Remodeling Underway on Former Bank Building

Work is underway, remodeling the former First State Bank building that will house the clinic in Shallowater, which was established through joint efforts by the Texas Tech University School of Medicine and a $125,000 Chamber of Commerce bank loan, backed in part by guarantees signed by around 65 residents in the area.

The clinic will include eight examining rooms, a lab, a pharmacy and X-ray room, with an estimated $52,000 bill for the building and an additional $73,000 for the equipment and renovation facilities.

The clinic will be open and fully staffed five days a week and is expected to have 14 staff members, including two medical faculty members and four resident physicians.

Dr. Tom Nicholas, chairman of the family practice department will be staffing the clinic. Shallowater's rural setting is appropriate for the medical school's ultimate goal, which is a training program for doctors preparing to practice in West Texas.

In talking with Dr. Nicholas Tuesday, he stated that the estimated date on completing construction is Nov. 15, with opening of the clinic on Dec. 1.

Kim Myers to Tour with Band

Kim Myers will join approximately 75 band members from the state of Texas in the 1977 Texas Youth Band European Tour.

Leaving in June, 1977, the group will tour Holland, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France and Belgium. Under the direction of Lee Boyd Montgomery, Jr. of Austin, the band will perform in Rotterdam Holland; Augsburg, Germany; Innsbruck, Austria; and Lucerne, Switzerland.

Kim, a senior at Shallowater High School is a five year member of the Mustang band. She has been a twirler for four years and attended Texas Tech band camp for four years where she served as assistant captain for the 1977 session. She has been a member of the All-Region band for this area in 1975 and 1976. Kim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Myers.

Shallowater Ag Boosters To Meet

Ag Boosters of Shallowater will hold a meeting Monday, Oct. 17th at 8 p.m. at the Ag Shop at Shallowater High School. The program will be presented by Mike Wischkaemper, CPA at Mason, Nichols & Warner, on income tax planning.

Drug and Career Education Presented to Local Class

Our children are never too young to be aware of their places in a society in which they live. Our aim is to acquaint them with drugs and the dangers and effects it has on people if not controlled. We hope to make them aware that any profession is important and necessary to our society if it is an honorable one. We hope to introduce them to different segments and perils of our present day society.

Our second grade is studying these two topics during September and October.

September 28th, Joan Grimes RN, School Nurse talked to our class about drugs. We felt she handled this very effectively and on their level.

October 6th, we took a walk from school to the Shallowater City Hall to visit the Police Station and Fire Station.

Our city policemen, Mr. David Turner and Mr. Jess Aguilar talked with us for about thirty minutes. Mr. Turner acquainted the children as to what a policeman does. He told them that a policeman's job is to help protect the people he serves as well as being their friend and arresting law breakers.

Policeman Jess Aguilar talked to the children about drugs. He showed them marijuana and told about its effect on the body. He finger-printed each child, and told them why people are finger printed when they are arrested.

Mr. Floyd Epperson, the Shallowater Fire Chief, showed us the fire trucks, and told of the importance of a fireman in a community. The children climbed all over the trucks and had their pictures taken by Mrs. Dardi Williamson.

From City Hall we went to the Post Office. Postmaster Milton Elliot took us through the Post Office explaining the processes out mail goes through until it

Band Boosters Meet Here

Members of the band boosters met at 7 o'clock Monday night in the band hall with Mrs. Doris Epperson, president, presiding over the called meeting with 24 persons present.

A report on the homecoming taco supper was given with around 250 plates sold, collecting a clear profit of $419.90 for the successful event.

The boosters will also have the concession stand at all the varsity home basketball games when the season gets underway sometime in November.

Party Line

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Young, Kim and Kenneth, were in Vernon over the weekend visiting Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.E. West.

Mrs. Betty Avery is still hospitalized in Methodist Hospital, where she has been the past three or four months, following an automobile accident. It is thought she may get to come home soon.

Rev. and Mrs. Boyd Pearce will attend the Baptist General Convention of Texas next week that will be held in San Antonio.

Mrs. Sam Thomas received word last week of the death of her aunt, 96-year-old Ella Thomas of Wichita, Kansas.

Mrs. Myrtle Cofer of Sulphur, Okla., is here visiting her brother, Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Gates and Lisa, and her mother, Mrs. G.W. Gates, Sr., of the University Convalescent Center in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans left Saturday for Paragould, Ark., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Robertson.

Mrs. S.H. Robinson was admitted to West Texas Hospital last weekend and is in intensive care.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hart and Janice spent the weekend in Wichita Falls visiting their daughter, the Cary Hunts.

Matthew Hudson, 8-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Hudson of Plainview, underwent minor surgery at Methodist Hospital Monday morning and is doing fine at the home of his grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Tommy Ewing.

Tracy Cobb broke his right arm Saturday night at his home playing football. He was taken to the emergency room at Methodist Hospital by his parents, the Clois Cobbs, where his arm was set and he was able to return home.

Kymer Tuttle, daughter of the J.W. Tuttle had ear surgery Wednesday at Methodist Hospital.

Clyde Ballard had surgery this week in Methodist Hospital.

Girl Scouts Hold Regular Meeting

Tammy Tischler, Robin Lesley and Kim Fairhurst behind Troop 89 display table at the Heritage Fair last Saturday at Lubbock Christian College.

Girl Scout Troop 89 held their regular meeting last week. A monthly Birthday Party was held for the girls who have birthdays in October. These girls included Paula Call, Debra Direckson, Candice Edwards and Kim Fairhurst. The girls received hand mirrors as presents from the troop. Tammy Tischler displayed her rock collection to receive her Collectors Badge and Kim Fairhurst displayed her Salt and Pepper Collection to receive her Collectors Badge also. All the girls received badges they had earned during their camping trip.

Refreshments of birthday cake and punch were furnished by leaders. The girls practiced their program for the Heritage Fair. The Heritage Fair was held last Saturday from 1 to 5 at the LCC field house. All nine girls of this troop attended the program.

The girls displayed crafts they had made last year and this year and got ideas for future projects from other scout troop displays. Paula Call and Kristy Tipton sang in the all Girl Scout choir. During the Flag Ceremony, Theresa Kohler carried a World Association Flag. Tammy Tischler and Robin Lesley carried the money and banner for the Juliet Lowe fund.

The girls thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Afterwards the girls enjoyed having supper at Shakey's Pizza Parlor. This week at their regular meeting the girls collected funds for CF.

United Methodist Women News

The United Methodist Women of Shallowater met Monday evening, October 11, in the church parlor. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. R.R. Warren. Roll was answered by reading a Biblical verse containing the word "south."

An inspiring devotion, titled "One of Those Kind," was brought by Mrs. Warren.

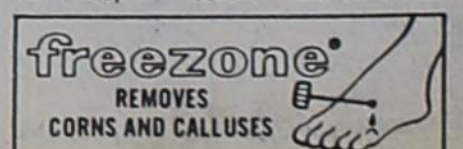

The program, "Southeast Asians Speak Out," was brought by Mrs. Louis McMenamy, with Mrs. M.J. Williams showing slides depicting the people of the area.

Mrs. McMenamy led the closing prayer.

Mrs. Doyle Mosbey was hostess. Thirteen members and special guest, Mrs. Barbara Monteith, attended.

The next regular meeting will be October 25th.

BAPTIZING

Most of the baptizing in our community was done at my Grandmother's place. She had a concrete tank out by her windmill that served the purpose well. Churches of all faiths that had baptizing to do were welcome to come over and use the facilities and I'm proud to say it was used quiet often. The tank was better to baptize in than the creek east of town because you couldn't depend on the creek to have water in it. If it did have water it was sure to be muddy.

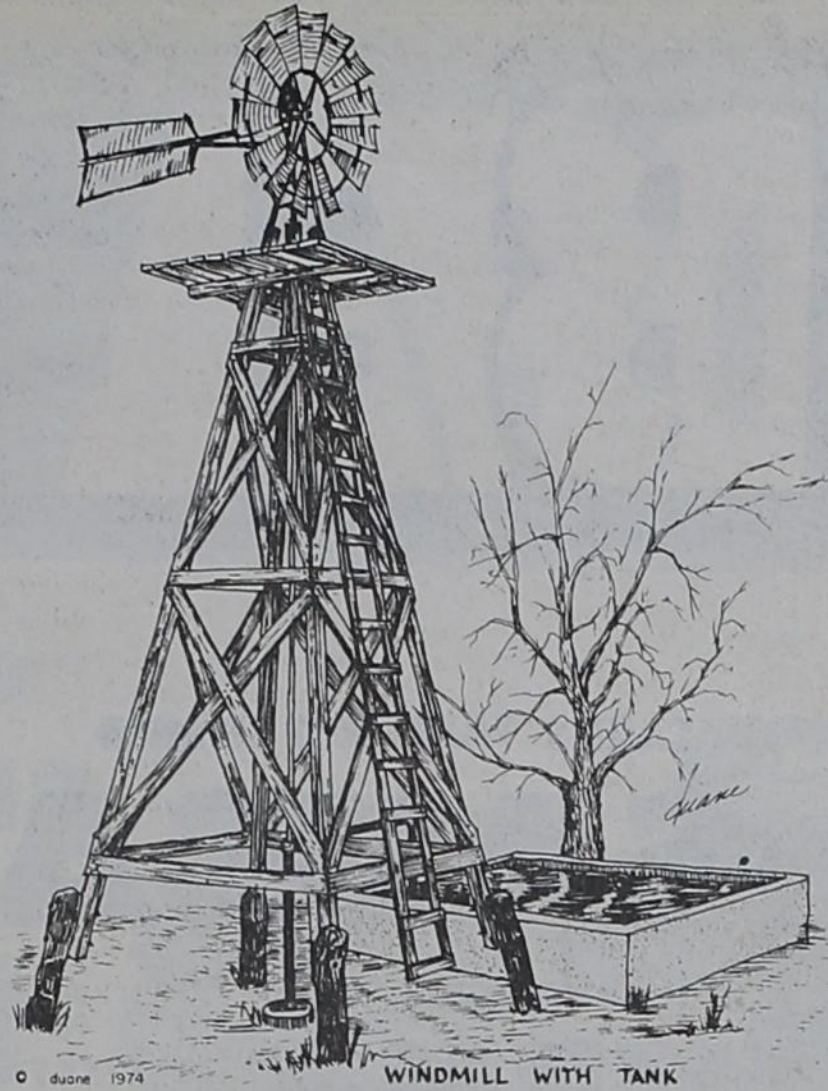

The preacher would make the announcement, "Next Sunday we're going to have baptizin' over to Miz Gidden's at three o'clock. Try to make it if you can. Them that's waitin' baptism needs to see me after preachin' today."

People would start arriving earlier than three. Seems like some came right after Sunday dinner (dinner being the noon meal.) They wanted to get their visiting done before the baptizing. The preacher would get there at three o'clock though, wearing his old suit.

It was always the same one. It had been wet so many times it didn't matter. The folks to be baptized would arrive wearing their old clothes too. They would assemble at the tank with the other members of the congregation gathering all around.

Some wooden steps were set in place for the people to use to climb over into the water. The preacher went in first and beckoned the candidates to follow. One by one they climbed over the side into the water, lining up around the sides of the tank to await their turn. There was usually a large group to be baptized because it was only done in the warm months; those that became candidates in the winter just had to wait a while.

The baptizing was done in the middle of the tank. Some of us kids would usually climb part way up on the windmill tower to get a better look at what was going on. A hymn was sung before and after the service followed by a prayer. The songs most sung were "On

WINDMILL WITH TANK

Jordan's Stormy Banks" and "Shall We Gather at the River". With the congregation all gathered around singing, chills would go up and down your back. There was a lot of warmth and love there. It was impossible to go away from that place feeling bad. I was baptized there myself at an early age and shall always be proud of the fact that people came that afternoon to share in such a wonderful experience.

"How to Survive Hunting Season"

The Texas Medical Association says one simple way to avoid getting shot this hunting season is to wear clothing colored daylight fluorescent orange, usually called "hunter orange." Deer are color-blind but hunters can spot people wearing bright-colored vests, caps, jackets, etc. Green, brown or dark colors are the most dangerous tones to wear. Many hunters blast away at movement alone and those colors do not provide enough contrast for a hunter to distinguish quickly between a human and any other animal.

Of course many hunters' greatest enemies are themselves. There are endless ways to shoot oneself accidentally. One common way is to keep a loaded gun in the camp or vehicle. In the excitement of the hunt, many people also forget advice about keeping the safety on until ready to fire, not climbing fences or trees while carrying a loaded weapon and keeping snow or mud from clogging the gun barrel.

One of the easiest ways to get shot is to hunt around careless people. Lots of folks fire at hard, flat surfaces or don't consider where the bullet will land if they miss. Even bullets from small bore weapons can ricochet at odd angles or travel more than a mile. Hunters also can be careless about pointing a gun at a companion when walking or getting somebody in the line of fire.

To make the season even more deadly, many hunters mix drinking and shooting. A hunting trip is not a backyard cocktail party. Even people who can handle their liquor get in trouble hunting because of the added danger and stress.

Bad weather, too much walking or carrying, and other types of stress have bagged many a ill-prepared hunter. Exercising, at least walking, starting a couple of months before hunting season and pacing oneself on the hunt can decrease stress problems. Preparation and caution are the keys to a successful hunting season.

Taxes

A recent Texas Supreme Court decision could save part-time farmers and ranchers many tax dollars, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The court held that farmers and ranchers may qualify for agricultural tax exemptions on farm real estate even though they earn more than half their income from other sources," notes Dr. Wayne Hayenga.

The big impact will be in counties that have many part-time or low income farmers who could not previously qualify for the exemption.

The Texas Constitution provides that the owner of a farm or ranch may request an "agricultural use" valuation for the property if it is his "primary occupation and source of income," points out Hayenga.

This valuation is based on the productive value of the land, which is often less than the market value generally used for computing tax payments.

"The state Supreme Court ruled earlier that a property owner must show that his farm or ranch income was greater than his combined income from all other sources. But, based on opinion by Associate Justice Price Daniel, the court changed the requirement to make it easier for owners to qualify for the exemption," says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Daniel wrote..."It is sufficient if the landowner shows that he devotes a greater amount of time to his agricultural business than to any other occupation or businesses and that he receives more gross income from his agricultural business."

This ruling will help farm and ranch owners who get incomes from a variety of sources, such as business investments, royalty payments and other jobs, but who spend a majority of their time on the farm, Hayenga says.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

Well, sir, we found out what we've been waiting for this year, Texas Tech DOES have a football team of note. It isn't just a football team, it is a true title contender.

The Red Raiders decisively beat Colorado in the opener and the Buffs have proven, since then, that they have a good team. Then the Raiders walloped their way past New Mexico in a game that didn't make them appear convincing.

Texas A&M, though, was a topnotch team and recognized as such. The Aggies had lost a conference game. They had to win over Tech. And the game was on their home field.

The Raiders didn't give them a chance. They blitzed the Aggies with 21 first quarter points, almost had either a fourth touchdown or a field goal in the first 15 minutes. And while the Aggies came back, it was too far up the hill and the hill was too steep.

Make no mistake; the Aggies have a good football team. It may not be as good as last year's co-champions, but it isn't much weaker. It still has the great defense, but the offense once again doesn't measure up to what it takes.

And the wishbone T isn't designed to play catch-up ball. Even with a passing attack, which the Aggies have installed, probably thanks to Tom Wilson, their wishbone T falls short.

The Raider offense struck for the points that were necessary and then turned the game over to the defense. And didn't the defense respond! Except for occasional bursts, the Aggies had little or no success.

Harold Buell, Richard Arledge and Thomas Howard were particularly outstanding. They pressured and pestered the Aggie backs all afternoon and made it a miserable day.

As a result of their victory the Raiders have really shot to the front in the conference race. Houston, of course, has a pair of wins, one of them over the same Aggies. Incidentally, the Cougar victory margin was the same as Tech's, 11 points.

So, down the line, you can look for a titanic battle between those teams here, as well as with Baylor, Texas and Arkansas. And the only "big" game not here is with Arkansas.

In the past, however, the Raiders often have beaten a team like Texas or Arkansas, and then stubbed a foot over some one like TCU, Rice or Baylor.

And coming up this Saturday is a Rice team that has shown heavy reliance on the pass and has managed to put points on the board against everyone except LSU. The Raiders' pass defense will be sorely tested and the Raiders can't afford a letdown.

I don't know if it was because it was two wishbone T teams playing, or whether both Texas and OU have great defensive teams, but this year's Texas-OU game was on the dull side.

Neither really showed much offensive strength and it became a duel for punters and mistakes. The Sooners were fortunate to get a tie out of the game. By all rights, two field goals should have won it. At the same time, OU should have won after getting a tying touchdown.

The game did point up the fact that quarterback is a major problem for the Longhorns, while Earl Campbell continues to be a factor with his running. But the Horns don't appear to have the same mystique, the same legerdemain.

Rice couldn't contain the Horns, but Boston College beat them and the Sooners held Campbell and the Jones boys in good shape. The quarterback perfection of the past isn't there.

Will the truth ever come out on the argument between Darrell Royal and Barry Switzer? They obviously get along like a piranha and a wounded animal.

Was Royal trying to psych Switzer and OU, or was he serious in his charge of spying? Also, was there spying? Earlier this year there was a case in which spying was admitted, so it is within the realm of possibility.

Regardless of the answer, it's all a little silly for two grown men at the heads of outstanding football squads to carry on this way. They ought to be slapped on the wrists by the NCAA with a dozen strands of wet noodles.

In this day of game films there are few, if any, secrets—and that includes so called "secret" plays installed for one game. It's more the surprise than the actual play.

The World Series is coming up and it appears to be the Reds and the Yankees, although this is being written Sunday and anything can happen. It probably won't, however.

Nothing has happened to change my mind about the Reds. They seem to be the strongest machine assembled in years, maybe in history. They have strong pitching, great offense and a defense that doesn't give much away. The Reds are awesome.

After this weekend the football season "begins" in Lubbock. Yep, one game in six weeks here. And then here come five games in seven weeks against the likes of Arizona, Texas, SMU, Houston and Baylor. Oh, boy, bring on the football season!

Reunion Staged at Pitchfork Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. O.A. (Red Mud) Lambert and her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Lubbock, had a very pleasant visit to the Pitchfork Ranch last Saturday where several old timers gathered for a reunion. Hosts for the event were ranch manager Jim Humphries, Eugene Williams and his sister.

The event was to honor all the past and present cowboys who worked on the ranch with Lambert being the oldest previous ranch hand present who worked as a cowhand on the ranch in 1913, then after serving in World War I he returned to the ranch and worked until 1930. Johnson began work on the ranch in the twenties.

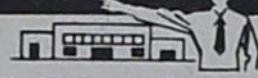

This was the first visit to the Pitchfork Ranch for the Lamberts and Johnsons since leaving there in 1930 and both couples reported a very enjoyable day of visiting and remembering days gone by.

Barbeque and all the trimmings was enjoyed by over 400 guests that registered. Pictures of past activities on the ranch were shown on a large screen and the Dumont Band furnished musical entertainment.

The ranch is located between Dickens and Guthrie.

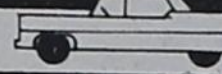

Real leaders are not concerned with being popular.

HORSE TALES

Mustangs Lose But Shine

by Steven Wilson

The Mustangs became only the second team to score on the 2-A Frenship Tigers. Though the Mustangs lost the game 27-6, they played in a winning fashion. Their actual record now stands a 1-5, but in my personal opinion it stands at 2-4.

At half-time, Frenship led by only 8 points with the score being 8-0. The Mustang defense was tremendously awesome. Shallowater eased up one series resulting in that touchdown. Lane Giles intercepted a pass which set-up a near score for the Mustangs. The drive fell short and Curtis Lester's field goal attempt failed. Lane then intercepted another pass with ten seconds left, no time to do anything.

Shallowater came out sluggish in the third quarter and Frenship took the advantage to score. Frenship lost the advantage in the fourth quarter, as the Mustang defense stiffened. The Dwaine Thomas interception of a Frenship extra-point attempt turned the tide.

Andy Blackmon scored the only Mustang points on a quarterback sneak with the point after attempt failing. All the players did a good job and they literally wore out the Frenship Tigers. Seagraves comes next and it is time for an upset.

FHA News

by Janice Cook

On October 4th at 7:30 a.m. FHA members attended an FHA Breakfast in the Homemaking Cottage to recognize the new members who were to be initiated that evening. Lori Harrison registered the guests while Barbara Thomas, Cheri Massey, Kim Hickox, Sheila Evans, and Suzie DeAnda prepared the breakfast and served it buffet style.

The Shallowater FHA had its formal initiation Monday night, October 4th at 7 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The girls were really excited about becoming FHA members. Invitations were made and sent to all mothers inviting them to come and watch the candle-light ceremony. After the meeting, refreshments made by the Homemaking I girls were served. About ninety members and parents participated.

Senior Spotlight

by Alison Terry

Judy Waller is our super senior of the week. Her parents are Danny and Shirley Waller. They all live at 905 Texas Avenue.

Judy came into the world with a BANG as she was born on July 4, 1959.

Psychology and art are Miss Waller's favorite classes: psychology because it's interesting and it's the only class where talking is required; art because she simply enjoys drawing and painting.

Judy's favorite things are her cat, music, and men, not necessarily in that order. Men with fuzzy upper lips (mustaches) especially turn Judy on!

The spotlight senior likes almost any sport. Basketball, tennis, and water skiing are among her favorites though. She also enjoys reading and riding around.

Judy is historian of NHS, first vice-president of FHA, and class representative to the Student Council. She's a member also of the Mustang annual staff and the pep squad.

Miss Waller had a special honor bestowed upon her recently. She was crowned 1976-77 Homecoming Queen.

Judy comments on her Senior year: "I have more free time. Also, I can do just about anything I want because I am a SENIOR."

After graduation, Judy plans to attend college. Although she is considering the career possibilities of becoming an airline stewardess, entering a science-oriented field, or teaching home economics, Judy's predominant plans are to have fun in whatever she does!

JHS

by Suzie DeAnda

October 7, the Junior High faculty chose 12 new members for the National Junior Honor Society. The new 7th grade members are Debbie DeAnda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan DeAnda; Steve Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin; Shelbi McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lane McKinney; Randal Pearce, son of Reverend and Mrs. Boyd Pearce; Sherissa Rolling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hester; Scott Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Scott; Patti Stanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stanton; Ricky Warden, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ammann; Linda Wiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wiley; and Robin McMenamy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McMenamy. Eighth graders are Melva Dirickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Ness and Darla Dennington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Dennington.

The induction ceremony will be October 25, at 8:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The public is invited.

The NJHS officers for the 76-77 season are Sandra Stewart, Pres.; Cathy Hohertz, V. Pres.; Yolanda Anaya, Secretary; and Brandy Giles, Treasurer.

A Painful Defeat

by Gloria Lara

The 7th and 8th grade Ponies went against the Frenship Tigers this past Tuesday night. It was a very painful night for some of the 8th grade Ponies that got hurt during the game. The Ponies faced defeat despite the effort they put into it. The Frenship Tigers had an advantage against our Ponies; the teams were much larger in number and in physical size. With these two advantages it made the games quite tough. But even though our Ponies broke through, the scores for the 8th grade was 20-6 and for the 7th grade it was 44-22. The boys who scored for the Ponies were Rufino Maldonado for the 8th grade, and Lynn Menton, Ricky Taylor for the 7th grade. This week the Ponies go against Seagraves and the plan, to gain a victory. So let's go out and help them win it. Good Luck Ponies!

Tied Tigers

by Claudett Lamb

J.V. started on their uphill climb when they tied Frenship last Thursday night.

Rodney Jackson made the first touchdown in the second quarter to have us leading 8 to 0 by the half. Frenship scored in the third quarter. We had a tied game then. Neither were able to break through again the rest of the game, so the score wound up 8 to 8.

Good luck with this week's game against Seagraves. We will be out there yelling for you. Let's make this next game a victory!

Hall of Fame

by Steven Wilson

Ricky Hawkins and Rod Warren are two Mustangs who just happen to be in this week's Hall of Fame. The two young men are both juniors and have both contributed to the team.

Ricky Hawkins plays both ways and is mostly noted for his wide receiver position. On the defensive end Ricky plays in the secondary. He does a good job in both positions which naturally helps the team. Ricky wears number 88 and stands 5 feet 9 inches while tilting the scale to 130 pounds.

Rod Warren is a defensive player and a specialty man. This is to say that Rod plays linebacker and punts for the Mustangs. He plays the linebacker position well by reading, filling, and hitting hard. Rod is a good punter who boots the ball many yards everytime he puts his foot into it. Rod weighs in at 200 pounds which is accompanied by 6 feet 1 inch of height. Look for Rod Warren, you will see him wearing number 55.

Yearbooks On Sale Now

by Alison Terry

The annual staff has been selling subscriptions to the 1977 Mustang yearbook this week. Anyone who has not ordered their yearbook may do so Friday at 10:15 in room 111 of the high school building. The price for this year's annual is $8.00. An additional dollar may be paid for personalization of the '77 Mustang.

Elementary and junior high students can purchase books in their buildings.

DECA News

by Lisa Green

The Deca chapter held its first meeting Tuesday, September 28th and elected new officers for 1976-77. They are: president, Regina Howell; vice president, Steve Conner; treasurer, Ruben DeAnda; historian, Rudy Perez; and reporter, Lisa Green.

The Deca members do not have to pay local dues, only state and national.

Volleyball

by Claudett Lamb

Last Tuesday night our Varsity J.V. volleyball teams went to Crosbyton for a game. They were defeated in a two out of three match.

Our volleyball team is building up for their bout against Plains for district. Shallowater and Plains are the only schools in our district with volleyball teams. Until last year volleyball was all Plains played, but now they play basketball, so we are hoping to really give them a run for the volleyball district championship.

If you can stand a shock, look up your budget records a few years ago and note the difference in the cost of living.

FFA News

by Janice Cook

The Future Farmers of America held their official green-hand initiation Monday night at 7:00 in the Vocational Ag building. The new members (greenhands) had to recite a five paragraph creed and also wear a tag representing that they belong to the organization of the Future Farmers of America. We discussed our financial standings and we elected a FFA sweetheart and an alternate, called the plow girl.

The Future Farmer Sweetheart is Kim Myers and the Plow Girl is Janice Cook.

Kim Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Myers, and Janice Cook is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Tuttle.
