Blood Typing Campaign Underway For Donley County In August

A blood typing program, which will cover the entire county, was announced this week by Mrs. Mike McCully, chairman of the blood typing campaign. The unit will be set up at Estlack Machinery Co. in Clarendon on August 22nd and 23rd., and at the Lions Club Den in Hedley on Aug. 27.

"During this time we hope to type approximately all of the persons in the county," Mrs. McCully stated.

The program simply includes taking a sample of the individual blood, determining the type, and issuing a card with the individual's name, age, address and blood type which can be carried at all times. A nurse will be with the unit to take the blood sample and the members of the sponsoring Beta Sigma Phi Chapter will do the clerical work.

"Blood typing an individual will take from three to five minutes. Knowing your blood type, or having a card with you carrying the information, can be a very valuable asset in case of accident or serious illness, in which you might need a blood transfusion. A blood transfusion cannot be given until the type has been determined and someone then has to be located who has the same type and can give the blood needed. Car accidents, home accidents, and farm accidents are only a few of the cases in which knowledge of an individual's blood type may be needed quickly. Times in case of an extreme emergency it is vitally important. Take time now to save time later—you may save your own life," Mrs. McCully stated.

County pastors and a number of the different organizations have been asked to participate in this campaign. Miss Charlotte Molesworth, County Chairman of the Red Cross announced that their organization would cooperate by providing the serum needed to type the blood. There will be no cost to the individual having their blood typed.

All children and adults are urged to take part in this program. The unit will be in operation from 8:30 to 5:30 each day. Keep the date and time in mind, and visit either the unit in Clarendon or Hedley.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Lane visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albright and family at Paducah Sunday and returned Mr. and Mrs. Cap Lane and Miss Patti Lane to Clarendon. They had visited in the Albright home from Friday thru Sunday.

Over Fifty Percent Of Cars Yet To Be Inspected

A survey of Clarendon inspection stations conducted by Capt. Alan Johnson of Amarillo, showed that 1200 inspections have been completed in Donley County. There are 2,500 vehicles registered in Donley County, so only half have been in for inspection. It is urged that everyone who has not had their car inspected, go in to one of the five Clarendon inspection stations as soon as you can and relieve the congestion right at the last minute. The deadline of Sept. 6th is only a month away.

Official inspection stations in Clarendon are the Clarendon Motor Co., Palmer Motor Co., Baxter Motor Co., Joe A. Holland Pontiac and Carpenter's Garage.

Continued Dry & Hot Is Weather Forecast

Donley County residents had a watchful eye toward the rain clouds this week but very little relief was received and the weather forecast is for continued dry weather and hotter temperatures. The showers were spotted with some communities receiving enough moisture to do some good but a good cooling rain is what farmers and ranchers need at this time. Most cotton is holding up pretty good although numerous fields are beginning to throw off. Feed is suffering most at this time with considerable acreage being considered lost. A good rain would bring other field grain through the critical period. Late feed is holding up much better than that which was planted early.

The latest forecast is for 100 degree temperature or over.

Hedley Assembly of God Church to Start Revival August 10th

The Assembly of God Church at Hedley will begin a two weeks revival meeting Sunday, August 10th and continue through August 24th. Rev. T. E. Gibson, pastor, announced this week. Services will be held nightly at 8 o'clock. Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Diamond of Ft. Worth will conduct the revival.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Hedley Defeated By Amarillo Air Base Team, 15 to 2

The Amarillo Air base team defeated the Hedley baseball team at Hedley last Sunday by the score of 15 to 2. Bobby Hutchenson and Dewey Debord pitching for Hedley only allowed 8 hits but walks and errors gave the soliders the long end of the score.

Next Sunday Hedley will play St. Francis at Hedley in the last official league game of the season. Mathis will be pitching for Hedley. The game time is 3 P. M.

Services Held Monday For Mrs. Letitia Lumpkin

Funeral services were held Monday morning at the Murphy-Spicer Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Letitia Lumpkin with Rev. Ernest Phillips officiating.

Mrs. Lumpkin, 84, died Saturday night at her home here. She had been a resident of Donley County since 1903 and was the widow of T. B. Lumpkin, who died in July, 1927. Mrs. Lumpkin was a lifelong member of the Baptist Church and an active worker until her health began to fail.

Survivors include a son, F. H. Lumpkin and a daughter, Mrs. Ben Prewitt Jr., both of Clarendon; a sister, Mrs. Moody K. Hamil of Lelia Lake; two brothers, Will Kennedy and George Kennedy, both of Lelia Lake; a grandson, Jimmy Lumpkin of Ft. Worth and a great grandchild. ## Boys' Ranch Rodeo Dates Set For Aug. 31 And September 1st

August 31 and September 1st are the dates set for the big Eighth Annual Boys' Ranch Rodeo.

All the boys from America's First Boys' Ranch will take a two-day rest from their chores and sports to give the people of this area a first-hand look into what kind of cowboys they really are when they present their Eighth Annual Rodeo in Amarillo over the Labor Day weekend.

Two performances will be held at 2:30 on Sunday, August 31 and at 8:00 on Monday, September 1 at the Tri-State Fair Rodeo Arena in Amarillo. The Will Rogers Range Riders of Amarillo are sponsors of the rodeo, but the show will be put on entirely by the young cowboys from the Ranch.

The boys participate in every event that is seen in any professional show plus added special attractions such as trick riding and roping and the clown acts. There will not be any absence of thrills and spills because the boys are competing for prize money and for the honor of being named as the best all around cowboy of the year, which is judged according to points received in the various events.

Also on hand to entertain the audience will be the world famous and highly colorful Bit and Spur Riding Club of Kansas City. Bud Lucas with his troupe of rodeo acrobats, and the well-known stars of stage, radio and television, in poorwills and Georgia Brown, who appear with Roy Rogers on all his programs and in the movies.

Excitement is running high at the Ranch because many of the boys will be participating in their first rodeo. The boys represent 26 states and two foreign countries and many of them had never been close to a horse or steer before coming to Boys' Ranch. Let alone participate in a lively, western rodeo. But they have learned quickly and well and they promise the spectators an action studded show.

All proceeds from the Boys' Ranch Rodeo will be used for the Boys' Ranch expansion program which will help provide for many more boys. General Admission tickets for adults are $1.50 and children's tickets are 75c. Reserved seats are priced at $2.25. Tickets will be available by mail, at B. F. Goodrich, Vance Hall Sporting Goods and Henry Blackburn's Sporting Goods stores in Amarillo or at the arena on the two days of the Rodeo.

Dusters Beat Claude 11 to 8 Here Sunday

The Clarendon Dusters added another win to their tally sheet before the game was ever played last Sunday as the Claude team had to forfeit due to not having enough players to play the game. Two of the local team filled in for Claude and the game was played with the Dusters leading in the scoring 11 to 8.

The Dusters will play their last game of regular league play this coming Sunday at Panhandle. This is expected to be an exceptionally good game as Panhandle has been a strong contender all season. Regardless of the outcome of this game, the Dusters are already assured of a spot in the play-off. At present they are in second place with the Hedley team at the top of the League standing. Local fans are looking forward to the probable meeting of the Dusters and Hedley for the League title.

Mrs. A. S. Barker and boys of McLean were week end guests in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. O. D. Liesberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Toland and children, Bill and Richard of Carlsbad, N. Mex. are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Powell.

Ken Davis To Have First Professional Bout August 7th

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Marine Corps athletics in particular and amateur boxing in general bid goodbye August 7 to Golden Gloves featherweight champion Kenny Davis who steps into the ring for his first professional fight.

The recently discharged Marine Staff Sergeant is a two-time International Golden Gloves featherweight titlist, a three-time National Champion, and top man on last season's San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot's fistic squad.

His discharge marks another beginning for the little guy with the power-laden left hand. Kenny has been in training this past month, while on leave, to go against Luis Adame of Mexico in San Diego's Coliseum August 7.

Davis holds a long string of ring honors. He is winner of 108 of 115 amateur bouts—over 70 of the wins via knockouts. He fought under the Marine scapulet and gold for Camp Pendleton in 1950-51 and for the Recruit Depot here this year. In 1950, and again this season, he captured the National and International Golden Gloves diadems and fought on tours through Ireland, France, Germany, and Italy. He was All-Navy champion in 1950.

It was in the 1951, San Diego Golden Gloves tourney that the "Killer" tag was hung on Davis, as he fought through three bouts in the total time of two minutes, 40 seconds. He cooled his first opponent in 32 seconds and the next one in 18 seconds.

The Los Angeles Times named him the top amateur boxer of the year, at their December, 1951, National Sports Award dinner.

Kenny has come under the management of Bill Bentley, a fight promoter from the Marine's Texas hometown. "Duke" Holloway, an old friend, is his trainer for the coming professional debut.

In the 10-round San Diego Coliseum card highlight, Davis will face in Adame a prime contender for featherweight honors. The Mexican has met such notables as Carlos Chavez and Lauro Salas.

Davis lives with his wife, Jane, at 5740 York Blvd., Los Angeles. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis, live in Clarendon.

Local Youths To Play Wellington Sunday At Duster's Park

The Clarendon Baseball team composed of youth playing as a group under the summer recreational program will play a team composed of youths of the same age group from Wellington at Dusters Park in Clarendon Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The local boys will be out there doing their best Sunday afternoon to rack up a win as the Wellington team defeated them in a previous engagement 4 to 2.

Come out and give the boys a boost Sunday. A small admission charge will be made to help defray expenses of the game. Your presence will mean a lot to the team.

Booster Club To Be Organized

A mass meeting of everyone interested in sports has been called for next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock on the courthouse lawn for the purpose of organizing a Broncho Booster Club. Speakers on the program will be H. T. Burton, Jimmy Faulkner and J. W. Murphy. It is also hoped that the band can be rounded up to assist in the program. G. W. Bradshaw has volunteered to have plenty of Borden's Ice Cream on hand as free refreshments for the group. Everyone interested in backing the Bronchos is invited and urged to be present.

McAnear, sat as a board last Saturday to hear any complaints or reasons for the blanket increase in school taxes. It was reported that only a few showed up and most of their questions regarded clarification of the increase.

DOGGONE STRONG—Amazing Frankfurt, Germany night club goes with his strength, a Hungarian shepherd dog balances his 12-year-old master, Hansi, on his head. The dress worn by the small-but-mighty pooch seems to accentuate his strength.

Seed Testing & Certification - I

Farming today is getting complicated—sometimes it makes a person long for the "40 acres and a mule" of a hundred years ago.

But 100 years ago 85% of the U. S. population was engaged in agriculture. Today only 15% of the people are left on the land, and they have to produce enough for all Americans and some for export.

To get bigger yields, we are planting better seeds. But seed testing and certification, while helping us improve the quality of our seed stock, is one more complication in 20th Century farming. Seed samples submitted to the State Laboratories indicate there is some confusion as to procedures. The following notes should help clear things up:

"Certified" seed, bearing a Certified Seed Tag, is seed which meets high quality standards. Certification is not required by law.

A grower wanting his seed certified files an application with the State Department of Agriculture and pays a $10 annual fee, plus a 5c to 50c fee per acre for most seeds.

"Registered" seed is like certified seed, except that it meets higher quality standards.

More than 1,000,000 bags of high quality registered and certified seed passed into the Texas channels of trade last year.

"Tested" seed is seed tested for purity and germination. It is required by law for field seeds offered for sale.

The State Seed Laboratories in Austin and Lubbock provide free testing for field seeds. Tested Seed Labels cost 1c each.

Samples should be identified with kind and variety, name and address of sender, lot No. or other stock identification, year grown, test desired (whether purity or germination or both).

Samples should be 2 oz. for small seed like white or alsike clover; 5 oz. for seed the size of red or crimson clover, alfalfa, ryegrass, bromegrass, millet, flax and rape; 1 lb. for seed like sudan grass, sorghum, proso and hemp, and 2 lbs. for large seed like corn, cotton, cereals and vetches.

The state laboratories tested 14,818 samples last year, and sent out 3,614,080 Tested Seed Labels. (To Be Continued)

WHY I VOTED AGAINST THE ADJOURNMENT:

When Congress adjourned, the adjournment was sine die. This is a Latin phrase the literal translation of which is "without day." In other words, insofar as the Congress is concerned the adjournment is final and conclusive. Whether or not Congress reconvenes this year is a decision that is in the power of one man—the President of the United States. Had the Congress recessed, it could have set a day for return or could have been called back by the leaders of the House and the Senate. Had there been no important matters for consideration, the recess could have been continued. I voted against the sine die resolution along with a small handful of members, mostly from the South. I did this for a number of reasons, but the three most important are as follows:

(1) In view of the present world situation, I do not believe that the decision to reconvene or not reconvene the Congress should be left in the hands of one man. Past experience has proven that a one-man snap judgment decision is sometimes prompted by emotion rather than reason. I do not believe that this power should be in the hands of one man during these troublesome times;

(2) We are at war regardless of what name is applied to the Korean conflict. The smoldering fires of hate that now engulf the world could easily flare into flames and require fast and immediate action by the Congress. Even a temporary delay in reconvention of

NOT SKIDDING AROUND—Joseph LaRocca of Cleveland demonstrates his special skid-eliminating tire clip which may soon outsell ordinary tire chains. After eight years of no sale LaRocca has succeeded in getting a manufacturer to produce the clips which are designed to snap on when a tire passes over it. He says they "provide almost certain traction in ice, snow or mud."

Congress could be very costly to the United States;

(3) There are many legislative matters that died for want of action. Many of these should be acted upon this year, especially the several proposals to cut income taxes so that the small income people could get some relief. I had hoped that we could get some action on the bill that I introduced to bring about this result. It would have helped the small income families especially. Several members introduced similar bills, and if we had the time to get one of these bills to the floor, I am confident we could pass it. Another most important piece of legislation is the Tidelands bill that the President vetoed. Unless the Congress is called back, this bill will die in the Senate. Therefore the adjournment sine die left the present state of the Tideland bill in the hands of the man who vetoed it. If the Congress had recessed, rather than adjourned, we would have had a good chance for the Senate to override the veto this year. The last report is that the proponents of the bill only lacked two votes having enough to override the veto in the Senate. It can easily be overridden in the House. If the President fails to call the Congress back, it will mean that the battle for the tidelands must begin anew in 1953. It is a definite certainty that the battle will begin and will not be relaxed until these lands are returned to the states. We shall never give up.

R. Y. KING THANKS VOTERS

To my many friends and citizens of Donley County as a whole, I wish to take this opportunity to express my thanks, for your assistance and good will both at the poles and in the courthouse. As county attorney, I will continue to conduct the office to the best of my ability, but it is the people who must enforce the law, if it is to be enforced. "They are the law" and Donley county is well above the average in keeping law violations at a minimum.

house equipment. Spot the things that are wrong. Study the flock as never before and chances are the changes made will insure greater profits from the flock.

Chickens not only like their water fresh and cool but they want it handy too, says the professor. If the fountain is more than 10 feet away from the chicken, it may go thirsty rather than make the trip. Check the location of fountains as well as the total supply of water and add fount-ains if they are needed.

Parnell points out that it is sometimes necessary to give medicine to the flock in the drinking water but warns there's a danger in doing it. He says some drugs just don't taste good to chickens and turkeys and they quit drinking. Watch the birds carefully when medication is used in the water, and if they quit drinking, better find another way to give the medicine, says Parnell for unless they drink lots of water, there'll be few eggs or little meat produced.

A Must For Chickens - - Plenty Fresh, Cool Water

COLLEGE STATION — Chickens are not unlike humans during the hot days of summer. They like to be comfortable and a mighty important part of comfort, says Professor E. D. Parnell, poultry husbandry department of Texas A&M College, is having plenty of cool fresh water to drink.

Water is usually plentiful on most farms but many flock owners fail, during the summer time, to provide their chickens this very important item. Parnell isn't guessing about the failure because he annually observes management practices used by many flock owners in Texas. Water is generally a pretty cheap item on the farm but when it is not provided in sufficient quantities, chickens just don't do well, says Parnell.

He urges every poultryman to take another look at the poultry

Mary Ann Landers Becomes Bride of Thomas Wade Gattis

At six in the evening, on Sunday, August 3, in the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas, Miss Mary Ann Landers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Alvin Landers of Clarendon, repeated vows with Thomas Wade Gattis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Gattis of Brice, Rev. Howard Scott, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double-ring service.

The wedding arch was of majestic daisies against a background of palm and fern. On either side of the altar were baskets of yellow gladioli and majestic daisies flanked with candelabra bearing yellow tapers. Yellow satin bows marked the family pews.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Howard Scott, organist, played wedding selections. She also played the traditional wedding marches and provided a soft musical background for the exchanging of vows. Connie Gerlach, cousin of the bride, sang "Because," "Oh, Promise Me," and at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

Candles were lighted by Jimmy and Mary Ida Gattis, brother and sister of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white marquisette, the long fitted sleeves tapered to points over the hands and were attached to a sculptured bodice buttoning to the neck which was finished with a demure round collar of Chantilly type lace that also paneled the front and extended over the padded hip line of the exquisitely full skirt. Her two-tier, scalloped edge veil of imported French illusion was attached to a headdress of fresh daisies. She carried a bouquet of arm majestic daisies.

Miss Eulaine Ellis attended her cousin as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of yellow organdy over satin with mitts to match, and carried a cascade of daisy chrysanthemums with matching headband.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Kenneth Sams and Miss Glenda Sue Davis wore ballerina length dresses of pink organdy and Misses Inelle Cox and Sandra Shelton wore blue. All bridal attendants carried nosegays of daisy chrysanthemums with matching headbands.

T. H. Gattis, father of the bridegroom, was his son's best man. Ushers were Don Landers, Jackie Brooks and Kenneth Sams.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Landers chose a French Blue crepe dress. With this she wore a small shell hat of navy velvet. Her other accessories were soft gray. Her corsage was of pink Glamelia. The bridegroom's mother selected a suit of black shantung trimmed in white, and black accessories. Her corsage was of white Glamelia.

After the exchange of vows, a reception was held in the yard of the bride's parents. The table was covered with a white linen cut-work cloth. In the center was a bouquet of dahlias and yellow daisy chrysanthemums. The tiered cake was served by Noma Lee Lewis and Ladelle Cox and punch was ladled by Doris Cronp and Mary Edna Elmore. Villetta Riney presided at the guest register.

For the wedding trip to Santa Fe, the bride chose a two piece

"Christmas Fun" Theme of Fashion Clinic for Market Week

There will be an early Holiday season this year at the Dallas Market Week, August 17 to 22 when the American Fashion Association will present a promotional package entitled "Christmas Fun for Everyone" at the Midwinter and Holiday Breakfast Clinics on August 19 and 20. Over 1500 buyers are expected to attend the two fashion clinics to be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Adolphus Hotel, according to William Goldstein, president of the American Fashion Association.

A children's choir will provide appropriate Christmas music, and the gaily decorated background of store windows will add to the festive air. Seven promotional ideas, designed to help the small store owner, will be presented. Each theme will be illustrated by costumes from the midwinter lines, together with suggestions for promotion, advertising and window display.

Highlights of the program will be "Candlelight Giving," a lingerie sequence; "Fireside Gifts," a showing of holiday separates; "Christmas is For the Young," featuring children's fashions; and a suggested community service project for the small store.

The Fashion Clinic, which presents new and clever ideas for promoting, advertising, and selling merchandise, was initiated by the Dallas Fashion Arts, Inc., in cooperation with the American Fashion Association at the Dallas Market Week last May. It was enthusiastically received by all the merchants in attendance and promises to be a regular feature of the Dallas Market.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

JUDGES' STATEMENTS OF LAW BINDING UPON JURORS

Judges get the law by which they decide the legal questions arising in a lawsuit from three sources: federal and state constitutions; federal and state statutes; and from previous judicial decisions and legal writings. Previous decisions state the public standards of rights and duties in matters not covered by constitutions and statutes.

Lawyers say that if judges and juries were not bound by law and precedents—if in each lawsuit, the judge or juror could set up a private standard of rights and duties as a basis for deciding that case—no one would know in advance of the decision how he should have acted in a particular situation. Cases arising out of similar circumstances would not be decided on settled principles but on the personal ideas of the trial judge or juror.

Because cases must be tried and determined on established and recognized public standards of right and wrong, we call ours a government of law and not a government of men.

Judges have access to statements of the law and know which apply to the situation involved in any lawsuit. So that justice may be done according to the law, it is imperative that the jurors in each case accept the law as the judge gives it to them. They are therefore required to base their verdict on his instructions as to the law, rather than on their own notions of what the law is, or ought to be.

For somewhat similar reasons there are rules governing the way a case is to be tried in court. These rules prescribe what must be stated in the pleadings, in what order evidence must be presented, what evidence is proper, what form questions must take, in what order lawyers are permitted to argue, what is permissible and what is not permissible argument.

If it were not for these rules no one could foresee what would happen during a lawsuit. It would be impossible to prepare properly for the trial. No one would know, until the judge had ruled, what he would be permitted to say or do, or in what order. Such a situation would inevitably result in confusion and injustice.

The whole purpose of laws and rules is to insure equal justice by providing a single standard of rights and duties, applicable to all persons similarly situated.

To the Voters of Donley County

I am still in the race for County Judge of Donley County notwithstanding rumors to the contrary. You have heard, or will hear, other rumors which are merely for the purpose of securing votes for my opponent.

I am a citizen of Donley County and legally qualified to be your Judge.

My wife has not divorced me and will teach in the Clarendon Schools regardless of the outcome of this race.

I still attend the church of my choice. The pastor and I are still friends. The janitor has not found any sulphur and brimstone around the seat where I usually sit.

I also have not lost my self-respect for the manner in which I have conducted this campaign.

I sincerely thank you for your vote in the first primary and your expressions of hope for my election. I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in the election of August 23rd.

Unsprayed Grain Bins Supplying Costly "Bread Line" For Billions of Insects

A pair of weevils, breeding at a normal rate and living in the ideal conditions offered by a full grain bin, could produce 152,394-295,300 offspring in a six-month period, if each generation completed its reproductive cycle. While Nature never allows such a fantastic build-up of population, insect damage commonly lowers the value of stored grain by from 50 to 80 cents per bushel—a loss of from $500 to $800 for every 1,000 bushels stored by the grain grower or elevator operator. The use of insect-killing sprays on the walls of all wooden grain bins before any grain is stored is an important initial step in preventing this serious loss. The development of new organic insecticides has meant that these insects can be kept under control for a long period of time following one low-cost application. As an example, methoxychlor in-secticides, recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture because of their combined effectiveness and freedom from toxic hazard, cost only 36 cents for sufficient material to spray the walls of a 1,000-bushel bin. Fourteen species of damaging insects are found in stored grain, according to the Department of Agriculture. Of these, three species—saw-toothed grain beetles, flat grain beetles, and cadelles—account for more than 75% of the total population. Insects are present in granaries most of the time and unless bins are thoroughly cleaned out and sprayed, can migrate into the grain when it is put in storage. Chief contributor to this situation is the cadelle, a beetle which bores into the wooden structures of granaries, leaving tunnels and burrows in which other insects can take refuge. Under provisions of the U. S. grain standards in wheat, grain is called "weevily" if a 1,000-gram sample (about 2.2 pounds) contains two or more live weevils, five or more live bran beetles, or one live weevil and three or more bran beetles.

The mere presence of insects in large numbers may cause even more serious damage. Heat and moisture created by their body processes develop hot, moist spots in the grain. When cool weather comes in the fall, the water vapor rising from these spots condenses in the cooler surface grain, causing it to rot, mold, or sprout. This condition calls for a U. S. grade of "sample," which means the grain is no longer fit for food products and must be sold at livestock feed prices. This means a loss of from 50 to 80 cents a bushel.

Clean, dry grain, stored in clean, sprayed bins, which have been rendered rodent proof, is an essential step toward combatting this insect problem, said to be costing granary operators of the nation an estimated $600,000,000 annually.

Next 25 Years Will Completely Change Agricultural Landscape Banker Says

DALLAS — The bankers of Texas through sound financing practices today were urged to speed the inevitable changes on our farms which in the next 25 years will completely change the agricultural landscape of Texas.

This appeal came from a fellow banker, Ben H. Wooten, president of the First National Bank in Dallas and a member of the board of trustees of Texas Research Foundation at Renner.

"Our agriculture is caught in the march of science and mechanization, and within our own lifetimes I can see our whole agricultural landscape changed beyond recognition," Wooten said. "Our banks—all of them, the big ones and the little ones—have a vital responsibility. The challenge to us is through sound financing to speed this inevitable change which will raise the level of living on the land by increasing its dollar productivity."

Wooten's remarks are contained in a January issue of the "Texas Bankers Record". Wooten said that he is very much interested in the crusade which Texas Research Foundation is leading to build back our agricultural economy and put farming on a permanently productive basis.

The Foundation, he said, is seeking through new farming systems to rebuild the productive capacity of our soils and to provide a virtual economically self-sufficient region, growing what it needs and processing what it grows.

Wooten said that as our agricultural landscape changes during the next 25 years, fewer and fewer acres will be devoted to row crops, and there will be a greater diversification of crops, particularly on the small farms. The greatest change of all will be a return to grass, which is already in process. Texas Research Foundation findings have indicated that grassland farming coupled with more and more beef and dairy production, is this region's best approach to a permanently productive agriculture. "As a banker, I am specifically interested in the tremendous investment in capital which will be required to bring about this change in our agricultural landscape. Think of the outlay which will be needed to fence several million acres of pasture, the millions of dollars which will be spent to improve these soils, the farm tools and machinery which will be purchased, and the many other expenditures as we convert from a wasteful soil-depleting one-crop agriculture to a modern system of farming," Wooten said.

FARM NEWS
From the County PMA Committee

PMA CHAIRMAN ANNOUNCES ELECTION

PMA farmer-committee elections have been scheduled for August 22, 1952. At this election, farmers in each community will vote for three farmers to serve on the community committee, for a delegate to the county convention to elect the county PMA committee for 1953, and for alternates. Voting will be by mail or at the one polling place — the county PMA office. In general, any farmer is eligible to vote if he as owner, operator, tenant, or sharecropper is participating or is carrying out practices in accord with programs administered by the county PMA committee.

Chairman, James Smith, emphasizes that the effectiveness of Agricultural Conservation Program operations and of price support and marketing programs will depend a great deal on the community committeemen who are voted in at these elections.

The concentration of Agricultural Conservation Program operations in 1953 on the problems of individual farms adds to the need for able committeemen. Committeemen will be expected to help each farmer in determining the conservation needs on his farm and in making the most effective use of ACP assistance and available services in carrying out most needed practices.

Since this program has to do with the protection and improvement of the soil and conservation of water on the farms of Donley County, community committeemen are in a key position in the fight for continued production.

The Chairman urges farmers in each community in our county to look over the field carefully and make sure that farmers are elected who are best qualified and who WILL HAVE TIME TO DEVOTE TO THE JOB.

WINTER LEGUMES

Under the 1952 ACP program assistance is offered for seeding Austrian Winter Peas, Hairy Vetch and Madrid Clover. Letters have been mailed to all producers giving details concerning the Winter Legume practice. One important detail was left out of the letter, it is: "Madrid Clover must be seeded by September 15, 1952 to qualify for payment."

Agronomists of the Texas A&M College System and Soil Conservation Service say that legumes when properly fertilized and inoculated, have very beneficial effects upon the soils where they are grown. One of the most important effects is the influence legumes have on improving soil structure or soil condition. This refers to the way the small particles are held together in the soil. The soil structure should be crumbly or granular so as to allow for deep root and water penetration and air circulation within the soil. The use of legumes like vetch, winter peas, and sweet clovers add materially to the organic matter and nitrogen content of soils.

The agronomists urge farmers to make plans now for their fall legume plantings.

Mr. B. F. Vance, Chairman of the State Agricultural Mobilization Committee, was asked this week, "How many acres of winter cover crops should Texas farmers plant this fall?" Vance's answer was "About 6 1/2 times as many acres as we have been planting, but we can't expect to get that much increase in one year." He went on to say "It will probably be several years before all of our farmers recognize the importance that winter legumes play in protecting our soil and holding it in place during the winter months, in adding humus to soils and in making the soil easier to work, more resistant to erosion, more spongy so that it holds more water and in getting increased production per acre of the crop that follows — We will reach 20 million acres in one year when all our farmers learn these facts.

Deep plowing assistance for land to be put to fall seeded crops is limited to 40.0 acres per farm. The deep plowing must be done at least 30 days before it is seeded to any crop.

Rye seeded this fall with PMA assistance must not be grazed later than March 1, 1953.

Be sure to vote in the committee election. You may mail your ballot to the county office.

There will be only one polling place this year—the county office.

Election day is set for August 22, 1952.

Community Committeemen will contact all the farmers and ranchers in the county this fall. Be sure to elect men who can and will work.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A good number of farmers have already made applications to use the Districts' row seeders for planting cover crops in their cotton middles.

The greatest interest in cover crops has come from a group of farmers north of Hedley. These include W. M. Snelson, H. L. Morgan, Bud Dorman, V. C. Waddell, and Herschel Kenmore.

These men planted cover crops last year and have become sold on their value. They are planning on seeding most all of their cotton land to rye, peas, vetch, or a mixture of these crops.

Rye is the most dependable for a cover crop, while austrian winter peas and hairy vetch are better soil builders.

The average amount of nitrogen fixed per acre by one of these winter legumes is approximately equal to the amount of nitrogen in 240 pounds of ammonium nitrate fertilizer. At the present price of this fertilizer the cost would be about $10.00 per acre not including the cost of application.

A group of farmers near Ashtola also plan to seed cover crops. Some of these are Kermit Evans, Leo Wallace, Burk DeBord, and Rayburn Smith.

Kermit Evans used the District row seeder last fall and planted a mixture of rye and Austrian winter peas. Evans was more than pleased with his results. He stated this land being highly susceptible to blowing did not blow at all this spring because of the good winter cover crop on the land. His cotton following the cover crops looks very pretty at this time.

Some of the other farmers planning on seeding cover crops are Harry Skaggs, Tige Hill, Bonnie Mooring, Albert Sanders, F.

M. Fedric, Guy Sibley, H. L. Riley, Oscar Wilkinson, Edwin Eanes Grover Moss, Marvin Jones, Doyle Messer, and A. B. Bynum.

Many more farmers in the district should make plans now for seeding winter cover crops.

TB and the X-Ray Bus

Time was when the TB victim innocently walked the streets of his town undetected—and undetectable.

For who had the millionaire's pocketbook to pay for examining a whole town of a thousand people to sieve out one possible victim?

Now comes the x-ray bus, able to be TB detective for whole cities, for a few pennies a person. Millions of people now have their TB worries erased when the doctor says "Okay."

How long did it take to get the x-ray bus? Well, for its part, General Electric had been working on x rays for 57 years. Costs of diagnosis have come down by better and better equipment. No year passes without some new development. So this was another big chapter in a long book of events.

Notice the nice way these buses get into service. They are usually purchased by voluntary contributions of plain people trying to get a job done.

It is always hard to write a definition of the "American Way." But this hand-in-hand achievement of state and national health associations, General Electric, and the local communities comes close to being a perfect example.

A PROUD NAME IN THE TELEPHONE INDUSTRY...

The name of Southwestern Associated Telephone Company was changed on August 1, 1952, to General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

This change is in line with that taken by other subsidiary operating companies of the General Telephone Corporation. It is designed to make the public aware that the General Telephone System is one organization, strong and growing.

As you know, the General Telephone System is the largest independent (non-Bell) telephone organization in the industry. The new name clearly distinguishes us from all other telephone companies and unites the General Telephone System more closely.

Here in the Southwest our Company serves more than 120,000 customers in the states of Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

Very truly yours,

RECEIVED the following definition of a "Preachers Seat" from Guy Patterson of Claude and he gets the free subscription to the paper. If there was a duplicate received at any other paper we will also pay off there too. Anyway, here goes for the definition: "The Preacher Seat" is a type of dive into water. In this dive the "Posture" strikes the water first. For added style the nose should be held with one hand and the other one extended over the head and the mouth should stay open." end of quote from Mr. Patterson. He is absolutely right but frankly I didn't expect any of these West Texas Dry landers to get the answer. I think he must have grown up in a creek country. To top it all off Guy is a preacher. Thanks, thanks a lot. I learned this on my trip to Arkansas and Oklahoma, about the Preachers Seat, that is.

I thought my trips were over for the summer but the other day one of my brother-in-laws came by and wanted to take me out Mexico way to see the old brother-in-law with the beans. Anyhow, I was about out of beans so I took him up. When we got there he had his bean-wagon all loaded up with cats and ripe peaches and wanted us to go with him on a trip into northern New Mexico and Colorado. What could I lose, so off we went. Now the readers will have to listen to that trip for a week or two.

Before I get into that I would like to thank my enemies who voted for me for constable of precinct two in Armstrong County. It was a landslide; most every one jumped on the band wagon and I snowed Uncle Claude under head and ears. But if it is alright with the readers I would like to just let him have it. His hips are more fitted to gun-carrying. Anyway, after me beating him fair and square and after him getting the fun out of all my failures, he now sends me a bill for $25.00. I'd rather just concede him the race. I don't want to shoot nuthin' no way. I appreciate every last enemy who voted for me but I better not shoulder a gun. Next time Please don't elect me to no gun-totin' job. I just Ain't fitted.

New Mexico has a tax on Liquor to maintain hospitals for alcoholics. The liquor industry tried to prove it unconstitutional in the courts but it just while we were there stood up in the highest court. Now if they would put a tax on to cover the poverty and heartbreak that the stuff causes they would be about ready to get started on the racket. Anyway, it was a beginner.

Sign in a cafe in Taos: "This cafe recommended to Duncan Hines." It almost fooled me. However the food was good. On the menu was a Cattleman's Special breakfast; half dozen eggs, ham steak, coffee, half loaf bread, jelly, country butter and what have you all for $3.00. He said he did have some takers. Right underneath he asked: "Is there a man in the house?"

Also in the same Cafe was the following daily prayer. "Lord help me to keep my nose out of other people's business and theirs out of mine."

Mexico with its Land of Enchantment has a lot more land that must have just been put in to hold the other together. Anyhow, it didn't seem to be good for anything else. But Mexico does have its wonders. For instance the Aztec ruin near Farmington. Here you saw their whole villages that had been uncovered and preserved much as they had lived. The guide told us many very interesting stories about their customs; some of the facts I am sure had been pieced together from meager facts. Among the things that the ruins showed was that in those days the men took care of all the politics and all the religion and the women did all the work. How different from today? Now they look after politics and religion too. Regardless of how much you have seen of Indian customs this is worth a visit. It was said that water was scarce in those days and that when they took a bath they would take a pint of water and team it on some hot coals and let the steam pass over their body sweating out the dirt. At least it took some thinking to invent that idea. The skeletons were bound with rawhide much in the shape they were before they were born; they were trying to leave this world in the same shape that they came into it. They tell us that the Indians were not Aztecs but were mistakenly named by the first white men; that they were Pueblo Indians, very peaceful and pretty good farmers; at least their wives were. Many of their irrigation ditches were still used. Many lived long distance from river and water was precious.

Noah was the Webster of dictionary fame.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Well, What Do You Know?

Do you believe in a bunch of old tales about lightning—about how it's attracted by cats or the warmth of cattle... how it never strikes in the same place twice... or how it's liable to turn milk sour? Lots of people often do—but they're wrong.

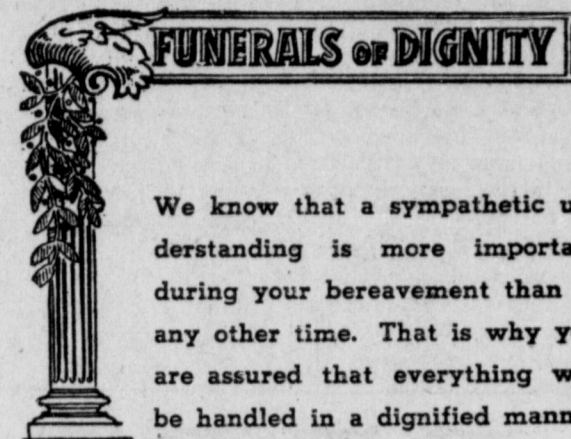

Dad Hawkins inspired this column today. He's really studied up on lightning since his own cow barn was struck that time.

"Trouble is, most of us don't know half enough about the subject," Dad says. "And about half of what we do know is false!"

From where I sit, Dad's statement applies to a lot of things besides lightning. Too many people think they know their neighbor's wrong when he votes for his candidate instead of theirs. Some people even resent our right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer if and when we choose. Opinions based on misinformation and prejudice, instead of being "grounded" on true facts can cause more damage than lightning ever did.

Now smart, young, Lil climbs every hill, thanks to one of the greatest services ever offered the motoring public—a service that helps engines last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil!

It's exactly the same service that kept test cars new in Conoco's spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous 50,000-mile test, with 1,000-mile drains and proper filter service, test car engines showed no wear of any consequence; in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000.

Now you can get this same 1-2-3 "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, at your Conoco Mileage Merchant's today!

South All-Stars To Meet North All-Stars At Fort Worth August 8th

FORT WORTH — Wide open football comes to Texas Aug. 8. It's the potent Split-T formation as coached by Maryland's Jim Tatum versus the ever-threatening spread formation of TCU's Dutch Meyer.

And the masters of the two formations will be at the helm directing two all-star high school squads in the annual all-star football game of the Texas High School Coaches Association Annual School, August 4-8. The game — first time ever scheduled for Fort Worth—is the climax of the annual school sponsored by the coaches association. It will be played at 8 p. m. Friday August 8th on the plush carpet of TCU's Amon Carter Stadium.

Careful screening by two committees have aligned all stars from Class A to Class 4-AAAA teams into two squads—the South and North All-Stars.

Looming as a new high in scoring, the annual game will see the Meyer spread being used for the first time although Meyer has coached the all-stars before. The 1951 season was the first time for Meyer to use the spread through an entire game and it brought a Southwest Conference Championship.

Meyer will coach the South All-Stars with the aid of his chief assistant, Othol (Abe) Martin, the Frog backfield and offense coach.

Tatum, to be assisted in coaching the North All-Stars by Jack Hennemier, his assistant at University of Maryland, brings the intricate Split-T to the all star game for a fourth time. Although this is Tatum's first time as an instructor at the school and as coach of one of the all star teams, the Split-T in three previous attempts has not won a single time.

Tatum had an undefeated record at Maryland in 1951 and went on to upset Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl. He isn't a stranger to the Southwest. His 1946 Oklahoma eleven, winner of the Gator Bowl that year, appeared in Texas.

In the 17-year history of the all-star game the North eleven holds an 8-7 edge in victories with two games resulting in ties.

In addition to the coaching duties of the four coaches, they will hold daily clinics on their styles of play, using the all star players as demonstrators.

And in the lecture hall during the week long clinic more detailed information on blackboards with charts of plays will be explained to the more than 1,200 coaches who will register for the Fort Worth school.

Tickets for the all star game are on sale at the Central Ticket Office in Hotel Texas lobby and through the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce at $1.80 for west side reserved seats, $1.20 for general admission in the east stands, and 60 cents for students, high school and under.

To assure easy-walking distance of the stadium, the Fort Worth committee on arrangements has provided for close parking of automobiles with the stadium's upper parking lot on the west side at $1 a car and 50 cents for the lower parking lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arthur of Pampa were dinner guests in the home of her mother, Mrs. Maggie Deal Wednesday evening.

WHAT a fine lad he is! How proud we are of him! And now he goes to Church and the Church School. There he will worship and learn to love the great and the good; he will hear the most "wonderful story ever told," of the love and graciousness of God, as revealed in a human person. He will fellowship with other children who are learning to know and to serve God. This is a splendid picture. How we wish that all the boys in the land would do as this fine chap who is on the way that leads to life!

WHERE are the other three boys who make up three-fourths of our boy population? Perhaps their parents were too busy doing "practical things" on Sunday morning when they could have been leading their children by the hand to Sunday School and Church. Boys go to church better if they are brought by worshipping parents than if they are "sent by indifferent fathers and mothers." Our children will follow pretty much in our steps, and will take the same Sunday paths that we follow.

EVERY child born in a Christian land has a right to the advantages of religion. We do them an injustice if we fail to give them their rightful heritage of faith and hope and love. These are the Goods which will abide when other things fail us. Let's give our children the best. Since they are minds and souls as well as bodies, they have a right to expect of us good food for their higher nature as well as shelter and food for their bodies. Let's live with them in reverence toward God and in goodwill toward all men. The Church is ours to use and ours to serve. Shall we deny ourselves and our children the high and noble values of civilization?

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
