People who prayed for a change got their wish in a big way in Tuesday's election returns. Ronald Reagan not only was elected but by a landslide, which can be interpreted as an emphatic endorsement of the traditional principles on which our nation attained its greatness.

Further endorsement of traditional Americanism is seen in the swing-over to a Republican majority in the Senate and an increase of GOP representation in the House.

When the chips were down Americans applied their good judgment and rejected the Administration's big government idea whereby it was becoming more the master than the servant, and also the liberal spending idea which was eroding the economic system.

There were other issues as well. Generally speaking, the majority was fed up on other trends in American life. They objected to crime in the streets and the laws which scrupulously protect the rights of criminals while being unconcerned about the victims of crime. They deplored the moral laxity which tolerates the violations of God's law as acceptable behavior, which is the real source of graft and corruption and the reason why so little is done to improve the situation.

As most of us are aware, the campaign was waged on issues of inflation, unemployment, deficit spending, energy, national security, etc., but deep down in voters' hearts there was an awareness that America's ills were more basic, a departure from the principles of our forefathers. Millions of people who voted Tuesday had such problems in mind. They were voting conscience as well as pocketbook. They were asking for a change of spiritual and moral values as well as the other policies. They were hoping that our new president will help to make this a better country under God.

As Tuesday night's election reports poured in, it had to occur to millions of Americans that they have a great system and a great nation. Despite all the bitterness of the campaign, the process of change-over from one leader to another was calm, in sharp contrast to the violent upheaval seen in so many other countries. Our candidates took their victories or defeats in stride, with a minimum of gloating or lamenting.

President Carter is due special praise for his attitude. He not only conceded defeat as soon as it was apparent, but extended his congratulations and offered his personal help through the transition period. The election has been an occasion for us to be proud of our country.

Some of the comment Tuesday referred to the election as the beginning of a new era, a departure from the past half century. But it seems more proper to regard it as a return of traditional values. This is not to belittle the technological developments that figure in our material progress, but rather to appreciate the solid principles applied by our forefathers.

We have a feeling that this attitude was implied by Reagan when he promised his utmost to justify the faith America has placed in him. Another cheering thought was putting the country back to work. Willingness to work along with a sound basic philosophy makes a winning combination.

Area Staked for Muenster Lake

The first step toward construction of Muenster's lake has been finished. Henry Weinzapfel, chairman of the water board, told the city council Monday night that SCS personnel have finished staking the area to be occupied by the lake and surveyors will be on the job soon to determine the acreage to be purchased from each landowner.

Weinzapfel also said that the survey and paper work and other preparations will require financing before funds from the bond issue become available, hence it is suggested that the proposed increase of water rates be adopted soon. Doing so would decrease the amount to be borrowed later and also save interest.

Also relative to city water, the council discussed drilling another well before next summer to prepare for possible heat and drought.

Work Starts on School Admin. Building

A new administration building, the final project in the Public School's improvement program is under way.

Superintendent Charles Coffey announced this week that the contract was awarded at the school board's October meeting on a low bid of $77,200. The contractor is Contemporary Life Styles, Inc., of Ardmore. Four other firms submitted bids.

Official starting date was October 22 and the finishing date is set at February 22, 1981. The structure has been staked out and part of the sand base finished. The site now awaits installation of plumbing, etc.

With an outside dimension of 48 feet 10 inches by 43 feet, the building has a floor space of approximately 2,000 square feet. Its brick exterior will be of a shade to match the nearby high school building. It will have a standing seam metal roof. Facing Seventh Street, it is located on the former football field where the south goal post was situated.

The building will have a large reception area, separated from the school board's meeting room by folding doors to make more space available if needed. Other rooms are the superintendent's office, work and storage room with a fireproof concrete vault, and restrooms.

It will be centrally heated and cooled, floors will be vinyl tile and carpet, the ceiling will be acoustical.

MR. AND MRS. RAY (TED) JACKSON

A reception Sunday, November 16 will honor Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Ted) Jackson in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. It will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Forestburg United Methodist Church, with their children as hosts, from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m.

Ray (Ted) and Laura Belle Jackson were married on November 15, 1930 in Ardmore, Okla. and now reside in Forestburg. All of their friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception.

Reagan Wins Big

Muenster voted with the winner in a big way in Tuesday's general election, favoring Reagan-Bush over Carter-Mondale by a count of 960 to 154, besides giving token votes of 7 to Clark and 8 to Anderson.

In doing so, the community had one of its biggest turnouts ever...perhaps the very largest...with a total of 1135 votes out of a possible 1538 in the two voting precincts. The 74% turnout was well above the national average of 54% as was the winner's percentage over his opponent. The margin was 72% here and 10% nationwide.

More welcome news is that the GOP broke its quarter century drought in the Congress, capturing a majority in the Senate and improving its representation in the House.

A significant point is that Muenster voted Republican in every contested race, some by a big majority. Also many did not bother to vote for the uncontested offices, including those for local offices.

Voting on the amendments was five approving and four opposing. Proposition 4, on bingo was as one sided as the president's race. Three others were very close.

In county voting Reagan received 6,750 votes (62.5%) and Carter received 3,843 (35.6%); and statewide Reagan received 2,350,522 (56%) whereas Carter got 1,740,111 (41%). Otherwise the election went to the Democrats.

Locally Tiller defeated Fitts for sheriff. In State Senate District 22 Glasgow defeated Brummett, however Brummett led in Cooke County. Statewide and in the county Temple and Nugent won the Railroad Commissioner races. Also statewide and in the county Wallace and Ray won the two supreme court races.

Combined votes of the two local precincts in contested races were as follows. For president: Reagan 960, Carter 154, Clark 7, Anderson 8. For Railroad Commissioner: Grover 663, Temple 287. For Railroad Commissioner: Blanchard 503, Nugent 492. Justice Supreme Court: Brady 579, Wallace 354. Justice Supreme Court: Garwood 629, Ray 302. Senator, Dist. 22: Brummett 805, Glasgow 281. Sheriff: Fitts 560, Tiller 516.

The Constitutional Amendments: No. 1: For 496, Against 503. No. 2: For 431, Against 363. No. 3: For 473, Against 476. No. 4: For 937, Against 128. No. 5: For 418, Against 530. No. 6: For 686, Against 254. No. 7: For 509, Against 452. No. 8: For 345, Against 501. No. 9: For 432, Against 428.

Seven of the nine proposed amendments received statewide approval. The two rejected were No. 2, authorizing appeals of pre-trial rulings before the trial begins, and No. 5 extending the governor's control over the budget.

President-Elect Ronald Reagan

Also proposed, to be prepared for a possible emergency, is to reclaim Well No. 2 which was abandoned years ago because of hard water. The council Continued on Page 5...

Muenster VFW to Host District Meet

Muenster Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6205 and its Ladies Auxiliary will host the District I meeting to be held here Saturday and Sunday.

District I includes 22 posts from Cooke, Denton, Grayson, Fannin, Collin and Hunt Counties with approximately 6000 members.

Presiding Sunday afternoon will be Harvey Roberts, District I Commander of Denison and Betty Blaisdell, District I Auxiliary President of Lake Dallas.

Charles Hull, State Jr. Vice Commander of Houston will be guest speaker for the banquet at noon Sunday and the subsequent meeting.

Hull, a life member of Jack F. Lee Post 9187, in Houston, was elected and installed Department Junior Vice-Commander at the 60th annual state convention in El Paso in June, 1980. He served in the U.S. Infantry from December 17, 1942 to December 28, 1945, and was with the 10th Mountain Infantry Division for five months in the European Theater. He was wounded in action in the North Apennines on April 14, 1945 and spent 8½ months in four different hospitals.

He holds the Combat Infantryman's Badge, two Bronze Stars, Purple Heart, American Campaign and EAME Campaign Medals and WWII Victory Medal.

The banquet at which he will speak, will be held at noon Sunday in the VFW Hall and the meetings will follow at 2:30 p.m. in the Post Home. All VFW and Auxiliary members are urged to attend these events.

MHS Juniors Champs of 8-A

The Little Monsters of Muenster Junior High are the football champs of District 8-A. They cinched the title last week in a decisive 36-20 romp over the Panther Kittens of Saint Jo, which gives them a perfect record of 4-0.

Still awaiting them is the season finale with Alford which does not change the standing even in case of a loss. If Alford wins it will still have more losses than Muenster, and all of the others have been defeated by Muenster.

The Little Monsters dominated both offensively and defensively in their game with Saint Jo. Besides moving the ball consistently they stopped the Panthers until reserves were sent in near the end, when Saint Jo scored three times on four plays.

First Hornet score came on the second play of the game with Ronnie Fisher going 58 yards for the TD. His run for PAT was good for 2 more.

The next score came on the next possession as a 60 yard drive ended with Fisher's 30 yard run.

Third touchdown was made by Neil Flusche, a 5 yard plunge at the end of a long drive. David Winn followed over for extra points.

Early in the fourth quarter Fisher got loose for a 40 yard scoring run and Doyle Lewis made extra points.

And finally Kevin Switzer went over from the 1 after a 40 yard drive.

Cool and Dry

The weather is still beautiful...comfortably cool and dry. Moisture of the week has been zero leaving the totals at 5.42 for October and 24.11 for the year.

Temperature officially has dropped to 33 but patches of frost have been reported. Low and high readings are recorded as follows by Steve Moster. Oct. 30, 33 and 67; Oct. 31, 43 and 78; Nov. 1, 48 and 80; Nov. 2, 50 and 80; Nov. 3, 48 and 80; Nov. 4, 50 and 75; Nov. 5, 52 and 78.

Picnic Plans Shaping Up

Plans are shaping for an eventful Thanksgiving picnic sponsored by Sacred Heart Parish at the Community Center on Thanksgiving Day.

A report this week by PR chairman Ethel Hesse reveals that it will begin with a Thanksgiving feast of turkey and dressing, with sausage, mashed potatoes, gravy, sauerkraut, cranberry sauce, green beans, hot rolls, butter, pie, coffee and tea. Serving time is 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tickets at $3.50 and $2.00 are available at Fischer's, Hofbauer's and Modern Floors.

Another featured event is a big auction at which people are invited to donate items no longer needed by themselves but still useful. Also welcome, of course, are new items of every day use. Donations to this popular feature can be arranged by contacting Walter Grewing, Jim Vogel or Roy Klement.

Other attractions appealing to all ages are games, bingo, cake walk, country store, fish pond, arts and crafts and the Cowboys on TV in the meeting room.

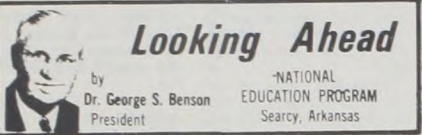

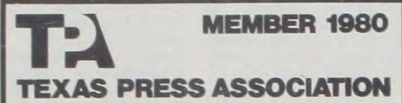

Committee persons to be contacted are Peggy

PRODUCTIVITY IS BASIC
 The state of the economy is on most everyone's mind these days. Inflation is raging at over 12 percent, down from 18 percent early this year. Unemployment is approaching 8 percent of the labor force. Huge industries are in serious trouble: automobile, rubber, steel and others. Profits are down for most industries; oil and electrical utilities are prospering as are commercial banks, but others are having problems.

Perhaps most meaningful of all economic statistics are those dealing with productivity. Simply stated productivity measures how much goods and services are produced per hour of paid work time.

What concerns American business and political leaders is the decrease in productivity, that ratio of output to input. After World War I the United States became the world leader in productivity. Per employee man-hour, we produced two to three times as much as other major industrial nations — and we prospered mightily.

In the post World War II period, from 1948 to 1955 the average growth in productivity was 3.4 percent. For the next decade it slipped to 3.1 percent annually. From 1965 to 1973 it dropped further to an average of 2.3 percent a year. From 1973 to 1977 it was only 1 percent; since then it has been a negligible figure essentially there is no growth in productivity now. In fact, we now have a slightly negative rate.

For the period 1960-1977, compared with the ten largest industrial democracies, the U.S. ranked lowest in productivity growth.

Why should we care about productivity? Because the only way we can create a bigger "pie," so there will be a larger "piece" for each individual — the only way our real standard of living can improve — is by increasing productivity.

Let's see if we can't explain what we mean by productivity, and at the same time illustrate how wage increases are made possible by increased productivity.

Let's assume a worker is employed in a small factory making parts for automobiles. He operates a machine which forms dashboards from plastic and turns them out at the rate of ten an hour.

Now let's further assume he increases his productivity from 10 to 15 dashboards an hour and the company rewards his zeal with a pay increase from $9 to $12 an hour. Is this economically sound or could this be inflationary? Let's see.

At $9 an hour he was producing 10 dashboards at a unit labor cost of 90 cents each. When he increased his output to 15, even though his wage increased by 33 percent, his unit labor cost decreased to 80 cents. Clearly the increased productivity made possible the wage increase, and the end product could be sold for less, making it more competitive and increasing sales.

Similar increases in productivity all around throughout the economy would increase the standard of living and the real income of everyone.

Unfortunately, what has been happening in much of American industry is that wages have been increasing while productivity has been decreasing. In 1979, private-business productivity decreased by 9 percent while unit labor costs increased 10.4 percent. The result has been inflation, higher taxes, unemployment, and a lower standard of living for all.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—House Speaker Bill Clayton, cleared last week of Brilab charges of influence peddling, has indicated he will run again for Speaker.

Clayton said he will make a formal announcement of his candidacy sometime this week. Already the first person to serve an unprecedented three terms as Speaker, Clayton seeks a fourth term against State Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas.

A third candidate, Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, is a top member of Clayton's conservative team in the Legislature. Lewis held the faction together throughout Clayton's legal woes, and has said he will step down if Clayton runs. Observers are waiting now for Lewis to announce otherwise — or withdraw for Clayton.

"I am running. In fact, I have already recontacted enough House members. We already have the election assured," Clayton said last week.

The Lewis Factor

While Clayton struggled with Brilab, his legislative supporters rallied around the candidacy of Lewis, who did a superb job of preventing a splintering into lesser factions. Lewis reportedly maintained some 90-plus votes (76 votes needed to win), and stood stronger than other announced candidates who

Express Your Opinion

The Muenster Enterprise extends an invitation to its readers to express their opinions on matters of local, state or national importance and thus join in the service of communicating the importance of these issues to people of the area through letters to the editor.

The Enterprise reserves the right to refuse publication of any letters which may be viewed as slanderous, inflammatory or in poor taste.

Letters must be signed. Any letter submitted for publication will be turned down if unsigned.

The name of the person submitting the letter will be published along with the let-eventually pledged to him or Bryant.

A fourth candidate, Craig Washington, D-Houston, was named speaker pro tem by Clayton last week. Washington, a black who is generally graded among the ablest lawmakers, is a lawyer who aided Clayton's Brilab defense.

Should Clayton win when the Legislature convenes in January, he will owe much to the pair, particularly Lewis. Lewis will no doubt receive a committee plum for his stewardship, unless he challenges Clayton. The conservative lobby reportedly wanted Lewis to continue his bid, but may now have decided Clayton is not as tainted by Brilab as was expected.

The Bryant Factor

Bryant is generally credited with a solid backing of about 35 votes. An outspoken and gutsy legislator, his hopes may be diminishing. After all, how could he defeat his nemesis Clayton if he could not overcome the surrogate Lewis?

For the first time, serious consideration of a replacement Speaker candidate for Bryant is being heard on the liberal side. If Bryant's strength has peaked, his cause may be better served if the leadership role is given to a more moderate candidate, such as Ron Coleman, D-El Paso, or Lynn Nabors, D-Brownwood.

And, too, many members are tired of the age-old feud between Clayton and Bryant which has bloodied the House on more than one occasion. Although Clayton and Bryant are the most skillful of legislators, fresh faces might be welcome in either camp. Clayton is touted now as a shoo-in, but anything can happen in the next two-and-a-half months.

More Medicaid Flix
 Board members of the Texas Department of Human Resources last week hired a private consulting firm to review bids submitted by two insurance companies for a $2 billion state Medicaid contract.

The $100,000 consulting agreement with Touche-Ross Co. will apply to bids by Bradford National Corp., which was originally awarded the Medicaid program, and National Heritage Co., owned by Dallas multi-millionaire H. Ross Perot.

Perot has filed suit to prevent a final contract signing for Bradford in an attempt to keep the contract, now administered by National.

Special Election

Governor Bill Clements called for a special election Nov. 22 to fill the seat of State Rep. Mike Ezzell of Snyder, who resigned last month to serve on a health services state agency.

The special election has ired taxpayers in that district, since the winner will serve only until Jan. 12, when the Legislature convenes. At that time Representative-elect Larry Don Shaw will take his seat in the House, and the special election winner will go home.

Clements' move is seen as a ploy to give some Republican a chance to build name identification for a future race against Democrats. Some locals feel it's a big waste of tax money.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
 U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
 142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
 WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

It seems the nightmare of double digit inflation just won't go away. After a brief summer respite during which time inflation increased below the double digit rate, but still faster than was considered acceptable just a few short years ago, the double digits have raised their heads once again. The fact that the summer inflation rate was seen as an improvement indicates just how bad the situation has become.

But even that hollow victory was drowned out last week with the word that consumer prices jumped 1 percent in September, stretching the reign of double digit inflation throughout the year and leaving us with a cumulative increase of more than 12 percent.

Practically every major component of the Consumer Price Index rose at a faster pace in September than August.

And if this same pace of inflation continues for the rest of the year, the annual rate will approach the 13 percent mark — about the same rate the American public was burdened with last year.

Housing prices continued to rise, used car prices skyrocketed and food prices continued their inexorable march upward, jumping 2 percent in September alone.

And the Consumer Price Index jumped this high even though the rise in energy prices was the smallest increase of all, with gasoline prices actually declining as a result of a partial freeing of the marketplace that has allowed supply to catch up somewhat with demand.

Yet, we still see the Administration blaming energy for inflation, and we don't hear a peep about the true causes which continue to go on and on.

We still are faced with the Administration's proposed federal budget that continues to include bulging deficits, the key culprit fueling the fires of inflation.

We still see no signs of freeing businesses from burdensome and unnecessary regulation, which continues to add to the price of everything the consumer puts his hands on.

We still see no creative tax proposals designed to spur productivity, the lack of which not only causes higher prices but also stimulates the loss of American jobs to our increasingly productive foreign competitors.

The battle against inflation has been a wearying one and it is hard to imagine that just a few years ago people were alarmed at a 6 percent inflation rate.

Although the majority of Congress lacked the courage to vote on a budget that will contain yet another deficit before the upcoming election, it's a subject that will have to be tackled when Congress returns this fall for a wasteful lameduck session.

Yes, the battle sometimes seems rather hopeless, but once again I plan to try to trim the excessive spending, regulation and taxation that have burdened this country for so long.

I'm sure the majority of the American public is ready to tackle this problem, let's hope their government is.

Letters...

To the Editor:
In last week's paper there was a different version of the 23rd Psalm which was altered quite a lot from God's version. In the King James version of the Holy Bible, the 23rd Psalm reads as follows:
The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

I believe the Bible as it is written. What do you believe?

US Will Pay for Sonic Boom Damage

It's possible to receive reimbursement from the US Government for damages caused by sonic booms. That's the message passed on by Roger Taylor this week after conferring with a representative of the Air Force.

He said that sonic booms in this area are being caused by F-16 planes flown by Air Force pilots out of General Dynamics in Fort Worth. He further said that a flying speed which causes the boom is legal at the proper altitude, which apparently applies to the local problem. However the Air Force is financially responsible for damages caused by such booms.

Additionally, the Air Force has offered to conduct an open meeting to explain what is happening and what means can be taken to file a claim for sonic boom damages. Taylor said that Air Force personnel have been recording sounds for analysis. They assured him that other flight routes are being considered as a way to eliminate the local problem, also that any report of damage by the booms will be investigated by the Air Force.

feels that adding a bit of hard water with the regular supply is better than rationing. Another thought: the city wants to have another source available if a well fails. It was extremely lucky not to have had a failure this year.

In other business the council selected Leo Hess to serve as Mayor Pro Tem until the next election. He was appointed to the council after the resignation of Mayor Leonard Endres. Richard Grewing was named then to succeed Endres as Mayor, and now Hess is named to succeed Grewing, as Mayor Pro Tem.

An application from Muenster Telephone Corp. for renewal of its franchise was shelved. Because of the long time involved the council prefers to give it more consideration before acting.

Another request was for re-zoning an area of land in the Hillcrest addition making it available for business as well as residential construction. The council approved.

Also, Boy Scouts asked for use of the city park for a BB shooting contest combined with a session on gun safety.

SHS Kindergarten Has Special Day

The kindergarten of Sacred Heart School celebrated baptism anniversaries of Michelle Hennigan, Eddie Lamkin, Deann Bayer, Stacie Cler, Angela Hofbauer, Werner Becker and Mandy Barnhill on October 29 with a special liturgy in the Convent Chapel.

Five songs were sung by the children during Mass, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Felderhoff on the Autoharp.

After the homily, the children renewed their baptismal promises and then Father Denis called each child by name as a reminder that God called them to be his adopted children, and gave each child a white crocheted star as a remembrance of baptism.

Melissa Miller, Julia Felderhoff, Tommy Greathouse, Michelle Hennigan, Vanessa Knabe and Kody Truelsenbach led prayers of the faithful.

Martin McCoy led the Offertory procession with the lighted Christ Candle. Aaron Berres presented a shell and water from the River Jordan where Jesus was baptized. The seven children presented the little white garments which they received at their baptism.

The Eucharistic gifts were presented by April Truelsenbach, Toni Reiter and Christy Yosten.

Children's parents also attended this special liturgy which is the beginning of the Sacramental Program in Sacred Heart School.

Hornets Sting Panthers 34-14

MHS Hornets continue improving on their season and district records even though they are out of the 8-A title race. Their lop-sided 34-14 win over Saint Jo last week gives them a 2-1-1 district standing, but still trailing Era, which is 3-0-1, and Paradise, which is 3-1-0.

Era, which got its tie playing Muenster, took the lead last week by dumping Paradise. With last place Perrin the remaining obstacle, Era is heavily favored to take the trophy.

At Saint Jo, the game started with a bang as Gary Klement on the second play after kickoff broke through for a 60 yard scoring sprint. Dale Swirczynski's kick made it 7-0 with only 48 seconds expired.

TD number 2 started after Saint Jo's kick on first series. With 58 to go, the Hornets made the distance in 8 plays. Big gains were 15 free on a face mask violation 23 on Swirczynski's pass to Winn and two efforts by Monte Wimmer for 13. Swirczynski scored from the 2 on a quarterback sneak and missed his extra point kick.

After that the Panthers settled down and the teams were on even terms for a while...that is until Saint Jo partly blocked a Hornet kick for possession on the 40. A pass to Allen Corley reached the 20 and short gains advanced to the 8 when Hornet defense called a halt. On a fourth and 7 situation, the Panthers lined up for a field goal attempt but a bad snap from center spoiled the effort. When the play ended Muenster was on the 34.

From there Muenster gained a first down and got fouled up by a major penalty on the next series and had to kick. However Jeff Tempel recovered a fumble for the Hornets three plays later on the 10 yard line. Gary Klement made the distance in two plays, the second from the 9 yard line. Swirczynski's kick upped the lead to 20-0 at 2:14 in the second period.

That was followed by the biggest play of the game: 64 yards on a pass and run to Corley, who was pushed out of bounds on the 1 yard line. Hollis Moore scored from there. Joey Tompkins scored the PAT.

Only 1:39 remained in the half, but that was enough for the Hornets to sting again. John Walterscheid started the good work by recovering an on-side kick at the 49. Four plays gained 10, a pass from Swirczynski to Klement gained 32 and a pass to David Flusche from the 7 was good for the TD. Swirczynski's kick added a point. Remaining time was 8 seconds.

The second half started with an interception by Swirczynski on Saint Jo's first series, and a Hornet punt 4 plays later. But Rusty Serna recovered a fumble on the next play, giving his team a set-up on the 15. Three tries from there lost 2 yards then Swirczynski passed to Tim Schneider for a TD. The PAT kick ended Muenster's scoring at 34-7. The clock read 7:45.

Two fumbles, one recovered by Swirczynski the other by a Panther followed the next kickoff and the next four series ended in a Hornet first down and three punts.

As the fourth period started, MHS launched another drive including passes of 16 and 17 to Tim Schneider for a set up at the 2, where the Panthers did a great defensive job. Three Hornet efforts gained a yard and the fourth ended in a loss and a fumble.

After an exchange of kicks the Panthers made their best drive of the evening. It started with a screen pass to Hale plus a 15 yard face-mask penalty then screen passes to Moore and Corley for 23 and 10. Four more tries gained 10 to the 2 and Corley went over for the final score a minute and 7 seconds before the end: Tompkins added a point. The score: 34-14.

Muenster ruled the game, Especially in the rushing department where the Hornets got 214 yards whereas the Panthers ended with a net of minus 34. However, Saint Jo looked better in passing, a total of 138 whereas Muenster had 111.

Friday is Parent's Night

Friday will be Parents Night at the Muenster Hornets' football game. It's the occasion when all players will be introduced before the game with fathers and/or mothers. The time is 7:15 and kickoff time is 7:30.

Indications are that MHS will have a full size job on hand as they close out their season with Alvord's Bulldogs, who have a season standing of 5-4 and a district standing of 2-2. The figures are about equal to Muenster's, which are 3-4-2 in the season and 2-1-1 in the district. Another indication that the Bulldogs deserve respect is the 42-0 walloping they dished out to Perrin last week.

In other games last week

Muenster beat Saint Jo 34-14 and Era dumped Paradise 19-8. As a result Era leads the league with a comfortable 3-0-1, Paradise has 3-1, Muenster has 2-1-1, Alvord has 2-2, Saint Jo has 1-3 and Perrin has 0-4.

Facing a 50-50 chance in their final contest, the Hornets are aware that they can't take anything for granted. They expect a tough tussle but they are confident and determined to end the year with a .500 rating, and the district slightly better.

Their enthusiasm is shared by Coach Jerry Stinson who is delighted with their last performance. He said their spirit is tops and they keep on improving in blocking, running and passing. The same applies to rushing defense, which held the Panthers to minus yardage last week. However there's concern about pass defense which definitely needs improving.

Physically it appears that all except Bob Hamric will be well for this week. Rusty Serna got out of an ankle cast last week in time to play part time. He's expected to be near 100 percent this week.

Title hopes of the Sacred Heart Tigers faded away by a count of 24-7 before a homecoming crowd Saturday night on the SH field.

The winners, and now the all but certain district champions, the Crusaders of Tyler Gorman, whom the Tigers barely beat in last year's showdown for the top honor. All that's in the Crusaders' way now is Notre Dame of Wichita Falls, which is voted as the underdog.

Regardless of outcome, the Tigers gave a good account of themselves. They almost look even in gains, trailing 17-14 in the count of first downs and 314-308 in total yardage. The big plays made the big difference. The Crusaders got their three touchdowns on two breakaway runs and a long pass.

The visitors gave a preview of the action to come on their very first play when Marinez burst through for 17 quick yards. He and Minnick a pair of fleet footed backs, were the Crusaders standouts all evening.

Another factor figures in the Marinez performance. He did it with a brand new root canal treatment.

Arriving here with a terrific toothache complete with a swollen jaw, he made an emergency visit to Dr. Bernard Luke and came away rarin' to go.

The initial first down was followed by a punt, then an interception by Calloway at the 50 where Tyler headed goalward. Marinez ripped off 23 yards in three tries and Minnick knifed through for a 20 yard romp to the goal. Pallard added an extra point as the clock read 4:26.

Following kickoff SH made progress on a 15 yard pass to Monte Endres and a 12 yard run by Ricky Hennigan but lost possession on an interception, after which Tyler gained 26 to the Tiger 13 and fumbled. Kirk Mollenkopf recovered on the 20 and SH gained back to midfield before kicking.

On the second series later Mike Nash recovered a fumble starting Sacred Heart's only scoring drive from the Crusaders' 38. Three runs by Mollenkopf reached the 10, John Hartman gained 2, and Nash bootlegged around left end for the score. Nash also made the PAT kick to tie the score at 7-7.

With 9:27 remaining in the second period, the Crusaders had a bad pass from center and lost yardage to near the goal. However the alert kicker scrambled back and passed from the distress position. The effort ended as an incomplete pass and saved about 25 yards. Possession changed at the 35 instead of near the 10. In the closing moments the Tigers missed a final opportunity to improve their score. From the 35 an interference ruling plus two gains by Mollenkopf advanced to the 7, and four tries from there reached the 3.

Ending their next series the Crusaders had a bad pass from center and lost yardage to near the goal. However the alert kicker scrambled back and passed from the distress position. The effort ended as an incomplete pass and saved about 25 yards. Possession changed at the 35 instead of near the 10. In the closing moments the Tigers missed a final opportunity to improve their score. From the 35 an interference ruling plus two gains by Mollenkopf advanced to the 7, and four tries from there reached the 3.

Tigers Bow to Tyler Gorman

by Marinez after intermission, the Crusaders had to kick on next series and regained possession on Calloway's interception two plays later. Then from midfield they drove to the 21 where Pollard again went for a field goal. It was good. The score 10-7 at 4:26.

After kickoff the Tigers lost a fourth down gamble on second series and the Crusaders had possession on the SH 47. Good gains by Marinez and Quarterback Maloney reached first down on the 36 in spite of a major penalty and Maloney passed to Prudhowe for the distance as the quarter ended. Pollard's PAT made the score 17-7.

Penalized for clipping on kickoff return, The Tigers made their next start at the 7 and Mollenkopf reached the 19 on the next play. However, SH kicked four plays later setting the visitors back to their 36. They used three short runs by Marinez to reach the 41, where Minnick busted through the middle and accelerated to the goal. Pollard kicked another PAT. Tyler led 24-7 at 7:51 in the last period.

During the remaining time SH made two first downs before losing possession on a fourth down try. In the third series Mike Nash was hurt and Brian Herr replaced him for the remainder of the game.

Ending their next series the Crusaders had a bad pass from center and lost yardage to near the goal. However the alert kicker scrambled back and passed from the distress position. The effort ended as an incomplete pass and saved about 25 yards. Possession changed at the 35 instead of near the 10. In the closing moments the Tigers missed a final opportunity to improve their score. From the 35 an interference ruling plus two gains by Mollenkopf advanced to the 7, and four tries from there reached the 3.

Legumes Can Boost Grazing

Cool-season annual legumes such as clover planted in the fall can boost late winter and early spring grazing, says Neil Tibbets, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

When mixed with small grains or ryegrass, clover doesn't contribute much to fall and winter grazing under normal circumstances but can provide high quality grazing well into the spring season.

Legume plants will capture nitrogen for growth if they are properly inoculated. However, this does not mean that legumes will furnish the necessary nitrogen for small grains or ryegrass growing with them. Most nitrogen captured by a legume plant is used in its own growth. Once this growth and the root system dies, decomposition will release nitrogen to the soil and grasses that follow.

In a year like this when fall and early winter grazing is needed, apply nitrogen on small grains or ryegrass. Legumes planted with winter pastures will not provide enough nitrogen to produce early growth.

While legumes planted in pure stands will face less competition and have a better chance to grow and establish, they will still provide only limited fall grazing. Vetch and hubam sweetclover are proven legumes that can provide some fall grazing in pure stands. Subterranean clover at heavy seeding rates has provided some fall grazing in the Gulf Coast area. Crimson clover will provide limited fall grazing with good growing conditions, but Arrowleaf clover will rarely provide fall grazing.

Perennial legumes like alfalfa and white clover are similar to annual legumes during the year of establishment as they provide only growth.

But once established, they produce well during the cool periods of fall and spring.

Legumes can add quality to forage for grazing or hay. Better nutrition means higher calf crops and heavier weaning weights.

Plumlees Breed New Interest In Jacks and Mules

By Teresa Rainwater

Located three miles south of Muenster is a fascinating new business—Plumlee's Mammoth Jacks, owned and operated by Tim and Diana Plumlee.

Tim Plumlee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Plumlee of Gainesville, first became interested in mules and donkeys early in life when his grandfather, Bill Plumlee, owned several. It was with the sale of his jacks and mules that Tim's grandfather bought Plumlee's Dairy now operated by his parents in Gainesville.

Diana Plumlee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen of Moss Lake, has always been interested in animals and especially became interested in jacks and mules through Tim.

In the Fall of 1977, Tim went elk hunting in Colorado and saw the tremendous usefulness of the mules used there for climbing and packing in the mountains for hunters. It was at this time that he especially became interested in having a hand in producing mules. They had heard of the scarcity of jacks and in particular, the oldtime mammoth stock, and in the growing popularity of jackstock and mules.

After checking around the country, they learned that the most well-known breeder in the country, Jack Sieman, was located in Ohio. Almost on impulse, they took off only two weeks after Tim's elk hunt, went to Ohio and came back with their original jackstock, the foundation of their new venture: Cactus Black Jack and Ranger Red Neck, two beautiful registered mammoth jacks.

So—after running a dairy in partnership with his parents for three years, Tim and Diana Plumlee began to plan and develop what is now Plumlee's Mammoth Jacks.

At the time the Plumlees acquired their jacks, they already had a few mares. To produce mules, it is necessary to maintain both jacks and mares. A mule is a hybrid, a cross between a jack (male donkey) and a mare (female horse). Such mating, between a jack and a mare, produces a mule which retains the best traits of each. Depending on cross, type, size of the horse and donkey involved, different types of mules are produced—from the small pony types to the mammoth mules. The resulting mule is almost always sterile. A mule can be distinguished from a horse or donkey through a chromosome test: Horses have 64 chromosomes, donkeys have 62; mules have 63 chromosomes.

Donkeys and mules have several advantages over the horse, the Plumlees pointed out. They are known for their strength, longevity, hardiness, easy going nature, good memory, better resistance to disease, and intelligence (sometimes mistaken for stubbornness). A mule or donkey eats about half as much as a horse.

An integral part of our country's growth, the mule is a very underrated animal, doing all the hard labor, taking the jokes poked at him, and having been given the image of being a stubborn, hard-kicking, hard-to-handle beast. This is a myth. The modern mule is very intelligent, willing to work and easy to keep, with a good disposition. Tim Plumlee said a mule which is not easy to handle is the result of having been harshly treated. "They do not forget and are very loyal and gentle when treated right." He went on to say that if a mule is mistreated, he will remember, and it may be a long, long time, but eventually, he will retaliate in some way.

There has been a registry, the American Mule and Donkey Society, for donkeys and mules since 1963 founded by Betsy and Paul Hutchins of Denton, Texas. All of the Plumlee's animals are registered. A registered mule is of a registered jack and a mare of known parentage, not necessarily registered. One of their registered mules, Cactus Rose, sired by Cactus Black Jack, sold for a record price at the Fort Worth Stock show this year to Jim Henson of Farmersville, Texas. He won the World Champion Yearling at the Bishop, California 11th Annual Mule Days Celebration out of nearly 40 yearlings entered. Also winners, the Plumlee's three weanling mule colts all placed at the State Fair of Texas this year.

Twilight, seven year old daughter of the Plumlees, has their only jennet which stands about 44 inches high and is halter broke but not yet under saddle. Twilight won a 3rd place in the halter class at the State Fair of Texas with her jennet, Texas Belle, last month. She is in the process of teaching tricks to her jennet—the most impressive was to see that little donkey bring the mail from the mail box, up on the front porch and to the door. She also drinks from a cup—with Twilight holding the cup, of course!

During the State Fair this year, Twilight would work and clip the animals, clean the stalls and help her parents until sometimes 2:00 in the morning. "She has learned great responsibility with her jenny," Mrs. Plumlee said, "I am so proud of her." Twilight, a second-grader at Muenster Public School, has plans to train Texas Belle to pull a cart soon.

In September 1980, the Plumlees moved to Muenster to concentrate on breeding their jacks and producing mules. Eventually they hope to produce mammoth jennets which are very rare with less than 100 in the United States today. A mammoth jack is at least 56 inches in height with an 8 inch cannon bone; a mammoth jennet is 54 inches in height with a 7 1/2 inch cannon bone. The Plumlees will stand their jacks to outside mares for anyone interested in having a mule. Their mules are sold for show, pleasure or racing.

Racing mules have become quite popular. Tim and Diana Plumlee attended the Ruidosa Mule Races in September. In partnership with Susan and Bryan Kammerdiener of Gainesville, the Plumlees purchased a mule team at Ruidosa. The mules had pulled a chuck wagon from the Double-U Ranch at Post, Texas, to Ruidosa, New Mexico. The Kammerdieners and the Plumlees will share the mule team—each getting it one month at a time for their own use. In October, the Kammerdieners used the mule team, hitched to a wagon, to haul firewood and to carry hay out to dairy cows. The uses of the mule are endless.

Taking their work seriously, the Plumlees are members of the American Mule and Donkey Society, the American Mule Association and the Southwest Mule and Donkey Society. A day in the life of these mule makers is hardly what would be considered leisurely or uneventful. In describing a typical day, Diana Plumlee says she starts with feeding the mares and colts. Then there is always training, clipping, grooming and exercising of each animal to be done.

Paul and Betsy Hutchins of Denton, founders of the American Mule and Donkey Society and co-authors of The Modern Mule and The Donkey and Mule as a Backyard Hobby, had nothing short of praise when interviewed recently about the Plumlees. Paul Hutchins said, "They are two young people who are serious about improving the breed and revitalizing interest in the American mammoth stock." He concluded by saying, "Their concern in breeding high-quality mules is unequalled."

With that kind of commendation, along with the love and pride displayed in their work, it is no wonder that Tim and Diana Plumlee get such a kick out of their jacks and mules!

SAVING TIPS
on electric ranges

1. When using top-of-range utensils, cover tightly and cook with minimum of water. Cooking's faster, less energy's used. Food looks and tastes better, too.
2. Use flat-bottomed utensils for best contact with heating surface. Use proper size utensils. A 6" pan on an 8" heating surface wastes energy.
3. Preheat oven only when needed and only to temperature stated. Normal preheat is 10 minutes; any longer wastes energy.
4. When broiling, do not preheat. Leave door ajar... air circulation insures proper broiling.
5. Use oven fully. Fill it with foods that cook at same temperature. Freeze extras for later use.
6. Center pans in from oven sides, staggered above each other (no overlap) for best heat distribution.
7. Keep oven shut. Opening door drops temperature 25° or more; wastes energy.
8. Thaw frozen meats before cooking.
9. Do not use oven or surface heating elements for home heating.
10. Turn range off immediately when finished.

Den 1 of the cub scouts met Monday, November 3 at the ball park where the cubs enjoyed refreshments served by David Rohmer and played frisbee football. After the game, the meeting was held at the VFW hall with the opening ceremony led by James Hennigan with Marshall Smith assisting.

The scouts elected Michael Abney as denner and Rodney Knabe as assistant denner for the month of November. Each scout was asked to bring an item to contribute to the making of a first aid kit.
