afternoon on the banks of the Jim Ned creek to witness a very beautiful baptismal scene in which Rev. W. H. Rucker, pastor of the Baptist church administered the ordinance of baptism to twenty-six candidates who were converted during the revival two weeks ago, in which Rev. O. C. Reid, pastor of Riverside Church, Fort Worth, did the preaching. A very unusual thing about this service was there were three sets of twins baptized, each set being baptized at the same time. They were all near the same age, began their school work to gether, beginning the work for the Lord together, the twins were Iris and Doris Stacy, Rodoyce and Aloyce Hardwick, Horace and Dorace Wilson. There are several more awaiting baptism who were not permitted to be present Sunday, who were unavoidably kept away.

The church in regular conference again called Rev. Rucker to the care of the church, his answer is yet to be given, whether or not he accepts or rejects. J. D. Extra Innings

LIKE a ball game that goes into innumerable extra innings, the counting of ballots cast in last Saturday's primary election for candidates for nomination as Governor has held the undivided attention of the people of Texas since the hour when the polls were closed. During the three days of uncertainty both sides have had their moments, as the lead fluctuated from Sterling to Ferguson and back again, but today it is clearly apparent that the winner will not be definitely known until after the official canvass of county returns by the state Executive Committee September 12th, and may not then be known until after there has been a rechecking of the ballots cast in some precincts and possibly not until after a series of court contests stretching on into the fall months.

The Texas Election Bureau, functioning with a well constructed organization that has been developed during the past ten years, broke all records for the compilation of returns from far flung counties of Texas, and in the main it is agreed that the unofficial reports gathered by the Bureau are approximately correct. The official tabulation by the state Committee probably will make only minor changes in the totals, and the changes, if any, are as likely to be favorable to one candidate as to the other. In fact, the Election Bureau's figures very likely reflect the true results of the primary better than will the official figures to be announced later, because it almost invariably happens that a few counties fail to make proper reports of their returns to the state Committee and thus are left out of the official reckoning when the final tabulation is made, and such an omission of two or three counties could change the whole complexion of the situation as it now exists.

In spite of the strenuous efforts made throughout the state to prevent illegal voting, the total vote in the August primary was almost as large as in the July election, and this leads to the per centage, or 25 per cent. That conclusion that illegal voting was price means that the net to the less prevalent than was suspected. In every county, no doubt, the errors in counting, mistakes in cotton could not be grown for such tabulation or in the transmission of reports. But throughout the state election officials were careful to see that none except qualified voters were given ballots, and it is not probable that any considerable number of unqualified persons participated in the voting. If there is to be a contest it will of necessity be based upon specific irregularities discovered here and there, and not upon a general claim that illegal voting was widespread. In the meantime, it is entirely too early for any thoughtful voter to begin talking about what he expects to do about the situation next November.

Special Session

THE LEGISLATURE, now laboring in a special session, has been asked by Governor Sterling to take quick action to provide a measure of relief from heavy taxation, and then to adjourn. He probably is too optimistic in suggesting that the work to be done can be accomplished in one week, but there is sufficient popular pressure upon the law-makers to encourage them to waffle as little time as possible.

The cry for tax relief is not at all new. It has been raised by countless peoples through all the ages, and it is rather significant that no people has yet obtained it. Taxation is always objectionable, but it is truly burdensome only when the people are unable to pay. In the present situation, the Legislature can give relief from one form of direct taxation, by substituting for it an indirect tax that will produce the same amount of revenue and from the same source, which is the popular pocket book. But removing a part of the direct tax against property is not going to be of much benefit to the small property owner who is unable to pay any tax at this time.

Assumption by the state of responsibility for outstanding highway bond issues will not give the kind of tax relief the people want and require. It will be only an emergency measure, and the worst feature of it is that it will definitely fix a policy for the future guidance of the state. It is a long step toward further centralization of authority in government, and we have already gone much too far in that direction.

Will Cotton Show the Way?

ONE of the most hopeful signs on the economic horizon just now is the rising price of cotton, which has shown remarkable recuperative powers of late in the face of heavy selling from the south and heavy profit-taking from the speculators.

Just a few weeks ago, cotton sank to the 50-year low on the New York market in the August primary was almost as large as in the July election, and this leads to the per centage, or 25 per cent. That conclusion that illegal voting was price means that the net to the less prevalent than was suspected. In every county, no doubt, the errors in counting, mistakes in cotton could not be grown for such

FARM STRIKE TRUCE CALLED

DES MOINES, Sept. 1.—A truce was in effect in the farmers strike today but the picketers were as loath to leave their roadside posts as they were three weeks ago to establish them.

It was the week after the farm strike was called on August 8 before active picketing was begun and it appeared today several days might elapse before the truce declared last night is entirely effective.

Scarcely had John Chalmers and Milo Reno, state and national presidents respectively, of the Farm Holiday Association, instructed the chairman of their county organizations to call off the strike temporarily as a serious threat of violence was reported at Clinton, on the Mississippi River across the state from Sioux City and Council Bluffs where strike activities heretofore have been most intense.

Clara Bunch, Carl Morris and Ernest Reynolds were arrested by Clinton officers and jailed on nuisance charges. Their arrest was a touch that set off high indignation among farmers picketing highways.

The farmers congregated at the jail last night. They were in a threatening mood.

"We don't care," they shouted, "bring out the prisoners. Let them go or we're coming in."

After a long conference the sheriff finally agreed to accept $300 cash bond put up by the crowd for each of the prisoners and he released them early today. The crowd gathered in the prisoners in its arms and marched away amid an uproarious demonstration.

Meanwhile picket lines still were intact at Sioux City with increasing activity on the Nebraska side of the Missouri river and reports said a score of cattle trucks were halted before they reached market.

Remove all pink and green from the rind. Cut in medium size pieces. Soak in lime water for 3 hours using 2 tablespoons lime or calcium oxide and 2 quarts of water. Drain well. Soak in clear water for one hour. Drain well. Put rind through food chopper using a coarse blade. Add to crystallized syrup and cook until tender and transparent.

Crystallized Syrup

1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup water. Boil sugar and water until a good thread forms, add ground rind, color with red or green coloring and add oil of peppermint to the green and oil of cloves to the red crumbles. Place in the sun to evaporate all moisture. When dried out thoroughly roll in granulated sugar. This is an attractive confection for boxes of candy, cakes or garnishes for desserts.

Pineapple and Watermelon Rind Preserves

Treat rind in lime water as for other preserves and either grind or leave in fancy pieces and when added to syrup add a small can of pineapple. If ground use shredded pineapple if in pieces use chunk pineapple. Cook to a rich syrup, transparent color.

Watermelon Marmalade

4 cups coarsely ground rind, 4 cups peeled and chopped, 2 oranges peeled and sliced very thin, 1-3 cup of glucose, 3 lemons (juice), 4 cups sugar, 2-1 1/2 cups water.

Remove all green and pink from the watermelon rind. Soak rind in salt water for 2 hours, using (3 tablespoons salt to 1 quart water.) Drain and soak in clear water for 2 hours. Drain and grind using medium size blade for cutting. Peel and chop apples. Quarter and slice oranges very thin without peeling them. Extract the juice of the lemons. Mix all of the ingredients together. Cook mixture in a heavy aluminum or granite vessel until thick. The mixture will require very slow cooking. When it is thick and amber color, fill sterilized containers to overflowing. Seal and process immediately for 15 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. Clear and label jars. Store in cool dark place. This recipe makes 6 ounce containers. Never cook more than double the recipe at one cooking.

Five Bandits Who Robbed Blue Ridge Bank Have Escaped

BLUE RIDGE, Tex., Sept. 1.—Five bandits who robbed the Security State Bank here of $3,000 and wounded a woman when they fired at random today apparently had escaped into Oklahoma and officers of that state were furnished descriptions of the men.

The bandits were traced through Whitehorse and Farmersville, and almost to the Red River. Posses which attempted to follow the men were unable to overtake them.

This little town had the appearance of a battle-scarred village today. Buildings and store fronts were perforated by bullets. More than 100 rounds from a machine gun the men carried was fired as the men escaped from the bank and fled from town.

Mrs. J. O. Nelson, wife of a druggist, slightly injured when one of the bandits fired at her, was recovering today.

COUNTY BUDGET IS CUT $20,000

Brown county commissioners' court in regular weekly session Monday slashed $20,000 from the road and bridge budget for 1933 but the budget for the year has not been adopted by the court. The commissioners voted, however, to reduce the road and bridge budget from $87,100 to $67,100, thereby making a saving of twenty thousand dollars to tax payers on the road and bridge budget for the year.

Other phases of the budget which was prepared by Judge Courtney Gray and County Auditor R. C. Gotcher, were discussed by the court but it was decided to wait another week before finally adopting the report.

Several estimates for material furnished on Brown county highway contracts were approved and ordered paid by the court Monday.

LOW PRICE MAY REDUCE BROWN COUNTY FALL GRAIN ACREAGE

Brown county farmers will plant considerable acreage to small grain this fall, but low prices may cause a reduction in average acreage from last autumn, believes County Agent O. P. Griffin. Fall grain planting will start in October.

The wheat for this summer, he says, has been ideal for fall planting. Previous rains and the rain this week have put a good season in the ground for small grain and crops planted should be good.

There is a large amount of oats and wheat in the county from the summer crops. The farmers have held as much of the grain as possible on account of the low price this year, it is said. It has been estimated there is enough oats in the county to last two years for feeding purposes. There is not as much wheat in storage, proportionately, as oats because the wheat will not keep as well.

One of the best corn crops ever grown in the county also is being harvested at this time. Some of the corn also will be kept by the farmers for feed and seed for next year, but some of it is being put on the market, which is low at this time. Grain dealers were paying only 25 to 30 cents per bushel for corn here today.

Cotton Shipments For August Break Record at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 1.—Figures released today by the Houston Cotton Exchange and board of trade showed that this port shipped a total of 171,508 bales of cotton abroad during August to break all export records for the first month of the season.

The August, 1932, cotton exports were nearly 100,000 bales greater than those of the first month of the 1931 season. Only 74,961 bales were exported during that period last season.

Cotton men attributed the heavy first month shipments of this season to the 1,975,164-bale carryover on hand as the opening of the season together with rising prices occasioned by the short crop reported in numerous estimating agencies.

It was predicted that the seasonal record of more than 2,600,000 bales set in 1931 would be broken by the 1932-33 season's exports.

LIVESTOCK REACTING. The West looks to livestock as a business, wall-to-wall. Since cattle constitute one agricultural product of which there is not a surplus for normal consumption, the market has reacted promptly.

The beef cattle market hit its lowest point about the middle of June, according to E. J. Spiller, secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association, and since then the trend has been upward.

Chuck and rib roasts, sirloin steaks, skirt chops, ham and bacon have advanced from 3 to 25 cents on the market here.

While consumption is low at this time of year, the market has a strong undertone. A good feed crop created a demand for feeder cattle, hog and sheep, the medium through which this crop is turned into cash.

In August the wool market experienced its most favorable activity since the world war, according to J. M. Lea, San Angelo, Southwestern representative of the National Wool Marking Corporation.

Nearly 1,000 workers were sent from Texas cities yesterday to the cotton patch. Many of them went to Williamson county, where farmers are paying from 40 to 50 cents per hundred pounds.

C. W. Woodman, director of the United States employment service, said 200 or more cotton pickers daily could be assigned work by offices here within the next 10 days.

A similar demand for harvest labor exists in Arkansas, Mississippi, and Louisiana, Woodman said.
