss can cause several dangerous consequences such as heat cramps, heat exhaustion, heat stroke or death. Water loss also causes chemical imbalances in the body and heart problems. The best way to measure water loss is to weigh yourself before and after entering the sauna or steamroom. A loss of greater than 3% total body weight should invoke caution; a loss of greater than 5% indicates high risk; and a loss of greater than 7% is very dangerous. Therefore, it is important to drink fluids after using the sauna to replace the water weight loss.

People with heart problems can be in the limelight for trouble since saunas and steamrooms put excessive stress on the heart. Profuse sweating may also lead to a decrease in blood volume. If the water is not replaced, failure of the circulatory system may occur. The fad of wearing rubber suits to lose weight is unhealthy because it increases heat production at the same time. As internal heat increases, sweating occurs, but evaporation is prevented. An already high internal temperature has no method of being lowered through evaporation. This causes great stress on the heart and lack of adequate circulation may occur. Don't enter a sauna right after exercising vigorously because the lack of a cool-down period and high heat causes dangerous internal temperatures.

Jumping into cold water or into snow after using a sauna is a popular practice in some areas of the world. There is no particular health benefit to this practice, and there is a potential for cardiovascular shock. Another popular notion is a sauna or steamroom will clean the skin, but soap and water are just as effective.

Saunas and steamrooms have potential recreational benefits. They are safe if used with respect, caution, and for a brief period of time. The most important points to remember are to cool down after exercise or before entering a sauna, avoid the sauna if any heart problems are known, and drink enough water after emerging to replace the water weight loss.

Camping Family Style

BY ANGELA AND FORD BOTHWELL

The man drove to the mountains by himself, planning to spend the next three days hunting. He had a travel trailer based at a campground there, and he was looking forward to three days of solitude.

Arriving early in the morning on the first day, he stowed most of his gear in the trailer, then drove to where he planned to hunt. He spent the entire day hiking through the woods, returning to his car as it was getting dark. He drove to a nearby diner to have dinner, then returned to his trailer.

Bone weary from the day's hiking, the man lit the pilot light on his trailer's propane heater, then waited till it fired up and began to warm the trailer. He set the thermostat for 60 degrees so he'd have a comfortable night's sleep, then turned in, looking forward to another day in the woods.

When the man failed to return home the evening of the third day, his anxious wife called the police. They found the man in his trailer, still in bed. He had died of carbon monoxide poisoning in the sealed-in trailer. He had neglected to open one or two windows slightly, which would have given him the fresh air ventilation he needed.

The grieving wife said that her husband had stayed in the trailer by himself hundreds of times. She could only speculate that his weariness had caused him to forget that all burning appliances require ventilation when in operation.

This true story that happened to an acquaintance of ours should serve as a warning to campers that all camping stoves, lanterns and heaters — whether powered by liquid fuel or propane — consume oxygen in the air and replace it with deadly carbon monoxide. When operated in a confined space, they require ventilation.

This also applies to built-in heaters and stoves in a recreation vehicle, which may be vented but still require a replacement of oxygen inside the living unit when they're in use. It even applies to kerosene heaters, which have become so popular in homes. And, yes, even flameless catalytic heaters.

Carbon monoxide poisoning is a silent killer because the victim is unaware that it is happening. There is no odor. A victim may experience a headache, irritability, nausea and even vomiting before he collapses, unconscious.

So the rule is: "When you light up, open up." When you light any camping appliance, providing adequate ventilation can save your life.

Drive up hours extended

Drive up hours at the First State Bank have been extended. New hours are 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. beginning January 2, 1984. This is another service of the bank for the convenience of their customers.

Why worry about shooting your budget? It'll be done for you if you have to eat out very often.

Trinity Bible classes to start

A program of disciplined Bible study for laymen, emphasizing "Knowing what the Bible says as a basis for what it means" begins January 6, 6:30 at First Christian Church, Spearman.

"We believe that the time is right for a systematic and thorough Bible study for our churches," said Dr. Frank Warden, author of the new program. There are excellent studies now, but these are usually of books or portions of the Bible.

Trinity Bible Studies gives a frame of reference and a total Biblical point of view. For more than five years we studied the methods offering this kind of perspective on the whole Bible, and Trinity Bible Studies is the result. It has now grown to more than 120,000 students from Korea to India.

The plan of the course looks toward ten semesters, each ten weeks in length. The first two are surveys of the Old and New Testaments, followed by depth studies of every word of the Bible.

Not intended as "mere devotional or occasional" material, these studies call for a disciplined commitment. The student is expected to attend weekly classes, complete daily assignments and prepare for examinations. However, the approach is neither heavy nor scholastic. Unique visual learning aids, cartoons and memory techniques present abstract Biblical concepts in memorable form. "The Hebrews knew how to use visual aids—they are scattered throughout the Bible. We believe these are in good taste, and they will fix the important personalities and events in the mind."

The course begins January 6, 6:30 p.m. and is open to any interested person. The registration fee of $8.00 may be sent by check to First Christian Church, Box 637, or come by the church office. For more information contact Rev. Martin Foster, 659-5124.

Hansford County residents have tax refunds due

'Tis the giving season, and the Internal Revenue Service is trying to give 4194 taxpayers in the North Texas area the refunds it has been unable to deliver to them. "The total owed in this year's undelivered refund program is $1,913,913," said Whittenburg, Chief of the Dallas IRS Taxpayer Service Division. "That's an average refund of $456.35, although the range goes all the way from $1 to $22,416!"

Ms. Whittenburg said that the most common reason for IRS' inability to deliver the refunds is attributable to taxpayers' moving after they've filed their returns and neglecting to notify IRS and the post office of their new address. "Even moving from one apartment to another in the same complex could be the reason for the snafu," she explained. "We're asking the news media to publish lists of those to whom we owe checks in hopes that the taxpayers themselves, or maybe friends or relatives, will spot their names and contact us with their correct address. Last year, a relative of a Texas man, who was on a missionary assignment in Africa, discovered his name on our list published in a local newspaper. Within 2 weeks, the missionary had sent in his claim for his overdue refund check. I doubt that we could have found this taxpayer any other way." If your name is on the list below, call the IRS at 742-2440 in Dallas; 335-1370 in Fort Worth; or 1-800-424-1040 elsewhere in Texas. The following persons from Hansford County have a refund due: Joel Olivares Spearman, Texas, and Bobby D. and Jimmy L. Ortega Gruver, Texas.

173rd Airborne Brigade Sky Soldiers Reactivating

Former soldiers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade are reactivating the Sky Soldier Association.

The organization is asking all 173rd troopers -- officers and enlisted men alike -- to get in contact with the association which plans several projects, including a book on the brigade's activities to be written by Eck Spahich of Borger, Texas, who served as a combat correspondent with 173rd.

Personal wartime accounts of brigade personnel will also be included in the planned book. 173rd Airborne was the first Army combat unit to be deployed to Vietnam in May 1965. The brigade rendered six years of distinguished service in Vietnam.

All correspondence should be addressed to Roy Tinker, General Secretary, Sky Soldier Association, 1003 Thrans, Borger, Texas 79007, phone 806-273-3

The 21st Constitutional amendment repealed Prohibition.

Of the 55 delegates attending the 1787 Constitutional Convention, 16 did not sign the completed documents on Sept. 17.

On the go with Joy

Well, here it is the day before the hangover season begins and I'm already feeling hung-over. Actually all it is comes from my annual Christmas Flu. I didn't intend on catching it this year, but somehow it caught me. All in all, this hasn't been a very good year and it dawned on me the other day why--seems like I forgot to eat my black-eyed peas last Jan. 1, but I have them ready this year--providing I can wake up long enough to eat them.

Last week on Christmas morning, I had to deliver our teen-age baby sitter to her job before six a.m. On my way back home, I saw something shining real pretty on the street. Since it was near my home, I thought I'd better stop and investigate just in case it was a gift that had dropped off Santa's sleigh and since it was near my house, I figured it might be mine. It was all red and silver colored and about the right size to be pretty valuable. As I slowed down, making sure no one was coming and looking around making sure no one could see me, I stopped, open the car door, looked down and then I could tell what the "package" was. Well, so much for beer cartons. It was empty and bashed up anyhow.

For the next few weeks, I want to give you some information about the Ronald McDonald House in Amarillo. Just recently, some of my family members have needed to stay hear the hospital and learned of the services provided by the "House That Love Built."

Most of us think of it as a haven for critically ill children and their families. But they wanted me to let everyone know that families that have adult family members in intensive care units are invited to stay with them also.

Included at this facility are about 10 private bedrooms with baths with a central kitchen, family recreation and dining room. There is a large playroom for children, laundry room, plus the offices, formal living room, out-door garden and play area.

There are several ways they have for raising funds to support this institution and among them is a cook-book with recipes from the volunteers that work there. Since I can't pass up a cook-book, I invested in one and found a delightful recipe for peanut butter sandwiches. The originator is a cute, blonde 3 year old who accompanies her mother and brother several times a week to Amarillo where her brother, who is deaf, receives treatment and therapy.

Peanut Butter Sandwich
Take the crusts off 2 breads and save them crusts for the ducks. Stir the peanut butter with a spoon and put the peanut butter on the breads. Lick the spoon and put it in the dishwasher. Put the peanut butter away. Smooth the breads together and tell you Mom to give you red Kool-aid.--that's all.

DISHWASHING DOS — Dilute dishwasher soap half and half and keep a squirt bottle at the sink. Spray food-encrusted dishes and pans as you use them; it cuts grease. For heavy loads, use a steel wool soap pad and wash under running water; rinse and dry. Don't try this method on Grandma's bone china.

WTSU Offers Gifted and Talented Program

WTSU - Mary Jane Reeves, director of West Texas State University's Gifted and Talented Institute, has released the following schedule of courses to be offered this spring.

Any students between kindergarten and grade 12 who have been identified by their school districts as gifted/talented, or whose principals or counselors will recommend them, are eligible to participate.

Since its beginning in the fall of 1982, the Gifted and Talented Institute has worked with nearly 700 students from schools all over the Texas panhandle.

Two- to nine-week courses are taught between 9:30 A.M. and noon on the Saturday mornings from January 12 through March 9. Class size is kept between eight and twelve, permitting the maximum interaction with WTSU faculty and staff members.

Tuition ranges from $20 to $60, depending on the length of the class, and limited scholarships are available.

For full course descriptions, application blanks, or other information, contact Mary Jane Reeves, Director, Gifted and Talented Institute, Box 208, WT Station, Canyon, TX 79015-9990. (806) 656-2031.

Nine different classes, but paid for in three-week segments.

Our Heritage of Faith...

The most direct continuing reason for baptizing infants rests in the simple command that Christ gave to his church: "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit" (Matt. 28:19) Note that all people of all nations are to be made disciples. It would be difficult to argue that children are not considered part of a nation's population until they reach a certain age. Even census takers require that all members of a family be counted regardless of their age.

If children are that important to a nation, how much more precious they must be to the Lord who has given them life. Would God exclude infants when it comes to the method by which persons are reclaimed for fellowship with God for eternity?

Thinking Slim
BY JEAN NIDETCH

We hear a lot these days about "will power," about the ability to set a goal and work toward it, until it is reached. What we don't hear much is "won't power," the ability to say "no" to the temptations that rear their ugly heads along the road to that goal. Yet developing our "won't power" is certainly every bit as important as strengthening our will to succeed.

What shape is YOUR "won't power" in? How do you react when your hostess approaches with a huge slab of banana cream pie, baked "just for you"? Do you hem and haw and then take "just a little taste," and end up eating seconds, to please her? Or have you developed the ability to say "no" graciously? Next time, try a firm. "That looks scrumptious, but I'm afraid it's off-limits to me right now. I can't wait until I've lost the weight and can sample of your famous baking, but until then, what I'd really appreciate is some of that terrific coffee." Redirecting your hostess's attention from the temptation to a more acceptable alternative usually succeeds in getting the weight loser off the hook. That's "won't power!"

Let's take another situation. You've been moping around on a rainy Saturday afternoon, and all you can think of to do is to build a huge Dagwood sandwich, slathered with loads of mayonnaise, and gobble it down with a jumbo bag of potato chips. In fact, you can't get that sandwich out of your mind. You've resisted so far, but as the day wears away, you feel your "won't power" slipping. What do you do?

Since it's usually easier to concentrate on DOING rather than on NOT doing something, getting busy is the answer. Banish boredom with constructive activity that will produce a sense of accomplishment, and you won't feel the need to fill the emptiness by eating. Clean a closet, sort out photographs, repot a plant. Get your hands busy, and, preferably, dirty! Or go shopping for foods included on your food plan. Cook up a favorite low-cal dish for dinner, and make up some extra to freeze ahead, make up a week's menu plan, and include on it a reduced calorie version of that sandwich you've been craving (minus the potato chips!)

"Won't power," like will power, gets stronger every time you exercise it! So next time temptation strikes, give your "won't power" a work-out. When you step on the scale, you'll be glad you did!

STRATEGIES
A financial game plan for retirement.

DEVELOPING A PLAN

There is an important way you can help your financial strategy now and at retirement time.

It's with an IRA. Individual Retirement Account from First National Bank in Perryton.

You can help now because it's the biggest tax break ever. Every wage earner can subtract up to $2,000 yearly from your gross annual income with an IRA. Married couples with a non-working spouse may deduct up to $2,250 or when both work up to $4,000.

PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT

Of course, at the First National Bank in Perryton your IRA is protected up to $100,000 by the FDIC. And, we charge no maintenance fee.

REACH YOUR GOAL

Then an IRA helps you later because your money draws interest at the highest rates available until you start making withdrawals at retirement. It is remarkable how much momentum an IRA can gather as you head towards retirement. If you start before 30 it can accumulate more than a million dollars.

Losing track: Jim Ballowe, 78, opened his Choo-Choo hamburger restaurant in Des Plaines, IL, in 1951, using Lionel toy trains to bring customers their orders. Four years later, Ray Kroc opened the first McDonald's two blocks away. Ballowe visited the Choo-Choo shortly before he opened his McDonald's, Ballowe recalled recently. "He thought our train idea was very novel," Ballowe said. "I asked him, 'Are you going to have seating capacity?' and he said, 'No, people are going to have to eat in their car.' After he left, I said to my help, 'He'll never sell as many hamburgers as I will.'" Ballowe quit the burger business 10 years ago. McDonald's recently grilled its 50 billionth burger. Kroc's burgers had the extra sauce.

TAKING STOCK — Small investors are urged to review their stock transactions at the beginning of the year. Many will find they are not getting full service from their brokers. They have an association that sets standards and perhaps yours is not aware of them. Standards include checking with the client on each and every transaction, among other practices. If a transaction is not as the broker described, take your case to arbitration immediately. Keep records and file with your area financial arbitrators before stock prices go down.

The Coral Sea is located off the coast of Australia.

HOME MOVIES — Protect your valuables with the 'newest' wrinkle in crime prevention — the home videotape. In many cities, you can rent a camera, VCR and a couple of tapes for about $50. Check Yellow Page listings under "Video Clubs" and compare prices. At home, you're the star as you describe valuables and give pertinent data while they're photographed in your home's settings. When tape is finished, make a copy and store it at the bank in a safe deposit box. Notify your insurance agent that the Video is on file.
