Patriots Take Bite Out Of Bulldogs

Justin Wilks threw four touchdown passes, and Derrick Cruse rushed for 200 yards and four touchdowns to lead the Valley Patriots to a 56-6 win over the Spur Bulldogs.

Wilks completed six of seven pass attempts as he hit Anthony Ortiz from 14 and 34 yards out, JC Pigg from 8 yards out, and Douglas Payne from 9 yards out to account for his four TD tosses. Wilks threw for 64 first half yards as the Patriots roared out to a 44-6 halftime lead.

Cruse carried the ball 20 times and rushed for touchdowns of 34, 8, 4, and 3 yards. His last touchdown ended the game with 6:45 left in the fourth quarter. Cruse now has 770 yards and 13 touchdowns for the season.

"Justin was perfect passing the ball against Spur," Coach Bret Tyler said. "And Derrick was dominant. It was a good game for both of them."

Cruse also recorded 13 tackles to lead the Patriots defense that only gave up 113 yards of total offense. Robert Mendoza chipped in with 12 tackles while Cliff Yeary and Albert Espinoza each tallied 8 tackles.

Senior nose guard Manuel Chavez had 6 tackles, Anthony Ortiz had 3 tackles, Adam Ortiz and Douglas Payne each had 2 tackles, and Justin Wilks had 3 tackles and an interception.

"Our defense has continued to improve each week," Tyler said. "Robert Mendoza was just amazing against Spur but that has really become his normal game. Albert and Anthony were big on special teams."

The Valley Junior Varsity traveled to Vernon Northside where they scored 11 touchdowns to outdistance the Northside Varsity in a 79-64 shootout. Fidel Valdez scored six times and Alex Espinoza visited the end zone five times as the JV defeated their second varsity team of the year.

"I have never seen a game like it," Tyler said. "It was like watching a track meet. I am proud of these JV kids. We gave them a very tough schedule and they have met the challenge."

This week the Varsity has an off week, while the JV travels to Cotton Center to play the Elk Varsity team on Friday night.

Certificate Of Registration For A Dangerous Wild Animal

According to Robert McGuire, Hall County Sheriff, Chapter 822, Subchapter E of the Health and Safety Code (aka The Dangerous Wild Animals Act) became fully effective on June 1, 2002. The Act requires that each county establish a registration process for certain wild animals (such as exotic cats, certain primates, bears, and coyotes) and that the owners of these animals forward a copy of their registration certificate to the Texas Department of Health.

Due to this law being new, the Texas Department of Health asks that you are reminded of the requirements. This certificate will expire one year from the issuance date unless revoked for good cause, it is nontransferable, and the certificate must be publicly displayed at the location where the animal(s) is kept. A copy of the certificate, plus a filing fee of $20 per animal must be filed within ten days after issuance date to The Texas Department of Health, Zoonosis Control Division, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756.

Certificate of registration for a dangerous wild animal may be picked up at the Hall County Sheriff's office at the Hall County Courthouse in Memphis or by calling 806-259-2151.

Quitaque Chamber Supports Home Based Business Seminars

The Quitaque Chamber of Commerce met on Tuesday, October 1 at 6:15 p.m. at the Quitaque Community Center for their monthly meeting. There were nine members present.

Brandon McGinty, from the Briscoe County Extension office, was present to address the Chamber. He was inquiring about the interest for a Home Based Business Seminar for our area. Plans are that Pam Brown, of Lubbock, will host a generalized meeting, which will be 2 half day sessions in Quitaque and Silverton, on December 7. Then, beginning in the Spring, more in-depth sessions will be held and will focus on individual topics, such as goals, tax questions, and marketing. The Chamber strongly supports this endeavor.

Phil Barefiled then gave a report on the Texas Prairie Rivers Country meeting held at Valley School Cafeteria on September 23. Almost one hundred people attended and enjoyed a hamburger dinner, sponsored by the First National Bank of Quitaque and prepared by Warren Merrell.

The Chamber then voted to hold a Media Day in the Spring of 2004. This Media day will give local businesses and residents a chance to showcase all of the attractions and opportunities in our area to area media. Turkey and Flomot will be contacted to see if they would like to participate in this event. In other business Caprock Country Christmas was discussed. It was decided that a Progressive Hayride will be held in conjunction with the event. Details are being worked out by committee members.

If you are concerned about the future of our community and would like to see it prosper, you are encouraged to attend the next Chamber meeting to be held Monday, November 4, 2002. Hope to see you there.

Candidate Profile
District Judge
110th Judicial District

Name:
My name is Tempie T. Francis. Many people wonder where my name came from since it is unusual. My father named me after his grandmother who was a Cherokee Indian from the Smokey Mountains of Tennessee.

Family & Education:
I was born April 5, 1959 on the Air Force Base in Rapid City, South Dakota where my parents, Jim and Marji Bays were stationed. My Husband is Rob Francis, a rancher in Motley County. My children are J.R. and Anna and two stepchildren, Robert and Fritz. My in-laws are Vann and Sondra Francis. Vann is a rancher east of Matador and Sondra's father, Johnny Stevens, was the last manager of the original Matador Ranch.

I earned a Bachelor's degree in elementary education at Indiana State University graduating with honors. I graduated from the Law School of Texas Tech University with a degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence in 1994.

What are your qualifications for this office?
I am a practicing attorney, licensed by the Supreme Court of Texas and duly admitted to practice in all Courts of the State of Texas and a member of the Texas Bar Association. I worked for the District Attorney's Office in Hockley County, Texas while in law school at Texas Tech. After graduation, I worked for the law firm of Phelan and Phelan and was appointed the Motley County attorney pro tem (known as the Special Prosecutor). After leaving Phelan and Phelan I opened my own private practice. I was elected as the Motley County Attorney where I currently serve. I have experiences in many courts and many different kinds of cases. I have represented many different clients in Texas from Dalhart to Van Horn, from Muleshoe to Dallas as well as within the four counties in our district, Briscoe, Dickens, Floyd and Motley. I have a judgement in Bailey County for over one million dollars. I have done reduced fee and pro bono legal work. I also have many life experiences which give me a broad background and understanding for the various types of lawsuits. For example, I've been a partner in a crop dusting company, I lost a husband in a plane crash, I had a loved one harmed by a step-relative. During my career as an attorney, I have represented ranchers, farmers, businessmen and women, drafted and probated wills and prosecuted criminal cases.

Your reason for running for the position:
I have served as a prosecutor and represented clients in civil cases and would like to continue my public service. No one has run in opposition for this office in quite sometime. Voters deserve the opportunity to choose their elected officials.

What do you want to "do" or "change" if you are elected?
I would encourage citizens to attend all open court sessions. I am a conservative American and would be a conservative judge believing decisions should be based by strictly applying applicable statutes and reviewing the evidence before the court.

What do you think our district's greatest needs are?
The 110th Judicial District has the same needs as most of America and include but are not limited to the safety and security of all citizens, education for our children, and financial growth and prosperity.

If you are [an] incumbent, do you feel you have been fair and opened minded and how do you feel you have been a benefit to this position?
Although I am not the incumbent, I believe I can be fair and opened minded to the extent the law provides. Decisions should be based upon the facts and circumstances of each case together with the statutes governing the particular case. I believe I can be a benefit to the position even though I am not the incumbent. I have experience in practicing law before many of the courts in the State of Texas including Floyd, Dickens, Briscoe and Motley. But, I have many experiences outside the practice of law since I did not start law school until after my children were older.

Comments:
I grew up in a modest family and was taught with hard work anything could be achieved. I have work ethic and pride in community service. I believe in setting goals and achieving them. I trained as a volunteer firefighter and rescuer, I put myself through college, earned my pilot's license, been a member of the Eastern Star for twenty-five years and became an attorney. As my father states, "Tempie has many and varied accomplishments. No one can accomplish what she has without personal sacrifice and a determination to see that every endeavor she has set out to do is completed to a very high standard. As a District Judge you can invest your vote for a person with a varied background that is honest and fair. I suppose I am partial because I am her Dad, and I love her very much." I am proud of my family, my community, my state and my country and I would be proud to serve the 110th Judicial District as your District Judge.

Pol. Ad Pd. for by Tempie T. Francis, Box 7, Matador, Texas in compliance with the voluntary limits of the Judicial Campaign Act.

It seems as if I've been away for months taking care of family-son in Arizona opening a catering business and mother in Fort Worth waiting 5 1/2 months for the surgeon to do desperately needed back surgery. Just a side note: No new neurosurgeons have moved to Fort Worth in 20 years! The ones who practice there are baby-boomer age or older, so just when so many Boomers will need back surgery, the shortage will be most acute. Take care of your backs! I'll only be home for this week and next before I have to go back to care for my mother after surgery, so please enjoy these recipes.

FISH WITH CREAM SAUCE
 8 slices bread, cubed
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/8 teaspoon pepper
 1 1/2 pounds fresh or frozen sole, haddock or grouper filets, thawed
 1 cup milk
 1 1/2 cups sour cream
 In a large skillet over medium heat, toast bread cubes in butter until golden brown; set aside. In a large sealable plastic bag, combine the flour, salt and pepper. Add fish, one fillet at a time; shake to coat. Place in a greased 13x9x2 baking dish. Slowly pour milk over filets. Bake uncovered at 400 for 15-20 minutes or until fish flakes easily with fork. Spoon sour cream over filets. Top with bread cubes. Bake 5 minutes longer until heated through. Makes 6 servings.

ARIZONA GREEN BEANS
 6 slices bacon, diced
 1 medium onion, diced
 1/2 cup fresh mushrooms, sliced
 16 oz. frozen green beans
 Olive oil
 Saute bacon and onion in olive oil until bacon is crisp. Add mushrooms and cook until tender. Add green beans and stir until beans are tender. Serves 4.

BUSY DAY BANANA CREAM PIE
 1 cup cold milk
 1 package (4 serving size) instant vanilla pudding mix
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
 12 oz. carton Cool Whip, thawed
 1 gram cracker crust (9")
 2 firm bananas, sliced
 In a mixing bowl, beat the milk and pudding on low speed for 2 minutes. Add vanilla. Fold in 3 cups of the Cool Whip. Pour 1 1/3 cups of the pudding mixture into pie crust. Layer with banana slices and remaining pudding. Top with rest of Cool Whip and additional banana slices, if desired. Refrigerate. Makes 8 servings.

I'll think of something tasty for next week-see you then. GOD BLESS AMERICA!

TURKEY ROOST MUSEUM NEWS

There have been a lot of activities going on this past week at the Museum. Jan and Joy Turner and Rita Guest moved the Turkey School trophies from Keith Green's building to the museum. Rita, Joy and Lawana have been cleaning the trophies, and Jan is going to repair some of the broken ones and he is going to build a case for displaying them. If there are trophies that are out in the community that anyone would like to return to the collection, we will make room for them. The glass brick are up in the back windows and we hope to have things rearranged before Homecoming. Dessie Robertson has made a donation to the Museum to help with the school section and to help in other areas. We invite you to come by and see what is happening at the museum.

Applications Being Accepted For WTAMU's Migrant Assistance Program

Applications are being accepted for West Texas A&M University's College Assistance Migrant Program (CAMP), and applications received by March 14, 2003 will be given priority.

CAMP, funded by the U.S. Department of Education, is designed to help students from migrant and seasonal farm-worker families succeed in post-secondary education. The program enables 30 new students to enroll at WTAMU each school year.

Qualified applicants must have graduated from high school in the last two years, and they or their parents must have spent a minimum of 75 documented days in migrant agriculture-related employment in the past 24 months. Also, high school students who participated in or were eligible to participate in migrant education programs in local school districts may apply.

Those accepted into the program will receive scholarships for up to $2,650 for the 2003-2004 school year, including monthly stipends, a 50 percent housing waiver, books and supplies and a variety of counseling services, including financial aid advisement and assistance with the application process.

"We're basically trying to provide migrant students with a way to pay for their entire first year of college so that they can live on campus and not have to work," Martin Lopez, University CAMP director, said. "We will try to develop their leadership as well as their academic skills."

For more information about CAMP and the March 14 priority application deadline, contact the CAMP staff at 806-651-2351 or mlopez@mail.wtamu.edu.

Fumonisin Found In Texas Corn

The dangerous toxin Fumonisin (foo-MON-is-in) has been found in Texas' 2002 corn crop. The toxin can be fatal to horses and rabbits. The Texas State Chemist reports that forty-nine percent of the corn analyzed is above recommended levels. The problem is not located in a specific area of the state. Fumonisin positive samples have come from crops around Waco, Austin, Kerrville, and Victoria. All corn should be tested for the toxin before being fed to sensitive animals. For updates and further information, contact the Office of the Texas State Chemist/Feed and Fertilizer Control Service at (979) 845-1121.

Extension Offers Training For New Ag Producers

Texas Cooperative Extension's new program, Tomorrow's Top Agricultural Producers, is preparing the next generation of producers for their chosen field. The program focuses on profit-motivated, career-oriented individuals with less than a decade's experience. It will equip participants with successful business management skills. Participants will also organize business plans designed specifically for their operation. The training encompasses a series of four-day sessions over the course of two years. Enrollment is limited to 40 operations, with a maximum of two individuals per operation. For more information, contact Stan Beavers at (940) 552-9941.

Buckle Up! But Make Sure It's Done Correctly

Texas Cooperative Extension's Rural Passenger Safety Team is busy educating residents on child car safety. This project is aimed at training individuals to work with parents in rural communities. Adults learn the proper ways to install child safety seats in vehicles. There are four training sessions this year for persons interested in becoming certified technicians. These new technicians will then be able to use their information to educate their own communities at checkup events. The checkup events are in various counties throughout the state. There is no charge, and sessions are open to everyone. The Safety Team's goal is to train about 100 technicians in the next year. For more information, contact Myrna Hill at (979) 862-4855.

Memory Loss Doesn't Have To Come With Old Age

When it comes to age related memory loss, Gerontology Specialist Judy Warren says, "Use it or lose it." Many older adults believe memory loss is an inevitable part of getting older. But is it? Although some memory loss should be expected, most comes from extraneous variables such as medication, disease, depression, or malnutrition. States of mind such as anxiety or fatigue may also affect one's memory. Of course, certain medical conditions such as a stroke or Alzheimer's disease impact memory. But most healthy adults experience lapses due to ordinary causes. Recent research shows activities that engage the mind can improve memory functions. Note your current memory status and how you perceive your beliefs about it. Research has found that confidence does affect performance.

Foundation Responding To Weevil Catches In Eradicated Zone

Weevils have been found in the Southern Rolling Plains, which was declared functionally eradicated in September 2000. Just how concerned should growers be? Although the catches are a concern to be watched, measures are in place to protect growers' investment in eradication, said Charles Allen, program director for the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation. "We have increased the number of traps in the area where the weevils were found and are being vigilant about checking those traps," he said. "Of course we treated the area as soon as the weevils were found to eliminate them."

A weevil was found in a trap northwest of San Angelo at the beginning of September. This weevil was thought to be a hitchhiker, which probably came in on cotton harvesting equipment, because it was caught in a field near a major highway. Four more weevils were caught three weeks later in the same field, and they could have been products of reproductive activity, Allen said.

"Our people have responded well to this incident and are keeping a close eye on the situation," he said. "Much of the crop in that area is at a mature stage, and this will help us out as well."

At maturity, cotton puts most of its energy into finishing the development of the bolls on the plant and is less attractive to weevils because the plant isn't producing the squares and immature fruit weevils seek for feeding and reproduction.

The Southern Rolling Plains Zone's status as functionally eradicated means that it qualifies for certain protections enacted by the state intended to protect it from reinfestation, usually referred to as quarantine regulations. The Texas Department of Agriculture is responsible for developing and enforcing these regulations.

Cotton and cotton products capable of sustaining weevils may not be brought into or through the zone, and cotton harvesting equipment such as harvesters and module builders must be thoroughly cleaned and free of weevils before passing into or through the zone.

The weevil catches do have a positive side, though. "You never want to find evidence of reinfestation in an eradicated zone," Allen said. "But if there's a positive in this situation, it's that we've all been reminded of the need for vigilance. We just can't have dirty equipment coming into eradicated zones. TDA has responded to the situation, trying to develop ways of tightening enforcement, and the growers will be even more watchful in the future."

Growers with questions about the quarantine rules may contact their local Eradication office or TDA at 800-TELL-TDA. Producers may report suspected violations to TDA as the same number.

The Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation is a nonprofit, grower-initiated and funded organization dedicated to eliminating the cotton boll weevil from the state in the most cost effective and environmentally responsible manner possible.

Program To Offer Entertaining Ideas

Ideas for decorating, entertaining and gift-giving will be highlighted during the "Celebrate 2002" program to be presented by area Extension Agents Tuesday, October 22, at the Texas A&M Extension and Research Center, 6400 Amarillo Blvd., West, Amarillo, Texas.

The program will be presented twice on the 22nd with the first session beginning at 1:30 p.m. and the evening presentation at 6:30 p.m. Doors will open for registration 30 minutes before the scheduled program time.

Advanced tickets for the program are now available in Silverton for $8 each from the Extension office, in the Briscoe County Courthouse. Local ticket sales will end at 4 p.m. on Monday, October 21st. Tickets will be sold at the door on the 22nd at a cost of $10 per person.

Todd Williams, County Extension Agent for Agriculture and Natural Resources from Rockwell, Texas, will present a lively and educational demonstration on "Holiday Decorating with a Natural Flair."

In addition to William's presentation, 20 Extension Agents from the Panhandle District will display tables of prepared foods, decorating motifs and entertaining notions. Party ideas for all seasons will be featured, including, Autumn Harvest, Christmas and New Year's, Beach and Summer parties and much more. Guests will have the opportunity to sample a variety of main dishes, desserts, appetizers and beverages. A packet of instructions, illustrations and recipes will be given to each "Celebrate" guest.

Cotton News
 By Shawn Wade
 from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Disaster Assistance; DCP Implementation Issues Top PCG Weekly Activities

Issues affecting cotton producers come and go on a daily basis and Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers has been sifting through them all in an attempt to keep the focus on the critical need for a 2001-2002 drought assistance package.

PCG continues to contact key Congressional and Administration officials urging the completion of a drought assistance package. A word of warning accompanying that message of need, however, is that any drought package that is approved should not come at the expense of, or contribute to, the loss of hard won farm bill provisions.

The Senate has already approved an amendment containing drought assistance, and fended off an attempt to modify the new Farm Bill, by attaching drought assistance to the Interior Department Appropriations bill.

Unfortunately that Interior Appropriations bill is still bogged down in a philosophical debate over how to manage the nation's forest lands.

Because of the stalemate over the Interior Department bill, it appears there is a greater chance that drought assistance will have to find a new home. One possibility is to have it become part of any Continuing Resolution that might be necessary to keep government operating while Congress adjourns to deal with the rapidly approaching 2002 midterm elections.

That might possibly be the best vehicle to get the assistance passed, and drought impacted growers across the nation will no doubt watch closely as the process plays itself out over the next two weeks.

DCP Sign-Up Around The Corner

With the passing of October 1st, State and Local Farm Service Agency offices are gearing up and getting ready to start signing people up for the new Direct/Counter-cyclical Program (DCP).

Growers who haven't done so need to get their records squared away and be prepared to make choices in regard to base and yield update options when they go in.

On issue that has not yet been fully resolved is the method in which Yield Plugs will be administered. Significant discussions on this issue are ongoing and no final determination has yet been announced.

Being prepared is the key and growers are encouraged to not wait until the last minute to make some preliminary decision in this regard.

Sign-up will run through April 1, 2003 and should afford plenty of opportunity for growers to modify earlier base/yield decisions up until that time if necessary.

Texas Department Of Agriculture Seeking Historic Farms & Ranches

Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs announced recently that the Texas Department of Agriculture is seeking applications for the 2002 Family Land Heritage Program, which recognizes farms and ranches that have been in continuous agricultural operation by the same family for 100, 150, and 200 years. Since the program started in 1974, almost 3,700 farms and ranches have been recognized in 219 Texas counties.

Farms and ranches that qualify will be honored during a ceremony in Austin in March 2003. The history of the farm or ranch will be chronicled in the 2002 registry. Honorees can also obtain historic farm or ranch signage for their property.

Program applications are available through TDA, county judges and on TDA's website at www.agg.state.tx.us. For more information, contact Family Land Heritage Coordinator, Melissa Burns-Blair, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711 or (512) 463-2631.

Observations Of Life From A Fellow Texan
By Bill Sperry

The Red Clay Hill

I learned to ride a bicycle off a red clay hill. It was my youngest sister's bike, a girl's bike! I was determined to ride that thing and there were several death defying collisions at the bottom of that hill. I guess it was a good thing I finally learned as I had enough sores on me to look like Lazarus. That bicycle didn't have a chain guard on it and it would eat your pant's leg if it got the chance. This was one hungry bicycle, as it didn't have any pedals, just the rods sticking out and it would bite your ankles if your foot was wet and it slipped off. I finally mastered that blue monster and to teach it manners, rode the wheels off it.

That red clay hill was always bad luck. My sister owned a green hat that she wore everywhere. Even from a distance, you could tell it was her because of that green hat. That sister, just being older than me, loved to pull pranks on me and I was very suspicious when she wanted to be around me. After one of her many pranks, she was standing near the seed granary, about thirty yards away, giggling about one she had really pulled over on me. I was standing on that red clay hill, picked up a rock, just the right size, and lofted it way up in the air. It was supposed to drop somewhere close to her, just as a warning. It was close all right, right on top of the head. Blood flew, the green hat was ruined, and the south side of me was turned a deeper color than it was intended to be.

Every evening it was one of the chores to milk and feed the pigs. We always kept two five-gallon buckets on the back porch for table scraps to be put into and fed to the pigs. This particular day it was cold and icy, slick as glass. Pop decided it was about that time, so off he went, toward the barn with those two five gallon buckets. That red clay hill stood, as an adversary, daring anyone to get down it. I guess dad thought he was up to it, so down it he went. Down it he really went, sliding, slipping, and hanging on to those buckets for dear life. He slid around the barn, out of sight, in complete silence, just like in a movie. Then it sounded like a small war had started with all the banging that went on. He came back into view, raking those table scraps off himself and saying something I was just as glad not to hear.

I guess that red clay hill still is the champeen! We never mastered it!

Texas Cooperative Extension To Offer Food Service Manager Certification Course

Statistics indicate that foodborne illness continues to be a health issue in the United States. Almost 50 cents of every food dollar is spent on food prepared away from home. Therefore, careful attention to food safety is extremely important.

Food safety is a top concern of Texas. During the 2001 legislative session, rules were enacted to provide authority to require food manager certification. Recently, the Texas Department of Health approved rules requiring each foodservice establishment under Texas Department of Health jurisdiction have one certified food manager. Under these rules, new food manager certificates will be valid for 5 years.

Texas Cooperative Extension, Gray County, is offering a foodservice manager certification training. This two-day program will be offered for $79 on October 14-15 at the Gray County Annex. A one day training will be offered for $65 on November 18 at the Gray County Annex for foodservice managers who have previously been certified. Cost includes training, breaks, materials, and the State food manager certification examination.

This program is designed to not only prepare foodservice managers to pass the certification examination; the program will also provide valuable education regarding the safe handling of food to protect consumers from getting foodborne illnesses.

Foodborne illnesses can be prevented by following simple food safety practices. For more information about the Food Protection Management Training Program of Texas Cooperative Extension, called "Food Safety: It's Our Business", call Joan Gray at 669-8033.

TFU Calls On House To Act Now On Disaster Emergency Assistance

Texas Farmers Union (TFU) President Wes Sims, a farmer from Sweetwater, Texas, recently called on the United States House of Representatives to pass emergency legislation for farmers and ranchers hard hit by natural disaster in the 2001 and 2002 crop years.

Citing an economic analysis by Dr. Darryl Ray, Institute of Agriculture, University of Tennessee, Sims said that, "only twice since 1934 has net farm income been this bad," and "This is only the forecast. I believe the situation could be even worse than the August 20 USDA report, especially for farmers and ranchers already in two years in a row of natural disasters."

Last week, representatives Cuban, R-Wyo. and Pomeroy, D-N.D., offered legislation, which mirrors a bipartisan amendment passed by the Senate by a vote of 79 to 16. "We must convince the House of Representatives and President Bush to support this extremely important legislation because rural America does not have the time nor the luxury for a recess until this bill is passed," stated Sims.

GOD'S LOVE LIGHTS THE FIRE IN THE COLORS OF AUTUMN

The light of the departing sun we find
The heat of summer days is left behind
And frosty nights allow us to behold
The leaves arrayed in flaming red and gold
Before their brilliant colors turn to brown
And then, detached by wind, come drifting down
Till every branch is stripped completely bare
And pungent smoke of bonfires fills the air
It's harvest time in every farmer's field
When crops that feed our nation with their yield
Are gathered from the ground and off the vine
According to the heavenly design
Whatever House of Worship you attend
The lessons there will help you comprehend
This season that the love of God has planned
When autumn's blazing colors paint the land
