Combs Named Hall County Democratic Party Chairman

At a meeting of members of Hall County Democratic Party called by Precinct Chairmen Thursday in the Bronze Room of First Bank and Trust in Memphis, Billy A. Combs, publisher of the Memphis Democrat, was named County Chairman.

The appointee will fill out the unexpired term of Arville Setliff, whose death recently created a vacancy in the position.

Precinct chairmen present at the meeting were Virgil Blakney of Turkey, Ava Dell Clark of Lakeview, and Tom Cope of Memphis. Leona Burk of Estelline was unable to attend.

Tom Cope was chosen to preside over the meeting and he explained that the decision to appoint a county chairman was the responsibility of the precinct chairmen but they would appreciate advice and opinions from those who attended the meeting.

After some discussion, two candidates were nominated by the precinct chairmen. Candidates nominated were Jim Hutchins of Estelline and Billy A. Combs of Memphis.

The candidates were invited to speak before the precinct chairmen retired to discuss their decision. Voting was by secret ballot.

Combs is a second generation to serve as County Chairman of the Hall County Democrats. His father, Herschel A. Combs served in the position after J. Claude Wells resigned in the late 1950s and early 1960s.

THEN &amp; NOW!

by Eunice McFall

We have a family reunion coming up soon. Most of you have at one time or another traveled to a family reunion and perhaps had a wonderful time. Of course there are times when you travel to one and there is not one person there that you really wanted to spend a whole day or two with. But by the time that the day was over you felt that you had really had a great day and you had the feeling that you knew more about your family than you did at the beginning of the morning and that you cared more for your family.

Families come in all flavors, sizes, shapes and intellect. Some you can't get enough of and then there are others that if you see them more than once every 10 years you feel mistreated! But as a whole families are wonderful. We certainly could not invent a better system for raising our children to be happy healthy adults. Besides we would miss out on all the fun that children bring to our lives.

Bits and Pieces quoted "At a family reunion the discussion turned to 'Live each day as though it were your last.' Well," said the grandmother of the group, "that's a fine idea, but I have always lived by one that is slightly different. It's this: Treat all the people you meet each day as though it were their last day on earth." Boy, she gets down to the bottom of things doesn't she?

How we treat our families tells the world what sort of person we are! If we are kind and considerate to those with whom our lives are daily intertwined, the world has to know that we are a kind, considerate person. However if we are rude, unfeeling, unkind, hateful to those with whom we are closest, we definitely send out a different signal to those who are only acquaintances with us. What signal do you want to send out?

You see if you plan to help make the other person happy, a bit of that happiness can not help but be reflected to you. Yes, happiness is like a butterfly. The more you chase it, the more it will elude you. But if you turn your attention to other things, it comes and softly sits on your shoulder. This is the way with consideration to others. If you always are considerate to others, they will return the favor by being considerate to you. So when you go to that family reunion, go with an open mind and go thinking how special it is to be able to gather with your family at a place of the family's choosing, serving the food that the family likes, speaking openly of all the joys and sorrows of the past years and to make plans for the coming year's gathering of the clan!

Bringing Home The Bread

(NAPS)—The next time Dad is dozing in his easy chair and you're wondering what's on his mind, it just might be the future. According to a recent survey, sponsored by The Prudential Insurance Company of America, 94 percent of American men aged 25-69 believe it's important to plan for the future.

What's On Dad's Mind?

He's planning for...

Personal Health	81.9%
Long-term Savings and Investments (Retirement Planning)	78.6%
Job or Career Path	76.6%
Short-term Savings and Investments (New Car, Vacation, etc.)	75.3%
Estate Planning	45.4%
Children's Education	40.8%

The future may be on Dad's mind, but it's not necessarily in his hands. The same survey, found that less than 60 percent of respondents felt they were strongly in control of their futures.

Gramm Panel Passes Homemaker Retirement Bill

U.S. Sens. Phil Gramm and Kay Bailey Hutchison are lauding a key Senate panel decision to establish Individual Retirement Accounts for homemakers, calling it a victory for nearly 10 million middle-income women in America.

"Permitting homemakers to save their own money for a safe and secure retirement is long overdue," Gramm said. "I'm proud that we were able to gain a unanimous vote for the Homemaker IRA bill in the finance Committee, and I look forward to working closely with Sen. Hutchison to gain final Senate approval. The sooner we make this bill a law, the better."

"It is obvious that work inside the home is every bit as important to our society as the work done outside the home," Hutchison said. "I do not think that homemakers who chose to stay home and raise children should have the added disadvantage of retiring with less retirement security."

The Senate finance Committee last week approved the homemaker IRA bill, authored by Hutchison and co-sponsored by Gramm, to permit deductible IRA contributions of up to $2,000 for each spouse in a one-income family, the same amount allowed for two-income families. This means the average couple could accumulate $150,000 more over the course of their lifetime.

Under current law, if both a husband and wife work outside the home, they are allowed to set aside $2,000 each, a total of $4,000 to their retirement nest egg each year. But if one spouse stays home to rear their children and manage the household, the couple is limited to a total tax deduction for IRA contributions of $2,250-$2,000 for the spouse who works outside and $250 for the spouse who works in the home.

Gramm is a member of the Senate Finance Committee.

Most students don't finish, others pay close to $50,000 in college costs

Less than half of the freshmen entering a Texas public university in 1989 graduated from that school after six years. At an average of $9,624 per year for tuition, room and board, books, fees and other expenses, students who took five years to graduate, 22.8 percent of the class, incurred about $48,120 in college costs.

5-year plan

3 years or less:	8%
4 years:	15.6%
5 years:	22.8%
6 years:	9.5%
Left school or finished after 6 years:	51.3%

	5 years:	$48,120
	4 years:	$38,496
	3 years:	$28,872

YOUR CREDIT

Here's Help If You're Financially Strapped

(NAPS)—Every year millions of people have trouble paying their bills on time. Hundreds of thousands of them decide to declare bankruptcy because they don't know where else to turn. Some, too, are lured by the idea of a "quick fix," without really thinking about the long-term impact of their action.

If you're contemplating bankruptcy, bear in mind that a bankruptcy filing stays on your credit record for up to ten years, often making it difficult for you to get credit.

Fortunately, there are alternatives. You can, for example, work out a repayment plan with your creditors. Smaller payments over a longer time may make all the difference. You can also get help from a non-profit credit counseling agency, Consumer Credit Counseling Service.

Darcee Duncan And Scooter Vaclavick Wed In El Campo

Darcee Jo Duncan and Henry H. "Scooter" Vaclavick, Jr. were united in marriage on Saturday, June 15, at the First Baptist Church in El Campo. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hollie Briscoe of Bay City, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Dan and Barbara Duncan of Panhandle. The parents of the groom are Henry and Grace Vaclavick of El Campo. Dick Taylor of Quitaque is the bride's grandfather.

Musical selections were performed by organist Cynthia Goerig of El Campo. Cappi Duncan of Panhandle sang Parent's Prayer later in the ceremony as the bride and groom completed the lighting of the unity candle.

Escorted by her parents, the bride wore a designer gown of white regal satin. Her gown featured a scalloped V neckline and long Edwardian style lace sleeves coming to a point at the wrist. The princess style bodice with an elongated waistline was encrusted with pearls and bugle beads and plunged to a low back. The full and flowing satin skirt of the bridal gown and cathedral length train was accented with Battenburg lace and studded with pearls and beads. Her fingertiplength veil of illusion was draped from a crown of ornate leaves and flowers embellished with pearls.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of sonia roses, stephanotis, and white enchantment lilies intermingled with baby's breath, limonium, and assorted greenery. Included in the bouquet was a "drawn-work" handkerchief made by the bride's great-grandmother.

Mikki Crawford of Panhandle served as matron of honor. Bridal attendants were Kellie Wartenbach of Spring, Cappi Duncan, sister-in-law of the bride, of Panhandle, Bridget Hennessey of Wharton, and Colleen Dossan of El Campo.

Paul Pustejovsky of Katy served as best man. Groomsmen were Dan B. Thomas of Houston, Dan Ray Duncan, brother of the bride, of Panhandle, Mark Pustejovsky of El Campo, and John McCarty of Spring.

Candle lighters were Tobi Ann Duncan of Panhandle and Samantha Jo Duncan of Round Rock, both nieces of the bride.

Program attendants were Tod Duncan of Round Rock, Cade Davis and Ty Davis of Panhandle, all nephews of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at El Campo Civic Center. Members of the houseparty were Alesha Patton and Karen Littlejohn of Lubbock, Patsy Metting of El Campo, and cousins of the groom, Sandy Janicek, Anita Janicek, Margo Green and Chrissy Janicek all of Needville and Jan Labay of Rosenberg.

Kathy Dunlap of Panhandle traveled to El Campo to coordinate the wedding and reception. She was accompanied by Marilyn Williams and Michelle Dunlap.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Panhandle High School. She attended South Plains College at Levelland and graduated in 1992 from Amarillo College with an Associate of Applied Science Degree in Physical Therapy. She worked for one year at University Medical Center in Lubbock before going to work for Rehabilitation Center in El Campo as a Physical Therapist Assistant.

The groom is a 1981 graduate of El Campo High School. The focus on national advocacy in breast cancer has led to an amazing and historic quadrupling of federally-funded breast cancer research—to more than $500 million today.

The American Cancer Society has been proud to support the National Breast Cancer Coalition in the call to Congress for more federal research dollars to go to breast cancer research. Among other efforts, the Texas Division supported a 1993 petition drive and delivered 120,000 signatures to Washington lawmakers. Two million signatures were collected nationwide.

The American Cancer Society will again be supporting the National Breast Cancer Coalition in an ambitious petition drive. The goal of Campaign '96 is to get 2.6 million signatures nationwide petitioning Congress for $2.6 billion for breast cancer research between now and the year 2000.

If this effort reaps the same results as past campaigns, federal breast cancer research programs will grow to new heights and America will be a better place for our daughters and granddaughters.

Please come by the Briscoe County Extension office to sign the petition to be sent to the President and Congress calling them to invest $2.6 billion in Breast Cancer Research.

Dust Bowl Days

By Mozelle Eudy
Lewis and I were married Aug. 5, 1934, and our son Ronald Eudy was born Dec. 7, 1938. We only had one bedroom and tiny kitchen; but lived next door to my parents and we shared their bathroom. When Ronald was about three months old he started having bronchial problems, due to so much dust. I moved him over to our parents house in his bed as they had a room that was protected by other rooms. My mother and I put wet towels all around on his bed, changing and washing them frequently to protect his lungs. At

"My son and I were working on a ranch remotely located in Coleman County near Ballinger, Texas. Suddenly I started to get sharp pains in my chest, and I was having a hard time breathing. The nearest phone was at least eight miles away. But I was lucky, because my son carries his Digital Cellular phone with him everywhere he goes. After he helped me into the pickup, he called 911. When we arrived at the hospital in Ballinger, a doctor and a helicopter were waiting to take care of me. Later, the doctor told me that there wasn't any permanent damage to my heart because he was able to treat me quickly. Without my son's Digital Cellular phone, my treatment would have been delayed an hour."

Editor: "That's not enough. He was such a good citizen of the town. I tell you what, I'll give you five words for the price of two."

Lena thought for a moment, then suggested: "Ed died. Boat for sale."

Youth Recreation

By J. Price
It has been brought to my attention that the youth of this community don't have any recreational activities. The main activity for the kids of this community is to hang around the post office parking lot.

They don't have any place to go to have any recreation. Growing up here, we at least had the movies, the drug stores, and the hamburger drive-in.

I don't know what it's going to take to get something for these kids to do but am willing to bet with a little concern and work with the city council, something can be accomplished. I understand there is a building at Silverton designed for the youth of that community. Something like that here would be a start.

Several parents have expressed concern for their children and with their help as well as a community effort it could be possible.

Let's all put our best effort forward to provide these kids with some type of recreation.

When Captain Cook reached the Hawaiian islands in 1778, he named them the Sandwich islands, after the Earl of Sandwich.

WTU Begins Deliberative Poll Recruitment Soon

West Texas Utilities Company (WTU) subsidiary has begun recruiting participants for a Deliberative Poll that will involve customers in the company's energy-resource planning process.

About 250 WTU customers from throughout the company's 53,000-square mile service territory are expected to participate in the West Texas Town Meeting On Electricity Issues, the name given to the "Deliberative Poll" scheduled for August 9-10 at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. Recruitment of customers selected as a part of the scientific random sample for the "Deliberative Poll" has begun.

Deliberative polling is a survey process where a scientific sample of customers is brought together in one location for a weekend and given the opportunity to "deliberate" about the various factors associated with a particular issue. WTU will be using the approach in its efforts to develop an integrated resource plan to meet the future electric needs of its customers. WTU plans to use its "Deliberative Poll" as part of its public participation efforts to involve customers in the development of its resource plan.

WTU's "Deliberative Poll" will mark the second time that a Central and South West Corporation (CSW) company has used a "Deliberative Poll" to involve its customers in planning for future energy needs. WTU is a wholly owned subsidiary of CSW. Central Power and Light Company, another Central and South West subsidiary, was the first company to use a "Deliberative Poll" during the weekend of May 31-June 2. Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO) has scheduled a deliberative poll for August 23-25.

Professor James Fishkin, chairman of the Government Department at the University of Texas at Austin, developed the concept of the Deliberative Poll as an approach for determining informed public opinion. The method is explained in his new book, "The Voice of People," published by Yale University Press.

The approach received national attention when it was used during the National Issues Convention, which was held in Austin in January 1996.

Ordinary polls, surveys and focus groups examine what the public is thinking about certain issues at a particular time. A "Deliberative Poll" attempts to determine what the public would think about different issues if given an opportunity to learn more about all sides of those issues.

Advocates and opponents of competing resource options, such as natural gas generation and wind generation, are involved in developing briefing materials for participants and will serve as panelists during WTU's town meeting. The town meeting format will alternate between large-group settings involving the entire group and small groups of 15-20 people.

Participants will be surveyed about their views on electricity issues at the time of recruitment and then once again at the conclusion of the meeting to determine whether their opinions have changed and to what extent. Through this process, participants will be asked to make value judgements about the options associated with different resource choices.

WTU will consider and evaluate all of the information learned from its customers when developing the company's integrated resource plan. The company is scheduled to submit its integrated resource plan to the Public Utility Commission of Texas this fall.

Young Snake Hunter Gets Two Big Rattlers

Jan Turner, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alga Turner of Turkey is the champion hunter in this area, so far as we know. Jan, like most other boys likes to go with his daddy. He has been out all summer helping with the plowing and shooting rabbits, ground squirrels, birds and rats. While out Wednesday, July 21, on the John Kelly wheat farm, 3 miles northwest of Turkey, he found some new game. It was a big rattle snake.

Jan, being armed with his 22 rifle, killed the snake and reported to his father who was plowing nearby. Being informed that if he would return he probably would find another snake.

The boy decided this time he would go in the pickup, since it would be easier on him-and some safer. Upon arriving at the place, he killed another. One snake measured 50 inches and had 13 rattles and the other measured 48 inches and had 12 rattles.

Now the moral of this story is this: Jan's mother has a dreadful fear of snakes whether they be rattlers or decoys. Jan is getting the news to his mother through the local paper so the shock won't be so great, and also the plowing job will be finished by the time the Enterprise is published.

Jan will spend the remainder of the summer visiting friends in Greensburg, Ind.

As a reward for winning the recent contest in selling Ford tractors implements, parts and accessories, in the Oklahoma city district J.V. Mohon will leave Saturday morning to be the guest of Henry Ford for a week.

A special Ford plane will meet him in Oklahoma city for the flight to Detroit.

Russell-Mohon Co. led the entire field of dealers in the contest, comprising 93 dealers and including all of the larger cities as well as the smaller towns.

Curly Top Virus Control For Texas Tomato Growers

Provided by Rebel L. Royall

Curly top is the most important disease of tomatoes in the western half of Texas. The virus disease occurs on many species of vegetables, including beans, beets, cantaloupe, cucumbers, squash and sugar beets but consistently damages tomatoes more than any other crop.

The curly top virus overwinters on woody annual and perennial plants growing in desert areas of the Southwest. Russian thistle, filaree, tansy mustard and several other weedy plants support the virus and its insect host. The virus is transmitted only by the feeding of the beet leafhopper. Insect populations increase on weed hosts and then migrate to cultivated plants in the spring. Leafhoppers migrate as far as 300 to 400 miles. The virus is carried in the leafhopper and then injected into plant parts during feeding. After virus acquisition, leafhoppers can transmit it for an indefinite period. Infected plant levels depend on the number of virus-carrying insects, stage of crop development and predominant strain of the virus.

The beet leafhopper prefers a bright sunny location and avoids areas with low light intensity. This trait leads the insect to plants that are most isolated from other plants. Plants in skippy rows, at ends of rows or those planted with too much space between them make ideal targets for early curly top infection. The insect vector does not live on tomato plants for long periods; however, the virus can be acquired while feeding for 1 minute, and inoculation of a healthy plant can occur in the same amount of time. Symptoms appear about 2 weeks after infection. Symptoms are noticed first on scattered, infected plants followed by an increasing number of diseased plants during the next 2 weeks.

Disease symptoms on tomatoes first appear as a dull green or weak yellow colored plant. The main stem becomes abnormally erect. In a few hours the petioles and leaflets curve downward and leaflet edges roll upward, giving a stiff leathery appearance.

Veins on the bottom of the leaflet are swollen and have a purple color in most varieties. Growth stops immediately and all fruit turns red prematurely. Such fruit has poor size, flavor and quality. Lower leaves soon die on older plants, and young plants may be killed.

Control Measures

Roguing-Remove infected plants immediately after first symptoms are recognized.

Weed Control-Remove all weedy vegetation in and around the garden.

Thick Plantings-Space plants closely in rows so they quickly develop a shady canopy.

Cultural Practices-Fertilize and irrigate to encourage fast growth of young tomato plants to produce heavy foliage that discourages leafhopper migration into these stands.

Shading-Plant tomatoes in partial shade or construct shades of light cloth or lathing over the plants. Remember, shade discourages the leafhopper, and the resulting cooler temperatures under the shade encourages fruit set on varieties which are not heat tolerant.

Do Not Attempt To Control The Beet Leafhopper-The insect is not a permanent resident on tomatoes. Virus inoculation is completed by feeding for only minutes on a healthy plant. Disease development then occurs whether the insect is present or not.

Planting Dates-Plant early, determinate varieties as soon as possible so that fruit ripens before insect migrations. Delay planting late, indeterminate varieties until July 1. These varieties grow fast in summer heat but usually will not set fruit until cooler nights of August.

Resistant Varieties-Four tomato varieties with resistance to curly top virus have been developed by USDA scientist at Prosser, Wa. They have been grown in various locations of West Texas since 1979. They are: Salamaster, Rowpac, Roza, and Columbia.
