

Farm Bureau Meet Open in Fort Worth December 5 - 8

WINTER WONDERLAND—In less than a month, the West Texas area has had snow for the second time. Snow, which makes any area look like winter wonderland, was well received by the kids but it hampered the activities of many adults last weekend.

Shallowater Community Residents Appreciate Dalton Potter

by Dardie Williamson

How many residents awake Saturday morning to find their morning paper either near the front door in the drive way or on the front walk where it could be reached without too much effort and just took it for granted that it was there?

This writer was one of the fortunate ones who got up to get the morning paper, dreading to walk out into the deep snow to get it and upon opening the front door, found it neatly propped up against the door facing, nice and dry, ready for me to read and enjoy with my regular morning cup of coffee without having to get out on that white layer of carpet that was spread over the lawn and driveways during the night by Mother Nature.

So many times we take life for granted and accept daily things as our regular way of life. Dalton Potter is a dedicated man, not only as the carrier for the morning paper, but to his family and friends, and of his loyalty in delivering the paper was evident

About 1,500 farmers and ranchers are expected to attend the 43rd annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau in Fort Worth Dec. 5-8.

General sessions will be in the Tarrant County Convention Center with some conferences scheduled for the Sheraton Hotel.

Policies to guide the state's largest farm organization next year and recommendations on national policies will be adopted

New Deadline for Thanksgiving

Due to Thanksgiving Day falling on Thursday (the day Suburban Today is usually published), the paper will be put in the mail one day early, on Wednesday, November 24.

Deadline for advertising and news items will be 5 p.m. on Monday, November 22. Any merchant desiring advertising and those with news for next week's issue please get it in by the deadline.

Your consideration will be deeply appreciated by Suburban Today personnel in order that they may get the paper published and mailed to the subscriber early in order that employees may spend the holiday with relatives or friends and will be open on Friday, November 26, for regular business.

Community Blood Drive Scheduled

The Shallowater Lions Club is sponsoring a community wide blood drive that will get underway from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon on Saturday, December 4, in the First Baptist Church.

A goal of 30 pints has been set to be received by donors throughout the area. Be sure and keep this date in mind.

There will be more information about the drive in next week's issue of Suburban Today.

to many Saturday morning, as his foot tracks were seen on the lawns, as he treaked over the streets by foot, from one house to the other, doing his job and delivering the paper on time, for you the reader.

Let us all, as subscribers take the time to let Dalton know how much we appreciate his loyalty and dedication. He's up earlier than any of us, throwing the daily news 7 days a week, getting through so he can go about his daily routine of farm chores, plus helping to care for his aging father.

In spite of all that he has to do, Dalton still has time to always give you a friendly hello and a cheery smile when you see him. If and when he ever decides to quit delivering the morning paper, he will be deeply missed. He has us all spoiled, by having our paper on time, to help us start off our day, plus all the other nice things he does.

during the final two days of the convention. Delegates will also elect a president and directors. More than 1,100 voting delegates, representing 190,000 member families in 210 organized county Farm Bureaus, will participate in the business session. The number of voting delegates from a county is based on the total number of member families in the county.

Another highlight of the meeting will be an address by TFB President Carrol Chaloupka and a guest speaker yet to be announced.

Events for young people in Farm Bureau will include a queen contest, talent find and discussion meet.

Recognition awards will be interspersed throughout the convention. Counties will be honored for outstanding achievements in membership, public relations and safety. A meritorious service award will be presented to an individual, not yet announced.

The convention will get under way with registration beginning at 2 p.m. in the Sheraton Hotel. Registration will continue Monday morning in the Convention Center.

A vesper service and discussion meet will be held Sunday evening in the Sheraton Hotel and will be followed by talent find competition in the Convention Center theater. Representatives will be elected in both the talent find and discussion meet to participate in those events at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in January in Hawaii.

The Monday morning general session, which features speeches by TFB President and a guest speaker, will also include the annual report of the TFB Secretary-Treasurer, Reed Lang of Rio Hondo.

A ladies' luncheon and fashion show are scheduled for noon Monday at the Sheraton Hotel.

Eleven special conferences will be held in the Sheraton Hotel that afternoon. These include Livestock and Animal Health, Community Services, Cotton, Wheat and Feed Grains, Rice, Farm Bureau Services, Peanuts and Oilseeds, Research and Education, Farm Labor, Natural Resources, and Dairy.

The annual queen's contest will be that evening in the Convention Center theater with 12 District winners competing. District caucuses will be held prior to the convening of the business session at 10 a.m. that day. Warren Newberry, executive director for the TFB, will make his administrative report at the beginning of the business session which will be held in the Convention Center theater. The voting session will continue throughout the remainder of the day. The annual dance will be that evening in the Sheraton Hotel.

The voting session will reconvene Wednesday morning and will continue until all proposed resolutions have been disposed of. Final order of business will be election of directors from even-numbered districts and the president.

Following adjournment, the TFB Board of Directors will meet to select a vice president and a secretary-treasurer.

Community Wide Services Scheduled

A Community Wide Thanksgiving service will be held Wednesday evening November 24, beginning at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

Silence is Golden

We've always heard this saying "Silence is Golden." For the Shallowater Emergency Medical Service volunteer workers, the saying holds true, for their beepers have been silent for the past several weeks, not having any ambulance emergency calls.

The silent beepers have been a welcome to all of the EMT's especially during the bad weather we have been having. Not only have they not had to respond to an emergency call and take risks on the icy streets, its good to know that there haven't been any accidents or serious sicknesses for them to be called to.

They are always on call from 6 p.m. to 7 a.m. Monday through Friday and from 6 p.m. until Monday at 7 a.m. around the clock on weekends.

If you have an emergency and need ambulance service call 747-3461.

HORSE TALES

Mustangs and Snow Triumph

by Steven Wilson

The last game of the football season was not what one would call an ordinary game. Upon arriving in Stanton the Mustangs were welcomed by a cloudy sky and a very cold breeze. Within fifteen minutes snow began to fall from the heavens. Thirty minutes after the Mustangs' arrival the ground was completely covered with still more snow falling. By the beginning of the game there was more than an inch of snow on the ground. As the game progressed the blizzard became steadily worse making for very poor visibility.

All of these poor conditions did not slow the Mustangs one bit. They marched inside the Stanton 10-yard line three times. At one time they were on the Stanton 2-yard line. Fumbles prevented the Mustangs from entering the end zone. The Mustang offense ran at will chewing up much yardage. The Mustang defense was also awesome, holding Stanton to virtually no yards.

At half-time the score stood 0-0 with the Mustangs clearly dominating. It was at this point that the game became quite opposite of ordinary. The game was called, cancelled—literally stopped. Due to the weather, it was thought best to stop the game so that the Shallowater players could make it home while it was possible. The roads were none too good at that time and I think that we should thank God for the safe return of all those who made the trip to Stanton.

Explanation of the game? This is the way it will be written in the record books: the game will go down as a 0-0 tie. The result is that Shallowater and Stanton are tied for third in District 5-A.

All those who saw the game know that the Mustangs won; or, should I say would have won (for the scoreboard's sake) the game. The Mustangs are outright third place holders in District 5-A behind the number 2 and 5 ranked teams in the state Class A. I consider the season a successful one.

DECA Student of The Month

by Suzie De Anda

Tony Caballero, a senior, is the DECA student of the month. He is employed at the Jesse Hayes' Supermarket. He does a little bit of everything in the store.

Tony feels that DECA is all right because a person is able to get out of school early and get experience in jobs. He also finds that DECA prepared him very well for his job. Tony enjoys his job, but he plans to look for something else in the near future.

Schools Dismissed

Shallowater Schools will dismiss for the Thanksgiving Holidays Wednesday afternoon at the regular time and resume classes on Monday, November 29 at 8:20 a.m. and the busses will run at their regular time.

Best Yet to Come

by Alison Terry

One-third of a school year is gone and done with. Report cards will tell the story of what twelve weeks of school produced academically. A 2-7-1 football record describes what happened on the sports scene. A divided band fell to a Division III at marching contest in the music department. A new homecoming queen, a football sweetheart, after-game dances, and football pep squad get-togethers seem to wrap of the social events.

Most students seem to agree that the best is yet to come and they gleefully wave good-bye to the first twelve weeks of school at ol' SHS!

East Indian Whatchamacallit

by Alison Terry

Take rice, curried chicken, tomatoes, green peppers and onions, pineapple, bananas, coconut, and cashew nuts and what have you got? East Indian Curry!

Hmmm. Sounds interesting. Well, the National Honor Society members all seemed to think so since it was the dish served last Monday at their monthly get-together. The zany recipe was given by Mrs. Syd Pearce who also presented a program on East Indian customs, beliefs, and so forth.

Reactions to the new concoction: "This is so good I'll have to have the recipe!" "umm... it's very ummm... delicious, but I wouldn't want it every day." "This is a new exciting taste. I've never experienced anything quite like it before." "Maybe the dish would have been better if I hadn't just finished a 3½ hour basketball workout!"

A Plaque of Gratitude

by Gloria Lara

Last Thursday before the Jr. High boys kicked off to Stanton, they had a stupendous celebration. It was the last game of the season and they made it memorable — especially those boys who would soon leave Jr. High. They made it special by showing their thanks and gratitude to their young and ambitious coach, Coach Casey.

To show him how much they were grateful, the boys all pitched in and bought him a plaque. They presented him with the plaque at the last pep rally of the season. Coach Casey received the plaque with much surprise, but at the same time it made him feel very good. Even though the Ponies lost their games that night, Coach Casey was proud of his fighting Ponies, and he let them know how much when he spoke to them after the games Thursday night. It was a touching speech for both the boys and Coach Casey. It was such a speech that it brought tears of joy and happiness to all.

Snow Ice Cream

by Janice Cook

Anybody for fresh snow ice cream?

Here's a great recipe:

Take a pot of fresh snow, put some sugar in it (just enough to fit your taste), add enough milk to make it slushy, then add a tiny bit of vanilla, and stir thoroughly.

Variations:

(1) for a richer ice cream add eagle brand milk instead of ordinary milk
(2) or add Hershey chocolate syrup.

Be sure and remember this recipe. You'll be able to use it a lot this winter. It's a great experience and treat for the whole family.

Miss DeAnda's favorite subject in school is psychology. In this class the students get to let out their feelings on just about anything and everything!

Suzie's most-liked "things" are jewelry, new clothes, and browsing through stores. Her hobbies include making scrapbooks, reading all types of books and magazines, and getting down to the vibes of music!

FHA, NHS, Pep Squad; all these organizations are proud to hold Suzie's name on their membership roll. Not only is Suzie a member of FHA—she is president of the homemaker club. NHS is also honored to have Miss DeAnda as their treasurer.

About her senior year, Suzie says she enjoys most "the ability to do more things than ever before."

After graduation Miss DeAnda plans to attend West Texas University in Canyon or possibly Pan American University in Edinburg, Texas. Wherever Suzie goes, she wants to major in elementary education.

A Chilling Upset

by Gloria Lara

Last Thursday night the seventh and eighth grade Ponies traveled to Stanton. It was a long trip and they were determined to win, but Lady Luck just wasn't with them. After many upsets the 7th grade Ponies thought they could wind up the season with a win against Stanton. It just didn't turn out this way. The Stanton boys were just too tough and they showed it when they beat us 32-0.

The 7th grade only played to halftime because of the cold wind and because it was a long ride back. It was a hard playing game but they still lost.

The 8th grade Ponies also had an upset when they lost to Stanton. The Ponies tried their hardest but Stanton was determined to hold the Ponies and they did when Stanton won by a score of 14-0.

Volleyball Rap Up

by Claudett Lamb

Last Thursday Nov. 11, 1976 Shallowater's Volleyball girls went to Plains. This was for District playoff. Shallowater lost to Plains, but came up second in District. The girls had a long cold ride to Plains. They played a good game, but was defeated despite their work. The community would like to wish you good luck next year.

Victory

by Claudett Lamb

Shallowater's J.V. was able to put a dazzling victory under their belt, and it was their last game of the season. They came up with a 26-0 score against Stanton. The weather was against both teams, but the Mustangs seemed to be the best against the conditions. The boys were very proud of their hard work that paid off in such a super way.
