WHAT DO YOU REALLY KNOW ABOUT EGGS?
 Eggs play such a commonplace taken-for-granted role in the life of most every U. S. citizen that many shoppers simply pick up a carton from their grocer's display case with never a thought about size, quality or freshness.

Here are some questions and answers which might prove interesting and at the same time provide up to date and correct information on the buying and storing of eggs.

1. Answer true or false, and then check with the answers provided. A U. S. Grade A Large egg is better than a U. S. Grade A Medium egg.
2. You should never use a dirty or cracked egg in eggnog.
3. To keep their quality, store eggs promptly and large end up in the refrigerator.
4. A U. S. Grade B egg will be just as nutritious as a U. S. Grade A egg.
5. All eggs in a carton marked "Large" are identical in size.
6. Not all cartons marked "Grade A" have been officially graded by the Federal-State Grading Service.
7. Eggs are no good after a week in the refrigerator.
8. If you want to serve poached eggs, U. S. Grade AA or A eggs would be your best choice.
9. Shell color does not affect the nutritive value or quality of an egg.
10. Leftover egg yolks should be covered with cold water before storing in the refrigerator.

Check your answers with those below, and if each correct answer meant a prize of one egg, how big an omelet could you make?

1. False. A large egg is bigger than a medium egg, not better. Size refers to the weight of the egg; the grade refers to the quality.
2. True. Eggs eaten uncooked—as in eggnog—should always be clean and shouldn't be cracked. This is just to provide an extra safeguard against possible contamination by bacteria. Never buy cracked or dirty eggs. USDA-graded eggs will be clean and sound-shelled and will be safe to use for all purposes. If one becomes cracked accidentally, use it only in thoroughly cooked dishes. Don't use dirty eggs for any purpose.
3. True. Keeping eggs large end up will keep the yolk from sticking to the shell and keep their natural quality longer. Keeping them in the refrigerator is essential to keep the egg's natural quality. Get the eggs under refrigeration as soon as possible. Holding them for any length of time in a warm place can result in quality loss.

5. False. If a carton of USDA-graded eggs is labeled "Large," all the eggs together must weigh at least 24 ounces. There may be some slight variation between individual eggs, but rarely should any be smaller than the average for "Large," two ounces per egg. If you find apparent disparity in egg sizes, chances are you'll have some eggs larger than the average marked, not smaller. Here are the minimum weights per dozen for commonly-sold sizes: extra large, 27 ounces; large, 24 ounces; medium, 21 ounces; small, 18 ounces.

6. True. Only egg cartons marked with the official USDA grade shield have been officially graded under the Federal-State grading service. Eggs marked simply "Grade A" are supposed to meet State or local standards for quality which usually are based on Federal standards.

7. False. Eggs will lose some quality (appearance) after a week in the refrigerator, but they will usually still be just as good in taste and in nutritive value. To prevent off-taste, don't store eggs next to cheese, citrus, fish or other aromatic foods.

8. True. U. S. Grade AA and A eggs have high standing yolks and thick whites and won't spread out in the pan. These highest-quality eggs would be best for poaching or frying.

9. True. Shell color is determined by the breed of hen. It does not affect the nutritive value or quality of an egg.

10. True. Leftover egg yolks should be covered with cold water and stored in the refrigerator in a tightly closed container. Use within a day or two. Extra egg whites should also be refrigerated promptly in a tightly closed container and used within a day or two. Don't cover the egg whites with water.

JUDSON WATSONS AND IKE REEDS CELEBRATE 50th ANNIVERSARIES

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Ike Reed

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Judson Watson were honored jointly on Sunday, Feb. 1, in observance of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary.

The couples' children were hosts for the occasion held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reed south of Quitaque. Virgil Watson is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Watson. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Reed are Mrs. J. H. (Elizabeth) McDonald, Mrs. Jay Gowin (Juanita), both of Quitaque; Mrs. Roy Monk (Alma) of Uvalde; E. G. Reed, Quitaque; James Reed, Avant, Okla.; Cecil Reed, Denver City; Leo Reed and George Reed, both of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson were married January 17, 1920 at St. Jo Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Reed were married February 1, 1920, also at Saint Jo. The Watsons have lived in the local community 35 years and the Reeds have lived here 40 years.

The Watsons have four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The Reeds have 26 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

On the day of the anniversary celebration, the two couples and their children greeted the guests as they arrived. The living room featured several potted plants which were gifts. Also, a large gold colored vase with crystal droplets filled with yellow roses and matching candlesticks, a gift of the Reed children, centered an occasional table.

After registering, the guests were shown to the joining bedrooms where each couple had gifts displayed. The Reeds received sheets and pillow cases, pillows, blankets, bathroom sets, towels and wash cloths, pictures, dishes, set of stainless steel flatware, a money tree for a dishwasher flowers, electric percolator and casserole dish, a book, "Leaves of Gold" a card of congratulations from former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

There were 240 guests who participated. Among those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reed, Becky, Molly and David from Avant, Okla., and a friend, Brenda Parcell, also of Avant; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Monk, Royce and Roxanna, Uvalde; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gowin and Douglas of Groom; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnston and Scotty of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reed, Denver City; Mrs. Bertha Reed, Ephrata.

They received telephone calls and telegrams from friends and relatives in California and Texas who were unable to attend. They received a special delivery letter from Jay Naman, President of the Texas Farmers Union. They received cards of congratulation from five states.

Among the items of gifts to the Reeds was an oil painting of Mr. and Mrs. Reed sitting in the buggy leaving home to be married. Their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Leo Reed took an old snapshot and from it painted the picture.

The Watsons received a bed-spread, sheets and pillow cases, blankets, towels, wash cloths, dishes, a ceramic canister set, a set of Stainless Steel flatware, a large mirror, pictures, flowers, a table cloth, window drapes, a card table, photo albums and for each couple, many other items too numerous to mention.

Mrs. Watson wore a corsage of yellow roses and Mrs. Reed wore a corsage of yellow feathered carnations. The men wore boutonnieres of yellow feathered carnations also.

After viewing the gifts, the guests were shown to the dining room where refreshments of cake, punch, nuts and mints were served from a table laid with a white cloth over gold. The cloth was handmade by a niece of Mr. Reed. It was bordered with wedding bells and love birds made of gold sequins, and the wide border was centered with the numerals "50" also made of sequins. The appointments were crystal and silver, with a silver coffee service. Two cakes centered the table. One was a three-layer wedding cake topped with love birds and centered with the numerals "50" and iced in white. The other cake was also tiered and it was iced in gold and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The napkins, white printed in gold and gold printed in black, bore the names Ike and Elva, and Jud and Ida.

Golden punch was served with white cake squares decorated with yellow roses.

TWO GREAT AMERICANS ONE GREAT CAUSE

George Washington and Abraham Lincoln whose birthdays we celebrate this month, were perhaps two of the greatest leaders our country has ever known. Their unflinching belief in absolute freedom inspired them to leadership that started America well on its way to being the greatest country in the world. The things they fought for — the things they knew were right — have given us the freedom we enjoy today. They have instilled in every true American the courage to fight, if necessary, for the ideals and principles that have always made our great United States a leader in peace — a benefactor in war. Others die — but democracy will always live!

and oyster shells

A pearl is a thing of beauty—iridescent—a precious gem. An oyster shell is rather ugly—a remnant of a marine mollusk much esteemed as a delicacy. And yet both are built of identical shell-producing cells.

It is happenstance that causes tiny parasites or grains of sand to penetrate the oyster, severing the shell-producing cells and carrying them deep into the oyster to form perfect pearls.

It is no accident that some men from poor beginnings have become great leaders, statesmen or educators. Others from identical surroundings live out their lives in poverty and despair.

The difference is integrity and a yearning for excellence in every part of life—that love of God that illumines and elevates.

Your church can help you to make the most of your life. As you grow to understand God as a part of any real achievement, strength and vitality and joy will enrich your days.

Aoudad Hunters Battled Elements To Talk Their Game

Aoudad sheep hunters in the Palo Duro Canyon area of the Texas Panhandle needed more than skill and marksmanship this year during the five-day season which ended January 7. They harvested 36 sheep, 28 rams and eight ewes, in weather ranging from five degrees below zero to a high of 31 degrees above.

Dick DeArment, project leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said landowners received 125 aoudad permits, about half of which were issued to hunters, but icy weather and winds up to 30 miles per hour chilled the enthusiasm of some. Snow on the third day of the hunt added to the general discomfort.

One Briscoe County hunter came out with a true trophy for the wall, a big ram with a horn measurement of 30 7/8 inches, a base circumference of 17 3/4 inches, and a field-dressed weight of 202 pounds. Six sheep were taken in Randall County, 13 in Briscoe County, and Armstrong County had a kill of 17 animals.

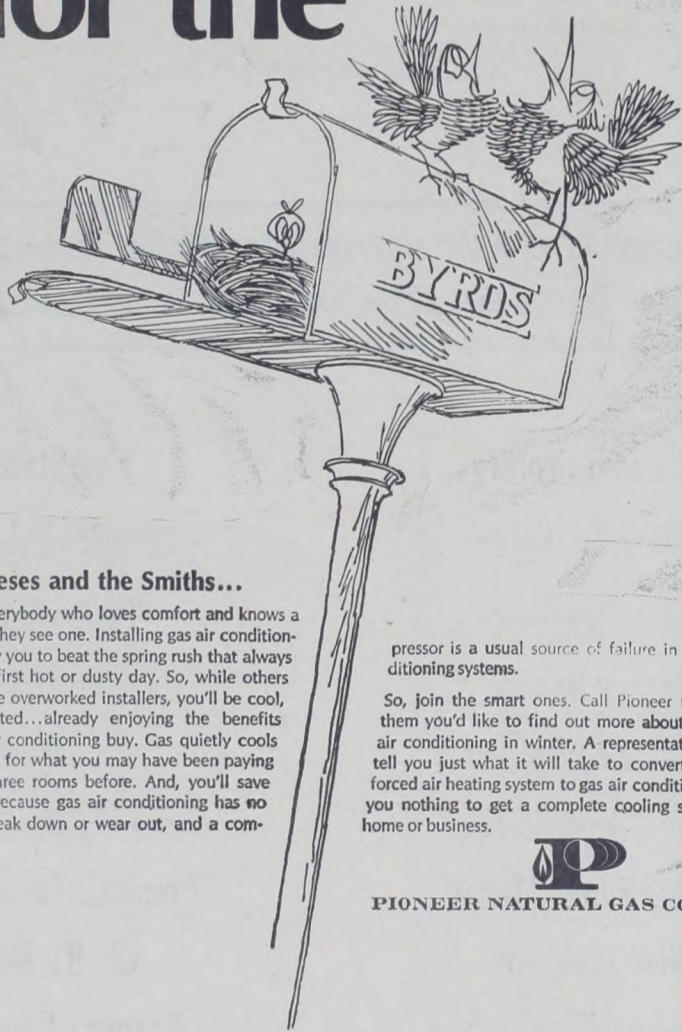

Aoudad sheep, originally from the Atlas Mountains of Africa, aren't the easiest animals to hunt. Hunters saw a total of 225 head, and those who were successful this year averaged 7.9 hours in the field each. A party of three men from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, hunted from sunrise to sunset on each of the five days and went home empty-handed. They said they intended to return next year. Each hunter who bagged a sheep averaged 2.9 shots.

Miles mean little in today's hunting. A sheep hunter came 1600 airline miles from Stamford, Connecticut, and another joined the hunt after flying in from Coral Gables, Florida. DeArment said a few women also participated in the hunt this year.

Aoudads are big animals who prefer the roughest of canyon habitat they can find, and one big ram fell 300 feet from the top of a canyon rim, lodged 150 feet from the bottom of the deep cut, and had to be brought out in quarters.

Biologists estimate the total Palo Duro sheep population at about 600, all offspring from the original 44 stocked by the Department in 1957.

Installing Gas Air Conditioning in the Winter is for the

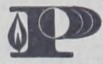

and the Joneses and the Smiths...

and just about everybody who loves comfort and knows a wise move when they see one. Installing gas air conditioning now will allow you to beat the spring rush that always comes with that first hot or dusty day. So, while others are waiting for the overworked installers, you'll be cool, calm and collected...already enjoying the benefits of your winter air conditioning buy. Gas quietly cools your whole house for what you may have been paying to cool two or three rooms before. And, you'll save on repairs, too, because gas air conditioning has no compressor to break down or wear out, and a com-pressor is a usual source of failure in other air conditioning systems.

So, join the smart ones. Call Pioneer today and tell them you'd like to find out more about installing gas air conditioning in winter. A representative will come tell you just what it will take to convert your present forced air heating system to gas air conditioning. It costs you nothing to get a complete cooling survey of your home or business.

Shirttail Sermon

The text for our thinking this week is found in Matthew 4:19 in which Jesus is quoted, "I will make you fishers of men."

There are several things that are important to a fisherman that are also important to those who would be fishermen for Jesus.

First, fishermen have the vision to see where the fish are. The fisherman who does not have this vision will probably waste a lot of time and energy. The one who knows where the fish are likely to be is the one who will bring home a good catch. The Christian who witnesses to his faith and belief in Jesus Christ only in the presence of other Christians is, in a sense, wasting his time and breath for they are not the ones who need Christ.

Second, fishermen have the knowledge to use the right bait. Not all fish will bite the same Christ. No one way is right for every fisherman for Christ nor will every sinner respond to the same witness.

Third, fishermen have the pa-bait. Every fisherman has his favorite fish and he also has his favorite bait for catching that fish. Christians must also know the right way to bring other souls to Jesus to catch the fish. No one has ever just thrown the hook or lure into the water and started pulling out fish. Great patience is demanded of the Christian who would be a fisherman for Jesus Christ. It is sometimes extremely difficult for a sinner to give up his way of life and become a Christian. The Christian must be patient and continue to witness at every opportunity.

FUND FOR WAYLAND STUDENT GOES OVER THE TOP

The concern of hundreds of thousands of persons who have donated coupons, money and trading stamps for the benefit of former Wayland College student Larry Parks apparently has resulted in his having a chance at a kidney transplant, it was indicated by officials at the college last week.

The snowballing campaign for Betty Crocker coupons, trading stamps and cash for Parks, 24, of Circleville, Ohio, specifically had been designated as one to raise funds for a kidney machine for the young man suffering from Bright's Disease. General Mills had indicated that it would supply the funds for the machine provided 600,000 coupons could be gathered and with more than 750,000 counted by Tuesday of last week, the company indicated it would go ahead and pay for the machine, to be used by Parks if needed, or by some other needy person, if not needed by Parks.

Help Lauded

"The thing we'd like to stress at this point is that all of those people who have pitched in to help certainly have not wasted their efforts and donations," said Pul Butler, WBC Dean of Students. "Quite the opposite in fact is true. There is a strong indication that without the campaign and its accompanying publicity, Larry would not have had a chance at a transplant." He explained that the publicity apparently had influenced a change in the thinking of doctors regarding the idea of a transplant.

Butler also said that Parks' minister in Ohio had told him the young man's attitude has been changed and his morale lifted tremendously by the efforts of all those trying to help him.

It was reported Tuesday that Parks' brother has agreed to give a kidney but tests must be run to determine if this is

I'm writing on behalf of my town, Quitaque. I and others are proud of our home town and it hurt our pride when we read that sarcastic report in the Lubbock paper.

Quitaque is a growing town, and believe it or not, Lubbock was once the size of it too. All cities in our nation are part of America, rural and urban. In fact, we're all indirectly working together as a prospering nation. From the article, I received the impression that you were trying to run down our city instead of writing about its good points and advantages. I might add that almost half of Quitaque's population is made up of people who have moved from larger towns seeking a better environment.

I would like to ask you this question. What would a nation be like without its rural communities? I am 13 years old and very proud of my community.

Kim Ham, Box 446, Quitaque. (Dear Kim: Since your name is given to both boys and girls, I am assuming you're a boy. If not, the message is the same. You're right in being proud of your home town and saying so. You're right in believing that rural communities are essential to our country. Incidentally, Sports writer Jim Gintonio had no idea of downgrading Quitaque, only in reflecting its interest in its fine basketball team. Keep punching. The Editor.)
