Faith Endures in Sun Yat Sen

As enduring as the stainless steel of which this statue is made, is the faith of the Chinese people in the memory of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, father of the Chinese Republic. While their countrymen fight to repel the Japanese onslaught on their native land, Chinese children gather in San Francisco to pay homage to the imposing figure of Dr. Sun, executed by Beniamino Buffano.

Program of Range Conservation Is Broadened for '38

The Department of Agriculture broadened its 1938 range conservation program last week to increase payments to western cattlemen.

The program, applicable to range land of 17 western states at an estimated cost of $11,000,000, was approved by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

Under the new plan ranchers may earn payments for improving or conserving range land, especially where severe droughts have increased soil depletion.

The program provides a combined allotment for acreage and carrying capacity of the range, with benefits to South Dakota, Nebraska, Texas and Oklahoma, which received no appropriations under the 1937 plan that extended only to states of the AAA western region.

The payments for deferred grazing—withholding the land from grazing during reseeding operations—will be increased substantially in many areas, 60 per cent of the range building allowance being used for this purpose.

SHOWS POSTPONED

Postponement of the Brownwood engagement of the Harley Sadler Tent Show was announced this week by officials of Isham A. Smith American Legion post, which was to sponsor the show here. The engagement was postponed to a later date in order that it would not conflict with the Gipsy Smith revival meeting here November 28 through December 12.

PROPOSED FARM BILL INADEQUATE, DECLARE AGRICULTURE LEADERS

Telegram From Texas Farmer
Reflects Dissatisfaction
Of Farmers

Agricultural representatives lobbying in Washington for a constructive farm program which they hope to see passed by the special session of Congress have termed a bill under consideration by the House Agriculture Committee headed by Texas' Marvin Jones, as "wholly inadequate."

Dissatisfaction of the farm leaders conferring with the committee was expressed in a telegram from Cliff Day, vice president of the Texas Agricultural Association, to Association headquarters here this week.

Day's telegram is as follows:
General farm legislation gradually being whipped into shape by the House Agriculture Committee was attacked by the American Farm Bureau Federation today as "wholly inadequate, ineffective and entirely unsatisfactory."

Earlier in the day farm administration leaders assailed voluntary production controls for cotton, wheat and rice, already tentatively approved by the committee. The AAA spokesmen also criticized the house group for its tentative decision yesterday to turn over to the ways and means committee the task of making provision for the raising of funds for financing the prospective program.

Chairman Jones declared that the Agriculture Committee had not "definitely determined" whether processing taxes would be included in the general legislation. He said his group was "squarely behind" the proposal to raise additional funds for the bill, and the only question was the best method.

Speaking for the Farm Bureau Federation, President Edward A. O'Neill said: "Prices of corn, cotton and wheat have tobogganed to unprofitable levels because of one season's surplus which the soil conservation act was inadequate to prevent, drying up farm buying power and leading the nation into another tailspin."

"The relationship of the present business recession to depressed agricultural prices cannot be ignored."

Farmers want prices of their products stabilized at fair parity levels in relation to industrial prices and wages. This is absolutely necessary if we are to retain any measure of business prosperity and employment.

"The House Committee on Agriculture, without open hearings and going directly counter to the overwhelming sentiment of farmers as expressed at recent Senate hearings all over the country, is considering a farm bill which fails completely to provide for an effective maintenance or stability of farm prices."

"While this bill provides for accumulating additional surpluses, it fails completely to safeguard producers against the price-wrecking effect of these surpluses. Like the recently announced corn loan, which is offered at a rate far below parity, this proposed House bill discloses an astonishing lack of confidence in the future of farm prices."

"This lack of confidence and the abandonment of efforts to secure parity prices plainly indicates to farmers that if their confidence is no greater than that shown at Washington they had better curtail their expenditures to the lowest possible point. The business man also, if farm prices are not to be brought to parity level, should expect no substantial improvement in his situation."

"The Farm Bureau will fight to the last ditch for reasonable and stable farm prices and will oppose all weak and makeshift measures that can accomplish nothing but delude the farmer with false hopes. The hope in the present situation rests in the Senate, where a sub-committee is perfecting a bill for early submission to the full committee on agriculture which provides for an adequate ever-normal granary, with complete adequate safeguards against price-depressing effects, with price-stabilizing features definitely keyed to parity and with democratic farmer-managed control of production and marketing sufficient to make the whole plan workable."

Landing Survivors After Thrilling Sea Rescue

Torchlight flares cast an eerie light over the Coast Guard Cutter Mendota as exhausted, half-frozen survivors of the stricken Greek steamer Tzenny Chandris were pictured, above, being brought ashore at Norfolk, Va., after a thrilling rescue at sea. The 21 survivors clung to wreckage in shark-infested waters off Cape Hatteras for 30 hours before they were rescued by the crews of the Mendota and the tanker Swiftsure. Seven of their comrades were lost.

STATE OFFICERS TO CONDUCT DRIVERS' LICENSE QUIZZES

Texas' new drivers' license law, termed a law with "teeth in it" will have its effects felt in Brownwood when two drivers' license examiners from the Department of Public Safety come to Brownwood November 18 to conduct tests for drivers applying for their first license.

From headquarters at the courthouse, the uniformed officers will give the examinations every Thursday of each week from 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. In applying for the driving tests, the applicant must furnish his own vehicle or one he proposes to drive after he secures a license, according to Col. H. H. Carmichael, Austin, director of the Public Safety Department.

Each applicant will be required to drive his car or truck over a designated route under the supervision of one of the examiners after oral quizzes are completed. During the drive the operator must demonstrate the use of his foot and hand brakes, stop for signals, and perform other acts necessary in ordinary traffic situations.

The examiners will quiz the license applicants on safety regulations, and signals, highway laws, and make tests of their eyesight and hearing before the actual driving test is made. Any physical deformities will be recorded on a grade card.

The vehicle itself will be tested for defects in brakes, horn, lights, rear-view mirror, and windshield wiper.

When a driver proves his ability to operate his vehicle with care and safety he will immediately receive his license at the examination headquarters. If a passing grade is not made after the test is completed, an instruction permit card will be issued which requires the applicant to return at a later date for another examination. Examiners at the Safety Department estimate that the complete test can be given in 12 minutes.

Truck, bus, and other commercial vehicle drivers will be issued licenses divided into three classes, A, B, and C, according to the type of vehicle to be operated. Passenger and school bus drivers are issued a permit bearing a special endorsement of the department.

Col. Carmichael is urging that drivers seeking their licenses verse themselves in safety regulations, rules of the highway and the mechanical operation of their vehicles in preparation for the test.

County Red Cross Enrolls More Than 700 New Members

Although falling by only a narrow margin to realize a goal of 1,000 members this year, Brown County Red Cross Chapter reports the most successful roll call since 1929. To date, contributions and membership fees totalling $734.96 have been paid, with reports from several committees still lacking.

Persons who have not been seen by drive workers may join the chapter at Hopper & Stanley store, Community Gas Company office, or by seeing Rev. Kari H. Moore, roll call chairman.

A. P. Rowland is chairman of the County Chapter.

Few Farmers Oppose Crop Control, Says Texas Congressman

Only sixteen out of an estimated 10,000 farmers and members of their families have opposed rigid crop control legislation at forty-three meetings at which he has called for a vote, Congressman W. D. McFarlane of Graham said Sunday night in Dallas.

"At the meetings I have addressed I have asked all those to stand who favor rigid crop control legislation to be enacted by the next Congress," Mr. McFarlane said, "and the sentiment expressed by the farmers as well as all present at the meetings has been almost unanimous. Only sixteen persons attending the meetings voted against the policy."

Concerning wage and hour legislation and crop control and the attitude of the Supreme Court, Mr. McFarlane said:

"The farmer and the laborer are unable to understand why the Supreme Court will nullify legislation for their benefit, which permits them to control their products and services and orderly market them, and prohibit child labor, when the Supreme Court over a long period has permitted the different privilege groups to control their products and orderly market them, and at the same time has allowed them to exploit child labor, and has permitted sweatshop conditions to exist."

"It is just as important to enact legislation that will give the laborer a living price for his services as it is to enact rigid crop control legislation to give the farmer a living price for his products. Without this stabilized buying power of these two large groups, the Nation again will be thrown into an ordinary depression which we are now striving to overcome."

Downtown Streets To Be Decorated For Yule Season

Local merchants meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday morning made plans for decoration of downtown streets and stores during the Christmas season.

G. F. McKay, Dr. Mollie Armstrong and Gus J. Rosenberg were named as a general committee, Committee to complete and carry out plans. G. F. McKay, Adrain Box and Dave Knobler; finance committee, J. Turner Garner, Clayton Maedgen and L. E. Dublin.

Decorations will be completed early in December.

Students Contribute Toward Purchase of Bus for HPC Workers

Students and faculty members of Howard Payne College offered contributions in cash and pledges amounting to $538 at chapel Tuesday morning toward a new bus for the Life Service Band, a religious organization of the college which assists in church programs throughout the state.

Main address on the program was given by Rev. Frank Weedon, pastor of First Baptist Church, Denton. The $538 collected Tuesday morning will be added to the $225 previously collected by members of the band.

Cut Alimony? No, Double It

When the husband of Earlene Garrett petitioned a Los Angeles court to reduce his $25 weekly alimony in half, the original "Bluebonnet Girl" of the Texas Centennial followed him into the courtroom with her young son, where she is shown above at the youngster's mealtime, and asked that the alimony not be divided, but doubled. Milk for the baby comes high, she said.

U. S. Army Company Camps Here Friday

The Second Tank Company of the Red Force in the mythical war between the Blue and Red forces of the United States Army's proposed new "streamlined" infantry division, camped in Brownwood Friday night.

The company, composed of 85 men, and 19 trucks and cars stayed at the CCC camp on Fourth street while in Brownwood. It left for Fort Sam Houston at 6 o'clock Saturday morning.

Officers of the company are Lieutenant-Colonel H. B. Cheatle, chief umpire of the Red Force; Captain C. H. Smith, commander of the tank company; Captain J. L. Dark, Lieutenant G. R. Barnes and Lieutenant Lewis.

TWO ARRESTED

Jimmie Welch and Francis Knight, charged with theft of two tires from a construction company at Goldthwaite, were arrested here Sunday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Chester Avinger for Goldthwaite officers.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM

Thanksgiving program which was to have been presented at the CIO school Tuesday, November 23, will be given at the school Friday night, November 19.

Orchardists say fruit trees injured by cold weather should not be pruned until the spring growth matures.

STATE WATER BOARD APPROVES PLANS FOR PROJECT UNIT HERE

Step Nearer Goal of Million-Dollar Irrigation Plant Realized

State Board of Water Engineers at Austin has approved construction plans for unit 1 of a $1,000,000 water distribution system for Lake Brownwood, and the plans have been submitted to the State Public Works Administration office in Fort Worth, according to officials of Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1. Unit 1 plans include part of the canal system of the project.

A grant of $450,000 was recently made by the PWA for the project.

Directors of the water district said today they expect to be able within a week to advertise for bids for construction of unit 1. The bids will be asked as soon as details of legal forms of the advertisement are worked out.

Election to Be Set

The directors also announced they hope to be ready within a week to ask City Council to call an election on a recently signed tentative water purchase contract between the City of Brownwood and the water district. Under this contract the city would purchase $25,000 worth of water annually from the district. Legal forms for calling the election are now being prepared.

Encouraging progress is being made on sale of district bonds to match PWA funds, directors said.

Before the election is called, definite information and exact figures on the project will be announced, officials continued. While the project plans have been in the formative stage and details have had to be worked out and then changed from time to time, information has had to be given in general terms but can be made exact when the plans are finally approved, they said.

Increase Drilling Activity in Fry

A showing of oil and gas has been obtained in the Ranger lime by J. D. Sandefur, Jr. of Breckenridge in his No. 1 J. W. Shore James Ryan survey, section 635 the old Fry pool in northwestern Brown county. The pool has produced for years from a shallow sand and if the lime test is good may be the scene of renewed drilling activity.

The test encountered the Ranger lime at 2,266 feet and found the first saturation at 2,307 feet. The saturation was carried to 2,337 feet where the test was bottomed. Casing has been cemented and the well will be acidized.

Sandefur owns several hundred acres around the test. Others owning leases in the vicinity are McCarty & Peterson of Wichita Falls, Lion Oil Refining Company of Shreveport and M. E. Mockley of Tulsa.

W. D. Cunningham No. 1 C. V. Harris, on highway 7 between Brownwood and Bangs, is drilling at around 300 feet. The test will be to the 700-foot sand and is in wildcat territory on a block assembled by C. A. Rogers.

C. A. Rogers et al are drilling their third test on the Green lease Huffman survey, four miles southwest of Brownwood. The 400-foot test is drilling at around 200 feet and will be completed in a few days. Two small producers already have been drilled on the tract.

Stanford university campus, claimed to be the largest of any educational institution, comprises $,800 acres.

TURKEY MARKET FOR THANKSGIVING NETS GROWERS $100,000

Brownwood Again Leading Turkey
Shipping Center of State Of Texas

Thirty-seven carloads of turkeys for Thanksgiving markets shipped from Brownwood within the past few weeks brought growers in this section an estimated $100,000.

The 37 cars shipped from here contained approximately 67,000 turkeys, weighing a total of 740,000 pounds. Brownwood shipped more turkeys than any other city in Texas during the Thanksgiving market. The market closed Monday. The Christmas market will open December 4 or 5. The price for Christmas turkeys may be slightly higher than the Thanksgiving price, which averaged 14 cents per pound on No. 1 birds here.

In addition to the 37 carloads of dressed birds shipped from here, several hundred live birds bought here by dealers who did not operate dressing plants were trucked out. About 400 persons, employed in local dressing plants to pick the birds, were paid 5 cents for every turkey cleaned. Total paid to these employes was more than $3,000.

Southwestern Poultry Association, cooperative marketing organization which shipped 21 carloads of turkeys on the Thanksgiving market, will be ready to begin distribution of balance checks about Nov. 23. Association members were paid in advance on their turkeys as they marketed them and will receive the balance payments next week.

December 13 Date Set for New Trial Of Tol G. Beckham

District Judge E. J. Miller has set Monday, December 13 as date for a new trial for Tol G. Beckham, Zephyr, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Raymond Thompson, 23, at Zephyr, on June 30, 1936.

A jury found Beckham guilty in a trial here last December and sentenced him to 20 years in the penitentiary. The case was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin. Beckham has been released from Brown county jail on $7,500 bond.

Boy Scout Campaign Progressing, Says Committee Chairman

"Because we feel that it will save everyone concerned a good deal of time, we are asking friends of Scouting to send their membership this year by mail to avoid the necessity of a committee calling on them personally. We feel that this is only necessary to call attention of these friends of Scouting to the campaign," declared members of the committee in charge of the 1937 drive which opened here last week.

Members of the finance committee in charge of the campaign are A. P. Rowland, chairman; Henry Wilson and J. K. Wilkes. Scouters stressed that the drive is being conducted on the mail plan not only to save time of local men who would work on the campaign, but also to save time for prospective subscribers.

Several hundred letters mailed last week contained a subscription card and a return envelope. Persons who wish to subscribe to the Boy Scout work in Brownwood and failed to get one of the letters are asked to see some member of the finance committee.

Trails of Turkey, Deer Lure Hunters From Brown County

Chairs behind many a business man's desk in Brownwood are empty this week while their owners trek over the state to take advantages of a season which promises an abundant supply of venison and wild turkey for Thanksgiving tables. The hill country around Mason, and the Davis Mountains have proved the most popular of the hunting territories.

A group of Brown county sportsmen hunting near Fredericksburg includes County Judge A. E. Nabors, Winston Palmer, Charlie Palmer, Earl Foster, Leon Smith, Walter Emison, Dr. J. M. Horn and J. C. Ambrey.

The following Brown county hunters have purchased licenses to date:

Car and Engine Carry Two to Death in 400-Foot Drop

A trainload of passengers miraculously escaped death or injury in a spectacular wreck in the Feather River gorge near Pulga, Cal., that sent the locomotive and a mail car hurtling 400 feet down the embankment into the stream and killing two persons. Battered in their rough roll down the rock-strewn slope, the engine and car lie in the water while officials investigate the wreckage. A large rock on the track was blamed for the accident.

Largent & Stevens started operations on their ranch 17 miles south-east of Brownwood in 1923. The firm owns 3,514 acres, forming the main ranch, and have 2,500 acres leased. An average of 100 breeding cows are kept on the ranch. About 700 grade cows and flocks of sheep and goats also are carried on the ranch. The firm has sold an average of 50 head of registered Herefords every year since 1923.

Largent & Harkrider, associated firm with Largent & Stevens, began its operations on a 370-acre tract at 3520 Austin Avenue, July 1, 1935.

Construction on a 50x70 feet sales barn, including a 50x50 sales ring, recently was completed on the Largent & Harkrider place and this is where the sale was held. The sales barn and adjoining buildings are said by leading cattle raisers to be one of the finest setups for handling cattle in the state. Associated with the two firms in building the sales barn was the firm of Cox & McInnis. Largent & Stevens have a new 20x160 barn on their ranch south of Brownwood.

Members of the Largent & Stevens and Largent & Harkrider firms are Roy Largent, D. L. Stevens, Hazel Largent and W. L. Harkrider.

Erosion Control For Winter

This is a season when all wise creatures are storing supplies for the future. The squirrels are storing nuts; the farmers are storing feed; the housewives are storing food; Mother Nature is storing moisture in the soil. We can be helpful in aiding Mother Nature in her job of conservation by checking over erosion control practices on the farm.

One of the first considerations should be to protect the cultivated land from heavy rains after the present vegetative cover becomes ineffective. This job can best be done with winter cover crops, such as vetch, oats, and rye. These close-growing crops can protect much more land if they are planted in strips on the contour around the slope.

Cooperators with the Soil Conservation camp who have recently planted strips of small grain on the contour for erosion control during the winter and spring months are: Vernon Carr, W. E. Hennagin, W. R. Means, W. P. Logan, T. M. Bursleson, R. G. Hallum, E. B. Sikes, D. Strange, J. B. Whitehead, F. D. Pierce, E. Q. Wilson, Charlie Brannum, O. L. Pierce, E. L. Stewart, G. W. McHan, C. T. Willson, R. Stanley, and W. D. Kyzar.

The terracing system should be put in good condition for the winter. Weeds should be cut from terrace channels and from individual outlets where silting may cause water to collect and overtop the terrace. Low places should be built up to prevent breaks. Any cow paths or machinery tracks that cross the terraces should be repaired. Silt bars which collect behind the terraces should be removed so that the terrace can carry the maximum load during hard rains.

Contour ridges should be repaired where breaks have occurred. Piles of dirt should be spaced at intervals behind the ridges to prevent the flow of water. These ridges should be blocked on each side of a cow path, road, or gully. A study of moisture penetration and water runoff on pastures that have been contour ridged indicates that they aid Mother Nature in storing many gallons of water for use during dry seasons. Gully control structures should be inspected. If there is evidence of some excess washing, sod can be placed now, and there will likely be enough growth before winter to stabilize erosion.

"A stitch in time saves nine." A little effort and expense now may save much labor and expense next spring.

West Texas Farm Homes

Reports from county home demonstration agents indicate that West Texas farm home makers are improving their homes both inside and outside.

The home demonstration club women of Pecos county are working on bedspreads, linen pillow cases, light-weight warm covers, pillow tops, sheets long enough for comfort and convenience, and dresser scarfs. Wool filled quilts and comforts are being studied and made in many of the clubs, using both home-washed wool and ready carded batts, and using soft cotton materials for the covering.

Linens of various grades and price levels were collected and shown at a demonstration for six women's home demonstration clubs in Kerr county. Pottery, both porcelain and semi-porcelain, was also shown. These, with mounted illustrative material, were used in a discussion of design, durability, economy, color scheme, and appropriateness of linen, china and silver as applied to family service.

"I have certainly learned the value of entertaining in my yard rather than in the house," said Miss Myrtle Younglove, cooperator in the Rae-Echo home demonstration club in Coleman county. Miss Younglove and Mrs. Minnie Porter, her sister, have completed an outdoor living room as one of their goals for the year. They have arranged an inviting living room in their back yard where they have a brightly painted table and some chairs which they painted and repaired themselves. Their only cost was for the paint.

What Matter Sniffles, With Beauty Like This?

Winter may mean nothing but colds, cool bills and frozen auto radiators to some folks, but sports enthusiasts are treated to gloriously beautiful scenes like the one shown above when Old Man Winter lays his icy hand on the hills and valleys of Yosemite National Park. Sunlight from a cloud-veiled sky filters down on white-tinseled fir trees to create a framework of lengthening shadows for the skiers. Note the herringbone pattern made by the out-hung skis in the laborious upward climb which must precede every thrilling glide back down to the valley.

4-H Club Activities

EARLY 4-H CLUB

The Early 4-H Club met Wednesday and had a social meeting. The club girls played games and discussed how to conduct a meeting. The club elected Dorothy Jean Byrd as the new game leader and will elect a new leader at each meeting. The sponsor, Mrs. Burt Wright, met with the girls, and on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth, Miss Mayesie Malone, county home demonstration agent, will meet with the club.—Reporter, Inez Graham.

MUKEWATER CLUB

"People are judged largely by their conversation and general appearance," said Miss Mayesie Malone, at the Mukewater 4-H Club meeting, Tuesday morning, Nov. 2, at the school house. We learned in our study of club courtesies that in conversation we should not talk entirely about ourselves and that we should be a good listener while others are talking.

At the meeting we discussed plans for our gardens and our sewing for next year. We decided to have our Ball jar exhibit at the next meeting and to give a prize for the best jar of vegetables exhibited.

Our club had a "Bean Jar" guessing contest at the P. T. A. Halloween carnival and made 45c which was added to our fund.

Our next meeting will be at the Mukewater school auditorium Nov. 16.

BROOKESMITH CLUB

The 4-H club girls of Brookesmith met Wednesday for the purpose of reorganizing and electing officers for the coming year.

There were 25 girls present and also Mrs. Wilson of Dulin, Mrs. Guthrie, Miss Malone, Miss Otie Willson and Mrs. Lowe.

We elected the following officers: President, Retha Mae Hester; vice-president, Ina V. Rodgers; secretary-treasurer, Edna Florence Hester.

ter; reporter, Ruth Wilson, song leader, Daphne Sewalt; garden demonstrators, Helen Tongate and Edna Florence Hester; clothing demonstrators, Winnie Mae Howell and Retha Mae Hester.

We elected Mrs. Guthrie as our sponsor and we are looking forward to enjoying our work with her very much. Miss Malone talked to us about our work for the coming year.—Reporter, Ruth Wilson.

OWENS CLUB

On November 16, the Owens 4-H Club girls met with Miss Mayesie Malone, county home demonstration agent. Miss Malone's talk pertained to clothing, and gardens. Four new members were added to the club. Games were played. The meeting adjourned to meet again the first Tuesday in December, at the Owens Jr. High School.—Bettie Jo Nelson, Reporter.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

A BOY FOR SALE

"A Boy For Sale," is the name of a brand new play recently prepared by the Boy Scouts of America. The dramatization, which averages fifteen minutes in length, is excellent for Scouts to put on or may have far reaching results if the cast is made up of the Dads of the community. This has been used very satisfactorily by Troop No. 29 of Carbon in connection with a Parents' Night Program. We have several copies of "A Boy for Sale" at Scout Headquarters, and want to hear from you who are interested in learning more about a mighty fine play for any community.

PROPOSED

The Senate Committee at many points throughout the country have given the rank and file of farmers an opportunity to be heard, and they expressed themselves emphatically in favor of such an effective bill.

The House bill, on the other hand, is fearfully bureaucratic, its provisions for acreage bases and commodity loans are woefully inadequate, and the bill is impotent to bring prices even within shooting distance of parity."

School Inspection Schedule Announced

Program for the state aid inspection of Brown county schools was announced this week by Deputy State Superintendent H. E. Robinson and County Superintendent F. D. Pierce. The schools will be inspected November 29, 30 and December 1.

Program for the inspection is as follows:

Monday, November 29—Grosvenor, 9 a. m.; Cross Cut, 10:30; Williams, 12 noon; May, 1:30 p. m. and Ohio, 3:30.
Tuesday, November 30—McDaniel, 9 a. m.; Mukewater, 10; Bangs, 11; Concord, 12:30; Brookesmith, 1:30 and Chapel Hill, 3.
Wednesday, December 1—Indian Creek, 9 a. m.; Woodland Heights, 10:30; Early, 11:30; Blanket, 1:30 p. m., and Zephyr 3.

THE NEW CARS

Each year it seems impossible that the American automobile can be much improved, but the new models always offer something added in the way of performance, comfort, and safety; the cars for 1938 are no exception to the rule; truly they are marvels of the engineering art.

The Humble Company, with its policy of continuous improvement, greets the new cars with motor fuels and motor oils ready for their use. In the new 1938 models, as in those for many years past, Humble motor fuels and Humble motor oils will deliver full performance. . . . We invite you to test this statement: Stop at a Humble service station or at a Humble dealer's, fill the tank of your new car with Humble motor fuel, its crankcase with a Humble motor oil—then, note performance!

First definite progressive move on the part of the State to promote safety on the highways will be launched this week, with the inauguration of the tests for applicants for automobile drivers licenses.

Licensing Drivers

To be sure, drivers now are required to have licenses, but their granting was a mere formality, and had nothing to do with the applicant's ability to drive a car. Under the present law, all applicants will be subjected to an examination before the license is granted.

Present holders of drivers licenses will not be required to make new applications at this time, and thus will not be required to stand an examination. Present licenses, however, expire April, 1939, and by that time all Texas motorists will be required, in theory at least, to prove their ability to drive an automobile before they are granted the privilege.

The new law, while wholly inadequate, is much better than any former Texas laws on this subject. Oral examinations will be given by representatives of the Department of Public Safety, testing the applicant's knowledge of State and local traffic regulations, rules of the road, ability to read and interpret highway signs and making other similar tests.

Following this, the applicant will be given a driving test, in which the operator must demonstrate the use of his foot and hand brakes, stop for signals and perform other acts necessary in ordinary traffic situations.

Not only will the prospective automobile operator be examined, but a comprehensive test will be given the vehicle, and each applicant is required to furnish his own vehicle or the one he proposes to operate.

Defects in the automobile disclosed during the examination must be corrected before the car is continued in use.

The examination presumably will not be very thorough, and the new law is not as inclusive as safety experts would prefer. But it is a step in the right direction, and one which should result in a more careful and accident-free operation of automobiles on Texas highways in the future.

John H. Casey, professor of journalism and advertising at the University of Oklahoma, has made many contributions to contemporary newspaper work. One of his articles, touching as it does a subject of vital interest and importance in every newspaper office, has received widespread publicity.

Who Pays For Advertising?

It concerns a theory well known wherever advertising is sold, and answers tersely and well a question often propounded to newspaper publishers: "Who Pays for Advertising?" Mr. Casey's answer:

What is advertising? One form of salesmanship. Purpose? To sell. Who pays for it? John and Mary Public say they do, indirectly. Solomon and Isaac Business Man says that he knows too well that he pays for his advertising.

But I say that the customer does not pay an advertising bill if the advertising is effective, efficiently done, run in the right medium at the right time, and is, in every other respect, right.

For when greater demand for goods is created by advertising, more goods can be manufactured in larger quantities and shelves restocked at less cost per unit of production per item of merchandise, in consequence of that created demand, either at less cost or with more quality at the same cost—which amounts to the same thing.

There you have the theory of mass production and quantity buying packed together in a pecan shell. Yes, the merchant is sure he pays the advertising cost. But I say he does not, for the larger the volume of business the retailer can do, the less his percentage of overhead, of which advertising is but one of many items.

No more light, no more heat, no more of several other overhead items required for $10,000 turnover than $100,000. Well, if the customer doesn't pay and the merchant doesn't pay for advertising—then, who does pay for it? Why, bless your souls! The truth of the matter is that effective advertising is self-supporting, self-liquidating.

No body pays for the good advertising unless, if we must find someone to pay for it, I guess it comes pretty near being the non-advertising merchant who pays—and pays and pays—whose overhead goes up as his sales volume goes down—and the non-advertising customer who buys blind, fails to read the ads and in consequence, gets stuck with inferior, non-advertised goods, at higher prices than he need pay.

And there you have one answer to the old, old question: Who pays for effective advertising, in the final analysis? Not the buyer of the advertised goods, not the merchant who sells the goods and uses the advertising space, but the non-advertiser who fails to get the business and the non-advertising public.

The MARCH OF TIME

A New BANNER Feature by the Editors of TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine

Old Men, New Battles . . .

WASHINGTON—In the resplendent, marble-pillared U. S. Supreme Courtroom in Washington last week 250 reporters, lawyers and spectators uprose as the nine robed Justices filed through three apertures in the white curtains at the end of the room, took their places behind the 30-foot mahogany bench for a reading of the day's first decision.

Mr. Justice Hugo Black, as youngest member of the Court, was by custom the reader of the day's first decision. The case involved the right of the Federal Trade Commission to prevent Standard Education Society from advertising, as a free gift for subscribers to its $69.50 loose-leaf supplement service, an encyclopedia which the F. T. C. had found normally sold at $69.50 with no charge for the supplement. In his opinion, in which all of his eight colleagues concurred, Justice Black ruled for the Commission, gave an outline of his reasoning:

"Laws are made to protect the trusting as well as the suspicious. The best element of business has long decided that honesty should govern competitive enterprises and the rule of 'caveat emptor' should not be relied upon to reward fraud and deception."

This opinion, the first of the Court's 1937-38 term, was also the first one written by the Court's newest member and an exception to the procedure whereby new Justices serve on initial period before being called upon to speak for their colleagues. When Justice Black had finished, the Court proceeded to the rest of the day's business. By a 5-to-4 majority—Justices Brandeis, Stone, Cardozo, and Black strenuously dissenting—it held that a $10,000 gift made to an employee for valuable and loyal service in 1931 was not taxable as income. Among eleven other decisions handed down, most important was a preliminary victory for the National Labor Relations Board in its dispute with Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines Inc., a case which may have a profound effect on the legal standing of company unions.

Year before last the Court's nine old men were bathed in historic limelight when they waded into the New Deal's first crop of economic measures, invalidating NRA and AAA and upholding the Government's right to cancel the gold clauses in all contracts. Last year they were the center of a political death struggle brought about by Franklin Roosevelt's desire to insure the constitutionality of his future legislative program by adding sympathetic Justices to the bench.

The excitement of the current court term will be different from that of the two previous ones but no less noteworthy. Although Mr. Roosevelt's packing plan failed, this term finds the Court philosophically and politically realigned and slanted in a new direction. Its important cases likely to involve the rights of newly-resurgent Labor and the right of the Government to enter the public utilities field.

In 1936, such cases would have been judged by four-rockribbed conservatives, three equally dependable liberals—with Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Roberts unpredictably on the fence. Currently know balance is 4-to-3 on the other side; for while Mr. Roosevelt was not able to place an additional member in the court for each one over 70—the total would have been six—nevertheless, his formal defeat had been accomplished by the retirement of arch-conservative Justice Van Devanter. No matter how much his former Ku Klux Klan membership betrays an innate liberalism, Mr. Justice Black, who was given the vacant chair, is a bona fide New Dealer, and may be expected to vote with the liberal wing, as he did last week. Thus in the 1937-38 term, the liberals will have at least the Court's strongest minority.

Tiger Skin . . . NEW YORK—After an energetic survey of polling places at Election Day's dawn, New York's Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia returned to his Fifth Avenue home, felt a tug at his coattails, turned to shake hands with an 8-year-old admirer who cried: "It's a landscape. LaGuardia by 500,000!"

Within three hours after the polls had closed that evening, every New Yorker knew there had been a landslide for Republican-Progressive-New Dealer LaGuardia and his Fusion Party — so sweeping that it had perhaps permanently changed the political landscape of the biggest city in the U. S. Tammany Hall's defeated Democratic Candidate Jeremiah T. Mahoney sent Mayor LaGuardia a congratulatory telegram at 9:15. Shortly thereafter telegrams went to the rest of the Fusion ticket, District Attorney-Elect Thomas E. Dewey, Comptroller-Elect Joseph D. McGoldrick and Newbold Morris whose members were chosen by proportional representatives to replace the old Tammany-controlled Board of Aldermen. It was the first time the Tammany tiger had ever had to howl to Reform twice running. When the Mayor jubilantly arrived at City Hall next morning, he found his office floor covered with a tiger skin presented by big game-hunting Deputy Police Commissioner Harold Fowler.

Although National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley valiantly fought at Candidate Mahoney's side to the end, realistic Franklin D. Roosevelt let it be known that three days before the election he had telephoned his good wishes to Candidate LaGuardia. Two days after election the President, apparently determined to clear the fence in one leap, took the unusual step of traveling from Hyde Park to his Manhattan town house expressly to "meet" the victorious Mayor. Fiorello LaGuardia entered the grey stone house on east 65th street at 2:40 p. m. Fifteen minutes later and by no coincidence up pulled the limousine of James A. Farley.

International Conference . . . BRUSSELS, Belgium—The Chicago speech of President Roosevelt, with its use of the word "quarantine" in speaking against "world lawlessness," brought together around green tables in Brussels' Palais des Academies last week representatives of the U. S., Britain, France, Russia, China, Italy, Portugal, The Netherlands and Belgium to confer on the war in China.

Just before leaving London for Brussels, willowy, young British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons that the United Kingdom will "go as far as the United States, in full agreement with them . . . in this dangerous and difficult Far East situation." Added he: "In order to get the full cooperation . . . of the United States Government in an international conflict, I would travel not only from Geneva to Brussels, but from Melbourne to Alaska!"

At Brussels for the U. S., was President Roosevelt's perennial Ambassador-at-large, grey and graceful Norman Haskin Davis. If the President and Mr. Davis had cared to take Mr. Eden at his solemn word, they could have proposed vigorous action to "quarantine world lawlessness," and the United Kingdom would have been bound to follow in giving the Conference a shove in that direction. Instead, the keynote struck by Ambassador Davis was: "We come to this Conference to study with our colleagues the problems which concern us . . . Unfortunately, Japan and China have come into conflict and have resorted to hostilities. They have shocked and aroused the peoples of all nations . . . We expect to join with other nations in urging upon Japan and China that they resort to peaceful processes."

Embassador Davis' revelation of how far President Roosevelt wanted to go aroused European disgust, created a feeling that the Brussels Conference was a foredoomed failure, that it would accomplish nothing concrete.

Passenger . . . CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone—Aboard S. S. "Virinia" last week bound for Panama, traveling alone in a $125 first-class stateroom, under special diet, was Prince Rahula, a Siamese cat.

Over the Mountain . . . LA PAZ, Bolivia—For centuries an endless stream of Gold furies to the high capitals of the Inca kings and their Spanish conquerors from mines deep in the gorges of the Andes. Along mile-high precipices, over the backs of peaks twice that height, laborers toiled with bags of nuggets. Llamas could carry only 100 lb. through that rarefied air; burros with an extra set of nostrils punched through the nasal passages at birth, only 150 lb. When forced labor was abolished no paid workers could be found for the job.

Engineers of Bolivia's Aramayo Mines for ten years figured how to make profits from deep valley gold mining before they realized that the airplane could solve their transportation problem. Pan American-Grace Airways last week reported the successful completion of the first dober bites into the 1,000,000-lb equipment that it has agreed to fly over the lofty, rugged Andes into northern Bolivia to reopen the gold mine abandoned two centuries ago.

Pan American-Grace's task is to move 500 tons of mining plant and workers—the largest air express contract on record—from La Paz 60 miles over the peaks to the long dis-entangled Tipuni Valley Mine. At take-off an airplane must rise from a landing field at La Paz, 12,000 feet above the Pacific, and immediately rise another 8,000 feet to clear the crest of the Cordillera before descending into the narrow Andean valley, lying almost at sea level.

Some pieces of freight are eight feet by four feet, weigh 1,800 lb. To the job P. A. -G. assigned one plane, an old, all-metal tri-motor Ford (the "San Fernando"), calculated it would take 500 trips carrying a ton at a time, and expected to have the last load laid down in Tipuni Valley within 100 days. The saving in time over burros and porters is estimated at seven years, eight months; each trip taking 28 minutes against the mule's ten days.

Three of the original kidnapers, now Tennessee businessmen, broke their 18-year silence to help him raise money for expensive operations to save 12-year-old Truman Alexander Jr., an infantile paralysis victim. By Armistice Day last week the raid of 1919 had ended well for all concerned: Writer Alexander had received $1,500 from the "Saturday Evening Post"; 90-lb. Buddy Alexander, after two excruciating spinal operations and a blood transfusion from his father, was in a Manhattan hospital, encased in 125 pounds of plaster, grinned and beginning a recovery scheduled to take a year; and the ex-Kaiser was still safe in Holland.

Narrow passages provide for the interchangeability of the two pilots navigator and three gunners who are protected from the danger of fire by having the gasoline tanks removed entirely from the fuselage and placed in the huge wings where they may or may not prove a greater hazard. Heated and oxygenated, the Airacuda is a high altitude fighter, designed to destroy the "Flying Fortress" type of big bomber, is equipped to drop small bombs to cripple bigger machines flying below it.

Scotch Accent . . . HOLLYWOOD, California—That Hollywood influences manners and morals is a fairly prevalent theory. Recent evidence: the Shirley Temple coliffure, Mae West's gusty wisecracks, Hollywood halo-halos, a break on the rising consumption of native U. S. Whiskey. To relate this last named fact to the cinema involved a statistical triumph of sorts, but the researchers of the Distilled Spirits Institute (formed after Repeal and headed by erstwhile Prohibition officer D. James M. Moran) collated the findings of Buddy's Operation . . . NASHVILLE, Tennessee—O ne icy-cold night in January, 1919, eight reckless Tennessee soldiers failed in a self-appointed, hare-brained attempt to kidnap Kaiser Wilhelm from his Netherlands retreat. Censured by General John J. Pershing, they swore among themselves not to tell their story for 15 years. But three weeks ago the "Saturday Evening Post" featured their escapade as told by Truman Hudson Alexander, veteran Nashville "Tennessean" columnist who had diligently tried since 1934 to ferret out the story.

Capt. J. D. Robnett Succumbs Wednesday Captain John D. Robnett, U. S. Navy, retired, died at his home in Washington, D. C. Wednesday morning. He will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery Friday.

Capt. Robnett, son of the late Dr. J. D. Robnett, founder of Howard Payne College, was the first graduate of the college. He was born in Missouri and came to Brownwood with his parents when he was 9 years of age. Capt. Robnett served in the U. S. Navy from the Spanish-American War days until he retired a few years ago.

Captain Robnett is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Murphy Robnett, sister of Mrs. W. L. Turner of Brownwood; and two sons, J. D. Robnett, Jr., of New Jersey, and Vernon Robnett, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and one daughter, Mrs. Margery Pefley, Quantico, Virginia. F. Yantis Robnett of Brownwood is a nephew of Capt. Robnett.

Who were the Red Rovers of the Texas revolution and what was their flag? A. The Red Rovers were a company of 75 young men organized at Courtland, Ala. by Dr. John Shackelford. They left for Texas, Dec. 12, 1835, landed at Copano, and joined Fannin at Goliad, where most of them were massacred. Dr. Shackelford, captain of the company, was spared because of his medical service to the Mexicans. The company flag was a rich red square, and their bright, red uniforms were of the same color. The captured red flag was taken to Mexico City and placed in the museum.

Q. What became of Dr. (Capt. Jack) John Shackelford after the Texas Revolution? A. Although his life was spared at the March 27, 1836, massacre at La Bahia (Goliad), he was held a prisoner until June, when he escaped and returned to Courtland, Ala., his old home. Shackelford County, Texas, was named for him.

Q. Did Fray de Niza accompany the Coronado expedition? A. He went as far as Hawiku, and after seeing the extreme poverty of the place, deeply humiliated he took advantage of an opportunity to return to Mexico City with a messenger sent by Coronado.

Q. What patriotic and military services did Gen. Thomas J. Chambers render Texas? A. When Texas was threatened with Mexican invasion in 1835-36 he went to the United States, raised men to Texas and expended in money and bonds $32,656, for which, by an act of the Texas Congress, he was reimbursed with land grants. He had six cannons cast at Pittsburg, and presented to the Republic, two of which are in front of the capitol at Austin. He represented Chambers County in the secession convention in 1861.

Q. Where is Frijoles and for what is it known? A. Frijoles (meaning dried Mexican bean) is a small village at the foot of Guadalupe Mountains, 116 miles east of El Paso and one mile north of Highway 62. There are many Indian pictographs on the nearby mountain peaks and Indian cisterns in that vicinity.

Q. When and why was Nov. 3 officially designated as Texas Day? A. At the request of the Texas Centennial Commission, the Legislature, March 16, 1935, designated the birthday of Stephen F. Austin (Nov. 3) as "Texas Day." The act provided that "the date be regularly observed by appropriate and patriotic programs, given in the public schools and other places that will properly commemorate the birthday of that great pioneer patriot, Stephen F. Austin, and thereby inspire a greater love for our beloved Lone Star State."

Q. Why do some historians think that Anton de Alaminos sketched the Pineda maps of the Texas gulf coast? A. Alaminos was the most experienced pilot of the Pineda expedition, had sailed the Florida coast with Ponce de Leon in 1513, had been with Cordova and Grijalva on their explorations of Yucatan, and the lower Mexican gulf and had related extravagant stories of his adventures, all of which caused both Garay and Pineda to place great confidence in him as an explorer and geographer.

PEEP SHOW —For Ladies Only—

BY MIGNON

Since the female of the species is more deadly than the male it seems that women jurors are—but thereby hangs a tale.

It was a jury of eleven women and one man that doomed Mrs. Anna Hahn to the electric chair for the poison murder of Jacob Wagner. Is it sex that sways the minds of jurors, or is it only a coincidence while Mrs. Hahn was found guilty of murder, Margaret Drennan, confessed slayer of her married lover, who tried by eleven men and one woman, went free?

The woman who kills and goes before a jury of women to be tried has little reason in the cold light of psychological truth to hope for mercy.

She might fool a jury of men with tears and helplessness, but if she knows a thing about her own sex she knows that women won't be fooled by her. And she knows that they will show her no mercy.

But it is another story for the pretty woman who faces a jury dominated by men. Her mirror tells her that she has a chance. So does her knowledge of men's sentimentality and the protective instinct that makes them want to help any woman in distress.

If honor is involved, the woman has almost a fool-proof defense. What man—or jury of men—would say that a pretty girl whose trust had been violated by one of their own sex should die?

Doom must be in the heart of every woman who finds her life dependent on the mercy of her own sex.

It might be a good thing to divide the jurors so that only the evidence in the case might be considered fairly.

Down in Texas there is an oil well located on church property and is paying church members $20 a month. Instead of "Give, Oh, Give," can you imagine finding a check made out to you for your dividend? No, you peeping Toms who read this woman's column, you just as well play golf, they aren't taking in any more members.

Notice to all you Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanians, and other loud-singing Service Club members: That old song about "There ain't no wives," won't do any longer. The business women have formed the S. F. U. O. M. P. A. B. which means a society for the prevention of married men posing as bachelors. Can you imagine smart business girls forming such an organization? Looks to me like they could spot a married man two miles away.

Speaking of married men, I am slightly acquainted with one who approached a pretty girl on the street with the old gag, "Hello, haven't we met someplace?" And I've had him under my thumb ever since I heard her reply, "Hell, no, you ain't been there."

An author once wrote: "For it has been truly said that kindness is a language which the blind can see and the deaf can hear." I could go him one better, being a married woman—even the dumb might understand it.

A copy of that loved magazine, "Visions," is here dedicated, this issue, to the late Robert Tad Phillips who was a member of the staff. Visions—from the garden of the Sun—expresses more than a whole column singing is praises. But I'll have to find some new superlatives if it gets any better.

It is with pride and pleasure that I present this week a lovely new book of poetry, "Lasting Beauty" by Lois Page of Altus, Oklahoma. It is a beautiful little volume in green and gold published by the Tribune, Tipton, Oklahoma, and for sale by the author and many book stores over the country, price $2.25.

Lois Page is a new discovery in the poetry world. She has been confined to her bed with a spine trouble for five years. But out of the pain and heartache have come lulling songs of purest poetry, but don't think they are minor chords. Pain has only refined the gold and let it flow out of a heart crowded full of beauty and understanding. If poetry takes its origin from emotions recollected in tranquillity then "Lasting Beauty" is poetry. Have you ever walked through a gloomy forest stumbling over protruding roots, your hands torn from briar vines, your face whipped by relentless wind whose stinging fierceness brought tears of discouragement to your eyes? Have you ever felt beaten and lost and lonely and then suddenly through the darkness heard a high sweet voice singing clearly and unafraid?

Lasting Beauty is the echo of that sweet voice, lifted in the forest of pain and bewilderment; whipped by the winds of adversity. It is an anthem of hope, a pean of courage which a singing heart sent forth to overcome loneliness and despair and at the same time bring joy and gladness to others with its lovely cadences.

To see Lois Page and realize that she can never be permitted to race with an April wind, nor climb a hill top to greet God's dawn, you may feel a deep sorrow for her physical handicap but here is the Lois I know:

If you think the world's a theatre And Sorrow is her part, Then you haven't seen her gallant smile Nor locked within her heart.

Misses Vivian and Earlene Day of Abilene Christian College spent the week-end at home and attended church here Sunday. Earl McCaleb of A. C. C. also was a guest at the Day home over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilmet of the Spring Creek School, San Saba county, arrived in time for Sunday School Sunday morning. They were accompanied by Mrs. Wilmet's mother, Mrs. H. G. Duckworth of Mason, who is spending the week with them while Mr. Duckworth is off to Ozona on a deer hunt.

Grandma Egger is not so well again, and was in bed Saturday and Sunday. Grandma Wilmet and her daughters, Mrs. E. O. Dwyer and Mrs. J. R. Briley, visited her Sunday afternoon. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Egger, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Egger, and Mrs. M. L. White. Her daughter, Mrs. Wood Roberts and her daughters-in-law, Mrs. Jess Egger and Mrs. Henry Egger, are taking it time about staying with her while she is so poorly, but Tom Riggs is with them all the time to do the work and wait on Grandma and Aunt T. The women say he really does the job well.

Aunt T is looking forward to her ninetieth birthday in January, but she seems well and hearty and her many flowers in the yard are

Love's a Song—Kisses Are 'Strictly Business'

Mergola and Pons
Galli-Curci and Behymer
Tucker and Cantor
Romantic melodists of opera and screen are the three ladies pictured above in osculatory poses, but it's "strictly business," not love, that is responsible for these kisses. Gaetano Mergola, San Francisco opera director, bestows a welcoming kiss on tiny Lily Pons as she arrives for an engagement. Amelita Galli-Curci, absent from the concert stage for several years following a throat operation, affectionately greets L. E. Behymer, her Pacific coast manager in Los Angeles, as she continues a "comeback" concert tour. A resounding "smack" followed the Sophie Tucker-Eddie Cantor amorous pose at right, as the "last of the red-hot mamas" wished Eddie good night after his party commemorating 25 years as an entertainer.

well cared for.

Mrs. W. H. Reeves, reports that her sister, Miss Sybil Guthrie, who has been in a hospital at Three Rivers because of severe injuries received in a car wreck near there several weeks ago, is some better. Last week members of her family were hastily summoned to her bedside to find her condition very grave indeed. She has been moved to a hospital at San Antonio, and her present improvement makes us hope that she is now on the road to recovery.

In spite of the rain and muddy roads, several attended the bridal shower given for Mrs. John Holder at the home of Mrs. Lula Kelly Tuesday. Present, besides Mrs. Holder, were Mrs. Lula Kelly, Mrs. Frank Crowder, Mrs. Ira Ratliff, Mrs. Ross White, Mrs. Wood Roberts, Mrs. Jim Wilmet, Mrs. Earl Day, Mrs. John Briley, Mrs. Reese Reid, Miss Dolly Reynolds, Miss Maurine White, and Mrs. Lucile Calk and children, Winnifred and Carlton, of Burkett, sister of the bridegroom. Cocoa, coffee and two kinds of cake were served. The bride was very charming in her dark blue dress and her radiant happy face. And she was very gracious in her acknowledgment of appreciation of the many gifts bestowed upon her.

Mrs. Nellie Malone and Ernest were guests for a birthday dinner honoring Mr. Thompson and Mildred at the Thompson home Sunday.

Thomas Smith and J. C. Crowder left early in the week for West Texas with another load of pecans. Mrs. Crowder went along to visit her children at Monahans and El Paso.

Mrs. J. R. Briley, and Miss Bernice Wilmet attended the homecoming at Daniel Baker College Saturday, and enjoyed every bit of it from the magnificent breakfast on the roof garden of Hotel Brownwood through the impressive chapel service at Corbin Memorial Hall to the delightful tea at Mrs. Taber's in the afternoon and the game at night.

Mrs. Minerva Price Owen, mother of E. O. Dwyer died at her home at Ralls Friday, November 5, and was buried Saturday in the Ralls cemetery.

She was born in Missouri, Dec. 1851. Her first marriage was to a Mr. Robertson. Left a widow early in life, she came to Texas with her father, John Price, in 1874 and settled at Brownwood. After her marriage to Mr. Dwyer, the family lived for many years on a farm at Indian Creek near the Posy farm. A widow again late in life, she married I. N. Owen, who brought her as a bride to his home at Ebony. After several years residence here, they bought a home near Zephyr where they lived until Mr. Owen's death several years ago. She then bought her home at Ralls where her son, Lon Robertson, lived with her until her death.

Of untiring energy, Mrs. Owen was a veritable Martha, looking well to the ways of her household. In her widowhood, she worked hard to support her small children. No body could make a better pound of butter or keep a cleaner house than she. She was a queen of fine hand work. Her children possess one or more fine counterpanes woven by her hands. In her latter years, she turned to fancy work. The things she made were beautiful, and exquisitely done.

She is survived by three sons, Lon Robertson of Ralls, John Dwyer of Chickasha, Okla., and E. O. Dwyer of Ebony; two brothers, John Price of Colorado and D. C. Price of Brownwood; a sister, Mrs. Duck Elm of Comanche; and eight grandchildren.

Next week is Thanksgiving week. Don't forget the cemetery working Thanksgiving Day. Bring lunch and tools to work with.

We have a
TWENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY...

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT
25th ANNIVERSARY YEAR
SERVICE FIRST
ELECTRICITY IS CHEAP
COMPANY

IT is our Birthday... our Twenty-fifth... our Silver Anniversary. We mention it, not that we expect acclaim for having survived during these twenty-five eventful years, nor for having served well for that time; but we mark the day because this past quarter-century has been filled with great achievements in Texas, and by Texans.

It is our conviction that we have contributed something worth while, something lasting and beneficial to the people for and with whom we work. Dependable Transmission Line Electric Power, pioneered in Texas by this Company in 1912, has extended the limits of Texas' opportunities... has given wings to achievement... has brought the comforts, conveniences and economies of its service to hundreds of communities and to thousands of homes which, otherwise, would long have been denied these advantages.

Transmission Line Power Service has been... and is now... a very real boon to industrial development, meeting the needs of smaller cities and towns served by this Company. This form of adequate, dependable service... at low cost... and usable at such low investment cost... has made it possible for the smaller community to enjoy a more balanced income.

So, on the occasion of our Twenty-fifth Birthday, we refer to the evidence of yesterday's progress, and we pledge all of our resources to serving those who look singly to us for Electric Service... the cheapest and most useful public service.

And, it is fitting that we express our appreciation for thousands upon thousands of fine friendships which have arisen around us during this quarter-century. It is our single aim to merit and hold and enlarge those friendships through the years to come... by rendering a service in simple trust and faith.

Regency

Armistice day here perhaps lacked the outstanding observances of other communities, small towns and cities, yet our thoughts were rehearsed from the depths of our hearts for our boys that crossed the sea.

Those having turkeys to sell have taken advantage of the late winter sunshine days of last week to market them, and at this date the majority of birds have been disposed of.

Some have sold their entire flocks due to the prevailing low prices of the present and past years, while others are keeping less turkeys to raise from.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts attended the Memorial Cemetery services at Pleasant Valley Sunday and report the day well spent.

Bro. Jack West of Cottonwood preached a very appropriate sermon for the occasion Sunday morning from the last chapter of Matthew basing his text on the resurrection of Christ and of His return to earth again from the glory land to gather His jewels home.

Bro. W. B. Smith, who introduced Bro. West to the large audience, made a brief talk stating that all denominations had for the past thirty years met twice each year at that place to pay tribute to their dead.

After church lunch was served prepared by the best of cooks, then all interested decorated the graves with flowers of different hues together with beautiful grounds and markings spoke eloquently of the esteem in which their loved ones were held. The remainder of the afternoon was spent by singing songs by numerous good singers.

Wood Roberts spent Sunday with his brother, Charles Roberts, while Mrs. Roberts visited her mother, Grandmother Egger who is sick again.

Grandmother Egger and Aunt Tom Parrell are still under the beneficent care of their nephew, Tom Riggs who competes with any woman as a thrifty housekeeper, cook or nurse.

Mr. John Newbury's many friends were glad that he was able to accompany Bill Reid to his old home place Friday and that Roy Churchwell is back from the hospital and doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Rowlett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts and Mrs. Mack Egger called to see Mr. and Mrs. Loyt Roberts Saturday night and to listen to their new radio.

There is not much change in Mr. J. M. Jones condition. Quietude is the best remedy for him at present.

Jack Jones of Brownwood, besides other neighboring friends, were in to see him Sunday.

Homer Rowlett has returned home after an extended visit with his sister, Mrs. Oliver Collier of Leday.

There is to be a community meeting at the Hanna Valley school house Friday night, November 19, and we cordially invite everyone that can possibly do to meet with us.

Mrs. Theibert Jones and Miss McBride visited in the homes of Mrs. Charles Roberts and Grandmother Egger Monday afternoon.

Voices of hounds echoing through the air was thrilling to Wayne Roberts, Mack and Lem Egger who accompanied them to the woods Saturday night for the first real chase this season. Fox are plentiful and with the stillness of night furnish plenty of sport for them as well as those from a distance.

Alreastle talk or not, but nevertheless we hear the rumor of a bridge at Regency again, that I have previously mentioned so many times of late, which perhaps have become stale for some readers.

A brisk norther is blowing as I bring my news to a close, which means crispier nights, cooler days and Jack Frost not far away.

Glasses correctly made give service. Dr. R. A. Ellis, Optometrist.

Plans Formulated For Convention of TAA in Fort Worth

Plans are going forward for the annual Texas Agricultural Association Convention at Fort Worth. The dates for this year's convention are December 9, 10 and 11.

"It is highly important that every section of Texas be strongly represented at the convention," declared H. G. Lucas, president of the Association. "We need not only representation from all sections and types of agriculture, but we need a strong representation in numbers."

"The more farmers present, the more impressive the convention will be to those in whose hands the farmers' problems lay. We should show by our number that we are in earnest about organization and about the things we need in the way of national and state legislation."

Several speakers of national prominence already have agreed to participate in the program, and other names will be added.

Problems of vital interest to every farmer in Texas will be up for discussion.

Immediately following the adjournment of the convention at Ft. Worth, delegates from the various counties in Texas will leave on special pullman cars for Chicago where they will attend, as accredited delegates, the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The train leaves Fort Worth at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, December 11. It will arrive in Chicago the following afternoon, in time for the delegates to attend the pre-convention meeting Sunday night.

The convention proper opens the following morning and will last three days.

Arrangements have been made whereby holders of special convention tickets from Texas may live on the pullman cars while in Chicago and thereby save the cost of hotel accommodations.

Preliminary work has been completed for the planting of 100 square miles of trees to prevent soil erosion in the Pajare valley in California.

The department of agriculture is conducting a world-wide survey to find grasses well adapted to hold down soils and prevent dust storms.

Battling for a Chance to Die

Held by strong hands from the death she sought in a leap from the San Francisco-Oakland bridge, despondent Mrs. Rose Moga, 50, is shown above as she fought with the officers as they forcibly saved her life. A close watch is maintained constantly over the entire bridge to prevent suicides.

A. C. C. Announces Homecoming Date

Interest in preparations for Abilene Christian College's annual homecoming of former students, mothers, and dads of students and ex-students, set for November 19-20 at Abilene, Texas, moved forward rapidly this week with the announcement of the program and appointment of committees on arrangements by Sterling "Shorty" Parker, president of the ACC Ex-Students Association.

Festivities will get underway with the traditional freshman bonfire at 8:00 Friday night, November 19. This will be immediately followed by the massed pep rally in Sewell auditorium, and visitors will be entertained overnight in the homes of Abilene "exes" and friends.

Saturday morning, November 20, ex-students and the Mothers and Dads Club will have charge of chapel exercises, at 9:30, and at 10:15 business meetings of both groups are scheduled. Ex-students of dissolved Christian colleges who were made associate members of the ACC association in 1936, will meet with these groups, which will include former students of Thorp

Stamps Christian College, Cleburne, Lockney, Cordell, and Lincolnton Christian Colleges; and Southland University.

Saturday highlights will be the West Texas barbecue lunch at 11:30 and the ACC-McMurry football game slated at 2:00 p. m. Climaxing a day of class and club reunions will be the "C" Club banquet at 8:00 Saturday night for Abilene Christian College athletic lettermen of past and present years.

HUNTERS' LUCK

E. M. Carter, Brownwood, was the first man to kill a Mason county buck Tuesday, but was struck by the empty shell ejecting from his rifle when he bagged on eight-pointer on the Jeffers ranch. The injury was only slight.

Mrs. M. W. Ledbetter was the first Brownwood woman to bag a deer this season. She killed an eight-point buck Tuesday afternoon while hunting on the Stephenson ranch near Junction. Other members of the hunting party from Brownwood were Mr. Ledbetter and Luke Haywood.

An ancient newspaper recently unearthed at New Bern, N. C., reports 1,300 people died of yellow fever in that town in 1864.

The How and Why of the National Unemployment Census

A nation-wide census of all unemployed and partially unemployed persons in the United States will be taken between the dates of November 16 to 20, by act of Congress, and at the direction of President Roosevelt.

Here, in question-and-answer form, is the information you need to know about this plan.

- 1. WHAT IS PURPOSE OF THE UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS?
To get an accurate count of the unemployed and partly unemployed.
- 2. TO WHOM WILL CARDS BE SENT?
To every family in the United States.
- 3. UNDER WHOSE AUSPICES IS THE CENSUS BEING TAKEN?
Congress has decreed, and the President has directed, that it be taken.
- 4. IS THE CENSUS COMPULSORY?
No. But every unemployed or partly unemployed person is urgently requested to cooperate.
- 5. HOW WILL THE CENSUS BE CONDUCTED?
Through the facilities of the Post Office Department, Report Cards will be delivered to every family. Cards are to be returned by mail to Washington for tabulation and analysis.
- 6. WHEN WILL THE CENSUS BE TAKEN?
Cards will be delivered on November 16 and must be returned by MIDNIGHT NOVEMBER 20. They are already addressed and no postage is required.
- 7. WHO SHOULD FILL AND RETURN CARDS?
Every person who is unemployed or partly unemployed who is able to work and wants work.
- 8. WHAT AGE LIMITS APPLY?
There are no age limits except existing State regulations concerning workers' ages.
- 9. SHOULD MORE THAN ONE UNEMPLOYED PERSON IN A FAMILY RETURN A CARD?
Yes. Every unemployed member of a family should fill out and return a card, if able to work and seeking work.
- 10. WHERE MAY ADDITIONAL CARDS BE OBTAINED?
At any post office or from your postman.
- 11. WHERE CAN INFORMATION BE SECURED IN FILLING OUT CARDS?
At your post office or from your postman.
- 12. IS THIS CENSUS CONFINED TO AMERICAN CITIZENS?
No. All permanent residents of the United States are included.
- 13. IS THE INFORMATION GIVEN ON THE CARDS TO BE CONSIDERED CONFIDENTIAL?
Yes. This information will be used for unemployment statistics only.
- 14. SHOULD EVERY QUESTION OF THE CENSUS CARD BE ANSWERED?
Yes. To obtain the most accurate information possible, the President asks that each question be answered. Numbers 9 and 10 are particularly important. However, failure to answer some of the questions will not invalidate the card.
- 15. WHO IS AN "UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color who is not working and is able to work and seeking work.
- 16. WHO IS A "PARTLY UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color with part-time employment who is able to do more work and is looking for more work.
- 17. ARE PERSONS ON EMERGENCY WORK PROJECTS INCLUDED?
Yes. They should register as unemployed. A specific question, Number 2c, is provided on the Report Card for all persons working on a W.P.A., N.Y.A., C.C.C., or other emergency work project which is supported by public funds.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The White House
Washington

TO EVERY WORKER:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage stamp is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

National Grange Convenes Nov. 10

Charles F. Smith, assistant national director of education, Boy Scouts of America, New York City, and for many years a member of the faculty of Columbia University, spoke and led a discussion on "Cubbing," the younger boys' program of the Boy Scouts organization, at 7:30 Wednesday night in Scout headquarters in the courtroom.

Mr. Smith will be in charge of a sectional training school for Scouters at San Antonio Saturday and Sunday, G. N. Quirk, local Scout Executive, and O. E. Winebrenner, Adolph Hochhalter and Gaitha Browning, local Scout leaders, will attend the meeting.

Mr. Smith is the author of "Games and Recreational Methods" and a more recent book, "Games and Game Leadership."

Officers of H. D. Council Relected

All officers of Brown county Home Demonstration Council have been reelected for another year, according to Miss Mayesle Malone, county home demonstration agent.

The officers are: Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Byrds, chairman; Mrs. B. H. Bullion, Indian Creek, vice-chairman; Mrs. Will Vanderveer, Jr., May, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Nichols, Early, assistant secretary-treasurer.

The average University of Michigan student carries $2.98 in ready money, according to the student paper's campus survey.

A total of 95,608 children under six years of age are included in the 163,924 families on relief rolls in Kentucky.

Although he traveled extensively among English-speaking people, Lafayette's knowledge of the English language was very limited.

Playing Horse

Nine-year-old Florence Dorothea Taylor, astride the back of 79-year-old Charles Smith, finds playing horse tame inasmuch as she is an experienced horse-woman, has won 100 trophies and 250 ribbons, and is the youngest contender for the A. S. P. C. A. Good Hands Cup at the National Horse Show to be held in Madison Square Garden Nov. 3-10. Smith has been connected with the show for 51 years.

Goodyear Presents Plaque To Safety Tire Company Here

In recognition of many years of friendly relations a handsome plaque has been presented to Safety Tire Co., local Goodyear dealer, by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

Accompanying the plaque was a personal letter from P. W. Litchfield, president of Goodyear, to D. C. Pratt, head of the Safety Tire Co., expressing the manufacturing concern's appreciation of his outstanding loyalty as a Goodyear dealer, and the hope the friendly relations may continue indefinitely.

The plaque, which occupies a prominent spot in Mr. Pratt's place of business, is done in bronze, with the name of the Safety Tire Co. and of Goodyear appearing in raised letters on the lower portion.

Various means of transportation, such as the automobile, bus, truck, railway train, steamboat, airplane and airship, are portrayed in bas-relief.

The main plant of the Goodyear Co. and the giant Goodyear Zeppelin dock, largest building in the world without interior supports, are shown and in the center foreground appears a Goodyear tire encircling the Goodyear house flag.

RICH REWARD

For downright good eating nothing can beat this rare recipe for coffee ring. It's almost cake-like in texture—enriched with a luscious filling of Mincemeat and crunchy nuts. Takes time to prepare, but it's well worth it. You've never tasted anything so yummy!

Sift together—
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoonful baking powder
1/2 teaspoonful salt
4 tablespoonfuls light brown sugar.

Work in—
4 tablespoonfuls butter with knife, then knead with hands.

Beat—
1 egg, then combine with
1/2 cupful milk and
1 teaspoonful vanilla.

Add liquid mixture gradually to flour mixture and blend with a spoon. Knead slightly in bowl with lightly floured hands. Divide into halves. Spread one-half of dough in bottom of well buttered tube cake pan with knife and top with a layer of filling made so:

Combine—
2 tablespoonfuls soft butter
1 cupful Mincemeat
1/2 cupful chopped nut meats.

Cover filling with second portion of dough and bake in a hot oven (450° F.) 25 minutes. When baked, remove from oven and spread with this icing:

Combine—
2 tablespoonfuls milk or water
1 cupful powdered sugar, and blend thoroughly. Return to oven to bake for 2 more minutes. Sounds involved, but eats swell. Try it soon!

SCOOP WITH SCONES

Try making scones sometime when you want to set yourself up as a hostess in the know. They're grand served hot with a comfortable cup of tea. Here's how they're done:

Sift together three times—
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoonful baking powder
1 tablespoonful sugar
1/2 teaspoonful salt.

Blend—
4 tablespoonfuls fat with flour mixture as for biscuits, then add 1/2 cupful top milk or cream.

Beat—
2 eggs, first reserving a small portion of the unbeaten egg white for brushing over tops of scones.

Add beaten eggs to flour mixture.

Mix only enough to blend ingredients, then knead 30 seconds on a slightly floured board. Roll to 1/4 inch in thickness and cut into diamond shapes. Spread one-half of diamonds with Apple Butter and top with remaining ones. Brush top, lightly with the unbeaten egg white and sprinkle with sugar. Place on a lightly greased cookie sheet and sprinkle with sugar. Place on a lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in a hot oven (425° F.) 15 minutes. Grand served hot with afternoon tea. Try them with Mincemeat sometime, too, when you want a little variation. You'll get fond of them both ways.

Why certain Indians of Michigan bored neat holes in the skulls and leg bones of their dead is puzzling anthropologists.

That Optimistic Old Bird, the Pelican

An amazing bird is the pelican—you've often heard that suggestion. But it's hard to see how the hell can handle this fish without indigestion. Even in Los Angeles, where this picture was taken.
