THE GOOD THAT MEN DO

It is unfortunate that no one today seriously questions the basic idea behind Social Security. When it was adopted as law nearly 30 years ago the scars of the great depression had not healed. Older people, unable to find employment, were depressed and miserable. Social Security was the act of a generous nation to assure those who labored that their later years would not be spent in poverty as public charges or as family dependents.

Here was an ideal as old as mankind, translated into the law of the land. The trouble was that the plan was not financially sound. It was not self-supporting. Social Security payments were from the beginning an obligation of the general taxpayer.

As long as this obligation was kept within reasonable limits, it represented no more than an additional tax burden. The fact that Congress and the politicians have been unable to resist broadening Social Security has revealed it as the most socialistic law ever adopted in this country.

In the first ten years of Social Security maximum individual benefits were $45 a month with family benefits ranging up to $85. By 1958 these had grown to $127 and $254, respectively, and the age, in the case of women, had been reduced to 62 instead of 65 years. Coverage had been broadened to include not only the employed but the self-employed professional.

In the past 10 years Congress has amended the Social Security laws more than 50 times to broaden its coverage and its cost.

If Khrushchev needs a timetable to convince the Politburo that the United States is headed down the road to socialism he would do well to consult the tax history of Social Security.

When Social Security was adopted the supporting tax was 2 percent on wages up to $3,000, with the employer paying half and the employee paying half. Ten years ago the rate was boosted to 3 percent on wages up to $3,600. In 1954 the rate was raised to 4 percent on $4,200 and in 1959 was again increased to 5 percent on $4,800.

At the present time the tax rate for Social Security is 6 percent with raises to 7 percent in 1963, 8 percent in 1966, and 9 percent in 1969 already scheduled.

All these increases are necessary to keep up with Social Security benefits previously authorized. In the meantime the Kennedy Administration is proposing a $10 increase in minimum benefits for 2,455,000 persons, a reduction in the eligible age for men to 62 years, the inclusion of medical benefits, and a general broadening of coverage.

It is the essence of socialism that the profits of productive efforts are taken by the state for the greater good of all. More and more, this is the pattern for the development of Social Security in the United States.

FIRST IN GIVING MONEY AWAY

Russia may have been the first nation to send a man into space. Even though the evidence is not conclusive, let us concede the Soviet's claim.

But the U. S. A. can lay claim to one first that cannot be denied. The evidence is at hand to prove it. Definitely Uncle Sam is the FIRST IN GIVING MONEY AWAY and has been for the past 15 years or so.

Since the end of World War II, the Congress has voted $85.8 billion for "Foreign Aid," in a futile attempt to stop the world-wide march of Communism and buy friends.

Apparently, despite the fact that Communism has continued to march and that the U. S. A. has bought no friends with this largesse, Congress continues blithely to appropriate money for "Foreign Aid," thus continuing to pour American tax dollars down a rathole.

When, oh when, will this nation awaken to the fallacy of this Great Giveaway and its citizens serve notice on their Washington representatives to stop this ridiculous nonsense? We hope it will be before our American manufacturers are forced out of business by foreign competition. Being FIRST IN GIVING AWAY MONEY is an unenviable first that threatens our national safety, our industries, our workers and over-all national economy.

WHY NOT ATTACK THE CAUSES?

Juvenile delinquency now becomes, by executive order of the President, a responsibility of the Federal Government. Three Cabinet officers, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff and Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg, aided by a former Olympic hockey star are to dream up and execute a five-year Pied Piper act in reverse at an estimated cost of $10 million for the first year.

Meaning no disrespect to these eminent sociologists, we think the Administration could do more for youth by reforming our wasteful, spendthrift government, reducing taxes and checking inflation so that a single paycheck might again support a family. If Mother could return to her traditional duties in our economically broken homes the forces of juvenile delinquency would receive a greater assist than Federal millions will ever provide.

This might even help adult delinquency.

STRAIT-JACKET

The United States is the most powerful nation in the world, but every new tax, regulation, give-away bureau, is one more cord tightened in the strait jacket that is weakening, destroying our strength — turning us into the Welfare State so many seem to want.

The all-powerful Welfare State does your thinking and worrying for you; there is no room in it for ambition — the ambition to make a name for yourself, to do better than your father and your neighbor, to build your family's prosperous future. Ambition and laws that encourage it are what drive men ahead; they are what made this country great, created millions of jobs, gave America the world's highest standard of living, built schools and hospitals, created the wealth we have given in billions to the free world.

Aesthetic rewards, destroy ambition — and you destroy those rich fruits; you destroy America.

Is being pampered and cared for by government worth that awful price?

"Where Is Daddy Now?"

The Meaning of Memorial Day, 1956

THE WOMAN and the little boy stood on the edge of the grass, looking down at the small piece of marble. "Killed in action, Korea, 1951," it read.

Suddenly the boy let go of the woman's hand. "Mommy, where is Daddy now?" he asked, a puzzled frown wrinkling his upturned face.

The woman smiled at him for a moment, realizing her little boy was asking this man-sized question for the first time. "Why, Daddy is in heaven with God, Johnny, or at least he soon will be. All good men go home to God when they die," she answered and smiled again, as she watched him think about dying — God — and heaven.

NO DOUBT thoughts of death disappeared quickly from Johnny's imaginative mind. But the thoughts that occupied him as he stood at his father's grave on Memorial Day of last year, will be in the minds of all of us in a few days.

Memorial Day is a day for the living to think of the dead. On this day in many parts of our country, people come to their local cemeteries, not from any morbid or ghoulish motives, but simply to honor their dead.

ELSEWHERE in the country, Memorial Day observance is limited pretty much to honoring the war dead alone—the men who died for their country. But whether we honor just soldier dead or all our loved ones, no man can stop and think on Memorial Day without remembering those who have passed away, without wondering where they are and how they are.

Have you ever noticed that we have no Memorial Day for animals and pets, even though they may have saved men's lives. It sounds silly to mention it, because we realize that animals cease to be after death.

BUT WITH MEN it is different. We do remember them, because we realize that death is not the end for man. Our observance of Memorial Day implicitly testifies to our belief that these brave men and all our loved ones live on.

Memorial Day is a good time to ask ourselves, as little Johnny did, where they are. True, we already know the answer: if they have lived good lives they have gone to God. But it is good for us to ask ourselves just the same: to remember that we too will one day be judged by God. Whether that will be a happy homecoming—or an eternal separation—depends to a great extent on how we use opportunities like Memorial Day to remember that death is not the final end, but just a prelude to another life beyond the grave.

(The other — and even more satisfying — half you'll discover the first time you drive a Corvair!)

And when we say "low price," we mean more than merely the pint-sized figure on the window sticker of a new Corvair. You're going to be saving like sixty on gas. And on the antifreeze you won't buy next winter, and the radiator repairs you'll never have to pay for. About the only things Corvair doesn't skimp on are room, smoothness, style and pure driving joy. But that's the other half of the story. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about it soon!

No. 1 of a Series

IS THE STATE GREATER THAN GOD?

Americans believe: Men are children of God. Their rights come from and their first allegiance is to Him. Government should be administered in full recognition of God's love and His commandments. Governments that deny people the right to carry out their religious intentions are abominations. Through the ages people have sacrificed endlessly to free themselves from this bondage.

Communists believe: The idea of God and Heaven is but an opiate for exploited masses. Only the state deserves glory and men exist only for its welfare. The individual is meaningless. It is the function of government commissars and bureaucrats to repress individualism and to channel all human effort toward their self-appointed goals.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY

To renew and awaken interest in our precious heritage of Freedom, and its superiority over the Communist philosophy, these messages are being published by the Texas Power & Light Company, an investor-owned, tax-paying electric utility.

Wilde Gets Award For Lending Car In Driver Training

J. B. Wilde Chevrolet, authorized new car dealership in Muenster, this week was presented an Award of Merit for contribution to traffic safety through the lending of an automobile for driver training purposes to Forestburg Public School.

The Award was given by the Texas Automobile Dealers Association, statewide association of factory authorized new car and truck dealers with headquarters in Austin. Members of TADA have for the past 12 years loaned motor vehicles to high schools and 4H Clubs for "behind the wheel" driver education. Dealers loan vehicles without charge as a public service in the interest of training our youth to become better drivers.

The vehicles for driver training are loaned to schools that have instructors qualified to teach both classroom theory and actual in-the-car fundamentals of driving.

According to national studies, present-day drivers who have participated in high school driver training programs in the past have better than average safety records.

Texas new car dealers have over $2 million invested in automobiles on loan to schools throughout the state. Many of these vehicles are equipped with dual controls for maximum safety while learning.

A Frenchman, having spent considerable time in the U. S., was asked what he felt was the most striking difference between the Americans and the French.

"The real difference is apparent in the fall of the year," he explained. "The American is sad that the days are getting shorter while the Frenchman is happy that the nights are getting longer."

Cards Mailed for Livestock Survey

Postmaster Arthur Endres reminds rural patrons of the Muenster, Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock Survey cards. This week, mail carriers are leaving survey cards in a sample of boxes along their routes.

"USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey," Mr. Endres explains. "It's important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way, USDA gets a true sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are: Henry J. Pels, Rt. 1, and John W. Fletcher, Rt. 2.

Survey cards will be forwarded to Cary D. Palmer, State Agricultural Statistician in Austin. After adding and analyzing these cards, USDA statisticians are able to estimate the State's milk production, calf and pig crops and the number of hens and pullets.

Information from this survey will guide livestock and poultry producers in making important business decisions.

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

Fourteen new books grace the shelves at City Library. These are the Library's own. And there are 20 books for children, on a loan from Cooke County Free Library.

With inviting and exciting names, the books contain between their covers inspiration, information, romance, history — a choice of themes to delight readers of all ages, regardless of their preference.

Some of the new books are the following: Great and Glorious Physician by Taylor Caldwell, Hawaii, a novel by James A. Michener, No Little Thing by Elizabeth Ann Cooper, A Walk in the Moonlight by Eve Bennett, and Ladder to the Sky by Ruth F. Chandler.

Also, A Touch of Magic by Betty Cavanna, The Thunder Maker by Wm. Lamers, Rainbow Tomorrow and Countdown by Rev. Kurt Becker, S. J., Saints for Boys and Girls by Catherine Beebe, Twenty-One Saints by Aloysius Croft, Frontier Bishop, a Civil War biography by Riley Hughes and Eneas Africanus by Harry S. Edwards, a true story, short and absorbing about post Civil War time.

Library Notes will be bringing short reviews of these and other books in future columns.

Surprise Parties Observe Birthday

Two birthday celebrations, both surprises, made birthday time for Mrs. Joe Hoening twice happy.

The first was Saturday afternoon when a quintet of friends came to her home for an 84 party. They brought eats and drinks for refreshments after the games. They were Meses. Joe Swingle, Andy Monday, Albert Schilling, Hank Walterscheid and Norbert Walterscheid.

The Sunday surprise was a covered dish dinner party attended by the entire family of children and grandchildren. It was at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoening.

Present with the honoree and her husband and the hosts and their family were the following and their children: the Carl Pelzels of Ennis, the Rupert Hoenigs of Carrollton, the Richard Hermeses of Gainesville and Mrs. Rita Cottle of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hoenig of Irving.

Mrs. Jerry Hoening baked and decorated the two-tier birthday cake and the honor guest received gifts.

The city grandchildren thought it was a special treat to be on the farm... enjoyed seeing the animals and farm implements.

He: "Always wishing for something you don't have."
She (logical as usual): "What else is there to wish for?"

Winners in Class Contests Told as SH High Ends Term

Contests in Latin, Bible, Algebra and Geometry at Sacred Heart High automatically came to a conclusion with the end of school. And teams which vied against each other learned their standings. It was the year's second contest series.

In Latin I—the victory fled from the Caesars to the Ciceros, the difference in scores again being very small. The winners are Kathy Trubebach, Eileen Knauf, Virginia Taylor, Joan Hundt and Flora Mae Sims.

A contest within the contest on Latin derivatives and vocabularies lifted the Ciceros of Latin II to a much higher score than their opponents. The victors: Janice Vogel, Mildred Starke, Peggy Reiter, Betty Landsfeld, Joan Kaiser, Ruth Wimmer, Judy Walter and Sandra Walter.

An Algebra I tie was dissolved in favor of the Einsteins at a 15-point difference. The youthful Einsteins, cum grano salis, are Kathy Trubebach, Earl Cunningham, Virginia Taylor, Rose Vogel, Flora Mae Sims, Jackie Miller, Patsy Streng and Claudia Endres.

Algebra II students, engrossed with the acquisition of a knowledge of logarithms and trigonometry had little time for contests during the past semester. And the Descartes surrendered to the Einsteins. They are Janice Vogel, Patsy Endres, Kathleen McGannon, Karen Endres, Teddy Miller, Charlotte Trubebach, Jane Endres and Mary Pels.

In Geometry the two-time winners are Judy Walter, Betty Landsfeld, Annette Knauf and Mildred Starke.

In the Bible contest between freshman and sophomore girls the latter won a very meager victory. In the boys' group the contest proved unpopular and was abandoned.

Every inter-class contest proved stimulating and interesting and will likely be resumed next year. The students think that the reward that comes with knowledge of the subjects plus publication in their hometown paper is quite enough to make them want to match wits.

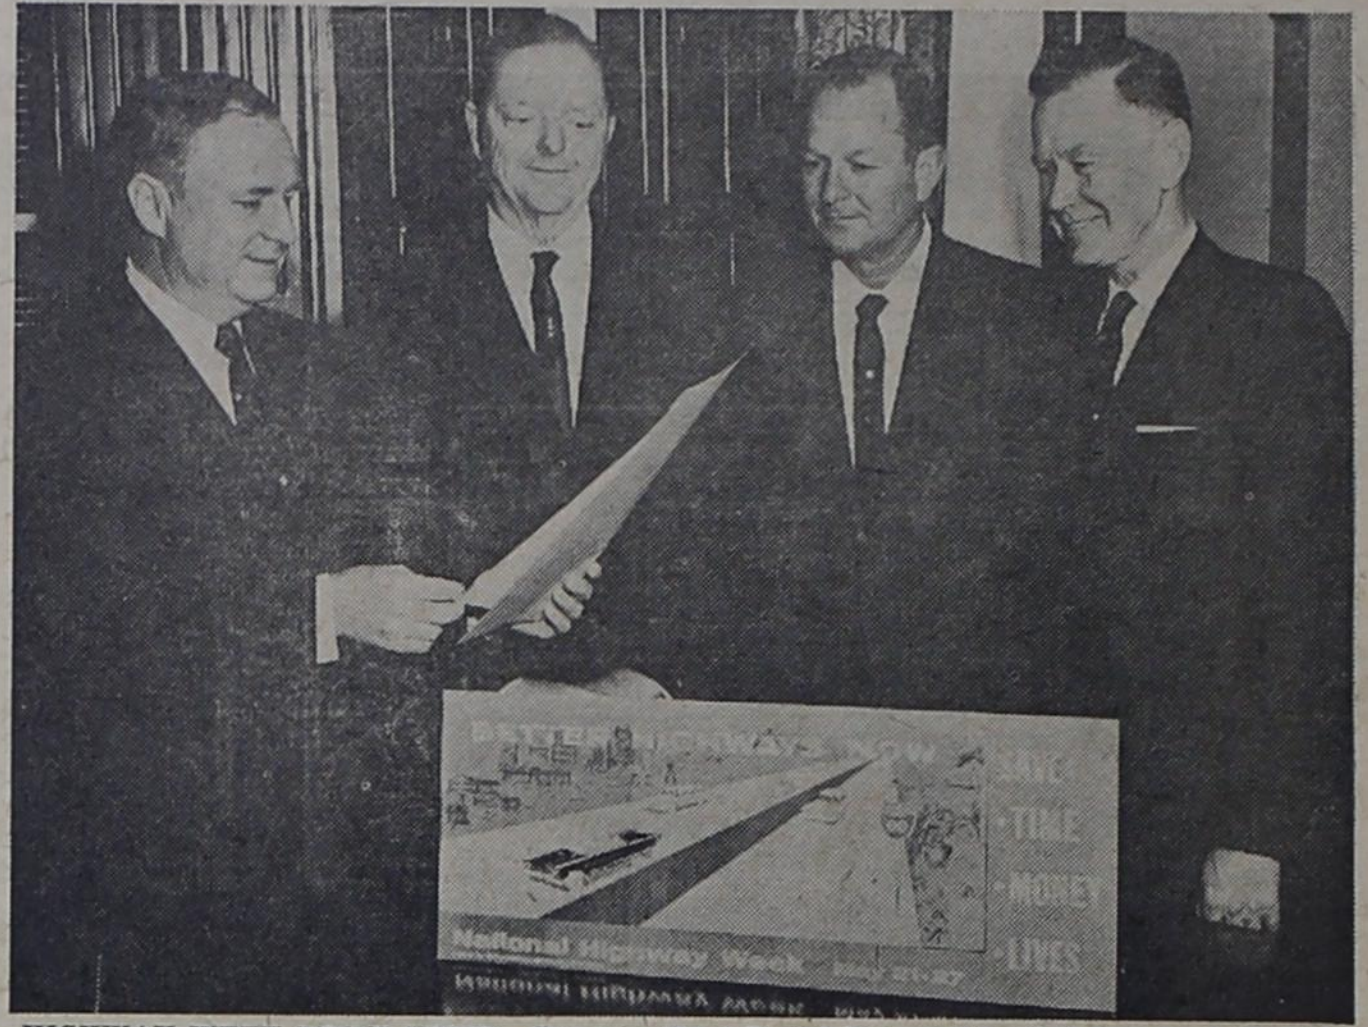

Courtesies Fete Illinois Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Grill of Midlothian, Ill., ended a ten-day visit here with their daughter and family, the Clyde Fishers, Monday.

While they were here they were honorees at a number of family gatherings and other social events the final courtesies including a morning coffee for Mrs. Grill Thursday with neighbors and aunts of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher as guests. The farewell party was a barbecue supper Saturday.

Enroute home Mr. and Mrs. Grill are stopping at Eureka Springs, Ark., for a week at their summer cottage.

A bride-to-be had just shown a friend the list of wedding guests.
"Isn't it strange," asked the friend, "that you've included only married couples?"
"Oh, that was Jack's idea," the bride-to-be replied. "He says that if we invite only married people, the presents will be all clear profit."

HIGHWAY WEEK PROCLAIMED—Governor Price Daniel has proclaimed the week of May 21-27 as "Highway Week in Texas." Citizens and organizations interested in better highways will observe the week in conjunction with National Highway Week. From left are Governor Daniel; Fritz Thompson of Borger, President of the Texas Good Roads Association; Allen Keller of Fredericksburg, President of the Texas Highway-Heavy Branch, Associated General Contractors; and D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer.

Some people drive as if they had a combination driving and hunting license.

"I wish to make a complaint," said a man to a Post Office official. "For some time I have been receiving disagreeable and threatening letters through the mail. How can I stop it?"

"I think we can help you," replied the official. "That sort of thing is forbidden, you know."

"Oh, good," replied the man. "Have you any idea where these letters come from?" the official asked. "Do you know who sends them?"

"Oh, yes," answered the complainant. "They all come from the income tax collector."

One fellow claimed he could stay under water for 20 minutes.

"You'll drown!" exclaimed his friend.
"Shucks," replied the boaster. "You know the trick."

The boss was pointing out to his secretary several errors she had made during the day when she interrupted with: "Mr. Jones it's two minutes after five. You're annoying me on my own time!"

Club boys and girls, meeting with their leaders Monday afternoon, got started on summer projects and are working on interesting and useful pieces that are as handy as they are attractive. Ten other sites are in various stages of construction on the watershed bringing the total to be built under the 1961 fiscal year's program to 21.

The 21 flood prevention structures will control water from 40,237 acres of drainage area.

The upstream flood prevention program is designed to get most of the water into the soil through good conservation practices on each farm and to prevent soil losses. Water that does run off will be impounded in the numerous small reservoirs and will be released at a slow rate so that the channel of the creek will not overflow the rich bottomlands along its branches.

State Soil Conservation Service will open bids on their due date.

Confetti . . .

people are obligated to deal with it. There is only one proper attitude to have toward men like Khrushchev: to get rid of them, not try to get along with them.

This column predicts that President Kennedy will be a sadder and wiser man after his encounter in Vienna. He's going to learn that negotiation with the Russians is friendly and civilized only as long as they get their way. If he insists on justice and reason he'll get the same kind of treatment his predecessor got. In that event we hope he'll have the skill and courage to expose the red scheming effectively and turn the incident to our propaganda advantage. In fact, we hope that he will direct most of his effort toward that end. Knowing that we cannot expect a fair shake from the Soviets, our best objective is to use the conference for improving our relations with other countries.
