There was a large crowd who came to the pie supper Friday night. Several were out from town as well as from neighboring communities. We enjoyed having each and every one. About $25 was made from the pies, the proceeds will be used for song books and seats.

We also had a large crowd Sunday night at the singing. We appreciated those who came and helped with our singing. We have about 35 new song books and expect to get more new ones. We are expecting each and every one to come back next Sunday night.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

"What if there were no books? Think what it would be to know nothing of the way in which American Independence had been won, and the Federal Republic of the United States constructed; nothing of Bunker Hill; nothing of George Washington, except the little, half-true and half-mistaken stories that your father could remember of what their fathers had told them. Think what it would be to hear nothing but shadowy traditions of the voyage of Columbus, and of all the planting of life in the New World, like Greek legends! Think what it would be to know no more of the origin of the English people than the Romans knew of their Latin beginnings. Think what it would be to have the whole story of Athens and Greece dropped out of our knowledge, and to be unaware that Marathon was ever fought or that one like Socrates had ever lived! Think what it would be to have no line from Homer, no thought from Plato, no message from Isaiah, no sermon on the Mount, nor any parable from the lips of Jesus! Can you imagine a world intellectually famine-stricken like that—a bookless world—and not shrink with horror from the thought of being condemned to it.

Yet the men and women who take nothing from books are choosing to live like that. For them, it is as if no ship had ever come from the far shores of old time, and the interest of existence is huddled in the petty space of their own few years, between walls of mist which thicken as impenetrable behind them as before. How can they be content with so little when so much is offered?"—J. L. Larned, librarian, Buffalo, N. Y.

The above quotation furnishes so much food for thought that I could not forbear giving it to you. Truly, "of the making of books there is no end," and they are good, bad, and indifferent—but we have been able to bring to our readers lately some designated by the first adjective.

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

The Thinker

Among those are "A Few Foolish Ones" by Gladys Hasty Carroll, and "The Rolling Years" by Agnes Sligh Turnbull, "Magnificent Obsession" by Lloyd C. Douglas has re-attained its first popularity as a result of its release as a motion picture. This is true also of "Mutiny On the Bounty" by Wordhoff and Hall. Anne Lindbergh's "North of the Orient" continues to lead the non-fiction best sellers. "100 Million Guineas Figs" and "Skin Deep" continue to hold their places with the general public, and with our readers as well.

The house in Wimpole Street, London, where Robert Browning courted Elizabeth Barrett, and from which she eloped with him to Italy in 1846, was placed in the hands of wreckers recently. For a quarter of a century it had been occupied by doctors' and dentists' offices. The general public became more familiar with it through the play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" than they had ever been. Our copy of this is still much in demand.

Kathleen Norris has a new novel, just published, entitled "Secret Marriage." And Mary Roberts Rinehart will have a new one published in June, "The Doctor." Susan Ertz has a new novel also, "Woman Alive." Perhaps I had best hasten to tell you that I do not have any of these. Nor do I have Zane Grey's latest, "The Trail Driver." This is a story about Texas.

Our friends still remember us occasionally with books. John Burton King brought us two splendid boys' books lately—"The Arrow of Fin" by Roy J. Snell and "Danger Ahead" by Ralph Henry Barbow. And Mrs. June Taylor gave us a great armful of books. Many of them were text books—there were quite a few histories as well as English texts, several volumes by Stevenson, and a few books of fiction by other writers. But the books which I most appreciated in the collection were the books on the Navy such as "A Short History of the U. S. Navy," "Naval Terms, and Definitions," "Makers of Naval Traditions" and books of that type which had been used by her son, Emnis, in school at Annapolis. We had nothing of the kind in the library.

"It's 'toos' of all the cars I've ever owned."

IN our showroom, "owner talk" means more than "sales talk." We're content to let claims take a back seat while owners give you facts.

On performance, you needn't take the word of anyone but the man who knows how much easier his Terraplane handles in traffic... how much better it takes straight-aways or curves... how much faster it is on the get-away. His economy figures talk louder than any salesman's claims... even ours! He can tell you facts about Terraplane's long life that would sound boastful if we said them.

But even a Terraplane owner can't put into words just what it means to sit at the wheel of this car and drive! With the Electric Hand shifting the gears, your hands stay always on the wheel. Just a flick of the finger... and gears shift! And your front floor is all clear... Terraplane is the only low priced car with real comfort for three in the front seat... no gear or brake levers to stumble over!

Steering is truer. There's an amazing riding smoothness. At the brake pedal, safer stopping than you'll find in any other car, with two braking systems at your command... and still a third from the easiest handling parking brake you ever saw. You ride over the world's first safety engineered chassis... in a body really all of steel, with solid roof of seamless steel. On every side, something new to discover and enjoy. Stop in now and take this "Discovery Drive"... see for yourself what a change Terraplane has made in motoring.

INDIANAPOLIS fairly radiates interurban car lines. From Indiana's capital city, in all directions, electric railroads carry Hoosiers to and from isolated farms and towns. The conductors and motor-men of these lines mainly are products of the farms and graduate to these jobs. Everybody along the line knows them by their first name; their passengers very often are kinfolk. To win a job and a uniform on the interurban is no mean accomplishment.

The "Limited" for Lafayette had cleared the suburbs of the city and was running fancy-free through the corn fields of Boone County. The conductor was busy collecting fares, but for once in his life he had little to say and that little was said with chin raised and lips but partly opened.

"Why don't ye spit, Jess?" asked one of his farm-boy acquaintances who himself had had similar experiences with sweetened tobacco. Jess leveled his face and explained in cautious words:

"I ort to have spit at Zionsville, but some wimmin gettin' on jinned my chances and now I've got to wait till we get to Lebanon."

To The Voters

Next Tuesday, APRIL 7th, is Election Day for City Commissioners. Let every Taxpayer come out and show his appreciation to the present commission for the excellent manner in which they have handled the city's affairs; in which they have lowered our taxes together with our valuations; at the same time built a system of dams on the watershed which, when completed, will beyond a doubt of the engineers forever rid the city of these overflows which are damaging to property owners in the business section; and curtailing the expenses of every taxpayer in Clarendon.

We also have the assurance of having even lower taxes in the future with the cooperation of the taxpayers helping them get our taxes down to where we can pay them and live.

Let's give them a big hand on APRIL 7th and let them know we do appreciate their services they are giving us.

"TEXAS NIGHTS"

Following is the poem by Miss Mary H. Howren which won first place in the contest held at the meeting of the Federated Clubs of the 7th District in Lubbock this week.

Far south, dark Colorado's murky flow
Inertly creeps amongst old cypress trees
Long gnarled with age and twisted with the years,
Deep-sunk in swamps and hung with fringes gray
That sway and sway in senile impotence,
And harsh palmettos raise their flaunting hands
That beckon breezes freshly from the sea,
And shadows of the night fall swiftly on
The perfume-haunted prairies, enveloping the trees,
The stream, the pastel-tinted west, until no light
Is there but mystic dimness of the stars,
The scorpion's red heart ablaze above.
An aged cypress' trembling hoary head.

A moonlight midnight in a whitened town,
A night so still, so clear, so silvery white,
That woodland goddesses and nymphs at play
Elusive flit beneath the dreaming trees
In veiled translucent shadows shot with light,
On burnished walks of shaded tapestry.
An hour ago young whispering lovers walked
Within the classic grove near learning's seat.
A mocking-bird now in his templed glade
Sings rapturous worship to his god of light.
San Gabriel's waters ripple near.

On Estacado's plains a glaring day
Has softened into wondrous, breathless pause.
A twilight lingers of golden bars across
A garish purple west, the circle round
Transformed in myriad hues, a crystal ball
Of mystery and hidden secrets of the world.
Then colors slowly fade to darkening night.
A wide, wide land, as level as the sea,
Yet in illusion reaching toward the sky,
An empty vessel with horizon brim,
As lonely as the void of ocean wastes,
No tree, no hill to hide the shrinking heart,
No sound in all the boundless space.

A sudden shattering of the silent spell
Comes shivering on the quiet air. Afar
A prowling coyote in staccato barks
Makes clamorous call across the plain,
Then slinks away, a shadow dim in shade.
Once more oppressive stillness reigns, the stars
Press near and nearer, then behold, the east
Is white, grows brighter still. A friendly moon
Dispels the crushing fear of loneliness,
And stars are washed in waves of softened light.

OUR BOOK SHELF

Christopher Morley's new novel, "Swiss Family Manhattan," is a rather satirical tale about a Swiss family, of the name of Robinson, who take a vacation in the form of a ten-day's cruise in an airship. During the voyage, a severe storm arises. The airship is wrecked, but the four members of the Robinson family manage to escape in a balloon raft. After many hardships and hair raising experiences, they find themselves on top of the Empire State Building. At first they mistake their abode for the primitive home of a tribe of barbarians. Of course this is all satire. The rest of the story relates the experiences of the family, the father especially, among the barbarians of our native country.

THIS AND THAT

Mary Frances Dewey had on the cutest corsage the other day. We examined it closely and found that she had taken several large peanuts and lathered them in different colors of paint. The result was a very bright and attractive spot of color on her dress. A hint to the wise—

Most of the girls are giving vent to their conceit by wearing their names on their coats or dresses. Harold McDaniel, who had the patience and skill to make them is reaping the fruits of his labor in the form of an increasing pile of silver.

The game, Monopoly, seems to have taken the college students by storm. Elery Watson and Nellie Grady spent all Friday morning discussing a game they had played several days before instead of watching the tennis matches.

It is quite amusing to watch the Clarendon boys put forth every effort in order to win the track events and then, as soon as they receive the ribbon, to give it to one of the girls on the side lines. Ethelyn Drennan,

Junior College Transfer Students Receive High Rating

On Monday, March 23, Dean Drennan received a report from the registrar's office of the University of Texas on the performance of junior college transfers, 1934-1935. This report contains an analysis of the work performed by those students who were admitted in 1934-1935 from institutions of junior college rank and who had attended the main university previously. Four types of junior colleges were represented on this list: Municipal, denominational, private, agricultural and mechanical.

Of the 38 colleges of the 4 types represented, Clarendon Junior College has the highest score, the second highest ratio of passing grades to work completed, and the highest ratio of A's and B's to passing grades with the exception of Our Lady of Victory and Terrill Junior Colleges. The two latter schools each had only two students registered at the university. Your attention is called to these facts in order that you may know that the work done in Clarendon Junior College is of the highest type.

SPORT SHOTS

Now that the county meet is over, all the winners in the different events, who are eligible to go to Pampa, are working hard in order to make a good showing at the district meet on the 9th and 10th of April at Pampa.

Last Friday there were some good tennis matches. The boys' senior double team looked good as did the senior girls' doubles. These teams with the senior girls' singles and junior girls' doubles will go to the district meet Friday week.

The track meet went off very well considering the bad day we had. Clarendon took first place in Class A, while Lelia Lake won the Class B division. There were some very close decisions, and very fast time was recorded on a number of the races as the sprinters had the wind to their backs.

The meet was a general success as everything was run off on time. Mr. Kerby should be commended for his efficient management as director of the track events.

Joan Thompson and Frances Grady each had a long string of them.

Thermopolea had its messenger and Clarendon has its Three Musketeers. Ardis Patman, Charley Murphy, and Arthur Chase are seldom seen out of each other's company.

It seems that the third angle of the Hayes, Hardin, Chase love affair has won out at last. Ho, hum!

Wanted: A cure for warts. Anyone knowing a sure enough good one, please get in touch with Rosalyn Bass.

WHO WENT WHERE

Drew Wilkerson and Harold McDaniel enjoyed the disadvantages of motorists by having car trouble all the way to and from Pampa last Sunday evening.

Virginia Williams haunted the numerous ladies shops and department stores of Amarillo last Saturday searching for additions to her spring wardrobe.

It has been reported that Rosie Bass was seen roaming the streets of Estelline last Sunday afternoon.

Total per cent of failures for 217 schools, 13.9.

Your attention is called to the following points. That Clarendon High School has the largest per cent of students who entered college of any of these schools, and that Clarendon High School students had the smallest per cent of failures with the single exception of Tulia High School. Another point of interest is that of the 217 schools in the state of Texas, who belong to the Southern Association, the average per cent of failures is far below the average for the state of these Southern Association schools.

Incidentally there are 1,061 high schools in the state and only 217 of these belong to the Southern Association. Clarendon High School is one of the 217. Students who graduate from one of these Southern Association schools may not only enter any college or university in the state of Texas but may enter any college in the entire South without entrance examinations.

PLANS MADE FOR PICNIC

Tuesday morning the high school seniors and all the college students met at the senior room to make plans for the annual picnic. Mr. Drennan presided and Mr. Allison counted votes. The final decisions were that the three classes would go together and the date was set for April 10, 1936.

The presidents of the three classes met to decide upon committees and the site for the picnic. It was decided that Linguish Falls would be an ideal spot in which to lose several students. The following committees were appointed: Transportation committee, Jack Hayes; Rosalyn Bass, Willard Hudson; food committee, Laverne McMurry, Beatrice Hardin, Eugenia Noland, Sue Powell, Cynthia Mae Eller, and Avis Lee McElvany.

Heard Around C. J. C.

Lowell LaFon begging Mary to keep the library open longer at noon.

Rosalyn Bass bemoaning to a doubtful audience that she is losing weight.

Miss Blair (and everyone else) coughing and bemoaning the sandstorms.

Jack Hayes broadcasting his love affairs to an uninterested chemistry class, and trying to make it very plain that he "has a way with the girls."

Miss Parten declaring that, as vegetables are being worn as decorations, she is going to get her some earlic.

Eloise and Sam continuing a used to be funny, but now tiresome, discussion about a joint history book they have.

The whole chemistry class gnashing their teeth over weight and volume.

The physical education giving way to oaths, sometimes not under their breath, because the "Hygeias" are back.

FARM PROGRAM DETAILS ANNOUNCED

Government payment of five cents per pound will be made to farmers who take land out of cotton cultivation and plant it to soil conserving crops under the new Federal farm program, it was announced recently by the extension service at College Station as the new farm program in Texas was launched.

The 1936 program will stress the raising of soil conserving and soil building crops, instead of the acreage reduction plan of the AAA. Bases established on old reduction contracts will be taken as a guide for establishing the base for 1936.

Wheat growers who signed contracts with the government for a 1936 wheat program will be paid in accordance with their contracts, in compliance with an act of congress. After this year's wheat crop is harvested, producers will be offered a wheat program under the new set-up.

Two-Fold Program

Payments to farmers will be based on two factors: soil conserving, and soil building. Payments for both programs, however, will be forwarded in one check.

Under the new program, farmers will be paid for taking soil depleting crops out of cultivation and substituting crops which either conserve the soil or build it up, according to R. H. Rogers of Washington, D. C., senior agricultural economist of the planning division of the AAA.

Soil depleting crops are for the most part row crops, while soil conserving and soil building crops are the legumes, grains and grasses that are used for cover crops and to turn under as green manure.

Must List Every Acre

Since the entire acreage of every farm must be listed on the work sheet in planning for the soil conservation work, a neutral classification has been set up. Farm yards, lanes, roadways, vineyards, and the like are considered "neutral."

In order for farmers to qualify for participation in the new program, they must put about 20 per cent of their base acreage of soil depleting crops, into crops which will either conserve or build the soil. For example, on a strictly cotton farm of 100 acres, no more than 80 acres may be planted in cotton, the other 20 acres to be given over to soil conserving or soil building crops.

On farms other than strictly cotton farms, the ratio of soil conserving or soil building crops to soil depleting crops would probably be less than 20 per cent.

May Reduce 35 Per Cent

The highest cotton reduction for which farmers may receive payment is 35 per cent. No payment will be made for acreage taken out of food and feed crops unless the base acreage in such crops was in excess of the actual needs of the family and stock on the farm.

The division of payment between landlord and tenant will be arrived at in two ways. Division of the soil conserving payments is 37 1-2 per cent to the producer who furnishes the land; 12 1-2 per cent to the producer who furnishes the work stock and equipment; and 50 per cent to be divided among the producers as the crop is divided.

The soil depleting payment will be made to the producer who has incurred the expense entailed in the soil building crops or practices.

Checks Based on Production

The soil conserving payments will be based on the productivity of the land. For cotton it will be 5c a pound for the yield of land taken out of cotton and given to soil conserving crops, for peanuts 1 1-4 cents a pound, for rice 20c for each 100 pounds of the producer's domestic consumption quota, subject to certain specified agreements; and for the other soil depleting crops the rate an acre will vary among the states and counties, according to productivity of the land.

With regard to wheat the situation is different, since wheat growers had signed applications for contracts with the government for a 1936 wheat program. Congress has voted that existing applications are to be considered as obligations and are to be carried out and payments made on them. Wheat farmers may arrange their full plantings in 1936 to be included in the new program later.

Organize Here Soon

Organization of farmers in Donley County to administer the program is expected to start soon. Quick steps toward getting the program organized in Donley County will be necessary in order to be ready by spring planting time, according to H. M. Breedlove, county agent.

Long Time Land Improvement

"The new program is intended for the long-time improvement of the land, as well as to increase the immediate incomes of farmers," said H. H. Williamson, director of the extension service. "It is a big problem, intended to hold both the soil and some of the gains the farmers have made in the last three years," he said.

Says Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced At Home

Rub Gently Upward T... as Blood in Veins Flows That Way

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice for home treatment that anyone in this world can give is to get a prescription known as Moore's Emerald Oil.

Simply ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you should notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are no longer troublesome. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that old chronic sores and ulcers are often entirely healed.

All dogs caught without a 1936 license tag are to be destroyed, according to a statement by city officials this week. Tuesday March 31 was the deadline on the 1935 tags, and the city pound man, R. T. Brown, has been instructed to dispose of all dogs roaming the streets and not bearing a new license, the officials said.

"The blowing sand in the air right now and the floods which have made thousands of people homeless in cities and towns as well as on farms give a rather dreadful emphasis to the fact that America is fifty years late with a soil conservation program, but better late than never, I think we will all agree."
