

Community Blood Drive Scheduled Saturday Morning

Shallowater Clinic Opening Expected

Plans for opening of the Shallowater Clinic, Inc. are being made, according to the administrator, Floye Gosch.

The former Shallowater First State Bank building has been converted into a convenient clinic building to handle patients with six examining rooms, an X-Ray room, lab room, two consultation rooms, and an emergency room. There will be well-qualified personnel on duty five days a week at regular hours to be announced later.

Mrs. McKinley (Connie) Simpson of Shallowater will be the lab-technician, Mrs. Davy L. (Sue) Sanders of Shallowater is secretary, Mrs. Mike Brusenhan, former Debbie Worsham is the receptionist and two registered nurses, Mrs. J.M. (Pauline) Wiley of Shallowater and Mrs. Robert (Judy) Hogue of Lubbock.

The newly decorated interior features carpet throughout in tones of green, gold and brown with contrasting wallpaper in gold and yellow tones with mahogany wall paneling.

Formal opening of the clinic will be held at a later date. The telephone number of the clinic is 832-4566.

The Shallowater Lions Club is sponsoring a community blood drive through the United Blood Services to be held this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the First Baptist Church fellowship hall with a goal of 30 pints or more set.

Darlene Herring of Lubbock, mobile division director and other qualified staff members will be present. The donation process is a safe and simple one, beginning with an interview.

The potential donor is asked some personal questions about current health and medical history. Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds, must be 17 years old to 65 years old and must have waited eight weeks since their last donations.

After the donor has been interviewed, he or she is given a "mini - physical" examination which covers general appearance, weight, temperature, blood pressure, pulse and hemoglobin content. If all of these are normal, the donors blood is drawn. If the results are abnormal the donor is referred to a physician.

The blood drawing (or phlebotomy) is a quick process, usually taking about 5 minutes. Approximately one pint of blood is drawn into a plastic container. The average adult has about 10 or 12 pints of blood and can easily afford to donate 1 pint. Besides the amount donated is quickly replaced by the body.

The local Emergency Medical Service will be assisting in the drive and everyone who donates a pint of blood will receive a "Whimmy Diddle" from the group. Not ever knows what a "Whimmy Diddle" is and it will be interesting to see. It is a genuine copy of an old timey toy, hand made by Richard Hopson and he states, "its a lot of fun." The Whimmy Diddles will also be for sale at $1 each and with Christmas just around the corner, it would be a nice unusual gift. The monies from sale of the hand-made toy will go into a uniform fund for the EMS to purchase uniforms for future volunteers of the organization.

Hopson is chairman of the community blood drive and, Boyd Pearce and Doug Rowden are on the committee. Be sure and take the time to go by First Baptist Church Saturday and donate a pint of blood and be a part in helping someone who is in need of blood transfusion through the United Blood Service.

Harvesting Water Considered for West Texas Farming Problems

For the first time, the possibility of "harvesting water" for use at a later date is being suggested as one solution to West Texas' agricultural problems.

"Harvesting water" means management of vegetation to allow free movement of water to greater depths.

A study of water movement through different sands and associated soils indicates that Tivoli sands possess the greatest potential for moving water faster and deeper into the ground and finally to the Ogallala Aquifer, West Texas' principal source of irrigation water.

Dr. Russell D. Pettit of the range and wildlife management faculty at Texas Tech University is currently studying eight different soils in West Texas.

"Upon completion the research will provide the data needed for hydrologists to predict aquifer recharge rates, and perhaps we could then manipulate vegetation or soils to effect specific recharge potentials," Pettit said.

The Ogallala Aquifer under the sand dunes in West Texas is a major source of high quality water for domestic and industrial users. In the southern portion it does not have a source for natural recharge.

Pettit is estimating how much of the precipitation received in West Texas percolates past the deepest plant roots.

In his preliminary investigations he measured soil moisture to a depth of nine feet. The measurements have been taken twice every month since April '75.

At this stage Pettit's work is highly technical, but the results suggest the use of low productive lands for water production.

"Vegetation on Tivoli sands can be removed or manipulated to facilitate free movement of water."

The Texas Tech professor presented preliminary results of his study during the meeting of the American Society of Agronomy this week in Houston. The presentation included findings from three of the soils under study.

Pettit expects his investigations to continue for about five years in order that he can measure both the variable rainfall and vegetation responses. Since April '75 these soils have been losing water to plants. When heavy rains commence, water accumulation rates will be again calculated.

Data for the three soils were collected in Bailey County. Leland Gile, a soil scientist, is working with Pettit. Gile maps the soils and studies the geomorphology and stratigraphy in the area.

The project is funded by the Texas Legislature.

TT Basketball Tickets Hard To Get

Do you think you might be interested in season basketball tickets for all the home Texas Tech games, say 10 or 12 years from now? If you are, you better start planning now, or you may not be able to get them.

Louis McMenemy went down to the ticket office the other day to purchase football tickets for the Houston-Tech game and casually asked about getting season basketball tickets, and they replied they could put his name down on the 10 year waiting list.

He told them he should be about ready to receive his then as he signed up for season tickets 12 years ago, when son Kim was a first grader. So they looked up his name, and found him to be number 15. Wednesday he received his notice in the mail to come in and pick up his tickets, they were ready. How about that?

Just thought would let you know if you have a first grader and your plans are for him to be a star player on the Tech team. Might better make plans now for future tickets, or you might be disappointed.

Old Timey Thanksgiving

An old timey Thanksgiving was celebrated in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Randolph with four of their six children present and each family came dressed in old timey dress, such as Indians, pilgrims, Southern belles, farmers of the olden days—lumber jacks, even Uncle Jed and the Southern Society Gal, which was Mr. and Mrs. Randolph.

Present were Mr. Clayton Saunders and Debbie of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Randolph and two sons of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dale Seaton and two daughters of Lazbuddie, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Winfield and Christy of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown and two children of Lubbock, Terry Holy of Carlile, Robbie Lester of Lubbock and Terry Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Saunders and Sunshine, Mary Walker of New Deal. All enjoyed a Turkey Dinner and all the trimmings.

4-H Club News

The Shallowater 4-H Rookie group had their local food show at the community clubhouse at 7:30 Thursday night, Nov. 11.

The girls were judged by Mrs. LeRoy Grawunder on their knowledge of nutrition, appearance and taste of food. The girls did such a good job all received blue ribbons.

A tasting party of the delicious foods such as aloha chicken, Happy Day Fruit Salad, Strawberry Delight, Banana Pudding, Cherry Fluff, Tapioca Pudding and Pineapple, and Grasshoppers were served to their mothers and leader, Mrs. Louis McMenemy. Girls who prepared the foods were Troca Ellis, Camie Stanton, Patti Middlebrook, Lisa Deavours, Lynn Phillips, Sherri Fairhurst and Terry Vinn.

Lubbock Theatre Play Scheduled

A local youth, Shannon Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mitchell is a member of the cast.

The cast of children were guests of Sunshine Sally on Channel 13 Monday morning.

"In the Company of Cotton" Looks to The Future of the Cotton Industry

The market value of all agricultural products sold by the 773 farms in Hockley County in 1974 amounted to $32,096,000, according to a preliminary report of the 1974 Census of Agriculture released today by the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census. Production expenses on these farms totaled $31,855,000 in 1974.

The figures are for farms qualifying under the definition first used for the 1959 Census of Agriculture: A farm includes all agricultural operations conducted at any time during the census year under the control of an individual management, provided that sales of agricultural products amounted to, or normally would amount to, at least $250 for places of less than 10 acres or $50 for places of 10 acres or more.

Figures for farms with sales of $2,500 or more are shown for 1974 and 1969. These farms accounted for $32,030,000 of all agricultural products sold in 1974 and $19,590,000 in 1969.

There were 689 of these farms in 1974 compared with 943 in 1969. The average size increased from 598 to 730 acres during the five years. The value per acre increased from $263 to $330 raising the average value per farm from $157,076 to $240,758.

The market value of livestock and their products on farms of $2,500 or more of sales was $11,013,000 in 1974; poultry and their products, $8,000; and crop sales, including nursery products, hay and forest products, $21,009,000.

Farms reporting less than $1,000 in sales numbered 21 in 1974. The value of agricultural products sold on these farms totaled $5,000.

The Ropes Ambulance Service will have a Garage Sale December 2-4 at City Hall

PTA to Meet

The third grade students of Mrs. Mary Warren and Mrs. Louis McMenemy will present a Christmas play tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium for the enjoyment of those attending the parent-teachers association meeting.

Everyone in the community is urged and invited to attend as the organization urgently needs to get more people in the community involved in PTA, to have better relations between the parents and teachers in the school. So be sure and make your plans to attend each and every meeting of the organization.

The price for joining the PTA is $1.50 per person.

The room having the most parents present for tonight's meeting will be honored with a coke party.

Thompson-Hunter Exchange Vows

In a candlelight ceremony on November 20, Miss Zoe Thompson became the bride of John Steven Hunter at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Lubbock. The Rev. Sam Estes performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the newlywed couple are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hunter of Shallowater and Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Thompson of Abernathy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was presented at the altar in a pearl white silk formal gown designed especially for her by Priscilla of Boston. The gown was of French Baroque design of pearl beadwork and imported silk English net. The moulded bodice was covered with appliqued flowerettes. The sleeves formed peeks at the wrist with strands of pearls. From the lace and pearl encircled waist fell the bouffant A-line skirt; from the back bodice the gown drifted to form a full chapel train. The bride selected a white capulet from which drifted full bouffant mantilla edged in deep garlands of white matching lace and deep pearl beadwork forming shell shapes among lace medallions.

In following bridal tradition, the bride carried her mother's bible, for something old, she borrowed a handkerchief of the Swiss Wedding ring, wore a blue lace garter and her dress and veil were new.

The bridal bouquet was fashioned from an array of delicate white roses and baby's breath with streamers of roses falling from the Bible which was carried by the bride's mother when she was married.

The altar was adorned with a rose covered arch and kneeling bench was surrounded by swirled candelabras ascended with blue carnations, white gladiola and greenery. A memory candle of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horne, Mr. Bob Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thompson was burned on one side of the altar. On the other side a honor candle in honor of Mrs. Pearl Hunter and Mrs. Lillie Shephard were used to light the single unity candle.

The bride's attendants wore floor length princess gowns of royal blue velvet which featured a tufted bodice and high neckline. Blue carnations and white roses were worn in hair cascades and flower bouquets.

Miss Kym Thompson, sister of the bride, served as the maid of honor, and matron of honor was Mary Jane Henson of Gruver, Texas. The bride's attendants included Jeanye Hunter; the groom's sister and Toni Howard of Lubbock. Junior bridesmaids were Regina Powell and Kelly Thompson, cousin of the bride, both of Abernathy.

Miss Holly Murray, cousin of the bride from Springlake-Earth was the flower girl and Kirk Heard of Abernathy was the ring bearer.

The groom's best man was John Young of Tulia. Other attendants were the bride's brothers, Todd and Lane Thompson of Abernathy. Also serving as groomsmen were Brent Couch, cousin of the groom, Kim Brock and Steve Rackler. Ushers were Carter Noonan, Rick Davidson and Scott Foree, all of Lubbock.

Special music during the ceremony was performed by Mrs. Donald E Smith, organist of Lubbock, and Mr. Johnny Ray Watson of Lorenzo, soloist. During the reception Dovie Barron, Lonna Barron, and Donna Horne played selections at the grand piano.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church fellowship hall with Belinda Petty, Laura Arnold, and Nancy Foster serving at the brides table. Also serving at the grooms table were Sher Clark and Margaret Wilkes. Debra Barton of Abernathy registered guests for both the wedding and reception.

The bride's table was centered with a candelabrum, accented with gladiolas, carnations and white roses. The four tiered cake of Greek design featured five cupid hearts amidst a blue waterfall on a chantilly lace tablecloth. The grooms table featured a royal blue tablecloth with appointments of gold. The gold candelabrum featured an array of beautiful blue flowers to compliment the table. The three tiered German Chocolate cake was decorated with a gold ball and chain. Finger sandwiches and coffee were served.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a blue suit with a matching print blouse and navy blue hat and shoes. The couple will live in Lubbock after the honeymoon.

The bride will finish her dietetic internship and graduate in May at Texas Tech University. John, a graduate of Texas Tech University, received his Bachelor's Degree in accounting. He is currently employed as the assistant controller for Lubbock National Bank.

A rehearsal dinner preceded the wedding ceremony on November 19 at K-Bob's Steak House of Lubbock with the groom's parents acting as hosts. Special guests were the bride's family and the wedding party.

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

The off-again, on-again history of the little movie house on Broadway between Aves. R and S picked up again this past week when the house reopened as a "repertory theater" under the management of Don Bollinger, a very young operator with a company that has similar houses in Dallas and Albuquerque, N.M.

What the schedule will call for are selected revivals, some out of the great era of Hollywood's 1930s and other of more recent vintage, all of them highly regarded for their quality and content.

There will be distinguished foreign films as well as British and American, none of the bills penned in for more than three days playing time. Among the upcoming films are Ingmar Bergman's version of "The Magic Flute," opera by Mozart, which will end its brief run tonight.

In its way will come such outstanding films as "Platinum Blonde" with Jean Harlow, "Cover Girl" with Rita Hayworth, "My Little Chickadee" with Mae West and W.C. Fields, and Fields' "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break" with Fields (on the same bill), not one but four Marx Brothers early films on one bill, "Money Business," "Horse Feathers," "Coconuts" and "Duck Soup," and a double bill of "Midnight Cowboy" and "The Last Tango in Paris," to name only a few. It is a rare opportunity to see these fine films again and to catch them for the first time.

Lubbock has needed such a house and it is only to be seen and hoped for that the Bijou sustains the necessary support from the public. We wish them well, Bollinger and his little theater.

Though these few remarks are tardy, since the play concluded its run last week, but they are no less enthusiastic for the beautifully-mounted, very well played, superbly directed production of Peter Shaffer's study of the search for values both material and spiritual in old Peru, "The Royal Hunt of the Sun" at the University Theatre at Texas Tech.

This production is important in more ways than one, for it is the Tech entry in the American College Festival of plays, which opens today at the University Theatre and continues through Saturday night. Tech is hosting the annual gathering and the play line-up is impressive, indeed. You should try to catch some of the entries which will be announced in the daily press.

The Tech production of Pizarro's expedition and his confrontation with the Atahualpa, Soverieng Inca of Peru was a thought-provoking challenge to the audience and was received with acclaim. In the two leads were Brad Williams and Bob Starr doing noble jobs, and the long cast most ably supported them. The narrator, playing both the young Page to Pizarro and the older narrator, was lucidly done by William Carter.

The direction was handled with his usual delicacy, power and immaculate staging by Ronald Schulz. The choreography was by Rick Brame and the handsome production was designed by Forrest A. Newlin.

A film that is recommended for the entire family is the G-rated "Joe Panther," at the Cinema West out on 19th St.

This is the story of a young Seminole Indian who must achieve his manhood by fighting alligators in the Florida swamps. Ray Tracey, a newcomer, plays the title role and he plays extremely well. His buddy is handled nicely by A. Martinez. Two well-regarded oldtimers appear in this one, though their roles are nothing to shout about. They play with their usual professionalism, Brian Keith and Ricardo Montalban.

This little film has much to recommend and provides a simple and direct little tale that will please most folks.

There is a very interesting, absorbing book in the Lubbock Public Library that many of you might like to have directed to your attention.

It is called "The Day the Laughter Stopped" and it recalls very vividly and tragically the sex scandal that set the pattern for film-making on subject and cuts from then on.

It was Labor Day, 1921 in San Francisco. There was a party in progress in the St. Francis Hotel suite of the top-ranking comic star of those silent picture days, Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle.

One of the young ladies present, Virginia Rapp, a would-be actress, became ill and died. It was rumored that she had been attacked but this book cites trial records, investigation and all the politically ambitious men in the Golden Gate city who drove this persecution through three trials, ultimately vindicating the tragic Arbuckle.

But, the die had been cast. Arbuckle's career was finished and the panic-stricken Hollywood figures, some of the most famous producers and studio heads frantically set about to govern sex, drug and other moral activities of their stars. This is when the famous Will Hays came to the fore as the "censoring body" and the Hays Office for many years thereafter set the rules and regulations for stars' personal lives as well as limited the frankness on the screen in almost sophomoric manner.

Arbuckle directed films for some years, until his death, but under an assumed name. He had become the "victim," in the worst sense, of prejudice, false rumor and the onslaughts of national women's and civic groups, hysterically righteous in their militancy, even though Arbuckle had been officially cleared of wrongdoing.

It is a fascinating book by David Yallop of one of the most celebrated of all Hollywood scandals and is well worth the reading for all film buffs.

Incidentally, the title "The Day the Laughter Stopped" came from the late comedian and colleague of "Fatty" Arbuckle, the frozen-faced Buster Keaton.

HORSE TALES

Kim Wins With A Smile

Kim Myers of Shallowater High School competed in the District Sweetheart Contest Tuesday night at South Plains Jr. College, in Levelland.

She won by beating thirteen other Sweethearts in the District.

As a result of the Sweetheart contest, she will go on to compete in the Area Contest to be held in Amarillo.

Kim is the daughter of very proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Myers of Shallowater.

Congratulations Kim, and good luck with the contest in Amarillo.

J.V. Wrap Up

by Claudett Lamb

The J.V. Fillies had exciting nights Monday and Tuesday. Monday night the Fillies played Ropes at Shallowater. It was a close game, but Ropes came out on top with a score of 43-40. The Fillies top scorer was Jeani Roberts with 21 points. Tuesday night the Fillies went to Frenship and lost there with a score of 45-22. The Fillies high scorer that night was LaDonna Pair with 14 points.

The J.V. Mustangs also played Monday and Tuesday. Monday the Mustangs played L.C.H.S. The Mustangs lost 57-38. Stacy Hohenburger was the Mustangs' high scorer with 11 points. The next night against Frenship the boys were defeated again with a score of 42-26. Stacy once again was the high pointer with only 7 points. The other Mustangs were shooting well also. Good luck with the upcoming games.

Powerful Ponies

by Gloria Lara

The Ponies went against New Deal, too last week. The 7th grade played a good game but at the end they still lost to the Lions. The 8th grade had better luck; they, too, went against the Lions and won. This coming Thursday, they travel to Frenship. Let's go out and support them. Good Luck Ponies!

Photographers On The Go

by Laura Walker

Photographers are on the go in Shallowater High. Group pictures of organizations and athletics teams were made Wednesday by a professional.

Annual staff photographers Robbi Mauldin and LaJuan Paul have been snapping candid pictures of students and teachers. The '77 Mustang yearbook is in the making and will be a lasting memento of this school year.

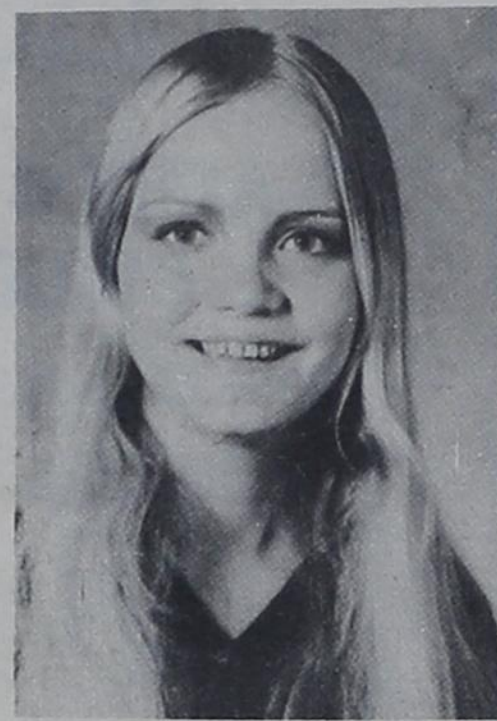

Roll and Show Time

by Gloria Lara

This coming Saturday the Junior High will be having class parties. They are all looking forward to them.

The 7th graders are going skating and then out to eat. The 8th graders are going to see the "Gnome Mobile" and out to eat afterwards. Have fun!

Senior Spectacular

by Suzie De Anda

Claudett Lamb is the vibrant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lamb. She resides at 911 Avenue J. She started the month of October right by being born on October 1, 1958.

Claudett's favorite subject is Home and Family Living class. She enjoys it because the class teaches her things she will need to know when she graduates. Claudett likes to read, cook, sew, and work with crafts. She enjoys anything in which a person uses his hands. Some of her hobbies include knitting and making quilts and clothes.

Claudett is in the NHS. As third vice-president of FHA, she is in charge of the money-making projects. Claudett is the manager of the Varsity Girls Basketball. Claudett has also received her encounter awards in FHA and special awards in her church.

Claudett plans to work for the telephone company after graduation but she may go to college and become a social worker, though. She has enjoyed her senior year because of "turning eighteen and getting to vote." She has also liked the fewer classes and being able to work more.

Football Recap

by Steven Wilson

The 1976-1977 Shallowater Mustang football season held some good things for the Mustangs. They finished third in District 5-A behind two highly State rated teams, one which is well on its way in the playoffs. The Mustangs lose only two starters so they should be in fine shape for next year. This has been a good year for the Mustangs in many ways.

The leading rusher for the Mustangs this season was Billy Glenn who rushed for a total of 602 yards. Billy averaged 3.9 yards per carry. Ruben Gomez and Pete Alvarado follow behind Billy. Ruben rushed for 247 yards while Pete ran for 151 yards. Both men averaged 3.4 yards per carry.

Jesse Longoria was the Mustangs leading passer this season with a 34 per cent completion ratio. Jesse passed for 254 total yards. Andy Blackmon passed for 32 yards with 19 per cent of his passes being completed.

Ricky Hawkins averaged 24 yards per pass reception; catching two passes for a total of 48 yards. Billy Glenn averaged 16.2 yards per reception with a total of 81 yards which led the Mustangs. Clay Dixon had a total of 68 yards averaging 9.7 yards.

Pete Alvarado was the leading punt and kickoff returner for Shallowater. In the Ralls game Pete returned a punt for 65 yards and a touchdown. Pete had a total of 113 yards on punt returns. As far as kickoff returns Pete averaged 19.4 yards per return edging out Billy Glenn's 17.7 yard average. Pete had a total of 369 yards. Ruben was next with total yards with 116 yards averaging 16.6 yards per carry.

Billy Glenn was the leading scorer with 18 points on three touchdowns. Both Ruben Gomez and Jesse Longoria had 12 points apiece all on touchdowns. Two more TD's were scored one by Andy Blackmon and another by Pete Alvarado. Curtis Lester scored three points on one-point conversions. David Coker scored two points on a safety. Steve Waller scored a two-point conversion on a pass from Andy Blackmon. That rounded out the scoring for the Mustangs this season.

Defensively there are no stats available, but everybody did a big job on defense. Literally everyone came up with some type of turnover.

The Mustangs played as a team and all the individual accomplishments are team accomplishments, for without each and every player none of this could have been possible. Every position is as equally important.

I believe a very special thanks should go to the four coaches. Coach Eddie Wolski, Coach Joe Tubb, Coach Roy Baker, and Coach Leland Casey put a great amount of time and effort into the program and their efforts are sometimes overlooked. These four men should be commended by all the players, parents, and fans. Also a special thanks goes to the Booster Club which has done many good things for the athletes.

Be as anxious to help others as you are to accept favors.

Texas Old and New

by Suzie De Anda

Where in Shallowater can a person read about famous Texas figures or see a salt map of Texas the way it used to be shaped? Why, in Mrs. Hohertz's Texas History class, of course.

Every six weeks, the students may write a report concerning a famous person, for example, Stephen F. Austin. Other students may create different flags that once flew over the state of Texas. Still others may make salt maps of the different geographical regions of Texas.

Many students enjoy doing these projects and it makes the class that much more interesting.

average holds up for the two following quarters, the D.E. students will add $19,800 to the economy this school year. Most of the comments from the students run something like this: "Where did it all go?"

Cold Turkey Withdrawal

by Alison Terry

Seen any turkeys lately? I doubt it since the students at Shallowater High swear to have eaten all the turkey in Texas over the Thanksgiving holiday! After a long weekend of eating, drinking and being very merry, most of the young people at SHS seemed to be experiencing "cold turkey" withdrawal pains. Heads resting on desks, glassy eyes staring into space, and an unusual rowdiness in classes exemplified the situation.

Comments from the students of Shallowater High School on Monday morning: "Ugh...I left my brain in bed where it belongs!" "Is this Monday morning? Is this school? Could have fooled me!" "Bring on the Alka-Seltzer!" "When's Christmas?"

D.E. Contributes

Most people think teenagers don't earn and spend a lot of money while they are in school and working part-time. This first quarter of the school year, eleven Distributive Education Coop students of Shallowater High School, working afternoons and some weekends, earned and spent approximately $6,600. That's an average of $550 per week earned and spent.

Nine of the eleven students work in Lubbock with two working in Shallowater. If the

by Gloria Lara

Last night was a fantastic night for the 7th grade Little Fillies. The reason for that is because they went against New Deal and they showed them who was boss. The 7th grade Fillies have been having good coaching and they show it.

The 8th grade Fillies were not as fortunate, however, when they lost to New Deal.

This Thursday they play Frenship here so let's go and support them. Good luck Little Fillies!
