New higher interest rate on U.S. Savings Bonds.

Now U.S. Savings Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity.

Here's how it works: The higher interest rate applies to all new Bonds purchased since December 1, 1973, raising their rate from 5½% to 6% when held to maturity. And the maturity period on Series E Bonds is shorter, too. Now E Bonds mature in 5 years, with a first-year rate of 4½%.

Series H Bonds, with a 10-year maturity, will earn 5% the first year, 5.8% for the next four years, and 6½% for the last five years. This gives you an average 6% yield over the 10-year period.

It works for Bonds you now hold, too. There's no reason to redeem your older Bonds to buy new ones.

Their yield has improved, too.

All outstanding E Bonds will receive a ½% increase in yield for each semiannual interest period, beginning on or after December 1, 1973, payable upon redemption. This also applies to any Freedom Shares you may still hold.

All outstanding H Bonds will receive a ½% yield increase for each semiannual interest period, beginning on or after December 1, 1973. This is payable in the form of increased semiannual interest payments.

It all works to your advantage. Now, more than ever, it makes sense to buy higher-paying U.S. Savings Bonds and hold them to maturity or beyond.

Sign up now to buy Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or buy them where you bank.

Take stock in America. It's in your interest.

BERMUDA: Sunny Answer To The Energy Crisis

NEW YORK (ED)—There are many ways to deal with the energy crisis in terms of surviving the cold winter. Curling up by the fire and counting the days until summer. Buying a fur coat. Stocking up on cans of soup to serve steaming hot. But perhaps one of the most enjoyable is following the sun.

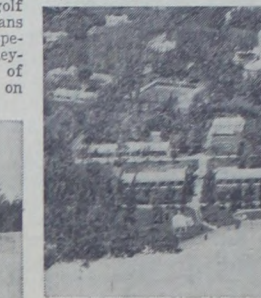

There was a time when season rates made excursions to sunshine islands prohibitively expensive. The colder it was here, and the warmer it was there, the higher the hotel rates. But now the concept of package tours has changed all that. Special plans make it possible to vacation in the sun during the winter without spending a fortune.

Some hotels have special packages that cater to a particular interest such as golf or tennis. Others have plans that are designed for a specific group such as honeymooners. A third type of package rate is based on length of stay.

There's so much to do at the Elbow Beach: golf, tennis, water sports, nightlife and shopping attract visitors.

Guests at The Elbow Beach Surf Club in Bermuda can take advantage of the Bermuda Commuter Holiday package which includes free tennis, complimentary beach equipment, and an invitation to a rum swizzle party, (a mixer to help guests get acquainted). Besides a full breakfast and 4 course dinner, a traditional English tea is served in the afternoon.

In addition, The Heavenly Honeymoon Holiday package pampers newlyweds with complimentary cover charges for the hotel's night club, an invitation to a champagne party, an appointment at the hotel's beauty salon, honeymoon souvenirs and a gift voucher. Accommodations are in air-conditioned rooms and both Rendezvous Plans are reasonably priced.

Bermuda's Elbow Beach Surf Club offers a bit of Britain in a tropical setting. This hotel combines the best of both worlds. Special package rates allow for inexpensive vacations.

Bicycling and motorcycling are great ways to explore the Bermudian landscape and historic sightseeing spots.

Although the fuel supply is dwindling up north, the sunshine is limitless in Bermuda. It is the ideal winter retreat complete with pink sands, turquoise water and easy lifestyle. But more important during the era of the devalued dollar it's great to be able to choose economical package rates to suit every vacationer's personality and pocketbook.

Japanese Mandarin Oranges/Chicken: Economical and Easy

NEW YORK (ED) — The old promise of "a chicken in every pot" has become an American reality. In fact, chicken weighs in as the least expensive and best of the dollar values for protein needs. An added plus is chicken's terrific versatility; barbecued, baked, fried, fricasseed, boiled, broiled, roasted or stewed, chicken can be served up numerous times during the week without groans from the family.

Chicken takes naturally to a series of exotic sauces or accompaniments. Wide-ranging chicken recipes include Italy's parmesan, saucily spiced with tomatoes and cheese, France's bourgogne, liberally doused with wine, and even Mexico's mole, a blending of spiced sauce that leans heavily on grated chocolate.

But, perhaps chicken's best partnership is with fruit. Accompanied by cranberry relish, stuffed apricots, or surrounded by broiled peach halves, the flavor of chicken reaches its zenith. The Japanese, who know the merits of a good idea when they taste one, outdo themselves when it comes to chicken: they serve it Japanese Mandarin Style.

Subtly soy sauced, gingered and topped off with tangy Canned Japanese Mandarin Oranges, chicken becomes a gourmet feast. And it's so easy. The real "convenience" ingredients are the sections of Canned Japanese Mandarin Oranges which come, ready to use, right out of the can. They're seedless, rindless and uniform in size so they garnish your bird attractively as well. To try this Oriental treat, here's how:

- CHICKEN JAPANESE MANDARIN STYLE
- 1 broiler-fryer (about 3 lbs.) cut up
  - 3 tablespoons soy sauce
  - 1/2 cup salad oil
  - 1 teaspoon ginger
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
  - 1 medium onion, minced
  - Flour
  - 2 cans (11 oz. each) Japanese Mandarin Oranges
- Spread the chicken pieces in a shallow pan. Mix the soy sauce, 3 tablespoons oil, seasonings and minced onion. Pour this mixture over chicken and let stand in the refrigerator for about 2 hours. Turn the chicken pieces once or twice in the marinade while standing. Drain the chicken, reserving the marinade. Roll the chicken pieces in flour until well coated. Heat the remaining oil and brown the chicken pieces on all sides. Drain off any oil remaining in pan. Combine the juice from the Mandarin orange segments with the reserved marinade and pour over chicken. Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350°, 30 minutes. Remove cover and add Mandarin orange segments. Return, uncovered, to oven for 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

BREAD COSTS EXPLAINED

Consumers deserve an explanation on the costs that make up the price of bread, contends a Texas A&M University agricultural economist.

Looking at a 47-cent pound-and-a-half loaf, here's the cost breakdown: Farmer, 8.5 cents; miller, 2.5 cents; baker, 28 cents; retailer, 8 cents. The baker's cost includes such items as profit, transportation, advertising, overhead and packaging. The pound-and-a-half loaf contains a little less than a pound of wheat. For this loaf to cost $1 as some bakers have recently speculated, the price of wheat to the farmer would have to jump more than 60 cents, to about $30 a bushel, compared to a current price of $4.58 a bushel.

Congressmen cannot be arrested for traffic violation.

FALL FERTILIZER USE UP

Texas farmers used a lot more fertilizer last fall than in previous years, according to a soil chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Usage during the last half of 1973 was up 67 percent compared to the same period in 1972.

The energy crisis which has curtailed fertilizer production, uncertainty about prices and other factors persuaded farmers to put down their fertilizer early. Present fertilizer supplies are tight as inventories have not increased much over the winter months. If spring fertilizer use is the same as in past years, the farm fertilizer volume will be up about one-half million tons for the July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974 period compared to the same period a year ago.

Atomic heart pacemaker . . .
Three years ago, Russell V. Lee, M.D., of Palo Alto, California died — but only for a few seconds. The 75-year-old doctor's heart stopped momentarily while seating himself in front of the TV. Fortunate for this elder statesman of American medicine, he regained consciousness and eventually returned to full health with the assistance of an American-made nuclear pacemaker, a mechanical device that keeps the heart functioning properly.

Dr. Lee is one of approximately 70 heart patients who have volunteered to test these first American-made nuclear models. (A battery-operated model is already being used on some 60,000 to 75,000 Americans).

The nuclear pacemaker, a 1 1/4 x 2 x 2 3/8-inch, 4-ounce device, is usually implanted in the chest area just below the skin with electrode wires running from the device to the heart muscle. These wires are charged with electrical current to stimulate contraction of the heart. Pacemakers are used only in persons suffering from cardiac defects in which normal nerve impulses fail to reach the heart muscle. They must be replaced every few years — 2 or 3 years for the battery-operated model and 10 years for the nuclear model.

These first clinical trials on humans, which began last April 9, brought to fruition a 10-year, $5.5 million research project involving the Atomic Energy Commission, the National Heart and Lung Institute, Arco Nuclear Company, and Raytheon Electronics. If all goes well with the tests, the atomic-powered, life-maintaining device will be available for clinical use within two years.

Tight-girdle syndrome . . . Wearing a girdle can cause organ displacement, reports a New England doctor.

Paul Dudley White, M.D., lists three symptoms of what he terms "The tight-girdle syndrome": an uncommonly vigorous pulsation in the neck; and upward displacement of the diaphragm, stomach, and esophagus; and displacement of the heart (pushed upward by the diaphragm) with a decrease in space for the function of the lungs and heart.

What should you do about it? Loosen the girdle; it has worked in all cases, says Dr. White.

BIGNESS IN CATTLE FEEDING

Cattle feeding in Texas continues to become more concentrated in the larger feedlots, reports a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Of the 1,533 feeding operations in the state in 1973, only 233 had a one-time capacity of 1,000 head or more, and these accounted for 98 percent of all the cattle fed in Texas. There were 66 super-large feedlots—those with a capacity of 16,000 head or more—which accounted for 76 percent of all the cattle fed in the state.

TRY A MINI-GARDEN

A "mini-garden", or growing vegetables in containers, is just the thing for apartment dwellers and others who don't have enough space for a full-fledged garden, says a vegetable specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Vegetables suitable for growing in containers include tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, green onions, lettuce, squash, radishes, parsley and herbs. Containers can be placed on a window sill, patio, balcony or doorstep—anywhere they will receive plenty of sunlight. Container vegetables do best in a synthetic soil mixture.

Vegetative Work Complete On Structure No. Four

Vegetation work is now complete on floodwater retarding structure number 4 which is on Bitter Creek of the Lakeview Watershed.

David Seitz of the Soil Conservation Service gave the following resume of the completed job.

Selection of the proper methods and grasses was made locally by Henry Gregory and Douglas E.

Cunningham. After the selection was made, the Soil Conservation Service State Office in Temple advertised for bids on the job.

Edwin Buchmayer of Taylor, Texas was the low bidder with a bid of $275.00 per acre on the 46.3 acres. Royce Frisbie was the Soil Conservation Service Vegetation Inspector for the job.

Equipment was moved onto the site on February 7 this year. The first operation was the application of fertilizer. Forty pounds of actual nitrogen and thirty pounds of actual phosphate was applied per acre. Then plowing began on the spillway and the steep slopes of the dam. The area was chiseled then disked to prepare a good seedbed and to allow anchoring of a mulch litter.

The next operation was the blowing on of 2½ tons per acre of Weeping lovegrass hay for a mulch litter. The mulch was uncovered about two inches into the soft soil by use of a mulch tiller, which is a dull disk type plow with a flat rather than a concave disk. The entire area was then drilled to a native grass mixture. Grasses selected were: El Reno Sideoats Grama, Blue Grama, Caucasian Bluestem, Buffalograss, Western Wheatgrass and Green Sprangletop. After drilling the grass the area was packed with a cultipacker to firm the seedbed.

The seeding job was completed on March 6, 1974. The next item for this job will be the irrigating of the newly seeded area.

JACOBS IS OUTSTANDING JUNIOR OFFICER OF THE YEAR

DAYTON, Ohio—U. S. Air Force Captain Grady L. Jacobs, son of Mrs. Letha M. Jacobs of Quitaque, has been named Outstanding Junior Officer of the Year at the Air Force Institute of Technology, Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Captain Jacobs was selected for his leadership, devotion to duty and professional performance. He is a course director in the School of Systems and Logistics.

A 1959 graduate of Quitaque High School, the captain received his B. S. degree in business administration in 1966 from Colorado State University. He was named a distinguished military graduate and commissioned upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Texas. Captain Jacobs also holds an M.B.A. degree from the University of Southern California and is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma.

His wife, Velma, is the daughter of Mrs. Ray Ferguson of 1621 23rd, Lubbock, Texas.

GARDENING SEASON

Home gardens are going in throughout Texas. For a successful garden, select a well-drained, fertile site that receives plenty of sunlight, says a vegetable specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Proper seedbed preparation and variety selection are also important. Sand, organic matter and gypsum can be used to improve tight clay soils. Use transplants to help get a garden off to a head start. Regular watering is essential, along with controlling weeds, insects and diseases.

County Agent Is Up-Dating Hunting Lease Lists

In an effort to get an updated list of farmers and ranchers who are willing to lease rights for hunting, the Hall County Extension Agent, Warren Mitchell, is asking interested persons to send or bring the following information to the County Extension office:

- (1) Number of acres available for lease
  - (2) Location of land
  - (3) Type of cover on land
  - (4) Game available
  - (5) Price per acre for lease
- Farmers and ranchers in the area have been leasing for 50c per acre and up depending on type of cover, acreage and population of wildlife.

The list will be distributed to the Chamber of Commerce office, ASCS office and County Extension office. Mr. Jim Ed Wines, manager of Memphis Chamber of Commerce, has agreed to serve as contact man for obtaining hunting lease rights.

Sod House Survey: Have You A Sod House Heritage?

Did you ever live in a sod house, a dugout, or an adobe building, or were you born in one? Did you ever teach school, attend school or church services in such a building, or help build one? Or are you a child or perhaps a grandchild of a former pioneer sod house dweller or builder?

If you can answer "yes" to any of these questions, the Sod House Society of America, with headquarters at Colby, Kansas, would like to hear from you. The unique society is making a survey and census of people who have had any kind of personal experience with sod structures, including descendants of such persons. Sod houses, dugouts, part sod, and adobe buildings were once common in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

All former sod dwellers and descendants of a family that can claim a part of the sod house heritage during the pioneer settlement era of North America, or in more recent times, will be listed by the society in a permanent

To make this survey a success, information is needed from people in all parts of North America. the will of God. To have peace in our life we must be in the will of God. To do this we have to have faith. Faith! Faith in God. When our faith is in God, we can know that He does watch over us. In everything that we do, or think, or say. Through faith Jesus saves us. It takes the same faith to know that God is always with us.

My Bible says that through trust in God we shall be as Mount Zion. We shall never be removed, but shall abide forever. The Holy Bible also says that we are the same as Jerusalem. The mountains that surround this great city protect it. This is the way God is with us. He is round about us in every way.

Peace shall be with us forever through this protection of God and his son Jesus Christ. So when things get bad and life seems too rough to live remember these scriptures. Psalms Chap. 125, verse 1-5. All of the answers that you

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hubbard and girls of Fort Worth visited in the Pierce White home Sunday afternoon. The Hubbards had been to a funeral of the stepson of his sister in Littlefield. The account of the tragic accident was in the Amarillo paper last week. Somehow the young man was moving the automatic sprinkler on the field, and, in the high wind, got caught in the cogs of the sprinkler and it dragged him to death. The coroner approximated the time to be about five hours he was drug. No one knows just how it happened but they thought it was probably because of the high wind.

While waiting for a bus on New York's Fifth Avenue, I noticed a woman looking another over from head to toe. When she finally completed her appraisal, the victim smiled and asked cheerfully "Well—what's the verdict?"

A tourist was being taken for his first New York taxi ride. The cabby wheeled wildly in and out of traffic, honking his horn and cursing other drivers. Suddenly a pedestrian stepped off the curb against the light and the cabby slammed on the brakes to miss him. Apparently figuring such unusual courtesy called for an explanation, he turned around to the passenger and said: "If you hit 'em, you gotta fill out a report."

Entertaining three applicants for a choice job, Thomas Edison based his choice on the results of the test. The three were seated in a circle facing each other. Each was told that either a black or a white dot was to be placed on his forehead.

ALL 3 DOTS WERE BLACK! At a signal, each was to begin tapping on the table if he saw a black dot on any forehead, and to stop tapping only if he could determine the color of the dot on his own forehead. After a few moments one stopped. He correctly had determined his was black. How did he know!

Alfalfa Weevil Found In Area

The alfalfa weevil, which was first detected in Texas in four northeastern counties in April 1968, has now spread to the High Plains of Texas, says County Extension Agent Jimmy Vanstorty. Specimens were identified in 1973 from Briscoe, Swisher, Hale and Lamb counties, he said.

The rate of spread in other states has been from 50 to 100 miles each year. It was expected last year that at this rate the alfalfa weevil would be found in area al-other 4-H projects.

alfalfa fields in the 1974 crop season, Vanstorty said.

The adult alfalfa weevil is a snout beetle about 3/16 inch long, and at first is a light brown with a broad, dark stripe running about halfway down the back from the head. As the weevil grows older, it becomes uniformly dark brown or almost black, Vanstorty explained.

Eggs are bright lemon yellow. Larvae are approximately 1/20th inch long and are cream colored when newly hatched, but turn light green with a white stripe. Pupae are concealed in a white cocoon and are usually attached to dead leaves on the lower one-third of the plant. Adults emerge from pupae in one to two weeks, notes Vanstorty.

The first crop of alfalfa is damaged most by the larvae of the alfalfa weevil, he added, which appears in early spring and is most numerous from the time the plants are about six inches in height until they reach early flower bud stage of development. An alfalfa field damaged by the weevil appears greenish-gray at first, but damaged leaves dry rapidly and the field takes on a grayish to whitish cast.

In addition to destroying the first crop, larvae may crawl to the new shoots of the second crop and continue feeding, thus retarding new plant growth and reducing the second crop, Vanstorty pointed out. Once a field of alfalfa becomes infested with the alfalfa weevil, damage usually occurs year after year. For control, most states recommend that farmers follow approved cultural practices in order that a dense, vigorous growth will be produced. The first crop should be cut when most of the plants are in the bud stage with the cutting as clean and close as possible to deprive the larvae of food and shelter. Exposure of the larvae to the sun is usually fatal.

Some insecticides effectively control the alfalfa weevil, he said. Application of insecticides should begin when 25-30 percent of the alfalfa tips in the field show feeding damage. Twenty-five or more larvae per square foot generally is considered to be an economically damaging infestation.

Insecticides can be applied either by air or ground equipment. Application rates should be 15 to 20 gallons of spray per acre with ground equipment, and about two gallons of spray if application is made by airplane, Vanstorty advised. For further information concerning the alfalfa weevil, producers should contact the County Extension Agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ebbs and Mrs. Olive Owens spent Saturday and Sunday night at the home of Mrs. Owens. They were guests for supper and ice cream at the Gaston Owens home Saturday night.

Mrs. Owens returned to Plainview and Mrs. Ebbs remained to spend a few days with her but Mrs. Owens got ill and had to remain at the home Sunday night. Mrs. Ebbs came home with the Gaston Owens and she and Gaston went back Monday morning to take their mother to the doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brunson of Kress spent Sunday visiting his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Brunson and Mary.

James (Butch) McBee, jr. re-entered Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Saturday. He is in unit K, and the family is asking for cards of cheer for him. He has been ill for quite some time. If you don't know the young man, send him a cheerful card anyway.

Mrs. N. G. Smith of Amarillo is visiting her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Kimbell, this week. Other visitors are Mrs. Kimbell's sister, Mrs. Ruby Blumel, and her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hanson, all of Battle Mountain, Wyoming.

The Gaston Owens attended the Easter Cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," presented at the First Baptist Church in Plainview Sunday night. It was a wonderful presentation, with a great amount of musical and drama talent. This is the third presentation in the history of the church. It has been several years since the last one, but this one was well worth the drive and the late hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Brunson drove to Lubbock Sunday and got their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Mike (Debbie) Bloxom and Dana who arrived there by plane. Mrs. Bloxom and new daughter plan to spend the week, then they will be joined by their father and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter have all four of their grandchildren, Scott, Todd, Kelley and Layne Hedrick, to spend the week with them. The children are on Spring vacation.

Mrs. W. E. Morrison of Quitaque returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Birt Lane to Plainview Wednesday of last week and visited her daughters until Saturday. On Saturday, all three of the girls, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Hubert Settiff and Mrs. Lawrence Bedwell, brought their mother home and all of them attended the funeral services in Turkey for U. F. Coker, sr.

Earl Cantwell of Rock Creek Church of Christ spoke at the Quitaque Church of Christ Sunday. He was a guest for lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Buster Chadwick.

It's a new Land Bank
serving a new agriculture in new ways

Over the next ten years, agriculture will require a minimum of $80 billion in new financing to meet unprecedented changes and challenges. Because there is a Federal Land Bank—created to insure an abundance of capital at reasonable rates—you can have more confidence this need for credit will be met.

The Land Bank will continue to obtain loan funds in the nation's money markets on the very best terms it can. It will continue to make financing available to farmers and ranchers at reasonable cost. And with increased flexibility now permitted by the Farm Credit Act, it will help more people in more ways.

Today, more than ever, you should understand the operation of your Federal Land Bank. If you are not an Association member, let's get acquainted. If you are a member, let's get better acquainted. Let's work together... to build a secure place for you and your family in a viable, prosperous agriculture.

COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Community Improvement Program continues to make strides in "helping rural communities to help themselves." It is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the state's investor-owned electric utilities companies.

This year 191 communities representing 75 counties have enrolled in the program, according to a community improvement specialist for the Extension Service. A total of 572 communities conducted some form of organized activities during 1973. Almost 1,000 have community centers for holding organized activities. More than 700 leadership training meetings were also held last year involving some 3,000 people.

Monrovia, Liberia, is named for U. S. President James Monroe.

Glenna Cotten of Lubbock spent the weekend in Turkey visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cotten and Juana and with Mrs. Derrel Fuston and girls.

Sicilian Salad

Salad goes with so many meals that it's a shame not to have a repertoire of recipes for various occasions. Any menu that features Italian food would be even better with Sicilian Salad.

- 1 head Romaine lettuce, washed and torn into bite-size pieces
- 1 can (16 oz.) mushroom stems & pieces, drained
- 1 cup chopped sweet pickles
- 4 stalks celery, diced
- 1 can (12 oz.) Progresso piccalilli peppers
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1/2 cup white vinegar
- 12 flat anchovy fillets, washed free of salt
- 2 Tbsps. tiny capers
- 12 stuffed Manzanilla olives salt and pepper

Toss lettuce, mushrooms, chopped pickles, celery and piccalilli peppers with oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Top with anchovies, capers, olives. Serves 6.

Macaroni Salad? Think Italian!

Nobody knows more than an Italian cook about preparing pasta in family-pleasing fashion. One Italian favorite is this macaroni and pepper salad.

- 1/2 lb. elbow macaroni
- 1 jar (7 1/4 oz.) Progresso sweet fried peppers
- 1 clove garlic, mashed
- 2 tps. olive oil
- 1 tsp. vinegar
- salt and pepper
- 1 medium onion, sliced into rings
- grated Romano cheese

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Combine with undrained sweet fried peppers. Add garlic, olive oil, vinegar, salt and pepper & toss well. Arrange onion rings on top and sprinkle liberally with grated cheese. Serves 4-6.

Mrs. Derrell Fuston and girls are in Turkey visiting for a week. Derrell plans to come after them on the weekend.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Diabetes: In The Top 10
NEW YORK (ED) - Nearly four million Americans have diabetes - one of this country's top ten killers. But only half of these people are aware that they are diabetic. If left unchecked, diabetes may lead to heart disease and blindness.

Diabetes is a condition in which the body cannot convert carbohydrates into energy because of malfunctioning of a body substance called insulin.

Who are the most likely candidates? Information supplied by The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States indicates that although anyone may become a diabetic, certain people are more prone than others. Women are more likely to develop diabetes than men - in fact, two out of every three diabetics are women. Heredity plays a strong role in diabetes. Studies show that diabetes' relatives are five times as susceptible as other people. People who are overweight run a greater risk of becoming diabetic. And diabetes usually develops after the age of forty.

What are the symptoms to watch for? The most common signs are excessive hunger or thirst, increased urination and easy tiring. Other danger signals include vision problems, intense itching, pain in fingers and toes, slow healing of cuts and bruises, and drowsiness.

There's only one reliable way to determine whether you are - or may become - diabetic. Consult your doctor and take a test for diabetes. It is easy to detect and if diagnosed early, can be easily controlled. Have regular check-ups. Remember, your good health begins with you.
