AMERICA CARRIES WAR TO THE JAPANESE

PEARCE WILL GIVE A. AND M. ADDRESS

COLLEGE STATION, May 14.—An army chaplain and an executive of a warplane factory will deliver the baccalaureate and commencement addresses May 21 to the fifth graduating class to pass from the portals of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College since declaration of war.

Lieut. Col. J. Stuart Pearce, USA, post chaplain of Fort Sam Houston, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Friday morning May 21, and the commencement address in the evening will be given by John Leland Atwood, executive vice-president of North American Aviation, Inc., Los Angeles.

Final review will be held Saturday morning, May 22, and on the following day the entire Junior and Senior class of R. O. T. C. will be ordered to active duty for officer training.

A total of 1463 already have graduated since December 7, 1941. There are 175 candidates for degrees at this time.

BAPTIST PASTORS, LAYMEN ENJOY PROGRAM

Rev. Cooper Waters is home from a three-day conference of pastors and laymen of the seventeenth Baptist district of Texas, meeting at Lueders on the encampment grounds owned by the district. Some ten counties are included in the district and the leader of all phases of Baptist work is the district missionary, Rev. J. Henry Littleton, with headquarters in Anson.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons university, was the feature speaker for the evening programs. Other speakers at various times included Rev. C. A. Powell, Rev. Miles Hayes, Stamford; Rev. W. O. Vaught, pastor of University church, Abilene, and Rev. Cooper Waters, Cisco.

Included in the program was much free time for relaxation and fishing. This was the first meeting of its kind in this district and was so enthusiastically received that at the closing session a motion was adopted making it an annual affair.

An organization was set up and the following officers were elected: Cooper Waters, president; Rev. J. M. Sibley, Sweetwater, vice president and program chairman, and Rev. Fred Porter, Sweetwater, secretary. The program committee, as appointed by the vice president, was composed of Rev. J. P. McBeth, Anson, and Rev. Roger Hebard, Breckenridge.

SURVEY—Mrs. J. V. Forrestal, wife of Under-Secretary of Navy, who is making survey of WRENS, women auxiliary to British Army. She will report findings to U. S. WAVES command.

11 CARS WHEAT SOLD

W. B. Starr, local farmer, who has perhaps done more for scientific farming in this sector than any other man, has just finished dispensing the government wheat sold here to farmers and stockmen, in car No. 9, having already handled eight previous cars and has orders filled for cars No. 10 and 11. He said he is now taking orders to fill car No. 12.

Starr has specialized in sweet potatoes for the past several years, becoming nationally famous for his specially developed strain of yams. He kiln-dries them and sells them wholesale during the winter, shipping them to all parts of the country.

Mr. Starr said he was planting about 25 acres of potatoes this year—has 20 men now doing the planting. He will also plant peanuts, which he says is the best crop for him of any other. Will plant about 270 acres in peanuts.

Hogs are good animals for farmers, Starr thinks. He keeps about five brood sows, but buys most of his hogs and feeds them out; handled about 300 head the past year; buys his feed, because his land is not suited to growing hog feed.

Out of nine sons, Mr. and Mrs. Starr have only one in the service—Bruce D. Starr who is specializing in the bread department of the cooks and bakers school at Ft. Lewis, near Seattle, Wash.

Speaking of the amount of wheat he has already handled, Starr said the nine cars would approximate 500 tons. Farmers buy this wheat for stock feed, only.

PENTECOST REVIVAL GROWS IN INTEREST

The revival meeting at Pentecostal church, 400 W. Seventeenth street, which began May 4, is still in progress and interest is mounting with each service, say Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blackwell, pastors.

Rev. C. E. Bradford, San Antonio evangelist, is bringing the rightly messages, with prayer meetings at 10 o'clock each morning. His subject tonight will be "The Old Paths." Evening services begin at 8:30.

TEXAS GUARD NOW A PART STATE MILITIA

AUSTIN, May 14.—With the rest of this month in which to consider the forty-eighth legislature's enactments, Governor Stevenson cleared his records today of nearly two score measures, most of them routine resolutions.

One measure signed which should add materially to Texas' purchase of war bonds allows political sub-divisions to invest their surplus money in such bonds.

Likewise signed into law was a bill clarifying the status of the Texas Defense Guard—successor to the federally-mobilized Texas National Guard—as a "component of the military forces and of the active militia of Texas."

Say one thing for false teeth. Nobody who has used them ever changed his mind and went back to his old ones.

AND THAT'S THAT—No more will this Jap troopship, "Yamazuki Maru," carry sons of the Rising Sun into battle. Picture just released shows her beached in Southwest Pacific. She was bombed, shelled and set afire in U. S. Naval victory last November.

STAFFORD AGAIN HONORED

Dated May 12, but received today, an overseas message from Staff Sgt. J. L. Stafford to his mother, Mrs. Don McEachern, read as follows:

"All my love on Mother's Day. Decorated with another oak leaf cluster and the distinguished flying cross. Love."

Sergeant Stafford, only 21, but already classed as a veteran among those who ride the giant Flying Fortresses over Europe, destroy enemy tank and munition plants and bring fear to the hearts of the Nazi foe, is a much decorated man and now treasures three oak leaf clusters, a special air medal and the distinguished flying cross.

All Cisconians join the proud parents in the sincere hope that it may be the destiny of this young man to return home safely after completion of the dangerous but fine task he and his fellows are so nobly and thoroughly performing.

RANGER, COTTONWOOD BOYS HELD BY JAPS

The U. S. navy has announced the names of forty Texans held as prisoners by the Japs, most of them being in the Philippine Islands.

Among the 40 named is Woodrow David Patterson, electrician's mate, first class, son of Robert Belfield Patterson of Ranger.

Another is Jon Ted Ivy, seaman, first class, son of John Ivy of Cottonwood, Callahan county.

From Canada comes information that Sgt. Kenneth Boyd, previously announced as missing, is presumed dead. Boyd, son of K. B. Tanner of Eastland, was an airman and was serving with the RCAF.

MINISTERS' SCHOOL.

DALLAS, May 14.—Methodist ministers from Houston, Fort Worth, El Paso, San Angelo, McAllen, Marshall, Borger, Lamesa, Denison, Cisco, Sulphur Springs and Corpus Christi will teach undergraduate classes at a pastors' school at SMU June 14-25.

NEW IN FURS—Something fairly recent in furs is displayed by Donna Reed, M-G-M starlet, in Hollywood. She says they remind her of her farm home in Iowa, where she was raised. She's in forthcoming picture.

SO YOU WILL TALK!—Silhouetted against window, during battle of El Guettar, Tunisia, is German prisoner, hunched apologetically as he is questioned by Major Max H. Specht of New Braunfels, Texas.

AFRICA IS QUIET, PEACEFUL

NORTH AFRICA, May 14.—The Allies announced today that all Axis resistance in Africa had ceased and that extensive aerial operations were carried out against the islands of the Mediterranean and the Italian mainland.

"No Axis forces remain in North Africa who are not prisoners in our hands," a communique said. "The last remaining elements surrendered at 11:45 a. m., 13th of May."

Thus, after six months of fighting minus two days, the last of what once was a large and powerful German and Italian force in Tunisia had laid down its arms and the continent was peaceful except for weak and infrequent enemy air raids.

An Allied naval force successfully shelled the Italian island of Pantelleria, mid-way between Tunisia and Sicily, yesterday morning.

"Twenty broadsides fell in the harbor area," the communique said. Shore batteries replied ineffectively.

Strong forces of heavy Allied bombers attacked the harbor and industrial area of Cagliari, on the southern end of Sardinia. Direct hits were made on several ships which were left afire. One blew up.

Bursts also were seen in the rail yards and industrial area and many large fires were started. Nine enemy planes were destroyed during this raid.

The communique disclosed that Wellingtons of the strategic bombing force attacked railroad yards and docks at Naples, starting fires.

With all of the remnants of the Axis armies in Tunisia accounted for, there were indications that the bag of prisoners in Allied hands would reach at least 200,000 for the latter stages of the campaign.

At least 17 Axis generals were believed to be in Allied hands, including the two prize prisoners. Col. Gen Jurgen von Arnim, the broken and dejected German nobleman who refused to accept the terms of unconditional surrender, and Giovanni Messe, commander of the Italian First Army.

The Allied command announced that 11 German and 26 Italian divisions had been destroyed in the entire African campaign, including the fighting in Egypt and Libya.

500,000 MORE WAACS NEEDED STIMSON SAYS

Secretary of War Stimson has brought into the open two matters troubling leaders of the WAACs—the problems of stepping up lagging recruiting and of increasing the corps' authorized strength.

WAAC officials considered Stimson's press conference statement that the army needs "500,000 more WAACs and I sincerely hope we get them" as a decided boost, both for their performance record and for recruiting.

WAAC Director Hobby said that Stimson had voiced what records show, "that requests have come in for 500,000 WAACs."

STRONG YANK UNITS LAND ON ATTU ISLE; AMCHITKA, 244 MI. EAST, OCCUPIED EARLIER

Strong American units have landed on Attu Island, western-most of the Aleutians, and a violent fight for the Japanese base is in progress, a Tokyo broadcast said today.

The brief Tokyo report said the landing took place May 12. The assertion was not immediately verified by Allied sources.

DNB, German News Agency broadcast the Tokyo Imperial headquarters announcement shortly after it had been picked up in the United States by the Federal Communications Commission and reported by the British Broadcasting Corp.

(The navy department had no comment to make today on the broadcast, but observers pointed out that such action against both Attu and Kiska, the Aleutian toehold occupied by the Japanese, has been predicted here for several weeks.)

The announcement followed by seven days the disclosure in Washington of the occupation of Amchitka, 244 miles of Attu and only 72 miles from the other Japanese Aleutians base at Kiska. The capture of Amchitka was accomplished Jan. 12.

Amchitka itself is within theoretical operating range of Tokyo with the new type bombers reportedly being built by the United States, and Attu is even closer. Attu is 2005 airline miles from Tokyo.

Occupation of Attu would put the northern Japanese islands—the Kurile group—in direct danger of American air assault by present bombers such as the Liberator.

The reported action against Attu came amid widespread predictions of an impending drive against Japan at all points in the Pacific, including the Aleutians.

The Tokyo radio announcement, recorded by the FCC, was beamed to North America, according to the Office of War Information. The DNB Berlin broadcast did not expand the announcement.

The Tokyo radio later repeated the announcement for domestic listeners in Japan, OWI reported.

In announcing the occupation of Amchitka, Secretary of Navy Frank Knox added that it could be viewed as "part of a program of advances—of aggressive, offensive war."

U. S. planes have hammered steadily at Kiska and Attu, 172 miles westward.

The Japanese were believed to be well entrenched on both islands but the number of enemy soldiers garrisoned on Attu was not known.

INESSANT BOMBING.

LONDON, May 14.—Berlin, Czecho-Slovakia and the Ruhr Valley of Germany were pounded in great strength by British bombers Thursday night and the Berlin radio reported that four-engine American bombers had attacked the North German coastal area at noon today, extending the augmented Allied air offensive to nearly 48 hours of incessant assault.

HINES RE-ELECTED.

FT. WORTH, May 14.—Harry Hines of Dallas, founder and for eight years president of the Laymen's League of Texas Christian Churches, was re-elected president of the organization at a dinner Thursday night closing the state convention of Christian churches. Delegates chose Waco as the meeting place for the 1944 convention.

WHILE BOMBERS ROAR.

Twice within a generation it has been tragically demonstrated that the days of sailing ship isolation are gone forever. Wars are no longer bound by mountains, climate nor seas. The last echoes of isolation have been drowned in the roar of the bombers.

With recognition of the fact that isolation is an impossibility and that this country cannot shut itself off from future wars no matter where they may occur, it becomes a matter of sheer self interest to help prevent wars. The surest way to prevent war is by taking a hand in world affairs and stimulating international trade. Only through trade can the prosperous and fruitful world envisioned in the Atlantic Charter be realized.

In the United States, the machinery for bringing about expanded trade is already in existence. In the words of Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles: "It consists of the Trade Agreements Act of 1934, renewed in 1937 and 1940, under which the president is authorized, by procedure and within the limits stated in the act, to enter into agreements about tariff rates, quotas, and the like with foreign governments, and to proclaim the changes in American rates necessary to carry out our part of the agreements."

The act was renewed in June or we will have in effect served notice on the world that we expect to take no part in efforts to establish lasting peace; that as far as we are concerned peace objectives are words — nothing more.

After victory, if we follow the path of isolation, we can retire to raise another crop of youngsters in time for World War III. Along with our imagined isolation, we will have depression and bankruptcy. Our great productive capacity will avail us little without world-wide channels of distribution. And industries which don't produce, don't supply jobs or taxes. The wreckage of our tanks, planes and ships will be scattered in every corner of the world. Our men will be there too, those who don't come back. We will be "safely" at home with a war debt of several hundred billion dollars, minding our own business until the next war comes along.

IS THIS WHAT AMERICANS EXPECT OF THE FUTURE?

They will get it unless they make up their minds once and for all to swim with the rest of the world toward peace and sanity.

At best it will be a long pull, but there is no better way to begin while the bombers' roar is still in our ears, than by wholeheartedly urging renewal of the Trade Agreements Act.

GOOD OLD HAM.

Could American ham have had anything to do with Stalin's recent access of good cheer and good feeling towards his American allies? About the middle of April housewives in Moscow went to market one morning to find to their surprise and delight American ham in two-pound lots. The word went around quickly and thousands of families got their quota. American ham always tastes good, with eggs or without, Eked with cloves or slices of pineapple, or cooked in the good old way with onions, carrots and cabbage. Two pounds doesn't sound like much—from five to eleven was what the American housewife used to take for granted. But if a family has had almost no meat for months, two pounds of American ham has possibilities for delight to the taste and courage to the soul beyond all measure.

This ham was not a lease-lend supply. The "Relief Committee to the Soviet Union in the War" sent it along with other provisions. The committee collected more than $4,000,000 worth of supplies in the first quarter of the year. It is hoping it can send more ham this month.

If ham and eggs — provided there were any eggs — has given Stalin that beatific attitude, the more ham the relief committee can send, the better it will be.

This writer, we might add, is depending on Mr. Stalin to furnish a lot of the intestinal force necessary to handle the situation just right when fighting ceases. So, while passing him planes and ammunition, don't forget the ham.

DANGEROUS.

One of the latest examples of bureaucratic manipulation against private enterprise is illustrated in the case of the Washington Water Power company of Spokane, which had an agreement with the Bonneville power administration whereby the private company was to serve loads smaller than 750 kilowatts in its territory. Under a presidential directive of October 22, the federal power commission was authorized to renegotiate any power contracts when, among other things, such action would best meet the war emergency and serve the public interest. On this authority, the commission ordered the Washington Water Power company to deliver, over its lines, 700 kilowatts of Bonneville power to a government hospital in Spokane, and 500 kilowatts to an army camp near Spokane.

Commenting on this act as "an outstanding example of bureaucratic sabotage," representative James William Ditter of Pennsylvania said on the floor of the house of representatives: "In the present instance it was the uncontented contention of the company that there was no emergency, that the connections for service were already installed, that power was available by the simple manipulation of a power switch. The demand of the company for the hearing was reluctantly granted by the commission."

"The conduct of the chief trial examiner and the attitude of counsel for the commission are reminiscent of the famed Nazi trials before the people's court. The judge was an employee of the federal power commission itself, subservient to and controlled by the very officials whose conduct he was reviewing. The defending attorney was counsel for the commission. Here was a case where the federal power commission went on trial before itself. It was in the happy position of being its own judge and jury."

The excuse for "renegotiating" (breaking) this contract was that "tax-free" Bonneville power could be delivered more cheaply. Actually the government lost money if consideration was given to the taxes the private company would have paid. Using this pattern, tax-free government services can "eliminate" any private taxpaying business.

Is it any wonder that men like Representative Ditter and Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming point out the bureaucratic menace? It is high time the public became aware of the influences being exerted to extend the doctrine of state socialism in this nation.

ROSENDAHL IS PROMOTED TO REAR ADMIRAL

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Capt. Charles E. Rosendahl, navy's foremost authority on lighter-than-air craft, has been promoted to rear admiral. Rosendahl, who will be 51 Saturday, recently returned from sea duty, having been in command of a cruiser in the Pacific.

Rosendahl has been a naval aviator for lighter-than-air craft since November, 1924. He was navigator of the dirigible Shenandoah when that craft crashed in Ohio in 1925. Rosendahl with six other members of the crew free-ballooned the forward section of the ship in safety to the ground.

In subsequent years he saw service in the dirigibles Los Angeles and Akron. He made a trans-Atlantic trip and also a world cruise in the Graf Zeppelin as naval observer. He was commander of the navy air station at Lakehurst when the airship Hindenberg exploded and burned in May, 1937.

For years there was a legend in the navy that Rosendahl, Chicago-born, was a woman hater. It died abruptly December 22, 1934, when he married Jean Wilson of Los Angeles at The Little Church Around the Corner, in New York.

The Russians are hopping mad — and let's hope they hop clear to Berlin.

BUREAUS, RED TAPE.

BONHAM, May 14.—Curbing of bureaus and shearing Washington red tape were outlined as postwar jobs for Americans in a talk by J. A. McGill of Paris at a fish fry and open meeting of the Bonham chamber of commerce.

People must be naturally decent, for they can't enjoy that kind of stiries till they get drunk.

"WARTIME HEALTH CARE BEGINS AT HOME"

SAYS THE OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Today, your health is a national asset, and its care begins at home. Illness slows down production, lowers efficiency and uses up the time and skill of doctors and nurses who are urgently needed for war service. So check up on your family health regularly, says the O. C. D.'s "Citizen's Handbook for War."

"All I know is what I read in the newspapers," said Will Rogers and it's probably the phrase that will endear him longest to America; it struck a familiar chord in the hearts of millions.

Everybody reads the newspaper. There's so much, so awfully much, to read* Just the weather report, for instance. Remember those scorching days a few weeks ago? And how you couldn't wait to pick up the paper to see if a break was coming? And that baseball news! Hasn't it been a grand and glorious escape from business troubles, tax worries and the thousand and one things that plague you every day? What would you do without your newspaper? What would you do without the big black headlines that thrill and surprise you every day, without the unrolling drama of a war-tense Europe.

Everybody reads the newspaper. Reads it excitedly, eagerly, with a thrill! That, incidentally, is why newspaper advertising packs such a wallop. That's why it outpulls every other kind. Everybody reads news—everybody wants news—and advertising is news, too! A newspaper reader is alert, keyed-up to get the most out of advertising just because he is reading his newspaper. He is not playing bridge with the radio blaring in the background. He's not chewing his nails off deep in a magazine mystery serial, oblivious to everything but a bloody corps. He's not wading wearily through a mass of broadsides and brochures looking for a personal letter from his pal in Clinton, Iowa. He is avidly intent on the news in his newspaper advertising: - What is it? - How much does it cost? Where can I buy it?

He likes newspaper advertising and looks upon it as one of the many fine services his newspaper performs. How different from the radio listener who regards the honeyed voice of the announcer as a blatant intrusion!

Finally, let's remember this! Advertising is simply selling and selling must always be hometown selling—local selling.

GIVE US THIS DAY—Loaves of freshly made bread are popped into open-air oven, somewhere in New Guinea, to give U. S. fighting men strength to carry on. Giant bakery was constructed by U. S. Army and bread goes to front lines.

UTILIZED—England hasn't many broad acres for farming and every bit of gardening space must be utilized. Here, a few acres are being plowed in the shadow of Grassmoor, towering 2,790 feet above lake district.

AIR SPEED KING PLANS POST-WAR FLIGHT RULES

Pointing to network of existing and projected future airways, Colonel Roscoe Turner, only three-time winner of Thompson Trophy Races, now training pilots for Uncle Sam, endorses broad federal regulation of flight. Col. Turner—who 10 years ago flew coast-to-coast in record time of 11 hours 30 minutes—says terrific speeds of modern aircraft mean passage over many states in but a few minutes, making mandatory "federal control of air flight as against state jurisdiction". As Vice-President of National Aviation Training Association, Col. Turner recently appeared before Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of U. S. House of Representatives and endorsed that Committee's Bill covering this subject and post-war aviation planning.

A TASTE OF HARDSHIP

People of Cisco got a taste of real hardships of war last Saturday when many persons were unable to buy the common Irish potato — This showed just what countries of Europe have been experiencing for many months.

Let us hope that food will be sufficient for our needs, but let's not grumble if some is scarce. That is just our part of the sacrifice — Soldiers give their lives.
