Benefits of the national election are starting to show even before the changes of elected officials become effective. Apparently Washington has read the mandate of the nation and has started to lean that way in spite of a former long time opposite attitude.

For instance, by an overwhelming vote of 240-59 the House of Representatives has passed the Justice Department Appropriations Bill containing an anti-busing amendment.

The purpose of the amendment is to prohibit the Justice Department from using any of its appropriated funds to bring any action requiring forced busing of students away from their neighborhood schools. Jim Collins, author of the amendment, said "The American people are overwhelmingly against forced school busing. It is ridiculous to have tax dollars used to support agencies to promote busing."

The Senate likewise is expected to pass the appropriations bill with the amendment, after which the President is expected to sign rather than face the likelihood of having a veto overridden. After all, he should be impressed by the 4-1 House vote against his side of the measure.

As seen from here, the anti-busing issue still is not settled, but only that the Justice Department can't use taxpayer money to force it on the public. But what happens if the integrationists find a way to keep the buses going without involving the Justice Department? Whatever the answer, the trend is headed the right way. From here on we have good reason to expect whatever means is necessary to eliminate forced busing altogether.

It's hard to understand how busing was ever justified in the first place. The famous Little Rock confrontation resulted in an order that every student regardless of race, must be permitted to attend the school of his or her choice...that students must be permitted to integrate.

But this progress was not sufficient to please the integrationists. Their next goal was to achieve forced mixing of the races by transporting students from one district to another to increase exposure of the races to each other.

Busing was a clear violation of the Little Rock order. It nullified a student's choice of attending where he pleased and told him he would have to go where told. People of both races have been unhappy ever since. Blacks as well as whites resent being pushed around.

Ever since busing got started it has rated as one of the greatest mistakes imposed by our government on its people. A person has to wonder whether this massive foul-up was caused solely by the integration fanatics or whether it also included the National Education Association's policy of sabotaging local control of education as a means toward strengthening federal control.

Well, the result of busing was that students were stuck with long, tiresome and expensive rides before and after their regular school work. Also parents, to take an interest in their children's activity, had to travel out of their neighborhood and across town where they were surrounded by strangers at meetings, athletic events or other functions. Everybody concerned was unhappy, and the standard of education declined.

In the opinion of James Collins, "forced school busing is the most harmful aspect of today's educational process. When the federal government usurped power from the local boards and parents, Continued on Page 14

Leonard Endres Dies Santa Claus is coming Saturday

Funeral service for Leonard John Endres, 67, former Muenster mayor, was held in Sacred Heart Church Saturday at 10 a.m. with Father Denis Soerries officiating at a Mass of Christian Burial and Fathers Stephen Eckart and Harry Fisher con-celebrating.

In his funeral homily, Father Denis said that Leonard, like Enoch of Sacred Scripture, was a friend of God, walked with Him, and chose last Thursday to go home with Him. That change, he emphasized should be regarded not so much a departure from this life as the beginning of a new life with God.

Also participating in the Mass was the Sacred Heart Choral Group, a son, Richard, and a sister, Sister Irma Endres, in the scriptural readings, and three daughters, Mary Hertzach, Susan Henning and Jeanne DeLano, in the presentation of offertory gifts.

Burial in the parish cemetery was directed by Nick Miller Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Arthur Endres, Marty Klement, Tony Trubenbach, Earl Fisher, Paul Walterscheid and Ray Voth.

Rosary in the chapel of Miller Funeral Home was recited Friday at 4 and 8 p.m.

Leonard Endres died of cancer on Thanksgiving Day, 4 a.m., in Muenster Memorial Hospital, two weeks after being admitted with his final illness. Before that he had received therapy and hospitalization for the affliction about one year.

He was a native of Muenster, born December 30, 1912, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Meinard J. Endres. He was married to Mattie Brockman of Nazareth on June 5, 1935. He was a long time employee of Armour Meat Company, in Dallas, Forth Worth, Huron, S.D. Omaha, Neb., and Columbus, Ohio, serving as branch manager in the latter three locations. After retiring from Armour he was manager of the Frisco Packing Co. at Oklahoma City for three years and came back to his home town eight years ago.

While here he spent two years as publisher of the Muenster Enterprise, then was a part time employee of Endres Motor Co. until earlier this year when he quit because of poor health.

His civic interests included membership in the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the first and second Germanfest, also a member of the Muenster Water Board and Muenster City Council before being elected mayor of Muenster. He resigned as mayor on September 8. He was a long time member of the Knights of Columbus, a past grand knight of the Fort Worth council.

Survivors are his wife; three sons, Kenneth of Salisbury, Md., Richard of Fort Worth and Nick of Houston; three daughters, Mary Hertzach of Hutchinson, Kans., Susan Henning of Oklahoma City, and Jeanne DeLano of Ardmore, Okla.; fifteen grandchildren; and two sisters, Sister Agnes Endres of Wichita Falls and Sister Irma Endres of Huntsville.

Out of town relatives at the services were Ken Endres, Dick Endres and family, Nick Endres and continued on page 6...

With Santa himself as the escort, and hopefully the weather providing an ideal atmosphere, the 1980 Christmas season will arrive in Muenster Saturday.

The multi featured event will include a parade complete with prizes for the outstanding floats, caroling, a drawing for gift certificates and Santa's visit with the kiddies.

Lupe Evans, general chairman, said Tuesday that the number of parade entries was still indefinite at that time but interest was encouraging. Listed then were floats from Callisburg, the Robert E. Lee School of Gainesville, Fisher's Dairy, Saint Jo Cub Scouts, Muenster Cub Scouts and MHS Junior class; also the Muenster and Saint Jo marching bands, Saint Jo Riding Club, Plumlee's Mules, Singing Bluebirds, Butterfly Bluebirds, Campfire Girls, Wralph Wrangler. In addition, Mrs. Evans said, anything that will add interest and beauty to the parade, such as dressed up cars and pickups, will be welcome.

The parade will start assembling at 1 p.m. on Mesquite Street between Wilde Chevrolet and Muenster Butane with Mrs. Evans serving as the parade marshal. Its beginning will be timed for arrival at Main Street at 2 p.m. While it's on the way waiting spectators hopefully will be entertained by a group of school children singing Christmas Carols. It's a spontaneous affair, no advance rehearsal but the rendition of old familiar songs under direction of Juanita Bright. The assembly place is in front of Gehrig Hardware, near the judges' stand. All that's asked is that kids who want outstanding floats.

Money for these prizes has been provided by the Chamber of Commerce. A similar amount for the four prizes at the drawing was also given by the Chamber. The parade route starts at to sing gather there and identify themselves by wearing their red and white knit caps.

Judges will be located between Gehrig's and Hooebeck's. They will decide who's due the prizes of $100, $75 and $50 for Mesquite, follows the highway to Main, and proceeds north to Fifth Street where marching units drop out and floats continue east to Oak and south to Tuggle's parking lot for display.

The parade will be followed by a Santa party for kids and a drawing for adults. Leaving the parade Santa will meet the youngsters at the Christmas tree and Nativity display on the AMPI lot. The native cedar tree was procured, erected and decorated by the Jaycees. Likewise the Nativity scene was provided by the Jaycees, and the goodies to be given to the kids was also provided by the Jaycees. Along with the gifting kids will have an opportunity for Christmas talk with Santa.

The Christmas drawing will be held in front of Gehrig's from registration forms to be mixed just before the parade. The registrations have been in progress in participating stores, all C of C members, during this week and all will be mixed before the drawings for four gift certificates in amounts of $100, $50, $50 and $25. A person need not be present to win.

Participating firms, who are accepting registrations for the drawing are: The Charm Shop, Hamric's, The Hut, Koesler Jewelry, Discount Pharmacy, Hess Furniture, Gehrig Hardware, Modern Floors and Fabrics, Bayer's Kolonialwaren, Muenster Building Center, Muenster Garden Center, Center Coffee Shop, H&W Meat Co., Rohmer's Restaurant, Community Lumber Co., Muenster Butane, Hofbauer's and Fischer's.

The gift certificates can be redeemed at any of those stores.

Auxiliary Asks Donations in Lieu Of Greeting Cards

Mrs. Ted Henscheid (Carol) has accepted the chairmanship of the "In Lieu of Christmas Cards" project for the Hospital Auxiliary this year.

As in the past ten years since the auxiliary originated the practice in Muenster, sponsors suggest the donation of an amount comparable to what is ordinarily spent for cards and postage, hoping meanwhile that the donation will reflect an awareness of the time and energy saving advantage of the project.

Especially appealing as a time-saving feature, when most people are involved in a number of activities, the project is primarily a benefit for the auxiliary's program assisting Muenster Memorial Hospital. Each year the project's funds assist in the purchase of special equipment for the hospital.

Names of donors will be printed in a special greeting in the Christmas issue of the Muenster Enterprise, but individual amounts will not be given.

Checks should be made payable to the Muenster Hospital Auxiliary and sent to Mrs. Ted Henscheid, Box 358, Muenster, Texas 76252. She may also be reached at Tops and Teams in Muenster or phoned at 759-2540 or 4280.

Butterfield Stage Adds Directors

Special Liturgy On Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving 1980 in Muenster was observed with attention to tradition. A special Liturgy for the 10 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church was followed by an old fashioned harvest dinner attended by about 725 area residents and guests in the Community Center. A day-long picnic and bazaar and a big auction were all part of the parish and community functions. For individual families there were many reunions and kin-folk gatherings on Thursday and during the weekend.

Theme of the special Liturgy and 10 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church was "Thanksgiving For All That's Nice in Muenster."

The entrance procession was led by the VFW Color Guard and Arthur Bayer, followed by Muenster Boy Scouts of Troop 664 and Scoutmaster Waylen Poole with Jr. Scoutmaster John Walterscheid and Chris Walter, the Webelo Leader. Then came Muenster Cub Scouts and Den Leaders Lupe Evans and Jean Park; Blue Birds of the Camp Fire units and leaders Peggy Walter and Lou Moser; altar boys and Father Denis Soerries, celebrant.

The entrance processional was played by Anthony Luke, organist and the opening hymn was "America, the Beautiful" by the congregation. Mrs. Danny Voth (Janet) was the narrator.

A large group participated in the Offertory procession. Touching on a few of the many material and spiritual blessings surrounding the people of Muenster, the narrator introduced the following:

Chris Sicking representing the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department as assistant chief. He carried a fireman's hat to present at the altar.

Virginia Bartush, president of the Sacred Heart Student Council, carrying a world globe and Dale Swirczynski, president of the Muenster Public School Student Council, carrying industrial arts tools, represented the academic and vocational facets of education in Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Klement, carrying a jar of milk, represented the thriving dairy industry in Muenster.

Mrs. Herb Miller, (Dolores) carried a blooming yellow chrysanthemum to offer at the altar. She represented the Muenster Garden Club and the efforts of all the community to improve the environment and protect the natural beauty of this locale.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Fleitman offered stalks of wheat at the altar. They represented all farmers of the area, members of the thriving agricultural community.

Mrs. Arnold Rohmer (Imelda) represented the Muenster Post Office and brought a 1980 Mint Set of Commemorative Stamps to the altar.

KCs Propose More Thought on Keeping Christ In Christmas

Muenster Knights of Columbus again this year are sponsoring a residential decorating program with emphasis on keeping Christ in Christmas.

The project co-chairmen are Joe Hoening and Wayne Klement who have set the judging date for Sunday, December 21. All homes within the city limits will be judged at that time, and rural homes will be included if the owners will notify Hoening or Klement in advance. The chairmen point out that city people need not bother to phone. Everyone in town is included.

The Christ in Christmas theme hopefully will encourage renewed interest in the traditional Christmas spirit which is associated with the birth of Christ. Instead of Santa Claus and winter wonderland and other such unrelated topics, decorators are asked to emphasize the crib scene, the angels and shepherds and Magi and other reminders of the first Christmas.

Two billboards now under construction by the KCs, and measuring 9X20, will be erected soon in prominent locations as reminders to be more mindful of Christ in the observance of His feast.

KCs Honor 119 at Memorial Service

One hundred nineteen departed members of the Muenster Knights of Columbus council were remembered Sunday night at the annual memorial service in the KC hall. The roll call of honored dead included three names which were added since last year's service. They are Ed Wiesman, Rody Klement and Leonard Endres.

The memorial which consisted of the order's traditional ritual and the roll call, was preceded by a Mass with Father Denis Soerries, chaplain as the celebrant.

The council's wake service, customarily held the first meeting after a member's death, was held for Leonard Endres after the memorial.

Widows and descendants of the honored members were the Council's special guests for the ceremony.

SECULAR HUMANISM
 It has been said that five percent of the people make things happen, fifteen percent of the people let things happen, and eighty percent of the people know what happened.

That might be a pretty fair analysis of how it has been possible for a small but influential group of Humanists to make their religion the unofficial religion of this nation while effectively removing Christian influence from government, education and other major social institutions.

Humanism has been characterized by one another as "the Most Dangerous Religion in America" and well it may be. For it is the rise of Humanism, and its increasing influence in the seats of power, that has brought on much of the moral, political and economic decay in the nation.

No doubt the religion of Humanism has been around for a long time, however, it was in 1933 its major proponents felt it necessary to issue The Humanist Manifesto I in which they state:

"In order that religious humanism may be better understood we, the undersigned, desire to make certain affirmations which we believe the facts of our contemporary life demonstrate."

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Every ten years the Texas Legislature knocks down the "fences" which mark the boundaries of legislative and congressional districts, and redraws the political map.

The process is called redistricting, and though it only occurs once a decade, it is one of the most important duties of the Legislature.

What is the function of redistricting?

The law requires that legislative and congressional districts must be as equal in population as practicable. At the end of each decade, population shifts in Texas counties have thrown the districts out of balance, population-wise. Simply stated, some districts grow to have more people than other districts. Redistricting is a tune-up, an attempt to start over by making every district equal again for another ten years.

Two New Seats

The Texas Constitution requires that the state redistrict after each decennial U.S. census. Because of the state's rapid population growth, Texas is likely to receive two new seats in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1981, bringing the Texas delegation's voting strength to 26.

The number of seats in the Texas Legislature will by law remain unchanged: 150 in the House of Representatives and 31 in the Senate.

While the courts keep a close watch on the redistricting process to keep minority parties and ethnic groups from being deprived of fair representation, the "Redistricting Legislature" is a political free-for-all in many respects. In general, the most powerful group in the Legislature (whatever its characteristics may be) will try to influence redistricting in order to dilute its opposition.

For example, if the majority group wants to get rid of an urban legislator who has given them stout resistance, they may draw him into a district in which he will face mostly rural voters, hoping he cannot adjust and will be defeated. There are many variations on that theme.

How It Works

The redistricting plan is drawn up and passed like any other bill. The bulk of the work is done in committee and then sent to the floor for a vote. Traditionally, the House and Senate draw plans for themselves. Once one chamber has approved a redistricting plan for itself, the other chamber usually approves it without amendment.

The congressional redistricting bill, however, is quite likely to be debated by both houses.

The final plan approved by the Legislature is sent to the Governor for his signature or veto.

Redistricting Board

If the Legislature fails to adopt a plan, or if a plan is vetoed by the Governor, then the responsibility for drawing a plan is given to the Legislative Redistricting Board. The board is composed of the Lt. Governor, the Speaker of the House, the Attorney General, the Land Commissioner and the Comptroller. The board must meet within 90 days after the session and finish its work within 60 days. It has no authority over congressional redistricting.

The 1980 census is expected to show that Texas has a population of 13.5 million, which would result in an ideal House district of 90,000 and an ideal Senate district of 435,000.

The Courts

Many factors may work to keep districts from being exactly equal, and some deviation is allowed. The U.S. Supreme Court has strict standards for population equality in congressional redistricting, but greater leeway is allowed for state legislative districts. However, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 gives the U.S. Justice Department the power to review all changes in election laws or procedures in certain states, including Texas.

Minority Vote

The Voting Rights Act prohibits any redistricting plan that deprives the minority citizen of an equal vote, and racial fairness is one of the most important criteria in developing redistricting plans. It prohibits a plan that leads to a "retrogression" of the position of minorities.

Texas has a history of courtroom battles involved in its redistricting, and the coming struggle does not promise to be any less complicated. Two new factors will add a different twist to the process. With a Republican governor, the Legislature can expect its redistricting plans to face careful scrutiny of its effects on Republicans. Second, the U.S. census data will not distinguish between aliens and citizens. Therefore, aliens will be included in the totals used to determine representation.

The Texas Supreme Court in 1971 ruled that the sitting Legislature must redistrict if the census is published at any time during the session. The results of the census are expected to be published no earlier than March, 1981.

The scramble to redistrict the state within the remaining two months of the legislative session should provide grist for the political story mills for years to come.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
 U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
 142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
 WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

In the current national debate about tax cuts, most responsible economists are advocating attention to "supply side" economics. It's unfortunate there isn't a better phrase than that, because it represents a much-needed and overdue change in approach to solving our economic problems.

These economists are referring to one of the most basic principles governing our economy, the law of supply and demand. Simply stated, the principle is this: If we wish to purchase fewer products than are produced and available, some of those products remain unsold. This acts as a signal to producers to either lower prices to stimulate sales or to reduce production. Prices today seldom fall; the adjustment is usually made by producing less. This leads to idle plants and layoffs.

Since the 1930's the government's approach to solving this problem has been to pump money into the economy to stimulate demand. As demand increased, producers rehired workers, leading to an increase in supply. If supply caught up with demand, the increases in price levels tend to damp down and virtually disappear.

This "demand-side" approach tended to work well enough when the idle U.S. factories were capable of being reactivated and producing at low cost.

Today's situation is markedly different. The efficiency of U.S. industry has declined. Research and development has been discouraged by tax and business considerations which reward short-run performance at the expense of the future.

We now find that simply putting money in the hands of Americans through government transfer programs still raises demand and prices, but may not lead to the increased supply needed.

Our industrial plant is old and obsolete. It cannot respond. We get inflation and little new employment. Our foreign competitors with more efficient industries are able to undercut our prices at home. Further, our inefficiently produced products cannot compete in overseas markets. This worsens our unemployment and weakens the dollar.

We must make it profitable for our industries to invest and modernize. Only if they do so will the products of our plants be able to compete in price and quality with imports. Then we will see employment in productive jobs rise, facilitating a non-inflationary simultaneous increase in supply and demand.

What must be done? We must reduce the web of regulations which handicap our industries. Additionally we must reduce the taxes levied on business and do so in such a way as to encourage those businesses to invest in new, efficient factories. We must make investment funds available to business by encouraging our citizens to save and by reducing the size of the government borrowing. Remember, if government runs a deficit it must borrow the difference. If government borrows the money, business cannot. This "crowding-out" of business borrowing often leads to higher interest rates.

In short, supply-side economics is the most logical concept in the world for today's U.S. economy. Our problem is not lack of demand, it is poor productivity and stagnant supply which leads to inflation. We can begin to address this situation by taking the steps which I outlined above. I fear a continuing cycle of inflation and recession will remain with us until we do.

They were Mrs. Grady McElreath, (Mary Jean) and son Brent McElreath, both members of the Marysville Baptist Church, carrying a Bible and a Sunday School Book to present at the altar. Also April Truelsen and Sister Genevieve, members of Sacred Heart Parish. April carried her religion textbook and Sister Genevieve brought the Of-rice Book on "Liturgy of the Hours." Mr. and Mrs. R.N. Fette presented their 44th Thanksgiving edition of the Muenster Enterprise. Thanksgiving 1980 coincided with the 44th anniversary of the first issue of the newspaper, founded by Fette in the fall of the Texas Centennial Year and printed and mailed for the first time on Thanksgiving Day, 1936. Mr. and Mrs. Vince Felderhoff represented all the people involved in the oil business in Muenster, where the oil industry touches the lives of so many in this area, in one way or another. They presented a can of oil at the altar.

Members of the Liturgical Commission, Linda Flusche, Juanita Bright, Tillie Schoech and Dorothy Fisher presented the Offering gifts, water, wine and bread. Get Records Ready For Tax Deductions

Taxpayers, especially those who itemize, should begin getting their receipts and other records together to support claims on their Federal income tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service says. Taxpayers may use any form of recordkeeping they prefer, as long as they have proper records to verify the income, deductions, credits and other items shown on the tax return. Good records can also enable the taxpayer to quickly and accurately list his or her deductions, the IRS points out.

It would be a good idea, the IRS adds, to sort records into the same categories listed on Schedule A of the Form 1040—medical and dental expenses, state or local taxes, interest payments, contributions to charity, casualty or theft losses and miscellaneous deductions. Good records and supporting documents can be in the form of cancelled checks, paid bills, pay stubs, receipts, or in some cases, a diary of daily expenses. Generally, cancelled checks or receipts should not be attached to the return for an individual, but explanatory documentation is required for a contribution of property.

NFB Okays 4 Year Limit on Keeping Records for Feds

Members of the National Federation of Independent Business have overwhelmingly approved of proposed legislation which would limit the length of time the federal government can require records to be retained to four years. The proposal, sponsored by Congressmen Charles Stenholm and Jack Hightower, both Texas Democrats, was included in NFB's latest Mandate vote on issues and was approved by 90 percent of members responding. Only seven percent opposed the proposal. Stenholm and Hightower are currently working to obtain additional co-sponsors for the legislation, which will be reintroduced during the upcoming 97th Session of Congress. The bill would establish a four-year statute of limitations for businesses on record-keeping and alleged civil violations of federal rules, regulations or laws. At present, businessmen are required to maintain records indefinitely and are subject to civil penalties without any time limitations. "This is one means to cut down the cost of doing business," Stenholm said, "and chip away a little at the inflation rate. The costs of compiling and maintaining unnecessary records are normally passed along to the end user of the product or service involved if that business is to remain solvent. "NFB estimated that, aside from tax records, there are more than 1,100 record-keeping requirements that are imposed on small businesses each year," he continued. "While our bill would not eliminate any of these regulations, limiting the retention time of required records would alleviate much of the burden on businesses and cut costs significantly."

Julia Bayer Marries Dickie Rogers

Julia Bayer became the bride of Dickie D. Rogers Friday, November 28 in a nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony in Sacred Heart Church. Father Stephen Eckart was celebrant, and officiated for their vows at 7 p.m., before an altar decorated with lighted candles, bronze mums and rust daisy mums, with tall floor candelabra holding pyramids of votive lights entwined with greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Bayer and is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Grayson County College. She is employed as a Lab Bacteriologist at Wilson N. Jones Hospital in Sherman.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Jesse Taylor of Bonham and the late Alton Rogers. He is a graduate of Whitewright High School and Grayson County College and is employed as a Lab Technician at Medical Plaza Hospital in Sherman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a formal wedding gown of ivory candelight polyester and silk organza over polyester satin. It was designed with a stand up collar of Alencon lace and lace appliques scattered on the bodice and sheer, lace edged sleeves. The flared skirt of sheer organza had matching lace appliques; and lace scallops trimmed the lower edge of the skirt, flowing into the chapel length train.

Her matching mantilla bridal veil was completely edged with lace. She carried a cascading bouquet of silk lilies, wild roses forget-me-nots and baby's breath in shades of ivory and rust.

For something "old and borrowed" and for sentiment, the bride carried a Mother of Pearl prayer book belonging to her mother which she carried on her wedding day as a gift from her husband.

Attendants

The matron of honor was the bride's close friend, Mrs. Ronnie Hess (Janet). She wore a formal gown of rust polyester satin with spaghetti straps and bolero of sheer organza with long cuffed sleeves. Her flower was a silk nosegay of rust and ivory forget-me-nots, wild roses and baby's breath.

The flower girl was Mandy Barnhill, niece of the bride, dressed similar to the honor attendant.

The best man was John Hendrix of Whitewright. The ushers were Mike Bayer and Bert Hesse, cousins of the bride; and Mass servers were Nathan Bayer, bride's brother and Dino Bayer, a cousin.

Reception

A reception and buffet meal followed, hosted by the bride's parents in their home for 80 guests. Mrs. Janet Barnhill, bride's sister, registered guests in the bride's book. Reception assistants were Mrs. Charles Hamilton and Mrs. Fred Hennigan, Jr. aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Ginny Schneider.

The wedding cake was three tiered, with ivory icing, with rust silk flowers and bells between the pillared layers and was served by Betty Rose Walter-scheid.

Close friends and relatives attended from Sherman, Denison, Denton, Whitewright, Bonham, Valley View, Saint Jo, Myra and Muenster.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, San Marcos and the Hill Country, the couple will be at home in Sherman.

A surprise shower honored the couple when their co-workers hosted a party on November 25.

Saint Jo Christmas Bazaar

The Twentieth Century Club will present its annual Christmas Bazaar and bake sale on December 6, 1980. It will begin at 9 a.m. in Weldon's Custom Interiors on the northeast side of the square in Saint Jo.

"Everyone is invited to come browse through our collection of Christmas things," invites bazaar chairman, Mrs. Donald Grigsby. "We hope you will find just the right gift for someone special or at least find some idea to brighten your own Christmas celebration."

The Christmas Bazaar and bake sale will open to the public at 9 a.m. and will continue as long as the merchandise lasts. Plan to come early for the best selection.

While in New Delhi, India the "Celebrant Singers" sang for Mother Teresa at her all-India Nobel Prize reception.

sonal witness and sharing." The "Celebrant Singers" include 10 members plus a 10 piece orchestra, plus lighting and sound technicians as a musical ministry team.

American Cancer Society Questions Women Smokers

"What's liberated about falling for the cigarette establishment line, 'you've come a long way baby'?" asked Mrs. Shirley Bianchi, public information chairman of the Cooke County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

"For several years, the cigarette companies have zeroed in on American women with increasingly fatal effect," Mrs. Bianchi declared. "The female lung cancer death rate has doubled in the past ten years and the rate of increase of lung cancer is greater for women than for men. If this continues, women will soon reach the alarming rate at which men smokers are now dying of lung cancer," she said.

Mrs. Bianchi also described some very special reasons why women shouldn't smoke. A pregnant woman who smokes may also be endangering the health of her unborn child. Medical studies both abroad and in this country have shown a greater number of stillbirths among smoking mothers and lower than normal birth weight of babies," she added.

"Furthermore, cigarette breath and a smoker's cough are far from glamorous," she said. "What's chic or liberated about smoking?" A recent American Cancer Society study showed that the majority of young women who smoke are aware that it is a dangerous habit but they rationalize that everything you do these days seems to give you cancer. Yet those same women have another strong characteristic, according to the ACS study, they want to be independent of mind and in control of their bodies.

"They will come a long way toward such independence, as well as better health and appearance," Mrs. Bianchi said, "if they quit smoking."

She added that the Cooke County Unit of the American Cancer Society has pamphlets, free for all who want them, with helpful hints on how to give up Cigarettes.

MHS Teams Win 2 and Lose 3

Muenster Varsity basketball teams won two and lost two during the week in games with Saint Jo and Callisburg. The Hornets were winners and Hornettes were losers. And junior varsity girls were losers in an extra game with Callisburg.

The Hornets' game with Saint Jo was an overtime classic with frequent changes of the lead until the regular time tie, after which Muenster took a 2 point win. It was Saint Jo by 12-8 at the first quarter and a 22-22 tie at halftime, then Muenster 33-28 at the third and a 40-40 tie at the end. Again in overtime the score was tied at 44-44 when a Panther fouled Tim Schneider, bringing on a 1 and 1 free throw situation. Tim hit both and the lead stood up for the final seconds. The point makers were Kevin Felderhoff 19, Larry Fleitman 13, Tim Schneider 8, Ricky Winn 4, Steve Luke 2.

The game with Callisburg Monday night was decided mostly by the MHS 14-5 first quarter lead. After that the scores were 25-13, 33-27 and 43-35, with Hornets ahead all the way. Scorers were Ricky Winn 12, Kevin Felderhoff 10, Tim Schneider 10, Steve Luke 6, Larry Fleitman 5.

The varsity girls at Saint Jo lost their game in the first quarter. They trailed 10-0 in the period and gained in each of the next three periods but could not catch up. Saint Jo held the lead by scores of 17-8, 20-15 and 26-23. The scorers were Kyla Hale 8, Stephanie Richey 7, Carla Wimmer 6, Sandy Wimmer 2.

Their game with Callisburg was a run-away as the visitors led by scores of 12-4, 33-10, 55-18 and 69-29 at the four periods. Richey led the MHS scoring with 20. Carla Walterscheid and Charlotte Fleitman each made 4 and Mary Winn 1.

The JV loss to Callisburg girls was slightly less one-sided by counts of 15-4, 19-6, 25-13 and 27-16 at the quarters. Scorers were Jill Wimmer 6, Paula Russell 5, Pam Hermes 2, Nancy Walterscheid 2, Tina Tisdale 1.

Varsity teams are entered in the Slidell tournament this weekend. Both will meet the host team in opening games.

Meanwhile the junior varsity teams will be in a JV tournament at Callisburg. At this time the Hornets have a record of 6-2 and the Hornettes are 2-6.

Rumpy is 38th in Turkey Trot

Rumpy Hess ran in 38th place in the 13th Annual Turkey Trot in Dallas on Thanksgiving Day. Approximately 4,000 people entered the run and the top several hundred were given cards. This was Hess' 11th year to participate in the 8 mile event. He ran the distance in 44 minutes with a time of 5:30. Other contestants from Muenster were Harold Flusche, Tom Flusche, Dave Flusche, Harry Scoggins and Glenn Felderhoff.

On Saturday, December 6, Rumpy Hess and Harold Flusche will run in the Whiterock Marathon in Dallas where 3,000 are expected. The marathon will begin at 9 a.m. Those with qualifying times will be eligible for the Boston Marathon this spring.

The 26 mile, 385 yard certified course has been run by Hess several times, but will be Flusche's first marathon. Hess has been in at least ten marathons but has not run this particular one in several years. He hopes to qualify for the Boston Marathon and will have to run under 2 hours and 50 minutes with a time of 6:30 or better. Averaging 35-plus miles per week, with most of his running on the weekends, Hess will know Saturday if he will be qualified to enter the Boston Marathon.

Hadley Rides In Cutting Horse Futurity Scouts Get Souvenirs For 50th Annv.

By Teresa Rainwater
The National Cutting Horse Association's Annual Futurity will be held at Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum in Fort Worth December 8-14, 1980. There will be 557 cutting horses entered in the one event. Bob Hadley of Muenster will participate in the futurity riding a 3-year old filly, Mandy's Starlette, owned by Tom Woody of Gainesville.

This week, December 1-7, Hadley's Ranch is the location of final practice and tune-up sessions for many horsemen wishing to prepare for the week long competition in Fort Worth.

A Nocona cattleman provides fresh cattle daily for the cutting horse practice. A fee is charged for the use of the cattle per hour, but donuts and coffee and a lunch are provided by the Hadleys.

The 1980 Futurity, worth well over $200,000, with a purse of $10,000, will have entries from all over the United States.

The cutting horse event will have a 2½ minute time limit per horse to demonstrate its natural, inherent ability to work cows on its own. Points are lost if the rider reins the horse, and credit is given for riding with a loose rein throughout a performance.

The horse will be given credit for his ability to quietly enter a herd of cattle and bring one out with very little disturbance. He will be penalized if he runs into or scatters the herd. If a horse permits an animal to get back in the herd, he loses points. If the rider falls or is thrown off, a penalty is also assessed.

There will be five judges each marking between 60 and 80 points, the average being 70 points. The three medium scores of the five judges will be added to receive the final score for each contestant.

The National Cutting Horse Association allows only one horse per person to be entered in the one event. Each horse works one time. The top 75 per cent work a second time. Then the 45 winners, one out of three, pay an additional entry fee and work in the semi-finals. Only fifteen horses go to the finals, out of the 557 that start. The competition is fierce.

Monday, December 8, through Wednesday, December 10, each of the 557 cutting horses will work one time, 2½ minutes each. There will be a select sale on December 13 and 14 at which the Hadleys will sell a 2-year old filly, Pen and Ink, by Professor's Alibi. The horses must qualify to be entered in this sale. Bloodlines are checked and those accepted for the sale are the top-notch horses in the country.

The semi-finals for the week long cutting horse event, will be held at the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum Saturday, December 13 at 8 p.m., with finals on Sunday, December 14 at 8 p.m.

Bob Hadley plans to enter his Professor's Alibi, 10 year old son of Doc Bar, next year in the 1981 Cutting Horse Futurity along with three others. Professor's Alibi was the Pacific Coast Quarter Horse Association Cutting Horse Champion, in the Top Ten Novice in the Pacific Coast Cutting Horse Association (8 western states), has his Register of Merit in Cutting from the American Quarter Horse Association, Certificate of Ability from the National Cutting Horse Association, and is a winner in halter class competition.

Although only one entry per person is allowed, by entering four horses, there will be one sure contestant next year for the Hadleys, and having entry fees paid on the other three would be an advantage to the buyers of the horses if sold. This year's entry fee was $750; next year it will be $1,000.

Bob and Jean Hadley moved to Muenster in August of this year. When asked why they left their well-established and successful business and ranch in California, they admitted it was no easy decision, but one carefully thought through. They took a sheet of paper, wrote "Texas" on one side, "California" on the other, and sat down to list the advantages and disadvantages of each. Texas won!

First of all, they explained, they had been to Texas to the Fort Worth Cutting Horse Futurity each year for many years and like the state. They went on to say the lower taxes, lack of smog, slower pace and general quality of life in the Lone Star State were the advantages, with this area being within a 100-mile radius of the Dallas-Fort Worth area a big plus. This area of Texas-Oklahoma has become the "Quarter Horse Capital of the World".

So, accepting an early retirement from California Polytechnic State after 13 years of teaching and heading the Horse Unit of the university, the Hadleys sold their ranch in Creston, California and moved to Muenster where they purchase 140 acres of the Bartushe's Twin Pine Farms, a half mile northwest of Muenster.

Not only are the Hadleys competitive with their horses, but they also breed horses and will stand their stallions to outside mares this spring, with a $1500 fee for Doc's Alibi or Doc's Legacy with a live foal guarantee. A $1000 stud fee is charged for Impressive Squire, 3-year old leader in his halter class shows on the Pacific Coast and owned by Dick and Jean Warner of California. He will also be trained and shown by the Hadleys here in Texas. Impressive Squire will have his first crop of foals in 1981.

Jean Hadley works on a day to day basis with the horses, grooming, feeding, cleaning stalls, working with them. Bob Hadley well known in California for getting problem mares in foal by artificial insemination, had Ms. Pat Knigge, a well known name in horse circles on the West Coast, bring him a mare that she had tried for four years to foal. Using artificial insemination, the Hadleys produced a beautiful filly, Ms. Quincy, which Ms. Knigge gave to Jean Hadley.

Bob is an A.I. technician and taught A.I. in the pre-vet program at Polytech as well as equine production and training.

Jean shows pleasure horses and has some yearlings she will start at 2 years in halter and other performance classes this Spring. They have four 2-year olds they are breaking and training for cutting. They sell approximately half a dozen horses a year, stressing quality not quantity.

At present, it seems the Hadleys have a lot going on at their ranch and are happy about their move to Texas. With 557 entries in the cutting horse competition next week, Bob Hadley and Mandy's Starlette will be up against the best in the country. The Fort Worth Futurity is the largest performance horse event in the United States other than racing.

The month of December is the last month of the Cub Scout 50th anniversary. At the regular meeting of Den 4 on Tuesday, December 2, each boy was presented a special 50th anniversary neckerchief slide which had been given to Den Leader Lupe Evans at the latest training session in Fort Worth. The cubs were told of the importance of any 50th anniversary memorabilia.

Denner for the month of December is Jeff Walterscheid with assistant Denner Murlin Evans. The cubs made Christmas gifts to take to St. Richard's Villa on Monday night, December 8 at 7:00 when they will present their presents to the patients there and then serve them refreshments. Christmas carols will be sung, and the boys practiced a few of the carols at their meeting. Next they made a Christmas "peppermint candy tree" to take to their families and share the candy. A discussion was held to decide what their plans would be for their Den Christmas party. The boys will draw names this year and buy each other a present. This party will be at their next den meeting on December 16.

Cubs of Den 4 took part in the Thanksgiving special service procession held at Sacred Heart Church on Thanksgiving morning. Den 4 will also be marching in the Christmas parade here on December 6. Cub Pack 664 is also entering a float in the parade. Those not marching will ride the float. Float chairman is Webelo leader, Chris Walter.

After refreshments served by Sharon Walterscheid, the boys were issued their "Pine Wood Derby Kits". This is a father-son project that will take place in January 1981 when the boys will race their cars in competition with other cubs in their pack. Cubs in Den 4 are Jeff Walterscheid, Murlin Evans, Johnny Herr, Joseph Shane Wimmer, and Don Joe Park.

SAVING TIPS

on electric heating

1. Keep heating equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
2. Set thermostat at 68° or lower. Lower to 50° - 60° if you'll be away several days.
3. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and warm air loss.
4. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions; if it's disposable, replace if dirty.
5. Thorough home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use. Can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.
6. When fireplace is not in use, keep damper closed.
7. On sunny days open draperies, blinds to let in warmth of sun.
8. Open outside doors as little as possible.
9. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns so air will flow easily. Clean often.

Achievement Tests Scheduled at SH

In the near future two days will be set aside for Sacred Heart High students to take part in an extensive testing program. Junior and senior students will be taking the tests for their individual profiles for career and college planning. The freshmen and sophomores will take the California Test of Basic Skills.

The tests are being administered to the students to evaluate their educational progress. The information obtained will be used in curriculum improvement and to detect weaknesses in a student's basic skills so that they can be given remedial work. The information will also be used in subject selection for the student.

This testing program is part of the continuing effort to make Sacred Heart a school of academic excellence.

Computerized Guidance

During the months of November and December, Sacred Heart High seniors and juniors will be using the Guidance Information System computer. The computer is made available through the courtesy of Region XI, Educational Service Center, with the cooperation of Koch Engineering.

The computer terminal is connected with the Region XI computer in Fort Worth through a metroplex phone line. The computer contains information on over 800 occupations, over 1700 four year colleges, and over 1500 two year colleges. In addition students can get information on financial aid programs, graduate schools, and armed services occupations.

Students who have already decided on a career or college can obtain complete information about their choice. Those who are interested in several colleges or careers can get complete information to help in decision making. Those with no ideas about their future can list their requirements in a career or college based on interest, abilities, or over 600 other characteristics, and the computer will print out up to 25 suggested careers or colleges for their consideration.

The computer will be available on a scheduled basis until the Christmas holidays. When all juniors and seniors have had an opportunity to take advantage of the service, if time allows, it will be made available to the sophomores. Times are scheduled through Mrs. Betsy Fleitman, Sacred Heart counselor.

Sacred Heart juniors and seniors are involved in a testing program this year to help obtain an individual profile of each student to help with future planning. The program, organized and administered by counselor, Betsy Fleitman, will hopefully be used with juniors each year to give direction to their plans after graduation.

The program involves a series of four tests and an auto-biography written by the student. The auto-biography is used to give background on the student and allow the student to express their ideas as to future plans. The tests given are Study of Values, Gillford-Zimmerman Temperament Survey, Strong-Campbell Interest Inventory, and Differential Aptitude Test Battery.

This particular series of tests give the counselor an

Free Enterprise is Best for Agriculture

Agriculture has the most to gain from operating under a free enterprise system, Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka told delegates to the TFB's 47th annual meeting here Monday, Dec. 1. Chaloupka said President-elect Ronald Reagan is committed to a move toward more free enterprise.

"Congress cannot ignore the message of November 4," he added.

The state farm leader reminded the 1,200 voting delegates attending the convention that agriculture producers have survived until now by emphasizing efficiency.

"As farmers and ranchers, our philosophy is to produce—not to devise some system to share scarcity," he said. "If we are ever to prosper—to get what we deserve—it will be under a system that rewards productivity."

The farm leader said free enterprise is the best system ever devised for prosperity, justice, and freedom.

Chaloupka said agriculture is at a crossroads—with most provisions of the present farm bill scheduled to expire at the end of the 1981 crop year. "Farm organizations and Congress will be looking at possible alternatives," he said. "The question is, do we move toward less government involvement, or do we return to price guarantees with accompanying controls and payment limitations?"

He suggested that

Agriculture would be better off under a marketplace economy.

Texas Sesquicentennial Commission Plans Logo Contest

The Texas Sesquicentennial of 1986, Texas' 150th birthday celebration, is on the way, and all Texans are invited to the party. Preparations for the birthday are being kicked off with a statewide contest to devise an official logo -- a simple and readily-identifiable symbol, or trademark, of the Texas Sesquicentennial.

The logo contest is one of the first activities of the Texas Sesquicentennial Commission. Created by the 66th legislature in 1979, the Commission is charged to "coordinate celebrations of the 150th anniversary of Texas' independence as a Republic and progress as a state." These celebrations will highlight the "historic, economic, cultural, environmental and social aspects of Texas."

During the planning stages of the Sesquicentennial, the Commission functions as a clearinghouse of information between state and local levels. The Commission will also work to encourage state, national, and international participation, to develop standards for sanctioning local groups, and to plan for the creation of commemorative products, such as stamps and medallions.

The Commission publishes a special newsletter of the Sesquicentennial, the Texas National Dispatch. The Dispatch is a revival of a newspaper published in the early days of the Texas Republic at Washington-on-the-Brazos, and will be available free of charge.

The contest to develop a visual symbol, trademark, or logo, of the Sesquicentennial is open to all Texans. Contest rules are as follows: (1) Only one entry per person; (2) All are eligible except Commission members, staff, and their immediate families; (3) Designs must be submitted on one side of a plain, white 8 1/2" x 11 paper; (4) Entrants' names, addresses, phone numbers, and school affiliations (if any) are to be printed on the back; (5) All entries must be postmarked no later than San Jacinto Day, April 21, 1981 and the winner and runners-up will be announced on May 5, 1981 in Austin.

For further information about the logo contest, the Texas National Dispatch, and the Texas Sesquicentennial in general, Texans may write: Texas Sesquicentennial Commission, P.O. Box 19860, Southeast Station, Austin, Texas 78760.

Cleaning Brass

Make brass look new by following a few cleaning suggestions, advises Mary Lou Rowland, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Scrub with very fine steel wool and full-strength household ammonia, rinse and then polish with brass polish, she says.

Mrs. Rowland is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Use this method to clean a brass door knocker: If possible, remove the knocker from the door. Let it stand in ammonia to get dirt out of the crevices, then polish with brass polish.

To give a brass doorknob a permanent shine, clean as described, and then apply a couple of thin coats of clear spray-on lacquer, the specialist suggests.

For solid-brass trays that have tarnished and turned powdery green in places, scrub with straight household ammonia and very fine steel wool, also. If trays are plated brass, clean with a soft cloth and brass polish only. Applying a clear spray-on lacquer will prevent future tarnishing, but you'll get a prettier, softer look if you finish the tray with brass polish.

If brass is rusted or rusting, it indicates that it is plated brass and probably needs refinishing at a plating shop, she points out. Near the seashore, if brass tarnishes only a few days after it is polished, wipe with a very thin film of gasoline or gun oil after polishing. This will prevent tarnishing for several weeks, Mrs. Rowland adds.

Pumpkin Time Herald's A Harvest of Goodies

Pumpkins are native to America, as everyone has learned from the Pilgrim's story of that first Thanksgiving. An unknown writer in 1630 said, "We have pumpkins in the morning, and pumpkins at noon. If it were not for pumpkins, we should be quite undone."

Pumpkin comes from pompions, an old French word derived from the Greek, meaning "cooked by the sun." And indeed, pumpkins are rich in vitamin A, according to Dairy Council, Inc. home economists.

There's such versatility in pumpkin that it can come to breakfast, lunch or dinner. Pumpkin Date Muffins are a warmly welcomed breakfast treat on a chilly morning. Fruited Pumpkin Bread with its bonus of mixed candied fruit, raisins and walnuts might appear at lunch, snack or dinner with butter or cream cheese spread. Frosted Pumpkin Cookies would delight anyone as a go-together with crisp apples or pears and a glass of milk for dessert or snack.

Pumpkin Date Muffins

1 1/2 c. all-purpose flour
3/4 c. sugar
2 teas. baking powder
1/2 teas. salt
1/2 teas. cinnamon
1/2 teas. mace
1/2 c. chopped dates
3/4 cup milk
1/2 c. canned pumpkin
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter, melt
1 egg
Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Combine flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and mace in large bowl. Stir in dates. Beat milk, pumpkin, butter and egg in a small bowl. Add to dry ingredients and stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill 12 buttered muffin cups about 3/4 full. Bake 20-25 minutes.

Fruited Pumpkin Bread

Mix 1/4 cup flour with fruit, raisins and walnuts. Combine remaining flour, baking powder, pumpkin spice, soda and salt; add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Stir in fruit mixture. Pour into buttered 9X5 inch loaf pan. Bake 60 to 70 minutes or until a wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack 5 minutes. Remove from pan to cool completely. When cool, wrap tightly in plastic or foil.

Trees in the Bible

If you are looking for an inexpensive, appropriate gift for the Christmas season, the Texas Forest Service still has copies of "Trees in the Bible."

Circular 227 illustrates familiar Bible quotations with photographs of scenic areas of Texas which are similar to those of the Holy Land. A reference section cross-indexes the biblical, common and scientific names of most trees mentioned in the Bible. Illustrations feature missions and gardens of San Antonio, Hamilton's Pool near Austin and the Big Bend area.

First published in 1946 to encourage a greater appreciation of the historical value of trees, "Trees in the Bible" was revised in 1976 to include new photographs and additional scriptures.

Copies are available from any Texas Forest Service office, or by writing the Texas Forest Service, College Station, Tx. 77843. Purchase price of 50 cents includes state sales tax.

Christmas Fruit Leather or Jerky

Fruit leather or fruit jerky makes nutritious gifts for children at Christmas, says Rose Tindall Postel, a foods and nutrition specialist.

They are simple and easy to prepare and make very tasty snacks, she says.

Dr. Postel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Prepare this natural-fruit product in the child's favorite flavor of apple, peach, pear, apricot or fig.

Fruit Leather, Fruit Jerky
 Use: 8 ounces dried fruit (peaches, pears, apples, apricots or figs). Cook fruit as directed on package, drain and cool. Puree in a blender or press through a sieve or colander.

Cover a 15 X 10 X 1 inch pan with foil. Spread fruit pulp in a thin layer. Bake 25 minutes at 300 degrees F. Without opening the oven door, turn off the oven and let dry eight hours or overnight.

Peel off foil, roll the fruit leather into a loose cylinder and wrap in plastic wrap to store in refrigerator until it's time to slice for the children.

the results lowered the quality of education."

Support for that statement is seen in declining records of achievement tests in the past 15 years. Collins quotes that Scholastic Aptitude Test averages have dropped from 973 points in 1964 to 894 in 1979. Also a 1979 study in Dallas ISD showed that 1115 students who were not bused were a quarter year head of 810 students who were bused.

Besides being an inexcusable imposition on students and their parents, which ought to be the first consideration, busing has also been an inexcusable burden to taxpayers. The cost of providing buses and drivers plus the high cost of gas has been astronomical. And the waste of scarce gasoline in our energy crisis has been stupid.

It's possible the Democratic Congress intends to steal GOP thunder before the new administration gets on the job. If so, let's hope it succeeds. We the public would like to see busing wiped out no matter who gets credit for doing it.

In relation to integration, something may have been started last week by a judge in an Eastern state who handed down a decision favorable to whites on the membership of a basketball team. He said that a high school team which had been all black must allow a fair representation of whites regardless of ability.

If that order stands we can expect a howl of protest from management, coaches and the public. The reason is that the object in athletics is to achieve playing excellence rather than racial equality.

That's the reason why professional and college teams have a high percentage of blacks. It's well known that they have the better athletic ability, so they are preferred by win-conscious managers. However the preference amounts to racial discrimination. The race which numbers about 20 per cent has more than 50 per cent representation on the top college and pro teams.

Well, what's going to happen now since the judge ordered a team to put on more whites? Is this the beginning of ordering a racial balance on pro and college teams? Let's hope it isn't. Let's hope that teams will continue choosing their players on the basis of merit. Allow them to develop their best possible ability.

But while attention is being directed to this fact of life, let's remember that the same standard does not apply in other fields. Too frequently ability is disregarded to achieve racial balance, and the business is deprived of its right to make the preferred choice.

If this country is really striving for racial equality it needs to disregard color and emphasize ability. In business or sport, it should favor the person who seems capable to do the better job. Let the blacks have whatever advantage they deserve, as in athletics, but also let whites have whatever advantages they deserve in other lines.

from the Texas Energy Extension Service

What are some external factors that can affect windspeeds?
R. E., Port Lavaca.

The local terrain influences windspeed as well as the nearness of houses, barns, trees or other obstructions. Similarly, location in a draw or the bottom of a narrow valley will produce wind conditions quite different from those over upland sites.

Windspeed is very dependent on a site's specific conditions. Windspeeds reach a maximum over long stretches of flat terrain free from obstructions, over mountain crests or over rounded hill-tops. Sites with these features are ideal.

The worst sites are those in rough terrain, on mesas or buttes and on the flanks of mountains. Draws, ravines, and arroyos should be avoided altogether.

For more information on wind energy, the Texas Energy Extension Service has a wind energy packet available free upon request.

I am interested in the feasibility of adobe construction in relationship to a passive solar system. Is this an effective combination?
J. E., Cuero.

Adobe construction can be very effectively integrated with a passive solar design under the right conditions. It is most effective in areas where there are daily temperature fluctuations or temperature swings from night to day such as in the Southwest. For centuries adobe Indian dwellings in the Southwest have taken advantage of these conditions.

With adobe structures, the high mass exterior walls soak up large amounts of sunlight like a big thermal sponge. As the exterior surfaces warm during the day, the heat slowly moves through the adobe as each successive inch is warmed by the inward wave of heat.

For more information on the use of solar energy in the home, the Texas Energy Extension Service has available free upon request solar information applicable to Texas. The packet includes a list of sources available in the supplementary collections of some of the large city libraries in the state.

If you have a question about energy conservation around the home, send it to ENERGY ANSWERS, Texas Energy Extension Service, Center for Energy and Mineral Resources, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.
