Patterson Pleads Party Unity at Polls Tuesday

In 1896 William Jennings Bryan was requested to leave the Democratic party and join the Populist party which was at that time advocating many reforms for which Mr. Bryan stood. He replied that when he wished to clean house he would not go over to the home of his neighbor to commence. He remained with the Democratic party and fought her battles for the reforms for which he stood, during the remainder of his life. Many of his admirers, in the absence of his great leadership, have drifted from their party, scattering into the Republican and Independent parties, with the result that the Democratic party has lost their counsel and leadership and is weakened in some of its former policies and purposes.

American history reveals that no third party has long survived in this Republic. They spring up and flourish for a season and pass on. The country then returns either to the Democratic party, that has ever stood as the tribune of the people's rights, or to the Republican party that has been the champion of a centralized government and the patron of industry and organized wealth.

If the Democrats of Texas, who have dropped from the ranks of their party, expect to ever accomplish the principles and reforms for which they stand, they must make their fight in their own household.

Ridpath, the great historian, in discussing the people of the Mexican Republic, records the fact that they are incapable of maintaining a Republic, because in political contests the losing faction will not yield to the majority. He says that a nation can not maintain a Republican form of government and that her people are incapable of self-government when they refuse to bow to the will of the majority.

It is my hope, and I sincerely urge, that every Democrat of Eastland county remain in our party, regardless of whether the nominees for president and governor be our individual choices or not. They have been chosen in the manner provided by our party and the laws of our country. Let us be good sports—not quitters—and exert our best efforts within our own ranks to secure the declaration and accomplishment of those principles and reforms necessary to the welfare of our country. Let us fight for our individual ideals within our party and if they be right they will finally prevail; but by all means let us be united in our fight against the party or parties whose doctrines and principles are contrary to those principles so long espoused by our Democratic leaders. It seems to me that we can hope sooner to accomplish our ideals of simon pure democracy by voting for our Democratic nominees, and especially for Roosevelt for president and for Ferguson for governor.

EXEMPTIONS UNNECESSARY TO VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

The Cisco Citizen has been requested to state who can vote in next Tuesday's election, and whether exemption certificates are necessary for those who have reached 60 years of age. Every person of sound mind who has reached the age of 21 years, paid his or her poll tax, and not a public charge, or who is 60 years old, and those who have become of age since January 1, 1932, may cast their vote the election next Tuesday for county, state and national officers. Those who are 60 years of age, and those who have become of age before the election, are not required to pay a poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

Some who have moved into Texas from other states requiring voters to register are under the impression that registration is required in Texas. You don't register in this state. If you are over age, or having reached your majority before election, the polling officer may require you to make an oath to this effect, but in cities under 10,000 population no exemption certificate is required.

JAKE'S CAFE NOW IN NEW BRICK LOCATION

Jake's cafe is now open in its new brick home, next to Hyatt & Woods Grocery on South D Avenue, where splendid menus are served. This brick building replaces a wooden structure that was formerly the home of Jake's Cafe, but about three months ago the old frame building was demolished, and a modern brick building erected on that location.

Jake Stuard is the owner of Jake's Cafe, and is responsible for the present brick structure, which he completed for his cafe home about three weeks ago. In building this new brick Mr. Stuard set a record of building the only brick structure during 1932 in this city. He is not only the owner of this building, but is also the owner of the brick building in which Hyatt & Woods are located.

Do Cisco People Believe Home Industry Is Essential?

Do we believe in building industries for Cisco? Maybe. But "By their fruits ye shall know them." That's the best evidence of our sincerity. If we are sincere in advocating our support of home enterprises we can only prove this by our actions. You can have monthly "Smoker," Rotarian and Lions clubs, yea, chamber of commerce, but if we continue to patronize out-of-town business while our infant industries starve, our protestations for home enterprises is but "sounding brass and tinkling timbrels." Nothing to it.

If you believe in Cisco patronize institutions, if not, just admit that you prefer to be an annex of one of the larger cities of Texas, and quite camouflaging.

But why is a Rotary Club? Why is a Lions Club, or even a chamber of commerce unless they function for the welfare of Cisco? These are questions that are vital. If these organizations do nothing for the advancement of the community they have no excuse for existence. We cannot name a single meritorious project either have sponsored or prosecuted to a successful issue for Cisco.

Cisco has infant industries that are credits to the community, and if supported and boosted by these three civic organizations would flourish as the proverbial green bay tree.

We refer especially to the Independent Mattress Factory and the White Star Refinery, etc. Both are home institutions and employ people who spend their wages with Cisco merchants.

R. M. A. Not A Luxury

Then we have a Retail Merchants Association, which can only function perfectly if given perfect cooperation. Do our business folk give this association the support it deserves? You know better than I do. A Retail Merchants Association is not a luxury, neither is it a charitable institution, but does or would, function for the benefit of the entire community if given perfect cooperation. The civic societies can make it function with 100 percent support.

Of course it is the business of its members, but we laymen, those without a "classification," see very little benefit in weekly luncheons where some person sings a song, plays a fiddle, reads a poem or gives at talk which all applaud but nobody has heard, and then go back to their daily grind with only an appetite appeased and the body refreshed. Nothing constructive accomplished. Isn't that hour wasted.

But to establish our insincerity in professing to a desire to build up something worth while I shall mention some shortcomings in community cooperation.

I shall refer to the home industries mentioned above the refinery and mattress factory, specifically. Both are home institutions, both manufacturing products that are equal to that produced in any other locality. But do you call for White Star products when your car needs refueling or lubricant? If you do you are loyal to your community. Do you ask for Slumber-On-Beds when you go to your dealer to get a mattress? If you do you are helping to build Cisco. If you do not your talks at the smokers, Rotary and Lions clubs are for naught. The Independent Mattress Co. manufactures a bed second to none on the market, and if given that cooperation it deserves Cisco beds would be slept on in every hotel and most of the homes in West Texas.

Federal Farm Loans Being Promptly Paid And Other Loans Being Made Weekly

Farmers owing federal farm loans in this section of Texas are meeting their payments promptly, according to M. D. Paschall & Son, local farm loan agents.

"We have a clientele of about 380 farmers within a radius of 40 miles of Cisco." Mr. Paschall stated. Our collections on farm loans amount to $11,800 twice each year, and this agency is less than $500 delinquent on these collections. This $23,620, with the exception of about $500, has been collected and remitted to headquarters. Our information is that this is one of the best records in the state. None of the black land agencies can boast of such a record. Some agencies report collection of less than 50 percent.

"We are told that many of the agencies are not making any new loans, but this is not the case with the Cisco agency. We are making new loans nearly every month, and the old loans are being paid promptly as they become due. A few days ago we made a loan to one of our former clients of $1,500, who used $1,100 to pay off a mortgage on his farm, and saved it from being foreclosed and the loss of his home.

Paying Loans in Cash

"Don't ask me where they are getting the money to pay their loans. I don't know. But I do

Mrs. Phillip Pettit Cisco Member Board Co. Welfare New

Mrs. Phillip Pettit responded from Cisco to the call of Judge Clyde Garrett when several women of the county met in the commissioners court room Tuesday of last week to form a county welfare board. Mrs. Nettie S. Myers, of Henrietta, assistant in the state child welfare work, was present and explained the work. A county organization was perfected when the following were enrolled as members:

Mrs. Saundra Gregg, Ranger, chairman; Mrs. Phillip Pettit, Cisco; Mrs. F. C. Oldham, Gorman; Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, Eastland; Mrs. G. N. Howard, Rising Star; Mr. Walter Harwell, Ranger and Mr. Hart Agnew Cisco.

The next meeting is called for Nov. 18, 2:00 p. m. in the courthouse at Eastland.

WELFARE WORKERS NOW LOCATED IN NEW HOME

The Cisco welfare workers are now located in a new home for the work of caring for the needy of Cisco. The lower floor of the Mancill building, opposite the city hall, has been secured, and the labor of love is there being performed.

I passed the welfare headquarters recently, and it did my heart glad to see those noble women and girls as busy as the hirelings of a sweat shop bending over sewing machines making garments for those unfortunates who will be the beneficiaries of their labor when the rigors of winter shall have made it necessary that many will be compelled to ask charity to keep their bodies warm. Cloth furnished to Cisco by the American Red Cross Society, thousands of yards, is being cut, sewed and turned into finished garments by the self-sacrificing women of Cisco. Many will be supplied with new rainment this winter, made available by these women. Then I could not help but repeat: "Truly it is more blessed to give than to receive," and "Sweet indeed are the deeds of charity."

know that they are paying off, and paying in cash, and the money they borrow should be spent with Cisco merchants. I am sorry this is not the case.

"It seems to me that these farmers could be induced to do their trading in Cisco if the proper efforts were put forth, but it can't be done by compelling a farmer to have a health certificate before he can peddle his fruit or vegetables on our streets. I was told that the city authorities exacted a health certificate from people who were peddling apples on North D Avenue lately, and as a result they left the location, and some stopped selling. I can see nothing wrong in protecting local merchants in every manner that is reasonable, but we can be too strict in enforcing some of our city ordinances when they apply to local farmers. It creates an unfriendly impression, and drives trade away from Cisco.

Better Parking Space

"I notice we have a five minute parking regulation now on Broadway between D and E avenues, in front of the postoffice. I am afraid we are carrying our metropolitan regulations a bit too far in a country town like Cisco has become. While it might be advisable to have some regulation against congesting the street in front of the postoffice, and perhaps the five minute rule is long enough, as this parking is only used by Cisco people, but I believe we should favor more liberal parking regulations for our country customers.

"I heard a farmer say recently that when he comes to town he had to park his car out in South Cisco, as there were no reservations in the business district. Some such reservations should be made, and that, too, in the business district. Why not reserve the block on West Seventh street between F and E avenues, and let it be known that this space is only for the cars of farmers. It is within one block of Main Street, and cars parked there could remain all day without blocking traffic. Do this, and if this is not enough space make additional reservations on Broadway and West Sixth street. Let's do something to break down this sentiment that Cisco is an unfriendly city. Make the farmer feel that he is welcome to the best convenience we have, and when he peddles his produce forget about him not having a health certificate."

Better Livestock Association to be Perfected Nov. 7

To perfect an organization to be known as the Eastland County Better Livestock Association a call has been issued for next Monday, Nov. 7, at the court house in Eastland at 2:00. The purpose of the organization is to encourage livestock people to breed and raise better livestock.

Responding to a call for preliminary meeting about 75 livestock people met recently at Eastland and discussed the plans for the organization in a round-table discussion. H. C. Davis, manager of the Eastland Retail Merchants Association, initiated the move. At this meeting a committee was appointed to present a plan of organization and report to the meeting next Monday. This committee consists of: Pat Butler, route 4, Ranger; Kid Mosely, route 4, Ranger; G. N. Collins, route 1, Eastland; Pearl Long, Ranger; W. B. White, Eastland; J. B. Johnson, Carbon; Guy Stoker, route 2, Eastland; J. W. Ray, Cisco; Jack Phippen, Dothan; C. H. Fee, Cisco; W. W. Gilbert, Carbon; George Barton, Ranger; John Sims, Ranger; Dick Grey, Gorman; Owen Hamilton, Ranger; Ruffus Cox, Rising Star; C. G. Shultz, Rising Star; John Thurman, Ranger; Pink Stafford, Ranger; Claude Peck, Ranger; J. B. Long, route 4, Ranger; Till Wheat, rt. 2, Eastland; John Nix, rt. 2, Eastland; Lonie Andrus, Gorman; Bob Hodges, Gorman.

MISS LEAH GOLDBERG BRIDE OF H. SHAPIRO

Miss Leah Goldberg became the bride of Mr. Harry Shapiro, when the nuptial rites of this couple were celebrated at San Antonio Oct. 11. Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Goldberg, of Cisco, were present to attend the nuptials of their daughter. Mr. Shapiro is a prosperous business man of Raymondville, a thriving Rio Grande Valley town, where the newly weds will make their home. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goldberg, of this city, former proprietor of Blanche's, Cisco's then leading ladies ready to wear establishment, and her many friends here wish her a voyage of felicity on the sea of matrimony, where no storms may menace their matrimonial bark till it is finally anchored in Hymen's harbor.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

I will mention the loving kindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.—Isaiah 63:7.

You need not leave the grandeur of the hills,

Returning to the city's crowded streets;

The majesty of Spirit ever fills

The heart that each new day with courage greets.

—Una Rosamond Lias.

There is no national problem today of the first importance which is not also an international problem. Everybody recognizes this, statesmen and people alike. What is needed is the courage to act upon this knowledge and abjure the folly of trying to meet the deluge and the hailstones with whitewash and putty.—J. E. McFadyen, D. D., in British Weekly, London.

"TRIPPED AS HE PULLED THE TRIGGER"

Isn't it about time juries should make an example of certain officials who "trip up" just about the time they "fire to stop a fleeing prisoner?" News reports recently tell of a pistol-toting deputy, over in Durant, Okla., murdering an ex-service man whom he had arrested, while attempting to escape. The pistol-toter said "he stepped into a ditch just about the time he fired in the air" to stop his prisoner. Something peculiar about these accidental shots never missing when a pistol-toter trips as he is about to fire. A life sentence for "tripping" will make other pistol-toters more careful about their footing.

In the first place an officer has no right to shoot a man whom he has placed under arrest for attempting to get away. It is the duty of officers to hold their man when arrested, and not kill him. He can hand-cuff him, or summon the whole town to his aid, if he can't manage his prisoner, but certainly he has no right to shoot him except in self defense.

The ex-service man was arrested for disturbing the peace. He was not a desperado, and had he escaped it would have been no difficult matter to locate him the next morning, as the prisoner was a man of family, and there was no danger of him leaving his wife and child on account of a misdemeanor.

Altogether too many pistol-toters trip up just about the time they fire their six guns just "to stop a prisoner," and they rarely miss.

W. T. C. of C. SUPPORTS BULLINGTON

Wilbur C. Hawks, string newspaper owner, and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has announced that he will take the stump for Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for governor. Yet Hawks and his lieutenants of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, are asking support from Democrats of West Texas for his organization. Just why a loyal Texan should follow the lead of this imported Republican who would tell Texans how to vote can only be justified by the ego of Hawks, who evidently takes all of the people for saps. The fact is the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is no longer a constructive factor in West Texas advancement, as it seems to have become a mere tool and agent for the special interests and no longer functions along the lines that brought it into existence.

Many people are now asking: "Why is the West Texas Chamber of Commerce?" It is no longer functioning in the interest of the West Texas. In fact its usefulness fled when Porter Whaley left the organization. It was Whaley's child that was nurtured and matured by him, and when he left it the West Texas chamber died of inanition.

SHOULD REPUBLICANS SUPPORT BULLINGTON?

There is only one reason that a partisan Republican should vote for Bullington, and that reason is the same the Hoovercrats are advancing to induce Democrats to repudiate their pledge, and party loyalty. The Bullington aid society—Sterling, Sells, Moody, Crane, et al—are literally sowing Texas down with a marked sample ballot. This ballot was printed and is being circulated with the knowledge and consent of Bullington, and it favors voting for every nominee on the Democratic ticket except Mrs. Ferguson. Naturally Bullington favors the Democratic nominees or he would not consent for this marked ballot being circulated. If he favors Democrats and Republicans voting for the nominees of the Democratic party, from president to constable except for governor, then he has repudiated his own party and cannot consistently expect members of his own party to vote for him. But as loyal Republicans they should do so, for he is the nominee of his party, and as such, should have the support of all loyal and honest Republicans. But he is preaching party repudiation, and should not complain if members of his own party should vote against him next Tuesday.

This ballot is signed "Roosevelt-Garner-Bullington Club," the Bullington Aid Society of Texas, and has been distributed all over the state. But its effect will hardly boost the fortunes of the Hoovercrats, for few voters will be snared by this scheme.

Most people in Texas know how to mark their ballots and will resent being told how to vote. Talk about being independent, the fellow who follows these instructions is merely allowing himself to be voted by the most conscienceless political brigands that ever infested a free country.

Then, when you vote for Bullington, you are voluntarily placing the yoke of a party boss on your neck, for Bullington and his gang are not only controlled by the Republican party, but by one man—the Republican boss of Texas—R. B. Creager.

Teachers Oppose The Amendment Exempt Tax on Homesteads

Writing in the Dallas News, J. R. Donnell, of Corsicana, favors revolutionizing school finances, and points out that the Teachers' associations are exerting a powerful influence against any economies in changing the present educational system. Also, that the teachers, through their organizations, have launched a campaign to defeat the homestead amendment to exempt homes from taxation of $3,000 valuation.

Following is the letter of Mr. Donnell, and is worth consideration:

Because of the powerful influence of the school interests through the Texas Teachers' association, the Parent-Teacher associations and other organizations, editors and politicians fear to advocate economies and reforms needful in the system, from the public schools to the higher educational institutions. The school interests have more lobbyists around the capitol during sessions of the legislature than any other interests.

The Texas Teachers' association has started a campaign to try to prevent the adoption of the constitutional amendment to exempt homesteads of an assessed valuation of $3,000 because of anticipation of a reduction in school revenues. The teachers will be joined in this movement by all those who fear an income tax, so it behooves the home owners, those who would be home owners, and all who recognize the fact that to increase the proportion of home owners in Texas will better the class of citizenship of the state, to busy themselves in behalf of the proposed amendment.

A little more than $2,000,000 could be saved the school fund by eliminating the 6-year class of pupils, and probably an equal amount could be saved by making the per capita allotment on the basis of school attendance rather than the scholastic census. The adoption of the latter change would greatly improve the attendance averages. The saving thus resulting from the two changes would possibly wipe out the anticipated deficit in the school fund.

It is of most importance that children between the ages of 7 and 17 get the fundamentals of an education. If economizing must be done let it come before and after these ages.

We are holding down the production of oil to anticipated demand, and we tried to do the same as to the production of cotton; why not practice the same sensible methods as to the production of teachers, lawyers, doctors and other professionals? Why tax the people of Texas several millions of dollars to equip young men and young women to follow professions that are already badly overcrowded?

If the state would allot the pupils of municipal junior colleges the same amount as is allotted to the common school pupils, the junior colleges would spring up all over Texas, and boys and girls could get their first two years of collegiate education at home, which would be much better for the finances of the parents and the state and much better for the morals of young people.

It would be fairer to the taxpayer, and especially to those who are unable to support their children in university towns or cities, and better for those now engaged in the professions if all students were required to pay tuition in all the state educational institutions higher than the junior colleges.

If boys and girls have the right stuff they will find a way to complete their education beyond the junior college course. If they are not made of the right stuff the state is wasting money to give them this higher education.

W. Texas Utilities Developing Factor In Texas Progress

Samuel and Martin Insull's unpardonable sin was in running out from the consequences. They cannot be forgiven for that. But, whatever may be said of the Insulls, they have never run out on West Texas.

During the deluge of Insull news—all about Martin in the $20-a-week boarding house, Samuel's flight to Paris to Florence to Athens, Martin in jail, of Samuel the expatriate and fugitive—it is well to remember that the brothers dreamed of dependable electricity in small towns, on the farm; and that the West Texas Utilities company, remains, with the other operating units, to fulfill the dream.

It has not missed on the promise to pay, a few weeks ago distributing $117,000 in hard coin of the realm to its holders of $6 preferred stock, of whom 2,000 are West Texans. Last year it paid taxes amounting to $1,160 per day, and salaries and wages of $3,000 per day.

More can be said. The West Texas Utilities company has, every year, spent more money in the development and expansion of its properties than it has received in profits from their operation. In efficiency and good conduct it is one of West Texas' finest assets. Last week its operation, viewed for the first time, won the admiration of two hard-headed business men from Chicago, the receivers of the Middle West Utilities company, Messrs. Hurley and McCulloch.

The News pays it this tribute because, in the present emergency, its personnel have taken their medicine without complaint or whimper. Not one, from the president down to the porter in the general offices, has asked this newspaper, or any newspaper, to "go easy" or "give us a break."

DISPOSED OF SURPLUS OF POLAND CHINA HOGS

"I believe everybody reads the Citizen," said T. L. Lasseter Saturday. "I have disposed of all surplus Poland China hogs I had for trade, and the people are still coming and telling me about seeing my ad in the Cisco Citizen. Merchants, who really have anything to sell could profit by advertising in the Citizen, for I have thoroughly demonstrated that the people read it. If you have nothing to offer any other paper will do, but if you have bargains, and want to sell them, try the Cisco Citizen. The Citizen got results for me. I had something they wanted, and they saw my advertisement, and I have disposed of all I had."

Special Interests is O. Bullington's Private "Business"

Who is Orville Bullington? For the benefit of misguided and wavering Democratic voters let the record speak for Mr. Bullington, CORPORATION ATTORNEY, exclusively and absolutely. Here's the record, as given authentically from the official publication of the lawyers of the country, "The American Bar."

Passing over his birth date and place and other personal matters the line-up of his clients is given as follows: His firm is general for—

- "Wichita Falls & Southern Ry; "Clinton & Oklahoma Western Ry; "Wichita Falls & Northwestern Ry; "Seaboard Oil & Gas Company, "Shamrock Oil Company, "American Refining Properties, "Petroleum Producers Company, "Consolidated Oil Company, "Orient Petroleum Company, "Wichita Falls Window Glass Company, "Wichita Falls Cotton Oil Company, "Joyce Land & Cattle Company, "TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY, "Frank Kell Interests, "Wichita Times Publishing Company, "City National Bank of Wichita Falls."

Texas has had two years of sad experience with a "Big Business Man" as governor. Will the Democratic voters now repeat this deplorable mistake by electing another man of the same financial connections? With Sterling "big business" was represented under a one party label, but with Bullington both parties would be dominated by the same corporate interests. "Vote 'er straight."
