

With Co. C, 835th Engr. Bn. Avn. Camp Young, Indio, California

SUNDAY, NOV. 29—This has been a week of ups and downs. At times we were steamed up over the possibility of an early move. A day or so later, when training took on the semblance of normal routine, we'd cool down again. After several such experiences we're becoming more or less immune to rumors, so-called significant signs, or anything else.

However, we're definitely more conscious. Training is more intensive and more interesting than it used to be, especially as far as weapons are concerned. We're getting the dope on rifles, machine guns, tommy guns, the pistols. All of which makes this seem a lot more like an army. Working details — often with pick and shovel — have too much of a WPA flavor. A gun is essential to the idea of a soldier, even if he is in a construction outfit. The day may come when he has to lay down his tools and pick up his weapons.

After all these months we're beginning to learn something about Uncle Sam's wonder rifle, the famous Garand model, better known in the army as the M1. It really is a dandy. Deserving of all the praise it has received. The army claims that, everything considered—accuracy, fire power, dependability, simplicity—it's the world's best. Nine of them can squirt as much lead as a machine gun. A fair barrage in itself.

Opinions vary, however. Some of our old fogey army men, who have been fondling the Springfield rifle for years insist they won't have the new fangled thing. Say they won't take chances in a tight spot with any automatic contraption. They like the certainty of bolt action.

There are remarks also about the Springfield's greater accuracy. It's conceded to be the hardest and straightest shooting combat rifle, you know. As if that made a lot of difference. First of all an army rifle is more accurate than most of the men who fire it. In the second place a slug an inch to either side is just as effective as one placed squarely between a Jap's eyes.

We've had the chance to tear the Garand down and see what makes it tick. This week we're going to see how it performs—rather, how we perform with it. The good old rifle range again. We're looking forward to it. Besides, we'll get the feel of machine guns and tommy guns in action.

We're determined that when the time comes for us to take our places over there we'll be able to blast a few enemy planes. According to the story they gave us back in rookie days, that's the kind of fighting an outfit like ours has to expect. Besides building and maintaining air fields we have to defend them. Usually against air raids. Occasionally it may require skirmishes with enemy infiltration parties.

It's interesting to notice how men are taking this more serious training. They're ready, even impatient, to go across without any more delay. Others, even while admitting they don't want to rush into the fight, are calmly waiting for the order. So, in effect, being on the alert isn't much more than a technicality, plus an excuse to keep us in the company area. There are no over-night passes and very few passes of any other kind. Sunday is just another day. Meanwhile, we get a few breaks. Some of the former monotony has been eliminated. No inspections, for instance. And there hasn't been a gig in two weeks for unshined shoes.

Actually, our interest, just like the rest of the nation's, is centered on the present course of the war. Boys around here watch the headlines closely. They feel convinced that this is the beginning of a mopping up drive. When will it be over? Is the big question. Ninety per cent of our gang is counting the days until the return to civilian life. Most of 'em expect the war to last something more than six months, but not as much as a year.

Quite a number of the fellows were disappointed about the French fleet's suicide. Like you and me, they had hopes that when the time came for action the Frenchmen would turn their sea power over to the allies. This move, though quite helpful, is insignificant compared with what might have been achieved. The lack of sensational news in other sectors also has a slight effect on enthusiasm.

What's happened? Have the allies simultaneously slowed down on every front or has someone in

Muenster State Bank Increases Capital Stock

$17,500 Capital Stock Is Raised To $25,000 TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS

Our Board of Directors has adopted a resolution at a regular director's meeting, December 1st, 1942, pursuant to all stockholders having executed waiver of publication notice to the increase of the Capital Stock from $17,500.00 to $25,000.00.

There are outstanding at this time 175 shares of common stock of the par value of $100.00 each and the additional of 75 shares issued ratably, to the present stockholders at $100.00 per share, thereby providing $7,500.00 to cover the increase in capital stock, constituting a stock dividend of 43 percent.

The increase in the capital account of the bank was deemed advisable by the board so as to better prepare the bank to meet the growing volume of business that is steadily being developed throughout the trade territory and also to provide the bank with a capital structure that will contribute even more substantially towards the maintenance of the financial structure of the community.

The present surplus of the bank is $17,500.00 and a resolution was passed to transfer $2,500.00 from the profits account to surplus and deducting therefrom the stock dividend of $7,500.00 sets the certified surplus at $12,500.00. With the capital of $25,000.00 the Capital structure totals $37,500.00 a book

Salvage of Silk, Nylon Hosiery Started Here

Women Asked To Give Their Worn-Out And Discarded Stockings

Women's out-worn and discarded stockings are going to war. These cast-offs will provide the War and Navy departments with large stocks of silk and nylon for the manufacture of essential war materials.

The drive, inaugurated recently in the county, got under way here during the weekend when Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, director of the campaign in this city, provided local business houses with containers with display cards, designating them as "Hosiery Collection Depots."

All hose must be clean, but that is the only requirement in regard to their condition.

Every effort is being made to get all old hose in the county together by January 1st.

All silk, all nylon, silk and nylon mixtures, and mixtures of rayon and silk, nylon and rayon, silk and cotton, nylon and cotton are enlisted in this drive.

Much of the silk from these hose will be used to make powder bags, in which powder is placed for generating the power required to expel a shell from guns of major calibre. Silk is the only thing that will burn without leaving embers, and the guns can be fired with greater speed without having to be cleaned before a new charge is inserted. It was explained. The nylon will be used to make other articles necessary to war.

Mrs. Felix Johnson, Jr. of Gainesville is the county chairman of this particular drive and she appointed Mrs. Weinzapfel to take charge of the work in this community.

Receipts have been placed in the M. J. Endres, Jacob Pagel, Carra Pagel and Farmer's stores.

The hosiery will be delivered to the government agency, Defense Supplies Corporation, Green Island, New York. The retailer does not make any profit on the collection of these items. He is responsible for any costs involved in preparing the hose for shipment, but sends his package with carrying charges collect to the government agency.

Every woman and girl in Muenster is urged to participate in this campaign.

Thanksgiving Picnic-Bazaar Best To Date

Turkey And Sausage Banquet Draws 400 Homefolks And Visitors

Favorable weather, a large turnout of Muenster people and an unusually large gathering of visitors insured outstanding success for the Mothers' Society in the annual parish picnic Thanksgiving day. The achievement surpassed any previous picnic and bazaar, even the grand events of the good old days several years ago.

The headline feature, the community dinner, consisted of turkey, chicken, fresh country sausage, dressing, salads, vegetables and a variety of pies. More than 400 persons were served at noon. Other attractions which contributed to the success of the day were the target and trap shooting contests, tango stand, refreshments counters, country store and general social gathering in the evening.

The proceeds of the affair were turned over to Father Thomas to be placed in the parish fund for the new church. In acknowledging the donation Sunday, the pastors expressed their sincere appreciation to members of the Mothers' Society for their tireless efforts, to all other helpers for their much needed assistance, to those who made donations and to all patrons for contributing to the success of the cause.

WARTIME TRAINING SCHOOL IN FT. WORTH FOR FIREMEN DEC. 14

AUSTIN—A wartime training school for firemen in the Fifth Fire Service District will be held in Fort Worth during the week beginning December 14.

Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner and Fire Service Coordinator of the National Defense Committee for Texas, says the school is an important part of the statewide training program recently announced for Texas firemen.

The series of training schools for the 26 Texas Fire Service Districts has been arranged through cooperation of the State Board of Vocational Education, the Office of Civilian Defense and the National Defense Committee for Texas. J. R. Dickhout, Dallas Fire Department Captain, is instructor for the school. On leave from the Dallas department, Mr. Dickhout has been employed by the State Board of Vocational Education as an instructor for the firemen's teacher-training program. He has recently attended an OCD regional instructor's school at Stillwater, Okla.

District Five includes the counties of Cooke, Wise, Denton, Parker, Palo Pinto, Tarrant, Erath, Hood, Johnson and Somerville.

Two firemen from each department within the district will attend the Fort Worth school. Following the week of special training these firemen will return to their respective departments and hold local training sessions. In addition, the school is open to representatives of fire departments for industrial plants, as well as the armed forces within the district.

NO QUOTAS, NO LOAN ON 1943 COTTON

COLLEGE STATION—No government loan can be offered on cotton in 1943 if marketing quotas are rejected in the nation-wide referendum Saturday, December 12, Frank Seale, state AAA Committeeman, reminded cotton growers this week.

Seale, himself a Robertson county farmer, pointed out that the law prohibits the Commodity Credit Corporation from making loans on cotton in any year in which quotas are rejected.

The government loan has served as a floor under cotton prices ever since 1938, the first year quotas were in effect, the AAA committeeman declared. Currently, the basic cotton loan rate of 16.97 cents a pound, 90 percent of parity, is supporting the price of cotton.

"With our huge supply of cotton and with world prices equal to about half what we're getting for cotton, there is no telling what would happen to American cotton prices if the loan were removed," Seale declared.

Cotton growers will vote for the sixth time on marketing quotas December 12. Each year for the past five years they have voted overwhelmingly to use quotas as a means of assuring each producer his fair share of the available cotton market.

Food For Freedom Goals Will Be Announced In Latter Part of December

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 1.—Sign-up of Texas farmers in their second year of wartime production will get underway the latter part of December.

State production goals, which will be announced at Memphis, Tenn., December 7-9, will be allocated to counties and individual farms immediately, B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA war board, said this week.

Critical bottlenecks, such as labor, equipment and transportation were cited by the chairman as reasons why goals would be more difficult to reach in 1943 than in 1942 when agricultural production hit an all-time high.

"At the same time we're running into these shortages, demand for food has increased, not only for our boys in the armed forces, but for Lend-Lease requirements as well," he said.

To date, only two production goals, winter vegetables and hogs, have been announced under the 1943 program.

Texas has possibly the greatest volume and variety of stone of any state, and also great quantities of sand and gravel, Portland cement materials, brick and tile clays, gypsum and asphalt.

Use Of Light-Weight Stationery For Air Mail Urged By Postal Dept.

The volume of air mail is constantly increasing, while at the same time, facilities for transporting it have been curtailed in order to move essential war material and personnel. Therefore, in order that space available for air mail may be utilized for the fullest advantage to the greatest number of persons, it is necessary that all cooperate by reducing the weight of air-mail letters and packages as much as possible, the postoffice department has announced.

By using light weight envelopes and stationery approximately twice the number of letters to the pound can be sent as when ordinary stationery is used. The limited space available for air mail in planes will thus be conserved for maximum use.

When writing to men overseas the use of V-Mail only is stressed. Both V-Mail and light weight stationery may be procured at the Enterprise office from 5 to 50 cents per pack.

Lignite, of which Texas produces an appreciable quantity, is found in a broad band stretching across Texas approximately from Laredo on the Rio Grande to Texarkana on the northeastern border.

FARMERS TO RECEIVE TEMPORARY RATIONS FOR TRANSPORTATION

Temporary transport rations are in store for owners of farm vehicles whose certificates of war necessity do not provide sufficient gasoline for 30 days essential operation.

Under an adjustment phase of the transportation program, the Texas USDA War Board announced this week that farm vehicle operators should make requests for additional gasoline to local War Price and Rationing Boards where obvious errors have been made in certificates.

The procedure for handling emergency cases was agreed upon by the Department of Agriculture and the Office of Price Administration.

The War Board explained that when allowances are corrected by the local War Price and Rationing Boards, operators will receive motor fuel rations for operation to December 31 and the amount of gasoline used will be deducted later from the total gallons of motor fuel allowed on a corrected certificate of war necessity.

County Farm Transportation Committees are scheduled to handle appeal cases from farmers for corrected certificates, the War Board said in explaining that regular ODT appeal forms would be sent to committees as soon as possible.

Temporary rations will take care of emergency cases and give committees sufficient time to consider appeals and make proper recommendations to ODT under regular appeal procedure, the Board pointed out.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit:

Your Health

BY GEO. W. COX, M. D.
Texas State Health Officer

Austin, Texas—It has been reliably estimated that within a year approximately one-third of the total number of 180,000 physicians in the United States will have left their practices to serve with the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps. This deficiency in medical attention available to the general population will be even greater that it appears on the surface inasmuch as a large number of those remaining are not in active practice due to old age, teaching or public health activities, or full-time employment with industry. Plainly, this situation develops a problem for the physicians who will remain at home, the solution of which to some degree will be in the hands of the general public, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"There is no desire to imply that the family physician, now or later, must not be summoned except in dire need. In fact, there is a greater reason than ever before to seek his advice on living habits, to have him give a thorough periodic check-up, and to have him treat conditions promptly, which if disregarded, are apt to cause more serious trouble later on. The only point being emphasized is that one should not attempt thoughtlessly to consume the doctor's valuable time and energy by insisting that he make a home call when an office visit or suggestions over the telephone might suffice.

"While in cities, lack of medical service has not as yet reached an acute stage, there are already rural sections feeling the pinch. It follows that everyone, both for his own and his country's sake should live sensibly to the end that maximum health may be attained, and avoidable home medical service be eliminated.

"In this connection, the following rules, among others, may be suggested: Eat nutritious foods. Obtain sufficient rest at night. Shun debilitating and exhausting habits. Keep the use of stimulants of all kinds within sensible bounds. Exercise daily. Detour worry as much as possible."

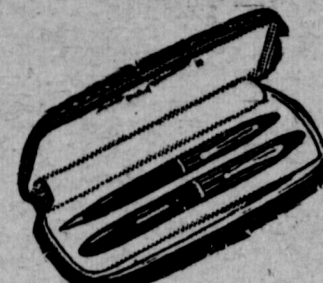

—GET IN THE SCRAP—

DON'T TRAVEL AT CHRISTMAS TIME

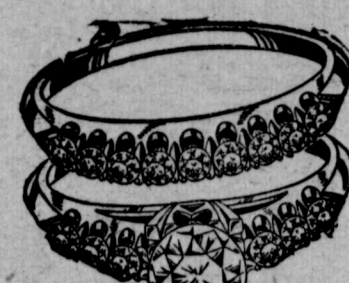

Washington—it will take practically everything on wheels to handle the country's holiday bus and train travel, an ODT spokesman said Saturday, but the government does not intend to put priority restrictions on passenger space.

Addressing itself to the public at large, the government has requested: "Please don't travel over the Christmas and New Year holiday season unless you are moving on war business.

Muenster Bank---

value of $150.00 per share.
The bank organized and opened July 2nd, 1923 and never failed to pay a regular dividend each year since then, including a dividend No. 19 for the year of 1942 of 5-percent besides the above mentioned stock dividend. The officers and Directors have been faithful to their trust and were influential in the promotion and development of many enterprising and successful business institutions in Muenster.

Our record of unusual service rendered to our patrons, city, community, state and nation is reflected in the bank's growth. With resources now near one-half million dollars, we believe that the plan to increase the capital is in keeping with the sound and conservative policy that has characterized the bank throughout its history.

The proposal has the advantage of adding greater strength to the capital structure and at the same time making the increase to the interest of each stockholder.

The achievements enumerated are an expressed tribute and reflect in memory to the untiring efforts and fidelity of the original officers, directors, stockholders and patrons who are still with us and those who have passed on to their reward.

Very cordially yours,
J. M. Weinzapfel,
President

We all came to school Monday with a clear conscience because none of the teachers assigned work to be prepared during Thanksgiving Holidays. That by the way made our vacation more enjoyable.

For the present we are without a man teacher. Monday, Mr. Gray resigned and went to work in San Antonio. We wish him the best of luck in his new job. At the present Mrs. Birchfield has taken his place in school and Mr. Martin is substituting as bus driver.

The bookmobile came Monday. After we got our books a picture, depicting the life and work of our Forest Rangers, was shown.

Monday we started a conservation course. Since we do not have a basic text we will be required to keep notebooks. Some of the topics to be studied in this course are: Low Income, Soil Depletion, Tariff, Nutrition, Health, etc. Miss Bradshaw and Miss Wiedeman are giving the lessons.

Throw Your Scrap into the Fight

Confetti---

Our censorship department decided that it's time to modify the reports a bit? Perhaps it's better that the news is going this way. In the long run it may have a more wholesome effect on the public. Cocksureness in one result of too much good news. People take things for granted and start coasting. We were coming to that point. Only a few days after the big drive was launched in Africa we heard rumors that big money was betting on an armistice within a few months. Let that attitude spread too far and we'll have trouble keeping our war effort at its peak. We all remember the big change of attitudes shortly after December 7. There were headlines galore on the Russians and U. S. Marines, until we started getting the notion that our enemies were a lot of imbeciles. Then came a few grim facts to prove that this is a real fight after all. And we were told to get set for a long, hard war.

Now, as then, it's wise to take nothing for granted. If the enemy is still tougher than we think, we'll need all the extra effort to win. If not, the extra effort will pay big dividends in time and lives saved.
