Work Begins On New County Line Clubhouse

Over eighteen years ago several of the ladies in the County Line community started wishing for a clubhouse. For the last three years the County Line Community Club has worked to buy a suitable building. There have been volleyball tournaments, garage sales, bake sales and donations from our community and surrounding communities. A used army barracks building has been purchased and moved to County Line, and the work has now really begun.

Again we have had help from several sources. We would like to thank especially the Navy Reserve men who helped with the remodeling on March 9th and 10th. They removed partitions, made kitchen cabinets, put new doors in, repaired and painted the ceiling and walls, and put a cement floor in the furnace room, with time out for dinner cooked and served by members of the club.

These men work on some project the second weekend of each month for organizations such as ours. The following men from the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, 2903 4th Street in Lubbock deserve our thanks. W.M. Hill, Levelland; B.J. Orr, Brownfield; D.K. McCarty, E.J. Algeo, C. Arnett, M.R. Davis, E.J. Encalade, R.B. Felty, B.P. Fuller, M.E. Haas, J.H. Howell, D.G. Jaden, F.M. Long, A.D. Maltsberger, K.D. Naylor, G.W. Perry, B.J. Poteet, M.E. Stricherz, G.R. Torres, J.L. Truett, T.P. Truett, R.H. Williams, B.J. Wright, C. Sundeer, B. McKee, and G.A. Parramore, all of Lubbock.

Mrs. Violetta Cox Is Citizen Of The Month

Still not believing that there was any way a whole neighborhood, much less the complete community of Shallowater could keep a secret so well, Mrs. Violetta Cox was somewhat at a loss for words, although not totally at a loss, in explaining her feelings at being chosen Shallowater City of the Month.

Mrs. Cox, who came to Shallowater with her husband, Hugh, and family in 1961, has been employed by the Shallowater Independent School District the past 12 years in the "Snack Bar" at the High School. The couple, married for the past 29 years, originally came from Virginia, although Mr. Cox was in the Air Force, and they "lived practically all over the world". Mr. Cox is employed at the Lubbock Regional Airport following his retirement from the U.S. Air Force.

Their two children, Robert and Nadine are both grown, and Mrs. Cox has "sort of" adopted the students of Shallowater High School, referring to them as "my children". Robert is a junior at Texas Tech University and Nadine (Boyd) is a teacher of art at Estacado High School in Lubbock.

Lions Broom Sale is Friday

The Shallowater Lions will have their annual Broom Sale Friday, March 29th. A truck will be loaded with brooms, mops and other useful items, and they will call from door to door Friday.

This is a non-profit organization and all proceeds go to a worthy cause, such as sending crippled children to Kerrville, sponsoring Little League baseball and helping the needy at Christmas.

Be ready to purchase a broom or mop Friday and let's all help the Lions have a good sale.

Mrs. Cox was selected Citizen of the Month on the basis of her involvement within the community, always being the first on hand when a neighbor family has problems, and her involvement with the school children she works with.

An open house in Mrs. Cox's honor will be held at the First State Bank of Shallowater on Wednesday, April 3rd from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The public is cordially invited. In addition to the open house, a tree and plaque with Ms. Cox's name on it will be placed at some prominent site within the city. Mrs. Cox is the fourth citizen to be so honored. The Citizen of the Month program is a creation of the Shallowater Lions Club and is funded by citizens contributions. The citizen of the month is chosen each month by secret ballot within the city.

Mrs. Cox wishes to express that over the past 12 years, "how much I have enjoyed all the boys and girls I have known who have gone through the schools" here in Shallowater. And she added, "please tell everyone how much I thank my good friends and neighbors for honoring me as "Queen for the Day".

The Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America will observe National FHA Week, March 31 through April 6. Using the theme "Impact '74" the 68,000 Texas members will join some half-a-million young men and women across the country in demonstrating projects that are challenging, stimulating, and of real value to youth in preparation for future responsibilities.

"We have a new approach to program planning, Annette Reznik, state president of Friona, pointed out. Working with our Program Action Impact kit is exciting. Impact was developed by youth and introduced to chapters this year by state and area officers. We analyze member concerns and then develop what we call 'in-depth' projects that are related to our home economics classroom study. Most people have no idea of what is taught in home economics classes today. They think of home economics as cooking and sewing and of Future Homemakers of America as just another 'fun and games' club.

During the National FHA-Hero Week we want to impress on people that Future Homemakers of America, as a part of home economics education, provides opportunities for us to learn, to know, to care and to do the things that help prepare us for future living."

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945 as an incorporated, nonprofit organization supported by membership dues. There are two types of chapters. FHA chapters place major emphasis on consumer education, homemaking and family education combined with exploration of jobs and careers. Hero chapters, taking the name from home economics related occupations, place major emphasis on preparation for jobs and careers with recognition that workers also fill multiple roles as homemakers and community leaders.

The annual state meeting of the Texas Association will be April 25-26 in the Convention Center, Dallas. More than 5,000 members and advisors are expected to attend.

The theme of the meeting is "Today's Concern-Tomorrow's Impact". Programs are planned to provide delegates further information and ideas about implementation of the new Impact program of work, which was first introduced last July at the National Meeting of Future Homemakers of America in Dallas.

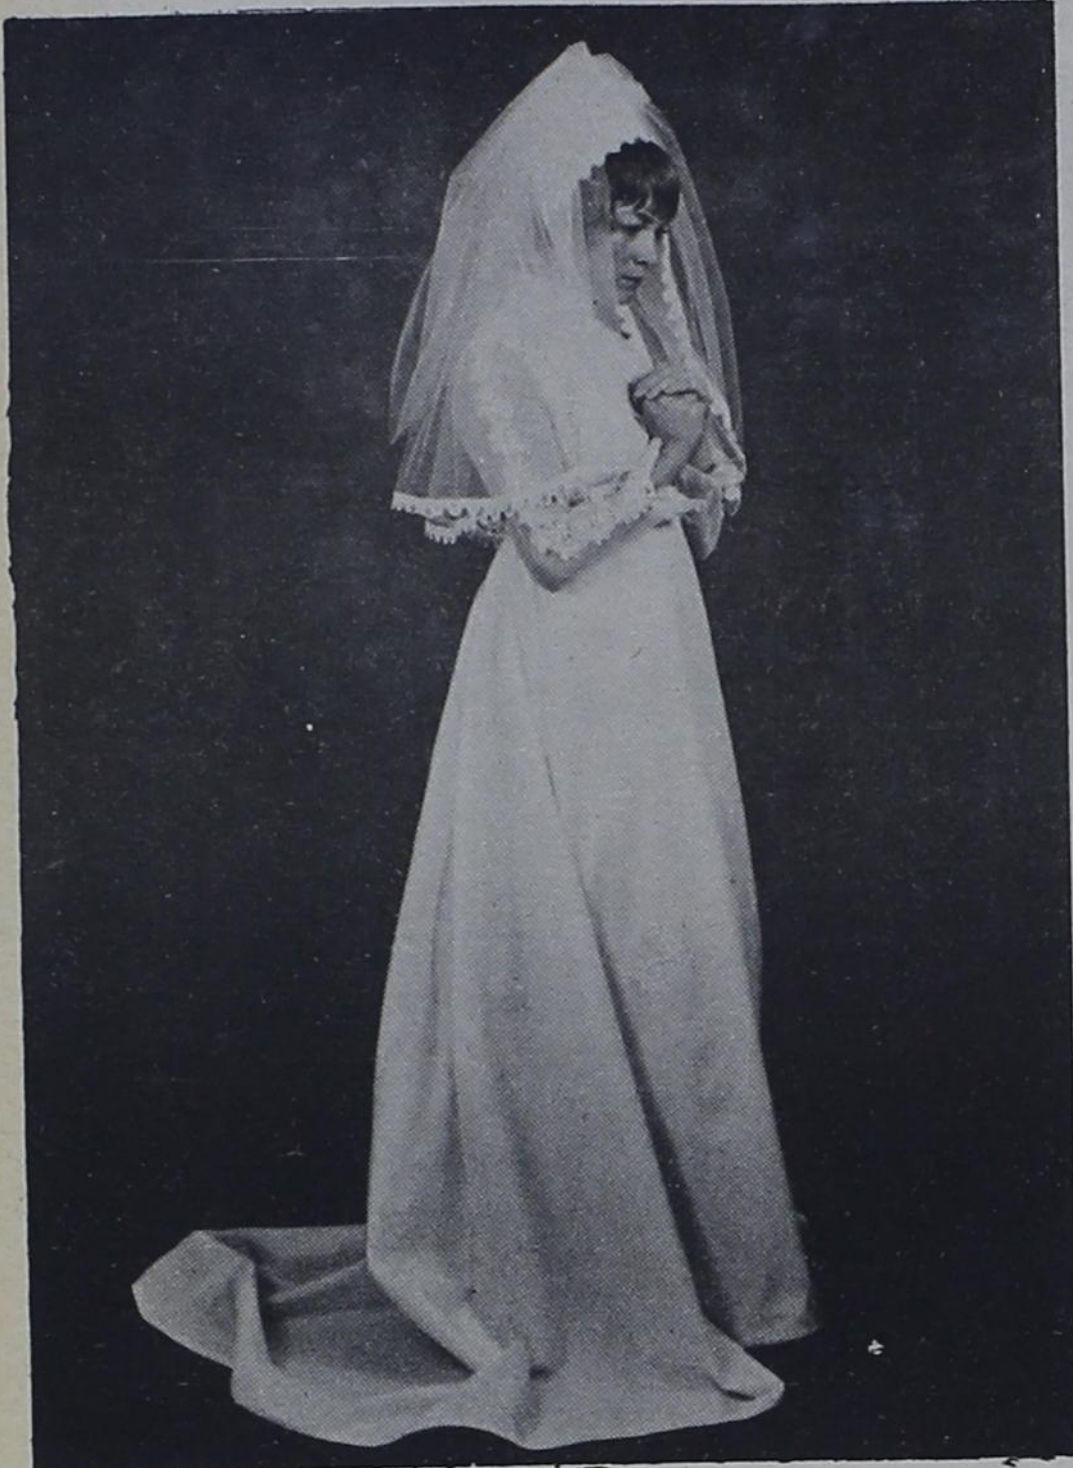

Keynote speaker for the meeting will be Roger Staubach, Dallas Cowboy quarterback and popular youth speaker. Other highlights include an address by Vonda Van Dyke, former Miss America and popular entertainer, presentation of Honorary Membership to non-members who have contributed their time and effort to the organization and a breakfast honoring members who are to be recognized at the meeting for their outstanding achievements in FHA.

The Reese Family Services Advisory Council broke tradition recently when the members selected not one, but two FS Volunteers for the Year. They are Kathy Ross and Linda Nix.

Miss Carleen Schlenker of Friona, was named "Woman of the Year" at South Plains College

Fredericksburg—This friendly German city, with its neat homes, historic sites and old world charm, was stung Thursday night by a killing frost.

The frost, by itself, was not unusual. The way the city took it, was. Peaches are a big industry here and there was fear that the frost wiped them out. The good burghers shrugged, smiled sadly and accepted their fate with as good humor as they could.

There are many other communities that would have wailed and cried, but here it was accepted as something over which they had no control. So, they looked to other sources of income.

Unfortunately, I won't have a chance to test the fishing, which they say is good. Instead, I'm spending the weekend in Houston with my daughter and her husband. He has other plans so my rod and reel languish in the back of the car.

At least I did get a chance to see the UCLA-NC State playoff game, and I had been hating the thought of missing it. I only hope that it was as good as we all had hoped and that the finals Monday night also lived up to expectations.

We've had rain here, although not enough by local standards, after real heat for a day or two. People say that this has been a most unusual winter, far too warm, but it has led to good fishing.

Final conference statistics reveal some interesting things about Tech's situation. First and foremost, the Raiders had the best defensive record, but only the fifth best offensive mark.

Texas had the widest spread, averaging 87.6 points a game and allowing only 77.4 points. Tech was the next closest with a 7.6 point spread. Arkansas, by some freak closed with identical points with its enemies, 86.1 points for and 86.1 points against.

Also, and this might be most significant, Tech had only two scorers in the top 16, Rick Bullock (4th) and William Johnson (8th). Richard Little ranked 17th, Grady Newton 32nd and Phil Bailey 36th. No other Raider was in the top 52.

In rebounding, though, Tech had two in the top six. Bullock (11.6 per game) and Johnson (9.4). A&M, fourth in the standings, had two in the top 10, ranked eighth and tenth.

Tech, it would seem, needs to get more punch in the lineup to go with its tight defense. Two guard slots are open, with both Little and Don Moore leaving. A strong scorer at one guard would make the Raiders even more potent.

Little's shooting fell off last year, maybe because he became less selfish than at any time in his career. Newton hit 46.4% and Phil Bailey hit an even 48%, both strong showings.

With the baseball season almost here, on the pro level, that is, I feel the same twinge of regret each year that there is no team in Lubbock. In the days when there were the Hubbers, activity was hot and heavy.

Old Hubber Park had undergone its usual coat of paint, Will was busy manicuring the infield, new signs were painted and sometimes even old, splinty planks were replaced in the grandstand.

The ball club trained at a variety of places, such as Dallas, Greenville, Uvalde, San Angelo, Midland, Huntsville, Thomasville, Ga., and even in the Rio Grande Valley.

Those were interesting days, days of expectation as a long line of managers attempted to take the raw recruits and blend them with a variety of older, seasoned players. The results sometimes were spectacular, sometimes mediocre, but usually good enough to keep Lubbock in the thick of the battles.

Those really were great days and the memories flood back, days with Jackie Sullivan and Bill Metzger as managers, different in approach, but fundamentally the same.

There were the players, far too numerous to mention and most of them different, but all fired with the hope of the big year that would propel them to the top. Yep, great guys, great days. It's too bad that they are gone for good.

In a few days Tech opens football drills that ought to have more than passing interest. The spring workouts will lead up to a spring game that has, in the past, failed to attract many fans.

But this year should be different. The Raiders are coming off a great victory over Tennessee in the Gator Bowl, they are looking at more classy material than has been seen in a long time at Tech and they have some important holes to plug.

All in all, spring training this year ought to be filled with interest and much of it will be centered on Tommy Duniven, who has received maybe more than his share of pre-varsity plaudits.

Indeed, Jim Carlen would like to see the attention played down, understandably. Duniven has yet to play a down, still he has been getting his share of attention. The buildup doesn't approach that afforded Super Bill Bradley, but the interest is there.

Bradley finally lived up to expectations, but as a defensive back. Duniven is liable to make it as a quarterback and make it big. He has the tools and he's had a year of tutoring as a red shirt that should make him far better than the average first year player.

Perhaps the biggest loss will be Andre Tillman and finding a replacement for the big tight end may not be solved easily. There are some great prospects on hand, though, and the battles should be worth watching closely.

The Roundup—Hey! Just had a call and I'm going fishing Saturday somewhere in the San Antonio area, with my son-in-law....Canyon Dam Lake, where we may be going, suddenly has blossomed into one of the better bass lakes....Talked with Wesley Woerner this week. His son as a football scholarship player at Hardin-Simmons and Sul Ross. Maybe exes in this area may remember him....Say, David Hester, F.C. Stengel, Mason Drug, would like complete information on the Lubbock Tennis Club. He can be reached at Drawer P....What I'd like to see would be a matched race between the Streakers and the Gay Lib. Somebody from Home and Family Life at Tech could be the referee! Peace!
