important questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin.

It will be the annual acreage survey and many farmers in Briscoe County will be included in the 40,000. The information derived from the replies will be the basis for the official estimates of crop acreage for the State of Texas and for each county.

Cary D. Palmer, state statistician for the Texas Reporting Service, emphasizes the importance of getting back just as many of the 40,000 questionnaires as possible so that each county will be well represented. Accurate estimates are of the greatest importance to farmers in planting production and marketing and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture, Palmer adds.

The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimate for each county because Texas covers such a wide area, state totals alone do not provide adequate information on our most basic industry; hence, the need for county information. The program is a cooperative effort of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

All farmers in the county who receive the questionnaire are urged to fill it out accurately and completely and return it as soon as possible to the Reporting Service.
