ARTESIA REFUNDS GASH

Those Who Paid for Dinners at Artesia May Have Money Refunded by Manager McCanna

From Albuquerque Morning Journal.

The Artesia Commercial Club has very handsomely arranged to pay for all meals purchased by the members of the Albuquerque Trade excursion while in that thriving town, as owing to an oversight the club did not carry out its intention at the time of the visit. A very generous proof that Artesia's heart is in the right place is the following letter received by P. F. McCanna, manager of the excursion, from the secretary of the Artesia Commercial club. All members of the excursion who paid for their meals at Artesia may have their money refunded—up to a total of $37—if they apply to Mr. McCanna before Wednesday next, after which time any of the $37 remaining will go into the "pot" to be donated to charity. The letter from Artesia says:

Artesia, N. M., March 18, 1908. Secretary of Albuquerque Commercial Club, Albuquerque, N. M., Dear Sir:

Herewith I hand you draft for $37, being the amount that your people paid for meals while in our city and which we wish to refund to you.

As explained to you the day you were here, it was our intention to furnish the meals free of cost to the excursionists, but through a misunderstanding with the hotel people, our intention was only partially carried out.

You will see by the enclosed statement that we have ascertained where it was possible to find the parties who paid for their meals, but in a number of cases it was impossible to learn the names as they did not register.

You will please accept this remittance and when opportunity presents itself, explain to your club the circumstances.

We are very sorry that the matter was so badly handled, but you know that our hearts are in the right place and we will try and do better next time.

Very truly yours,
A. C. KINATH,
Secretary.

SALOONS TILL JULY 1

Ordinance Passed Tuesday Night is not Effective at present—Will try to Bluff Druggists

The city council met Tuesday night of this week and the most important business transacted by them was the passing of the ordinance prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquor within the corporate limits of the town of Artesia. It will no doubt be a great disappointment to the earnest prohibitionists of the town to know that notwithstanding the large majority attained by the advocates of this measure that the saloons are to be allowed to run until July 1, or at least that the ordinance is not to become effective until that time. Of course the council may refuse to reissue licenses April 1, and thereby close them at that time, as the people have spoken their wishes in this matter in no uncertain terms.

The clause permitting druggists to sell to the amount of one half pint was stricken out. The City attorney expressed an opinion that this right could not be restricted but the action was taken nevertheless.

The council adjourned to meet Friday night of this week.

For quick sale list your property with E. S. Haggard.

DOUBLE WEDDING YESTERDAY

Well Known Young People Married in the Early Morning

A double wedding occurred at the Presbyterian parsonage Wednesday morning at half past four o'clock, the contracting parties being David Cogsdale and Miss Nellie Turknett, and Albert Kline and Miss Laduska Carson, all well known young people of the vicinity of Artesia.

The bridal party assembled in the parlor of the parsonage and marched through to the archway between the sitting rooms keeping step to the strains of the Lonhengeria bridal march played by Miss Margaret Mathes, while the double ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. Mathes. They took the early north bound train for Roswell. They will return in a few days and take up residence in the Valley under the new conditions.

These young people have been well and favorably known here for years and have many friends with whom the News joins in wishing them all a long and happy existence in the new relationship.

CITIZENS' TICKET

FOR MEMBERS OF THE CITY COUNCIL. J. S. Highsmith, J. R. Creath, C. F. Erb, J. Dale Graham

W. F. Schwartz.

FOR SCHOOL DIRECTORS

J. R. Daniels, E. S. Howell. (J. W. Turknett is not eligible for member of the school board as he lives in the attached territory.)

FOR CITY TREASURER

E. E. McNatt.

The members of this ticket are pledged to the suppression of the liquor traffic, the investigation of the water system deal, and the present telephone rates, and the supporters of the ticket will do all within their power to secure an abatement of the present exorbitant tax rates and to secure the creation of Artesia county.

If you would vote in the coming election, you must register before Saturday of this week, with the board of registration now in session in the office of Talbot & Terrill in the rear of the post office. Please attend to this matter and assist in electing a non partisan ticket thereby preserving unity and harmony in the town.

The Citizens Ticket

Several individuals have assiduously circulated the report during the past week that the Citizen's ticket had its origin in the News office. In fact after careful study of the first page of "the bottle" we have deciphered that James D. Whelan, dry nurse (knee wet nurse) labored earnestly in an endeavor to fix the responsibility upon D. L. Newkirk, the which for the sake of argument we are willing to admit although such was not the case. Furthermore, the above mentioned James D. dry nurse (knee wet nurse) states that our high taxes and our desire to secure county division are "patches" and "flimsy stuff." We are also informed that five of the seven names upon the Citizens ticket are republicans notwithstanding the fact that over one hundred of the citizens of Artesia know that of the eight names upon the ticket four are democrats and the democratic boys have been asked to name one of their number to take the place of a republican thereon.

Suppose for the sake of argument that the Citizen's ticket was named in the News office. We are inclined to the opinion that this is about as respectable a place as an attorney's office. Suppose for the sake of argument that D. L. Newkirk did name the ticket, which he did not, will Whelan, dry nurse (knee wet nurse) engage to say that the personnel of the Citizen's ticket does not fully equal that of the democratic ticket?

The Citizens had no professional politician to manipulate their affairs neither are they skilled in parliamentary practice. It is true that this office is in possession of the Jefferson Manual and Rules of the House of Representatives by Mr. Hines who is paid $2000.00 per year to sit by the speaker and direct his rulings, but we have learned that Mr. Hines is a back number, far behind the times, so we thought best to proceed cautiously. The Citizens have no organization, not even a campaign committee.

If we read the signs of the times

THE ONLY SURE WAY

To have some money is to save some. The one sure way to save it is by depositing it in a responsible bank. You will then be exempt from the annoyance of having it burn holes in your pockets, and aside from the fact that your money will be safe from theft, the habit of saving tends to the establishing of thrift, economy, discipline and a general understanding of business principles essential to your success. To those wishing to establish relations with a safe, strong bank, we heartily extend our services

Hamilton Injured

Sunday morning while riding between Artesia and Dayton, Gayle Hamilton's horse reared with him and fell backwards. The horn of the saddle struck Hamilton in the stomach and stunned him for the time being. When he regained consciousness he walked on into Dayton and has since been under the care of a physician.

Mr. Hamilton had started to Dayton to visit his father and was only about three miles from Artesia when the accident occurred. He expects to be able to resume his work in Joyce Fruit Company's store sometime this week.

You have until five o'clock Saturday afternoon to register and if you do not register you can not vote. All who think favorably of the Citizens ticket should be sure to register.

Pleasant Evening at Atkeson's

Yesterday evening a number of the young people of Artesia gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson to spend the evening and to bid goodby to Mr. Allen Atkinson, who leaves tonight for Los Angeles, Cal. The elegant home in the west part of town was crowded with young people of all ages from the greyheaded editor of the News to the young minister of the Christian church. Refreshments were served and the evening was spent playing many different games. The guests retired at a late hour after one of the most pleasant evenings spent in Artesia.

An auction sale will be held in Artesia next Saturday which will be the first of a series to continue all summer. This idea was tried some time ago by Putnam Bros, but did not prove the success that was expected. It is to be hoped that these sales will be continued this time, for the people of the Middle Valley need something of the kind to get together and do their trading.

correctly, Artesia will, on April 7, add another laurel to her brow and that will be commemorative of the banishment from our midst of narrow partisanship which is as detrimental to our material growth and prosperity as is the liquor traffic.

$1.50 A YEAR

We are authorized to announce John W. Price for the office of Tax Assessor of Eddy County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

James D. Whelan, self appointed nurse, either wet or dry, of the infant Artesia, is exhibiting a wonderful dexterity in the handling of the swaddling for one so confirmed in bachelor inclinations. James D's manifested proficiency in this line should result in a speedy termination of his lonely career. A year ago the aforesaid James D. was the most loquacious advocate of a union of all the people above the Artesian flow. He wished that we might sever ourselves asunder from the Carlsbadites, lay aside all party affiliations and work as one man for the aggrandisement of Artesia and the north part of the county. If we mistake not it was James D who wrote those patriotic and soul stirring resolutions unanimously adopted at the Christian church last spring, and James D full of fire and zeal ceased not to belabor Carlsbad and certain of her citizens until a whisper rolled up the valley to call him off and he was accordingly muzzled. As soon as it was known that an election was to be held which was to determine the fate of the saloons of the town, James D. returned and immediately entered upon his duties as wet nurse for Artesia. He was faithful to the charge and by precept and example strove manfully to instill into the infant sufficient of his own personality to defeat the wishes of the rightful guardians, using the Democratic organ as a nursing bottle. But the fickle goddess, evaded him and the Artesian spirit prevailed on March 3, as never before and soon our boys, the pride of our home and the hope of the coming generation, will have the evil removed from their pathway, and our girls, the objects of our tenderest care, have for their future inheritance, bright prospects of future happiness and sober companions. Who in Artesia does not rejoice because of this? Not even the saloon men begrudge us this bright future.

With the passing of the saloons we thought our greatest troubles past. Our people hoped that unity of purpose would characterize our future actions; that a citizens ticket composed of temperance men would be elected and that Artesia would afterward present a solid phalanx demanding a bridge across the Pecos, lower taxation and the creation of Artesia county. (James D. still wet nurse, refers to these issues as "patches" and "flimsy stuff"). Here was Artesia's opportunity, and here Artesia failed to make good. Here, at the bidding of half a dozen individuals, harmony took hasty leave and discord entered. These few men, in total disregard for the interest of the community as a whole, in an endeavor to take unto themselves all the honor of a contest won by the entire people, disregarding their former pledges and professions of unity of purpose, called a partisan convention with the avowed purpose of nominating a partisan ticket and thus drawing party lines in a town noted for its good fellowship and get together spirit. Harmony prevailed, yes, at the expense of disregarded parliamentary usages and a riding down of what may prove not to be the minority as the dissatisfied ones claim more strength than that which supported the "true blue" ticket. And now again comes James D., claiming to be of sound mind but of changed purpose, not a wet rag about him. Prohibit to the core, just the kind Mullane curses, and he is immediately installed dry nurse by the "true blues" and the same nursing bottle is utilized in the imbibing process. Carlsbad has pulled the string and every paper in Eddy county, the Pecos Valley News excepted, is dancing in happy unison. Ye Gods and little fishes, is it not nauseating?

The republicans of this community begged of the democrats to nominate a ticket, every one a democrat, as a Citizens' ticket and pledged themselves to support the same. At least one half the democrats made the same request and were promptly set down upon and now the same "true blue" prohibitions with a deposed wet nurse for leader are strictly up against it. They are welcome to all the honors they win April 7.

The following account of the Carlsbad tragedy is taken from the Current and if correct shows how lightly life is regarded by the saloon element of that town:

"It is said that Acosta claimed fifteen cents in change and that Holly claimed it was not due him. However, the Mexican left and made threats on Holly; at least so Holly understood, so when the Mexican returned Holly walked out from behind the bar and shot the Mexican when he (the Mexican) had advanced about five feet inside the side door of the saloon. The first shot took effect in the front of the right leg coming out in the rear and the second shot entered the rear of the right shoulder coming out in the center of the breast. Acosta was unarmed and lived in great agony until eleven o'clock a. m., Tuesday."

"THE DEMOCRATIC party has had complete possession of Eddy county and is going to keep it." - Lakewood Progress. Thanks, Bro. Wood, it is refreshing to meet with an editor who will boldly speak the truth even if his statements do not agree with our way of thinking. You are with the Carlsbad extortionists, hand in glove, and your support of them is no less vigorous than that of others who are claiming that they are opposed to them and will fight them to the last ditch. There are just two boats in Eddy county and the Pecos Valley News has a whole deck to itself. You, Bro. Wood, are visible on the other craft and we now know where to look for you. The Citizens' movement is afloat and will afford you a target at last.

JIMMIE, dear boy, what HAD you been taking when you wrote that last Phillipic? Surely you, also, have not degenerated to the use of dollar whiskey. However this may be another sad repetition of the poor dog Tray incident.

"WHAT are the republicans going to do?" asks the Carlsbad Argus. With only a renegade paper in their paper in their midst, what can they do?

The Prohibition Ticket

THE CITIZENS ticket which appears in this weeks issue of the NEWS, is composed mainly of Democrats, and these were put on the ticket by those of the Democratic party who feel that partisanship should have no place in Artesia, and who believe in carrying out the pledges made a year ago at the mass meeting in the Christian church. As the NEWS has stated before, we have no personal objection to find with the men who compose the Democratic ticket, but we believe that now as heretofore, no politics should enter into the election of the officers of our city. There are those who loudly cry that the pledges made a year ago are not binding, and with these gentlemen we must admit that they are not, but the people of Artesia who really meant what they said that night, are backing the Citizens ticket and standing for the good of Artesia against any selfish political schemes. It may not be the purpose of rank and file of the Faithful Forty-seven to stand by the Democratic element of Carlsbad, but they are certainly being led in that direction. There is every reason to believe that the "reform movement" which called for limited salaries, was merely a carefully planned move of the Carlsbad gang, and from the attitude of some outside the town, they were evidently cognizant to the scheme and were lending it their support. If such be the case, the Democratic ticket stands for the continuance of knee bending to Carlsbad, while the Citizens ticket stands for the best interests of Artesia now, and of Artesia County in the future.

It might not be such a sad calamity after all to have a few republicans in office in Eddy county. We do not know of one consistent republican who has not at all times been true to the best interests of Artesia. There is not one of them in close touch with the Carlsbad ring or who has any intention whatever of joining hands with them in the coming campaign. We could name one, recently accused of "conspiracy against the town" who put up nearly $300.00 in the attempt to secure county division after the funds subscribed by the citizens for that purpose, had been tied up by practically the same bunch of our loyal citizens who are now goody goodying the Carlsbad candidates.

WHAT an unrighteous citizenship we of Eddy county must be. It costs us nearly $7.00 on each $100.00 valuation to be governed. Of course we do not have the north end of the county have the privilege of pointing with pride to our court house at Carlsbad, our jail, at Carlsbad, our Pecos river bridge, at Carlsbad, our prosperous officers, at Carlsbad. In fact the receiver of all good things, within the gift of the people, is Carlsbad. Bless 'em they even condescend to govern us for which oversight it cost us only $7.00 on the $100 assessed valuation.

It is almost impossible to keep the spontaneous wit of the editor of the Carlsbad Current from breaking out in the most unexpected places. At present he is running a full page ad setting forth the merits of a story which will appear in his paper later on, and states that the other reading matter in the paper will be worth $10 to any reader in Eddy county, citing as an example, his fearless editorials. The funny old Irishman will have his joke in spite of prohibition and High Taxes.

WHEN those Simon pure progressive and fair minded republicans repeatedly asked that a Citizens ticket be nominated, even though every man upon it be a democrat and pledged themselves to support the same they were seeking to "take advantage of the fairness of the democrats and ride into office." The writer of the above quotation is entitled to sincere sympathy.

WHAT is whiskey? asks the Albuquerque Morning Journal. Well did you ever! Say, ask some of the Trade excursionists.

Why is James D. Whelan?

Attorney Atkeson was attending court at Carlsbad last week.

Have Sperry & Lukins make your connection to the new water system. Lukins is a member of the Master Plumbers Association and the only one in town. They will do your work cheaper and better than any one else. Will have a complete stock of plumbing goods. Make inquiries as to why you should patronize Sperry & Lukins.

M. J. Crum and wife left Saturday morning for Fredonia, Kansas, where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Crum's son left with the car of household goods last week.

Miss Vivian Newkirk entertained the members of Miss Ross' Sunday school class at her home last Saturday evening.

Ground oats and kafir corn mixed half and half $1.75 per hundred. Artesia Milling Co.

The Eiler show "The King of the Cattle Ring" played at Artesia last Thursday night to a crowded house. The show was not as good as it was last year owing probably to the absence of Mr. Eiler himself, who was with his other show. "Down Mobile" The band, however, was excellent.

Word was received here Sunday morning that it was snowing in the little town of Hope, twenty miles to the west of Artesia.

Once upon a time a fellow named Johnson made faces in Artesia. He is doing it again at the same old stand.

A tower is being built behind the Central office for the fire bell which arrived from Roswell last week. It is about fifteen feet high and is located so as to be handy for the operator. The first proposition was to locate the bell at the City Clerk's office but as this would necessitate calling up that office in case the alarm was turned in by telephone, it was thought better to put it where it would be reached without loss of time.

Wanted—Old lady for light work. Mrs. R. B. Kimbaugh.

W. A. Wilson of Roswell, Well Supervisor for District No. 1, has sent in his resignation to take effect April 1. Arthur Steven who has been his assistant for some time, will probably be appointed in his place.

The Artesia High School baseball team will go to Roswell Saturday and show the youngsters in that town how to play the great American game.

Remember Sperry & Lukins are complying exactly to the law and ordinance in regard to tapping the city water pipes.

C. L. Heath & Co.'s well rig finished up the Norfolk well north of town last week and a flow of six inches over an eight inch casing is reported.

High Art Clothes, this spring and summer styles, made by Hart, Schaffner & Marx, for men who dress well. For sale by Joyce-Pruit Co.

The allwise and ever condensing Democratic Central Committee of Eddy county has relented from its harsh decision of two years ago and will allow the natives to vote in the primaries this year. At least that is what we judge from the report of the meeting, which says that the clause stricken out of the rules related to the Mexicans.

The Dayton Oil Company has been forced to abandon their first test well for the present, due to the damaged casing in the well preventing its being cleaned out. The company is now making preparations to start a new hole and if they are successful with this one they hope to be able to return to the first well and do something to it later.—Dayton Echo.

The Talmadges of Roswell brought in over 100 homecackers on the last excursion and are selling them land in the northern part of the Valley. The company required three cars to handle the crowd.

Sperry & Lukins have a new machine for tapping the new water pipes.

The little town of Elida has taken a step that would prove beneficial to Artesia. A license of five dollars for the first day and three dollars for each succeeding day or part of day, will be charged persons who sell goods on the streets or peddle any kind of merchandise through the town. The ordinance provides that this shall not effect traveling men who sell for wholesale houses, but it hits the traveling mail order man pretty hard.

THE FARMERS INSTITUTE

Next Meeting Will be Held in Artesia Saturday the Fourth of April

The next meeting of the Artesia branch of the Farmers Institute will be held in Artesia April 4 and as an excellent program has been prepared it is hoped that all the farmers in the Middle Valley who can possibly attend will do so. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 2:30 p. m.

Plans will be perfected for the Artesia display at the National Irrigation Congress at Albuquerque, and this is another reason why there should be a good attendance at this time. The following program has been prepared:

Raising Corn J. W. Turknett

Sacred to Memory of Uncle Jim Chisum

James Chisum was born Sept. 23th, 1827, in Hardeman county, Tenn. His parents moved to Paris, Texas, in an early day where he grew to manhood and married Miss Ora Josephine Wright, Dec. 21, 1853, then he moved to Bolivar, Denton county, Texas, where two daughters and two sons were born to them. The eldest daughter, Mary Branch, and his loving wife died over 32 years ago, and are buried at Bolivar. After losing his loving companion he moved to the old Chisum ranch at South Spring, Lincoln county, New Mexico, with his two sons, Walter and Willie, who now reside in Roswell, and his daughter, Mrs. Sallie L. Roberts of Artesia. Arriving there in 1879 he and his two brothers, the late John S. Chisum who died at Enreque Springs, Kansas; and Pitzer M. Chisum, now of Paris, Texas, owned large cattle interests. They were among the earliest pioneers, Uncle John and Pitzer and every one called them came to N. M. in 1869 with a large herd of cattle and lived at first at Bosque Grande, or old Ft. Summer, now called Sunny Side. Uncle Jim "as he was lovingly called by all who knew him, and to know him was to love him, he had no enemies," lived here during the Lincoln county war when stealing and lawlessness run riot. Yet as he often said, he knew he had never killed a white man or Mexican and not an Indian that he knew of although he had to fight Indians in protecting his life and property, and he had never wronged his fellowman out of a dollar in his life. He had always loaned a helping hand to any one in need and many are the grateful hearts that will send upward silent prayers for him, and although selfish as it may seem, wish he might have been spared to them longer. If there is one thing that tries the human heart and Christian virtue it is to give up resignedly such a friend and good man. Especially a life long friend as Uncle Jim has been to the writer. The Chisums come from an honored and highly respected family. Uncle Jim is a worthy son of the name.

Reader have you ever thought what it means to be an old-timer, and have to fight Indians, thieves and renegades and carry a gun and six-shooter from morning until night, to feel that every time you left your home, kissed your loved ones good-bye, it might be the last time you saw them until cold in death—not the sweet, peaceful death that comes to release you from a long suffering, but shot down by the white assassin's bullet or butchered and scalped by the Indians. This is what this dear old man has gone through; this is what it means to be a pioneer and blaze the way for you, the present generation. Then will you out of the goodness of your souls and Christian virtue offer a sincere prayer for the repose of this dear old mans soul. This I beg of every one who reads this article.

As a physical fact, there must be something especially good in a man, who has had such surroundings and associations and yet not be led astray or become corrupt.

These old pioneers lived here for

A Pecos Valley Farm vs. One Elsewhere.

From Hagerman Messenger.
We are perhaps in error in trying to compare a 40 acre farm in this country to a 40 acre farm, say in Kansas, Iowa, Missouri or Illinois; but nevertheless, we will use this size tract as an illustration. A forty acre farm in any of the above states has long ago been given up as a failure, as it is not enough to make a man a living. We will first take a forty acre farm in one of the above named states, and we plant ten acres of wheat, which we will say yields twenty bushels per acre and is sold at say 80 cents per bushel, this will make it $160 for the wheat, then we will put in ten acres of oats, which makes us 50 bushels per acre, 500 bushels total and we sell them for 30c per bushel, total $150. 15 acres we will put in corn, which yields 50 bushels per acre, 750 bushels of corn at 50c per bushel $350. Now we will leave the remaining 5 acres for a small pasture and a garden and a building spot, and we will say that the five acres will bring us in $100, we now have a total of $785 to this we will add a calf and a few hogs the farmer may raise say they bring him $215 or a total gross income of his forty acres of $1000.

Now we will take 40 acres in an irrigated country like ours and we will first put out a 20 acre orchard and 15 acres in alfalfa and 5 acres for pasture, garden and buildings. The 20 acre apple orchard may be farmed between the tree rows and enough feed produced from it to feed four horses, two cows and their calves and 25 head of hogs the year round and have some over. The fifteen acres of hay will sell at $10 per ton or a total of $600, say 20 head of hogs at $10 per head $200, 10 head of horses three months winter pasture at $1.50 per head per month $45.00, 10 calves at $10 per head, a colt at $40, and say $100 off the truck patch, the same as in the first farm. This gives a total of $1005. We have not figured the expense of farming the land, but will say that it is the same, then we have to figure from the first farm, feed to run the teams for the year, which would amount to at least $200. This would leave the 40 acres irrigated land $205 more profit than the other for the year. The increase on the land in the States would be perhaps five or ten dollars per acre in value, while the irrigated farm and the 20 acres of orchard would increase at least $50 per acre each year up to bearing, and when it comes into bearing should net the owner from $100 to $400 per acre.

Change in Train Time

Agent C. O. Brown informs us that a new time table is expected soon on the Eastern Railway of New Mexico, though just how soon he cannot say. It is expected to put the trains back to the time they were supposed to come in two years ago, about seven in the morning and seven-thirty in the evening. The road has now advanced so far along that the train comes in fairly regular, and the new time table, if they stick to it, will be a great convenience to the people of the valley.

A Bachelor's Sad Plight

That the bachelors of Lakewood are ingenious and able to overcome a difficulty in short order, was clearly manifested last Friday night. Just before the dance was to begin at the new barber shop, there was a scene in the Platt-Childress store which could be plainly noticed through the big glass doors. Ernest A. Fields had donned his best black pantaloons and by an unfortunate accident had torn a great hole in the front part of one leg. Bachelor like he had essayed to sew it up, but having nothing but a big needle and coarse white thread you can imagine how it looked after he had finished. In his extremity he called on Nim Childress for help, and Nim, always generous of mind, procured a bottle of ink and a brush and spread the sable coloring over the big white stitches. The job was a good one, and no one at the dance had a bigger time than did Ernest.—Lakewood Progress

Bridge Picnic at Hagerman

Hagerman will hold a big jollification picnic Friday April 3 to celebrate the completion of their bridge across the Pecos. All kinds of fun is promised those who are fortunate to attend and to make the merry-making more complete the Hagerman people expect to have the Artesia Band with them. Although nothing definite has been done yet, the Hagerman people are at work raising the money and there is not much doubt that the Artesia boys will be there to help with the celebration.

The railroad company sent a young man full of bright hopes and much optimism to Artesia a few days back to take the night shift from two until twelve, and he was supposed to be it with a big I. He was a graduate from some school of learning in Topeka and what he did not know about the scientific part of telegraphy was not worth looking at. After twenty-four hours residence in Fairrest Artesia he wrote out his resignation and sent it in. The operator at headquarters promptly wired back that the company did not furnish ice cream sodas for its employees and wanted to know if he was dippy. Afterwards one of the other boys sent in the message, and the a-spiring youth departed as hastily as possible to the place from whence he came.
