

Lake Brownwood To Supply Water To Rice Growers

Lake Water Released For Relief Of Drouth Stricken Area Near Texas Gulf.

Arid Brown county sold 14,000 acre feet of water Wednesday to a couple of Gulf coast counties and within an hour after the sale was completed delivery was begun at the rate of two acre feet of water per minute. This continued for 14 hours after which the delivery scheduled was cut down to one and a half acre feet per minute.

This unusual transaction was closed Wednesday after officials of the Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 had considered a proposition submitted to them on Tuesday by W. E. DeWitt, representative of the Gulf Coast Water Company, of Bay City, Mr. DeWitt offered the Brownwood water district $10,000 for 14,000 acre feet of water, this to be released from Lake Brownwood and delivered to the Bay City company via Pecan Bayou and the Colorado River. After lengthy discussions, the Brownwood water district accepted his terms, collecting the $10,000 and started delivery. Mr. DeWitt's company purchased the water for rice fields of Matamoros and Wharton counties. A severe drouth threatens the rice crops of these two counties and the only way that relief could be obtained was to purchase water from here having it impounded somewhere along the Colorado waterway.

The coast county rice growers are not sure that the purchase of 14,000 acre feet from Lake Brownwood would give them the relief they desired but they are trying. The purchasers of the water are to stand any loss of water by evaporation or otherwise. It is believed that 50 per cent of the water will reach the rice fields. The flood gates at Lake Brownwood were opened about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the flow of 73,400 gallons (two acre feet) of water per minute began. This will continue until a grand total of 4,573,800,000 gallons (14,000 acre feet) has been turned out to the purchasers 500 miles from Brownwood. Engineers believe that the greatest losses in the 14,000 acre feet of water sold will be sustained between the outlet at Lake Brownwood and the Colorado River.

The state board of water engineers will superintend the passage of the 14,000 acre feet of water below Austin to see that the inflow is not used by others in the lower Colorado than the purchasers. Brown County Water District officials state that the sale and delivery of the water from Lake Brownwood will not threaten the city's water supply. Lake Brownwood had 65,000 acre feet of water before the flood gates were opened Wednesday afternoon. And water district officers state that the 14,000 acre feet of water that will be left in the lake will take care of any and all Brownwood demands for many months to come. The releasing of the 14,000 acre feet of water will lower the water level at Lake Brownwood about one foot.

Prior to the sale of the 14,000 acre feet of water was only about 100 feet. The Brownwood water district has the right to impound and keep 125,000 acre feet of water in the lake, which has a maximum capacity of approximately 140,000 acre feet. Water district officials expect the lake to be filled within the year providing average rainfall is had on the lake's watershed during the next twelve months.

There is a "no smoking" rule at meetings of the Texas relief commission because Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson has hay fever.

Davis Rally To Be Held Here Monday

A rally of Brown county friends and supporters of Judge E. M. Davis of Brownwood, candidate for State Senator from the 25th Senatorial District, will be held at the court house, Brownwood, at 8:00 o'clock Monday night, July 2, it was announced here this week.

Judge Davis will be on hand and address the gathering, and all local candidates are invited to make brief announcements. The largest political gathering of the present campaign is anticipated.

Judge Davis is conducting an active campaign for the office. He spoke in San Angelo Tuesday of this week, spent Wednesday in Sterling County and Thursday was to speak at two barbecues, in the morning at Bronte and in the evening at Eden.

Friday Judge Davis will be in Runnels County attending to legal matters, but Saturday will resume his campaign, speaking Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at De Leon, in Comanche County, at 4:30 he will speak at Comanche, and at 8 p. m. Saturday is scheduled to speak at Goldthwaite.

COTTON CHECKS ARE EXPECTED HERE DAILY

Cotton checks for Brown county farmers are expected daily. County Agent C. W. Lehmburg stated this week, but up to noon Thursday, they had not arrived. Other Texas counties are receiving their cotton checks this week, and Brown county's should be along soon.

Machinery for getting the checks distributed to the farmers promptly has been set up by the county agent, in anticipation of their arrival. Cards have been made out for each farmer, notifying him of arrival of the checks, and these will be mailed as soon as the money reaches Brownwood.

Mr. Lehmburg estimates that the first payment will be approximately $60,000, with another $60,000 to be paid later in the year. This later payment includes half payment on an acre basis to be made in August or September, and the 1 cent per pound parity payment to be made in December.

AIRMAIL POSTAGE DROPS TO 6 CENTS

Airmail postage rates will drop from 8 cents to 6 cents per ounce or fraction thereof on July 1, it was announced this week by D. E. George Kidd, Brownwood postmaster. The 6 cents will carry a one-ounce letter by airmail anywhere in the United States, regardless of distance, according to information received from the department by Mr. Kidd.

The reduction is made possible through lower contract rates for carrying the mail by air, which resulted from the cancellation of contracts by President Roosevelt, and the subsequent awarding of new contracts.

Classed as a tree and plant pest, mistletoe is outlawed by ordinance in several California cities and its destruction made compulsory.

FORMER PASTORS WILL PREACH AT METHODIST CHURCH HOME-COMING

Dr. K. P. Barton, former pastor of the First Methodist church and now presiding elder of the San Antonio district, will preach Sunday morning, July 15, at First church when Home Coming Day is to be observed.

Dr. C. Q. Smith, newly elected president of McMurry college, will preach at 8 p. m. and Dr. C. R. Wright of Fort Worth will preach at 3 p. m. when a great rally of Methodists of Brown county will be held and visitors will be welcomed. At this service Dr. P. C. Ragsdale will give a history of First Church.

At 9:45 a. m. Rev. John N. Rentfro of Fort Worth will speak to the adult department of the Sunday school and at the same hour Rev. Frank Singleton will speak to the young people of the church. At 7 p. m. a great rally of young people will be held and Rev. W. B. Andrews will be the speaker. Parents of the young people will be guests of this service.

Following the afternoon rally at 3 o'clock a social hour will be held in the church basement and ice cold lemonade will be served. At this hour the people will have opportunity to visit with their former pastors.

The visiting ministers will remain over Monday and will be entertained at Lake Brownwood with fishing in charge of David and Ed Henley. A number of their friends will be invited to enjoy this outing with them.

PROTEST ALLOWED ON COTTON QUOTA

Brown county may protest its allotment of 6,900 bales of cotton, the amount allowed under the provisions of the Bankhead Act, according to County Agent C. W. Lehmburg. This county should receive a quota of approximately 9,900 bales, according to the county agent. The low quota is due to the fact that drouth years were taken into consideration in establishing this county's five-year average.

Mr. Lehmburg has received from G. E. Adams, acting vice-director and state agent, the following information relative to method of making protest:

"In case there should be any dissatisfaction with quotas, however, appeals are permitted to be made to Washington within 15 days.

"No appeal could be entertained except upon a showing by sworn statements, accompanied by evidence and reference to published records, so convincing as to lead to but one conclusion — that a serious injustice had been done.

"It seems extremely doubtful that a showing can be made that would upset the quotas as published."

FORMAL OPENING OF PARK IS POSTPONED

Formal opening of Lake Brownwood State Park, originally set for June 27 and 28, has been postponed indefinitely, according to an announcement this week by D. E. George Kidd, chairman of the state parks board. The postponement was made at the request of Brownwood citizens who wanted to wait until the park is fully developed.

Although the park is now a real beauty spot there is much work to be done. The CCC camp which moves in next month will spend six months or more developing the park's beauty and until this extensive beautification program is completed, Brownwood officials do not want to throw the state park open to the state. After this work is done, the formal opening will be held and Brownwood plans to make this formal opening a most elaborate affair, one that will attract the entire state.

L. G. Porter Named Bangs Postmaster

L. Gibson Porter, former cashier of the First State Bank, of Bangs, has been appointed acting postmaster at Bangs, according to information received from Washington the past week-end.

Mr. Porter assumed his new duties immediately. His appointment cannot be confirmed until the next Congress convenes.

Mr. Porter is a prominent citizen of Bangs and his appointment is certain to meet the approval of his many friends in the county.

Putting Final Touch to Victory

It's a moment of triumph for this pair of New Dealers and their smiles show it, as Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace signs the commission which makes Rexford G. Tugwell, standing, under-secretary of agriculture. Tugwell was confirmed in his new berth by the Senate after a battle that aroused national interest.

AGED WOMAN'S KINSMAN UNDER INDICTMENT, WIFE ALSO HELD IN CROSS CUT CLUBBING CASE

LESTER C. STERNE, about 27, of Abilene, a distant kinsman of Mrs. Lige DeBusk, 82, one of two aged women who last week were brutally attacked and robbed at their home near Cross Cut, was indicted Monday afternoon by the Brown county grand jury on a robbery with firearms charge and is being held in jail at Fort Worth pending trial in 35th judicial district court the second week in July. Sterne's wife was indicted as an accomplice and is also being held in the Tarrant county jail pending trial in Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterne were arrested in Abilene Saturday night and Sunday morning by Sheriff Jack Hallmark and deputies who were accompanied by Abilene officers. Sheriff Hallmark brought the two suspects to Brownwood early Tuesday morning and later that day Sterne made a complete confession of the dastardly crime, this confession being made before County Attorney A. E. Nabors who reduced it to writing. The man and his wife were then spirited out of the county to Fort Worth for safekeeping, this being done to prevent threatened mob violence.

Alibi Breaks Down. The renter, a kinsman of Mrs. Sterne, when confronted with the statement of the man who owned the farm, admitted that Mr. and Mrs. Sterne came to his place early that morning and told him that they were in a jam and needed an alibi for their whereabouts the preceding night. Sterne did not give him details of his plight, saying only that he was in a jam.

Sheriff Hallmark and the other officers took Mr. and Mrs. Sterne into custody and also arrested members of the family who had given Mr. and Mrs. Sterne refuge following the Cross Cut crime. A young girl in the party is said to have told the officers that Sterne told her that he had had to "knock old lady in the head last night."

Officers then confronted Sterne with evidence they had uncovered and the suspect admitted everything, it is claimed.

Although the confession made by Sterne was not disclosed to the public, Sterne is said to have told the complete story of the crime. He and his wife borrowed or rented an automobile on the night of the crime and drove to the DeBusk

MANY WORKERS ARE AVAILABLE THROUGH EMPLOYMENT OFFICE

O. H. Turner, in charge of the reemployment office of the United States Department of Labor, located at relief headquarters in Brownwood, is prepared to furnish all classes of qualified labor, either men or women, he announces this week. Those wanting work are registering almost daily with Mr. Turner and he has men and women on his files who can meet almost any demand made by employers of labor, regardless of what the employer might need.

The NRS office supplies the labor demands of employers without cost to either the employer or employee and the citizens of Brownwood and Brown county are urged to avail themselves of this free service. Mr. Turner has listed all applicants for work and all have been thoroughly investigated.

COUNCIL ACTS TO ESTABLISH SUNDAY MOVIES IN CITY

According to present indications, Brownwood will have Sunday picture shows within the near future. City Council, at its regular meeting this week, passed on the first reading an ordinance that will repeal the law forbidding Sunday movies. Three members of the council voted for Sunday shows with Alderman Kay Roberts voting against Sunday movies.

The ordinance must pass three readings before being enacted. Two elections were held last year on Sunday picture shows and both a small majority against shows on Sunday was registered. Action on the ordinance to legalize Sunday movies was taken this week after a petition signed by a large number of Brownwood business men asking that Sunday shows be made legal.

MEASURING WHEAT IN COUNTY COMPLETED

Measuring of Brown county's wheat allotment acreage, 8,555 acres, was completed this week. Five teams had been engaged in this work for several weeks.

The county had a total of 146 wheat contracts with a total allotment of 72,947 bushels for the county.

The farmers are to receive 29 cents a bushel for this amount of wheat, this to be made in several payments. However, the farmers will receive only 27 3/4 cents per bushel in that 1-4 cents will be deducted for expenses incurred in measuring the allotted acreage. The original price was 28 cents but the government later added another cent per bushel as drought relief.

The fiscal year of the Brown County Wheat Production Control Association will be completed June 30. At that time officers for next year will be elected and a board of directors chosen. The officers for this year include George W. McHan, chairman, and M. E. Fry and Roy Chapman. The present board of directors is composed of Mr. McHan, Fry, Chapman, Ross Newton, C. L. Norman, W. E. Pierce and W. O. Means.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO CRASH HERE

Tex C. Worsham, Brownwood business man, and Clyde Dooley, 12, nephew of Clyde Breen, Mr. Worsham's business associate, were seriously injured about 8:45 Tuesday evening when Mr. Worsham's automobile crashed into the rear of a stalled truck on Highway No. 129 about five miles north of Brownwood. Mr. Worsham suffered several broken ribs, an injured hip and numerous cuts and bruises about the body. The Dooley boy was the more seriously injured and attending physicians were doubtful as to his recovery. Young Dooley is believed to have suffered a fractured skull and in addition several bones were broken and he was badly cut about the face and hands by glass.

Worsham was driving toward Brownwood at the time of the accident. He said that the lights of an automobile that he met blinded him, making it impossible to see the stalled truck. Worsham said that he did not see the truck until within a few feet of it. He swerved his car to the left, avoiding crashing into it head-on. However, the crash ripped off the right side of Worsham's car. His car was practically demolished.

The truck was loaded with wheat and was stalled for lack of gasoline. Mr. Worsham said that there was no light on the rear of the truck and that the rear of the truck was on the pavement.

All Candidates Pay Assessments and Get On Official Ballot

All candidates for district, county and precinct offices have paid assessed ballot fees and their names will appear on the primary ballot, according to information given out this week by T. R. Havins, acting chairman of the county Democratic party organization. There will be a total of 106 names on this year's ballot, these including candidates for state, district, county and precinct offices.

The ballot was turned over to printers this week and will be in the hands of the county clerk not later than July 8, the first day for absentee voting.

E. E. (Pat) Murphy Speaks Here Saturday

E. E. (Pat) Murphy of San Angelo will bring his campaign for nomination to Congress from the 21st Congressional District to Brown County this week with two speaking engagements in the county during the week-end. Mr. Murphy will speak at Bangs Friday night at 8 o'clock, and in Brownwood, at the court house, Saturday afternoon, June 30, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Murphy is making an active campaign for the office, and has attracted much attention by his vigorous method of campaigning. He has spoken in every county in the district.

Four years ago Mr. Murphy was a candidate for congress from the district then including Tom Green County, and lacked only some 2,900 votes of being elected. He is one of four candidates for the new office.

FORMER RANGERS TO HOLD CONVENTION IN BROWNWOOD IN JULY

The Texas Ex-Rangers Association will hold its annual convention in Brownwood on July 19-21, according to announcements made by George Black, major of the association, and the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

The former Rangers will be entertained at city park near the city pump station and an elaborate program is being arranged for the old timers. Detailed plans for the convention will be announced within a few days.

The 1933 convention was held in Comanche with about 100 old time Rangers in attendance. Brownwood at that time asked for this year's convention.

Many People Using Government Canning Plant In Brownwood

The county canning plant, under the supervision of Miss Myrtle Gaines, of Bangs, is running full blast this week. The plant is located at 109 East Broadway in Brownwood.

Those who have fruit, vegetables or meat to can are bringing their produce to the plant daily. About one dozen people are kept busy daily at the plant.

The canning plant is a government project and is operated as a relief unit. Those bringing produce to be canned receive about half of the canned product, the remainder going to the county relief association for distribution to the needy. The government furnishes the cans and labor, the producer being required to furnish the foodstuff to be canned.

Anyone having vegetables or meat to be canned should first apply to the canning plant for booking, as the plant has several days work on hand, with no facilities for holding material until it can be canned.

Sugar beet shipments from Utah in 1933 were 10 per cent higher than those of 1932.

City Ordinance Would Regulate Milk Industry

Board Would Be Created To Establish Minimum Price Of Milk Sold In Brownwood.

An ordinance regulating the milk industry in Brownwood was passed on its first reading by City Council at that body's regular meeting Tuesday of this week. Action was taken after a group of Brown county dairymen appeared before Council asking that their industry be regulated. A code of fair practice for dairymen was read by A. D. Murphy, spokesman for the dairy group, who said that a majority of Brown county dairymen had approved the code. The code provides for the creating of a board to set the minimum price of milk. The dairymen, distributors, producer-distributors and consumers will be represented on this board.

The ordinance as passed Tuesday night requires that milk producers and milk distributors obtain permits from the city before engaging in the production of milk and milk products; that distributors and retailers must display the permit number on their vehicles and places of business; that permits may be revoked by the city health officer upon violation of any terms of the code or ordinance; and that milk handlers must show a certificate of compliance with the milk code before a permit is issued.

It is stated in the ordinance that it does not repeal any former milk ordinance, but is cumulative thereto. Dairymen present stated that such a code and ordinance plan had been tried in a number of Texas cities with success.

Central Methodists Plan Joint Recital

A joint recital will be presented at Central Methodist church next Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock at which time Amos Caldwell will be presented in piano and Miss Novayne Price in recidians.

The entertainment is under the direction of the Missionary committee and no charge will be made for admission. Everybody is invited to attend.

Equalization Board Completes Its Work

The Brown county commissioners court concluded its work as a board of equalization this week.

This work was not as heavy as in past years, this being due to the fact that most property owners of the county seemingly are more satisfied with renditions of the past year. The court made extensive changes in renditions in 1933.

Baxter Is Named County Adjuster

W. E. Baxter, mayor of Santa Anna, has been appointed adjustment assistant for Brown County, to work under the direct supervision of County Agent C. W. Lehmburg, it was announced this week.

Mr. Baxter will assume his duties July 1, with offices in the county agent's office, and will have charge of adjusting allotments on all Brown county farms.

Charge For Holding Parcels Increased

Demurrage charges for parcel post packages and C. O. D. parcels will be made after 15 days, beginning July 1, it was announced this week by George Kidd, Brownwood postmaster. Formerly parcels had been held for 30 days without demurrage charge.

SEVERAL BEAUTIFUL FLOWER FAVORITES OF TEXAS TRACE ORIGIN TO MEXICO GARDENS

(From The Houston Post)

Some of the most beautiful flowering plants known to our gardens trace their origin to Mexico and Central America, of which the most common are Bougainvillea and poinsettias. The former was first introduced by discovery by Bougainville, a Frenchman and the latter by Dr. Poinsett, of South Carolina, both being botanists enjoying research work among plants. It is nearly so well known to our gardens here but coming from the same source is a plant of many names catalogued as Tithonia but called Mexican sun flower, Aztec sunflower or gold of Incas. It is an annual growing from seed much like our ordinary sun flower (helianthus) with tall, heavy and coarse growth, with flowers more like a single zinnia of dazzling orange scarlet. It is far more resistant in texture and petalage than the sun flower and a profuse bloomer during the summer and fall months. Being of much value as a cut flower and considered one to most gardens, seed can be sown now at least two feet apart in any rich garden soil, with the plants enjoying a rapid growth to a height of six or eight feet, when stems will appear as the plant matures. Being of tall growth it is especially useful for a shield back ground with considerable decorative effect similar to cosmos which bloom it somewhat resembles.

Being very easy to grow, almost without cultural attention, it is suggested where such plants are indicated with considerable interest as a novelty in any garden.

Prune Poinsettias.

Poinsettias that grow to several feet in height during warm weather should be pruned back as much as twice during a season. No matter how tall a plant may have grown it should be cut back now not less than two feet, making more desirable bushy shape in doing rather than allowing tall trailing canes to proceed. The bush shape in bloom around December is far more attractive than tall canes with less bloom profusion.

All such plants should be stimulated with liquid fertilizer as often as watering is necessary, making a well formed bush at bloom period, not more than four feet tall but well branched by pruning a far more spectacle than when allowed to grow naturally to a great height.

Cuttings can be rooted now in a cool place in sand or loamy soil, preferring hard wood instead of sappy growth. New plants are easy in this way especially useful in potted up in six inch pots, a bushy habit made by pruning.

Sink pots in the soil as though they were growing in beds to maintain moisture without too much evaporation and they will bloom and become of use during Christmas for decorations.

Double Red Variety.

Most poinsettias as grown here are of the single array of bract formation, but the double variety of a darker red is advised as an improvement with twice the number of red bracts in the flower and center of small yellow foliots. Other varieties are known as Oak Leaf, and a pink variety that has an advantage of earlier blooming, also the blotched-with-white variety, Henrietta Ecke which is very double, St. Louis and Hollywood. These are comparatively new introductions now offered for growing in pots or bedded in home gardens, all with easy treatment in summer, but requiring some protection around the roots in winter in this climate.

Bougainvillea, sometimes difficult to withstand cold winters in this climate are of two varieties—Crimson Lake and the lavender-colored Sanderiana. Unless well protected in winter they should be grown principally in the conservatory or sun room, trained to a trellis and planted in tubs, crocks or wooden boxes. In this way they will continue year after year without loss of foliage to an extensive area with frequent bloom during warm periods.

The Crimson Lake variety has clusters of paper-like bells, beautifully effective in a setting of emerald green foliage, giving to any in-door situation an air of tropical elegance unequalled by any other in-door vine.

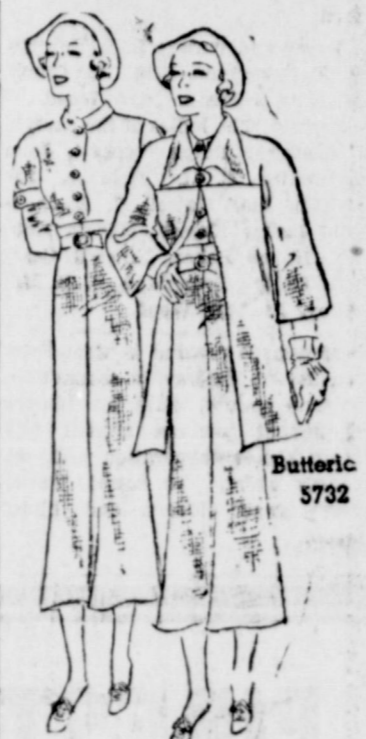

The Sanderiana variety will bloom from a small plant, but if the in-door conditions are maintained humid during summer the growth will become very rapid with profusion of lavender bloom.

Philodendron Popular.

Another in-door vine that will grow well over windows indoors yet without bloom, is Philodendron or Devil's Ivy, and sometimes called the Wonder Vine. With loamy soil in pot or window box it will grow rapidly and is useful for a curtain decoration of bright green, responding very freely to liquid fertilizer during warm weather. It will grow where little else will thrive. It is often associated with ferns and if the vine is pinned to the soil at every joint as it grows it will root and more plants can be made, or it may be continued in this way with an increased root system growing several feet, and capable of being trained in mass to any effect desired.

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

You're hardly going to be able to get along this summer without a linen suit, because linen suits are so very smart. And you won't want to, because they're so very wearable. If you're going away to a summer resort you can practically live in a linen suit, and you can wear the coat over other clothes, too. If you're sticking to a job in town, you'll find a linen suit the ideal answer to what to wear on the hot days.

If you want your linen suit to town make the one pictured above in navy blue or brown linen with a handkerchief linen blouse in a contrasting color. If you want it for the country make it in white, natural or a pastel linen with the blouse in a bright contrasting shade.

This is a Butterick Pattern and may be bought at your favorite department store.

Tom Bird Erwin To Go On Trial July 2

Tom Bird Erwin, an ex-convict, is scheduled to go to trial Monday, July 2, on a grand jury indictment charging him with robbery with firearms in connection with two hijacking cases in as many filling station robberies in February. A special venire of 54 has been ordered for Erwin's trial.

Erwin was given a five year prison sentence in Brownwood several years ago after pleading guilty to robbing the First National Bank. Erwin was the state's chief witness in the trial and conviction of Capt. C. A. McNeil and others in the First National Bank robbery.

Don't Take Your Time Canning Vegetables; Speed Spells Success

If vegetable-canning is on your household program, you'll find invaluable hints in the article below—the fourth in a series of six on home-canning subjects.

BY MARY E. DAGUE

NOTHING can excel home-canned vegetables fresh from the home garden but you must keep in mind that slogan "an hour from garden to can" and work rapidly.

You must have perfect vegetables, perfect sterilization of equipment and product and be willing to take time to be meticulous in following directions if you would be successful in the canning of non-acid vegetables.

The cold-pack method which we all hailed as an improvement over the old-fashioned open-kettle has been replaced by the hot-pack to give the best results. Vegetables are pre-cooked a few minutes before packing in jars and they are packed hot. This pre-cooking not only shrinks the vegetable but it makes for a uniform temperature throughout the can. Dense mixtures packed cold in jars are quite impossible to heat to the center of the can by ordinary methods of canning. Consequently this food is not heated to a temperature high enough to destroy all living organisms and spoilage is certain to occur. Hence all these warnings about non-acid vegetables.

Steps in Preparing.

To prepare vegetables for canning, they are first washed and thoroughly cleaned. They are then prepared as for immediate use, water is added to cover them and they are heated to the boiling point and cooked about three minutes. Lemon juice is stirred into the vegetable and then, with a cup, the hot mixture is dipped into hot, sterilized jars, rubbers and covers adjusted and the product is ready for the final processing period. Glass jars are half sealed before processing but tin cans are completely sealed before putting in the canner.

Lemon juice is not added if non-acid vegetables are canned by the pressure method. If you want to invest in a pressure cooker you will find it a paying investment because the cooker can be used for many cooking purposes in addition to canning. The government Bureau of Home Economics advises that such vegetables as corn, beans and peas and asparagus be canned only by the pressure method. No other method will develop a temperature high enough to insure destruction of harmful bacteria and spores in these vegetables.

For Corn.

Choose corn which is young and tender. "In the milk" the grower calls it. Be sure that it is not allowed to heat in the husk after gathering.

Cut corn from cob, add boiling water to cover and bring to boiling point. Boil three minutes and stir in 2 teaspoons lemon juice for each pint of corn. Fill prepared jars to within one-half inch from the top. Add 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon sugar to each pint jar, half seal and process 2 1-2 hours in hot-water bath canner or for 80 minutes at 15 pounds pressure in steam pressure cooker.

Remove from hot water at the end of processing period and finish sealing. Cool quickly. In the pressure cooker turn out heat under cooker at the end of the processing period and let stand until gauge has reached zero. Then remove cans and finish sealing.

Beans (Green)

Wash beans and remove strings and ends just as you would for cooking for the table. Cut into diamonds or leave tiny ones whole. Put into boiling water to cover and boil hard for five minutes. Pack loosely in hot jars, adding water in which they were cooked to cover. Stir in 1 teaspoon lemon juice and add 1-2 teaspoon salt to each pint jar. Half seal. Process in hot-water bath 1 1-2 hours. Process 40 minutes at 15 pounds pressure in steam pressure cooker.

Use only young, tender and fresh beans. Shell and wash. Cook in boiling water to cover for five minutes. Stir in 1 teaspoon lemon juice for each pint and pack loosely in jars. Add water in which they were cooked to cover. Add 1-2 teaspoon salt to each, half seal and process in hot-water bath two hours. Process in steam pressure cooker at 15 pounds pressure for one hour.

Beets.

Can a few jars of small beets known as "baby beets" for special occasions. They require no dicing or slicing and are most delicious and attractive for serving. Larger beets should be diced or cut in quarters as necessary ready for serving.

Wash beets thoroughly using a vegetable brush. Cut off tops leaving about two inches of stem. Take care not to break the skin nor cut the long straight "tap" root. Drop into a kettle of boiling water and boil 15 or 20 minutes. Dip into cold water and slip off skins. Pack in hot sterilized jars, adding 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar and 1 teaspoon lemon juice to each pint jar. Add enough boiling water to fill jars to within an inch of the top if you plan to use the oven and to within 1-2 inch from top for hot-water bath or steam pressure cooker. Half seal and process two hours in pre-heated oven at 275 degrees F., 1 1-4 hours in hot water bath and 40 minutes in pressure cooker at 15 pounds pressure.

Green of All Kinds.

Wash greens thoroughly. Steam or cook in water which clings to leaves until wilted. Pack loosely in jars, adding water in which they were cooked to cover. Be sure to pack greens loosely and add plenty of water. The rule is half as much water by weight. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 1-2 teaspoon salt to each pint, half seal and process 2 hours in hot-water bath or 1 hour at 15 pounds pressure in steam pressure cooker.

If you can in quart jars increase the time for corn 1 hour and for all other vegetables 1-2 hour.

Remember, too, that you do not need to add lemon juice if you are canning by steam pressure.

NEXT: Tomato Canning.

DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

DULIN CLUB

The Women's Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, June 13. Miss Mayesie Malone, home demonstration agent, was present.

The house was called to order about two-thirty p. m. There was several interesting talks given by the members on the following subjects: The greatest joy of a hostess; The hardest thing about being a hostess; Making entertaining a joy; The art of being a gracious hostess, and the charming guest.

After the talk was made Miss Malone gave a demonstration on making cold drinks. Four different kinds of drinks were made and served. She also gave each one present several different kinds of recipes for making cold drinks.

There were ten members present. The next meeting will be June 27. Everyone is invited to attend.

UNION GROVE CLUB

The Union Grove Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting June 12, at the club house. Business meeting was conducted and a splendid program was rendered on being a hostess.

Then we had the demonstration in making ice cream by Miss Mayesie Malone, county home demonstration agent, and ice cream and cake were served to thirty people.

Lyric Will Hold Bathing Beauty Contest July 3

The contest is limited to 30 little girls of 3, 4, 5 and 6 years of age. Application for entrance must be made before 6 p. m. Friday, June 29th, to Mrs. Lon L. Smith, who has charge of rehearsals and staging of the contest. The Lyric Theatre management will have charge of the judging and awarding of prizes. The first prize is a little silver loving cup, engraved and second prize will be a season ticket to Lakewood swimming pool. The applause of the audience will decide the winners.

My Beauty Hint

By PATRICIA FARR (Screen Actress)

Swimming is one of the best of all exercises. If you have any cares you can forget them in an invigorating dip in ocean or pool followed by a sun bath. This will tone up your nerves.

The contest will be staged Tuesday night in addition to the regular picture program. The feature picture will be a Paramount production entitled, "Shoot the Works" starring Jack Oakie, Dorothy Dell and radio's famous old maestro, Ben Bernie and his orchestra. Usual prices will prevail.

Ten Prisoners Are Taken To Huntsville

Ten prisoners were taken to the state penitentiary at Huntsville from the Brown county jail Sunday morning by "Uncle Bud" Russell, veteran penitentiary agent. Twelve men were being held in jail here awaiting the trip to Huntsville but only the ten were ready to go. The other two have appealed their cases and are awaiting action by the higher courts.

Those taken include Andy Page, under five year burglary sentence; J. T. Spivey, charged with automobile theft, two years; M. J. Gunn, two years; Bill Richardson, two years; Wayne McBride, two years; Willard Barnett, two years; T. Williams, three years; Barney Hancock, three years; Elmer Page, two years and four years, all on burglary charges, and Charlie Hall, one year on a liquor charge. The latter had been under sentence or some time but his case was recently affirmed by the higher court.

Charlie Rice and H. M. Benskin, both convicted, were not taken as their cases are on appeal.

Soviet Russia automobile plants produced more than 47,900 cars in 1933.

Mason county took time last month to see how home demonstration club members had changed surplus milk into cheese. At a cheese achievement exhibit it was found that 40 women in eight months had made 5070 pounds of cottage cheese, 2216 pounds of processed cheese, and 256 pounds of American cheese.

Flames Destroy Wheat That Survived Drouth

Destruction of this tract of wheat was completed by flames, after the grain barely had survived the long drouth, with most of the able-bodied population of Clearwater, Kan., fighting futilely to halt the blaze. A strong wind sent the fire raging through a mile of the wheat before it was quelled upon reaching a highway.

PROGRESS SHOWN IN ANNUAL REPORT OF SCHOOLS IN COUNTY

The annual report to the state department of education for schools of Brown county has been completed by Superintendent P. D. Pierce and has been sent to the state superintendent of schools. The report shows good progress by schools of the county for the 1933-1934 school year.

The report shows salaries of teachers in the county, the salary of the county superintendent, the scholastic qualifications of teachers, experience of teachers, enrollments of schools and progress attained by students of the county.

A summary of Mr. Pierce's report follows: There are 10 senior high school superintendents who draw a total salary of $11,450. The total for all, including Pierce, is $12,650.

Mr. Pierce draws a salary of $2,200 per year.

There are eight men teaching in elementary schools and 59 women, a total of 67 teachers. There are 17 men teaching in senior high schools and 15 women for a total of 32. The elementary teachers draw a total of $5,187 for the men and $37,431 for the women for a total of $42,618. The senior teachers draw $12,828 for the men and $10,518 for the women for a total of $23,346. The total for the county is 36 men and 74 women or a total of 110 teachers, the men are paid $31,665 and the women $47,979, or a total teachers salary of $79,644.

The average salary for superintendents is $1,145; elementary men teachers, $648 or a total average of $636. High school, $754 for men, $703 for the women or a total of $729 for high school teachers.

The total assessed valuation for the year was placed at $6,231,629.

Brownwood Holds Lead In County Baseball League

Brownwood continues to set the pace in the Brown County League with nine victories and only one defeat. The Joesmen came through last Sunday with a well earned 6-3 decision over the fast stepping Cross Cut outfit in a game played at Cross Cut, Brooksmith, the second place team, kept pace with the loop leaders by shading Zephyr, 8 to 5. The last place Fry team came through with a ten-inning, 16 to 13 decision at the expense of the Woodland Heights boys.

Brownwood invades Fry Sunday for a fling at the oil field lads who have won their last two games, defeating Winchell and Woodland Heights.

Cross Cut invades Brooksmith Sunday and Woodland Heights goes to Winchell.

The Early High team has disbanded and indications are that no other team will replace Early. The Early boys failed to show up at Winchell last Sunday.

The value of hegarl as a silage crop and the trench silo as a storehouse has been demonstrated in Comal county. In a demonstration with the county agent, one man made beef calves weigh 29 pounds more per head on an ensilage-cottonseed meal ration than a neighbor feeding similar calves do on a bundle hegarl-cottonseed meal ration.

23-Foot Bloom Of Century Plant Is Attracting Notice

Mrs. W. T. Martin, of the Brooksmith community, has a century plant in full bloom which has attracted many visitors during the past week or two.

The century plant is a thing of beauty when in full bloom. It is now 23 feet in height and has 22 limbs on which there are blooms. Before the plant began blooming it was only a few feet in height but grew rapidly after starting to bloom. The plant sprang upwards at the rate of about six inches daily.

Mrs. Martin estimates that her plant is about 15 years old. She has owned it for ten years and her mother had it in her possession several years. The plant was brought to the Brooksmith community from New Mexico.

According to tradition, a century plant blooms only once in a lifetime, dying shortly after it blooms. Farm record keeping has taken a fresh start in Texas because farmers have had to sweat for a year piecing together past records of farm production. The new AAA farm record book is in great demand. In Shelby county 45 community demonstrators are keeping the book and holding monthly meetings with neighbors to encourage and help them in record keeping.

A farmers' co-operative of Minnville, Ore., will distribute gasoline to members.

Oakland Community Plans Festivities

The Oakland community, in the extreme southern part of Brown County, has announced plans for July 4th picnic and barbecue. Festivities will open on the night of the third with a big dance.

The program for the fourth calls for candidates' speakings during the morning, two baseball games and a rodeo during the afternoon and another big dance that night. A free barbecue and basket dinner will be served at noon on July 4th, and a ball game between two negro teams, to be followed by a clash between teams of white players will afford ample entertainment for the afternoon.

horse near Cross Cut. The car was parked in a pasture and Mrs. Sterne remained in the car while her husband went after the money they believed was kept by Mrs. DeBusk and Mrs. Hounshell, according to arresting officers.

Sterne is reported to have stated that he attempted to chloroform Mrs. DeBusk and thought that he had succeeded until he started to move her and she screamed, when he beat her over the head with the butt of his pistol. Mrs. Hounshell was aroused by Mrs. DeBusk's screams and went to her aged friend's rescue only to be clubbed by the same weapon. Sterne is said to have obtained only $40 whereas he had hoped to find about $400. Mr. and Mrs. Sterne had formerly lived with Mrs. DeBusk and had heard relatives of the woman talk about money that the old lady kept at her home. Sterne is a distant relative of Mrs. DeBusk.

Following the indictment of Mr. and Mrs. Sterne late Monday, District Judge E. J. Miller set their trial for the second week in July. A special venire will be called for this trial. Prosecuting attorneys have indicated that they will seek the death penalty for Sterne. Conviction on a robbery with firearms charge carries a possible death verdict.

FRIEND OF BROWN COUNTY WOMAN IS 100 YEARS OF AGE

An interesting account of the 100th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Laura Baker of Sioux Rapids, Iowa, has been received from that city by Mrs. Maude A. Hobson of Blanket, a friend of Mrs. Baker.

The entire community gathered to celebrate the 100th birthday of the venerable Mrs. Baker, a garden party was held at the city park, flags were displayed, and fitting tributes paid Mrs. Baker. More than 200 people were served at the luncheon in her honor.

Following is a sketch of Mrs. Baker's life from the Sioux Rapids newspaper:

Sketch of Life of Mrs. Laura Baker (By Rev. J. D. Wolcott.)

To review in this brief space even the interesting facts and incidents of the one hundred years of the life of Mrs. Baker would be impossible. Her life stretches back to the year of her birth, 1834, to her birthplace at Mt. Hope, N. Y., when some of the men that we regard as ancient ones in the life of our country were alive and active. Such men as Daniel Webster, and Henry Clay, and Abraham Lincoln was a young man of twenty-five. In her one hundred years she has witnessed the development of her country from the hard pioneer to the present times. Perhaps her one hundred years of life can be accounted for when we remember that both of her grandmothers lived to be over one hundred years old. She is the daughter of Francis and Rhoda Chaplin Parker and in this family there were six girls and four boys. Mrs. Baker being the youngest child. In 1839 the father and a brother, Jackson Parker, came to Davenport, Scott county, Iowa, to find a location for the family. The father was a dyer by trade but finding that this was injuring his health decided to give up his trade and locate in Iowa.

In about a year the father returned to New York state to arrange for the long journey by covered wagon to Iowa. As an incident of some of the hardships of pioneer times the father bought two pairs of shoes in New York state for each member of the family. Then these were sent on by freight to Chicago but when the family landed in Chicago in their covered wagon the shoes had been lost or stolen. The journey from New York state to Davenport took six weeks, landing there in the early fall of 1840. The covered wagon in which they made their journey and had their home was drawn by two span of horses with a colt that followed. In preparation for the winter all four of the horses before snow fell were bitten by the rattlesnakes and died so that only the colt was left.

To show the struggle and the preparation that these pioneers made for their life, Mrs. Baker's brother, Jackson, in New York state, had some ducks which he prized highly and sold as a nest egg. Jealously guarding the money and keeping it together he came with his father to Iowa in 1829 and spent the year with him looking over the country. When his father went back Jackson stayed the year working, finally investing his duck money in Iowa land. He lived all his life in Scott county, accumulating considerable property by the time he died.

Father to California in 1849. The hardships of this pioneer life living in log cabins with only meager comforts took its toll, especially of the mother. Mrs. Baker's mother only lived two years after coming to Iowa, dying when Mrs. Baker was 8 years of age. Her father, Francis Parker, struggling to provide for his family, made several trips during the gold rush to California, beginning in 1849. Then, in 1869, having an interest in a silver mine in New Mexico, he made a trip horseback, carrying the proceeds of his investment, camping out in the desert as was his custom, with the ground for his bed and his blanket and the sky overhead, he was murdered, probably by Mexicans or Indians, near Albuquerque, New Mexico. His body was found and buried by some friendly Indians.

Lamps Were an Innovation

Another picture of their pioneer life will be had when we look in on their log cabins, with the large open fireplaces and few cooking utensils. When the first flat iron was brought to their home it was a special object of observation. Then the neighbors borrowed it and it went the rounds doing the ironing of the neighborhood. Now, of course, the homes were lighted with tallow candles until about the year of 1850 or 1851 when her brother brought back from Davenport the first kerosene lamp, then known as a coal oil lamp. Then for several days the lamp was on display and all the neighbors came to see it. After several days it was lighted for the first time. Some of the neighbors would not come into the house where the lamp was lighted because they were fearful of an explosion. Tramps were numerous and their log cabins had to be guarded day and night. Once the family left for all day locking their cabin as best they could only to discover when they returned at night that their house had been ransacked and everything to eat had been consumed except a dish of raspberries in plain sight on the kitchen table. Apparently the tramps thought this dish contained poison for them.

Ice Cream Tasted First Time

Mrs. Baker secured her education in the one room log cabin school. They lived close to the Indian trail and were in constant danger of the depredations of the Indians. Then following that she spent two years in what was known as a Female Academy at Davenport. During this time she lived with her aunt and one of the big days of her life was when she tasted a new concoction known as ice cream for the first time. After the death of her mother she lived with her older sisters for several years, going to the log cabin school of the neighborhood. Once in one of these log cabin schools the teacher commanded the twelve or fifteen pupils to come up at once to her corner. Then without any explanation she lowered them out of a window one at a time to the ground outside, the last one out just as a huge snake dropped from the ceiling to the floor, the teacher getting out before the snake could strike. Her sister Mary taught the school one term down near Muscatine, boarding around and getting in pay a colt, in addition to the board and room. Her father, only having one colt, but two harnesses, put the two harnesses on his colt, went down to where his daughter had accepted in pay for her term of school. They also bought a new spring wagon and the father hitched the two colts to the new wagon and so came home. One of her sisters teaching school was notified that the three directors of her school district would come on a certain day to examine her to determine her fitness as a teacher. She asked for one of her younger sisters to be present during her examination. The examination had not proceeded far until one of the directors confessed that he could not read or write and asked this younger sister to take his place and help in the simple oral examination of her older sister. Her sister Mary was teaching school in a certain district when she heard of a man who had a cow which he wanted to trade for a harness. So her father walked from Scott county carrying the harness many miles and traded it for the cow and came back after several days, leading the cow, which provided milk for the family.

Good Card Offered Fight Fans Friday

The Brownwood Athletic Club is offering fight fans of Brownwood and Brown County thirty rounds of fast glove slugging Friday night, June 29, at the Soldiers & Sailors Memorial Hall. Officers of the club announce that this show will be the first of a series of weekly fight cards to be held in Brownwood.

This week's card features two fast stepping lightweights, Lou (Butcher) Beard, of Houston, and Santos Delgado, of Fort Worth. These two lightweights are well up in the list of the first ten lightweights pastiming in Texas. Beard appeared here twice last year and made impressive showings. The fight promoters have booked an excellent supporting card for Friday evening. Gus Campbell, welterweight champion of the south and Cuba, will tangle with Joe Flores, of San Angelo, in an eight round semi-final. The popular Sidney Hunter, of Comanche, meets Olin Bell, of Mansfield, in

Frightened at Mirror

During the time that she lived with her aunt in Davenport when she was going to school occurred this incident which is an index of the times in which she lived. A boy from a very poor family came over to her aunt's home to borrow a mop. Her aunt at that time was using it and told the boy to come back in about a half hour when she would be through with it. The boy did not come back and so the aunt took the mop over to the neighbor and meeting the boy asked him why he did not come over. The boy said, "I saw the Devil over your house." The aunt was puzzled as to what had happened to the boy and upon quizzing him discovered that he had looked into a mirror for the first time and mistook his reflection for the evil one himself.

Mad Killer Sobs Story of Crime

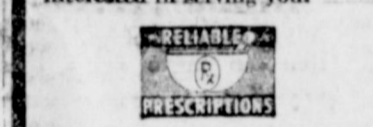

"Dear Dad: I've killed mother and Bob. I am going to tell the police." This was the tragic telegram, unsent, found in a coat pocket of Louis R. Payne, 20-year-old Los Angeles youth, addressed to his father, L. F. Payne, St. Louis utility executive. The slayer is shown here in Los Angeles county jail, in hysterical frenzy, as he told of hacking his mother and brother to death with an ax.

a special six rounder. Kidd R. Talley, young Brownwood welter weight, mixes with Albert Lee, of Zephyr, in another six rounder.

Old Southern Staple Cotton cultivation in the South began about 1621.
