Local Rural Mail Carrier, A. J. Evans, To Retire Here Friday

A.J. Evans, local rural mail carrier, will retire Friday, December 20, after 31 years in the civil service, 5 years in the Fire Dept. at Reese Air Force Base, 13 years as Postmaster for the Shallowater Post Office and 13 years as rural carrier for Route 1, Shallowater.

For the past 13 years, through rain, sleet, snow and sandstorms with wind gusts of 60 miles per hour, Evans delivered the mail, missing only one day due to a severe snow storm that left drifts in roads too high to drive through.

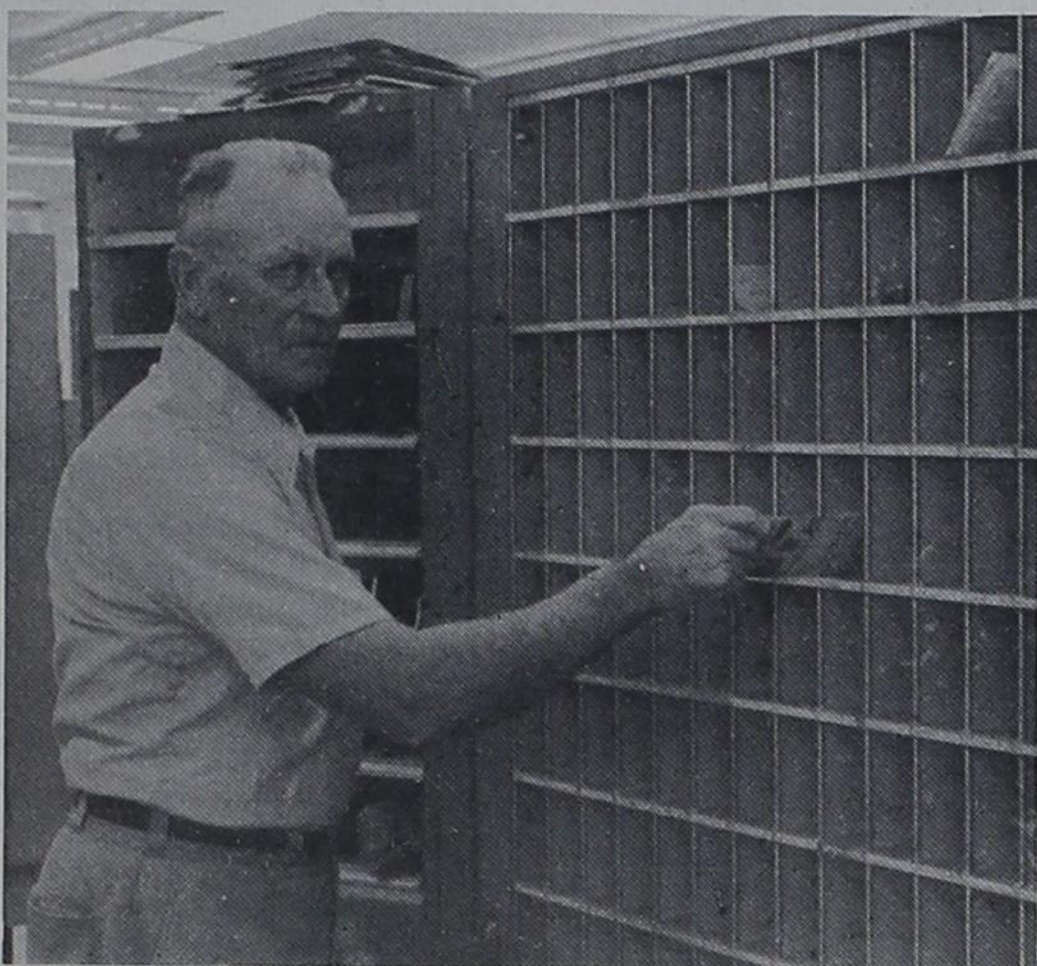

There has been a lot of changes in mail delivery since the pony express days that began over a century ago, when it took relays of riders 10 days to carry the mail 1,960 miles, from St. Joseph, Missouri to Sacramento, Calif., riding continuously day and night in all kinds of weather, plus outrunning the indians, which unfortunately some weren't lucky enough to do.

In his 13 years of carrier service, Evans has driven approximately 400,000 miles and had 15 different Volkswagens. When he started the route there were 165 rural boxes, compared to 282 presently. He drove an average of 87 miles per day when he first began, six days a week, with the exception of holidays and has approximately a years sick leave build up. The average daily delivery now is 110 miles with the route extending completely around Shallowater.

Evans was born in Peacock, Texas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Z.L. Evans, and spent his childhood in Arkansas where the family moved when he was a small boy.

He was married to Dall Inman on Sept. 8, 1928, in Ozark, Arkansas, and moved to the Panhandle in 1932 where they farmed until 1935. They then moved to Shallowater and were engaged in farming near Reese Air Force Base until 1948 when he sold their farm and moved to their present address at 805 10th St.

Prior to becoming Postmaster

in 1948, Evans was employed in the Fire Dept. at Reese and also served in the Marine Corps in World War II.

The Evans have four children, Roger who resides west of Hurlwood and works for the Fire Dept. at Reese; Betty Hagan, 2821 60th St. and Marlene Spurier, 2816 60th St., both of Lubbock; and Joe of 805 11th Street, Shallowater, who recently moved here from Missouri. The couple are the proud grandparents of eleven grandchildren.

Games Against Olton

by Terri Stanton

Last Monday, December 2, the 7th and 8th grade girls basketball team played Olton here. The 7th grade girls played very well the first quarter, then Olton caught up and ended up winning 15 to 30.

The 8th grade girls had a very successful night. They were ahead the whole game and ended up winning 32 to 22. The junior high girls will be playing Seagraves Dec. 16 so we hope you will come out and support all of us.

First United Methodist Women of Shallowater Meet Last Monday Evening

The First United Methodist Women of Shallowater met Monday evening, December 9th, in the home of Mrs. Max Browning, for their Christmas party and installation of officers for the coming year.

The party started with a prayer by Mrs. James McMenamy and the group singing Christmas carols.

Mrs. W.C. Vaughan was installing officer. The theme for the installation was "Accept the Lord, Build a House."

Officers installed were: Mrs. C.M. Thomas, president; Mrs. R.R. Warren, vice president; Mrs. B.H. Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Doyle Mosbey, secretary; Mrs. Retha Crowther, program resources; Mrs. M.J. Williams, spiritual renewal chairman; Mrs. W.C. Vaughan, mission coordinator; Mrs. Paul Isbell, membership chairman; Mrs. C.E. Pair, condolence chairman. The nominating committee is Mrs. Lewis McMenamy, chairman, Mrs. Robert F. Chandler, and Mrs. Gerald Clifton.

Everyone brought gifts to exchange and wrapping paper and ribbon or a gift for the children at Lubbock State School.

Each one brought a sample of their favorite Christmas candy, cookies, etc., served with coffee and hot spiced tea. Fourteen members and four guests attended. Mrs. Irene Krey, Mrs. Louise McKennon, Mrs. Rickie McKennon and Mrs. Joe Hickox.

Although Evans will officially retire Dec. 20th, idle hours of his time will not be wasted, as he is a very active person. He enjoys all types of sports on television. One of his most enjoyable sports in playing golf and days when weather permits will probably be found on the golf course with one of his fellow golfers, spending the day or afternoon in a round of golf.

He just recently completed a workshop in his backyard where a lot of his time will be spent doing odds and ends with his carpentry tools. He also enjoys reading and can be found occasionally napping in his easy chair or quietly resting and relaxing.

He has been a faithful employee and very devoted to his rural customers, providing them with the most efficient service. He will be deeply missed by all who came in contact with him over the years, from all the customers on his route, to those who worked with him in the local post office. All that can be said as he retires is "Good Luck Alton, you worked hard and deserve the very best in the years ahead of you."

Cousins Enjoy Saturday Luncheon

Several cousins of the Hardy family gathered at Furr's Cafeteria in Lubbock for a luncheon, Saturday, December 7th, with 24 in attendance.

Traveling the farthest to attend the event was Mrs. Richard Cline of Miami, Florida.

Others attending were: Mrs. Vivian Ragland and Sook Moreland, both of Abernathy; Johnnie Boothe and Dugan Butler of Dimmitt; Bidly Wood of Muleshoe; from Lubbock was Ruby Coffman, Nell Wiley, Nell Marie Wiley, Alton Hardy and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vance.

Those attending from Shallowater were: Bertha Hardy, Scottie Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hardy, C.C. Vance, Jessie Lee Vance, Paul and Laura Thompson.

4-H Club News

Mm-mm-Good! The Shallowater Food Show was held Sunday afternoon in the clubhouse. There was delicious food to be tasted. Each girl was judged on her food and knowledge of nutrition.

Winners were: Lynda Maunder - blue ribbon-senior division.

Junior division winners: Blue ribbon-Dawn DuLaney, Sarah Rice, Candise Edwards, Cheryl Potter, Robin McMenamy, Malisa McCasland, Amy Grimes, and Lisa Gates.

Red ribbon-Katie Blackmon, Jone Smith, and Celeste Potter.

Junior leaders were Lynda Maunder, Lisa Gates, and Lesa DuLaney. Leaders were Marilyn Shirley and Janet Wheatley from Texas Tech and Mrs. Bruce Maunder of Lubbock. Organizational leader is Mrs. Louis McMenamy.

Other girls in the food groups but not participating in the Food Show were Jana DuLaney, Melissa Cox, Paula Call, and Mendi Pair.

The County Food Show contest will be held at Texas Tech University Home Economics building on Saturday, December 14.

"Christmas Through the Years, 1907 - 1974, portrayed in Toys, Seals and Books." The seals are the ones presently issued by the American Lung Association. The library is showing a complete collection of the seals, belonging to Mr. Glenn Hackney of Lubbock. The toys have been collected from various persons in Lubbock and library staff members, who are loaning either their own toys that they have saved or some their parents had saved. The toys show, with few exception, the results of the wear and tear that children give their favorite toys. So, of course, these are the ones that have been saved.

The children's books are those that were popular during the 1907-1974 period and have been taken from the library's collection.

In 1907 the first American Christmas seals were issued in Wilmington, Delaware. The revenue was to go to the hospital to fight tuberculosis. The idea of selling seals at Christmas came from Denmark where a postal worker, Einar Holboell, had originated the idea and the warmhearted Danes purchased the seals in sufficient quantities to build a children's tuberculosis hospital.

The Mahon Library is located at 1306 9th Street in Lubbock. The library hours are Monday through Thursday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The exhibit may be seen through December.

Lubbock Audobon Society Sets Christmas Bird Count

The Lubbock Audobon Society will conduct its tenth annual Christmas Bird Count on Saturday, December 14, 1974, in conjunction with the National Audobon Society. Members and other interested observers will gather for coffee and assignment of territories at the Municipal Garden & Art Center, 4215 University, the morning of the 14th at 7:00 a.m., then, after a full day in the field, will regroup there at 6:00 p.m. for a chili supper and final compilation of results. Over 40 persons are expected to participate.

The Lubbock Christmas Bird Count will be one of approximately 1,000 counts conducted over the 50 states, Canada, Mexico, and Central America during the two week period prior to January 1. Each local group, restricting itself to a 15 mile diameter circle, turns in the number of each species of birds sighted to the National Audobon Society, for use by State and National Wildlife agencies, conservation groups, researchers, and others who study bird population and distribution trends.

The Lubbock circle is bounded by Indiana Avenue on the west, Lake Ramson Canyon, Idalou, and the Lubbock Regional Airport. Local observers expect to find more than 15,000 birds of more than 110 species in the area. Over the past nine years, 160 different species have been sighted at Christmas, and the Lubbock count has been one of the more successful of the West Texas counts.

Everyone interested in participating in the Lubbock Christmas Bird Count is urged to help, either in the field, or by keeping a record of the birds seen at feeders in town. You do not have to be a member of Lubbock Audobon Society to be eligible to participate. Those reporting feeder counts that day may call the City of Lubbock switchboard, 762-6411, and ask for the Garden and Arts Center after 6:00 p.m. For information on counting in the field, call Sharon or Mike Menaul, 795-8903.

Sweet Adelines to Present Christmas Songs at Library

A group from the Prairie Winds chapter of the Sweet Adelines will present a variety of Christmas songs for the Library Lunch Bunch at 12:15 p.m. on December 17th. Included among the selections will be "Santa Claus is Coming to Town", the "Coventry Carol" and "Christmas Chopsticks."

Everyone is invited to attend any of these programs at the Mahon Library, 1306 9th Street. A sack lunch may be brought to the library and coffee is furnished.

FOAMCRAFTING

Everyone will love this do-it-yourself Santa project (and, he's just in time for Christmas). This Jolly Santa is as bright and cheery as Santa should be and you'll find him fun to create.

Jolly Santa

To make Santa's body, enlarge the pattern, shown. When enlarged, trace onto cardboard and cut out.

Pin the pattern to a 1" x 12" x 24" piece of Styrofoam. Cut the body and arms using a kitchen knife, hot wire or coping saw. Smooth any rough edges by sanding with a piece of scrap foam.

Paint Santa red as shown on the pattern and paint his boots black.

Head and Face: Use a 6" foam ball, painted light, 'flesh pink, for the head. Fasten the ball to the top of the Santa body using wooden picks dipped into glue.

Cut 2 eyes and a mouth from black paper. Place eyes in center of ball, not above. Use a 1½" diameter ball, made of plastic foam, painted red, for the nose. Attach it to Santa's face using a toothpick.

Cut a hat from red felt, see drawing. Glue straight sides together, pin and glue the hat to Santa's head. Cut a piece of black felt, for Santa's belt (1¼" wide) and pin around waist. Cut a black buckle from felt and glue in place.

For Santa's hat trim, cut a length of sheet Dacron, approximately 2" wide to go around the edge of the hat. Repeat this procedure for cuffs, boot tops, collar and coat trim. Tuck a little extra fluffed up Dacron under hat for hair.

Cut a beard and mustache from pattern. Fluff up the Dacron and pin and glue to the face.

This and many other interesting projects are from a new book — "A World of Designs With Styrofoam" — at most craft and hobby stores.

1st American Christmas Card Printed in Albany, N.Y.

In America, credit for the first Christmas card goes to an obscure Albany, N.Y., engraver named R. H. Pease, the promotionally-minded proprietor of Pease's Great Variety Store.

The card isn't dated, but most experts think it was done in the 1850's. They note an impish Santa Claus and his reindeer at the top of the card; since the famed cartoonish Thomas Nast is known to have been the first to come up with that idea about 1850, the date seems fairly certain.

The first American cards published in any quantity came from the Roxbury, Mass., shop of Louis Prang, a German political refugee who went into the printing business.

The result of all this is that the average American family mailed some 110 cards this Christmas and the Post Office Department collected over $200 million in stamps, according to spokesmen for a greeting cards trade group.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

An end run on the football field can be a thing of beauty. The far guard generally pulls out to join two halfbacks in leading interference, the end blocks down and the whole thing winds up in a power sweep that can be hard to stop.

In the athletic offices, it can be a ruinous type of ploy. And, unfortunately, that is what we may be seeing at Texas Tech at the present time. It could blow the lid on Raider athletics.

Here's the situation. South Carolina's coach, Paul Dietzel, resigned to become athletic director. The Gamecocks then began to search for a head coach. Jim Carlen, whether by SC's invitation or his own initiative, entered the picture.

No one has been pinned down as to what the situation is, but enough has been said to indicate that Carlen might get the post. That, naturally, is disturbing to the administration at Tech, the athletic department and thousands of friends.

As one coach told me last week, "I don't really have any love for the guy, but he's done a good job and things are in pretty good shape, if he'll get a good offense. But I don't want to go through the trauma of another change again. We've had enough of that."

Players, fans and everyone loyal to Tech would be affected. The feeling is that, over all, Tech athletics are on pretty sound footing at the present time, so let's not rock the boat.

Along about that time, Carlen is quoted as saying that he will consider SC if he also is made the AD. At first glance, this seems effrontery. Dietzel, after all, just recently became the AD and this seems to be telling SC, "Hey! If you want me, you'll have to make other arrangements for Dietzel."

This might be valid. On the other hand, it might be an indirect way of telling the Tech administration, "Hey! If you want me to stay, make me AD at Tech."

This brings up interesting possibilities. J.T. King has tenure. So does Polk Robison. A few years ago Morley Jennings was AD and had tenure. He wound up tutoring PE golf when DeWitt Weaver arrived here.

If Tech is concerned enough about the possibility of Carlen leaving, it puts pressure on the athletic council, president, and regents. King and Robison could be assigned to PE, with Carlen replacing King and appointing an administrative assistant to take over Polk's role.

In other words, if this is the true picture—and it is, after all, only conjecture—there's a power struggle going on. And power struggles tend to tear apart schools, departments and supporters, while hurting squads and affecting recruiting.

If a power struggle has started, Tech's administration had best act fast to quell it, or else it will cause untold trouble. Despite a winning season, somewhat tarnished in the last half of the campaign, a power struggle now might undo all the progress that has been made in five years under Carlen, King and Company.

One man Saturday night asserted strongly that Carlen would go to South Carolina and that Grant Teaff, the highly successful miracle man at Baylor would love the job here. I can't buy that, although the time for a man to leave is when he's on top.

Grant was at Tech. Grant was passed over in the search for a head coach. Grant has a new five-year contract at Baylor. It is highly improbable that he would leave Waco now.

I've told this story before, but it might be interesting to repeat. I was talking with Grant one day and noticed that all of his children's first names began with a "T".

"Is that coincidence, or what?" I asked.

"That's no coincidence," Grant replied. "The Double T was on purpose. I've always wanted to coach at Texas Tech. That was my dream."

Was the dream fully realized?

*****

It appears that maybe Tech's basketball squad is falling into the pattern of other Raider teams, win at home, lose on the road. It's no disgrace to lose to Kansas State, either in Manhattan or Lubbock. Instead, it was the way the team played.

The defense fell down, the big men failed to produce, the rebounding was horrible. And right there you have the makings for defeat, anywhere.

After Tech got the bugs out against Adams State, the Raiders looked strong. True, the opposition wasn't first line, but it wasn't a bad college team. And, in that last half, the Raiders really seemed to put it together.

Against K State they were never really in the game. Quickness, which is one of the things separating the SWC from other better basketball oriented programs, helped beat them. Vanderbilt probably added the Raiders to their list Monday night.

Cheer up, fans, this is the learning period. The Raiders do have a good team and they should be in the thick of the conference fight. These games, as painful as they may be, will help the squad down the stretch, and that's what really counts.

Off early performances, SMU may have been under rated, with Arkansas overrated. But don't bet on anything.

Holiday Favorites From England, Updated

Many foods which we enjoy during the holiday season have been passed down from our European ancestors. American homemakers enjoy making and serving these perennial favorites, but often need recipes that fit into their modern lifestyles.

If you're looking for a fruitcake recipe with Old-World flavor, try this one, adapted for today's homemakers in The Kraft Kitchens. Yuletide Fruitcake is a satisfying, but not too sweet cake, which can be classified inbetween the dark, brandy-soaked version and the delicate white fruitcake.

The use of vegetable oil in the recipe facilitates easy mixing — it's done completely by hand. Apple jelly lends a simple and different glaze to this fruitcake. You'll find Yuletide Fruitcake stays moist, even after cutting, and that's especially important during the holidays when guests drop in throughout the week.

The English serve their fruitcake, or Christmas Cake as it's called, at tea. But whether it's on your menu for an afternoon or evening get-together, serve it with Syllabub, a frothy drink, also of English origin.

Originally, Syllabub was really a "bub" (the Elizabethan slang for bubbling drink), and had to be served immediately after mixing because of the use of champagne and stiffly beaten egg whites. Today's syllabub depends upon marshmallow cream instead of egg whites, and white wine rather than champagne, making it a delightful holiday beverage that can be made a few hours before guests arrive and refrigerated.

Yuletide Fruitcake

- 2 cups ready-to-use mincemeat
- 1½ cups mixed diced candied fruit

- 1½ cups chopped pecans
- ¾ cup chopped dates
- 3 cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1½ teaspoons soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 eggs, beaten
- ¾ cup Kraft Oil
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

Kraft Pure Apple Jelly

Heat oven to 300°. Combine mincemeat, candied fruit, nuts and dates. Add combined dry ingredients; mix well. Combine eggs, oil and vanilla; stir into fruit mixture. Spoon into greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 300°, 1 hour and 45 minutes. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Heat jelly until melted; glaze cake. Decorate with candied cherry halves and pecan halves, if desired.

Syllabub

- 1 7-oz. jar Kraft Marshmallow Creme
- ½ cup lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 2 cups dry white wine
- ½ cup brandy
- 1 qt. milk
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine marshmallow creme, lemon juice and rind; mix until well blended. Stir in wine and brandy. Gradually beat in milk. Fold in whipped cream; chill.

Approximately 2½ quarts.

The most beautiful Christmas tree is always the one in your home with your own personally collected decorations. It seems to cover the house with a warm glow and fill your family with holiday cheer.

To keep your tree beautiful, fresh and fragrant straight through Twelfthnight--and cut down on the sweeping and caretaking--follow these five simple suggestions.

1. Make sure the tree you select is fresh. Test it by bending the needles; if they are pliant, the tree is fresh.

Then gently tap the base of the tree against the ground. A fresh tree will hold its needles fast.

2. When you get the tree home, keep it outdoors, if possible, until you are ready to set it up for decorating.

3. Saw off about one inch on the diagonal from the tree trunk. This eliminates clogged resins that form at the base of the tree which could block it from absorbing water.

4. Place the tree in a bucket of water mixed with Prolong live-cut Christmas Tree preserver--the ratio is one capful to each cup (8 ounces) of water. Spray the tree with water to keep it extra fresh.

5. Once brought inside for decorating, be sure to place the tree in a spot which is cool and away from heaters. Secure it in a waterholding stand and watch the water-Prolong level carefully.

Snob Rule

A democracy is a country in which everyone has an equal right to feel superior to the other fellow.

—Tribune, Chicago.

A study group of the National Cotton Marketing Study Committee met December 4 in Memphis, Tennessee, and developed recommendations for improving cotton sampling, classification and standards.

The group's proposals will be submitted to the full committee prior to its next meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana, on January 6, 1975. A total of eight such study groups, established in line with the major problem areas identified by the industry and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will make recommendations for consideration at the January 6 meeting.

Don Marble of South Plains, member of the Sampling, Classification and Standards Study Group and President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., reported after the Memphis meeting that this group would recommend:

- 1) That the integrity of the bale package be maintained by taking only one sample from each bale, and that this sample accompany the bale through the marketing system to its final destination;
- 2) That quality evaluation by whatever means be developed to the point that a single classification will be accepted by the industry without the necessity for multiple testing; and
- 3) That certain cotton quality standards be eliminated when the volume of such qualities falls below a predetermined insignificant level at all classing offices.

Realizing the long-range nature of the sampling recommendation, the group will also propose that any sampling done after the initial sample is taken be done hydraulically on the open or uncovered side of the bale.

In discussion of the proposal for a single classification, Marble said the group agreed that a revision of the present standard should be considered as a means to providing the simplest possible system that would indicate only those quality differences needed in cotton marketing and utilization.

At Marble's suggestion, the study group also discussed the possibility of having all bales classed both manually and by instrumentation, with both results put through a computer to determine if the two were equal or within a given tolerance. Such a system would call for the computer to "throw out" for reclassification any bale which did not fall within the allowable tolerance.

The other groups working under the Marketing Study Committee include those studying Functions and Operations of Spot Markets and Market News services, Forward Crop Contracting, Seed Cotton Storage, Bale Packaging, Warehousing and Transportation, Export Marketing, and Labor, Health, Safety and Environment.

A Child's View Of Santa Claus

"What will I tell my child about Santa Claus?" is a familiar problem for many parents during the holiday season. The secret is to take ones clues from the child, one family life education specialist advised.

Parents might ask themselves, "What does the child want to know--what does the child understand," Ilene Carrington, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, suggested this week.

Up until about two years of age, children have little understanding of Christmas activities. The name Santa doesn't have much meaning to the young child. A common reaction to seeing Santa is one of fear--the fat man with the woolly beard in the red suit is a stranger to him and may be threatening to his world, she said.

"But by two years of age, the child is more conscious of Santa. He's really more interested in presents and what he is going to get for Christmas, though. Parents should be careful not to frighten the child by forcing him to see and talk to Santa," she advised.

The three-year-old shows a little more interest in Santa Claus and knows it's Santa who brings the toys. Christmas is a time of excitement for him, but he doesn't yet understand the legends or basis for the holiday season.

"But by four years of age, children are interested in all the details of Christmas, even though they still get confused about what is happening and why.

Santa is very real to the five to six year old. Christmas is a time of wonderment and excitement. Maybe the child is interested in writing a letter to Santa, or perhaps visiting him. He might want to leave Santa a late night shack under the tree.

The child is also learning that Christmas means giving as well as receiving gifts. This is a good time to let the youngster help family members make, wrap and deliver gifts to loved ones.

Much of the child's attitude about Santa Claus will be influenced by the feelings and actions of his parents and other family members.

Even past the age of believing that Santa is a real person, the spirit of Santa lives on as family members feel and express their love and concern for one another.

Turkey In A Sack

Compliments-Pioneer Natural Gas Combine and let stand 10 minutes or more:

1 teaspoon pepper

2 teaspoons salt

3 teaspoons paprika

4 teaspoons hot water

Add, mixing well, 1 cup peanut oil

Wash and dry thoroughly a 14 to 16 pound turkey. Rub inside and out with peanut oil mixture.

Pour remaining oil into large paper sack (heavy) and add enough oil to coat inside of sack. Be sure all inner surface is covered with oil. Truss turkey as desired. Place in sack—breast up. Fold over end of sack and tie securely. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan in 350 oven approximately 10 minutes per pound. Since sack is air tight, turkey is cooked by live steam. No basting is necessary. Open sack with care. If desired, coat turkey with glaze when cool.

I have several requests for baking turkey or other fowl in a grocery sack. These directions came from Pioneer Natural Gas several years ago, and I am grateful to Pioneer for this recipe.

I am indebted to Edith Bodner for this muffin recipe. Edith has many friends in Levelland who remember her as Edith Dodson.

Helps Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues

caused by inflammation

Doctors have found a medication that in many cases gives prompt, temporary relief from pain and burning itch in hemorrhoidal tissues. Then it actually helps shrink swelling of these tissues caused by inflammation. The answer is Preparation H®. No prescription is needed for Preparation H. Ointment or suppositories.

Youths Create Their Own Styles in 4-H Clothing

Creativity and practicality combine when 4-H boys and girls get behind a sewing machine. Youths enrolled in the national 4-H clothing program learn to create clothing styles that are economical to make and which fit their own personality and needs.

Over 736 boys and girls are active in the program, which is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. The young 4-H clothing stylists enjoy using their imagination and creativity to construct clothes that are best for them.

The 4-H'ers learn proper sewing techniques in the program. Using fabrics, threads, patterns and accessories, the youths create pleasing outfits and styles. The youths are also eligible for incentive and recognition awards provided by Coats & Clark, Inc., donor of awards in the 4-H clothing program. In 1974, nearly 10,000 youths will be honored with medals, trips and educational scholarships for their efforts in the program.

Arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee, a maximum of four medals of honor will be awarded 4-H'ers in each county, while a top member from each state receives an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Dec. 1-5.

During 4-H Congress, six national winners will be announced and awarded $700 scholarships courtesy of Coats & Clark.

Youths in the program create clothing styles based on their own ideas. Debbie Kuck, 19, of Petaluma, Calif., a 1973 national winner in 4-H clothing did just that. In her nine years in the program, Miss Kuck constructed some 270 garments and in the process she discovered a real interest in designing her own clothes. Says Miss Kuck, "I add my own touches to everything I make as well as design complete outfits from scratch."

In addition to her designing efforts, the Sonoma County girl also taught sewing skills to a group of low income families as part of her 4-H clothing activities.

For more information on the 4-H clothing program contact the county extension service office.

Rays of Hope

by Pat Stanton
 "And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption". Ephesians 4:30.
 He is the Spirit of Truth (John 14:17) so anything false, deceitful, hypocritical, grieves Him.
 He is the Spirit of Faith (2 Cor. 4:13) so doubt, unbelief, distrust, worry, anxiety, grieve Him.
 He is the Spirit of Grace (Heb. 10:29) so that which is hard, bitter, ungracious, unthankful, malicious, unforgiving, or unloving, grieves Him.
 He is the Spirit of Holiness (Rom. 1:4) so anything unclean, defiling, or degrading, grieves Him.
 He is the Spirit of Wisdom and Revelation (Eph. 1:17) so ignorance, conceit, arrogance and folly grieve Him.

He is the Spirit of Power, Love, and Discipline (2 Tim. 1:7) so that which is barren, fruitless, disorderly, confused, and uncontrolled, grieves Him.
 He is the Spirit of Life (Romans 8:2) so anything that savors of indifference, lukewarmness, spiritual dullness, and deadness, grieves Him.
 He is the Spirit of Glory (1 Peter 4:14) so anything worldly, earthly or fleshly, grieves Him.
 He dwells within us to enable us "to grow up into Christ in all things." (Eph. 4:15).

MIGHTY MUSTANG SHALLOWATER SCHOOLS

Theme of the Week

Unpredictable Indeed!

The subject at hand is boys,
The offspring that creates loud
noise;
Certainly not made of sugar and
spice,
But more akin to the creatures
called mice.

I need not mention the trouble
they cause,
Or the unneeded words that leap
from their jaws;
Everyone knows they're a hopeless case,
It's a good thing that women are still in the race!

These creatures are very well
known,
But—nay! Not for one thing alone.
One never knows what to expect
of their kind,
For with them, consistency is so hard to find.

One night they're loving and
gentle and sweet,
But the next they're so mean you
could stomp on their feet;
Extremely heartbreaking these boys truly are;
A girl can rate second to a beat-up
old car!

Hard headed and stubborn, they
all come on strong,
They seldom will say "Yes", I know I was wrong."

There are days boys are witty and
often cute,
But most of the time, I wish they were mute.

Trying times they usually bring
my way,
But I will have to stop here and say;

"I am awfully glad they're always around,
Because they do make such jolly
good clowns."

by Jean Shipp

Christmas Doors at Shallowater Jr. High

For quite a length of time, many students in the Junior High building were busy cutting,
taping, tracing, and trimming all types of construction paper and gift wrapping paper. This was done to every teacher's door by members of one of the classes that each teacher has in order to compete for the door prize that was given last Wednesday.

As one can see in one of the pictures, Snoopy never fails to appear at Christmas time. He manages to make one of the spotlights each year.

These were two of the doors
that were judged last Wednesday.
The winner will be in next week's issue, along with the picture of the winning door.

All of the doors were beautifully decorated and if all of them could have been rewarded I am sure that all of them would have won a prize.

Modern Day Saint Nick

by Alex Grice

The past few Christmases, Santa Claus has really changed. I guess he's just keeping up with the times.

Back when I was a small boy it was a real treat to get to go to see
"Ole Saint Nicholas" at Lubbock.
He was usually in only a couple of stores, such as Sears, or Penneys.
Unlike today, you'll practically meet him walking down the streets.

Oh yes, I remember him as being such an enormous man.
Probably 6'1", 220 pounds. And hearing that robust "Ho Ho Ho".
Nowadays, Santa Claus is a little dried up person whose voice has hardly changed. But, I guess with the soaring prices of food, they've started rationing at the North Pole.

The way he travels has also come a long way. He used to come in on a sleigh. Now days it's a candy stripe Helicopter and jets loaded down with toys. Some things get better with age, I grant
it, but I wonder about Saint Nick.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

NHS News

by Donna Hardin

The National Honor Society had its monthly meeting on December 5th. The NHS candy sale was such a success at the first home basketball game that we have decided to have another one. All sorts of delicious candy will be made by the NHS members. This candy sale will be on Tuesday, December 17.

Two seniors were selected as the Students of the Month. Ann Boone was chosen because of her many accomplishments this year.
She is president of the pop aquad
and is also a member of FFA, FHA, and FTA. Rusty Lusk is the other student of the month. He plays the cornet in the Mustang band. He made all district in football and now plays basketball.
We congratulate these fine
seniors.

Teacher Spotlight

by Caran Conner

Our teacher this week is one of our hard working coaches. Coach McAdams. This is his second year at SHS as a coach. He is assistant football coach, JV basketball coach and assistant track coach.

His wife's name is Andi and they are the proud parents of a 4 week old baby boy, Chad. He went to high school in Amherst and graduated from North Texas State University. Before coming here he taught in Rockwall for one year.

His favorite hobbies are fishing and collecting coins. We wish his JV Basketball team the best of luck.

Senior Spotlight

by Anita Alvarado

Vicki Roberts is our senior spot for this week. Vicki is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Lawrence Roberts. She is a 12 year veteran. She is a member of FHA, NHS, and plays forward in varsity basketball. She does a tremendous job at this position and always manages to keep her cool.

After graduation she plans to go to work. Vicki's comment is "I've enjoyed this 12 years here."

Congratulations

The All South Plains First
Team and Honorable Mention

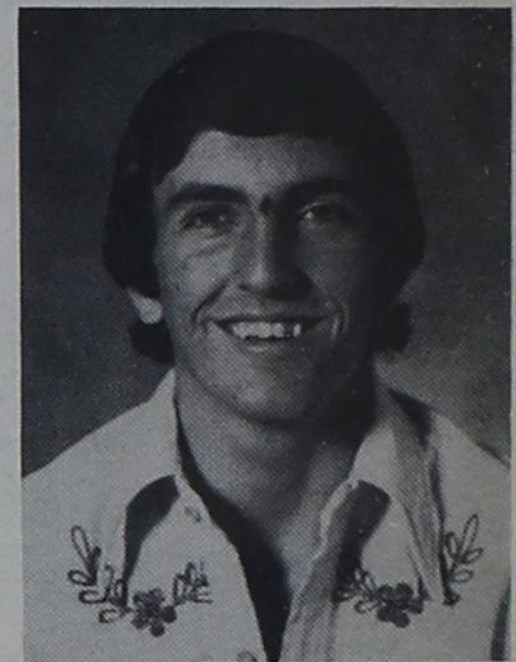

Don L. Grimes

have put three of the SHS Mustangs on their list. One on the First Team and two on the Honorable Mention. Don L.
Grimes, First Team Offensive End
and Honorable Mention Linebacker. Jon Gates, Honorable Mention Offensive Back and Linebacker. Bobby Reeves, Honorable Mention Quarterback.

This is the last year at SHS for these boys, and we would like to thank them for representing our school so well. We are proud of you.

Two New Trophies

The Roosevelt Tournament of last week proved to be quite successful for both the Fillies and the Mustangs.

Our Fillies fought tremendously
throughout the entire tournament. Nonetheless, when they met Olton for the championship battle, their power seemed to drift away. The Olton girls put it all together for a 52-37 win over our Fillies. Still, a second place trophy, was brought home.
Leading scorers were Kim Young with 17 points, Cindy Cowart with 11, and Vicki Roberts with 8.

The Mustangs fought a close battle with Roosevelt to bring home a consolation trophy. If the girls could manage to bring home
a trophy, well, heck they had to win. The boys managed to stay ahead throughout the entire game, all except in the third quarter when they trailed only by one point. Still they ruled the game with a close, tight score of 60-59. Jon Gates led the Mustangs with 29 points. The other two top scorers were Rusty Lusk with 10
and Bobby Reeves with 5 points.

Fillie Spotlight

by Charles Krebbs

My spotlight is on Jeanye Hunter. Jeanye has played basketball for five years. Last year as a sophomore, Jeanye played on varsity, her position is guard. This year Jeanye is a consistent starter and averaging 8 rebounds per game.

Jeanye is very quick and uses
this quickness to her advantage, for grabbing rebounds, and dribbling the ball. Jeanye's comments about the future for the Fillies are "we are a well coached team, with a good chance of winning district."

Paws Prove Fatal

by Janie Serna

Some people just can't walk on their own two "paws"? Yes, paws.
This proved to be one of the faults that the New Deal Lions had while playing the Shallowater Mustang.

The Mustangs managed to stay on their feet except for Jerry Harrison, who was knocked down a couple of times. Oh no, he didn't foul any of the Lions, but the Lions tried their best to get to their basketball goal. However, walking around Jerry took too much time. Thus, they pursued simply to push Jerry out of the way causing fouls for their team.

Coordination and sinking most of the shots that the Mustangs
made, helped to win the game.
Not that it was a tough game, but nonetheless the Lions were trying to do their best. That basketball never seemed to enter the basket when the Lions shot it. It takes that extra "horse sense" to be able to sink the shots. Right guys?

At the beginning of the game,
one of the Lions got carried away
and put his dirty old paw in Rusty

Lusk's left eye. Because of this scratch that he received, Rusty had to leave the game. It would help if a veterinarian could trot himself over to Lion Country to chop those nails off the Lions. I don't think it was done intentionally, but this kept Rusty
out of school for a couple of days.

All the guys got a chance to play; that is, after an outburst
from Mustang Territory, demanding for Daryl and Garry to be placed out on the court. Coach decided that he had better let the guys please their ever loving fans.

Everyone played a great game.
Thanks Jon, Don L., Alex, Jerry,
Bobby, Richard, Luther, Garry,
Daryl, and of course, Coach Williamson, for this tremendous victory. Thanks are also in order for Rusty who would have played a great game if he had been in good condition.

Special thanks to "Tippy", and Steve Connor for their "extra" boost.

If it hadn't been for the above people the score wouldn't have been 61 to 39, but it was!

Moral: No matter how fast a lion can run, his prey will never be a Shallowater Mustang.
