BRECKENRIDGE—Tonight's (Thursday) paper carried the story that Rosy Leaks scrimmaged, asked to be hit, and is looking forward to playing for Texas this fall. And Darrell Royal gave the go ahead sign.

That's good news. The big fullback is more than the guts of the Longhorn attack. He is a great player, and not to be able to play, would deprive Southwest Conference fans of seeing him. Besides, as I said earlier, I want him well, strong and in the lineup when he and UT play Tech.

To borrow an expression from a former colleague, who just loved trite expressions, "storied old Breckenridge" isn't what it used to be. It isn't in football, at least. That's what one former Buckaroo told me. He said that a series of incapable coaches had all but ruined the Bucks. "Oh, they beat Stamford last week, 33 -0, but Stamford has a sophomore team," he declared. "We've gone down a long way since we used to win the state."

You can't come here without thinking of Eck Curtis, later a coach in Lubbock, on the Texas staff and now retired in Abilene. The Bucks really hit the top when Eck was coaching and the Bucks were the scourge of West Texas, to say nothing of the state.

I talked this morning with an Abilene businessman, Wesley Cox, and he queried me about G.B. Morris. He and Geeber were team mates at Breckenridge and both played for Eck.

Then, in the afternoon, I talked to another man here who had played under Eck. He reminded me of the time that Breckenridge, then in Class B, beat Abilene, then in Class A, but both went on to win state titles. Needless to say, that was years ago.

The Bucks have had a proud tradition of winning and it's bound to turn around. You can't keep quality down, and they have had it here for too many years. They'll be back.

Have you all been noticing the number of veterans that have been cut by the NFL teams? It's amazing. Usually, three or four rookies making an NFL team is about par. Way more than that number is being chosen this year.

Look for a lot of the vets to land with WFL teams, which will improve those clubs, without making them good. It's the logical place for them, now that they are through in the NFL.

How much did the strike have to do with it? That's a fair question, and the answer probably is—a lot. The older the vet, the longer it takes him to round into shape.

Meanwhile, the rookies were in camp, being trained, gaining experience. When the vets did report, they were behind. Too, the rookies this year must have been an unusual grade, otherwise they would not have displaced the pros.

I was glad to see Mac Percival traded by the Bears to the Cowboys. Now Mac can live at home and a lot of his old Red Raider basketball friends, supporters and fans will have more chance to see him.

I hope Mac does well. He was being shunted to the side by the Bears last year. The change of scenery ought to help both his morale and his kicking. He could be a big asset to the Pokes this year. It's so ironic. Eight years ago the Cowboys had him and let him go. Now, in the twilight, he's still capable of helping them.

What, you haven't been watching the major league baseball races? How could you not follow these exciting struggles? It's been a long time when four divisions had such great battles.

Almost lost, but not quite, is Lou Brock, who is having a sensational year. Lou stole a record breaking 105 bases with a heap of the season left and that's no mean achievement. It could well be that he'll go down in history as the best thief in major league history.

But back to the races. No one has a secure grip on first place, unless it is Oakland—and I don't know at this time what happened in the crucial three game series in Arlington last weekend. The Rangers have been hot of late, too.

Anyway, it promises to be a great battle down to the wire and no team can afford to start printing World Series tickets. If I had to bet on one team, it would be the Dodgers, of what I've seen.

When Tech played Iowa State last Saturday, it was the first opening game, at home, that I had missed in 26 years. And it hurt all the way down to my toes not to be on hand for that battle.

Indeed, in 16 full years of covering the Raiders, a mild case of pneumonia caused me to miss only one game in that span. I lost count of how many Raider games I've seen, but in 27 years, at home and on the road, it sure mounts up. Hope I don't miss any more.

Coming here from Albany, I drove right by Hubbard Creek Lake. Despite a cloudy day, there wasn't a boat to be seen on the lake. Conditions looked good for some topwater fishing.

There isn't much talk of fishing that I've heard, but one man was hoping for rain. He'd been dove hunting several times, found success the first day or two and then the birds had thinned out and all but disappeared. He was hoping for rain, which came Thursday afternoon.

The Southwest Conference has always prided itself on running a good, clean operation and has resented, in a gentlemanly way, any outside groups, official or otherwise, trying to rock the boat.

Generally, the conference has taken care of its own problems, usually by stern reprimands, sometimes with punitive action. And it has been looked up to as a conference that ran a good operation.

Conditions haven't changed, but the NCAA action on SMU did cause a few ripples. And one man, formerly closely associated in an executive position with the conference, said that it might be a good thing the NCAA acted.

"If the truth were known," he declared, "the conference has been lax in punishing wrongdoers. There have been plenty of cases that could have been acted on and should have been. I hope that Cliff Speegle is a little more inclined to crack down. Howard Grubbs wanted to more or less sweep everything under the rug." There are several coaches who will echo that thought.

Hobby Turns Into Fun Business For Wolfforth Resident Kenneth Charles

Every once in a while you meet a person who has changed a hobby into a business that he really enjoys, and one that can supplement his income. Such a person is Mr. Kenneth Charles, or Church as he is more widely known. His hobby of Locksmithing began only as a diversion from boredom while he was stationed at Chanute Field, Illinois. He and several other men, who had nothing of interest to do in the evenings, went to Locksmithing school.

After Church graduated from Locksmithing Institute of Little Falls, N.J., he and his wife used a spare bedroom for his little business. Now the garage has been converted into a shop. He is working only part time now, but the business will become a full time job after he retires from the military.

Chuck's wife Edna has become a helper in the business. She has learned to duplicate the keys, thus making her a partner in the business.

Rites Read Monday for Willie Scott

Services for Willie Winfield Scott, 68, of Shallowater, were at 2 p.m. Monday at the Bible Baptist Church, with the Rev. Paul Earp, pastor, officiating.

Burial was at Idalou Cemetery, under direction of Sanders Funeral Home.

Scott died at 10:55 p.m. Friday in Methodist Hospital following a two week illness.

Born in Dodd City, Scott had been a resident of Lubbock County 43 years. He was a well puller prior to his retirement.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Shallowater, and was a World War II veteran.

Survivors include his wife, Lena Scott of Shallowater; his daughter, Miss Tamie Scott of the home; two sons, Edward Sharp of 4606 35th, and Charles Scott of Shallowater; a sister, Mrs. Tom Larson of 2631 77th; two brothers, Charlie Scott of Smyer and Byron Scott of Searcy, Ark.; and five grandchildren.

but I felt strongly impressed to go.

I soon discovered just one reason for being in Longmont. The pastor asked my friend, Ann, and me if we would consider staying with a young woman named Vicky. He told us that she worked at the Wine Cellar, which was a local bar. He also said that she was just recently divorced, had two children and desperately needed spiritual help. Vicky had told the pastor that she would let someone stay in her home, but she couldn't afford to feed them anything. Also she worked until 2:30 a.m. and said she would leave the door open.

Well, Ann and I didn't figure we had come to Colorado for a picnic, so we volunteered to go and just be available if the woman wanted to talk.

We went to the home not knowing what to expect, but well assured that God was our strength and guide. We were supposed to sleep on the big bed, but we found three little girls asleep (one was the 12 year old baby sitter). We soon found the children's room and slept on bunk beds. I had a very interesting night sleeping on the top bed and wondering how long it would hold me.

To be brief, we got to visit with Vicky on Saturday afternoon and enjoyed getting to know her. She was very friendly and she knew exactly what she was lacking in her life. She had many fears about giving herself completely to God and knew that her lifestyle and habits would undergo a drastic change if she submitted to God.

On Sunday morning, she was in church services and heard many testimonies about God's love. She responded to the altar call and came weeping and giving herself to the Lord Jesus completely. Later, she said that she was so tired of trying on her own to live and that she was inviting Jesus Christ to sit on the throne of her heart.

During that same altar call, there was an alcoholic man that gave himself to the Lord and was reunited with his wife. I had to leave the service at 12:40 that day to catch a plane in Denver and as I looked back, the altar was still filled with people who were sincerely making decisions that would affect them until and throughout all eternity.

Dairy Situation . . .

Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. "Feed costs continue to jump while the price they receive for milk is dropping. The uniform price per 100 pounds of milk has decreased more than $1.30 since May."

With this situation, dairymen across the state have been actively culling their herds since the first of the year. Cow numbers are down 6,000 from 1973. However, increased milk production per cow has kept pace with production levels last year. Production per cow averaged 810 pounds in July, up 40 pounds from the same month last year.

However, Stelly notes that milk production for the United States during the first seven months of 1974 was off 2 per cent from the same period a year ago. Cow numbers nationwide also reflect a 2 per cent decrease.

What about the price situation? "Prices received by Texas dairymen are determined by a formula," explains the Texas A&M University System economist, "since the milk is marketed under federal market order rules and regulations. The base price is directly related to the price paid by processing plants in Minnesota and Wisconsin for manufacturing grade milk."

As far as the low prices are concerned, Stelly notes that some people blame the heavy imports of dairy products, which have tripled during the first part of 1974 compared to last year. A weakened consumer demand for milk and cheese has also affected prices.

"Although the October price for milk has been set at 10 cents per 100 pounds above the July price, producers see little relief from the cost price squeeze that seems to be getting tighter," adds Stelly.

Shallowater Mustangs Allow Hart Longhorns to Get Away Friday Night

The Shallowater Mustangs opened the game against the Hart Longhorns with a large advantage. The Mustangs kicked off to Hart and when the first play was over Hart had fumbled and the Mustangs took the ball in to score with just 2 minutes gone in the first quarter. Jon Gates blasted three yards for the score with Jerry Harrison adding the extra point. For the rest of the quarter, the score held.

Early in the second quarter, Hart's tailback, Rodriguez, squeezed in for their first TD, the extra point was good. Both teams went in at half time with the score tied 7-7.

When the teams come out from halftime, the Longhorns kicked off but the Mustangs could not move the ball, so they punted.

Hart took the ball and drove sixty yards capping it off with a quarterback keeper by Hart's D. George, the PAT was good. Again the Mustangs could not move the ball, Hart took over and called on their TB, who scored from nine yards, the PAT was good, making it 21-7 in favor of Hart.

The Mustangs took control of the ball the fourth quarter and kept it most of the time giving Hart only one first down in the fourth quarter.

Shallowater drove to the six yard line but stalled when a pass from Bobby Reeves to Don L. Grimes was intercepted.

Shallowater got the ball back after the Mustang defense held Hart and they had to punt. With the passing of Bobby Reeves and the catching of Don L. Grimes, the Mustangs scored on a ten yard pass making the score 21-13.

Again Reeves passed to Grimes making the extra point good and control of the ball, when the time ran out, was the Mustangs. The

by Alex Grice, Janie Serna

Billy Avery is a senior at Shallowater High. Billy has played all sports in seventh and eighth grades, and was an active Vocational Agriculture member in ninth and tenth grades.

Billy is one of the students at Shallowater High who is in the Distributive Education program. This is a course in which the student goes to school half a day and works the rest of the day. He is employed now at Mac's Farm Supply and also has a part time job at a 7 to 11 in Lubbock.

Mike Wolfenden is one of the two seniors featured this week. Born in Lubbock on August 30, 1957, he has lived in several states and has visited all but five.

Mike has lived in Shallowater for five years, and played on the SHS football team since then. His future plans are to attend college after graduation.

With the running of Richard Krebbs, Jon Gates, and Grantley Adams, the Mustangs gained 170 yards rushing. With excellent pass blocking from the offensive line, Bobby Reeves threw for a total of 137 yards in the air and Don L. Grimes leading the receivers with 82 yards. Followed by Jerry Harrison, Richard Krebbs, and Jon Gates.

This Friday night the Mustangs will travel to New Deal to play the Lions at 8 p.m. Let's all come out and back the Mustangs.

Football Spotlight

by Alex Grice

This week in the gridiron guidance column, two more senior studs will be featured. One is Luther Vaughn, and second is Richard Krebbs.

Luther Vaughn, known as "Mean and Lean Lou", is right offensive tackle. At 6 ft. 4 in., 180 pounds, "Lou" dominates the right side of the line. Luther is an extremely aggressive ball player. He has this philosophy on blocking, "Hit 'um low, Hit 'um high, spit in their eye".

Richard Krebbs is right offensive halfback in the T formation. Gifted with good hands and speed to match, Richard can either run with or catch the ball. Richard, at 5 ft. 10 in., 150 pounds, may be smaller than some backs but he makes up for it with real determination.

The Mustangs are now in season play.

Sophomores Tested

The Kuder Interest Inventory was administered to Sophomores on Tuesday and Wednesday, during their English II classes. This instrument measures each student's interest in order to help him make a career choice that will lead to a productive and satisfying occupation.

As a follow-up activity, students will be researching career possibilities and will write a theme about their findings. Some of the students will be available to present a program to elementary classes about their findings.

Student Council Meets Wednesday

by Grace Lupton

The Student Council had their weekly meeting Wednesday, Sept. 11th. Plans for Homecoming were discussed. Voting for Homecoming Queen was conducted Thursday, Sept. 12th during homeroom.

The next issue was the proposal for school sponsored dances. It was decided to have a petition circulated during homeroom allowing everyone to express their ideas for these dances.

The last discussion was concerned with our student council chapter sponsoring an area student council seminar. Seeing how the various student governments are conducted will be the main object of having this area meeting. More planning is necessary before this conference will be possible.

Junior Varsity Meets Hart JV

by Chet Webb

Thursday night at 8 p.m. the JV played at Hart and came up with a loss of 26 to 6.

Hart scored twice in the first quarter and twice in the third. The Shallowater JV scored once in the third, which was their only touchdown. The touchdown was made by Chet Webb. There weren't any real spectacular plays but both teams were hitting. This game is now in the past so let's forget about it and get New Deal.

FHA Officers to Attend Meeting

An Area In-service Education Conference for improvement of instruction is planned for September 26th from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Idalou High School will host the event with New Deal, Roosevelt, Slaton, Wolforth, Cooper and Shallowater as guests.

FHA officers, advisors, and homemaking teachers from each school are requested to take part and share in the

Volunteers are Necessary for Career Education Opening October 10 & 11

Career Education in Shallowater will get off to a booming start on October 10 and 11. An out of state consultant, an expert on the Unit approach, will be here to conduct the first of three scheduled workshops.

Dr. Woodie Coleman and Travis Brown of the Region XVII Education Service Center will present Mr. Butch Price, of Cobb County, Georgia, to instruct teachers and administrators in the details of the Unit approach. In addition, a three person team from Lorenzo, made up of teachers who successfully implemented this program last year, will also be present to generate some excitement and enthusiasm for this new educational area.

A total of nineteen teachers, on

Banquet Held

by Charles Krebbs

Saturday night the Methodist Women's Guild gave the seniors a party. It was in the form of a first grade banquet. We all came dressed as first graders and some acted like first graders.

The speaker was Rev. Tom Strothers. His speech was quite humorous. We all left the banquet in good spirits.

We would like to thank the Methodist Women's Guild for a wonderful banquet.

Juniors Say Thanks

by Debbie Grimes

The Junior Class has had quite a lot to do lately! We've been selling magazines to help raise money for the Junior - Senior Banquet. We would like to thank all of you who helped in this activity.

We are also selling Shallowater Mustang bumper stickers. We are grateful to Mr. Bill Boone for his assistance in producing the bumper stickers; also to First State Bank of Shallowater for their contribution. If you wish to purchase one of these stickers, see any Junior and they'll be glad to sell you one.

We are considering several plays for the junior play this year. As soon as one is selected, we will begin working on this. We would appreciate your backing us in this and every project.

We have also been looking at senior rings, but a decision has not been reached.

The juniors would like to say "Beat New Deal!!"

Pony Football

by Andy Blackmon

Thursday night the Ponies played the Hart Longhorns and came out winners. The score in the 7th grade game was 14-0 and in the 8th grade game the final was 32-8.

Pete Alvarado made the first score for the 7th and the next was made from a pass from Pete to Neal Luck. Pete made the extra points after the second touchdown.

The 8th grade scoring started with a run from Dale Hollemon. The next touchdown was made by Dale also. Andy Blackmon made the next score and the last TD was made on a kick off return by Tim Sinclair. Dale, Tim, Andy, and Steve Waller ran over the extra points.

Pep Rally Staged

by Caran Conner

Friday at 2:30 the student body started the festivities of Homecoming '74 with a pep rally. The whole town was invited and there was a big crowd showing lots of enthusiasm.

The pep rally started off with the all grade levels from K12, plus three principals and the counselor will attend the workshops. This means that a lot of volunteers from our community will be needed to "take over" for the teachers who are involved. The PTA have done a marvelous job of recruiting parents for these days, but more volunteers are still needed for October 10 and November 20 and 21. Since October 11 is a scheduled workday for teachers and student holiday, no one will be needed on that day; however, it would be helpful for the volunteers to attend classes on Wednesday, October 9 to get acquainted with the schoolday routine.

If anyone is interested in helping the school out in this manner, please call one of the principals or Mrs. Witcher at 832-4531.

S.O.S. Activities

The pep squad officers, representatives, and cheerleaders, met in the homemaking cottage Tuesday, Sept. 10 to make plans for the homecoming activities. Various assignments were made and carried out. The Senior Class decorated the hall, sold ribbons and pins, and helped put decorations on the lockers. The junior class painted signs for the hall and gym.

A delightful and enjoyable skit entitled "Big Bad Red" to the tune of "Big Bad John" was prepared and presented at the pep rally by the Sophomore girls. The run through for the Friday night game was made by the Freshman Class.

Members of the pep squad are Janie Serna, Letty Anaya, Donna Evans, Cindy Jackson, Linda Blumer, Lori Harrison, Brenda Stence, Lesa Dulaney, Anita Alvarado, Susie Deanda, and Maria Hernandez, served as tour guides for Exes from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m. Ann Boone, Kay Williams, and Teresa Willis served coffee in the cafeteria to visiting guests.

6th Graders Tested Recently

Sixth graders are taking part in a state-wide testing plan in math and reading. These tests are being provided to schools all over Texas at no charge to local school districts as part of a plan to evaluate the effectiveness of a new kind of test now being developed, criterion-referenced testing.

The primary difference between these tests and the testing program currently being used appears in the way results are reported. Current tests report the results in comparison form, with students being compared to others in their age and grade level all over the United States. Criterion-referenced tests measure the concepts mastered by each student. Results can help 6th grade teachers to individualize their lesson plans in order to help each student learn the particular concepts missed in earlier grades.

Students should receive their results to take home at the end of October.
