Abductions Attempts Continuing in Area

The Childress and Memphis police are again asking for assistance in an ongoing investigation into the attempted abduction of several children in their towns. The saga began last May with the reports of a man in a dark colored car, and/or pickup, attempting to lure children (male and female) ages 3-14 into his vehicle.

The nightmare began again last week at Childress Elementary, as a seven-year old Childress boy made his way home from school. The man told the youth, "Your sister has been hurt...come with me."

The second incident occurred shortly before 7 p.m., on Wednesday, again near the elementary campus, involving a seven-year old girl at play. A man fitting the same physical description drove up and told her "I've got some candy for you...I'll buy you a new bicycle and I'll take you to the park every time you want to go, if you'll come get in my car."

Police responded within two minutes, but were unable to locate the man or the vehicle.

The description is the same as the last summer reports. Male: age and nationality unknown, dark hair, dark mustache, short beard and light colored eyebrows. Vehicle: small, dark color, damage to the front portion and a broken right tail light. A dark pickup was reported in the summer offenses also.

According to Police Chief Jim Trulove, the suspect may not live in Childress, by there being two months time lapse in attempts. He also noted that in July, in addition to trying to talk to the children, the man has taken pictures of the children and had tried to obtain information about different children by questioning by phone.

A late report of yet another incident occurred last Friday at 3:15 p.m. at the Church of Christ parking lot in Childress, near the elementary school. Childress Police and school officials are urging parents to be extremely careful in watching their children, and not to take any chances. "We can't stress enough the danger of the situation. We aren't blowing it out of proportion," states the Childress Police Chief.

A seven-year old Stamford girl has been missing since September 2, 1988. She had walked one block from her home to a convenience store to buy a soft drink. Posters of the child and a suspect have been circulated.

Public Meeting On Boll Weevil Scheduled For November 1

Briscoe County Judge, Jimmy Ross has scheduled an open meeting for the public to meet and voice their opinion concerning the reinstatement of the Boll Weevil Control Program in Briscoe County. The meeting will be held in the Community Building in Quitaque on Tuesday, November 1, 1988, at 6:30 p.m.

Ross met with Donald Johnson, executive vice-president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. on Monday, October 24, 1988, in Lubbock concerning the county's need for the control program. Also attending the meeting were Dan Rummel of the Lubbock office of Texas A & M, Ray Moritz and Johnny

Anderson. In an interview, Judge Ross stated "If the people of Briscoe County want this, now is their opportunity. I can not stress the urgency for the public to attend this meeting. If Briscoe County wants the control program reinstated, they the people, the farmers, must convince this group from the Cotton Growers. So I urge all interested citizens to attend."

As I See It!

By Thelma Gafford

With all the sickness in our communities, and families, we now have to be alerted of a sicko in our area trying to abduct children. And don't think it can't happen to us, look at the family in Stamford. The papers are full of it, asking for any assistance in locating the child, or her abductor. The child is seven years old, and had gone to the store for a coke, one-half block from her home on September 2. It can happen, and does happen in rural communities like ours. I know I am to relaxed when my children are outside playing, it's a habit I've gotten into and enjoyed since moving from Lubbock. Until we hear of an incident in the media, we have a tendency to think it won't happen in our neighborhood. Hopefully, it won't.

Our children will be out trick-or-treating Monday night, and the whole idea of doing it is to get free candy and get scared. I for one will be tagging along with my little one, in costume, of course. Kids like to see us parents have fun with them, mine will probably even help me get dressed up. I encourage you with little ones to do so, too. If my memory serves me correctly, trick-or-treating is fun, and being scared is fun, as long as you know it's a friend scaring you. Besides having fun with the little ones, you can keep an eye on those bigger ones, too! And they'll never suspect a thing. Ha... I love it already! Oh, by the way, buy yourself a can of that string stuff, you will need something to defend yourself with. Remember the Bon Fire, we parents were not armed....

On a serious note, please advise your children of the incidents in our area, it's up to us grow-ups to do all we can to protect our children.

Have a fun Halloween night Monday, and please don't hassle me as I go about my trick-or-treating, just let me have my fun. See you on the street.

Abduction Attempts

The recent instances bring the total to about nine having been reported to the department.

"In some cases he has asked childrer. if they want candy. Other times he has asked them about their parents. . . whether they are at home. He talks to children from the vehicle and it doesn't matter if they are playing in a yard or behind a fence," officer Billy Blacksher told The Index in July.

Officers have been patrolling the elementary campus since school began last month and school officials are being requested by the department to help patrol the area as well.

Childress County Sheriff's Office as well as Department of Public Safety and surrounding law enforcement agencies have been notified of the attempts and are "on the look out for the suspect and the vehicle."

The police department currently has no connection with the telephone inquiries made at the beginning of this school term by an unknown person, who said she was with Childress County School Census and the attempted abductions. However, parents are still advised NOT to give out information over the phone about their children regardless of their ages.

Parents are warned to be cautious and report any suspicious activity. Anyone with any type of information should contact Childress Police Department 937-2546.

FmHA To Activate New Loan Program

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is preparing to activate a loan program designed to help members of socially disadvantaged groups, including minorities, acquire land for farming. J. Lynn Futch, FmHA State Director, said today.

Under the new program, FmHA will try to find persons in those categories who are interested in farming and can qualify for an FmHA farm ownership loan. The Agency would also be prepared to sell or lease to them a farm held in its inventory if any are available in the county, Futch said.

FmHA can also provide other loan and technical assistance, if needed to help the borrower get started.

The new program was included in the agricultural credit act signed earlier this year, Futch said, and funds have been reserved for farm purchases based on the population of socially disadvantaged persons.

The population of such persons range from as low as 1 percent in some New England and mid-western states to highs of 68 percent in Hawaii, 57 percent in New Mexico, and somewhat lower percentages in southeastern states. Population groups involved are Hispanics, Native Americans, Blacks, Asians and Pacific Islanders.

Persons who think they might be eligible and who are farming or who would like to become farmers are urged to contact the Farmers Home Administration county office serving their area, Futch said.

White House accused of oil plot

Skepticism greets report that says 1986 crash was staged

By CLAY ROBISON
Houston Chronicle Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — A Washington-based consumer organization has issued a report accusing the Reagan administration, major oil companies and Saudi Arabia of orchestrating the plunge in world oil prices that helped devastate the Texas economy in 1986.

The report, released a month before the presidential election, was denied by the administration and the campaign of Vice President George Bush, the Republican presidential nominee. The study was greeted with skepticism by some independent producers, who were hit hard when Texas oil prices plummeted from an average $27 a barrel in December 1985 to $11 a barrel seven months later.

The Citizen/Labor Energy Coalition, which represents labor unions and consumer groups in 25 states, based its conclusions on a circumstantial string of government documents, interviews with industry officials, and newspaper, magazine and trade press accounts of the period.

"There was a common understanding, and even perhaps a common strategy, reached at the highest levels of the Reagan-Bush administration, the Aramco partners and the government of Saudi Arabia to reduce the price of oil," the coalition said.

"These powerful forces worked together because of mutual economic interests and because each desired lower prices for a variety of economic and political reasons."

Aramco is a Saudi-owned oil company that has an operating arrangement with four major U.S. firms — Mobil Oil Corp., Exxon, Texaco Inc. and Chevron. Spokesmen for Aramco, Mobil and Exxon declined to comment on the allegations. A Texaco spokesman called them "patently absurd," and a Chevron spokesman said they were "beyond ridiculous."

Department of Energy spokesman Phil Keif said he hadn't seen the report, but he denied the agency would be involved in manipulating oil prices.

"Heavens no. That's totally contrary to our whole basic policy," he said.

A spokesman for Secretary of the Interior Donald Hodel, who was energy secretary during part of the period covered by the study, said the report's conclusions were "ridiculous." Hodel, he said, "certainly would not be part of any effort to drive down prices at the expense of the oil-producing states."

Reggie Bashur, Bush's deputy campaign director in Texas, said there was "some question as to the motivation of this particular group involved in issuing this report. We simply stand by what the Reagan administration said, that the allegations are ridiculous."

According to the consumer study, the Reagan administration wanted to boost economic growth, "even if it meant damaging the domestic oil industry," and the Saudis wanted to increase oil production. The administration and the Saudis, for "geopolitical purposes," also may have wanted to reduce Iranian oil revenues, the report suggested.

Aramco's four American partners saw an opportunity to purchase oil and gas properties made less costly by the crash and to increase sales and profits in oil refining and marketing, even if they suffered lower short-term profits, the report said.

Edwin S. Rothschild, the coalition's assistant director and author of the report, said the Aramco companies were instrumental in devising a mechanism — netback pricing — under which the world market was flooded with oil and prices were pushed down.

Under such an arrangement, the price of purchased crude oil is determined by the price of the refined petroleum products sold, less refining and transportation costs.

"Under this arrangement it would make sense for refiners to produce more products than the market needed. This would contribute to a lowering of wholesale product prices, which, under the netback, drove down crude prices," Rothschild said.

The report concluded that Saudi Arabia's decision to accept the netback pricing arrangement was influenced by a reduction in Saudi oil purchases by the Aramco partners and a "Reagan administration insisting that the world would be better off with lower oil prices."

Rothschild attempted to tie the administration to the oil price crash by referring to a series of occasions on which representatives of the administration spoke publicly in favor of lower prices. He said then-Treasury Secretary Donald Regan, in a memorandum to Hodel in August 1984, said lower oil prices "would bring benefits to almost everybody."

Rothschild also noted that Regan, in a review of the impact of a substantial price decline, had concluded in February 1983 that such a decrease would provide "unambiguous" benefits to the economy.

The consumer group's report said the Reagan administration also helped push oil prices down by agreeing to a devaluation of the dollar relative to foreign currencies in September 1985.

The devaluation not only expanded

U.S. exports but also lowered the price of oil to Europe and Japan and, the report said, helped Saudi Arabia because "a large portion of its financial reserves were held in non-U.S. currencies."

Rothschild said a recently declassified telegram from the U.S. embassy in Riyadh to the secretary of state in February 1986 noted that about half of the Saudis' financial reserves were held in other currencies, which had "appreciated handsomely in dollar terms over the past year."

The report acknowledged that American consumers obtained some benefit from lower oil prices but contended the Aramco companies and other major oil firms kept gasoline and other petroleum products at prices "significantly above competitive levels" for several months in 1986.

"I think they've got some smoke there, but I don't think they've found the fire," said independent producer A.H. Wadsworth of Houston.

He said he had never heard of the Citizen/Labor Energy Coalition until last week and called its report "circumstantial." But he added, "I don't have a doubt in my own mind that there's something we don't know about, and we probably never will know about it."

Another Houston independent operator, Marvin C. Zeid, noted it was a "fairly well known fact that there were those within the administration, such as Don Regan... who believed the economy would be better" with lower oil prices.

"But as far as a conspiracy is concerned, I find it difficult to see there would be much of a gain since much of the administration's support came from the oil industry," he added.

Tony Lentini, a spokesman for Mitchell Energy and Development Corp., said the report's conclusions sounded "kind of far-fetched." But he added, "It's scandalous the way the government has ignored our growing dependence on OPEC, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries."

"High on My Family II" premieres Thursday, October 27, at 7:00 p.m. in the First Baptist church Fellowship Hall in Silverton.

There's Rocky II and Dundee II and now there's "High on My Family II", the continuation of the family series which opened in September.

But don't set the VCR to tape this--come out to the premiere of this family production.

Dr. Martha Couch will star as the Extension version of Erma Bombeck in "That's Entertainment," a feature on family recreation and how families can spend time together and combat the "I'm-so-bored-there's-nothing-to-do" syndrome.

"Free to Be Me" will be the second feature about the importance of self esteem in families. Yours truly will produce this segment.

A free nursery will be provided for your little munchers so the whole family can attend this showing. (We might even provide popcorn.)

Star this date on your calendar and plan to be there. There's probably nothing on TV except the World Series.

The Extension Home Economics Committee is directing this production to help families be the best they can be.

Nuevo Study Club

The Turkey Nuevo Study Club is sponsoring open house at the Turkey Hotel Sunday afternoon October 30 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Johnson is the son of the late Chat Johnson who grew up in Turkey and now his son and wife has returned to Turkey to operate this historical hotel for the benefit of the town and community, so do come out and make this couple welcome in our community.

THE GREAT REPUBLICAN GIVE-AWAY

"Japan is now in a position to influence the value of the dollar, U.S. interest rates and stock prices on Wall Street...and we may do so."

— Masaru Yoshitomi, Director General Japanese Economic Planning Agency September 30, 1988

Foreigners are buying America on the cheap and the Republicans say it's good news that more and more of us have foreign bosses.

The Republicans have refused to adopt a tough trade policy and now foreigners own 10% of our manufacturing base, 20% of our banks and over 33% of the prime commercial real estate in our nation's capital, Houston and many other cities.

Eight short years ago foreigners owed America billions, now we owe them over $385 billion—a debt our children and grandchildren will be paying for years to come.

And all the while the Republicans have even blocked efforts to require that foreigners disclose their skyrocketing American holdings.

TEXAS AND AMERICA DESERVE BETTER

Democrats want to see America reclaim control of its economic future. That means:

- putting an end to unfair trade practices that subsidize foreign goods and close markets to U.S. products...
- enforcing this year's historic trade legislation which was passed by Democrats despite Republican opposition...
- and adopting Texas-sponsored legislation to require that foreigners disclose their U.S. holdings—just as foreigners force Americans to do in every other major industrial nation.

Host Families Sought After

Host families are being sought for high school students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, W. Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Ecuador, Australia and Japan in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in late August 1989, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in early July 1990. Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their local school representatives in their home country and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host Families should enjoy teenagers and have a genuine interest in learning about the customs and culture of another country and desire to share American traditions with a foreign student.

For further information call the State Coordinator or Toll Free: 1-800-SIBLING.

American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE) is a non-profit tax exempt educational foundation dedicated to fostering international understanding.

WHAT ABOUT US?

Japan is doing well.

Under 8 years of Republican rule, countless American jobs have been exported to Japan—and Japan has moved ever closer to controlling our economic future.

FACT: Japan now controls 17 of the world's 25 largest banks. The United States controls just one.

Saudi Arabia is doing well.

After 8 years of Republican rule, America still has no energy policy. The Saudi and other OPEC economies have boomed while the Texas economy has gone bust.

FACT: Texas has lost over 216,000 oil-related jobs in the last five years, while America's oil imports have jumped 20% in the past two years alone.

The international drug cartel is doing just great.

For 8 years the Republicans have talked tough about drugs but time and again have sought to slash funding for the war on drugs.

FACT: Under the Republicans cocaine smuggling has tripled, heroin trafficking increased 50% and the number of drug-related deaths doubled.

TEXAS AND AMERICA DESERVE BETTER

- Democrats helped save millions of American jobs by passing historic trade legislation this year.
- Democrats have adopted a Texas-proposed national energy policy that would significantly increase sales of Texas oil and natural gas and create tens of thousands of Texas jobs.
- Democrats are committed to standing up to drug kingpins like Panamanian strongman Manuel Noriega and to waging a real war on drugs on our streets here at home.

Bullock Unveiled Bill Of Rights

Bob Bullock, State Comptroller, Wednesday unveiled a taxpayer bill of rights that guarantees Texas taxpayers are treated with fairness, courtesy and common sense.

The taxpayer bill of rights is the result of many months of hard work and research by the Comptroller's staff, since the agency's taxpayer rights rules have never before been compiled into one document, according to Bullock.

Bullock said the Texas taxpayer bill of rights is the first of its kind in the nation. The Internal Revenue Service and several states are preparing similar guidelines.

Statewide distribution of the bill to state taxpayers will begin in September, according to Bullock.

To get a copy of the Texas Taxpayer Bill of Rights, call toll-free 1-800-252-5555, or write to: Bob Bullock, State Comptroller, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78774-0100.

Let your servants see what you can do for them, let their children see your glory.

-Psalm 90

Raising a family has never been an easy task, but today it is truly a formidable one. With so many pressures upon parents and youngsters alike, it is no wonder that many families are being torn apart. Placing your family in God's hands can help keep it together — a firm foundation, built on trust in the Lord, can help your home withstand the storm. We invite you to start building that foundation by bringing your family to the church of your choice this Sunday.

Caprock Soil District Taking Tree Orders

The Caprock Soil & Water Conservation District has begun taking orders for their annual windbreak tree sales. Orders will be taken through March 8, 1989.

A wide variety of evergreen and deciduous trees and shrubs are available to choose from. Prices range from 50 cents to $1.50 per barefoot tree, depending on species. Wildlife seedling packets for quail/pheasant, deer, turkey, and squirrel are also available for farmstead plantings.

Windbreak trees provide wind and snow protection as well as beautify a homestead. These trees are also permitted to be used under certain CRP contracts as shelter or wildlife habitat.

Advanced planning must be utilized for a successful establishment of windbreaks. The installation of a drip irrigation system is highly recommended for such establishment and is available through the Caprock SWCD. The Soil Conservation Service employees can help you in planning and design an irrigation system to fit your tree innovation.

Come by the SCS office or call 823-2320 to review all varieties of trees and place your order. Delivery date is expected to be March 15, 1989.

-Psalm 31

How comforting it is to know that God is indeed our stronghold, that we can always turn to him when we feel we are in danger. That is the key — to turn to Him in time of trouble. So many of us try to do it all ourselves and become overwhelmed by the obstacles in front of us. If we can just remember that He is always there — upholding us every moment we take breath. Come and learn about this loving and eternal God at the church of your choice this Sunday.

Magical Halloween Creations

This year serve "Trick or Treaters" festive Halloween goodies like Goblin's Crunch pieces, topped with a variety of sweet ingredients including delightfully colorful "M&M's" Plain or Peanut Chocolate Candies. Before the costumed guests arrive, have some extra fun helping your kids decorate the Happy Pumpkin Faces and create tasty Trick or Treat Ghosts with "M&M's" Chocolate Candies.

TRICK OR TREAT GHOSTS

White fabric or tissue paper
"M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies
Thin orange or black ribbon
Black felt or black marker

For each ghost, cut two 8-inch squares of fabric. Place both squares of fabric flat on top of each other and place 1 tablespoon candies in center. Gather fabric up and around the candies; tie with ribbon. The candies become the head and the fabric is the body. Cut eye shapes from felt and glue on the head (or color onto the fabric with marker).

Remove cookies to wire rack to cool. Spread with frosting; decorate with plain or peanut candies. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen cookies.

GOBLIN'S CRUNCH

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup light brown sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt
24 graham cracker squares
1/2 cup "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies or 1 cup "M&M's" Peanut Chocolate Candies
1/2 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

Preheat oven to 375°F. Line a 15 x 10-inch jelly roll pan with foil; lightly grease foil. In 3-quart saucepan, combine butter, sugars, corn syrup and salt; bring to a boil over medium heat. Continue to boil gently 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat; pour half the mixture onto bottom of prepared pan, spreading evenly to cover. Immediately press graham crackers into pan, creating a single layer. Pour remaining mixture evenly over crackers, spreading evenly to coat. Bake 8 minutes. Sprinkle with candies and nuts, pressing in lightly; cool thoroughly. Remove from pan and remove foil; break up into pieces. Makes one 15 x 10-inch pan of crunch.

HAPPY PUMPKIN FACES

2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup solid shortening
2 eggs
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 cups uncooked quick oats
1 cup "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies
1 can (16 oz.) frosting, tinted with food coloring if desired
"M&M's" Plain or Peanut Chocolate Candies for decoration

Preheat oven to 350° F. In large mixing bowl, beat sugar, butter and shortening until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in flour, baking soda, salt and cinnamon; fold in oats and plain candies. On baking sheets, place heaping tablespoons of dough, about 3 inches apart. Shape dough into an oval. Add a bit of dough for a stem. Bake 12 to 14 minutes or until golden.
