

LCHD - Tech Regents Sign Agreement

by Joe Robbins

The long-awaited joint meeting between Texas Tech regents and Lubbock County Hospital District board to discuss operation of the $22 million teaching hospital here should be scheduled sometime in September.

Former regents chairman Clint Formby told the West Texas Times that Sept. 30 is the target date for the joint session. During that meeting, members of the two groups will review results of a study to establish "community rates" on costs of shared services between the Health Sciences Center Hospital and Tech Medical School.

At Friday's meeting with Lubbock County Commissioners Court, the regents and LCHD board signed a document agreeing to share services between the teaching hospital and the med school at a "rate not greater than community costs."

The regents and hospital district also agreed to hire the firm of Caraway, Howard and Spikes as independent and outside consultants to aid in establishing the "community costs."

According to Formby, the regents LCHD board also have discussed possibilities of conducting a "town hall" type of meeting during which local citizens could ask questions about the medical school and teaching hospital.

Both Formby and LCHD board chairman Marshall Pennington voiced optimism about the agreement signed by their respective groups and the atmosphere of cooperation now existing in the effort to solve shared services problems.

Formby termed Friday's session a "positive step" in the negotiations. He said the agreement will lead to the dissolution of at least one problem between the regents and LCHD board—and should bring on the solution of other problems and development of a tremendous opportunity offered the university and the people of Lubbock.

According to Formby, the personal contact between the two boards in the past two or three months is an indication of the future. He said both boards need to make their staffs aware of the intention to move forward.

The personal contact between boards also has let to assurances that Lubbock's Health Sciences Center Hospital will be the primary teaching hospital for the Tech Medical School, Pennington noted. He said the agreement signed Friday relieves fears that Lubbock would suffer because of med school programs in existence in Amarillo and El Paso and one planned for the Permian Basin area.

The agreement on shared services that will be reached based on the study results will be for one year, the regents and hospital district board said. After that time, it can be renegotiated either up or down.

Formby and Pennington indicated there is still a possibility that the university will take over the teaching hospital sometime in the distant future. But before this can be accomplished, a large number of financial and legal problems will have to be solved.

Completes LVN Training Recently

Mrs. Pam (Cook) Rogers of Abilene, former Shallowater school student recently completed her Licensed Vocational Nurse's training and received her license in graduation ceremonies at Aldersgate Methodist Church in Abilene, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rogers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cook of Shallowater. The Cook's and daughter Dana attended the graduation ceremony.

EMS Group Meets

The Shallowater Volunteer Emergency Medical Technician group met Tuesday, August 24, at 7 p.m. at the ambulance station for the regular monthly meeting of the new organization.

An inventory of the ambulance supplies were made with Harry King, J.D. Young, Ernie Rackler, Richard Hopson and Dardie Williamson present.

The Emergency Medical Service went into operation on August 1 and was kept pretty busy the first week answering four calls. It has slacked off since then, and no calls were received at all last week.

A team of two men and a woman are on call from 6 p.m. until 7 a.m. Monday through Friday, being on call from 6 p.m. Friday through the weekend, around the clock until 7 a.m. Monday. If ambulance service is needed be sure to call 747-3461 to summon an ambulance, as the EMT group answers calls by beepers only, through this telephone number.

There is a team of 7 volunteers to man the ambulance at the present with three others, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cowart and Kathy Jones, enrolling Thursday night Aug. 26, for a 10 weeks course now in progress. When they complete the course there will be 10 persons available but more persons are needed to be able to operate the ambulance on a 24 hour basis.

Mrs. Ernie Rackler and Mrs. Debbie Turner recently completed an instructors course on Emergency Medical Service at Lubbock Christian College. Mrs. Turner completed her EMT training in March and Mrs. Rackler completed hers in July.

Mustangs Open Season Here Friday Evening

Boosters of the Mighty Mustangs are urged to be present Friday night, when the football season opens with the Mustangs meeting Ackerly at 8:00 p.m. at Todd Field.

The football team has been hard at work for several weeks in preparation for their first game under the coaching staff of Ed Wolski, Roy Baker, Tubb and Casey.

A complete list of the squad and their classification is carried elsewhere in Suburban Today, with a picture of the team, sponsored by local merchants and other interested persons that will be published weekly in this newspaper throughout the football season of play.

The Mustang squad will be cheered on to victory by approximately 60 members of the pep squad, sponsored by Boxie Harrison at each of their games this season. Heading the cheer-leading section as leaders will be seniors Robbie Mauldin and Alison Terry, Shelly Adams, junior, Julie Sproles, sophomore and LaDonna Pair, freshman. Robin Truelock is the mascot.

President of the organization is Janis Horton, Secretary-reporter, Connie McCollum, Treasurer, Belinda Seale, senior reporter, Beverly Pair, junior reporter, Donna Evans, sophomore reporter, Danette Dopson, and freshmen reporter, Lori Semsack.

The officers and room representatives meet each week on Tuesday during their lunch break to plan their weeks activities.

To get in the festive mood for the football season, be sure and be present at all the games and listen to the Mighty Mustang Band, composed of around 100 members, directed by new band director, Eddie Hankins. Twirlers are Kim Myers, Jamie Myers, Lesa DuLaney and Tammy Medlock.

The sweepstakes-winning band will be present at all the games, playing the National Anthem, School Song and many other lively marches to put the crowd in the mood for a night of football entertainment.

Let's get behind the school program 100 per cent by attending any or all activities planned by various groups in the school and let them know we are backing them with our presence.

New Grocery Store Under Construction in Shallowater

Opening soon at 12th Street and Avenue L will be Sewell's Circle S Grocery owned by Tommy Sewell of Lubbock.

Construction on the new establishment got underway around July 22, by James Colson, general contractors of Lubbock.

The spacious 14' x 60' building is designed with a red brick front, trimmed with cedar shingles, accoustical ceiling and tile floors and should be completed by the middle of Sept. with approximate cost at $40,000.

When completed, the parking area will be black topped and two self service gasoline pumps will be installed in the convenient driveway.

Remodeling on Clinic Begins

by Janice Jarvis

Renovation of the medical clinic began this week with completion of the building expected to be in two to three months.

Bids are now being taken for laboratory, x-ray and other equipment, according to Dr. Thomas Nicholas, director of Family Practice at the Texas Tech University School of Medicine.

Equipment will be available for use when the clinic opens and residents for the program are being recruited, Nicholas said.

An estimated $155,000 will be spent on renovation, purchasing of equipment and acquisition of the building.

The clinic will be privately owned by the Shallowater Chamber of Commerce, while professional service will be provided by the Health Sciences Center, through an affiliation agreement, Nicholas explained.

A number of positions will be available for nurses and technicians, upon completion of the facility. Three nurses, three office workers and a technician and pharmacist are needed for the clinic.

The clinic will also work with the EMS system by making available training courses for ambulance drivers and EMS technicians.

When completed, Shallowater will be the first city to have a clinic in the West Texas area. It was chosen because it is close to the medical school and can be maintained with present resources, Nicholas said.

Receives Degree

Mrs. Keith (Glenda) McMenemy, daughter of Mrs. Bill Evans of Abilene and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McMenemy of Shallowater, has completed requirements and studies for a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Therapy from the University of Texas Allied Health Science Center at Dallas and received her diploma August 22nd.

Glenda will begin in her new position as a staff physical therapist for Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. at Fort Worth. Mr. and Mrs. McMenemy have lived the past year and a half in Dallas where he is a sales representative for Liberty Mutual Insurance.

Minister of Music Resigns

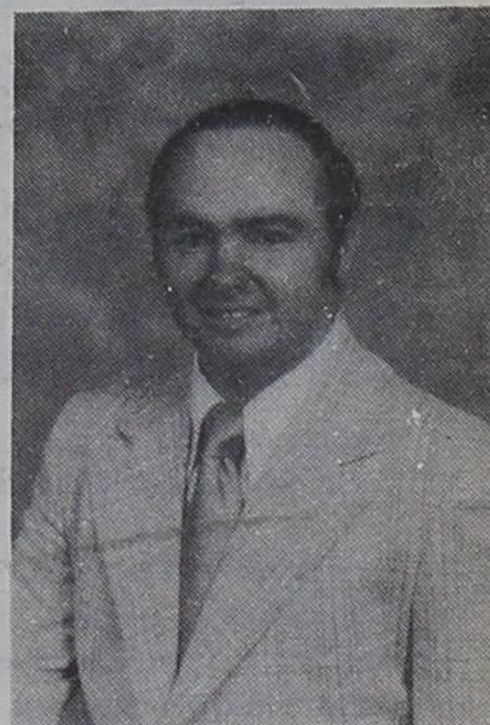

John Thornell who has been minister of music the past year at the Shallowater First Baptist Church has resigned his position, effective Tuesday, August 31, to assume a full time position as minister of Education, Music and Youth at University Baptist Church in Lubbock where he began, Wednesday.

A native of Indiana, John graduated from Morristown High School in Indiana and received his B.S. degree with honors in Physics and Mathematics in 1972 from Tarleton State University in Stephenville, Texas.

Prior to receiving his degree he served four years with the U.S. Air Force, two years as nuclear weapons specialist and two years with explosive ordinance disposal. His duty assignments included Denver, Colo., Ft. Worth, Washington, D.C., Ft. Walton Beach, Florida, Ben Hoa, South Vietnam.

He taught physics and Math at Breckenridge High School in 1972-74 and taught the same courses at Coronado High School in Lubbock from 1974-75.

He has also been Minister of Youth at Calvary Baptist Church in Stephenville and director of Children's Choir at Bethany Baptist Church in Breckenridge, both on part time basis.

John and his wife Cynthia have a 2½ year old son, John Mark and will continue to reside in Shallowater at the present time.

The church congregation will deeply miss the presence of the Thornell family in their midst.

Party Line

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cook and Dana were in Gatesville over the weekend where they visited his father, Bud Cook, who has been in ill health for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCollum were hosts for a youth fellowship at their home following Sunday night church services. Approximately 55 youth from Bacon heights Baptist Church attended.

Letter to the Editor

Please Don't Call Me Reverend
The word "reverend" is found only once in the King James version and the American Standard Bible, referring to God. The writer said "Holy and reverend is His name." (Psa. 111:9). The word is not used anywhere in the Bible for a title for man to wear. Only God is reverend.

I believe that Eph. 4:11 gives some titles that man can wear. "And He gave some to be apostles and some prophets and some evangelists and some pastors and teachers." I am an evangelist or minister, preacher or Darrell. Thank You Darrell Boswell Minister of the 12th Street Church of Christ Shallowater, Texas

Exchange Student

Donna Boone accepts a gift at a Lion's Club meeting in Japan. Her hair was fixed as the Japanese wear their hair, and her host family gave her a kimono to wear.

by Janice Jarvis
The Boone family does not only have visitors from foreign lands but some family members have been traveling to far off places also.

Donna, a senior at Shallowater High School, went to Japan this summer, while Ann went to Canada earlier this year.

Currently visiting the Boones is Kathy Boyes, a Canadian. In past months Misaka Tobita, from Japan, and a group of Peruvian students have stayed at the Boones.

Since their involvement in the Lion's Club Exchange program in January the family has seen many different lifestyles.

"We've learned to value our country a lot after visiting with the Peruvians who see the police as enemies," Mrs. Boone said.

During Misaka's visit the family learned about Japanese customs. "Mishaka was extremely well-mannered and gracious," Mrs. Boone said. She was fascinated with Mickey Mouse, leather and turquoise, explained Mrs. Boone.

She never refused any kind of food and was afraid to offend her host family, according to the Boones. She would bow when she met someone and feared interfering with our family life, Mrs. Boone said.

When Donna Boone visited in Japan she found their generosity to be overwhelming.

"If I admired anything they gave it to me as a gift," Donna said. She came home with 15 dolls, each with a different meaning, parasols, kimonos, and countless trinkets. She learned how to wrap a package as the Japanese do. "You put the item in a silk scarf and tie it 'hobo style' or if you wrap it in paper you use only one piece of tape," she explained.

"Men were very sentimental and cried while the women didn't show their feelings," Donna said. Women also cover their mouths when talking or eating.

Donna said she was aware of a very strict class system. "I was not allowed to do anything with someone in a lower class," she said.

On a ferry boat ride she discovered that the different floors of the ferry were for upper, middle and lower class.

Although Donna enjoyed many Japanese dishes, her host family made sure she had steak to eat.

"Every morning they served me a melon because I told them I liked cantaloupe," she said. "Later I discovered the melons cost 15 each."

Being from a small town, Donna said the streets in Japan are overwhelmingly crowded. "You would think everyone had a car but that's not true," she said.

A person may wait as long as an hour to get a taxi during the rush hour, she said.

The people were so thoughtful that they played the Star Spangled Banner at a Lions Club meeting, said Donna.

Upon returning from Japan, Donna met the most recent visitor to the Boone home, Kathy from Hillsburgh, Ontario.

While visiting in Shallowater and Lubbock Kathy had her first taste of Mexican food.

She has observed that the Texas plains are not as pretty as Canada and the schools here are smaller.

"People in Shallowater are friendlier than other Americans I've met," she said.

The Boone's hope to have other visitors at their home in the future. "I think we get more out of the visits than the students do sometimes," Mrs. Boone said.

Services Held for Mrs. Annie Gibson

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Gibson, 62, of Shallowater were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Idalou Church of Christ with Weldon McKenzie, minister, officiating.

Burial was in the Idalou Cemetery, directed by Rix Funeral Home of Lubbock.

A resident of the area since 1938 when she moved here from Hill County, Mrs. Gibson died at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in Methodist hospital following a lengthy illness. She was a member of the Idalou Church of Christ.

Survivors include her husband, Arthur; two daughters, Mrs. Zane Ellison of Muleshoe and Mrs. Lloyd Murphy of Irving; a brother, W.R. Granger of Waco; and four grandchildren.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

It wasn't, in my book, the type of scrimmage that would send me hustling down to the corner bookie to bet a bob or so on Texas Tech to win the Southwest Conference title.

But—it wasn't bad at all and it had a number of bright spots. Steve Sloan is a more astute football mind than the one boasted here and when he says that it was probably the best scrimmage since he and his staff have been at Tech, he might be right.

Still, being the best scrimmage since he's been here and the caliber of squad that will win the conference are two different things. The Raiders have a way to go.

For one thing, we saw Texas on TV the other night and the Longhorns once again have the size that makes King Kong look like a rookie in muscle building school. Either Steer players are abnormally big, or else they have air inflated padding under their jerseys.

Take heart, Tech fans. The Raiders may not be that big, but they do have size and they are hitting. In fact, the way they hit Saturday might be an indication of things to come.

The Raiders also retained elements of the offense that last year led the SWC. The passing game augments the run and the combination Saturday moved the ball well. Experience makes a big difference and the Raiders have a lot of that on offense.

At the same time, the defense looked stronger than it did a year ago. I particularly liked the lateral pursuit and the containment that allowed that pursuit to catch up.

Massive teams, like Texas, A&M or Oklahoma State will give Tech trouble, but the margin isn't as big as last year. And Tech should have beaten the Okies. No, the Raiders have fair size, seem to have alertness and definitely showed desire Saturday.

Probably the most impressive thing about the scrimmage last Saturday was the intensity shown. Here was a squad that has been going through hard paces for 10 days or so. And yet the hitting was hard and the players really put out.

It will be a conditioned squad and, against Colorado, this could be a difference. The Raiders will have this week in which to work hard and then a week to install polish.

One of those officiating Saturday was Jim Schiermeyer. James once labored in the baseball vinyard at Tech, where he blocked many a wild pitch. Some of his detractors, and they fortunately aren't legion, claim he halted the errant flight too often with his head.

Be that as it may, Jim generally officiates Tech junior varsity football games and the coaches feel more confident with him in position. No one ever accused him of coming from a foreign land.

Anyway, with the reserves on the field and Jim sitting on a bench (with a reserve in for him), we sidled over and, by way of getting things rolling, asked how long it would be before there was more than one SWC from Lubbock.

At the present time, the only official from this area is Tim Hatch, a former Raider halfback, who is listed as a back judge and has been rewarded with some top games.

Schiermeyer's answer was no long in coming than a West Texas sandstorm in March.

"You tell me!" he exploded. "We've got a number of qualified officials, but they can't get hired. We've worn out a path to the conference office trying to get them on board.

"J.T. (King) has gone to bat with Hal Lahar (supervisor of officials) and can't get anywhere. It's politics and we don't have the time or money to spend hanging around the conference office."

That brought on a discussion of officials in general and we remarked that the Southeastern Conference used to have the worst—old, fat and slow.

"That used to be true," Jim agreed, "but no more. They have probably the best, along with the Big 8 and Western Athletic Conference. After that it's in a descending scale and there's not much to choose between the others."

Then Jim turned to the subject of Jim Carlen. We could have talked all weekend without having to bring up that name.

"I don't know how you feel about him," Jim declared, "but I still like the guy because he's a heckuva coach. You watch, he'll have South Carolina in the top 10 and he could win a national championship.

Jim opined that Tech had traded a winning coach for a nice guy—and there's no argument there. The argument is in the inference.

Steve Sloan is a nice guy, but I happen to think that, with time, he's going to be a winning coach at Tech, too. And when it comes to personality, that's like comparing Irish Setters with Bulldogs, ice cream with ice water or roses with prickly pears.

South Plains College Gets West Texas Hospital Facilities

LUBBOCK—The former West Texas Hospital facilities at 1302 Main today (Tuesday, Aug. 31) became the property of South Plains College in Levelland.

Dr. James G. Morris, chairman of the West Texas Hospital board, turned the keys to the seven-story structure over to Dr. Marvin L. Baker, SPC president, in brief ceremonies at the hospital. The facility, recently appraised at $1.87 million, will become headquarters for SPC's regional occupational center known as SPC at Lubbock. SPC at Lubbock, which began offering technical, vocational and occupational programs in Lubbock in 1973, currently has offices at 2404 Ave. Q.

"We look forward to becoming a full-fledged partner with industry and the city of Lubbock," said Dr. Baker in accepting the property, "and will continue to serve their needs in employe training and education."

Dr. Baker explained that the facility will be renovated and hopefully will open for classes in the fall of 1977. The renovation project is expected to cost between $500,000 and $600,000.

Allied health programs such as radiologic technology, respiratory therapy and vocational nursing will be the main programs offered at the facility. Secretarial training and distribution and marketing programs also will be emphasized. And other programs will be added as the need arises.

"We can see the day when SPC at Lubbock will be open 24 hours a day," said Frank Hunt, dean of the Technical-Vocational-Occupational Division at SPC. "We hope to be able to operate on a shift basis to coincide with Lubbock industry. And with 600 people a shift here, we could serve as many as 1,800 people a day at the facility."

Legal Secretarial Courses Offered

A basic and an advanced course in legal secretarial skills are offered this fall through the Division of Continuing Education at Texas Tech University.

Both six-week courses will be taught by a Lubbock attorney, Yvonne Faulks. Each will meet weekly from 7 to 9 p.m. in room 203 in Texas Tech's School of Law.

The basic course, starting Sept. 7, will cover legal terminology, paperwork procedures, time elements in litigation, wills and probate, real estate transactions, operation of the law office and legal ethics.

The advanced course, for persons who have completed a basic course or those who have five years' legal experience, will cover substantive law in the areas of personal injury litigation, wills and probate, corporations and law office management.

Registration fee is $25. Books and workbooks will be available for purchase after the first class meeting.

Additional information is available by calling the Texas Tech Division of Continuing Education, 742-3739.

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

It's no wonder that Charles Bronson, that craggy-faced movie star, looks so craggy. If any one star (maybe Charleton Heston, too) makes as many pictures in so short a turnover time, it would be enough to make anyone craggy.

Now, one of the faults of being quite so energetic with one's talents is that the action requires a lot of screen properties and with that quantity put out the consumption is tremendous and the results can vary from excellent to ho-hum.

Well, the muscular star who acquitted himself well in recent outings in such vehicles as "Breakout" has yet another feature unspooling at the Fox 4 complex, this one called "St. Ives." It is one of the Bronson lesser entries.

This 93-minute film breaks away from the pure violence, gun-toting image, gets a PG-rating, and generates very little energy or enthusiasm. Bronson plays an ex-police reporter and he gets mixed up with John Houseman as a wealthy criminal type and Jacqueline Bisset. You see, Bronson is acting as a go-between to recover some paper stolen from Houseman and each time the ransom fails, somebody else gets knocked off. Most of this is never shown on the screen, which is probably just as well.

By the time that 93-minute deadline is reached, some points are being rehashed and the net result is not so good. There is one difference in this film; it gives Bronson a more in-depth approach to his usually formulaic, static characterizations but that is about the only innovation.

You'll see some good talent going down the drain in "St. Ives." Maximilian Schell is around as a kind of psychiatrist to Houseman, while veterans Harry Guardino and Harris Yulin are detectives as is Harry Eilar. There is a motorcycle cop tooling around occasionally, named Burr De Benning and a couple of other names that might stike responsive chords are Michael Lerner and Elisha Cook.

Well, so much for "St. Ives." That's the only film on tap at this time. The lengthy hold-overs in virtually all the city's movie houses have produced a kind of stalemate at the moment. But, hold fast for there are a spate of new ones on the way, including an X-rated children's story (I mean, remembered from OUR childhood), "The Great Scout and Cathouse Thursday," purported to be another spoof of the old Western era. Departing thence will be that cute and funny spoof, "Hawmps," the so-so "Harry and Walter Go to New York," the awful "The Sailor Who Fell from Grace with the Sea" and the corny Burt Reynolds effort, "Gator." Sticking around for a while are the successful "The Omen" "The Shootist," the John Wayne "different" movie, "Gus" the Walt Disney bit about the kicking mule on a professional football team, and the flashy, vulgar "Drum," okay in its own right. Oh yes, that recall of Errol Flynn and Burt Lancaster priate epics "Swashbuckler" holds a little longer, too.

With a brand-new 1000-seat theater to utilize, Texas Tech's University Center Cultural Events series for the upcoming 1976-77 season is a winner. They've set mime Keith Berger to open on Sept. 30, lecture and films by dance critic, teacher and writer John Mueller, modern dance company Mordine and Company, South American pianist Alfonso Montecino, the Paul guitarist (classical) David Grimes, John Houseman-directed "The Acting Company" from New York City and the Atlanta Ballet, one of the nation's foremost.

The two "biggies" on the list are the Broadway hit musical "A Little Night Music" taken from Ingmar Bergman's "Smiles of a Summer Night" film (that's on Nov. 19) and on Feb. 17, 1977, the return of the highly-regarded Houston Symphony Orchestra.

Not a bad line-up, certainly enough diversification to please the most exacting demands.

Texas Tech's University Theater always has an interesting and compelling season for all tastes and the 1976-77 season is quality. The first item opening Oct. 8 will be Edward Albee's moderate succes, "Seascape." Drama events continue with the stunning "The Royal Hunt of the Sun," an Inca spectacular, to be directed by Ronald Schulz, Tech's entry in the American College Theatre Festival. Comedy and music rule with "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and stark, classic tragedy will close the season with "Oedipus Rex" by Sophocles. Schulz again helms this one.

There is a thanking nod to be extended to Virginia Lott out at the studios of Ch. 5, KTXT-TV, the Public Broadcasting Service facility and the Texas Tech station. She has been supplying me with a full monthly line-up of the excellent fare that features the daily output of this facility and it is appreciated. If you don't watch Channel 5 on a regular basis, then you are the loser and I'm sorry for you. Such weekly episodic gems as "Great Performances," the weekly Saturday classic films, the absorbing, nostalgic conversations (with film clips) with noted film directors, the weekly delightful hours with the Boston Pops under the leadership of Lubbock's beloved (and Boston's, too, I'll concede) Arthur Fiedler, with outstanding guests, the fascinating "Nova" series, and, of course, such outstanding entries as "Shoulder to Shoulder," "Jennie" and the perennial favorite "Upstairs, Downstairs" are only a few of the class, tasteful and dynamic shows that belong high on everybody's list.

KTXT-TV, Ch. 5, gives as well as it gets and it should get the maximum support in every way from television viewers in this community. It's a cultural, scientific, entertainment installation that informs and pleases. So, Virginia Lott and John Lacy, program director, hats off to you and thanks.

News From Shallowater Schools

HORSE TALES

Let's get jumping with the new Mustang Cheerleaders. The season is off and we need to start getting some excitement into those old cranky bones of ours that haven't done anything all summer. Our cheerleaders: Alison Terry, Robbin Mauldin, seniors; Shelly Adams, junior; Julie Sproles, sophomore; LaDonna Pair, freshman; and mascot, Robbin Truelock, junior, are off to a great start planning an exciting first pep rally with growing excitement each week to come. So let's get jumping and make this one of the most exciting years the Shallowater Mustangs sports has ever had. The victories to prove the spirit!!

Mustang Band is Goin' Strong

by Alison Terry

The Mighty Mustang Band is mightier than ever and goin' strong under new director, Eddie Hankins', instruction.

Band officers were elected last Wednesday. They are: President, Benny Judah; Vice President, Lori Harrison; Secretary, Janis Horton; Treasurer, Kim Myers; Reporter, Alison Terry; and Librarian, Tammy Medlock. This year's representatives from each class were chosen also. Sr. representative is Barbara Stephenson; Jr. representative, Jamie Myers; Soph. representative, Connie McCollum; and Fr. representative, Lori Simsack.

The public will get to appraise the 76-77 band Friday at half-time of the Shallowater vs. Sands game. Come on out and support the Fighting Mustangs and the Mighty Mustang Band!

R-R-R-Ring

by Laura Walker

That my friends is the sound which hasn't been heard since last May. Friday, August 20, the familiar ring of the school bell signaled the beginning of a whole new year for students at Shallowater High School.

Talks of summer vacations, part-time jobs, and middle-of-the-year romances brightened the conversations. Old friendships that had grown stale over the hot, summery days were renewed and new friendships were begun.

One interesting aspect of the beginning of school is the noted change of lockers. Every year, a student receives a different locker number. Once the location of this newly assigned locker is fixed in the mind the number is quickly forgotten. However, the following year, the student finds that the number he forgot last year (but should've remembered) is indelibly etched in his memory. The student therefore continues to go to last year's locker for several days (sometimes weeks), causing harassment and embarrassment.

Some of the more prominent signs of the starting school year are clean, sanitary lockers; orderly, organized notebooks; fresh, unmarked bookcovers; and new, squeaky sneakers.

As the year progresses, watch for leftover sandwiches in overflowing lockers; notebooks splitting from an overabundance of scrap paper; ink blotched bookcovers showing student "artwork"; and torn sneakers with shredded shoelaces.

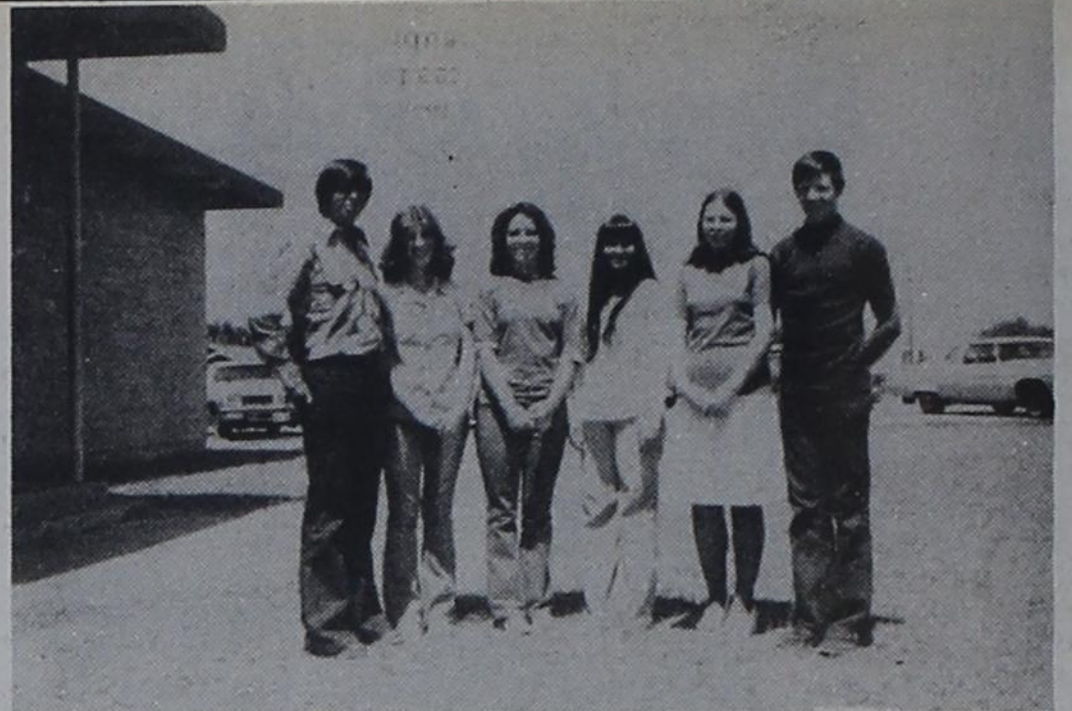

Mustangs Sluggish But Promising

by Steve Wilson

Shallowater's Mustangs met the Mustangs of Wilson in a pre-season scrimmage Friday night. Wilson won the contest by scoring two touchdowns leaving Shallowater scoreless.

As a whole, Shallowater did not look sharp in their efforts against Wilson. Pete Alvarado, the only freshman on the varsity, showed signs of promise, as did others. The Mustangs have looked good in practice and should do well in actual game situations, as soon as they can put the two together.

These young men have what it takes, but they also need the support of the townspeople. Shallowater plays Ackerly this Friday on their home field, the true fans will be there.

ELITE CLUB TO MEET—National Honor Society, a club designated exclusively for students who have achieved and maintained a "90" grade point average, will kick off for another exciting year at 7:00, Monday, September 13th. Program planning and fund raising projects will be topics for discussion at the first meeting of the elite club. First State Bank's lovely community room will host Honor Society get-togethers throughout the year. 1976-77 officers of the society are: Vice President, Guy Lesly; Treasurer, Suzie DeAnda; Reporter, Alison Terry; Historial, Judy Waller; Secretary, Belinda Dunn; and President, George Parsely. NHS is sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Kulm.

General Mills Search for Leadership in Family Living Scholarships Available

College scholarships of $500 to $5,000 are available to high school seniors through the General Mills Search for Leadership in Family Living, now in its 23rd year.

Invitations to enroll in the program have been mailed to high schools across the nation. Schools new to the program can write the General Mills Search, P.O. Box 1113, Minneapolis, Minn. 55440, for information.

The 1976 winner of the top $5,000 scholarship is a boy, the first in the history of the Search. He is Dan McVicar, Broomfield, Colorado.

Enrollment deadline for the 1977 General Mills Search is November 1, 1976.

On Tuesday, December 7, each participating school will administer a 50-minute written examination. Prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Inc., Chicago, this general knowledge and attitude examination is the first important step of the scholarship program.

Fall Fashion Trends Show Lot of Variety

COLLEGE STATION—Fall fashion trends for 1976 will provide something for everyone. The variety of styles and colors will make it easy to find just the right addition for any wardrobe, Margret Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist, reports.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Popular looks will range from rugged, outdoorsy and layered to classic suits and separates to soft, femininely sexy evening wear.

"Country looks that provide functional, unstructured garments worn in layers will be the most contemporary trend. Sweaters, tunics, coats, and ponchos will be an important part of this look, along with natural accessories such as jute or braided belts and leather boots," she said.

In addition to traditional fall colors such as raisin, gray, beige and copper, brights will be available. Brilliant reds, blue and orange will be set off by winter white, possibly the newest fall color trend.

Fabrics will provide interest through texture and patterns as well as color. Blanket plaids, fur fabrics, crinkled cottons and crepe de chins will play prominent roles this fall.

Accessories will include the return of colored and textured hosiery and long fringed mufflers. Bangle bracelets will remain popular, as will belts and scarves.

Fall, 1976, will be a good season for expressing individuality through clothing, she pointed out.

From the examination results a General Mills Family Leader of Tomorrow will be chosen for each participating school. School winners are acknowledged with special awards and their examinations are entered in state competition.

Each State Family Leader of Tomorrow receives a $1,500 college scholarship while every state second-place winner receives a $500 grant. State winners also earn for their school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

State winners will be the guests of General Mills next spring on an expense-paid tour of Williamsburg, Virginia, and Washington, D.C. A special event of the tour is announcement of the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow, whose scholarship is increased to $5,000. Second, third and fourth place national winners receive scholarship increases to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

The General Mills Search, known as the Betty Crocker Search for its first 22 years, is on the advisory list of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

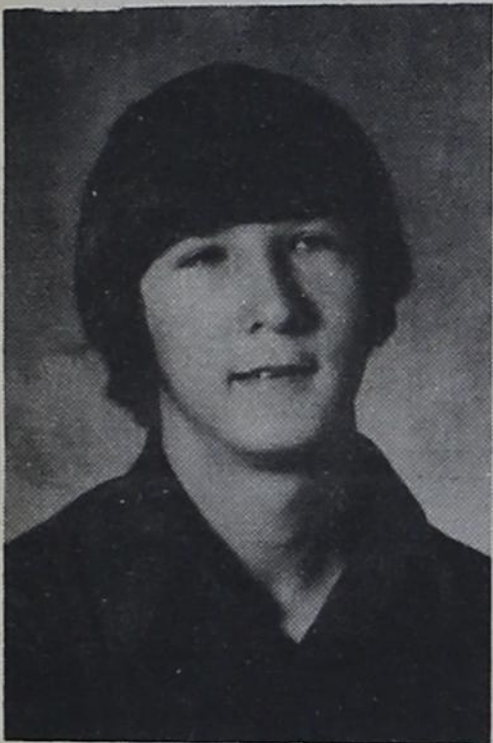

Shallowater Band Boosters to Meet

Band boosters are urged to attend an important meeting Tuesday, September 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the band hall.

The band boosters will be preparing and serving the taco supper for Homecoming October 1, and plans will be made at this September 7 meeting. This is the band boosters big project for the year and every band parent will need to help to make it a success.

Neither nations nor people are equal; but they should have free and equal opportunity.

Senior Spotlight

by Suzie DeAnda
Senior Spectacular

Scott Briant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Briant. He resides at 1201 Tenth Street here in Shallowater. Scott's birthday is August 28, 1958.

In his Senior year, Scott is the President of FFA. Last year, Scott was the Sentinel for FFA.

Scott's favorite hobbies are playing tennis and hunting. He enjoys agricultural mechanics because of the casual way it is taught and the many fascinating aspects about machinery.

Scott stated that the thing he enjoyed about his Senior year was "knowing it's the last and best year of school." Scott plans to major in Animal Science after graduation, but first he plans to "hit the high spots and have a good time."

Human Analysis??

by La Juan Paul

S.H.S. has started a new course for its seniors. Psychology and sociology are adventures for all, with Mrs. Witcher as the instructor.

This course is the first of it's kind to be offered. Among the things to be studied are: the brain, learning, human behavior, and many other aspects of life. The first quarter will be spent totally on the topic of psychology, the science that studies the behavior of organisms. The second and third quarters will be spent studying the sociology, man's social way of life.

It is a very exciting class. Always with an inspiring topic to be discussed, everyone has something to contribute.
