SWEET 'N SOUR

By A. DILL

At long last it's here! Spring, we mean, and no matter what the thermometer may do (and in West Texas that's anybody's guess) the calendar says SPRING in nice big letters. Days and nights level off and become the same in length this week and soon daylight will have the margin on night. That ought to be a welcome change for everybody. The swallows, bless their little gizzards, made it back to Capistrano on St. Joseph's Day right on schedule so all's right with the world.

It's sprin gin McElroy's show windows, too, with lovely displays of springtime foot-wear and Easter styles from the ever up-to-date Gray's Style Shop.

Were you on hand for the fine Scout Parade last week to celebrate the Birthday of Girl Scouts? Did you ever see a better bunch of little girls anywhere? What did you think of Louis Pippin's high school band? It has certainly done well under that youngman's excellent direction. Girls from all of our Scout troops were in the parade and flashing green uniforms never looked smarter. And didn't you love Mrs. Brandon and Mrs. Barton's Brownie troop and Mrs. Ethelyn McGowen's cute little first grade Brownies whose short little legs had such a job with the big marching strides that they hurried along like little brown partridges and just about stole the show? That was young America in action and it was wonderful.

Spring is a beautiful time and never is it more evident than now in Baird yards. Worth going by to see is the Joe Arvin yard. The huge red tulips, the golden wax daffodils and the clumps of purple pansies are lovely and their arrangement is just about perfect.

Another very pretty yard is the Roy Williams place. There is a flowering almond bush there that looks as though it might have been lifted from a Japanese painting, so delicate is its pink coloring.

Still another yard that would take first prize in any garden contest is the Keef Rowlands'. They have some of the most perfect Iris you will see anywhere and Mrs. Rowland is most generous in sharing them with her friends and the lovely blooms brighten school rooms, churches and other places where she sends them.

And have you seen the beautiful hycianths that are blooming in the James Snyder's yard, or perhaps we should say Byron Snyder's yard, for we bet that young man had a hand in making those flowers grow, and we always strive to place credit is due.

Spring of 1953 will be long remembered in Baird, for some im-

License Plates At Bargain Rates

Tea Baulch, deputy tax collector for Callahan county, stated this week that license plates are now selling at a bargain—they'll be higher on April 1.

By mid-week only about one-half of motor vehicle registrants in the county had secured new license plates for 1953.

Actually, only 900 passenger car plates had been distributed; 32 commercial vehicles and 192 farm trucks had secured plates.

Last week's report indicated Cross Plains was lagging with 155 passenger cars, 17 commercial and 34 farm trucks getting the new plates.

Last year's total for Callahan county motor vehicles licensed was: passenger cars, 2,788; commercial, 329; farm trucks, 641.

Tuscola Couple Hurt In Crash Near Here

A Tuscola couple was in Hendrick Memorial Hospital Wednesday night as a result of a highway accident six miles south of Abilene on the Coleman highway.

Roy Kendrick, 65, suffered a chest injury and was said to be in serious condition at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. His wife, 55, was thought to be less seriously injured.

Martin Burton, 2117 Simmons Ave., said he was riding in a car coming to Abilene and "saw the dust of the accident" at 6 a. m. Wednesday. Burton said there were two trucks in front of the Kendrick car, and their car apparently went out of control in attempting to pass the trucks.

Baird Lad Places In District Show

Don Roots, president of the local F. F. A. Chapter, placed two hogs in the district at Abilene. Salty, a 245 pound duroc barrow placed 25th in a class of 46. Salty is out of a registered duroc sow owned by Frankie Carroll. The dam of Salty was given the Chapter by the Callahan County Club. Salty gained more than three pounds daily the last 37 days he was on feed. The other duroc barrow that placed was Heavy. This pig was out of a M. L. Green bred dam and placed 17. Forty barrows made up this heavy class.

Jack Flores, a first year student, entered a Chocolate Dutch Rabbit and litter. This entry did not place in a class of 17 entries. There was only one place in this division which was won by an Abilene entry.

Charles Barron, another first year student, showed two pens of light weight broilers. These were in competition with 33 entries. Four classes placed in this division.

Thirty F. F. A. boys went to Abilene District Fat Stock Show last Monday by bus to help cheer on the local lads who had entries. These boys were accompanied by E. L. Reese.

A lot of interest has developed in Baird chapter due to having attended. Several boys want to have capons as a project to carry to the Abilene show next year. One hundred thirty-five dollars for one capon is enough to cause interest in this department. Tommy Roots, brother to Don, has indicated he would like to feed a hereford calf. Charles Brame is in the market for some feeder lambs.

They remain in the hospital here.

CONSERVATION IS THE THEME

This year's Oil Progress Week won't be observed until next October but its theme has been chosen. That theme will be Conservation. It's a wise choice, for oil has been an outstanding leader in advancing true conservation of our natural resources. And what true conservation is and is not, is a matter which suffers from much public misunderstanding.

One phase of sound conservation lies in looking far ahead. Oil has gone all out in this regard. It has spent tremendous sums of money to find new sources of crude which can be tapped in the future. It has done this so successfully that our known reserves are at an all-time high, despite consumption which has broken record after record.

Another phase of true conservatism is to fully utilize all the oil that is withdrawn from the earth for current use. The oil industry has learned how to recover, transport and process oil products with a minimum of waste and a maximum of efficiency. Each barrel of crude provides far more service than was the case in the past.

Finally, research and competition have given the American people an almost endless flow of both better oil products and new oil products.

Conservation is a subject that oil men can talk about with knowledge and confidence.

HEAVY OBLIGATION

In a recent speech, J. C. Penney, head of the chain store system which bears his name, said: 'In a free nation, where the individual is of first importance, that importance carries with it a heavy obligation. He must be worthy of the trust, by being a responsible citizen, by dealing reasonably and fairly with his fellow men. The free choices he makes cannot be jungle choices. They must be based upon the Golden Rule. He must do unto others as he expects to be dealt with by them. This is a stern discipline, but on it depends his survival as a free human being. And on him and his fellow Americans ultimately depends the survival of this country. Every man who fails, even in little things, may be responsible for the loss, to every man, woman and child in it, of the priceless gift of liberty.'

Freedom is not a right. It must be earned, nourished, protected. Whether we shall have it or lose it will depend on our character as a nation—which is simply the sum total of our characters as individuals.

"WRITE YOUR LEGISLATORS"

Have you written your Congressman what YOU think? He doesn't have a crystal ball, you know.

On any important legislation your elected representative WANTS to know what YOU think. You can bet he hears plenty from those seeking special favors—so why not tell him how YOU feel about the deal. He will appreciate it.

That is plain old fashioned good American Citizenship. You can't have SELF government if you don't take an interest in it. Speak up! Make yourself heard.

Watch your newspapers for pending legislation then write your Congressman or legislator—write him right, and write him often. Do right—write your legislators!

This month is sponsored by the Lawyers of Texas as part of their "Get Acquainted With Your Government" program.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Barnes of Arkansas City, Kansas, have returned home after having spent several days with Mrs. Barnes aunt, Mrs. Dan Greene.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Clark and sons, Mark and Leslie, of Fort Worth visited here last weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutrick and family.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Legislative Immunity to Libel Actions Explained

Does the law provide redress for persons whose character and reputations are wrongfully assailed? Lawyers say that it does, but with exceptions.

Occasionally the public is agitated by charges brought on the floor of Congress against various individuals—scientists, actors and highly placed government employees. In some cases, where the falsity of those charges has been established, we have become interested in what remedy is available to a person wrongfully accused, either orally or in print. This situation has given new emphasis and importance to the laws governing libel and slander.

What are libel and slander? Generally speaking, libel is a malicious or false publication, in print or in writing, about the character or reputation of a person, made without justification or excuse. This need not be something printed in a newspaper or magazine article—it may be a private letter in which something false and malicious is stated.

Slander is a defamation of a person's character, without legal excuse, made by the spoken word. This need not necessarily be a radio or television address but may be an oral statement which is not mechanically broadcast and which may be heard only by a few rather than by a great number.

Our system of jurisprudence, originating in the common law of England, has always recognized the right of the individual to be safe from an unjust or wrongful attack upon his character and reputation. The relief provided by our laws includes both penal action and civil action for damages. But these remedies do not exist without qualifications and exceptions.

Certain public officials such as members of Congress and members of legislatures, in the course of exercising their duties, have immunity from libel and slander laws.

On the surface this may appear to be somewhat unfair in that a congressman or state legislator may say things which are untrue about a person and that person has no right to bring suit for damages against him. But there is a reason for it.

Although the rights of the individual are very dear and highly respected by our Constitution and laws, there are times when some of those rights must be suspended if other functions of government are to be realized. If a congressman or legislator stands in fear of being sued because of what he says while advocating or opposing legislation, the function of Congress and the Legislature would come to a standstill. For that reason the law gives them immunity.

However, recently some congressmen have been accused of abusing this privilege. There has been talk about our law being amended to give injured parties redress against them for false and libelous statements. Would

from the PUBLISHER

There is a great deal of difference in the outlook for farmers and ranchers since the rain last week. Callahan County was not in the heavy rainfall area but anything over an inch is a mighty good rain. Down here in Bosque County the average was close to four inches. With a little warm weather this country is going to put on its Sunday clothes and really look pretty. Many of the ills caused by price breaks can be cured by plenty of rain. Most stockmen will tell you the drought has hurt more than the break in cattle prices.

A&M College declares only six per cent of the rain will actually be used by crops and pastures. Seventeen per cent goes into rivers and creeks and 77 per cent of the water that soaks into the ground supports useless brush and weeds. The amount of water used by the mesquite trees in Texas would grow enough grass to support a lot of livestock.

I notice the plans are complete for the fifth annual Sheriff's Posse Rodeo to be held three days starting April 30. Being a rodeo fan we plan to be on hand. I haven't had a chance to attend one before but have heard good reports. The people over in Albany are also making ready for an event which has earned a great deal of publicity for their town. The Fort Griffin Fandangle is always an outstanding production. My wife, being a native of Albany, usually manages to visit the home folks during the week of the Fandangle.

Although there are not many television set owners in this locality those who do have them are real fans. Callahan County is in an extreme fringe area at present and reception is erratic out all the set owners with whom I have talked would not part with them. They are a lot like the amateur doctors who have a certain cure for a cold. Each one has a pet idea which he wants you to try to eliminate interference and improve reception. Having had a set here for almost a year I have heard and tried at least two dozen such ideas and received about as much benefit as I have from the cold remedies. However, being a member of the owner group gives one something in common with all the other owners and a good subject for conversation. I have yet to find one who will not talk at great length on his television experiences given the opportunity.

People everywhere are being such as desirable? That is a matter of considerable controversy. Although we may sympathize with any person whose personal character and integrity is assailed even by a member of Congress, many feel that the legislative function is so important that we should be cautious in making any changes that might bridge or impede the elected representatives of the people in the execution of their law-making duty.

contacted just now in the annual Red Cross drive. There could be no better recommendation than the accounts of the immediate relief given by the Red Cross to the Texas and Oklahoma towns devastated by the tornado storms. All who remember the one in Clyde about 15 years ago know the damage that is left in the storms wake. Every American should respond as generously as possible to the appeal for funds for this humanitarian cause.

Our Service Boys

By A/2c JUAN MENDEZ

A/2c Juan Mendez joined the Armed Forces on the 21st of October in 1951. He took his basic training at Lackland Air Base in San Antonio. Finishing basic training the 20th of December in 1951, he entered a supply school at Francis E. Warren Air Base, Wyoming, and finished school on the 11th of March in 1952.

Juan was ordered to overseas duty on the 29th of April, 1952. He has been in Germany ten months and has 26 more months to go.

While in Germany he was stationed about 75 miles from his brother, Andrew Mendez, but due to the fact that each one duties happened to take him elsewhere the two brothers only saw one another one time.

Andrew has returned home from overseas duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Buchanan were visiting in Fort Worth last week-end and never dreamed it had rained in Callahan county until they came home Monday night and found the roads so muddy they could hardly make it in home. Mrs. Buchanan says boys how much she will enjoy the new highway. Well, guess it has been so long since we saw the roads so muddy that we had most forgot how bad they could get.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Burnam and daughters, Retha and Gayle, were shopping in Dallas Saturday.

Quite a few in the community have bought their baby chicks. Mrs. Arno Roggenstein and Mrs. Henry Bailey. Guess we will know where to go to get fried chicken. By the way, we had fried chicken for lunch today and it was not cold storage either. It was really good.

My Album of Memories

Putnam is a progressive little city of 1,000 population. Y. A. Orr, druggist here for the past 49 years, is mayor of the city.

Dr. B. F. Brittain has been a practicing physician there since 1891. Dr. J. M. Foy, deceased, was the first physician to locate in Putnam.

F. P. Shackelford located in Putnam in 1883, and established a general merchandise and lumber business. The Shackelford family lived in a double log house in the Mt. Zion neighborhood five miles south of Putnam and Mr. Shackelford walked into town each morning and back home at evening. The double log house was built by Mr. Tanner, the father of Mrs. John Heysler, who still lives in the Mt. Zion community, and Mrs. J. E. Gilliland of Baird. Mr. Shackelford died in 1926 and the business established more than 50 years ago is now owned by his son, F. P. Shackelford, Jr.

Mrs. John Heysler and Sam Jobe are the oldest residents of Putnam community.

Other early business firms still operating is L. J. Cook Grocery. Fred Cook Garage. W. W. Everette, W. A. Everette.

Other early residents were: The Surles Wagleys, Eubanks, Lawson, Isenhowers, Sprawls, Clintons, Pruetts, Burnams, Siglers, Hutchinsons, Edwards, Harwells, Coulter, Woods, Cunningshams, Garthers, Garretts, McDermits, Harts, Williams, Tinsley Alvords, Merrimans, Andersons, Biggerstuffs, D. P. and T. B. Hadley, Finley and many others.

Many of the younger members of the families of these sturdy pioneers are still living in and around Putnam.

In 1880 there were several families residing in the vicinity of Putnam. The settlement at that time was known as Catclaw. It bore that name for a short time until the coming of the railroad and the name was changed to Breman. Within less than a year the postal authorities discovered they had made a mistake in assigning the name Breman, on account of a town in South Texas of similar sounding name. Therefore for the third time a name was given to the town by the post office department, Putnam, we suppose in honor of the Revolutionary Hero.

The first settler at Catclaw was Dr. J. M. Foy. He remained for only one year and was succeeded by Dr. B. F. Brittain, who is still the practicing physician at Putnam.

The town was first built along the railroad, both north and south side.

The first store in Putnam was located on the south side of the railroad about where the Shackelford Lumber Yard is now located. This business was conducted by C. C. Scarbrough, and was established in the year 1880.

Clay and Tabor established at about the same time a store on the north side, near the place where the well is located on the square.

The first post office was located in the Clay and Tabor building and Theron Tabor, brother of Mrs. Bearden of Baird, acted as first postmaster.

A few years later, the following business houses had been erected at Putnam: J. J. Sigler, general store; Conner and Surles; Y. A. Orr, druggist; Dick Gurney, dry goods; "The Chili Joint," run by Walter Marshall. All these stores were located on the north side of the track.

On the south side was the store of F. P. Shackelford and the blacksmith shop, which was run by Mr. Pycatt, who now resides in Clyde.

Bill Shirley Returns From the Hospital

Sunday was more than a happy day for Bill Shirley, because he returned home after a long illness from severe burns he received on his hands and leg as he was burning pears for his cattle last fall.

When Mr. Shirley first went to the hospital, it was in the dead of winter. Now, as he returned home from the hospital, he saw the fruit trees in bloom and green grain tall enough to wave in the wind. The grass in his pasture, he noticed, would about take care of his cattle so he could turn them out of his grain. What greater sight could a cattle-man behold?

Mr. Shirley is able to walk, but will return to the hospital at intervals to be treated.

His many friends welcome him home.

Chefs Demonstrate Cooking Skill

During a discussion, last week, concerning the assembly type of building, the eighth grade students in Mr. Putnam's class decided this would be a good way to cook biscuits. This final discussion on cooking resulted in a challenge, which were the best cooks, boys or girls.

During the week-end students donned chef caps and began to make cookies, candy and cakes. Some of it must have been mighty good for only John Doyle Isenhower's and Nettie Lu Donaway's cookies reached the school room.

Mrs. John Kellner, fifth and sixth grade teacher, was the judge but decided she could not make a choice since the same recipe was not used. So the contest was postponed until Thursday of this week.

Last Friday, Dan Reed and Nancy Hutchinson brought pine apple upside-down cakes which were delicious. Dan won in this contest.

CARD OF THANKS

They reported a very enjoyable and profitable trip. At the morning session Dr. Norton of Florence, Alabama, stressed the role of the Public School in meeting the danger of those who would destroy this great American freedom of public education. That afternoon after a down town luncheon they enjoyed a fine lecture on Public Relationship.

Do you, as John Q. Public, wonder why a class-room teacher with Mrs. Kellner's knowledge and experience, uses Saturday of all days and travels 300 miles for something that isn't required by her certificate or by her school board. Things of this type are a few of the reasons why this lady is admired by her superintendent, school board and her many friends and patrons. If you are new in Putnam or have a school problem feel free to call on the teachers. We have taken this opportunity to mention Mrs. Kellner. She teaches the fifth and sixth grades in your school here. We think her tops.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Thursday, March 12, Baird Girl Scouts took part in a parade in honor of the forty first birthday of Girl Scouting in America.

Girl Scouting first came to America in March, 1912. Juliette Gordon Low was the founder. Mrs. Low had been visiting Lord and Lady Baden-Powell in England. There she learned about Boy Scouting, and Girl Scouting, and thought it would also be fine for American girls. She had her first Guide Company (they were then called Girl Guides) in a lonely village in Scotland. There were only seven members. These girls had to walk six miles to meetings. She taught them to raise poultry spin, and weave and found markets for their homespun so they could help support their families. The handicap of poor health and total deafness didn't stop her from doing this work. She wasn't a wealthy person and when she found money was needed she even sold her treasured heirloom, her pearls, so she could go on with this work. At the end of 1915 there were 5,000 Girl Scouts. The organization now had a national council, constitution, by-laws, and charter. Mrs. Low was its first president. After World War I, and by 1919 there were 34,081 members.

We wish to thank the Baird School Band, for leading the parade, Mrs. A. A. Manion for the nice talk on Girl Scouting, and the Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff, and Highway Patrolmen for holding traffic during the parade.

Artie Mae Stokes,
Troop 5 Reporter.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH — Fat lambs advanced at Fort Worth in the opening session this week, reflecting the strength of the dressed meat trade for that item in the Eastern states. Feeders were steady to weak, and yearlings and older sheep were in small supply and drew firm prices.

Hog runs all around the market circle were again far below a year ago, and pork product prices were stronger, and this was responsible for a 25 to 50-cent advance Monday on top hogs and hogs drew strong prices. Top hogs sold for $21.25 to $21.75. Sows drew $16.50 to $19.50. Pigs were quotable around $12 to $17.

Most classes of cattle and calves ruled steady, except fed steers and yearlings, which sold weak to 50 cents lower. Heavier weight steers were under the most pressure. Stocker trade was extremely narrow again.

Numerous shipments of cattle afflicted with hyperkeratosis (X-disease) were again in the run and sold for immediate slaughter.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings cashed at $19 to $22.50, a load of 1,230-lb. steers from Jim Hubbard of Lancaster at $21, and some 811-lb. cattle from M. E. Harrison of buyers at $19.25. A load of 1,029-lb. steers from Throckmorton sold for $20.25. Two loads of Oklahoma steers drew $22.25. Common and medium offerings sold for $12 to $19, some shells for less.

Fat cows sold from $14 to $16, with canners and cutters mostly from $10 to $13.50, some old shells for less. Bulls drew $10 to $18. Good and choice fat calves bulked at $19 to $22.50 and plain and medium kinds sold from $13 to $19, with culls around $10 to $13. Stocker calves were quotable around $23 down, and yearlings around $22 down. Stocker cows sold from $12 to $18.

Good and choice fat lambs bulked at $19 to $22, a load of woolled lambs at 104 pounds from the L. R. Allison Farms (El Paso County) at $22. Clipped lambs with No. 1 and No. 2 pelts bulked at $19 to $20, some 105-lb. lambs from L. A. Bryson, Rochelle, at $19.50. John H. Thaxton, San Saba, had 200 clipped lambs at 89 pounds at $20. Stocker and feeder lambs drew $17 to $20. Yearlings and two sold from $13 to $17.50 and a few old ewes cashed at $7 to $10. Aged wethers drew $12 down. Old bucks drew $6.50 to $8.

One-Quarter Million Casualties Is Texas Toll For 1952

By ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

One of our permanent problems is that of traffic safety.

Of importance to each of us, it is a subject continually discussed and analyzed—to the extent, indeed, that it is unusual to find a new idea or a new approach.

There is one relatively new proposal, however, that I want to put before the people of Texas.

It involves the younger drivers of the state—those under 21 years of age. It concerns not only the driving habits of those youngsters, but the benefits they might bring to the whole program of traffic safety now and in the years to come.

I am inclined to think it would be a good idea to have a statewide Teen-age Traffic Safety conference at an early date.

But first let me give the background for such a proposal.

We are all more or less familiar with the disturbing picture of slaughter and waste on the highways of Texas.

Last year the pace of our state was shattered by 225,000 motor vehicle accidents.

In these mishaps 2,500 of our fellow-citizens were killed.

More than 100,000 people were injured.

These traffic accidents, besides the tragedy in human terms, represented economic losses of about $150,000,000.

What can we do to remedy this increasingly grave situation?

There are many possible ways of improvement—including better highways, stricter enforcement, or perhaps more laws. But the driver always will remain the most important element in accident prevention.

Even if we had the money to put our highways in perfect order, and if every car on the road were in ideal mechanical condition, we still would have to contend with the driver.

And, in considering what we can do to improve the drivers, we should not forget those in the younger age groups.

Thirty per cent of the drivers involved in traffic accidents in Texas are under 25 years of age.

Traffic safety during the second half of the twentieth century will be in the hands of today's young drivers.

Let's hope that these young people will do better than those of us over 25 who are involved in 70 per cent of today's accidents and who collectively have piled up such dismaying safety records during our years behind the wheel.

If I were a teen-ager, I would have plenty to say to my young friends—and my elders—on this subject, just as my teen-age son has a lot to say to me.

And, when the average teen-ager sounds off about driving, he knows what he is talking about.

These youngsters know that too many of the middle-aged and older people on the road do not practice correct driving habits. They are extremely interested in driving—and probably are more conscious of many traffic problems than some of us who have been operating cars for many years.

I believe we need the benefit of their ideas on traffic safety.

For that reason I propose that a statewide Teen-age Traffic Safety Conference be held in Austin as soon as possible.

This would be a meeting in which young people from all parts of Texas could recommend resolutions to their own driving problems—and make suggestions that might prove beneficial to the entire state.

They might be able to discover ways of helping teen-agers become better drivers and to make recommendations concerning what should be done about the young drivers who do not live up to their responsibilities.

Conferences like this in Colorado, Illinois, Florida, Arkansas, Wyoming and California have been surprisingly constructive.

Besides discussions, this Texas Teen-age Conference—or later meetings of this nature—might include contests in driving skill such as those held at the National Teen-age Road-e-o in Washington, D. C.

I believe most parents in our state will be interested in a conference for young drivers. In addition to their concern about their children and themselves and the public generally, parents are extremely aware of the fact that, if anyone under 25 drives the family car, the insurance premium goes up. If the accidents involving youthful drivers could be cut down, the car insurance premiums would be reduced.

If the teen-agers, their parents, our teachers and school administrators, and organizations like the Hi-Y clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Junior Chamber of Commerce, veterans' associations, and other public-spirited civic and religious groups throughout the state will get behind the idea of a Texas Teen-age Traffic Safety Conference, I think it will materialize and will be an outstanding success.

The facilities of the Governor's office are available for all possible assistance in planning and carrying out such a conference. I should like to hear from parents and others who have an opinion, pro or con, about this proposal.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Gardner are the proud parents of a boy born March 12, 1953, at 7:18 a. m., in the St. Mary's Infirmary Houston, Texas. Baby's name is Gary Glen. Weight 7 pounds, 15 ounces. Mrs. Gardner was the former Mildred Ann King, daughter of Mrs. J. R. Coley.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Shepherd of Elkhart, Indiana were guests of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Driskill, last week. Mrs. Shepherd, until her marriage on Sunday, March 8, was the former Jacqueline Vitatote of Junction City, Kansas.

house Monday night. The program was well presented and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

Madge Reed, Gayle Williams, Verne Davis and Nancy Hutchinson attended the MYF banquet at Dublin Monday night. Mrs. Roy Lee Williams and sons, Marvin Lee, and Hollis Dale, of Fort Worth were visiting over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Eubanks. Kiddie Carnival TV show recently and he told them he was Little Hollis Dale was on the Mary Lou's little boy.

While talking to Robert Buchanan in town last Saturday, he was asking how Mr. Speegle was. On being assured the man was getting along fine after being kicked by the cow, he told about a man he knew who said that a cow had kicked him into the Baptist Church. The man was not a Christian and had little time to go to church. However, he got kicked by a cow and it broke his leg. Since he could do no work and a meeting was in progress, he decided he would attend. He was so impressed by the sermons that he joined the church, so that is the reason he said that a cow kicked him into the church.

There was a pastor of a certain church whose most important members were not living as god lives as they should and this was a burden to the pastor. His conscience told him that he must preach a sermon on sin. After considerable delay and reminders by his conscience, he delivered a sermon on sin. Not wanting to tread on their toes too rough, he finished this way. They should repent of their sins—more or less, live a better life—something, or be damned—to a certain extent.

Mrs. Earlene Clark and daughter, Doris, and Mary and Beth Isenhower were shopping in Cisco, Monday. They were getting material to make boxes for the box supper to be held this week. Plans are being made for the boys to make boxes next time and the girls plan to bid on the boxes. Are you game, boys? This is unusual and should prove interesting and no doubt it will be lots of fun.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK — Freedom. That's what we are promised in economic affairs, as nearly as the Eisenhower administration can provide it. We are all for freedom, of course. We shall have a chance now to decide if we are all pleased with the changes freedom will bring. For example—

Prices: Eisenhower - direct controls expire April 30, but indirect controls over the entire supply of money and credit will be enforced as they have not been before. Truman - Direct ceilings on specific prices, accompanied by a constant pumping of new money and credit into circulation.

Wages: Eisenhower - The government will stand aside and let labor and management fight it out until public safety is endangered. Truman - Nominal controls over wages, with administration support for some union demands which could only be met by gradual lifting of the whole wage level.

Jobs: Eisenhower made no specific mention of government intervention to maintain employment. Truman's economic report of January 14 declared: "We should try our best to maintain full employment, (and not) wait until small recessions begin to spiral before seeking to reverse their course."

A Garden of Managers - One of the principal problems over which managements cultivate wrinkles is that of transplanting improved techniques from the top brass into the field. The keenest trade and labor relations policies can be blunted by field managers who find grandpa's methods good enough for them. The most artfully collected and collated market data are worthless to the field manager who draws his sales quotas out of a hat.

In practice, of course, the less able are sifted out by trial and error; business success itself is an assurance that the central direction and the field operations have been going the same way at the same gait most of the time.

One big company has refused to content itself with this reflection, and calls in the field managers to implant new sales stratagems. Schenley Distributors, Inc., brings in district managers and supervisors - two or three at a time, so no one territory will be denuded - for a week's course in market management. When Harry G. Serlis, president, started this, he intended to concentrate on newly appointed management men, but he soon concluded he had something to teach the old-timers as well.

Things To Come - Unbreakable plastic mixing bowls come with handles for hand use, and are shaped to fit into place on electric mixers also . . . A new traffic light will change the length of its red and green intervals according to which street has more cars moving . . . A 30-gallon water heater has table-top design to fit into the decor of the kitchens of basementless homes . . . A coffee dripper has been perfected which makes the coffee in the drinker's cup . . . New York banks have begun to provide left-handed check books so southpaw depositors won't smudge their stubs.

Kitchen Brightener - Nearly everything the housewife uses to spruce up kitchen surfaces has its drawbacks - abrasive cleaners take off paint, oily polish picks up dust, harsh chemicals dry the hands. Comes now the world's foremost maker of protective and cleaning waxes, to do all the brightening jobs with one swipe and no ill effects. It's a creamy white emulsion called Jubilee, made by Johnson's Wax. The user simply shakes up the container, applies some on a soft cloth pad, and off come cooking film, food stains, smudges and fingerprints. It smells more like a hand lotion than a cleansing product, and is free from lint-attracting oils.

See Europe Wholesale - One luxury that will be cheaper for the American tourist this summer is travel from country to country once he reaches Europe. European airlines experimented last year with what in this country are called coach fares, to the extent of some 20 per cent of flights. This year the proportion will be 90 per cent coach, 10 per cent first class, for the important European Airways, and French and Swedish lines have indicated they will follow suit.

Bits O' Business - The National Association of Purchasing agents reports enough orders in hand to keep business running at its high level for another three or four months . . . George M. Humphery, new Secretary of the Treasury, will have the gold at Fort Knox and other Treasury depositories counted. It will take six months . . . Freight rate division on joint hauls will be changed to give Southern and Western roads a probable $37 million less and Eastern roads that much more . . . Five big movie companies are following the small-fry into production of three-dimensional movies . . . U. S. Farm exports declined in November for the fifth month in a row . . . Chicago banks are refusing new loans to cattle feeders as beef prices keep falling.

Humble Oil Co. Sets Safety Record

Employees of Humble Oil & Refining Company and Humble Pipe Line Company set the best safety record in the history of the companies last year with an accident frequency of only 1.87 disabling injuries per million hours worked.

Humble's all-time low disabling injury rate during the past year was a 41 per cent decrease from 1951, the year the previous best record was established. A disabling injury is one in which an employee loses time from his job because of an industrial accident. No accidental deaths occurred among Humble employees on the job in 1952.

Eighteen units of Humble received certificates from the American Petroleum Institute for completing million-hour work periods without a disabling injury during the past year. Among the larger groups, the Exploration Department completed two million accident-free hours in 1952; the Louisiana and East Texas production divisions, the Sales Department, and Humble Pipe Line Company achieved million-hour marks.

The highest recognition of the National Safety Council, the Award of Honor, was presented in 1952 to Humble's Production and Refining Departments for the safety achievements of their employees over the three prior years. The company's Natural Gas Division received the next highest recognition of the Council, the Award of Merit.

Five out of the six awards presented annually by the Texas Safety Association to oil companies went to Humble in 1952 for the previous year's records. The departments receiving the Association's awards were Exploration, Refining, Production, Sales and Natural Gas.

The oil industry, once considered a dangerous one, recorded fewer than 100 fatal accidents in 1952. In contrast, there were more than 39,000 U. S. traffic deaths during the year, some 35,000 home fatalities, and 30,000 casualties to U. S. forces in Korea.

Humble has had an integrated safety program for all departments since 1929. The program has been under the direction of R. B. Roaper, chief safety engineer, since that date. For an operation involving all phases of the petroleum industry, the company has the best safety record in Texas and ranks at the top in the nation. Humble's management encourages the development of safety consciousness among all employees.

Intensive training in safe practices is given to employees and supervisors. Protective equipment is furnished at hazardous locations in field, refinery and laboratory work. Hard hats, eye covering and safety shoes are standard wearing apparel for almost all field workers.

Field and refinery employees attend safety meetings at regular intervals. These meetings keep them posted on potential hazards and give them the opportunity to discuss safety problems. On drilling rigs, for example, a five-minute safety meeting starts each shift, and once a month the tool pusher in charge of the rig holds a 30-minute safety meeting with each crew.

Equipment is kept up to date and "good housekeeping" is an operating standard. Systematic equipment inspections are made by supervisors and employee safety committees. High-level engineering standards for equipment layouts are maintained.

The first thing a new employee hears about in job indoctrination from his supervisor is safety. He is taught that safety consciousness is just as important off the job as on the job.

Some 7,000 Humble employees operate about 3,500 motor vehicles 70 million miles a year. Since 1950, an annual Driver Education Program has been presented to these drivers. The frequency of automotive accidents involving company vehicles has been reduced 50 per cent since the program was started.

An important phase of the safety program is first aid training. Field and refinery employees learn proper treatment in emergencies through the company's standard first aid training course. Each department is served by safety engineers assigned to various geographical locations in Humble's operations.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Swindell visited in Vernon and Amarillo last week-end. In Vernon they visited Stephen Lue. In Amarillo they visited in the homes of Mr. Swindell's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McGehee and V. N. Gilliam and family.

portant things are scheduled for it. One of the nicest will be the High School Operetta, directed by Louis Pippin. It's going to be a gala affair, so watch for it in April.

April will bring the opening of the new lunch room and auditorium at the school, too. This will probably call for an open house celebration, but that's only an idea, and nothing has been announced, but whether or no, be sure that you see this new building, for you can be justly proud of it.

We have always maintained that for every wicked thing in this world there are nine good things to outweigh it, and when we think of School Principal John Shrader we know how right we are. Children in the Baird school will never be so many statistics to him and you can be assured that he has a deep affection and interest in every little type that comes under his care. We know because he is the sort of fellow who watched the children enjoy a trained monkey show last week, and noticing one small youngster, unable to join in with the others, asked the show people to take the performing chimp to that child so that it wouldn't miss the fun. Remember who it was who said: "If you do it unto the least of these you done it unto Me?" What higher compliment can you pay a person than that he lives up to this? Well, that's John Shrader.

County Dairymen To Meet Here

The man who takes pride in his farm will make sure that his fences are straight and strong. Yes, appearance is important, but a good fence, built with Dierks Pressure-Creosoted Posts will require practically no post replacements and actually save money in the long run.

It is poor "economy" to buy cheap, dipped posts, when Dierks Pressure-Creosoted Posts cost so little more.
