Kent R. Hance Announces Candidacy For Election as State Senator from Here

Kent R. Hance, 31-year-old Lubbock attorney and member of the West Texas University Board of Regents, Tuesday announced his candidacy for the office of state senator of the 28th senatorial district, which includes Lubbock County and 12 other counties in this area.

A professor of business law at Texas Tech University for the past 5 years, Hance resigned that position last month in anticipation of his candidacy for the senate seat now held by H.J. "Doc" Blanchard.

Hance has headed his own law firm in Lubbock since 1969 when he returned from Texas University School of Law where he received his doctor of jurisprudence degree in late 1968.

While an undergraduate at Texas Tech University working on his BBA degree, Hance was vice president of the student body, president of his social fraternity, a member of Phi Alpha Kappa honor fraternity and the Saddle Tramps. He graduated Tech in 1965.

Last year, Hance was named one of the five most outstanding professors at Texas Tech for distinguished service, and he was appointed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby to serve as a member of the state's Citizens Water Advisory Council, a study group for solving water problems.

Hance is well known in area politics for his successful role as campaign manager for several winning candidates over the past five years. This will be his first race as a candidate.

A native of Dimmitt, Hance was president of his high school student body. He married the former Carol Hays, of Dimmitt, in 1964. They have two children, Ron 8 and Susan 4. They are members of First Baptist Church in Lubbock.

He was one of the original incorporators of Texas Boys Ranch and presently serves on its board of directors. His other activities include membership in the Southwest Rotary Club, Lubbock Lions, Water Inc., Chamber of Commerce and Texas Tech Century Club.

Senator H. J. "Doc" Blanchard Files for Re-election to 28th Senatorial District

Veteran State Senator H.J. "Doc" Blanchard, D-Lubbock, has announced his plans to seek re-election to the Senate seat he has held since 1962.

The fifty-year-old Blanchard, who is fifth in seniority in the Texas Senate, represents the 28th Senatorial District which includes thirteen West Texas Counties: Andrews, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Garza, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Terry, and Yoakum.

Blanchard holds the record for longest continual service from the 28th District which was created in 1876.

Senator Blanchard is currently serving as the elected delegate from this District to the 1974 Constitutional Convention where he is a member of the Committee on the Judiciary.

During his services in the Senate, Blanchard has chaired the Labor and Management, Nominations, Insurance, the Economic Development Committees. He is currently serving as Chairman of the joint House-Senate Legislative Property Tax Committee. He is also a member of the Executive Committee of the National Conference of Insurance Legislators. He has been instrumental in the passage of numerous major pieces of legislation dealing with insurance, public health and safety and higher education. He was a principal architect of the bills that created the Texas Tech School of Law, the Texas Tech Medical School, The University of Texas at the Permian Basin, and the Lubbock State School.

Senator Blanchard is married to the former Mary Thomas of Lockney, Texas, and is the father of four sons and a daughter.

Introductory Meeting for Boy Scouts to Be Held in Shallowater Monday Evening

Shallowater will once again have an opportunity for Boy Scouting, according to Max Browning, pastor of the First United Methodist Church. Scouting in Shallowater has been sponsored by the Methodist Church.

All boys 11 years old and up, are invited to come with their parents to an introductory meeting to be held at the Shallowater Community Club House, Monday night, February 4th at 7:30 p.m. Parents are urged to attend to meet the new leaders, Lt. Skip Berry of Shallowater and Lt. Dennis Granquist of Hurlwood. Both officers are stationed at Reese Air Force Base.

Boy Scouting, a program for boys 11 to 18, is celebrating its 64th anniversary this month. At the present time over 5 million boys across the country are enjoying the benefits of Scouting.

Scouting is no new program to Shallowater. One of the early pioneers in Shallowater Scouting was Kenneth Shropshire of the First State Bank.

final plans for the barbecue dinner to be held Sunday, February 17 in the High School Cafeteria.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the Booster Club. Tickets will be $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children 12 and under.

A local representative of the South Plains Council, B.S.A. will be present to help with the meeting.

Shallowater Cub Scout Program Needs Volunteers

Mrs. Claudine Oliver, Shallowater Cub Scout leader announced a parents meeting and rally for all Cubs and their parents.

"The meeting is mainly to inform parents of what Cub Scouting is and how they fit in. Cubbing is not a baby sitting program, but it is fun," according to Mrs. Oliver.

All Cubs and boys interested in joining are urged to attend with their parents, Tuesday, February 5th at 7:30 p.m. in the Shallowater Community Club House. A representative of the South Plains Council, Jerry Stevens, District Executive will be present to help with the meeting.

PTA to Meet Here Thursday

The Shallowater PTA will meet Thursday, February 7th at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

A representative from the Lubbock Health Department will be the guest speaker.

There will be no meeting in March. The public is urged to attend Thursdays meeting. There will be refreshments served.

Senior Citizens Club Meets

The Senior Citizen Club met Tuesday, January 22 at the Shallowater Clubhouse for a covered dish luncheon and fellowship. They played dominoes and 42 and enjoyed a sing-a-long.

Twenty-five were present. The next meeting will be Tuesday, February 26th and the group has decided to bring their wedding picture or the nearest picture to their wedding date.

Young Farmers Meet Monday

The Frenship Young Farmers met Monday night. Twenty-three members attended. Eight visitors from Texas Tech and four from Amarillo were present.

The program was brought by Sam Thomas and it was outstanding.

In the business meeting, Bobby Richey gave a report on the State Convention. The members voted to spend $225 for their share of the FFA Stock Trailer.

A discussion was held on whether the Young Farmers should take part in the Heart Fund Drive. It will be decided in an officers meeting. The local livestock show was also discussed and will be held March 5.

McAlister to Seek New District Seat

In a press conference at the Villa Inn in Lubbock Tuesday morning, incumbent legislator R.B. "Mac" McAlister announced that he will seek re-election in the western most part of two single-member districts which were carved Monday by an Austin federal court from the two man 75th.

A Lubbock broadcast executive, McAlister will seek the new district post against State Representative Elmer Tarbox.

McAlister said: "I have judged that it would be best to run in the western district for the simple reason that we expect to live there for a long time (at 2302 Slide Road)."

Joe Barnes, Texas Tech's all-southwest conference quarterback will be the featured speaker at the annual Seagraves Quarterback Club banquet on February 19. The affair will be in the community building at 7:30 p.m.

Billy Clyde Jones joined the Gaines County Sheriff's department as deputy earlier this month and will cover the Seagraves area. Jones, 38, was reared in Gaines County and his parents reside near Seminole.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eaks of Bula, Texas announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Debbie Wyman, to Tom Fipps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gilliam, also of Bula. Debbie attended Bula High School. Mr. Fipps graduated from Bledsoe High School and attended South Plains College. The couple plan to be married this week in the Bula Baptist Church.

Specialist Four Charles L. Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cisero Morgan, Levelland, completed the leadership course at the U.S. Army, Hawaii Non-commissioned officer academy at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. His wife, Sharon, is with him in Hawaii.

Vandalism or Not It's Still Against Federal Law Here

During the past several months numerous accounts of apparent vandalism have come to the attention of the Shallowater Police Department. It all began in December of last year, when a number of 55 gallon barrels were found on the Santa Fe railroad tracks, which cut through the city. It has continued through this past month when Santa Fe employees discovered obstructions erected on the tracks late one night while a train was on the siding awaiting the passage of a fast freight.

All of these incidents are now under the investigation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and this newspaper has learned that anyone caught involved in these incidents will be prosecuted by the United States Attorney's Office under an old federal "Train Wreck Act."

Anyone having any information concerning these incidents, or who might throw some light on whether they are in fact vandalism, please contact Police Chief Jim Trulove, before someone's life is messed up completely.

Frenship Booster Club to Meet

The Frenship Athletic Booster Club will meet Friday night, February 1 at 7 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria.

This meeting will be to make

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas—Interest in the Constitutional Convention is at a high level, according to Price Daniel Jr., presiding officer of the historic session.

Daniel pointed to a statewide poll showing a large majority favor constitutional revision now. A Common Cause poll indicated 67 percent of a sampling of 370 Texans feel the constitution should be rewritten and 63 percent think the legislature, sitting as a convention, will improve it.

The convention ended its third week ahead of a proposed 90-day schedule, Daniel calculated.

A $1.8 million budget was adopted, and a vote scheduled this week on the Bill of Rights and Preamble—a week ahead of the proposed agenda for floor consideration of any committee reports.

Committees are plowing ahead with their schedules, hearing witnesses and beginning to consider contents of their reports.

Daniel estimated 75 to 100 calls a day are being received on the convention's toll-free Wats line, offering suggestions and asking questions.

Concluded the presiding officer: "Based on progress thus far, the increased public interest and participation and the continuing excellent attitude and spirit of cooperation among the delegates, I am more confident than ever that we will complete our deliberations within the 90-day suggested period, that our end product will be a new constitution of which we can all be proud, and that the new constitution will be approved by the voters of this state."

Opinion Reversal Urged—Legislators who had a big hand in writing the new open records act told Atty. Gen. John Hill they had no intention of using it to close police arrest and offense records.

Hill took under advisement arguments of news media representatives and others protesting his recent opinions which held the records confidential.

Witnesses at a quasi-judicial hearing scheduled by Hill to discuss the hearing here noted that police records traditionally have been open to the press.

Daniel said the 1973 open records act contains a specific provision that no records regarded as open by agency policy at the time the law was passed will be closed by its terms.

The attorney general allowed 30 days for filing of additional briefs. He will then review—and possibly revise—the controversial opinion.

Speed Limit Result In Doubt—It's too early to tell whether the new 55 mph speed limit will save lives or cause more accidents, according to Jim Arnold of the Office of Traffic Safety.

Arnold said it is possible motorists may get bored and negligent at the lower speed.

He said many drivers also will ignore the new limit, while others try hard to obey it, creating a difference in speeds which could be dangerous.

Courts Speak—A three judge federal court here held single member House of Representatives districts must be provided for seven counties.

Counties are Jefferson, Tarrant, McLennan, Travis, Nueces, El Paso and Lubbock. Multi-member districts in Galveston and Hidalgo counties were not declared unconstitutional. Filing deadline for House candidates in the counties has been extended until February 18.

Texas Supreme Court held the City of Denton must pay damages to a woman whose home was flooded when a city employee left her faucets on.

The high court also upheld a Fort Worth intermediate court in a decision that a fired employee of a company must go through grievance committee proceedings before taking his complaint to court.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a 75 year prison sentence assessed an Odessa couple in the death of a man "picked up" by the woman, a prostitute.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals in effect held the act regulating coin operated machines unconstitutional.

A.G. Opinions—In a new open records decision, Atty. Gen. John Hill held University of Texas correspondence on women faculty salaries is not a public record, but a computer printout of UT salaries is.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Persons under 16 can get marriage licenses only on legal waiver of the age requirement by a district court on proof of good cause.

There is no basis for testing constitutionality of a proposed surcharge on traffic fines to fund the state driver education program, since there is no legal authorization for it.

A respondent is not entitled to a jury in contempt proceedings brought under the uniform reciprocal enforcement of support act.

County courts have exclusive jurisdiction to try the offense of homicide by vehicle.

A state-chartered savings and loan association may designate or earmark all or any portion of its permanent reserve fund stock as a part of its federal insurance reserve account.

Asst. County Extension Agent Sparkling Glassware

To sparkle, glassware must be absolutely spotless. Whether washed in an automatic dishwasher or by hand, any glassware can reflect its natural beauty.

Consumers find that automatic dishwashers clean thoroughly with less breakage than hand-washing when racks are loaded according to manufacturer's directions.

However, improper loading, low water temperature, extremely hard water, and improper amount or type of detergent can cause streaking and filming.

Don't us anything other than detergent formulated for automatic dishwashers in them.

When hand-washing glassware, place only a few pieces in the sink or dishpan at one time. This avoids chipping. Also, use a rubber sink mat or plastic dishpan, a rubber cap on the faucet, and a rubber coated dishrack for draining.

Wash and rinse glassware with hot water, changing suds often. When rinsed in hot water, drained and air dried, they will dry spotless.

When washing stemware, hold it by the base of the bowl rather than by its stem.

To clean deep or narrow-necked vases, bottles or decanters, use a dishmop or bottlebrush. A soft brush helps remove film from indentions on cut or pressed glass.

When two stacked glasses stick together, fill the inner glass with cold water. Hold the other one in warm water until they separate.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

It's a little ridiculous to express the obvious—and an overworked term—but that was a big victory for Texas Tech Saturday. Beating Texas at home never is an easy chore, although the Red Raiders have made a habit of it in recent years.

For the record, that was the sixth straight time Tech has gone into old Gregory Gym and whipped the Longhorns, the tenth time in succession that the Steers have fallen to Tech.

It's a record that is shared by Arkansas. The Razorbacks also, by coincidence, have fallen 10 straight times, but only five straight in Fayetteville.

This kind of domination is unique in a league where it is tough to win on the road and where both Texas and Arkansas produce good teams. In fact, the last two conference championship Texas teams lost to Tech in Austin, believe it or not.

But to get back to that Texas game, it was another team victory. Sure, you can point to Steve Trncak's vital two free throws, to Rich Little's court-length pass, to Rick Bullock's initial scoring surge, to William Johnson's rebounding, to Don Moore's tight defense.

It took all of that to overcome Larry Robinson's hot hand and Harry Larrabee's belated shooting in the second half. You'd have to couple Trncak's free throws, Robinson's missed shot and Little's alert pass as keys to the outcome.

For a time it looked like a rout as the Raiders built their lead up to a comfortable appearing 15 points. And then the action turned to what has, on occasion, killed other Tech teams.

The Raiders went into a semi-delay game, trying to use up as much of the 30-second clock as they could. They got out of their principal offense and, as a result, their scoring tapered off. And here came Texas suddenly getting the hot hand.

It takes unusual ability to play a delay game and score, because the normal rhythm has been upset. Tech used up the clock, all right, but missed field goals and Texas ran down to score.

But power to the Raiders! They never lost their poise. They broke the Texas press. And they had what it takes in the clutch, while the Longhorns threw the ball away at a key moment. This wasn't the deciding game in the conference, but it was a big step towards a repeat.

Now, a word about Trncak. Here's a young man who has seen only limited playing time. He's pressed into a crucial game with all sorts of pressure on him when Grady Newton becomes ill.

Trncak responded. He played a strong floor game. He picked up three big rebounds. He handled the ball well. And, of course, he calmly sank two free throws that put Tech back into the lead when the club needed to go in front the worst way. It was a brilliant performance.

If there's a better guard in the conference, and maybe in the Southwest, than Richard Little, I haven't seen him. Little has more height than Tech's more famous group of Carl Ince, Gerald Myers, Del Ray Mounts and Dub Malaise, but he's cut from the same mold.

If I was an opposing coach, I'd be more worried about Little than anyone else on the Tech team. He makes crucial steals. He ballhawks his opponent. He's deadly in the clutch at the free throw line. He runs the Raiders, while not seeming to do so.

And in the clutch, he scores key baskets, although he has become totally unselfish. When he came to Tech, he was, like Gerald Myers, a run-and-gun player. Now he takes the percentage shot, passes off and sets up players. He has become the all-around player.

Little must drive opponents crazy. He's aggressive, almost belligerent appearing. But when the chips are down, he delivers. He's probably the key to the team's success and destined to go down as one of Tech's all-time greats. I'm glad he plays for Tech.

No. 1? Why, UCLA, of course. With Walton healthy, the Bruins demolished Notre Dame, which had moved up to No. 1 after beating UCLA. But no team worthy of such ranking is going to take the punishment the Irish absorbed.

John Wooden ran the lead to 27 points before removing his starters with almost three minutes to play. Frankly, despite the beating, UCLA wasn't that impressive. Still, how could you vote against them?

This will be a key period for the Raiders. They had to play Rice in Houston Tuesday night and the Owls are tough. Then, after getting TCU here this Saturday night, the Raiders must play two on the road, SMU and Baylor.

Three of the four games away from home is the real test. If Tech can win two of the three, the Raiders will be hard to stop. In the closing six games, played here. That's an advantage, if Tech can do well in this crucial period.

Did you get excited when Ali and Frazier had that TV studio skirmish? Frankly, I yawned a little and remarked to go one in particular that the heavyweight division has gone to hell in a bucket.

Here's the champion, George Foreman, forced into making a defense of his title, his first in a year's time since he won it. The heavyweight division has few fighters of championship proportions anymore. In fact, boxing is in trouble.

If there were boxers of ability around, there would be plenty of championship fights. Still, you must remember that Joe Louis, a truly great champion, wasn't demanding. He fought anybody and everybody, and devil take the hindmost.

Louis may well have been the last great champion, although there are those who still hold Rocky Marciano worthy of that title. Me? I hold that boxing has fallen to about the state of wrestling, and I could care less who won Monday night's bout.

Glowing reports on crappie fishing still in the Abilene paper about Hubbard Creek and Lake Colorado City, where warm water, lack of moisture and nice days have resulted in good catches.

Again, Oak Creek is prominent, with some good black bass being taken, although not in the numbers to be expected later. So, if the weather holds fair, take your boat off those blocks and venture forth. You should be able to stock your freezer pretty well.

The NFL draft, which began Tuesday, should be interesting, in view of the challenge of the new World Football League. The latter is starting about like the old American League, with plenty of money, but few established stars.

The new league might make it, even though it faces an uphill struggle. I remember the early days of the old AFL, when E.J. Holub was with the Dallas Texans. It didn't compare, in those days, but it grew. The new WFL might do the same thing. It will be interesting to see what happens.

Rules of the water are as important as rules of the road. You think not?

Well, the way water regulations are ignored lots of people must think that way too. But it's a matter of lack of information—we hope.

Very few people who venture out into the water, with a boat of any kind, size or shape (from little canoes to big runabouts), really know waterway regulations.

This is hardly true of those who helm the large cruisers on our mammoth impoundments, and certainly not true of those who man the great seagoing rigs on our Gulf waters... for the latter are checked and double-checked periodically by the Coast Guard.

But the little fellows who steer the fishing boats and the small pleasure craft are neglected. That is, we don't have the critical overseers to make us learn the rules and adhere to them. And it's typically true that what you're made to do, you do—and what you aren't forced to do, you don't.

This is not a criticism of law officials, or to urge a clamp down on the negligent. It's just a gentle reminder to you and to me to ship up and to brush up on our jargon, our knowledge of boating, and our ability to "put to sea" safely and to operate our boats courteously.

When the State of Texas chose its "DRIVE FRIENDLY" slogan (thanks to former newspaperman Weldon Hart), it selected a simple but potent motto that grows on you. Really, it's surprising how many accidents can be attributed to anger. But they are not limited to cars and roadways, or to airplanes and airways, but also to boats and waterways.

To me driving friendly on the water is more important to living than driving friendly on the highway. It's bad enough to have a collision on the highway but it doubly dangerous on water, for there you may survive the crash but you still face the serious danger of drowning.

That's double jeopardy. Only a mid-air plane collision could be worse.

Pallbearers were David Davis, Eldon Banister, Bill Grimes and Bobby Puryear.

Services Held for Wright Ireland

Funeral Services were held Wednesday in Amarillo for Mr. Wright Ireland. He was dead on arrival Sunday after suffering an apparent heart attack while visiting in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Ireland.

Interment will be in a Lubbock Cemetery.

New Rural Area Federal Business Loans Attracts State-wide Attention

A new federal program to finance local businesses or industrial development will help improve the economic climate in rural areas of Texas, according to Mr. J. Lynn Futch, State Director of Farmers Home Administration, Temple.

Already letters of pre-application are being received, Mr. Futch said, requesting financial assistance to develop businesses under provisions of the 1972 Rural Development Act. The Farmers Home Administration, a rural credit service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, oversees the program.

"Submitting a letter of pre-application is the first step in this program," Mr. Futch explained. "Any individual or group that needs financing for industry or business in Texas should summarize his ideas in a proposal and submit it to the FHA county office in the area, or to a private lender. Priority will be given to projects that strengthen rural communities by improving economic and employment conditions as outlined in the Rural Development Act."

If the prospective business meets eligibility requirements, Mr. Futch said, the applicant will be requested to submit a formal application. Major projects will be cleared with appropriate local and state officials to assure compliance with development plans for the area.

In addition to individuals, eligible applicants may include partnerships, cooperatives, and corporations.

Most borrowers will receive loans advanced by private lenders guaranteed up to 90 percent by FHA in rural areas and cities not over 50,000 population. Loan funds may be used to purchase machinery and equipment, to buy land, buildings and permanent fixtures, and for working capital.

Public bodies also are eligible for grants to finance industrial sites that will result in development of private business enterprises.

Swine Show Set At Plainview

Progress has been moving extremely well in the preparation of the Southwestern Winter Spotlight at the Hale County Agriculture Center, Plainview, Texas on February 14 and 15, 1974. Texas people have been very cooperative in planning this event.

The show will consist of 353 entries from 12 states. The entries include 127 Chester White boars, 137 Open Gilts, 11 Bred Gilts and 79 Market hogs, according to Lyle R. Alumbaugh, Executive Secretary of the Chester White Swine Record Association, Rochester, Indiana.

The schedule of events begins Wednesday, February 13 with receipt of entries at 9 a.m. and concluding Friday, February 15 with the sale of prize winning animals at 1 p.m.

Texas Poll-Ettes Scholarships Set

Two scholarships will be awarded by the Texas Poll-ettes in the sum of $300 each this year. The Texas Poll-ettes, who are deeply interested in young people, offer these scholarships as a means to assist young people in furthering their education in the various fields of agriculture. The scholarship may be used at any junior college, college or university in the state of Texas.

An applicant should be a high school graduate and a resident of the state of Texas. Each applicant must have three recommendations; one being from either the county agent, club advisor, FFA advisor or high school principal.

The deadline for receiving scholarship applications is May 1, 1974. All youths interested in the scholarship fund should mail their applications to Mrs. M.D. Arrington, Route 1, Jacksonville, Texas 75766.

Shallowater Band Trip to Six Flags

The Shallowater High Band will be honored again this year with a trip to Six Flags. The date is set for May 9-11. They will be leaving around 5 a.m. Thursday and will be returning Saturday around 3 p.m.

The 1971-72 band took a similar trip which they enjoyed very much. The band is honored with this trip every two years. Many students look forward to this.

Mr. Stewart, band director, says the band will be in a concert while they are visiting there. He feels that they will make a good showing and the trip well worth their effort.

Cooperation Need For Candy Vending

Coke and candy machines? All we have to do is cooperate. That's easy!

On January 21st the Student Council of Shallowater High took a survey. The survey was to determine the students needs and reasons for the coke and candy machines. The students were asked that if the coke proposal was passed to pick up an wrappers in the hall. The survey showed 298 students for and 0 against. Some comments were made by some of the teachers, however.

The proposal was presented to Mr. Hohertz the next day. Mr. Hohertz at the present, is thinking seriously about the proposal. Mr. Hohertz said that he does not disapprove it now, but he also made it known that there are candy machines in the lunchroom. He also said that if it was passed and he found candy wrappers in the hall or anywhere, he would immediately call the company to come and pick up the candy machines.

So listen students, if it is passed, let's all pitch in and keep the halls clean. It won't hurt us to bend down and pick up a piece of paper and place it where it belongs, in the trash.

Mustangs Rout Eagles Friday

The Mustangs routed the Ropes Eagles on their own court last Friday night by the score of 89-52. The Mustangs had 4 players in double figures as the boys played one of their best games this year.

The boys started out strong and got better as they took the lead at halftime 52-33. In the last quarter the boys looked great as everyone on the team played. Jon Gates led with 32 points, Ray Morris and Bobby Reeves had 16 points, and Don L. Grimes had 10 points.

Last Friday night, Vicki Roberts poured in 14 points for Shallowater. It was a thrilling ball game until the third quarter when Arp from Ropes started netting with 23 points. Now the Varsity girls are 3-3 for district play.

Jr. Varsity girls were in the Levelland tournament, though they didn't win a place.

The 8th grade girls were in the New Deal tournament and placed first. Congratulations.

The Varsity girls had another disappointing ball game Tuesday night with the Whiteface Antelopes. Vicki Roberts was high scorer.

FHA News

The FHA held its monthly meeting January 7, 1974. This month it was on Encounter Levels. This is where the girls work on projects, like trying to reach their goals in life. When they complete their projects, they receive a degree in FHA. They may receive a Chapter A junior, and a State Degree in FHA.

We also talked about the Sweetheart Banquet. It was decided by the girls to be at the Hayloft Dinner Theater, Feb. 9 or 16.

NHS Students Of the Month

The National Honor Society selected Brenda Randolph and Jon Gates as the NHS students of the month.

Brenda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Randolph. She is a senior at Shallowater High School. Her great school spirit seems to extend to everyone. She was the "Mustang" mascot for the football season, really leading in the spirit of the games. Brenda is one of the captains for the varsity basketball team and also plays the position of guard. She is also a member of SHS AND FHA.

Jon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Gates. He is a junior at SHS. Jon is active in basketball and football. As a tackle on offense, he made honorable mention and second team defensive linebacker on the All-District team. Jon is also an active member of FCA.

Being An American

by Patrick Robinson

What does being an American mean to me? It means living in a world greater than all others. Where men are free and their barriers of discrepancies are slowly diminishing into rubble. Where even the lowest person on the scale can rise above all others and bring his dream into reality. And what do Americans do; complain. If Americans could see the outside world as it really is and not through the eyes of a newscaster who paints rosy red, they would know how lucky they really are.

Sure we have been marred through history by such things as Watergate. But at least we Americans and the rest of the world can see our mistakes. How many can say that about the chancellorship of West Germany or the dictatorship of Spain. You can't because we don't know what happens behind the scenes. The only thing bad about Americans is that we're too generous. We play big daddy to all the other countries in the world. But what happens when we need help, they turn their backs on us and say they don't want to become involved. Either that or they're taking us for a ride.

If only people could see the poverty of countries in Africa where there are only two classes of people, rich and peasant. If only people could see the workings of the police state in Spain. How the people live, minding what they say, and what they write, and they say they're the best.

After traveling around the world and talking with people of different races, creeds, and lifestyles, I can truly say that we are the best. America's the best country in the world bar none and I challenge any person in the world to argue because there is no such thing as utopia and if there was, it would be named America.

Before pouring hot tea or coffee into a glass containing ice cubes, add a metal spoon to help absorb the sudden temperature change.

Ordinary washing sometimes won't remove stains. However, they aren't permanent because glass surfaces are non-absorbent.

To remove stains from flower vases, use a chlorine bleach solution. In glass coffeemakers, try baking soda. For cleaning vinegar cruets, diluted household ammonia works well.

Remove lime deposits caused by hard water by placing tea leaves in the bottom of the container, then filling it with a vinegar solution.

After cleaning, store all glassware carefully to avoid chipping.
