Wheat Crop Fared Well

The 1993 Briscoe County wheat crop fared well despite hot dry spring weather.

Most of the test weights and yield across the county were average for the year. There were scattered reports of outstanding yields but the average was lowered due to wheat that suffered from hot dry windy weather that brought down test weights.

Traditionally prices fall during harvest due to futures speculations in Kansas City and Chicago. Some wheat was grazed out or hayed in the county which can serve as an alternative to the lower prices for grain.

Until U.S. exports and consumption exceed production, it can be safe to say that wheat will be a low profit crop to produce in the future.

THEN & NOW!

by Eunice McFall

This time last week, it was a very dry town here in Quitauque but as of last night the rains came. At least it came in the city limits and for a few miles around town. The moisture was good but the hail and high winds that accompanied it was not so good. Some of the farmers around town received a good three inches of rain. Others received the rain but also got enough hail to wipe out their crops. A few of the farmers were only slightly damaged with the hail but then there was also a lot of washing away of crops and land.

I had been out of town and as I returned about 8 p.m. the water was still rushing over the road south of town between Gasoline and the cemetery. The ditches were filled with white foamed water that looked as if you had taken an egg beater and whipped a froth on top of a bowl of cream, except it was a dirty white not the white white of whipped cream. One lady described it to me as a flash flood!

Turkey, I understand only got a shower. It rained off and on the remainder of the night but only two tenths were received here in the town of Quitauque. Flomot only received a small shower also.

Several fires were reported being set by lightning. No major damage was reported because of the fires. We must continue to be very watchful because of the dry grass that surrounds our area when we do anything with fire, whether it be a barbecue, firecrackers, or a trash fire. It is quite easy for a spark to jump out to that dry grass and before you can catch your breath there goes a grass fire. This is especially true if there happens to be some of the high winds that we have had recently.

So let's be thankful for our nice moisture and also be thankful that there was not any more damage than there was and continue to be cautious where fire is concerned.

will be the speaker for the event.

The Three-Quarter Band of Tulia will play for the dance held at the Compress beginning at 9:00 p.m.

Buffalo Flat Hold Reunion

The Buffalo Flat Reunion will take place on Sunday, July 18, 1993 at the Senior Citizens Room in Turkey.

All former students, teachers and residents of Buffalo Flat are asked to make plans to attend the reunion. Visitors are welcome to attend also.

No Smoking Accepted In Courthouse

The Briscoe County Commissioner's Court has adopted a restricted smoking policy for the County Courthouse. Under the new policy, each County Official will set smoking rules for their individual offices. Smoking will be prohibited in all other areas of the Courthouse.

Solve Summer Boredom

by Ronda Alexander

In the midst of summer, many parents are faced with the old "I'm bored!" statement from their children. One suggestion is for them to read something. Although this is a good idea, just suggesting it is usually not enough to produce results. Parents may have to do a little work to get their children to read. The reward for the effort is more that just filling a few empty hours. It can help to introduce children to a new way of enjoying life and also help their education.

There are a variety of ways to encourage children to read. One is to practice what you preach. By letting your children see you reading, you are showing them that reading is important. Remember, action speaks louder than words. Another idea is to read aloud to your children. Choose a "good time" to share a book. Get your children involved in the story by asking them questions about the story or how a certain character makes the child feel.

Taking a special "family" trip to a store for purchasing magazines or to a library will also help encourage a child to read.

Going together to get library cards and becoming familiar with the library encourages children to model their parent's behavior. Make sure children have a special place in their bedroom for library and personal books. This gives added value to those "special books." It also helps keep track of the library books.

Most of all, remember, summer reading is an adventure and an escape from boredom. Share that adventure by helping your children to become involved in reading.

Bob Wills General Meeting

The Bob Wills Committee will be holding a general meeting on Tuesday, July 20, 1993 at 8:00 p.m. at the Bob Wills Center.

All interested parties are urged to attend this meeting.

Briscoe County Residents Attend Electricity Camp

Nine Briscoe County residents recently participated in an electricity camp sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company. More than 95 4-H'ers from throughout the Texas South Plains attended the camp June 21-July 2 at Camp Scott Able, near Cloudford, N.M.

The Briscoe County participants were Jeremiah Brooks, Will Sperry, George Pigg, Briana Sperry, Ashleigh Wyatt, Jarret Pigg, Bo Wilson, county agents Ronda Alexander and Scott Strawn.

Students had opportunities to build their own "hands-on" projects. They also participated in demonstrations and lectures on basic electricity, safety, wiring and electrical terminology.

County agents and SPS employees served as advisers and instructors.

Southwestern Public Service Company is a regional electric utility that primarily provides electric service to a population of about one million people in a 52,000-square-mile area comprising eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas. Corporate headquarters is in Amarillo, Texas.

New members are always welcome.

Shape is Key For Fall '94 Designs

A renewed emphasis on shape is on the horizon for fall 1994 and it will call for updated fabrics that will work with form development. That's the word from Lydia Caffery, director of fashion marketing for Cotton Incorporated.

"Consumers will be looking for items that don't look like any they already own, such as lightweight tapestry cotton used for jeans or a woven stripe that can give a soft knit feeling to a variety of looks," says Caffery.

She added that cotton velvet, denim, brocade, crepe, corduroy and jersey are fabrics that are adaptable to the new looks. New color directions range from white and three versions of tan and pale pinks to bold vegetable colors such as autumn red, rhubarb, plum and gold.

Stone Retires After 33 Years With GTE

Courtesy Amarillo Globe News
 Valda Traugher, Miami Chief

Miami's first and only telephone man, and likely its last one, retired May 28, 1993 after more than 33 years with GTE Southwest Inc. He has spent almost 26 of those years in Miami.

Harold Stone applied for a job with the telephone company when he was only 17 years old. "They told me I had to go home and grow up a little, that they couldn't hire me until I was 18," Stone said.

He went to work for GTE in September 1959, when he was barely 18. He and his wife, D'Ann, moved to Miami almost eight years later when a job opened up.

"When I first came here, the procedure for handling trouble calls was that the Bell Company in Pampa took the calls, then mailed them to me," Stone said. "Then, they went to the computer system, which is the biggest change that took place during the years I worked. Equipment got better when the company could spend more money."

Stone said he plans to stay busy, even though he has retired from his job as a communications technician.

"I'm going to free-lance, doing repairs from the junction box, which separated the (telephone) company from the customer," Stone said. "I will move phones, add jacks or second lines inside homes or businesses. I don't know if I'll repair phones, for that would require so many different parts for the many different phones, just like cars. I'll even install some small business phone systems."

All work and no play, even though retired? Not hardly. The Stones' son Randy, lives in Topeka, Kansas and their daughter, Karla Tracy lives in Cheyenne, Oklahoma.

"We have our travel trailer....(and) we plan to do a lot of visiting," he said.

Stone attended Quitaque Schools for 11 years and graduated from Flomot High School. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Evert Stone. Harold is a cousin of Deloy Myers and Carol Hamner of Quitaque.

Student Needs To Succeed

Like many states, Texas requires students to take particular courses and to pass other requirements in order to graduate from high school. But, also, as in many other states, there is insufficient understanding of or emphasis in school on the actual skills that they will need in the workplace, in advanced education, and in other adult roles. Examples of such skills might include the ability to work in a team or to communicate succinctly.

Raising Expectations for Students to Meet Real-World Needs is an effort of the Texas Education Agency—along with Governor Ann Richards, the Texas Department of Commerce, the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and the Texas Business and Education Coalition—to involve the public in the process of determining what Texas students need to know and be able to do to succeed in the world of the 21st century.

As part of this effort, the public is being invited to a series of Awareness and Response Sessions being held across the state the week of July 19-23. One of these sessions is being held in Lubbock at the Region 17 ESC on Thursday, July 22, 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. This session will be conducted by Dr. Willard Daggett, director of the International Center for Leadership in Education, Schenectady, New York, and TEA's general consultant to the state process for Determining Student Results.

For more information, please contact Mike Peebles, Region 17 Education Service Center, (806) 793-4812 or your local school district superintendent's office.

It's Time To Sharpen The Saw

by Ron Trusler, M.E.D

In the book "7 Habits of Highly Effective People," Stephen Covey gives a scenario of a person cutting down a tree with a saw. He is struggling hard to cut the tree down. He is asked if he were to stop to sharpen the saw if the cutting would be easier. The person says that he is too busy sawing to stop.

I find myself being too busy, at times, to take care of myself (sharpen the saw). I get to thinking that taking care of myself is wasting time--I have to keep working! In reality, that attitude is self-defeating.

If we don't take time to sharpen our saw, we will not be good woodcutters and we will not be able to last as long as we would've by taking better care of the saw.

It's important in many ways to take care of ourselves--it will be better for special people in our lives, our careers and for ourselves. You'll find that you will be able to work better and feel better.

Lewis and I really enjoyed the article about Flomot Homecoming. When Shannon Davidson made his ride, Lewis bought a ticket for a letter to be mailed back to Ronnie on the Pony Express. We lived in Matador then and Lewis was Phillips 66 Distributor serving Flomot, Northfield, Matador, Roaring Springs farmers and service stations. Ronnie loved going with his dad.

When Ronnie and Kay moved from Turkey, they found this letter we had saved and were quite puzzled over us writing him from Chicago. It was the type letter any loving parents would write their son.

Later Lewis and Ronnie made more friends in these areas as we lived sixteen years in The Turkey funeral home. It was Eudy-Seale Funeral Homes, Turkey and Matador.

Ronnie and Kay now live in Austin where he is employed by Cook-Walden Funeral Home. Kay works for State Health Services.

Lewis still does monument work in all of these areas including, Quitaque, Turkey, representing Wallace Monument Company of Clarendon. He has had calls from Ohio, California, Idaho, Houston, Whitney. He locates their plots and gives prices and sends pictures when work is completed.

GOD BLESSED US WITH THE REFRESHING SHADES OF SUMMER

In June the weather testifies
A warming sun is on the rise,
When brighter days and cloudless skies
Reveal the earth whereon there lies
The blue of lakes in every size,
With deepest green to cool our eyes;
While overhead each bird that flies
Will fill the air with joyful cries.
We say our seasonal goodbyes
To school and chores that otherwise
Would seldom let us utilize
The great outdoors in every guise.
Your House of Worship will advise
That each of us identifies
This love of God, which now supplies
The carefree time of Summer.

MRS. RHETT CAMERON MONTAGUE
Nee April D'Ann Stephens

Stephens--Montague Exchange Vows

In a candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Jerry Miller, April D'Ann Stephens and Rhett Cameron Montague exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, June 26, 1993 at the First Baptist Church in Quitaque, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Hamner of Quitaque. She is also the daughter of the late Monte Stephens. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Stephens of Flomot, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamner of Turkey, Jewell Myers of Hugoton, Kansas and Juddie Stephens of Matador.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Younger of Silverton. He is also the son of the late Roland Montague. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitfill of Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Montague of Tubia and Eva Whitfill of Lockney.

Escorted and given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore an elegant Bonny original in white regal satin. Her gown featured a sweetheart neckline with French pouf sleeve style and the bodice was encrusted with pearls and jewels. The waistline was adorned with pearl swirls and iridescent sequins. The skirt of the bridal gown was a sheath styled slimmed skirt featuring Venice lace medallions and crystallized hand beaded designs. Her gown plunged to a low back, centered with a designer bow. The magnificent train was all satin accented with European lace cut-outs, decorated with tear drop beaded medallions and studded with jewels ending in a chapel length train.

Her layered tulle veil was shaped to her forehead with pearls and miniature white rose buds, as it fell to the top of her train with scalloped edges.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of off white roses, orchids and stephanolias accented with English ivy. The bride followed a traditional wedding with, "something old," two pennies of the couples birth years. "Something new," was her dress. "Something barrowed," a ring from her mother and "something blue," was a garter made by the bride's grandmother.

Maid of honor was D'Ann Hill of Hereford. Bridesmaids were Natalie Burkes and Brittany Hamner, sister of the bride, both of Quitaque, Tonya Hoyle of Matador and Jana Johnson of Turkey.

The best man was Russell Kearby of Lubbock, Texas. Groomsmen were Brad West, Jamie Frizzell, Wil Rowell all of Silverton and Neal Edwards of Amarillo.

Tobie Starkey, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and Chase Younger, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Candle lighters were Cody Whitfill of Hereford and Aaron Schrandt of Amarillo, both cousins of the groom.

Ushers were Tim Terrall of Lubbock, Brandon Eddleman of Amarillo and Shawn Stephens, brother of the bride, of Quitaque. Marla Ramaekers of Nazareth registered the guests.

Music was presented by Patsy Herrington at the organ. Lisa Lee, of Amarillo, sang "The Rose," and "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do."

A reception was held in the fellowship hall, at the First Baptist Church, following the ceremony. Guests were served with a variety of appetizers including crab filled cream puffs, calla lily sandwiches, finger sandwiches, salmon loaf, spinach balls, asparagus roll-ups and the table was accented with a beautiful fruit centerpiece.

The grooms cake was a German chocolate tiered cake accented with English ivy and a coffee service was also provided.

The wedding cake was a beautiful three-tiered Italian cream cake topped with a precious moments collectible.

Assisting at the reception were Lisa Lee, Stephanie Thornton and Amber Schrandt, all of Amarillo and Marla Ramaekers of Nazareth. Rice girls were Micah and Contessa White, cousins of the groom, of Hereford.

After a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, the newly married couple will reside in Amarillo where they will continue their college education.

Cotton Makes Best Personal Care Products

Many people automatically assume the personal care products, such as swabs, puffs, rounds and wipes, they regularly purchase are made of cotton. "Consumers want cotton in these products because of the fiber's naturalness, purity and hygienic properties," says Ira Livingston, vice president of U. S. marketing for Cotton Incorporated.

"Often, consumers are disappointed to discover that what they bought is made of rayon, polyester or polypropylene." Although these products may look like cotton, Livingston says they don't perform as well. "Cotton has superior absorbency features and actually becomes stronger when wet," says Livingston.

Additionally, cotton's naturally textured surface cushions contact with skin, while its irregular surface construction makes it an effective cleanser. And, cotton personal care products are "finish free."

"Personal care products made from cotton can be easily identified on retail shelves by the distinctive Cotton Seal on the packaging," says Livingston.

Comfort And Price Influence Fashion

A recent survey documenting women's shopping habits found that most female consumers base their clothing selections on practical rather than fanciful criteria. In fact, the survey found that most women have not succumbed to recent fashion trends calling for radical changes in dressing as well as a significant financial investment.

The majority cite comfort (98%), affordability (95%), and wearability (76%) as the prime incentives for new purchases. These findings are the result of a national survey conducted by the Wirthlin Group for Cotton Incorporated. Only 5% of those polled said the runway fashions have a great deal of influence on their buying behavior.

Additionally, cotton is the preferred fiber in apparel. Asked to rate a number of fabrics, 69% named cotton as their favorite for fashion clothing.

FAITH CAN SAVE A MARRIAGE WITH A LESSON IN MANNERS

Divorce is a terrible tragedy, and it often stems from such a simple thing as poor etiquette; a result of the couple expecting too much of each other and too little of themselves. The adjustments of marriage are difficult at best and some disillusionment is inevitable, but the one thing that should NOT change is the couple's basic manners toward each other. They should try to maintain the same level of courtesy that they would extend to a guest visiting in their home. When a difference of opinion occurs, as it eventually will, they should avoid the use of harsh words and seek areas of compromise instead. This is worth every effort; and the House of Worship, the choice of which may itself be a compromise, is the place to learn this. Indeed, the lessons of love and good manners can help to save a marriage that may have begun right there at the altar.

"For this cause shall a man... be joined unto his wife."
