1958 Shallowater Seniors Have Class Reunion

Nine people of the thirteen member 1958 senior class of Shallowater High School met for a three hour reunion at the Howard Preston home on Sunday afternoon. It was their first meeting as a formal reunion, and many vivid memories were recalled, covering events from first grade through the senior trip, since several present had started to school together.

George Igo came the greatest distance as he resides in Guam and is employed by Continental Airlines. His six year old son, Roger, was with him. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Kent Gentry, Lovington, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Bishop and two children, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Preston and three children, Port Arthur, Tx.; Mr.

and Mrs. Ellis Dodson (Jorja Blackmon) and two sons, Plano, Tx.; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Meeker (Annice Isom) and two sons, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stallings (Laverne Blagg) and three children, Austin; Mrs. David Stewart (Carolyn Varde-man), Shallowater; and Dane Merrell of Houston. Also present was Kenneth Casey from Albuquerque, N.M. He was a member of the class through the junior high school years, but his family moved to Fort Worth so he spent his years in high school there.

Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. George Blackmon, parents of Mrs. Dodson, and Mr. and Mrs. Granville Igo, parents of George.

Rapid Growth In Shallowater

Shallowater continued to grow at a rapid pace in 1976 with 13 new homes ranging in price of $31,000 to $65,000 erected on 10th, 14th, and 15th streets and an estimated $30,000 in remodeling on homes and businesses made.

The spacious new Circle S Food at the corner of Ave. L and 12th Street was built and opened for business in October by Tommy and Janis Sewell to up the estimated cost of construction within the city to around $600,000 for the year.

A lot of street improvements were made this year with the paving of 14th St. and 15th St. Drive and plans are being made to erect several more new homes in the city limits.

The city has enlarged several of the main water lines and a large 350,000 gallon water reservoir is under construction at the present

Local Farmer Has High Yield

James McMenemy of Shallowater was recently named a member of the DeKalb Yieldmasters Club for producing 7781.67 lbs. of sorghum per acre in 1976.

His yield, based on 14 per cent moisture, was mechanically harvested from a solid block measuring 20.002 acres. An impartial third party verified the high yield which was recorded from a field of DeKalb F-67.

McMenemy planted the field on May 5 in 40-inch rows at 10 lbs. per acre. His fertilizer program included 164 lbs. of nitrogen. No herbicide or insecticide was used. An estimated 10 inches of rain fell on the crop from planting to harvest.

Concerning the hybrid's performance, McMenemy says, "The three things I liked about F-67 was the greenbug resistance, the good standability, and of course, the good yield. F-67 grew off real well and the yield was great for this particular area."

The purpose of the DeKalb Yieldmasters Club is to promote an exchange of ideas and information among the nation's leading grain producers and to recognize them for their outstanding accomplishments as well as their important role in helping feed the world. Through the sharing of such information, the program also encourages farmers to adopt management and cultural practices that will aid them in obtaining maximum profit from each acre.

City Council Passes Dog Ordinance

The Shallowater City Council has passed an ordinance where it is unlawful for residents to have a dog over 6 months old on any premises without a dog collar or harness with a securely attached tag, issued by a licensed veterinarian, showing that the dog has been vaccinated for rabies.

The council has authorized the Animal Warden or city policemen to seize and impound all dogs not wearing collars or harnesses with the rabies tag. And any person may take up and deliver any dog to the animal warden to be impounded.

Therefore it is unlawful for any dog to run loose within the city limits of Shallowater and dog owners should not allow their pets to run loose without a tag.

All dogs that are seized will be impounded for a period of 72 hours, during which time the owner of an impounded dog may redeem the animal by paying $15 impounding fee, provided the dog has a tag showing that the dog has been vaccinated within the current calendar year against rabies. If the dog does not have a tag, the impounding fee will be $25.

Congressman George Mahon this week warned the cotton industry that it is threatened with the promulgation of cotton dust standards by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration which could drastically affect the ginning and processing of cotton. The proposed standards, covering cotton gins, cottonseed oil mills and textile plants, were published in the Federal Register on December 28.

Mahon met with OSHA and industry officials on December 22 in an effort to convince government officials that the submission of the proposed standards should be delayed. Representatives of cotton ginning, cottonseed oil and textile industries joined Mahon in the plea for a delay, but agency officials refused to postpone publication of the cotton dust standard proposals, which would limit the amount of dust which would be acceptable in cotton gins, oil mills, and textile plants.

Hearings regarding the proposed standards will be held by OSHA beginning on April 4, 1977, and Mahon has called upon the cotton industry to make sure that all pertinent information is submitted at the hearing. He pointed out that, while the health of employees in the cotton industry is of vital concern, excessive regulation by OSHA could tend to destroy the cotton ginning, processing and textile industries, requiring the expenditure of vast additional sums by the cotton industry in order to comply with the standards.

BIBLE AUTHORITY CHRIST HAS ALL AUTHORITY

What about authority is it needed? Yes, it is needed. Such as authority in our stated constitution and the U.S. Constitution. Must there be authority in Religion? YES! WHO HAS THE AUTHORITY?

1. GOD: Head of all things.
2. CHRIST: Was given all authority; Matthew 28:18-20; 17:1-5
3. APOSTLES: were given the authority; Matthew 18:18; John 16:13
4. INSPIRED WORD: John 12:48; 2 Timothy 3:14-17; 1 Corinthians 4:6

This is the authority that has been laid down by God Himself. He placed this authority on His Son (Matthew 17:1-5). We are to hear Christ on religious accounts and no one else. Other scriptures will help us, such as (Acts 3:22-23). Ye shall harken to him in all things. WHY? He is head over all things to the church which is His body, the church. (Eph. 1:22-23; Col. 1:18). Let us use the Bible as authority in religion.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

I have nothing to base it on except gut hunch but I'll take Texas Tech in the Bluebonnet Bowl, Houston in the Cotton Bowl and Texas A&M in the Sun Bowl.

There, three victories for the Southwest Conference—and not a blow has been struck in anger or self defense! In those other, or "secondary" bowls, I'll go with Michigan and Ohio State. For a bob or two I'd throw in support for Kentucky, too.

We here on the South Plains, regardless of the support given to Tech in tickets, are most interested in the battle with Nebraska. And it will be a battle.

If both teams play the way they are capable of playing, and there's nothing to think they won't, it will be a lot like the Tech-Texas game. That was a hard, physical game with a lot of offensive fireworks and good defensive play.

If the truth were known, Texas probably played its best game of the year against Tech. It was a do-or-die battle for the Longhorns. Their conference season depended on the outcome. They had to win.

Tech could, probably, afford a loss, but a defeat might have proven extremely critical. So, it was a key game for both teams.

Everyone knows that Tech won, by three points, 31-28. It shot the Raiders higher in the standings. It brought national recognition through SI and others.

It didn't, however, lay to rest those Doubting Thomases, who said that Tech wasn't for real. They persist today, and only a victory over Nebraska may end the doubt. After all, the Cornhuskers are no strangers to fame and bowl fortune.

By any method of reckoning—conference, season or by sticking a finger in the wind—there's no reason to think that the Raiders don't measure up. They do.

Texas really should have beaten Oklahoma, and the Sooners wound up tied for first in the topsy-turvy Big 8. Tech beat Colorado, one of the co-champions. Tech beat Texas when it played better than it did against OU—which beat Nebraska.

Besides, I think this group of young men is entirely dedicated. I think they fear no team. And I happen to think that they have the weapons to win.

It will be a hard fought game. It should be a game of big plays. It probably will have a generous share of passing. In fact, it could turn out to be one of the best offensive shows of the Jan. 1 weekend.

The Cotton Bowl brings together two of the top teams in the nation. Maryland must be good. The Terrapins are undefeated and no team does that well in any league if it doesn't have some pretty good football players.

The Terrapins are no strangers to bowls or to pressure games. They have, in Jerry Claiborne, one of the top coaches in the nation. They obviously have a first rate team, and this could well be the best game on Jan. 1.

Danny Davis, Wilson Whitley and Co. made believers of me. In the final analysis they sneaked by Tech, but they showed a good, strong club. They can move the ball and they have a stout defense.

It looks to be an explosive type of game, too, with either team willing to gamble. Davis made a couple of mistakes against Tech and, while it's exciting, it doesn't lead to confidence—except that Houston won.

*****

So, settle back in your easy chairs and look for a lot of excitement. The Sugar Bowl certainly has a top attraction with Tony Dorsett and a fighting Georgia team. Michigan could well sidetrack upset-minded Southern Cal.

And, on Sunday, the Aggies unveil their ferocious defense and an offense that, after the Tech game, went into high gear. It promises to be a great weekend.

It was interesting to note that the College All Star-Pro champions game went by the wayside. The Chicago Tribune found out that skyrocketing costs made the game prohibitive, just as Lubbock sponsors decided the same thing.

Also, the pros started not to collaborate as willingly with the Chicago game as it had in the past. That was another thing that helped kill the game here, too.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

Austin — It is a blessing for Texas that instead of looking at red ink smeared across our financial ledgers we can expect to have available more than $3 billion in unencumbered funds for the next two year funding period.

The state budget today is $12.8 billion for the two year period and it will go even higher for the 1978-79 biennium. Because there will be surplus available we won't be looking down the throat of a tax bill when the Legislature convenes in January.

The demands that will be placed on that $3 billion, however, will be unequalled in our history. Never before has there been so much available and never before has the demand for additional funding been so great.

If we are not cautious, the surplus will be quickly used, just as an average of $1.5 billion was spent in 1975.

Because of the importance to the state of the projected $3

Tech's basketball squad has a tough game here this week, taking on New Mexico State Thursday night. The Raiders ran into the stiff opposition expected in the Indiana Classic and dropped games to Miami (O) and Utah State.

Obviously, the Raiders played well to stay in both games, and Gerald Myers must be encouraged. He wasn't excited about the string of five victories, although he was pleased. He knows that this team still has a long way to go.

*****

And so another year comes to a close. I hope that it has been a good year and that 1977 will be even better in every respect. To all our readers we do wish you a Happy New Year in every sense!

The beauty about youth is its faith and confidence—two worthwhile possessions of the human race.

billion balance, and because of the great problem with letting it slip away from us, I hold it to be the number one priority item of the session.

If we do give it over to our agencies and commissions, it would mean that we were increasing the size of state spending by 31 per cent over the current level. That would be right in line with what we have done over the past 10 years. Spending has increased every two years by 21 to 34 per cent.

The transfusion of more and more taxpayer money into building a bigger and bigger government has got to be halted. We don't need bigger government, just more efficiency in the government we have now.

To provide a measure of efficiency, we have spent untold hours during the 18 month interim working through the Hobby-Clayton Commission for places to trim government and make it work better.

The recommendations of this commission and the scrutiny with which the Legislative Budget Board is approaching agency budgets will provide the Legislature with the message that there are savings to be made in government and that our government can work just as well or in many cases better without the huge increases that have become associated with state expenditures in the last few years.

I believe that unless we put the brakes on government and stabilize its growth, then we are only a short time away from the day when many Texans will spend more of their time working for the government than for themselves.

There are many worthy ways in which we can use the surplus without giving it over to ongoing programs and bigger government. I trust the Legislature will find the optimum ways to make use of the treasure and at the same time put the budget on a diet.

Santa Claus has Come — The Criminal May be Next

Nine year old Cindy Citizen got a brand new bicycle for Christmas. Jerry Citizen, who is twelve, found a new camera under the tree. Mother got a new microwave oven and Daddy was as happy as can be with his new tool chest filled with powerdrill, saw and other tools. None of them ever thought when they went to Grandmother's for New Years that they could come back to find their house had been burglarized, their gifts gone, as well as their television, stereo, jewelry, guns and cameras. The police arrived to investigate and Mr. Citizen gave them a list.

Five hours after Mr. Citizen reported the burglary to the police, a detective called and asked Mr. Citizen to come to the police station to look at some property. On arrival at the police department Mr. Citizen saw what looked like Cindy's bicycle. Mr. Citizen told the detective that if it was Cindy's bicycle, it would have his drivers license number engraved on the bottom of the frame. The detective looked and it was there. Mr. Citizen got all of his property back except the television. The detective told Mr. Citizen that over $10,000 in proverty believed stolen had been recovered, but only one person had a drivers license engraved on anything. Although everyone else had reported burglaries and all the property was at the police station, nobody could positively say the items were theirs, they had not even bothered to record serial numbers.

The story will be similar to stories that have and will happen for years to come. The solution is easy. Get involved in Operation Identification and other Crime Prevention Programs. Contact your local law enforcement agency for free information. It only takes a little time. Is it worth it to you?

Shallowater can't help but grow, when all the residents and civic groups join together for the betterment of the community. Let us as citizens back them in all their endeavors.

Rambling . . .

for all of us, was a very eventful year filled with historical events, for the generations of the future to study.

One of the big events of the year was the general election, when Carter's Democratic Party unseated President Ford and the Republican Party for the Presidency. This was a big surprise to a lot of voters in the nation, while there were others who new Carter would be elected from the word "Go."

Anyway, come In Auguration Day in January, we will have a new President. Let's all hope for the best, under his reign. May we see more stabilized living conditions, than we have had over the past few years, as prices have skyrocketed so fast, that it almost caught our breath as they went up.

We as Americans, should be proud of the nation we live in and back our leaders, whether they be our choice or not.

Hint #4 How to unmold a Jell-O® mold

Gently loosen gelatin at edge of mold with pointed knife. Dip mold, just to rim, in warm water for about 10 seconds. Shake gently to loosen. Place moistened plate over mold, invert and lift off mold. # Open house.

What we needed was a place for the First Continental Congress.

A place that would be open to all the people. A place to call our own. Without any vestige of the British Empire.

So Carpenter's Hall of Philadelphia was chosen.

An American building built by American craftsmen.

And the doors were opened. Bringing Americans together at last to build the constitutional foundations of a new country.

Today, Americans are still building together. Head of state, or head of household, they buy U. S.

Savings Bonds.

Bonds give everyone a chance to take stock in their country. And a chance to build safe, dependable savings of their own, too.

When you join the Payroll Savings Plan, a little is set aside from each paycheck to buy Bonds.

Automatically, easily.

So buy U. S. Savings Bonds.

They can open your door to a bright future.

Take stock in America.

200 years at the same location.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
