

Shallowater Mustangs — Shooting For District

Shallowater Little Dribblers to Begin League Play Here Monday Evening

Sixty-five boys, ranging in age from 9 through 14 have signed up to play in the Little Dribblers and the first game is scheduled to be played on Monday or Tuesday night of next week, in one of the school gyms.

Admission to the games will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, with money collected at the games to be used to purchase needed items for the nine teams that are entered.

Officers and coaches for the teams are: President, Joe Cox; Vice President, Burnis Penney; Secretary-treas., Kenneth Shropshire; Publicity Director, Don Enger and Walter Hutton is player agent.

Other coaches include Dale

Johnson, Roy Roberts, Butch Pair, Hank Woodruff, Doyce Middlebrook, Wiley Kornzeri, Bobby Reeves, Wayne Oliver, Gene Usrey, Rocky Blair, Joe Randolph, Gerald Stantzeberger and Joe Hickox.

The Little Dribblers program is to be continued annually and a complete schedule of this seasons program will be run in the next issue of Suburban Today, so watch for it.

Group Returns From Coast

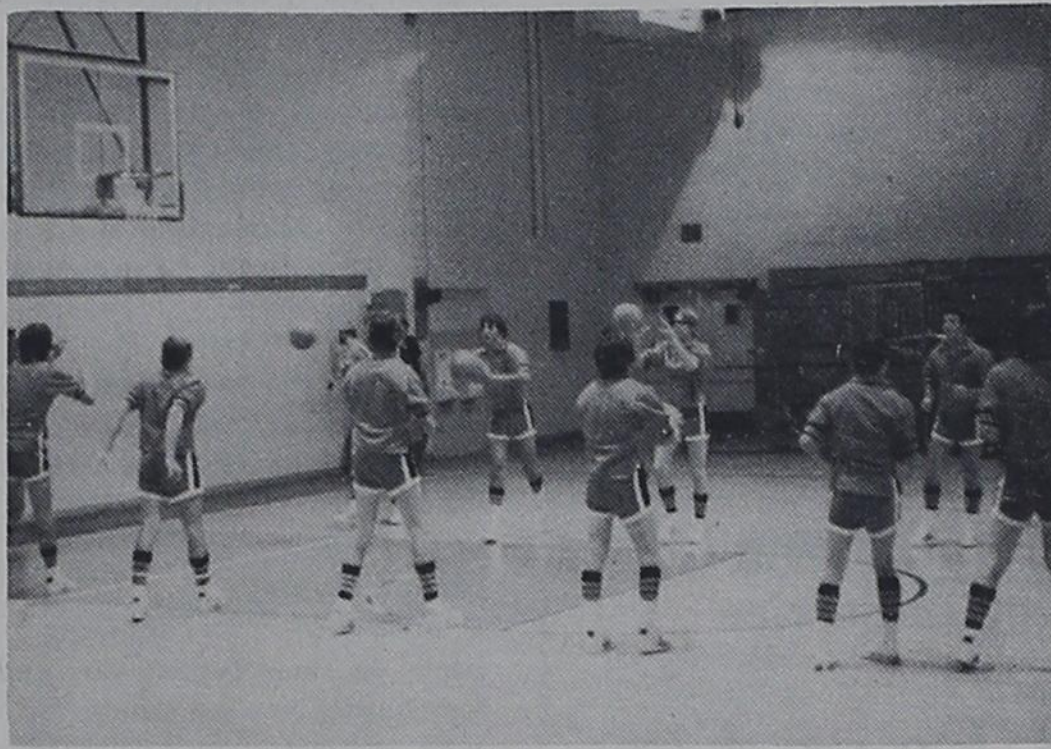

A group from Shallowater returned home Saturday afternoon from a three week trip to the coast where they fished, enjoyed visiting and went sightseeing.

They stayed at Port Isbell and fished on Padre Island where the scenery was beautiful, and reported some rain, but several pretty days while there. They also visited over in Mexico from McAllen.

Making the trip were the John Redwine's, L.H. Redwine's, Mrs. Inez Redwine and friends from Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Knox.

A Reminder

Just a reminder that a representative will be at the First State Bank from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. next Wednesday, February 12, to sell license plates for vehicles.

Eagles fly out on the court with determination.

Mustangs gallop out with the horse sense of winning.

Both do their warm-ups.

Shallowater Mustangs eye the poster of "Shootin for District."

Seagraves Eagles say "no way."

Buzzer sounds, game starts.

As in all game, the captains meet and the refs make the rules clear. Both Bobby Reeves and Jon Gates are raring up and ready to go, as they are anxious for the refs to say what they have to say.

The jump ball fell into the hands of the Mighty Mustangs. Two points sunk! Everyone could tell what kind of a game it was going to be!

Seagraves puts their two points on the scoreboard, while fans from both teams are on their feet. Shouts from SHS fans of "Rebound that ball, White!" "Come on Mustangs, let's go! Get that ball! Take it easy!" All of these shouts helped keep the Mustangs' spirit up. At the end of the first quarter the score that lit the board showed 14-9, with Mustangs ruling.

Shootin for District was the name of the game!

On a steal, Bobby and Don L. Grimes headed toward Mustang Country to sink a shot. Only one Eagle managed to cover the guys, so Bobby decided he'd let Don sink the shot. Don thought it would be better if Bobby put the ball up, so he passed it back to Bobby. This happened in a short period of time, and by this time, Bobby was going too fast to control his speed, so he passed the basketball goal. Don threw it back to him, and people from both sides were on their feet. What action! Then a shrilling noise was heard, which later was discovered to be the whistle of a ref. Purpose? Just to let the people know that Bobby had stepped on the "Illegal Territory", (out of bounds) and that the Eagles had possession of the ball. Shallowater fans say, "No, man! He was in bounds! Come on ref!" While the Seagraves people clap and cheer while yelling, "Great call, ref!"

The Mustangs happily maintained the lead during the first half. Time for people to rest their throats and time for the teams to get a few pointers, but only one team was going into the dressing rooms happy. Right! Shallowater! Half-time score was 28-21.

Time to start the game. Jump ball went again to the Mighty Mustangs. Well, who can out jump "Big Bad Jon?"

Fouls called, some free shots made, some missed, others fall and others get angry. Who becomes angry? One Eagle could not keep his feet on the ground. At the time he fell, a free shot was to be made, but Alex Grice thought he'd help the guy up. Only, the Eagle wasn't too pleased with the offer, so he refused the helping hand of Alex. We all know

Shallowater Resident's Relatives Victims In Freak Gas Deaths at Denver City

The terrible tragedy that killed seven persons in one family in Denver City early Sunday and took the lives of two others, shocked the hearts of many friends and relatives, including Head Football Coach, Bert Grimes in Shallowater, who was a first cousin to J.C. Patton, in whose home the mishap occurred.

Others killed in the farm home was Patton's wife, Glenda, their daughter, Dee Dee, a senior at Denver City High School, Alma Lee "Pete" Amerson, his wife Edith of Portales, N.M., Mrs. Amerson was Mrs. Patton's sister, and the two women's mother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. May of Arlington, and 14 year old Clara Peevy, an overnight house guest of Dee Dee's.

Nineteen year old Steve Eugene Sparger of Denver City, an employee of Atlantic-Richfield and operator of the well, was killed also. He was enroute to check the leak and was overcome by the fumes of hydrogen sulfide and carbon dioxide, spewing from a ruptured oil well head, about 150 yards away from the Patton home. He was found dead in his pickup that had veered into a ditch. The others were found in or near vehicles in which they were trying to escape, most still wearing their night clothes.

Coach Grimes Attends Clinic

Shallowater Football Coach, Bert Grimes, returned Sunday from Dallas where he attended the annual three day Kellogg's Coach of the Year Clinic.

Sessions on football were held with featured speakers from about six colleges present for the clinic.

The main speaker for the affair was Baylor Coach Grant Teaff, who was awarded the Coach of the Year awards recently.

Ninth Graders Enjoy Party

Several ninth graders from the First Baptist Church enjoyed a party Monday, January 27, when the group, along with their class teacher, Mrs. Butch Pair, ate at the Brittainy in the mall and window shopped. Those present were Shelly Adams, Lesa DuLaney, Donna Evans, Lori Harrison, Belinda Seale, Jackie Stewart, and Mrs. Pair's children, LaDonna and James.

Group Returns From Fishing Trip

Junior High Fillies Win Trophy

The 7th and 8th grade basketball girls had some very exciting games last week at the New Home Tournament. They played Jan. 23, 24 and 25. Their first game was against CTK. That was a most exciting game, but they lost 32 to 31. This didn't get them down.

Friday they played Wilson winning 37 to 20 with Jana Hayslip scoring 25 of those points.

Saturday they played O'Donnell for consolation with the winning score of 28 to 18. Everyone had a part in the game and they came home very excited and happy.

February 10th they will be playing LCH there at 4:30, so we hope you will all come out and support them.

what good citizens Shallowater people are, so Alex was a bit surprised. Alex's face turned a deep red, with quite a bit of anger in his body. Coach Williamson sees this and hurriedly called time. (Had to cool that Dude off).

With 4:25 left in the game the score was 45-39. Mustangs having control of the corral.

Boy, Coach Mike never could stay in his chair! Happiness and the urge to keep putting more points on that scoreboard ran through his body.

At approximately 2:21, that play called "stalling" was started by the Mustangs. Passing from Rusty to Alex, from Alex to Jon, from Jon to Bobby, from Bobby to Don L., and then everything was started again, but not exactly in that order. Those Eagles had not lost hope, as they desperately tried to get that ball. Oh, they succeeded in taking it away, but only once was it worthwhile.

The Eagles got very excited and so did Jon. For some way or the other, they'd foul Jon, and Jon had a little bit of trouble sinking all his free shots. He could easily get that hook shot in the basket, but I guess standing still made him nervous.

But, finally those final ten seconds appeared on the board. Ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three...oops! Ball thrown out of bounds, but Mustangs have possession. Two, two, two, (still counting while a Mustang tries to get the ball out in time), then finally, one, zero! What a ball game. Shallowater fans sighing with relief as if they had played the game. Mustangs rule victory with a score of 53-41.

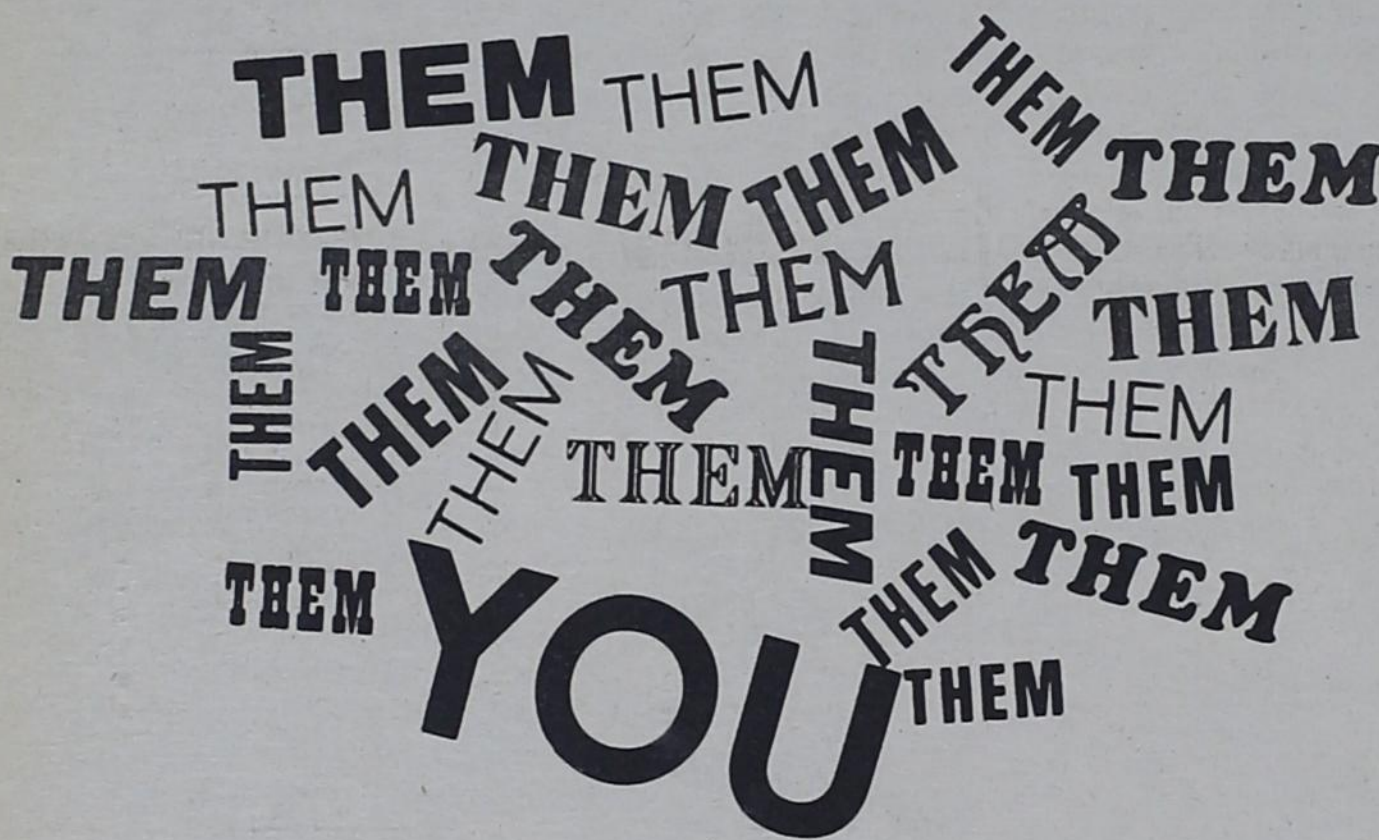

The poster of "Shootin for District" will stay up and will urge the Mustangs to more victories. It has helped them in the past, for their record in district games is 5-1. It will also help them obtain the title of District Champs.

Those who didn't go to the game really missed something and those of us who went, well, we got a piece of the action.

Comments by Ronald Reagan

by Ronald Reagan
(Copley News Service)

If your neighbor's barn was on fire, you'd want to get him a fire truck, not a watering can, to help put it out.

Congress doesn't see it that way when it comes to supplying South Vietnam with the supplies and materials needed to survive the attempted takeover of that country by North Vietnam.

Last year, the administration requested $1.5 billion in military aid to South Vietnam.

This wasn't out of line, considering our commitment in the Paris Accords to keep the South Vietnamese resupplied on a one-for-one replacement basis.

In light of North Vietnam's buildup, even that amount might have fallen short of keeping our ally stable in weapons, ammunition and equipment. Since mid-1973 the North Vietnamese have ignored the important resupply provision of the Accords.

With heavy supplying by both the USSR and China, the Communist government of North Vietnam has exceeded the amount of war material it had at the time of its countrywide general offensive in mid-1972. That offensive was halted and reversed only after President Nixon ordered the mining of Haiphong harbor and the resumption of military bombing in the North.

Although the President's $1.5 billion request represented the minimum needed for South Vietnam to hold its own, the 93rd Congress reduced this amount, first to $1 billion, then to $700 million. Now, in the face of a huge Communist buildup of tanks, troops and artillery, we are resupplying South Vietnam at half the rate it will need to survive.

As a result of the current communist offensive, the South Vietnamese are using ammunition at a rate that could see their last round spent by March.

One provincial chief in the Mekong Delta said that during the 1972 offensive his troops were able to fire 15,000 rounds of artillery a day. Today, even though the Communist offensive is concentrated in the Delta to a great degree, the figure is down to 1,000 rounds a day.

Farther north, the commander of an airborne division says that the fuel shortages he has encountered have forced a reduction in flying time of his 250 aircraft by two-thirds.

On-the-scene observers from the American Conservative Union noted, "For the first year-and-a-quarter following the cease fire the South Vietnamese troops were able to hold their territory and outposts. In the last two months, as a result of inadequate supplies, they have withdrawn from dozens of outposts. Dozens of others have been overrun."

No such cutbacks have hampered the North Vietnamese. They have improved and enlarged the Ho Chi Minh Trail network that runs south through Laos and Cambodia and along the western border of South Vietnam. Supplies come south in an endless stream, both for the current offensive and for stockpiling.

Prior to the cease-fire U.S. air power destroyed nearly all the supplies en route. Today, nearly all reach their destinations.

With adequate supplies, the South Vietnamese have proved that "Vietnamization" works and they can defend themselves without the participation of American troops.

Now, President Ford has asked Congress for a supplementary appropriation of a relatively modest $300 million for more material for the South Vietnamese. This could be a matter of life or death for the little nation.

If some of the leadership of Congress persists in its ostrich like stance toward Southeast Asia and blocks the appropriation, we may see the irony of a Communist victory in Indochina, not because of Communist popularity or military superiority, but because we failed to honor our bargain with our ally.

Los Angeles—John Dean III, former White House counsel and star witness in the Watergate hearings, has signed a $300,000 book contract for his personal story, according to Richard Snyder, a vice president of Simon & Schuster.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—Gov. Dolph Briscoe served up a smorgasbord of legislative recommendations which could keep lawmakers jumping for the next four months, even if they had no proposals of their own.

Briscoe offered a 10 part package, assigning top priority to complete restructuring of the public school finance system and again serving warning he will not approve a tax bill.

He said he hopes the 64th Legislature will be known as the "Public Education Session."

The governor made no mention of two much discussed issues: Constitutional revision and creation of a public utilities commission.

He called for the "weighted pupil approach" to distributing state aid. That would base state and local spending on actual cost of instructional programs geared to individual district needs and measured against the best 42 districts. The local district's ability to pay would be based on taxable value of its property.

Briscoe placed heavy emphasis on legislation to assure individuals' right to privacy.

He drew some of his best applause with proposals to expand powers of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, to give it a veto over new higher education construction programs and creation of new departments. Many college boards of regents can be expected to fight the bill.

The Governor's many recommendations included repeal of the state sales tax on utility bills and steps to remove problem drivers from the road.

Services Held for Mrs. A. F. Reese

Funeral services for Mrs. A.F. Reese, 82, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the First United Methodist Church with Rev. Max Browning, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. David Hambliss of Amarillo.

Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park in Lubbock under the direction of George Price Funeral Home in Levelland.

Mrs. Reese died at 11:55 a.m. Monday in her home at 2124 53rd St. in Lubbock. She was the mother of the late A.F. Reese, Jr., after whom Reese Air Force Base was named. Reese was killed in action in Sardinia, May 14, 1943, and "Lubbock Army Air Field" was officially named Reese Air Force Base in ceremonies held Nov. 5, 1949 at the base.

Mrs. Reese was a native of Farmersville until 1929 when she moved with her family to the Shallowater community. She also lived in Levelland, prior to moving to Lubbock.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Bruce Sheperd of Levelland, a brother, John Ball of San Antonio, two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Lyons Family Returns to Peru

Following a six month furlough in the states, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lyon, Kelly and Kevin, left Miami, Fla. on Tuesday, January 28 for Lima, Peru.

The Lyons returned to their missionary base, Yarinacocha, to begin their eighteenth year with Wycliffe Bible Translators, where Lyon is flight coordinator and his wife, Millie, works in public relations.

Mr. Lyons is a graduate of Shallowater Schools and his wife graduated from Lubbock High School. Both attended Texas Tech for one year and Lyons finished in the School of Aeronautics in Tulsa. The family then moved to Fort Worth and lived until they were called into the missionary work and went to Moody Bible Institute in Chicago where they received their degrees prior to joining Wycliffe in 1954.

They were sent to jungle camp in Mexico where they learned how to live in the jungle, build their own house and trap their meat, in preparation for survival.

On January 20, 1956, they were sent to Lima, Peru, for the first time where they studied Spanish for six months.

Their base, located 500 miles northeast of Lima is in the heart of the jungle. The natives are very primitive, living in huts on the rivers. There are very few roads and the natives must live near the rivers in order to go by canoe for supplies.

Mr Lyons flies in and out of the jungle and has had many narrow escapes. Their oldest son, Nathan, was killed Dec. 24, 1971 in a plane crash in the jungle along with 90 other passengers who lost their lives. There was only one survivor. The youth was enroute home to be with his parents for Christmas holidays from the school he attended when the tragedy occurred.

The Lyons will be in Peru for four more years, before they will return home, unless they have emergency leave. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F.O. Lyons of Shallowater.

Study Club Meets

The Shallowater Study Club group met at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. R.W. Woodruff with twenty-two members present and two guests.

The program was given on Love-Courtship and Marriage, by Mrs. Gene Usrey, Mrs. Leroy Grawunder and Mrs. A.R. Shipp.

Roll call was answered with songs, sung by the ladies, that was popular during their days of courting.

The Valentine motif was carried out in decorations and refreshments were served.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, February 18, in the home of Mrs. J.U. Cone.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

Friends, I'm not about to concede the basketball championship to Texas A&M, despite the fact that the Aggies do appear, off their performance against Tech, to be the best team. The Aggies have a head start, but the race has a long way to go.

Anything can happen in this league and all you have to do is remember the jump the Raiders got a year ago, only to fall by the wayside in the latter stages of the race.

Meanwhile, the Raiders plod along on an aimless course—lose a game, win one; lose a game, win one. The time has come for them to start winning consistently, or they won't be in the race.

Still, it must be considered that they've won two of three road games, which is a must if you are to win the title. And the loss at home, to A&M, was against the hottest team in the conference. Starting right now, though, it is imperative that they win.

Analysis of the Raider team isn't encouraging. Earlier in the season, a visiting writer, who knows his basketball, remarked that, while Tech won, it would have trouble with guard play such as he had observed.

He put his finger on a major problem. The guards have not been getting the job done. They have not been running the offense well and they have not been scoring. It's a trouble spot.

Gerald Myers is concerned about the position, but he has nowhere to turn. Steve Dunn and Keith Kitchens are not scoring and they have had too many turnovers. Phil Bailey is inconsistent. Given time, he's a good outside shooter. Hurried, he's not good.

So the scoring largely has fallen back on Rick Bullock and William Johnson, with help from Bailey or Grady Newton, occasionally. Rudy Liggins contributes once in a while.

So, you have a team that is limited in balanced firepower. There are no Del Ray Mounts, Dub Malaises, Greg Lowerys or, even, Gerald Myers on this Tech squad. And it's tough to win without the support that the guards give.

If Bullock or Johnson is off, Tech is in serious trouble. So far both have done yeoman work, but opposing teams know that they represent the heart of the attack and they double team them. That they do as well as they do is tribute to them.

Despite the gloomy analysis, A&M didn't run away and hide from Tech. Indeed, until a three point play gave the Aggies a 4 point lead, it was anybody's game.

Had Tech managed to get a three or four point bulge, the game might well have gone to the Raiders. And they lost to a good Arkansas team in the hills, where this year it will be tough for any team to beat the Razorbacks.

Still, off their pre-conference showing, Tech has a better team than shows up in the 2-2 league standings. With a few less mistakes and a little more firepower, Tech could be 4-0.

No, there is still a lot of basketball left and the Raiders can still make a run at the title. The situation they find themselves in is critical, but it's not hopeless. They need to get more aggressive and have one or two players come through. Given that, they should be in good shape.

Spring training at Tech is getting closer and it should be interesting, regardless of what Steve Sloan and crew manages in the way of freshman recruits. There's a lot of material left over from last year's squad and Tech could stand a less than phenomenal recruiting campaign.

Indeed, coming in as late as he did, it would be remarkable if Steve managed an outstanding crop of rookies. He has, though, a pretty good nucleus with which to operate next year.

Many thought, after viewing the Peach Bowl, that Tech had the best material, Vanderbilt had the best team. It was a standoff, for which you probably have to credit the players.

So, regardless of recruiting, Tech has a good supply of experienced players, plus some outstanding red shirts and promising freshmen. The spring training campaign will give Sloan a good chance to put things together.

The Roundup—Dr. J. William Davis, "father" of the Letter of Intent, may have to undergo open heart surgery, if he hasn't already. . . It's no secret, but Jackie Sullivan, former Lubbock Hubber manager, is going to run for sheriff. . . The Tech-Aggie game drew writers from Dallas and Fort Worth, a tribute to the importance of the game. . . South of here hunters are griping about the bird shooting this season. . . Most West Texas lakes are full and there still is a lot of activity. Hubbard Creek remains one of the hottest spots. . . Do you remember when there were roses blooming in Tech's football stadium? And you had to wear leather pants to avoid getting splinters? You do? Getting old, aren't you! . . . And congratulations to Lawrence Williams and Calvin Jones on being Tech's only pro draft picks.

Rep. Tom Uher of Bay City will head the workhorse State Affairs Committee. Rep. Ben Grant of Marshall will chair the Judiciary Committee.

Rep. Ray Hutchison will be chairman of the Constitutional Revision Panel; Eddie Bernice that sends germs, deadly poisons, dreadful sores, and death dealing diseases. First of all, let me say that this does not in any way describe God, our Heavenly Father. Nature itself teaches us that God is a God of life. He spoke life into his creation and said that it was good.

Some are suffering sickness and pain because of a neglectful prayer life and slackness in Bible study. Proverbs 4:20-22 says that God's word will give life and health if it is studied and kept in the heart. The body is constantly surrounded with that which would destroy, kill, and harm. We can actually keep ourselves filled with God's strength through devotion to his word.

People sometimes suffer sickness because of overwork. Many Christian workers take on more than God told them to do, and then become sick because of a heavy load. Man becomes sick and says, "Well, this must be the will of God." The man should see his own error and learn a valuable lesson. We sometimes see a Sainly Christian who is suffering with a chronic condition and we ask the question, why do the righteous suffer? If we could really know all the details, we could find the reason. There has usually been a physical abuse of the body. Many times, the mind has been overleaded with the problems of others and the strain begins to take its toll.

Many suffer pain and disease because of fear. They live in fear that they will have a certain disease. This opens the door to disease because the door of faith has been closed. Fear within the mind actually lessens the strength of the body, just as faith in the mind and heart releases strength to the physical body. Fear always activates Satan and faith activates God.

Probably the greatest induction to sickness today is stress, anxiety, worry, and fear. This is ever evidenced in the life of young children. There will always be much more sickness in the home where there is constant strife, anger, tension, and resentments. You will find much better health in a home filled with love, understanding and forgiveness. Prov. 16:24 states that kind words bring health.

Prolonged unforgiveness also opens the door to disease. An unforgiving heart begins to overload the rest of the body. Jesus knew that anger was hard on the body. This is why he said, "Get over your anger before the sun goes down." Medical men will tell you that a patient who is bitter and resentful requires a much longer time for healing and mending. When you are at peace, your body can relax and respond to treatment.

Our children are sick many times because we as parents disregard basic health rules. We do not require enough sleep and rest. We do not provide healthful

There are several other reasons as to why so many are suffering needlessly. Read I Corinthians 11:27-30.

Some folks want to be sick. They love the attention and they wouldn't know what to talk about if they were well and strong.

Theme of the Week A Puzzling Moment

by Beverly Pair

Suddenly, out of nowhere it charged at me. It buzzed my nose, brushed my eyelashes, and divebombed into my ear and out before it landed on the crown of my head and did a spin of ballet. All of this seemed to take place in about one second.

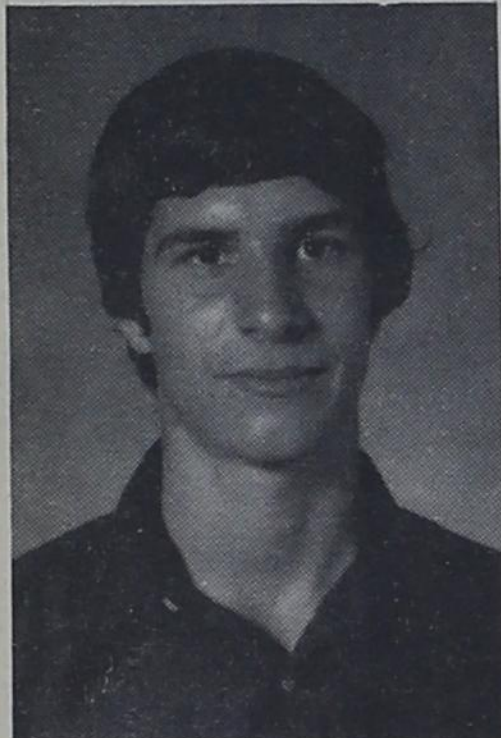

While the ballet was in progress, I slapped my nose, dusted my eyelashes, and dug out my ear, and the thing was gone. I heard no buzzing. I saw no whirling, and felt nothing.

Silence prevailed. I had an eerie feeling; like the calm before a storm. I stood in my tracks and held my hand to my ear and listened and looked in three directions. Traffic in the street slowed down. Pedestrians stared. Some said later that they thought I was doing pantomimes and some settled for my directing traffic.

Finally my eyes sought the ground. I had not moved from my tracks. I glimpsed a beautiful thing that glistened on the grass like a jewel. Had I found a precious gem? A sapphire maybe. I reached down and the colors were rich and changing hues. I stepped back to get a better view when a beautiful June Bug arose and buzzed off like a jeweled tornado into the bright sunshine.

JV Spotlight

by Alex Grice

This week Judy Waller and Chris Huchings are the two junior varsity spotlights.

Judy is a sophomore this year at SHS. She is also a guard on the team. Judy also gets to suit out with the varsity girls when JV isn't playing a game. A couple of weeks ago, Judy put in 10 points against Stanton. To add to this, she made all of her points during the second quarter. "When you're hot, you're hot."

Chris Huchings is another standout on the Junior Varsity team. Chris, an ample 6'4" is the post on the JV. He has been hampered the entire year by a bad knee. It came out of socket during football season and again during basketball season. He is slowly recuperating, and finally saw a little action against Seagraves last week.

Shallowater Fillies Tremendously Overcome Friday

Last Friday night (the 31st) the Fillies could never overcome the Seagraves girls.

The visitors seemed to control the entire game from the very beginning. Number 21 (from Seagraves) sunk nearly every shot she put into the air.

Too many fouls were called on the court that night, and almost all the fouls were on our girls.

With 4:15 showing on the clock for the 3rd quarter to end, the score was 68-18, guess who ruled the game?

Every Filly was ready to see the game come to an end. The gals from Seagraves had it all together and proved to be too much for the Fillies. Final score lit on the board 83-28, a very disappointing night for the Fillies.

F.H.A. News

The Shallowater F.H.A. met in the High School Auditorium, February 3rd, at 7:00 p.m. Forty-five members, four parents and sponsors attended.

During the business meeting, February 22 was announced as the date for the Sweetheart Banquet. Feb. 28 and March 1st will be the meeting dates for the FHA Area Meeting in Lubbock. At this meeting, the FHA Beau was elected by secret ballot, and will be introduced at the FHA Banquet.

Kim Young introduced the speaker, Margaret Vigness from Hemphill Wells. She gave a very interesting slide presentation on the new fashions and fabrics for the spring and summer seasons. Margaret also brought formals so that the members could see the new fabrics and styles popular at this time.

Student Teaching at Shallowater High School

Miss Purdue

Miss Lowe

Miss Lancaster

Mrs. Cohorn

Mrs. Welch

Mr. Birks

Mr. Timmons

Mr. Good

by Charles Krebs

This year Shallowater Public Schools is offering a student teaching program for prospective teachers from Texas Tech. There is a total of eight student teachers this semester, four in high school, one in junior high, and three in elementary.

Starting with high school, Mr. Kenneth Grissom's student teacher is James Good. Mr. Good is a graduate of Dilley High School. He is a senior at Texas Tech and majors in History and minors in Sociology Studies.

Roxanne Purdue is student teacher for Coach McAdams. Miss Purdue is a senior at Texas Tech. Her major is History and her minor is German. Miss Purdue graduated from Robert E. Lee High School in Midland.

Mrs. Barker's student teacher is Glenn Timmons. Mr. Timmons is a senior at Tech and is a graduate of Littlefield High School. His major is Business Education and his minor is English.

Sherman Birks is student teaching for Miss Dillard. Mr. Birks graduated from Dartmouth High School in Nova Scotia, Canada. Mr. Birks is a graduate student with a major in Biology and a minor in Chemistry.

The junior high student teacher is Jan Welch. She is helping Mrs. Peschel. Mrs. Welch graduated from Levelland High School and is currently attending Tech. Her major is History and her minor is Geography.

Miss Janet Lowe is student teacher for Miss Betty Bates in kindergarten. Miss Lowe graduated from Bryan Adams High School in Dallas. As a senior at Tech her major is Elementary Education and her minor is English.

Student teaching for Mrs. Arnold in 2nd grade is Miss Dixie Lancaster. Miss Lancaster graduated from Abilene Cooper High School, and is now a senior at Tech. Her major is Elementary Education, and her minor is Psychology.

Mrs. Karen Cohorn is student teaching in the 6th grade with Mrs. Bunch. Mrs. Cohorn is a senior at Tech. Her major is Elementary Education and her minor is Geography. Mrs. Cohorn graduated from Klondike High School.

This program at Shallowater Schools will be an asset to the education of our students.

Sharper Than A Tack

This particular type of boy is wanted by everyone, everywhere for he is the kind of boy who always does his work without the help of his buddy or the genius in the class.

He gets to school on time every morning and does not impare the lives of the other students in his attempt to be the first one out of school at the closing session.

He listens carefully when he is spoken to, and asks only enough questions to insure that any assignment given to him will be carried out correctly.

This boy moves quickly and equally important, he moves quietly. He looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

He is a boy who is neat in appearance. He is a boy who does not pity himself for having to study and to work. He is a boy who is cheerful, courteous to everyone and determined to make good.

This kind of boy is wanted everywhere, whether it be in school, or in the service, or on the job.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could find more of this type?

Bulldogs Bark The Mustangs

Tuesday night the Tahoka Bulldogs really showed their bark to the Mustangs and the Fillies. The girls put up a hard fight to the end but couldn't quite move in front of them. It wasn't that the girls didn't do their best, it's just that Tahoka was better. The girls really put up a fight, and we're still proud of them. The final score was 60-58 with the high point girls being Kim Young and Cindy Cowart with 20 and Vickie Roberts with 18.

The Mustangs came out with determination in their eyes and tried really hard. It was a fast game, speed wise that is. When we ran down to our side of the court and made a basket, Tahoka would run just as fast to their end and make a basket. This went on for quite a while. It was nip and tuck till the fourth quarter when things started to change. Bad luck hit when a lot of our starters "fouled out". Tahoka kept the ball down on their side of the court, and we couldn't get it. The game ended with the score 88-73. Even though this was an important game, it wasn't a district game.

Senior Spotlight

by Charles Krebs

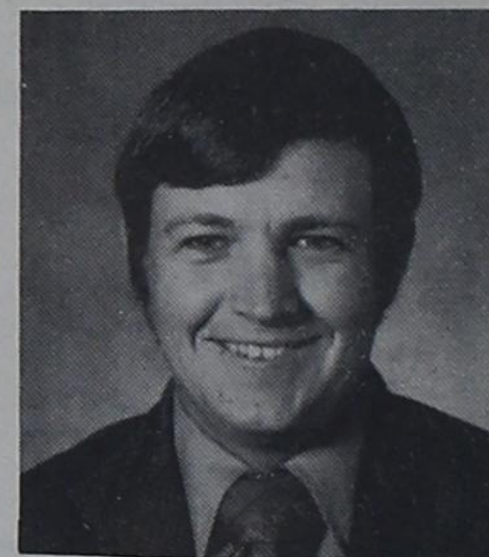

This week's senior spotlight is Shirley Hayslip. Shirley came into this world on December 5th. She is very active in FHA and the pep squad. Shirley is also photographer on the annual staff. Shirley's hobbies include photography and of course, boys.

Shirley plans to attend LCC following her graduation from good ole Shallowater High. She plans to take the pre-nursing course, and then further her nursing career at the Methodist Hospital.

Shirley's comments on the year so far are, "this has been a real good year, especially in band." Shirley plays the clarinet in the band, and helped the band get several number "1's" this year.

Teacher Spotlight

by Anita Alvarado

This week's teacher spotlight is Coach McEwen. He is a graduate from Aspermont High School. Coach attended Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, Lubbock Christian College and graduated from McMurry College in Abilene.

He had much interest in organizations and was a member of HEI, Social Club, and APO Service. Coach McEwen has a B.S. degree in math and history. He taught at Rankin, Texas, for one year before coming to SHS. According to him, he says that he has enjoyed teaching here in the past two years.

Coach is happily married to Judy, who is a senior Home Economics Education major at Texas Tech.

I have never had the honor of Coach McEwen being my coach, but what I hear from my brother, he's a great one!
