Agriculture Leaders to Attend Texas Farm Bureau Conference this Month

A large group of local Texas agricultural leaders will be travelling to Washington, D.C., later this month for an unusual version of the annual Texas Farm Bureau conference for county FB presidents, according to Carrol Chaloupka, TFB president.

Some 225 persons, including wives of some of the farm leaders, from 130 counties are expected to go. They will fly from Houston and Dallas April 22 and will return April 24.

Chaloupka said the purpose of the trip is to give the local leaders a first-hand look at the governing processes on the national level. They will also have the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with their elected representatives in the U.S. House and Senate, he said.

The Texas farmers and ranchers will have breakfast with the Texas delegation in the House on the morning of April 23. They will later meet that day with Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen.

Besides making contacts with legislators, the Texans will be feted to a banquet featuring

American Farm Bureau Federation President William Kuhfuss and the Washington office staff of the AFBF in a discussion of "The Washington Situation."

They will be conducted on a special guided tour of the Department of Agriculture and will meet with Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz and his staff.

In addition, they will see the usual sights including Fords Theater; the Federal Triangle; the Capitol building; the Supreme Court Building; the Library of Congress; the White House; the Washington, Jefferson, and Lincoln Monuments; the Cherry Trees; the Smithsonian Museum; the National Gallery of Art; and Arlington National Cemetery.

Plans for the trip were approved by the TFB Board of Directors early this year. It was made contingent on the state farm organization reaching certain membership goals. In order to send a representative, a county Farm Bureau had to have 55 per cent of its last year's total membership and 50 per cent of Around 150 bouquets and pot plants were sent by well wishers for the opening. Free penny jar samples were presented those attending and a picture of the first bank, The Shallowater Mercantile and Banking Company, was given.

New Councilmen Elected Here

Three new councilmen were elected in the city election Saturday in a vote turnout, termed as one of the best. Former councilman, Jack DuLaney, running unopposed for the mayor's seat, collected 190 of the 193 votes cast in the election.

For Place 2, W.A. "Dub" Hardin drew 140 votes in his favor, with his opponent Bob Grice getting 51.

For Place 3, Doyle Moseby eased by E.V. Lesley, 77 to 66, while Gene Usrey came in third with 50.

For Place 4, Joe Cox had 95 votes with his opponents, Mrs. Howard Preston, 68 votes and W.R. Johnson, 27.

The newly elected officials will be sworn in at a later date, joining council members C.E. Pair and Philip Gerig who have one more year on their term.

The terms of Mayor Howard Preston, Councilmen Bert Deavours and A.C. Wages, expired and all chose not to seek reelection. The three men have served several years on the city council and have seen many changes during that time.

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

SANDSTORMS

Out of the northwest come billowing reddish-brown clouds. Common to most areas of our state, this phenomenon which serves little or no useful purpose, is the sandstorm. Before air conditioning, weather stripping and other such modern improvements, the dust was at times hardly bearable. Sometimes lasting for days, sandstorms may all but stop activity and commerce. Human, animal, and plant life all share in this bitter chastisement from nature.

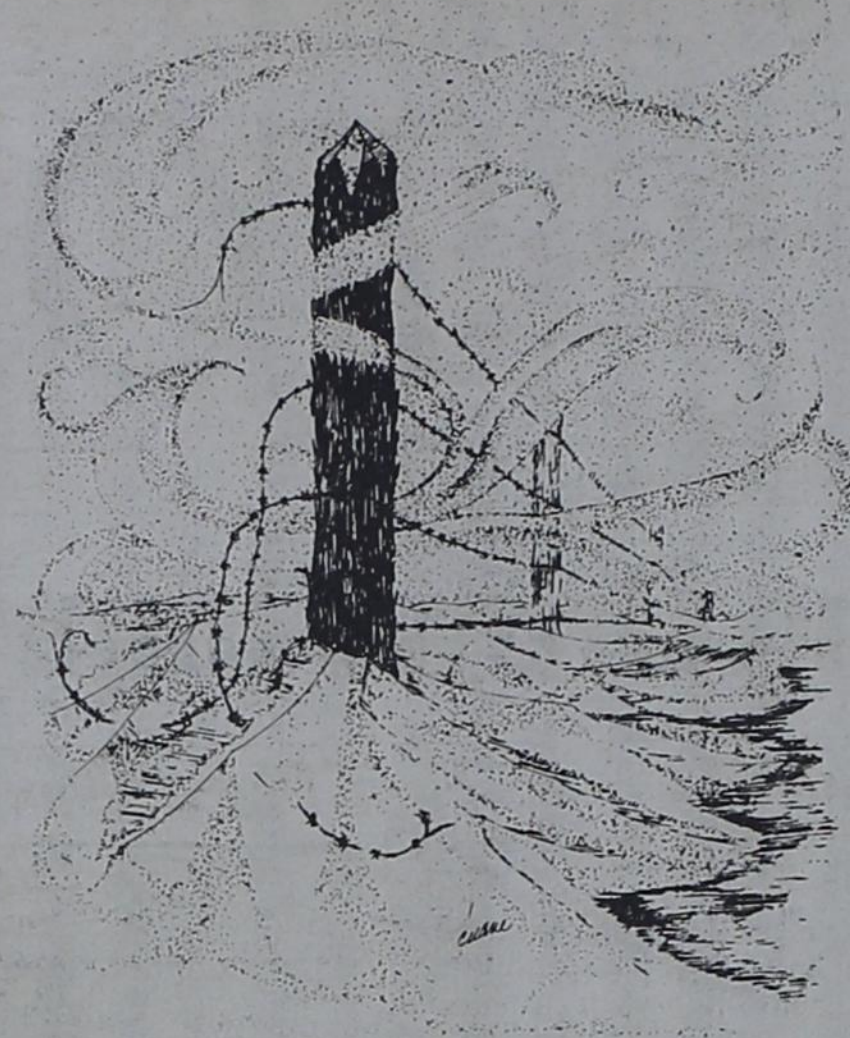

I don't know what the length of the longest sandstorm on record might be but I remember one when I was a youngster that lasted over three weeks. Sand came into our old house literally by the tubs full. It was impossible to breathe, sleep, or eat without a lot of difficulty. We covered the windows with wet bedsheets and towels but sand still came in.

Piles of sand (called sand dunes) build up against buildings and around fences. Did you know it is possible for sand to completely cover a four strand barbed wire fence during a single sand storm? One time in a really sandy area, the sand covered one farmer's fence so he just built another above the first by setting new posts in the sand dune. A month or so later there was a severe sand storm which lasted for days. Looking out one morning, he was surprised to find that all the dune was gone, leaving both fences lying tangled together, completely out of the ground.

Lester told about a sandstorm he was in one time. He got his pickup stuck in a deep drift of sand. The vehicle was high-centered and wouldn't move. The axels were setting squarely on the ground. Nothing else to do, he walked through the blinding dust a few miles to get help from a neighbor. When the two men returned, imagine how bewildered they were to find the pickup, not stuck as it had been, but setting high on the ground, ready to drive away. Wind had blown the sand completely away from the wheels.

Sandstorms are unpredictable. A fierce wind might blow but not pick up sand. Dust may be in the air when there is no wind at all. I've seen dust blow when it's pouring down rain and also during a snow storm. It may blow for several days and suddenly stop for no apparent reason. Lots of studies have been made and many things done to try to prevent sand storms but with little success. I guess this is nature's way of telling us we don't have all the answers, even with modern technology.

Thompson of Pecos, Eva Davis and Seva Anderson of Lubbock, Dorothy Wright of Phoenix, Arizona, Jessie Lee Vance, Scottie Moreland, Bertha Hardy, Bama Wright, Jewell Stanton and the hostess, all of Shallowater.

They enjoyed a grand tour of the beautiful new First State Bank building and gathered at noon in the home of Bama Wright for sandwiches, cake, pie, coffee and tea, and had a great time reminiscing and taking pictures.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

This is the season of the year, as has been written before, when the sports fan really doesn't know whether it is winter still, or spring. Not from a temperature standpoint, but from the great overlap in sports.

The college basketball season is over, but the pros are about to go into playoffs, as are hockey teams. They view, in person and on the tube, with the baseball season, track and, yes, football. You certainly have a wide choice.

As usual, the baseball season is underway and the number of postponements because of cold, rain and even snow are to be with us for two or three weeks.

And, before it is too late, let me hasten to join the "experts" in picking the division winners: Oakland, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, with Oakland beating Baltimore and Cincinnati beating Pittsburgh. That prevents an all-West Coast World Series.

As Joe Garagiola showed on his special Sunday, there are several teams with a good chance to win, teams like the Rangers, the Yankees, the Pirates or Mets and the Cardinals.

The intangibles are the puzzling thing. You never know about injuries, sore arms, batting slumps, errors by the usually reliable, mental attitude, clubhouse feuds. They all play a part, so you stick your neck out and you're stuck with a choice.

Ran into Charley Richards at Levelland Friday. He's publishing a fine paper, things are looking up and he's happy. We had coffee together and I enjoyed talking sports with him.

Charles, of course, was a UPI sports reporter in New York and two interesting stories fascinated me. One had to do with union control over activities of reporters. The other concerned a feature he did on Arnold Palmer, at the latter's home in Latrobe, Pa.

Also, the other day I stopped for gas at a station in Tahoka. I had been in two or three times before, once when the owner became a member of NFIB. I like to trade with our members when I can, of course.

After talking with him briefly, he looked at me and said that I looked familiar and he'd been puzzling about it. Had I covered any fights (boxing) back in the 40s?

I said that I had and his face lit up. I thought so, he opined. I used to do a lot of boxing in the late 30s and early 40s, then turned to refereeing bouts. Maybe I remembered?

I did indeed. G.W. White was a pretty well known name, both in the ring as a boxer and as an official. He was one of the men who encouraged the fight game and took an active part in it.

We talked about the sad shape of boxing today and then he made a statement that could have been copied directly from Bill Henderson.

G.W. said that the best thing that happened to him was when he had turned down a chance to turn pro.

"I saw too often what happened," he declared. "They exploit you and the boxer generally winds up broke. And if they don't think you're a real contender, they forget about you."

Bill Henderson was a better than average featherweight, but he went up to New York with the late J.D. Kirkpatrick, in the then world light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich's camp.

The managers and handlers thought that J.D. was a possible champion. As a result, Bill was largely ignored and, after a few prelims and other fights, he saw the light and came home. J.D. stayed a while longer and then he also left.

Sorry about spelling John Wooden's name as "Woodin" in last week's column. Knew better, but an old fraternity brother's name was substituted for some reason or another.

Anyway, John closed out his career as expected, with a victory over Kentucky. And anyone watching the game knows that the old fox simply outcoached Joe Hall. It was a fitting climax to a great career, with a great game.

Unfortunately, I didn't get a chance to see the Tech scrimmage Saturday, but I talked with a couple of knowledgeable men in church Sunday and they were enthusiastic.

"Oh, they made a lot of mistakes," one said, "but they had a lot of enthusiasm and they hit hard. And I'll say one thing" — with a broad smile — "we're going to have some offense this year. I liked what I saw."

Although Steve Sloan was a quarterback, he played for a hard-nosed man, Bear Bryant, and much of it is bound to have rubbed off. Bear was a no-nonsense man. He wanted his teams to hit and keep hitting. Over the years, this has been a trade mark.

I remember well his first year at A&M. Tech beat the aggies, in College Station, something like 40-9, and made it look easy. After the game, Bud Sherrod told me "I'll bet you right now that no one else beats them that badly." And no one did.

It took time, but Bear's Aggie teams came of age and really rolled. I wasn't fortunate enough to be at the Junction camp that Bear conducted prior to his first campaign, but it was rough and the casualties ran high. Many players quit.

They tell the story about one reporter going into Jones Ramsey's tent about 5:30 p.m. and asking, "Say, Jones, has anybody else quit the squad?"

The brilliant SID's quick quip was: "I don't know. I haven't checked with Coach Bryant in the last five minutes!"

Golden Gloves Champions

Texas produced three 1975 United States National Golden Gloves Champions at Knoxville, Tenn., March 21 through 24.

Olympic and pre-olympic years draw the best boxers, and this pre-olympic year was no exception. The three Texas boxers out of eleven champions were: Mike Ayalla, San Antonio, 119 pound class; Ronnie Shields, Beaumont, 125 pound class; and Ray Phillips, Fort Worth, 156 pound class. Heavy-weight, Frank Washington of Fort Worth, was runner up.

L.O.A. Meeting Scheduled

Dr. Joseph A. Glennon, Texas Tech School of Medicine staff member, who has had personal colostomy experience, will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Lubbock Ostomy Association Tuesday, April 15th at 7:30 p.m. in the Staff Meeting Room of St. Mary's Hospital.

All ostomates and other interested persons are invited to attend.

January, Beyer said. We are looking for every Pack to send a representative. This is an excellent opportunity for the leaders to have an input in the coming council activities. Also, a Cub Pack can send as many people as they wish.

They will also receive the material and information planned on a national level pertaining to the American Bicentennial U.S.A. National President's Physical Fitness Program and Bicycle Safety program. These programs are designed for the Cub Leaders to use in their Pack's program. Other activities that will be covered are the Cub Day Camp, Lad and Day Camp, and the Scout - O - Rama, according to Beyer.

Tornado Season Is At Hand

Texas had the dubious honor of leading the nation in the number of tornadoes last year with 116. And another tornado season is at hand.

Most tornadoes occur during April, May and June during the later afternoon although they can occur at any time of the year or any time during the day. Most tornadoes occur in the South and between the Rockies and the Appalachians.

With a total of 944 reported tornadoes in the United States last year and 361 resulting deaths, 1974 was the worst year for tornadoes since 1925.

Although the average annual number of tornadoes reported has quadrupled in the past three decades, the number of tornado fatalities has been decreasing. This is probably due to better methods of sighting tornadoes, warning systems and advance preparation for tornadoes. Tornadoes usually travel south west to northeast and stay on the ground about 10 minutes. Their forward speed is about 30 miles per hour but wind speeds in the funnel of a tornado get up to 300 miles per hour.

Because tornadoes are so erratic, it's hard to tell just where or when they will occur.

The importance of having a well rehearsed plan for quick action if a tornado is sighted.

The National Weather Service issues a "tornado watch" when atmospheric conditions are favorable for tornadoes. A "tornado warning" is issued when a tornado has actually been sighted or detected by radar.

If a tornado watch is announced, stay tuned to a radio or television for weather advisories. A tornado warning demands action, so you should quickly move to a basement, cellar or civil defense shelter. Keep a battery powered radio handy in case power is lost.

If your home doesn't have a basement or cellar, go to the lowest level in the center of the home or get in a closet or small room or under heavy furniture, suggests the engineer. Open a few windows to allow for sudden air pressure changes.

Stay away from windows and buildings such as gymnasiums and auditoriums with wide free-span roofs. If you live in a mobile home, move to a shelter area. If you are caught in open country,

Tornado Season . . .

move away from the tornado at a right angle to its path or lie flat in a ditch or ravine. Do not stay in your car if you cannot safely evade the tornado by driving away from it or at right angles to its path.

If you sight a tornado, report it promptly to the nearest law enforcement officer, but do not tie up the phone with unnecessary calls.

After a tornado, always wear thick soled shoes and gloves in cleanop work and watch for broken gas popes and downed electrical wires. Don't light matches or smoke in or near a building that has been hit by a tornado until you are sure there are no gas leaks.

Furthermore, stay away from disaster areas unless you're helping with rescue and cleanup operations.

Rays of Hope

by Pat Stanton

"But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and forever". II Peter 3:18.

The scriptures reveal four stages of spiritual growth in the Christian life:

(1) The baby stage (I Cor. 3:1-4) A baby thinks only of self, and if denied the things desired, it will raise a rumpus. It seeks its own, its feelings are easily hurt and it is often jealous. A baby lives to be served, it never serves. It cries but never sings. It tries to talk, but never makes sense. These infant characteristics are so prominent in the lives of many church members. They have been born into the family of God, but have failed to develop spiritually. They are spiritual babies, carnal Christians.

(2) The little child stage (I John 2:12) Some Christians grow to be little children spiritually, but stop there. Here are some of the characteristics of children: they are often untruthful, envious and cruel. If rebuked, they become martyrs; if crossed, they are resentful and often make a scene. They are talebearers, repenting everything they hear (in adults it is called gossip). They are often given to emotional outbursts, and are easily puffed up. They love praise, and will accept it from any source. They seek only the things that appeal to self.

(3) The young man stage (I John

2:13) Spiritual growth to that of a young man is not reached by many. He is strong and virile, and is well able to overcome his enemy. He has a vision for the future and the faith and courage to tackle it. He is preparing for his productive years. You, too, can become a young man spiritually by "putting away childish things" (I Cor. 13:11), and grow.

(4) The father stage (I John 2:13) This stage of spiritual development can be reached by all, but so few ever attain it. The spiritual father has peace with God (Rom. 5:1) He knows the peace of God (Phil. 4:7) He has learned contentment under all circumstances (Phil. 4:11) He knows the only source of true strength (Phil. 4:13). He does not brood over the past, but looks to the future (Phil. 3:13, 14). He enjoys abundant life now, and will enjoy it in the life to come (Ep. 2:7).

by Anita Alvarado

We will be spotlighting the L.C.C. student teachers for the next few weeks.

We would like to recognize the P.E. student teacher this week. Jay Waldrop is from L.C.C., he entered on full scholarship for athletic trainer. Jay was a trainer at Andrews High School for four years. He will graduate this August from L.C.C. and plans to coach and teach upon graduation.

Mr. Waldrop is a member of Kojnonia social club. Jay was married in the summer of 1972 and is still very happily married to his wife, Joanna. Jay has worked in an oil field for two summers and worked one summer for a lumber company. He really knows what hard work is like.

I have Mr. Waldrop as a student teacher and I really enjoy him, just as much as the class he teaches. He comments, "Student teaching has been a good experience and I've enjoyed it."

One Act Play Wins Doggett is Best

by Alex Grice

This year's one-act play recently placed first in the UIL One-Act Play event. It was last Friday, April 4, at the Plains High School Auditorium that Travis Doggett, a senior at SHS was picked as the Best Actor in the competition. His role as the father of the bride was very convincing. Nancy Thomas, another character in the play, was named to the All Star Cast.

The play was taken from Neal Simon's "Plaza Suite." The particular segment used for this play is "Visitor From Forest Hills." The play is centered around a New York wedding. Mimsey Hubley has locked herself in the bathroom. Her parents, Norma Hubley and Roy Hubley, can't seem to get her to come out of the bathroom so she can be married. It's a hilarious comedy that is truly fun to see.

The play will be presented at Snyder, this Friday, April 11, and those who will be competing for the area titles are: Nancy Thomas as Norma Hubley; Travis Doggett, Roy Hubley; Kim Young as Mimsey Hubley and Bryan Stewart as Borden Eisler. Regina Howell, Donna Hardin and Don Grimes make up the Stage Crew.

Someone Overlooked

Last week, the Staff Reporter omitted the name of Shirley Hayslip in a story of the hard workers of the Annual Staff. This was a mistake, an accident, and we would like to take this opportunity to say that, as photographer, Shirley is a hard worker and that her photos will make the 1975 edition of the Mustang great.

Senior News

Graduation seems to be creeping up on the Seniors of '75. Last week, the caps and gowns were distributed and this week it was the graduation announcements that were passed out to those who had brought their money.

The announcements are some-thing else! Be on the look out for these "stand out" objects.

F.H.A. News

On Monday, April 7, the Shallowater FHA Chapter had its regular meeting. Officers for the 1975-76 school year were elected. They are: President, Caran Conner; Vice President, Laura Walker; Secretary, Alison Terry; Treasurer, Suzie DeAnda; Reporter, Anita Alvarado; Song Leader, Connie Boone; Parliamentarian, Susan Heinen; Money Project Chairman, Geniese Grawunder; Impact Chairman, Jeanye Hunter.

The program on Turquoise Jewelry was presented by Terri Martin and it was enjoyed by all. On Thursday, April 16, four FHA girls and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison will leave for San Antonio to attend the FHA State Convention. Those who will attend are Margie Barron, Janie Serna, Letty Anaya, and Caran Conner. Margie and Caran will attend because of their office positions or future position, at least for Caran. Janie and Letty will be attending because they have completed their three levels of degrees in FHA.

Congratulations to all.
