first awards new Cubs earn.

To earn a Wolf Badge, Mark completed requirements in twelve achievements; each arrow point represents ten completed projects listed in each boys Cub Scout book.

Also recognized as "denners", or leaders of their respective dens were Todd Oliver and Lonnie Jarrott. Assistant denners are Lance Parker and Kevin Rhinehart.

All Cubs present introduced themselves and their guests. Mrs. Oliver reported each den has twelve members and no new Cubs could be accepted until new adult Colonel Schuyler Bissell, 64th Flying Training Wing Commander at Reese Air Force Base has announced that the base will sponsor a public open house on Sunday, October 6 between the hours of 1:00 and 5:30 p.m. in honor of the 25th Anniversary of Reese's continuous active service as an Air Force Base.

Featured attraction of the day's activities will be the first local appearance of "The Thunderbirds," The U.S. Air Force's Aerial Demonstration Team flying the T-38 Falcon, the same aircraft flown by student pilots at Reese in the later stages of their year-long Undergraduate Pilot Training Program.

High performance Air Force aircraft will be on display along the flightline. The Confederate Air Force Wing at Hobbs, N.M., and a private collector have been invited to participate. They have been asked to provide training aircraft such as used at Reese during the past 25 years.

The modern aircraft will be flown to Reese from other Air Force Bases throughout the country for the static display.

The Lubbock Christian College and the South Plains College marching bands will provide musical entertainment during the afternoon and the Lubbock Radio Controlled Model Airplane Club will demonstrate their version of the Thunderbird's maneuvers.

Many base facilities will be open to visitors during the day.

Lubbock Army Air Field (later to become known as Reese AFB) came into existence on June 23, 1941. The field was officially opened on January 22, 1942 and remained active throughout World War II until it was closed down on December 31, 1945.

The base was reactivated by the Air Force on October 5, 1949 and officially named Reese AFB on leaders were found.

Adult leaders for the pack were recognized by Mrs. Oliver. Those introduced were Wayne Oliver, Cub Master; Mrs. Mary Jarrott, Den 4 leader; Mrs. Pat Grissom and Mrs. Louise Collins, Den 4 assistant leaders.

Den 3 leaders introduced were Mrs. Oliver, den leader; Mrs. Martha Lostroh and Mrs. Peggie Usrey, assistant leaders.

Pack meetings for Pack 515 are scheduled every fourth Monday night of each month at 7:30 in the community center at Shallowater. The public is invited to attend these meetings and learn about Cub Scouting.

The next pack meeting will be October 28 and everyone is urged to come in their Halloween costumes.

Mrs. Oliver announced that anyone interested in helping out as an adult leader should contact her since many boys have expressed an interest in being a Cub Scout if new leaders can be found.

Following a short meeting with parents, where it was decided Cubs would sell candles for a money making project, refreshments were served to parents and Cubs present.

TODAY'S USAF THUNDERBIRD DEMONSTRATION PILOTS—The Leader/Commander of the USAF Air Demonstration Squadron, the Thunderbirds, is (center) Lieutenant Colonel Roger Parrish of Carbondale, Illinois. November 5, 1949 in memory of First Lieutenant Augustus F. Reese, a Shallowater, Texas native killed in combat in 1943. Reese has remained continuously active since 1949 and to date has graduated more than 20,000 pilots from its training program.

Reese AFB is located six miles west of Lubbock, Texas, off Texas Highway 116. (The Lubbock - Levelland Highway).

Shallowater Area Grain Harvest Will Move Into Full Swing Early Next Week

Due to the warm dry weather that has prevailed in the area the past several days, grain harvest is expected to be in full swing within the next week to ten days, if the weather we are now experiencing continues here on the south plains.

According to a local grain dealer, the first load of grain was received for Shallowater, Sept. 5th, brought in by Clyde Fowler from the Brown farm, located 3 1/2 miles north and one mile west of the city.

The DeKalb E-59A yielded approximately 4 thousand pounds per acre and had a moisture content of 13.91. The overall load weighed a total of 31,580 pounds.

Fowler planted the grain around May 1, fertilizing and pre watering the soil prior to planting and irrigating the grain twice after it came up.

According to other reports several more loads have been received this week, since the weather has cleared and the temperature is in a warming trend.

School Witnesses "50's in The '70's"

These aren't old pictures and you are not losing your eyesight. This was the "50's in the 70's" Friday, Sept. 27, when students and teachers turned back the pages of time.

Everyone dressed like their mom and dad in their school days. Girls attire consisted of saddle oxfords or penny loafers, rolled down bobby socks, either long full skirts or straight tight skirts, or some in rolled up jeans, wide belts and clingy sweaters, lots of scarves and big jewelry.

Boys attire consisted of white socks, straight legged pants, t-shirts, letter jackets, leather jackets, sunglasses, and slicked hair combed back.

A prize was given to the most authentic dressed girl and boy. The winners were Theresa Willis and Travis Doggett. The day was really enjoyed by all and let the school body have a day of fantasy.

Tigers Notch Another Victory

by Lucy Stokesberry

The Frenship Tigers came out victorious again as the homecoming fans cheered them to a 9-6 win over the Morton Indians.

Early in the first half, the Indians were pinned down in the end zone after a Morton fumble and the Tigers came up with 2 points.

In the third quarter Eddy Prather ran 38 yards for a Tiger touchdown. Brent Drennan added the extra point and the Tigers led 9-0.

Finally, in the last quarter, Morton made a touchdown but fumbled the extra point attempt. The Tigers win made their season record 3-1.

Frenship plays Roosevelt there Friday, October 4th.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

Mr. Webster, you just didn't publish a dictionary with enough adjectives to cover Texas Tech's victory over Texas. By now, every possible one has been used—and if anyone is tired reading them, no one would admit it Sunday morning.

It was an impressive triumph. Indeed, the Raiders did to Texas exactly what the Longhorns have been doing to other teams through the years. Tech literally outpowered the powerful Horns.

It was especially sweet for Jim Carlen, who had come close four times previously without seeing the Big Red win. Jim couldn't keep a partially concealed smile off his face at the post game press conference, but he was generous in his praise.

He said Tom Wilson called the bomb. He said Richard Bell had called the defenses. And he praised all his aides, while admitting that he shut down Tech's offense at the half.

Shutting down the offense might not sit well with everyone, but it made sense. Texas' Wishbone isn't suited to playing catch up football and Jim didn't want to take any chances on helping Texas get back in the game. Besides, the defense was doing great work.

Indeed, the defense was magnificent. It played the option well, the bread and butter of the Texas attack, and it stopped the power sweeps, trademarks of Texas supremacy.

It started out like a typical Texas game. They kicked off, held Tech, forced a punt and then began the usual methodical drive to the goal. This is Texas. Here we come. Stop us. Get a seven on the board and make the other team play catch-up.

But a funny thing happened. Tech stopped the UT drive, forced a field goal. No one knew it at the time, but it was all over. After that, the Raiders controlled.

Indeed, Tech took the ensuing kickoff and went 80 steady yards for a 7-3 lead. And they scored on one of the plays that Texas loves close in, the quick pitch and end sweep.

Then, to add insult to injury, Tech used the bomb to literally bomb Texas out of contention. This, too, is one of the favorite ploys of the Horns. After that, Tech was the aggressor by playing brilliant defense and forcing Texas mistakes.

The Horns were frustrated thoroughly. In all, they drove 44 yards, 55 yards, 84 yards, 45 yards and 31 yards all to get only three points.

Six times Texas was inside Tech's 30. The Horns reached the 3, 5, 16, 17, 23 and 25. They scored a field goal, lost the ball three times on downs, had a pass picked off and lost a fumble. It was a study in frustration and a tremendous tribute to the defense that the Raiders threw up.

Another little noted comparison was on third down conversions. In the first half, for instance, Tech converted on seven of nine; Texas, on three of six. In the second half, with Tech playing conservatively, the Raiders converted three of eight; Texas, three of ten.

For the game, Tech converted 10 of 17; Texas, six of 16. In fact, Tech's first three touchdowns came on third down situations.

If you were at the game, or saw it on TV, you probably noticed that on his 77-yard bomb, Lawrence Williams turned around and motioned a couple of times to Raymond Clayborn.

Why had he done it? "Clayborn had been talking to me," Williams said with a grin. "I can't tell you what he said, but you know he's supposed to be real fast. Anyway, I got 10 yards behind him on the pass, so I motioned to him. I just wanted to see if he was as fast as everybody said he was!"

For Pete's sake, don't start talking about (1) Ranking in the Top 10; (2) Southwest Conference title; or (3) Cotton Bowl. One game does not a season make, even though it is a giant step in the right direction.

A tough—despite the loss to Baylor—Oklahoma State comes in Saturday. And, looking down the road, you can't sell A&M, Baylor, SMU, Arkansas or Rice short. Even TCU did a good job last week and will have to be considered.

The question here is, can the Raiders remain high the rest of the season? Obviously they did a year ago. Just as obviously, they must this year if they want the same success.

The Raiders were emotionally flat for New Mexico, which becomes more and more obvious. Tech shut Texas down with only 58 total yards the first half—and the Lobos aren't in the same class with the Horns. I think this team has matured and is on its way. Stick with them and you'll be rewarded.

Incidentally, the cream of the Southwest sports writers were present Saturday, including Denne Freeman, the AP sports editor. You may remember that I said, on August 29, I hoped Denne was on hand to see Tech win.

Denne had "given" the title to Texas, using the psychological edge the Horns had over teams like Tech, A&M, Arkansas. I said, also, that I hoped Rosy Leaks was well and played the whole game. Oh, well, even a blind hog can find an acorn every now and then!

Get on out to Jones Stadium Saturday and help yell the Raiders on. How Sweet It Is!

Kathleen Freeman Now Appearing at Hayloft Dinner Theater in Lubbock

Kathleen Freeman is the star at the Hayloft Dinner Theater is a play that was considered one of the biggest hits ever to appear on the Broadway stage called "Solid Gold Cadillac." Miss Freeman will be known by millions from just seeing her face. However, she is best remembered as the mother of Dom DeLuise on the NBC television hit "Lots 'a Luck". However, Miss Freeman's fame dates back many years in television and movies, having performed in over 200 movies and television appearances. She appeared in many movies and was a favorite of Jerry Lewis, and he found a spot for her in the majority of his films. The "Topper" series and "Mayor of the Town" starring the late Thomas Mitchell have made her familiar to all TV viewers, along with the "Dean Martin Show", "Cannon," and "The Lucy Show."

Her starring role in the "Solid Gold Cadillac" at the Hayloft Dinner Theater which previews October 1, 2, and 3 gives her an outstanding opportunity as the lead in this hit play. She holds stock in a massively disorganized corporation and at her first attending a stockholders meeting with her vote, asks some rather embarrassing questions. In order to keep her from continuing her question and disrupting the entire meeting, she is hired by the company as Director of Stockholder Relations in some obscure back office hoping that no one would ever see her, hear her or pay any attention to her. Her homey letters, however, seem to reach the ear of four million stockholders and creates some additional problems that the corporation must solve. It is a comedy, a very funny one. Miss Freeman has an extreme talent for stage productions.

She comes by this talent quite naturally, in that her parents had a vaudeville act. She was raised in the business. She has appeared in about 70 plays in eight years and has directed and written children's plays.

Here's one of the finest pie crust recipes to be found. It comes from one of the finest cooks we've ever found — Elna Carlsson of Chicago.

(Tip: Follow the directions carefully and don't "cheat" on the ingredients. This is pie crust the way pie crust should be!!)

- 2 cups flour
- 1 stick margarine
- 1/2 stick butter
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix ingredients together with pie crust blender. Blend the juice of 1/2 lemon, 2 egg yolks and 5 tablespoons of ice water into the flour mixture. Add your favorite pie or cobbler filling and bake in the oven at 425° for 15 minutes or 350° for 30 minutes.

A little simple arithmetic about a Math major.

The cost of a higher education is getting higher. In fact, you could end up spending close to $20,000 to put your child through college.

So maybe you should consider U.S. Savings Bonds. They're one of the most dependable ways to build funds for an education.

All you have to do is join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Then an amount you specify is set aside from your paycheck and used to buy Bonds.

Say your child is 3 years old now. If you buy a $75 Bond a month through Payroll Savings, by the time he's 18, you'll have $16,048 tucked away. A solid sum to get him started. See? A little simple arithmetic can add up to a lot.

Make the chances of your child's college education more secure. Join the Payroll Savings Plan now.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen or destroyed. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Cooper School News

F.H.A. News

The FHA Chapters had their installation of officers Monday morning at 11:15. The presidents, Shari Hagens and Kandy Jones had lots of help setting up great programs and activities for this year, and plan to have a great year.

FHA also had another great week. It was initiation week for the Freshmen. Everyone looked so cute in their curlers and skirts and red lipstick. We'll try to have some pictures for next week.

Homecoming Game

Friday night was one of the best homecoming games. The Pirates went out on the football field and won the game. The score was 49 to 6. The Pirates won over Idalou. The spirit was really up. Next week the Pirates will go against Post. The Cooper Pirates are the best all around. Good luck on the next game. It will be the first District game of the season and the coaches and boys are all ready to get going and stomp Post into the ground.

Freshmen Win

Thursday night was a great night for the Freshman Cooper Pirates. They went out there and really gave Post a hard game. It was also a very close game. But the Cooper Pirates came up with a 20 to 14 win. The Pirates showed Post what they can do. Good luck Freshmen when you go after Frenship.

Teacher Spotlight

Jay Brown teaches 8th grade English and Grammar. He likes movies and students who listen in class. His pet peeve is students who don't listen in class.

Mr. Brown says that he likes Cooper and thinks the students and faculty are great. He especially likes working on the contest plays in Jr. and Sr. High.

Senior Spotlight

Larry Childers, age 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Childers. His favorite car is a Grand Prix, his favorite color is blue and he loves Mexican food.

Larry plays TB and Corner Back on the football team. He has been at Cooper for 4 years. His idol is O.J. Simpson and he thinks Cooper is a great school.

Freshman Spotlight

Glenna Lynch, age 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lynch. She has been at Cooper for 7 years. Her favorite color is purple and loves pizza. Her favorite car is a Road Runner and Mustang. She thinks the Cooper Pirates are fantastic.

Swetman, minister of Greenlawn Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial was in City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of Sanders Funeral Home.

Brady died Friday morning. He had lived in the Lubbock area since 1923. He owned and operated the Brady Spring and Axle Co. from 1935 to 1966 when he retired. He was a member of the Greenlawn Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife, Eleanor Sue of Shallowater; two sons, Dwan of Lubbock and David of Las Vegas, Nev.; a brother, V.T. Brady of Shallowater, and three grandchildren.

The family requested that memorials be made in the form of donations to Weyview Boys Home in Hollis, Oklahoma.

Burgett Infants Rites Read

Services were at 2 p.m. Tuesday, October 1st in Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home Chapel for Carmen and Dee Ann Burgett, twin infants who died Monday afternoon shortly after birth.

Officiating was Rev. Allen Cartrite, Baptist minister of Shallowater. Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park under direction of Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home.

MIGHTY MUSTANG SHALLOWATER SCHOOLS

Theme of the Week Series: "Let's Keep Shallowater Beautiful"

by Geniese Grawunder

Driving through a small town, I saw a beautiful school building ruined with bright orange graffiti. I decided immediately that the young people were not proud or thankful for their public facilities. They did not realize that their parents had paid for that school building with hard earned taxes.

There are many reasons why we should care for public property. First, public property is ours. Our parents pay city, school and state taxes. The money from these taxes is used to build schools, put up traffic signs, and build overpasses. Why vandalize something that we have paid for?

The second reason for taking care of public property is a matter of pride. If a person has pride in his community and school, then he will hesitate before marring the beauty of our public property.

Last, we should care for public property for ecology's sake. Noise, air and water pollution are just a few ecological problems we face right now. What about mind pollution? What kind of an example is set for the children of our community when the young adults run around tearing up desks, writing on walls and leaving black tire marks on our streets? And what does the older generation immediately decide when they see dirty graffiti written all over the buildings of our community? They decide all young people are bad citizens.

Beautiful public property is a lasting asset. I just hope the citizens of Shallowater will continue to protect our beautiful and hard earned public property. All it takes is mutual caring.

Football Spotlight

by Charles Krebs

This week's football spotlight is on Gary Green and Kelvin Bedingfield. Garry and Kelvin both play offensive guard, right and left respectively.

Garry is a 5'10", 150 lb. senior and he plays defensive end, also. This is Garry's second year on varsity, but he plays like a four year veteran.

Kelvin is a 5'9", 150 lb. senior and on defense he plays safety. This is his first varsity season, but no one could notice it because of the way he plays. Kelvin is a very consistent tackler.

With these two dedicated seniors, the Mustangs are surely headed for a good season.

JV Football

by Chet Webb

Thursday night, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. the Shallowater JV played Hale Center there. The first half was a hard hitting half. Counting yardage and first downs, the Mustangs were dominating. Then in the middle of the third quarter Hale Center broke away 65 yards for a TD, then made the extra points lighting up the scoreboard 7-0, Hale Centers favor. After that they never crossed Shallowater's 30 yard line.

Jess Longoria threw 7 passes. He was two of seven with two interceptions. Mustangs fumbled six times with four turnovers. They fumbled twice with no turnovers. Their quarterback passed five times with no completions.

Fortunately we had no injuries, but let's forget about this game and "Get Springlake".

7th & 8th Grade Football Results

The Shallowater 7th and 8th grade teams went to Hale Center Thursday, Sept. 26th and lost both games. The 7th grade score of 8-6 and the 8th grade score was 22-0.

The only score was made on a run by 7th grader Pete Alvarado. It was the last play of the first half but the extra points failed.

FHA News

Jeanye Hunter, Margie Barron, Donna Boone, Letty Anaya, Janie Serna, Caran Conner, Susie DeAnda, and Kathi Roberts attended an FHA and advisor meeting at Idalou last Thursday, Sept. 26th. Encounter and Impact were discussed by area officers. Our next FHA meeting will be Monday, Oct. 7th at 7:30.

Caran Conner won second place with an embroidered cup towel submitted at the South Plains Fair. Her prize consisted of a set of fancy jelly jars and a recipe book from the Ball Canning Co. for her unusual Red Hot Candied Pickles. Other girls submitting articles were Margie Barron, Debbie Harrison, Deborah Penny and Sandra Taylor.

SOS News

For the Hale Center game, Shallowater High School turned back the years to the "50's". On Friday the students and teachers came dressed as they would have in the 1950's. During the pep rally Theresa Willis and Travis

Hale Center Stops Shallowater

The Hale Center Owls visited Todd Field Friday night and showed their strength and speed to Shallowater. The fourth ranked team in Class A in the state held the Mustangs to only 8 points while getting 22 for themselves.

The scoring got underway when Hale Center's big fullback, Jackie Compton scored on a two yard plunge. The PAT was good. This scoring drive took place in the first quarter and there was not anymore points scored in the first half. The teams went in at halftime with Hale Center 7 and Shallowater 0.

When play resumed the third quarter, Hale Center's halfback went around the right end and scored. The Owls QB then ran the ball for the two points, leaving the score 15-0.

Later in the fourth quarter Hale Center's linebacker intercepted a pass and returned it 35 yards for a TD making the score 22-0.

Then Shallowater reached the goal line on a 31 yard pass from Bobby Reeves to Don L. Grimes. The extra point was good by Jon Gates who dived over for two points making the final score Hale Center 22 and Shallowater 8.

Shallowater was led defensively by Brantley Adams, kelvin Redingfield, and Jerry Harrison. Brantley and Kelvin had 18 tackles, Jerry had 15.

The Shallowater Mustangs travel to Springlake-Earth this Friday night to tackle the Wolverines.

Doggett received recognition as most authentically attired.

The senior class presented a skit. It was a most appropriate song written by Tori Craig, Debbie Grimes, and Alison Terry, and everyone enjoyed it. The junior class prepared the run through, while the sophomore class decorated the halls and sold ribbons on Friday.

The Freshman class really out did themselves with all their unusual posters. Perhaps the item receiving the most interest was a poster of "Athletes of the Fifties". Baby pictures of all the boys on the varsity team were collected and displayed. All the girls in the SOS helped with this poster.

Ann Boone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Boone, lives at 1117 15th St. She is seventeen years old and was born on February 11, 1957. Ann moved to Shallowater in the sixth grade.

She is presently president of SOS, Spirit of Shallowater, and vice president of the Future Teachers of America. Ann is an active member of the Future Homemakers of America, also this young lady must be somewhat liberated being first senior girl to join vocational agriculture. Miss Boone manages the basketball team, and throws the discus during track season.

Teressa Willis was born in El Paso, Texas on May 20, 1957. She

Nancy Thomas Named National Merit Program Commended Student Recently

Nancy Thomas, Senior at Shallowater High School, has been named Merit Program Commended student by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Nancy is among the 38,000 Commended students named on the basis of their high performance on the 1973 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT).

Commended students are in the upper 2 percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1975.

To increase her scholarship opportunities, NMSC has reported Nancy's score to the colleges she named as her first and second choice when she took the test in October, 1973.

We are all very proud of Nancy and are very happy for her.

is the daughter of Mr. Wayman Willis of Arlington and Mrs. Jean Willis of Shallowater.

Teresa is the senior class representative. She is active in Future Homemakers of America and Future Teachers of America. She also enjoys being part of the Spirit of Shallowater organization. Teresa likes to play tennis and volleyball and above all her favorite color is blue. Teresa has moved around a lot but hopes to stay at Shallowater until graduation. Then she wants to attend Texas Tech University where she plans to make a teacher.

NMSQT is co-sponsored by the College Board and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

The test will cost each student $2.50. This fee should be turned in to Mrs. Witcher no later than October 21. Students can pick up a Student Bulletin that contains information and sample questions when they pay their fee.

Vandalism Not Needed at S.H.S.

by Janie Serna

Friday morning the student body gathered in the High School gym to hear comments from Mr. McCasland, Mr. Barnes, and Mrs. Witcher. The primary subjects discussed were vandalism and starting rumors.

Tearing dispensers off the walls in the restrooms isn't quite the "in things". Don't we all realize that it was put there for a primary purpose and with the money coming out of our parents' pockets? Apparently not, because if we all thought this way, then nothing like that would happen. Mr. McCasland informed us that when caught, the person(s) responsible for the destruction of the boys' restroom would be prosecuted.

Tearing up school property or any type of property is a federal offense. Why all this? No one needs to kick the vending machines in the hall, either. OK, so they sometimes fail to give you the merchandise but they succeed in taking your money, but all you have to do is march yourself to the office and tell Mrs. Brown. Your money will be repaid Friday during break. Don't kick the machines. We all want our breaks.

One must realize that starting a rumor can hurt a person deeply. No matter what the rumor can easily add on to it as the rumor is passed to make it "worth telling". However, these additions can lead to discomfort. What does a person actually gain by starting a rumor? Absolutely nothing. But what does the person get of whom the rumor is about? Hurt feelings. So, as the saying goes, "Think twice before you speak."

DECA Leadership Conference Held

by Susan Heinen

On Saturday, Sept. 21, a DECA Leadership Conference was held at the South Plains Junior College in Levelland. Its purpose was to develop leadership in all DECA officers. Shallowater was represented by three of their DECA Chapter officers. These were Terry Bristow, V-Pres., Diana Perser, Treas., and Susan Heinen, Reporter.

This was an all day affair for Area 6. The chapters represented were of all Lubbock High schools, Floydada, Cooper, Slaton, Tahoka, Brownfield, Post, Littlefield, and Levelland.

Everyone had a lot of fun and was sorry to see the conference come to an end, including Mr. Gordon Jones, who is the Shallowater DECA Coordinator.

PSAT/NMSQT Tests Slated

Students at Shallowater High School will have the opportunity to join over 1 million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) as an important step in making college plans.

The test, to be given here on October 22, is designed to measure verbal and mathematical abilities that are important in doing college work. The PSAT/
