Supplements Necessary For Cattle in Cold Winter

Cattle graze pastures all year long, but the nutrient composition changes with the seasons, and fall and winter diets are generally low in protein and usually inadequate for beef cattle, says Dr. Larry L. Boleman.

"Once the grass has stopped growing and loses its green lush appearance it becomes coarse and fibrous," Boleman says.

Boleman, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System, says the crude protein content of the grass falls, and the forage becomes harder for cattle to digest.

Animals consuming diets low in protein lose their appetite, develop a rough appearance, become weak, possess lowered resistance to disease and overall growth, reproduction and calf weights are greatly reduced, Boleman adds.

"Some people think cattle can simply eat more to make up the needed nutrients," Boleman says. "Since the grass is slowly digested, consumption is lowered and the animal receives even less nutrients."

If protein is added to this type of diet, digestion will increase, and eventually the animal will eat more.

Protein supplements are available in many types and forms, such as cubes, cakes and liquids. Each will vary in nutrient composition and the producer should be aware of the protein amount.

"Since protein is required for growth and mild production," Boleman says, "the protein requirements for heifers and lactating cows are higher than for dry, pregnant cows."

Boleman says the amount of dry matter (energy), vitamins and protein are all to be considered when a deficiency occurs.

"When energy is low, some grain may be fed along with protein to make up the difference," he says.

Immunization Clinic Slated December 17

Immunization clinics offering vaccines that give protection against several childhood diseases are scheduled for December. Protection is against Polio, Diphtheria, lock jaw (Tetanus), whooping cough (Pertussis), Measles, Rubella, and Mumps.

The clinic will be open from 2-4 p.m. Thursday, December 17 at the Texas Department of Health office at Hall County Court House in Memphis. The Texas Department of Health is charging money to help with the cost of keeping the clinic open. The amount of money charged will be based on family income and size, and the ability to pay.

Candidates Begin Filing December 3

Beginning in 1988, Texas voters will cast their ballots in the primary elections on Tuesday, March 8, approximately two months earlier than in the past two years which necessitates the moving up of other events on the election calendar.

Texas will be joining other states holding the primary elections on March 8th and to be included will be presidential preference voting in both the Republican and Democratic Party primaries.

Candidates will begin filing for offices beginning Thursday, Dec. 3, 1987, with the respective party chairmen. Arville R. Settiff of Turkey is the Hall County Democratic Party County Chairman, and Hall County Clerk Phyllis Becker is seeking information now on who will serve as County Republican Party Chairman.

Filing fees for county-wide offices are $600 and for Precinct offices are $300. Terms of offices expiring, to be filled in the 1988 elections are: 100th Judicial District Judge, 100th Judicial District Attorney, Hall County Sheriff, Hall County Tax Collector, Hall County Pct. No. 1 Commissioner and Hall County Pct. No. 3 Commissioner.

Hall County Clerk Becker urged all candidates to file with her office a designation of campaign treasurer report before doing any political activities such as announcing for office, passing out candidate cards, seeking political contributions, etc. Candidates may serve as their own campaign treasurer if they so desire, she said.

The election calendar of events as announced by Secretary of State Jack M. Rains are as follows:

Dec. 3, 1987 - first day for candidates to file for public office and the office of County party chairman.

Jan. 4, 1988 - Last day for all candidates to file for office. Deadline is 6 p.m. All applications must be received by that deadline.

Friday, Jan. 8 - Last day for a candidate to file an application if a deadline has been extended. Deadline to file a vacancy to fill an unexpired term.

Friday, Jan. 8 - first day to apply for a ballot to be voted by mail.

Friday, Jan. 15 - Last day to draw for positions on the ballot. Last day for county chairman to have drawing for positions on the ballot.

Notice of drawing must be posted on Commissioners Court Bulletin board.

Saturday, Jan. 23 - County clerk begins mailing absentee ballots to be voted by mail, if ballots are available.

Sunday, Feb. 7 - Last day to register to vote in the March 8, 1988 primary.

Wednesday, Feb. 17 - Absentee voting by personal appearance begins.

Tuesday, March 1 - Deadline for receipt of application ballot by mail.

Friday, March 4 - Last day to vote absentee by personal appearance.

Tuesday, March 8 - Election Day

Tuesday, March 8 - Precinct conventions to be held between 7:15 p.m. and 9 p.m. but cannot begin until the last voter has voted.

Friday, March 11 - If run-off election will be held executive committee to conduct ballot (cont. on Page 2)

4-H's Need To Complete Show Cards

4-H Livestock Show families are reminded to come to the Briscoe extension office and complete the Houston-El Paso and Ft. Worth Stock show entry cards if they have not already done so. These cards will be mailed Monday December 7.

Valley Makes Clean Sweep of Basketball Games With Kress

Valley basketball teams had a Varsity two-game sweep over the Kress Kangaroos last Tuesday night.

At the end of the first quarter the Valley girls were trailing, the only time in the game, by 10-9. Melissa Maupin had 3 of the 9 Valley points.

The second quarter, M. Maupin came alive by adding 12 points for Valley, helping the Patriots go into a 33-25 lead on Kress going into halftime.

Kress had a change of pace coming out of halftime with a player making a 3 point shot, the first of three, but Lacy Price took up the slack in the third quarter by giving Valley 8 points. M. Maupin and Paula Scoggins helped with 4 points each ending the third quarter with Valley keeping the lead 49-36.

Both teams added 10 points in the fourth quarter, ending the game with Valley on top 59-46. High scorers for Valley were Melissa with 21 points and Paula with 16 points.

Other scorers for Valley were Lacy Price - 12; Sandy Price - 4; Amy Maupin - 2; Amy Hewett - 2; and Gina Conner - 2.

Varsity boys beat Kress Varsity for the second time in Tuesday night's play.

The first quarter ended with Kress trailing Valley 14-8, the closest they came during the game. Kirk Martin and Eric Scoggins had 4 points each.

Valley started pulling away in the second quarter with the help of Martin adding 4, ending the quarter with a score of 25-12.

Martin came out after half adding 8 points for the Patriots and Derek Mullin added 4. Eric Scoggins tacked on 2 more giving Valley an easy 39-14 lead at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Valley added 15 points, 7 of those coming from Martin, making him high scorer with 23 points. The game ended with Valley winning 54-26.

Other scorers for Valley were Eric Scoggins - 10, Jackie McNary - 8; Derek Mullin - 6; Brandon Smith - 4; Jess Little - 2; Silva - 1.

Valley will be playing in the Lorenzo tournament December 3-4-5.

Notice

The United Methodist Women of Turkey will be having a bake sale Saturday morning December 5th in front of Turkey Auto Supply until all cakes and pies are gone. The sale will begin around 9 a.m.

The money made in this project will go to the Lord's Acre for the Turkey Methodist Church.

Information from the Memphis Democrat about this year's cotton crop for Hall County follows:

The 1987 cotton crop promises to be one of the highest yielding cotton crops in the county's history, despite the damage caused by hail, boll worms and boll weevils.

Some of this year's cotton has proved to yield as high as three bales to the acre, and some of it just isn't any good. Also, 60,000 acres have been taken out of production, with more set aside to meet government program requirements, so Hall County has some 70,000 or less acres actually planted, and some of this has been hailed out.

Also, farmers are discovering that boll weevils have been doing their dirty work, as have boll worms, no doubt brought out in increasing numbers by the wet weather conditions the past 18 months or so and the warm winter last year.

The 1987 cotton harvest is already three weeks ahead of last season as of noon Tuesday, Nov. 24, the eight Hall County gins had ginned 11,342 bales.

These are actual ginned bales, not tagged in the fields in modules or on trailers.

Many gins report running night crews or say they are swamped under at this time. Some farmers started harvesting, and are now waiting for cotton bolls to dry out and have strippers standing by.

One farmer reported his two strippers fill up so fast, taking about 10 minutes to fill a basket, that he is unable to keep up with the module builder. "It's wonderful to see it like this after several years of lean crops," he said.

Residents May Voice Concern About Future of Highways

During the month of February, citizens of Quitaque and surrounding areas will have the opportunity to voice their concerns about the future of surface transportation in Texas and the nation.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, with the cooperation of the Texas Good Roads/Transportation Association and the Texas Highways Users Conference, is sponsoring six forums across the state in February.

Vance L. Castleberry, District Engineer for District 25 with headquarters in Childress, encourages all citizens to be part of the Feb. 17 transportation forum at the Lubbock Plaza Hotel.

The American Association of State Highway Officials and more than 100 cooperating groups nationwide initiated this long-range planning effort, called "Transportation 2020." The program begins with forums held in every state to give citizens the opportunity to voice ideas, suggestions and concerns in a setting where they will be heard by lawmakers at both the federal and state levels.

The Texas forums provide a unique occasion to be part of a nationwide, grassroots planning effort. If unable to attend the forum, you can still make your voice heard by calling Keitha Tiffin at 817-937-2571 before December 10.

Tips to Help You

Here's good news if your hectic holiday schedule leaves you little time to clean house: quick acting products help remove food stains left by children or holiday guests on carpets and upholstery. One way to avoid stains in the first place is to put walk-off mats at all entrances. These will absorb dirt and moisture before they can make it into the house and onto your carpets.

Food stains should be given immediate attention. Solids such as peanut butter can be lifted up with a dull knife or spatula. Liquids should be blotted with paper towels. Then clean the area with a quick-acting stain removal product such as Woolite Spot and Stain Rug Cleaner. For spots on upholstery, first check for colorfastness and then use a cleaner such as Woolite Upholstery Cleaner.

Good news when oil production is discovered anywhere in this low-rolling Plains Country. We hope it expands all over the area. It means increased income for some fortunate landowners and over-all, it means increased valuation for the counties and school districts also. We certainly need something to prop up our ever-dwindling farm and ranch incomes. Enough of it might just bring a few more people back into our area. Anything helps, neighbors!

The story in the Tribune last week about the Bed & Breakfast facility getting recognition could also be important to this part of the world. Many inquiries about this kind of facility are being received by telephone to the small local Chambers of Commerce. They could just be the coming thing if more enterprising folks would get into the act. There are more and more people from the metro areas looking for places to "get away from it all." Maybe those folks appreciate the things we have right under our noses more than we do. Tourism is the biggest industry in the state!

"I can't give you any more credit" said the grocer... "your bill is bigger than it should be now."

"I know it," said the customer. "Just make it what it should be and I'll pay it right now!"

Hear about the bank robber who failed in his first attempt at robbing the bank? He sawed off the wrong end of his shotgun!

"Daddy don't mind me going out with you," said the teenager to her long-haired boy friend. "He thinks you are a girl!"

The service station owner sent his helper to fix a flat tire for his doctor. "Just diagnose it," he said, "as flatuency of the perimeter, and charge him accordingly!"

Caprock Pete says it's nice when you can make both ends meet, but he sometimes wishes that it would overlap once in awhile!

Condemned golfer to the hangman: "Do you mind if I take a couple of practice swings?!"

Overheard at a cocktail party. "He not only lied to me about his yacht... but he made me row!"

Then there was this lady who went to the supermarket with her hair all up in rollers and a young man couldn't seem to take his eyes off of her. . . finally he asked "Ma'am, what stations can you pick up on that?!"

Church bulletin: "Next Sunday the Pastor will preach a sermon on skiing on the Sabbath" or, "are our young women back-sliding on their weekends?"

If you had a hundred dollars in the bank twenty years ago drawing interest . . . it would now amount to over two hundred dollars and you could buy almost half as much now as you could have then!

Wife to husband . . . "I didn't say there were not two sides to every story . . . I just said I'm not listening to yours!"

A down-and-outer watched a successful guy whizz by in a new car and said, "There but for me, go I."

That's -30- for this time, remember, the town gossip is known as a communications tattletale!

CARD OF THANKS

Dear Friends,
Thank you for the many acts of kindness and love that was bestowed on us at the passing of our Uncle Clyde. The delicious food, the flowers, cards, calls and visits were very much appreciated. A special thanks to Bro. Elgin and Bro. J. D. for the lovely services.

The nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews of Clyde Morrison

26-1tp

Thanks seems to be inadequate for your prayers and concerns, especially for the food you have brought to my home, there is no way to express my feelings to every ne of you. Your calls and visits have been a source of encouragement and evidence of your loving care. God bless you all.

Guy Smith
