The Turkey F.F.A. Chapter met October 4, and after the opening ceremony the girls revealed their Secret Sisters and exchanged gifts.

We then had our business meeting to decide how to raise money and it was decided to sell sandwiches at the ballgames. A committee was appointed to take care of this. The program for the night was Freshman Initiation. New members of the chapter include Tanya Lowry, Debra Gregson, Rachel Campos and Beta Carter.

After the meeting was adjourned, we were served refreshments.

We want to thank Peggy Fuston and Vicky Ham for making the cake and Charmaine Fuston for making the punch.

tember 26, 1971. The Reeves are former residents of Quitaque.

The couple and their children greeted the relatives and friends who called between the hours of 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. They were served a beautiful three tiered cake decorated in white and blue, the couple's chosen colors, with punch and coffee. The table was laid reported by Mrs. Odis Reagan. Mr. and Mrs. Odis Reagan and Eva Gayle left Quitaque Thursday, September 23, to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Harmon and Jon David in Markham, Virginia, arriving at the Harmon home about 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, September 25.

REAGANS ENJOY TRIP

We drove across Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and then across Virginia. We had never been this way, and the country is very beautiful (not as pretty as Quitaque to us when we arrived back home).

Of course, we went sight-seeing along the way. We went to Luray Caverns, which is located about 20 miles from the Rex Harmon's home. By chance we telephoned around and located the Rev. and Mrs. Luther Foster, former residents of Quitaque. He pastored the Assembly of God Church here in 1957. We had not seen them in the 14 years since they left Quitaque. Their home is about 40 miles from the Harmon's and they came over on Sunday night to visit us. Mr. Foster teaches school in Washington, D. C. and his wife, Betty, works in that city also.

On Monday we left early in the morning to see some of the sights in Washington, D. C. Rex drove us by the base where he is stationed. We looked it over, and all around the base is a beautiful view, with hills, trees, grass and lakes. There is a lake in front of the Harmon's very interesting to us and we re-home and Rex spends some of his spare time there fishing.

We drove on into Washington, taking the Arlington Tour, past Lincoln Memorial, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, saw the guards changing shifts at the Tomb. We went inside and all through the Curtis-Lee Mansion, then through the Arlington Cemetery, to Kennedy's grave. This was very interesting, meaning more to see it in person than just hearing it on the news.

Leaving there, we went to the White House, taking the regular tour inside the U. S. Capitol Building. We were supposed to sit in on Congress in Session, but we arrived too late and only had time to sit down, as they had already adjourned.

We took a tour through the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which the men enjoyed most of their trip. We went through the Smithsonian Institute where we saw statues of all the Presidents' wives in full size, wearing their inaugural gowns. (The ladies enjoyed this part of the trip more than all the rest.) We rode to the top, about 600 feet, which takes about 70 seconds on the elevator. We saw Vice-President Spiro T. Agnew in person while we were touring the Smithsonian.

These points of interest were very interesting to us and we re-home and Rex spends some of his spare time there fishing.

We arrived back home one week later, Thursday, September 30, having traveled 1600 miles. Needless to say, we did enjoy our trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Foster of Amarillo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Anderson Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lanham spent last week in Sterling City with their granddaughter, Nancy Kaiser, while the parents spent four days in Trinidad, Colorado. The Jake Kaisers returned to their home and their parents visited the rest of the week with them.
