It is amazing as well as disappointing to hear that a California court has banned the Biblical theory of man's origin as acceptable classroom teaching, but gives its approval to the evolution theory. The decision was that the evolution theory is scientific and therefore has a proper place in education, whereas the theory of creation by God is religious and therefore cannot be admitted in the curriculum.

The thinking here, of course, refers back to the same old questionable interpretation on separation of church and state. Our founding fathers wisely wished to provide for freedom of religion in this country, so they advised against the adoption of any creed as a state religion, an arrangement that had caused extensive troubles in European countries. But they were not advising against religion in general. On the contrary they were deeply religious men whose writings and public statements clearly revealed their faith as well as their conviction that religion and morality are essential to good government.

The sad fact is that their wise proposal has been both violated and twisted so that the result is the complete opposite of the original idea. Avoiding affiliation with any particular creed was twisted into a ban of all religion, and inevitably into the active promotion of atheism. As God is banished more and more from American life, we can see our civilization being eroded more and more by Godlessness.

It is unfortunate that this thought did not occur to the California judge. He should have realized that his ban of religion from the classrooms was actually the admission of anti-religion, which is only the opposite side of the same subject.

So much for the man's faulty thinking in that he presumed to keep religion out of the school. He hasn't done that, but he has strengthened the presence of another religion, which is antagonistic to God and civilization.

The man goofed also in saying that the evolution theory is acceptable in school because it is scientific whereas the creation theory is not acceptable because it is religious. The fact is that the Biblical version is scientific as well as religious, furthermore it can even be considered the more scientific of the two.

Based on the established scientific dogma that every effect must have a cause, Genesis states plainly that God created man. It leaves no doubt about the origin of the complete human being.

Opponents of this theory like to make an issue over the six days of creation. But is that really important? Does it matter whether the day of Genesis was of the same duration as ours, or rather a term to signify a stage in the creation process? Regardless of whether the "day" was 24 hours or millions of years, the significant fact is God was there and in charge all of the time.

Evolution, on the other hand, says that man came from the monkey, a theory that can possibly apply so far as the body is concerned, but how about intelligence? The characteristic which distinguishes man from the other animals. The monkey had no intelligence. How was it possible for it to transmit a quality it did not have in the first place?

Also on the physical side, can the Darwinian people be certain that one species of a being can change to another? If so, can they point to any change of species which is now in process? Even among continued on page 2...

Blood collected at the Muenster Bloodmobile is returned to the Wichita Falls Blood Center where it is processed and distributed. Emergency needs of blood are filled day or night by drivers from the center to Muenster or any other part of the region serviced.

Blood Collection Date, Mar. 25

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Muenster on Wednesday, March 25th for the annual spring blood donor program. This is one of the two drives conducted each year to insure the blood needs of the community are met. The second collection, as usual, will be held in the fall during the month of October. Again, the target is a minimum of 100 units.

Muenster Memorial Hospital and the Muenster community is one of 42 hospitals and communities in Texas and Oklahoma served by the Red Cross Regional Center of Wichita Falls. Each community provides its fair share of the overall needs of the system with collections being made in one of the communities every week day of every week. That schedule of collections thus insures a fresh supply of blood on hand at all times for distribution throughout the system as needed.

David Bright, administrator of Muenster Memorial Hospital stated local usage has been steadily increasing over the years. At the same time local members are provided blood by other facilities in Denton, Dallas, and Fort Worth. Those facilities all require replacement of the blood and arrangements exist within the Red Cross program for that replacement. Bright said that even though usage and replacements continue to increase, the local quota of 100 units has remained unchanged since quotas are based on community capabilities rather than need and usage. He added there have been few times when Muenster failed to meet the target and then by only a few units.

A stock of fresh blood is kept on hand in the hospital at all times to take care of immediate needs. That is augmented by special deliveries as additional demands arise.

Any unused stocks are rotated back to the Wichita Falls center as fresh blood arrives. It is then processed into its separate components so none is wasted. Under this system as many as six people can be helped from only one unit of blood.

This month's drive will be at the Knights of Columbus Hall and the hours will be 2 through 7 p.m. While repeat donors are the mainstay of the local program, new and first time donors are urged to participate, and especially those who have friends and family members who have received blood.

Hubert Felderhoff Dies at 87

Funeral service for Hubert Felderhoff, 87, was held Saturday, March 7, in Sacred Heart Church with Father Denis Soerries officiating at the Mass of Christian Burial and Fathers Stephen Eckart and Cletus Post concelebrating, while Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr, Bishop John J. Cassata, Father Anthony Gajda and Father Dan Williams attended in the sanctuary.

Likewise attending in formal attire were three Knights and two Ladies of Holy Sepulchre: Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kaiser of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartush Sr., and J.M. Weinzapfel, honoring their brother member of the papal order. Bishop Cassata is also a member of the order.

Banquet and Germanfest Plans Reviewed by Chamber

Sally Williams, a member of the Texas War on Drugs organization and a prominent lecturer on presenting the story of drug evils to the public, will be the guest speaker at the Muenster Chamber of

Parish Asks for Donations to Help Tamplen Infant

Little Stephanie Tamplen, born March 1, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tamplen, is presently under intensive care in Muenster Memorial Hospital. Her critical condition was brought to the attention of Sacred Heart Parish in last Sunday's parish bulletin which also announced that a special collection to relieve the family's financial burden will be held at all the services Saturday and Sunday.

Other opportunities to help the family can be found in a number of business houses where canisters have been set up for donations. They are located at Fischer's Market, H&H Ceramics, Floyd's Bar, Bayer's Kolonialwaren, and Kountry Korner.

Commerce annual banquet and installation at the K of C hall on Friday, March 20.

In selecting her the Chamber has a double purpose of entertaining and extending by emphatic presentation the community's limited knowledge of drug evils.

The banquet, with program and installation of directors and officers, will begin at 7:30 and will be preceded by a happy hour. The report on banquet plans was given Tuesday at the organization's regular meeting.

Other discussion centered on the Germanfest, which was said to be on schedule. Among the more significant disclosures: a small extra tent is planned, to be located east of the big tent, which is on the tennis courts, providing more space for cramped concessions; to date 21 concessions are assured, 4 are probable and more are expected; also the area north of the pavilion will be adorned by three 30-foot flag poles flying the banners of Texas, United States and West Germany. An effort is now under way to get a flag of Muenster, Germany. If obtained it will

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was directed by Nick Miller Funeral Home; military honors were conducted by personnel of the VFW Post headed by Arthur Bayer. Felderhoff was a veteran of World War I, having served in Europe. Pallbearers were Billy Felderhoff, Tommy Felderhoff Jr., David Spaeth, John Dangelmayr, Don Knauf and Glenn Voth.

Census Report Irks Muenster

Now it's official. Confirming an unofficial report released some months ago, the City of Muenster has received a "preliminary report" from the Bureau of the Census indicating that the city's population has declined from 1411 to 1399 in the past 10 years.

It is a depressing report for a community that is proud of its progress, also a frustrating report when one considers that this erroneous and belittling figure is presented as fact to many people whom Muenster would like to impress.

Housing statistics on the same report are more reliable, stating that the city has gained from 402 to 517 units, which cannot be reconciled with the population count. The 25 per cent gain does not harmonize with the 1 percent loss. Furthermore that fact is apparent in reports of other cities. For instance, the state's population has gained from 11,198,655 to 14,169,829 while housing units gained from 3,830,091 to 5,541,509. Also Cooke County population gained from 23,471 to 28,042 while its housing gained from 8,453 to 11,652.

Some of the other North Texas cities were reported as follows.

Bowie: Population up from 5,185 to 5,619, housing up from 2,156 to 2,481;

Gainesville: Population up from 13,830 to 14,120, housing up from 5,227 to 6,060;

Nocona: Population up from 2,871 to 2,989, housing up from 1,276 to 1,462;

Pilot Point: Population up from 1,663 to 2,197, housing up from 609 to 877;

Saint Jo: Population up from 1,054 to 1,065, housing up from 436 to 515;

Sanger: Population up from 1,603 to 2,557, housing up from 598 to 968;

Whitesboro: Population up from 2,927 to 3,158, housing up from 1,204 to 1,389;

Denton: Population up from 39,874 to 47,847, housing up from 12,780 to 19,299;

Decatur: Population up from 3,240 to 4,061, housing up from 1,241 to 1,678;

Denison: Population down from 24,923 to 23,918, housing up from 9,186 to 10,184;

Sherman: Population up from 29,061 to 30,339, housing up from 10,596 to 12,850.

City Will Vote on Taxing New Water District Area

Qualified voters of Muenster at the election of April 4 will be called upon to complete the process of extending the boundary of Muenster Water District to match that of the city. A recent resolution by the city council annexed all area which was added to the city since the water district was formed in 1973. The intention now is to make the newly annexed area subject to the same bonded obligation and tax that applies to the original area of the district.

The ballot concerning this election will read: "For or Against...the assumption of bond indebtedness and the levying of the tax in payment thereof."

The proposition applies only to the newly annexed area, making it subject to the same responsibility which already exists in the original area of the water district. However voting is not restricted to the annexed area. Everybody living in the present city limit, which is identical with the water district, is qualified to vote.

It is assumed that the proposition will be approved because the people already obligated can be expected to vote in favor of having the newcomers share the responsibility with them.

Vandalism Is Everyone's Business

By Alford Winn

Taxpayers, how are your tax dollars being spent? Most of them are being spent wisely; to pay for schools, streets, street lights, police protection, and many other services that your local city and school district provide. These services are necessary and you should gladly pay the necessary tax to pay for them.

Some of your tax dollars, too many I'm afraid, are going to pay for damages that your children and the children of your neighbors are causing. These people are children even though many of them are in their twenties. The form of their vandalism is cutting up lawns with their automobiles, knocking down signs, breaking windows, and many other kinds of destructive behavior.

An example of the destructive nature of these young hoodlums is: Sunday night someone cut up the front lawn of Muenster Public School and threw mud all over the front of the school. This destruction is over $1,000.00.

It is almost certain that someone knows who did this thing, but because of fear or just do not care, will not get involved and report it. Maybe some feel that it is not their school so they do not care. That is wrong; it is your school whether you choose it to be or not. Every inch of property in Texas belongs to some Public School and that public school collects taxes to pay for the necessary things. If some is siphoned off to pay for vandalism then it must raise taxes or some necessary thing is left undone.

When you see some one destroying property or damaging property it is your duty to call the police and testify. Only by all the law-abiding citizens banding together can the lawlessness in our society be eliminated. Remember all public property belongs to you; your taxes paid for it, and your taxes will have to replace it.

March 19 is Agriculture Day And St. Joseph Feast

In Texas and across America, March 19 has been designated as American Agriculture Day; and Muenster area residents join the nation in saluting the agriculture industry.

Also in Muenster, March 19 is observed as the traditional feast day of Saint Joseph, with special prayers to him as the patron of good crops, cultivated and produced in favorable conditions, with protection from destructive or violent weather.

In Muenster March 19 is observed honoring St. Joseph as a loving patron-protector during springtime storms. Old timers and community pioneers have long sought the protection of St. Joseph and devotion to him grew after storms wrecked two early church buildings when Muenster was a young colony. They firmly believe he is due credit and their descendants have preserved the devotion by marking March 19 as a day observed with special Continued on Page 5...

$1150 Given to Heart Fund

The people of Muenster opened their hearts and purses in this year's collection for the American Heart Association.

Wayne Klement, campaign chairman, said that the total was $1150 in two drives by the Jaycees. $950 was collected on Thursday, March 7, before workers quit because of the late hour and the balance was collected last Thursday.

Klement said that Muenster people deserve a pat on the back for generous and cheerful giving, as described by Jaycees who went from door to door, and he extends the Heart Association's thanks to both workers and donors.

The donations will be used at the national, state and county levels of the association for research, hospital treatment, education, CPR classes, and other means of dealing with heart diseases.

HUMANISM: A RELIGION
The American body politic is still reeling in reaction to a phenomenon which occurred during the recent election campaign — the emergence of the religious Right. Groups of many persuasions have come forward to claim the credit for the outcome of the election. No one group can really claim credit for an accomplishment made possible by many groups.

There is considerable evidence, however, to indicate that The Roundtable and Moral Majority played important parts by registering voters and encouraging church members to become politically active.

Strident voices being raised by some defeated "liberal" politicians and left-wing clergy allege ulterior motives on the part of the religious Right. Nothing could be further from the truth.

The truth is that at long last, after too many years of complacency, Christians have finally decided it is time to defend the faith and take action against the evils confronting society.

Too many anti-Christian actions have been taken by all levels of government. Immorality and depravity have sapped the spirit of our people. Degeneracy has become widespread in art, literature, the theater, films, music, and television. It has even invaded the pulpits of some "liberal" religious denominations and cults.

It is because of their faith and for their faith that Christians have risen from their previous apathy, not for partisan political reasons. Christians have finally come to realize their faith is threatened by the new religion of the state, Humanism.

Dr. Tim LaHaye, in his book The Battle for the Mind, documents the religious nature of Humanism, and cites U.S. Supreme Court cases which found it to be so. In Torcaso v. Watkins, Justice Hugo L. Black wrote:

"Among religions in this country which do not teach what would generally be considered a belief in the existence of God are Buddhism, Taoism, Ethical Culture, Secular Humanism and others." Other Supreme Court cases similarly identify Humanism as a religion.

The Humanists themselves refer to their faith as a religion. Dr. LaHaye quotes Lloyd Morain, former president of the American Humanist Association:

"Down through the ages men have been seeking a universal religion or way of life. Humanism... shows promise of becoming a great world faith. Humanists are content with fixing their attention on this life and on this earth. There is a religion without a God, divine revelation, or sacred scriptures."

Dr. LaHaye points out that in Humanist Manifesto I its beliefs are referred to nine times as a religion. For instance: "Humanism is a philosophical, religious, and moral point of view as old as human civilization itself. It has its roots in classical China, Greece, and Rome; it is expressed in the Renaissance and the Enlightenment, in the scientific revolution, and in the twentieth century."

A religion is defined as a sincere belief based upon a faith upon which all else is ultimately dependent. The faith of Humanism is based upon: "Disbelief in God; Belief in evolution; Rejection of absolute morals; Deification of man as supreme; and Belief in the innate godliness of men to govern the world equitably."

THE 67th TEXAS LEGISLATURE

by: SENATOR

BOB GLASGOW

Activity in the Texas Senate this past week has involved such diverse subjects as increased funding for programs to the aged, the anticipated signing of the lateral road fund bill by the Governor, appointment of a re-districting committee and further testimony in committee hearings on the oral confessions bill.

The Senate this week passed a House Bill that would increase the amount of funding for programs assisting the aging. The bill received strong support in the Senate and will become effective immediately upon the signature of the Governor. The monies will be administered by the Area Agencies on Aging.

The lateral road fund bill is to be signed by the Governor this week. The counties of Texas will share in an accumulated $24.1 million in funds. These funds are earmarked for maintenance and construction of county roads in rural areas. The measure was co-sponsored by Senators Traeger, Caperton and myself in the Senate.

The Senate this past week has taken the first steps in its efforts for re-districting. The Resolution adopted authorizes the Senate to sit as a Committee of the Whole and named a subcommittee to develop an initial plan. This plan will be reported to the Senate of the Whole for consideration.

The final census figures are not to be received until April 1st. After that date, the subcommittee will formulate and submit an initial plan, and there the fun shall begin.

The oral confessions bill is now to be heard for the third consecutive week in the Jurisprudence Committee. Testimony is expected to be completed this week on the bill. A vote will be taken and the prospects appear good that the bill or an amended version of the bill will be reported favorably out of committee to the Senate Floor.

It is my opinion it is essential that oral confessions be admissible in a criminal prosecution. I have experienced situations as a prosecutor when the accused would orally confess to the crime and I could not use that confession and the guilty individual would go free.

animals which appear to be related. Like lions and tigers, goats and deer, baboons and chimps, robins and quail. Evolution as a theory of change is accepted as fact, but within limits. Everyone is aware of improvements in plants and animals accounting for vast progress in American agriculture, but can science claim to be changing the species in plants or animals?

Another thought about the theory of man's descent from the ape: How about the origin of the ape? The answer of course is another stage of evolution, in fact an indefinite series of changes going back millions or billions of years, eventually arriving at some sort of original ancestor. Well, the question is, who made the original ancestor? As we think it over we have to admit that the evolutionary theory itself has to depend on God to be acceptable. It can point to millions of changes in billions of years but the very first specimen had to be created by the eternal and almighty Being who was there in the first place, and the long series of changes developed only because that Being made them possible.

The alternative to this line of reason is a theory that is infinitely more fantastic than belief in God. To think for only a moment on the marvels of the universe...the precisely ordered course millions of stars and planets and the immensity of space, the wonderful physical characteristics which sustain plants and animals, the amazing complexity of any part of the body, and especially the scientific discoveries and inventions of the human intelligence...is to become aware that it can be explained only by a supreme and eternal being. To claim that all our known marvels of the universe besides the many more still to be discovered and invented have all just happened by chance, without intelligent design and guidance, requires infinitely more faith than belief in God. Furthermore it is blind faith, completely devoid of reason.

Unfortunately this hassle about evolution and Genesis is only the peak of America's educational iceberg. Evolution is only one phase of Godlessness which has become so dangerously prominent in American life. Denying God justifies not only a wild and disorderly theory of creation, but also the wild and disorderly standards in justice, morality and overall social and economic behavior. With this condition one cannot escape the evils that have been multiplying in recent years. Denial of God and accountability to Him has to lead to moral decay and rampant crime.

This thing is a good reason to give thanks for the moral awakening which is taking hold in our country. We the people are getting our fill of the worldly wise "intelligensia" who have imposed their ideas on us.

As I was driving to work Monday morning I couldn't help but notice the destruction that the past weekend had brought on. Farm to Market road 373 has been a drag strip for probably the last 30 years with the designated "quarter mile" strip and black marks stretching from the city limits to "4 corners." Everyone got kind of used to the idea looked the other way. After all, the cars being torn up belonged to the drivers and they would have to replace the transmissions and tires on their own. And there were only 1 or 2 major accidents caused by the racing, so most people figured it was no big deal.

The next big fad was pushing over the traffic signs. Many times every sign on 373 would be leaning at an angle. It would take about a week, but eventually the Highway Department would arrive and straighten up and replace the signs. Some were broken off because of the number of times they were bent and straightened. This, of course, costs tax dollars and makes a dangerous situation for someone who is not familiar with the road. Still, most people take it in stride because they really don't feel the money coming out of their pockets.

But now the situation is getting a little out of hand. It seems that after every rain we get, someone mistakes the bar ditch for the paved portion of the road, and by the looks of the ditches they have a terrible time keeping control of their vehicle. The sides of the road are in terrible shape with ruts and mudholes. Fences on both sides of the road are marked and scarred where sometimes the ditch just wasn't big enough. I am fortunate that I own no land along this area, but I'm sure the people that do are getting tired of repairing their fences. Grass is having a rough time growing with this extra traffic, as well as possible erosion problems. Someone is turning F.M. 373 into a sloop hole, and I'm afraid some day someone will get hurt during one of these escapades.

Johnson grass and weeds is all that grows in a bar ditch, but I'd sure rather see that than what I saw Monday morning. Thank you for your time in reading this letter.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The program for economic recovery now before Congress gives us a challenging and yet exciting opportunity to take fresh look at our problems and attack them in comprehensive fashion.

For too long we have fired the spent bullets of discredited ideas at individual manifestations of the overall economic malaise. This approach has not worked.

Instead, by January of this year, home mortgage rates were two and one-half times 1960 levels, and inflation had been in excess of 12 percent for the second year in a row. The percentage of income paid by individuals in federal taxes has doubled since 1960.

Federal spending has been growing about 16 percent annually in recent years, leaving the national debt at almost a trillion dollars. This fiscal year alone the government will spend about $80 billion more than it will take in as a result of the budget approved last year.

The economic program proposed by the Administration and now before Congress would be a decisive and significant step towards solving our problems by ending runaway government spending and bringing the tax burden down to a more bearable level.

This is a time when all of us must look at what we individually expect from the government in the context of the overall good of the economy. If we can't put the economy back on track, everyone will suffer.

The Administration's budget cutting proposal hits all but the most basic, vital federal responsibilities. Programs which have been ineffective, or which involve the federal government in areas outside its responsibilities would be ended.

Narrow, "categorical" grant programs which accomplish worthwhile objectives would in many cases be combined into broader "block" grants. Making that change will save money by cutting back on the administrative costs of both local and federal governments. It will also reclaim for state and local governments the discretion to decide on local priorities. While the total amount of money available may be less, people can decide on a local level where the most pressing needs lie.

Unfortunately, our economic problems run so deep, and the need for prompt and decisive action is so great, we all must accept cuts in some programs that we consider worthwhile. This will lead to decisions that will test our national will to put our economy back on track.

I am confident, however, that we will pass the test. Every indication is that Texans realize the need for the extensive spending cuts, and that they are essential to the wellbeing of all Americans. If the politicians in Washington are convinced that their constituents are taking this broader view, they will act accordingly.

As a final note,—tax cuts, both individual and business incentive—are a cornerstone of the economic recovery program. These cuts will ease the government burden on individual and on the free enterprise system. That act alone will give the economy a significant nudge back to the right track.

The tax cuts, coupled with the major spending cuts proposed, should pull us back from the brink of economic calamity.

Annexed Areas of City Added to Water Districts

Areas of Muenster which had been annexed to the city since the Muenster Water District was organized in 1973 officially became a part of the water district Tuesday night.

At a meeting of the water board a hearing was conducted on adding those Father Placidus Eckart. Also a family rosary was led by Tony Felderhoff, a brother.

Father Denis Soerries delivered the funeral sermon praising the patient attitude with which Hubert had accepted his ordeal of suffering and confinement as a way of cooperating in the plans of Christ. "He had the faith to see that suffering is not lost when united with that of Christ."

Hubert Felderhoff died at 2 a.m. Thursday in Westgate Hospital, Denton, ending a long illness. He had been admitted there three weeks before.

He was a native of Muenster, born November 3, 1893, a son of community pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felderhoff, and lived here all his life except while in the army during the first world war. He was a farmer and stockman and had oil interests.

He was married to Marie Dangelmayr on August 26, 1919. They observed their 60th wedding anniversary in 1979.

Survivors are his wife, Marie; three sons, Norbert of Gainesville and August and Thomas of Muenster; three daughters, Mrs. Ed Knaf of Muenster, Mrs. Henry Spaeth of Gainesville and Mrs. Henry Voth, Jr., of Lindsay; 24 grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; one sister, Sister Amora Felderhoff of Jonesboro, Ark; and one brother, Tony Felderhoff of Muenster.

Among out of town relatives and friends at the services were Sister Amora of Jonesboro; Sister Georgia Felderhoff of Little Rock; Father Harry Fisher of Pilot Point; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Felderhoff of Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Felderhoff of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Spaeth of San Antonio; Mrs. Rita Tucker and Mrs. Ann Forsgren of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Ed York of Lewisville; Mr. and Mrs. Rob Slingerland and Rachel of Rock Springs, Wyo; Mr. and Mrs. Buster Wilkes and children of Round Rock and Mrs. Frank Cox of Houston.

areas to the district, after which the areas were annexed by resolution.

However, as pointed out by Henry Weinzapfel, board president, an election is necessary to make the added area subject to tax, like the original part of the district. Therefore the board ordered an election for that purpose to be held April 4 along with three other elections at the Public School.

In relation to the tax, David Bright, board member, said that as residents of the city, people are entitled to regular water service which is to be paid partly by tax and partly by service rates. As of now the rates apply to all, but not the tax, and the new area can be made subject to tax only by an approving vote in the election.

All of the water district will vote on this, he continued. That is because both areas are concerned, old as well as new. If the proposal passes, all of the city will share equally in water district tax; if not the old portion of the district will be stuck with all the tax and the new portion would be tax free.

Other items in the lake project's progress report are that ground work on the survey is finished and paper work about one third finished. This survey specifies the acreage to be purchased from each land owner. Next step will be appraisal of land values.

Toward that purpose the board has submitted a list of three appraising firms to the Soil Conservation Service.

The board's consensus is that the project is on schedule which is to have actual construction in progress before the district's water permit expires in November

Garden Club Enjoys Wildflower Show by Bettye Dodds

"Wildflowers That Can Be Grown Successfully in Your Garden," was the theme of the program presented Monday evening to the Muenster Garden Club by Bettye Dodds, in the home of Mrs. Al Hess. She has presented many programs for the garden club and is always a favorite.

She showed a large number of her own colored slides, with commentary, mentioning helpful hints on culture, and indicating the general area where she made the pictures.

Miss Dodds also directed a drawing for a door prize, when four packets of wildflower seeds were given.

Following the program, the hostess served a buffet of pick-up foods to fifteen members and one guest, Mrs. Jan Beaver.

Mrs. Jim Roark, club president, led the business meeting. Mrs. Paul Endres reported on the spring convention in Waxahachie. Six Muenster members, including Mmes. Marie Endres, Marie Mosman, Bea Young, Alice Roark, Holly Koch and Sue Endres, attended and brought home with them six awards earned by students in the Speech and Poster contests. Winners included Lisa Hennigan, second place winner

At the Waxahachie meeting Mrs. Arthur Endres was installed as a Director of District 2, Texas State Garden Clubs, Inc. She was also presented a special gavel made by her husband as a surprise gift.

Members of the Garden Club voted to add two standard Crape Myrtles to the Mini-Park.

Mrs. August Felderhoff reported on the Junior Garden Club. She told how the little members made Valentine corsages for their mothers and she requested volunteers to assist the kindergartners.

Flower Show schedules were distributed to all members. The attractive booklets were assembled by Holly Koch and Sue Endres. The flower show will be held on May 9 in the SHHS gym.

The Flower Show School will be held on March 24, 25, and 26 in the Cooke County Electric Co-op Building.

Next month's meeting will feature a program on "Birds" by Mrs. Helen Horn of Gainesville. Mrs. David Fette will be hostess at the Cooke County Electric Co-op Building.

Mrs. Sue Endres was installed as a Director of District 2, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. in a special ceremony during the Spring Convention in Waxahachie. During the ceremony she received a gavel made by her husband, Arthur Endres. She is a member of the Muenster Garden Club, a former president of the club and has held offices in the Cooke County Council of Garden Clubs and also on the district level. Photo by Arts Photos

Agriculture: an industry America depends upon

Ag Day celebration hails farmers across the nation

There is a special time set aside each year to recognize and salute the story of what agriculture means to America: national "Agriculture Day."

This nationwide observance will be celebrated this year on Thursday, March 19. Volunteers from all parts of the country will join together in a coordinated effort to communicate the story of the modern agricultural production and distribution system to top decision-makers, the news media and urban audiences across the country.

For the first time since its beginning in 1973, Agriculture Day has been officially proclaimed a national observance by the U.S. Congress. And, an exciting and comprehensive program is set to unfold in 1981, with projects planned for communities all across America.

The theme is: "Agriculture: It's Your Heartbeat, America!" Messages focus on the contributions agriculture makes to the U.S. economy as the nation's number one employer, inflation-fighter and exporter. The "Heartbeat" message is depicted visually by an electrocardiogram with a mirror farm image.

The nationwide effort is sponsored by the Agriculture Day Foundation and supported by a broad range of companies, organizations and individuals throughout the United States. Staffing and program administration are provided by the Agriculture Council of America as part of its overall role in serving as a communications link to the non-farm public.

"Agriculture is the heartbeat of our nation's economy," commented Agriculture Day Foundation President Bob Lanphier, who is President of the Dickey-John Corporation based in Auburn, Illinois.

"It's essential that the American people understand that their economic future is linked directly and substantially to the health of our agricultural production and distribution industry."

Lanphier pointed to the following facts illustrating the vital role agriculture plays in the U.S. economy:

- Nation's #1 Industry—assets of $927 billion.
- Nation's #1 Employer—over 15 million people.
- Nation's #1 Inflation Fighter—with productivity growth five times that of non-farm business over past five years.
- Nation's #1 Exporter—$40 billion in 1980.

"It's a story of which every American can and should be proud," continued Lanphier. "That's why we feel that every citizen—both from farm and non-farm backgrounds—should take part in the Ag Day program."

Grassroots activities are spearheaded through the 20 regional chapters of the National Agri-Marketing Association, State Departments of Agriculture and American National CowBelles. Key activities include: securing proclamations from Governors and Mayors, farm tours, livestock and equipment displays, special classes for school children and public service media programs.

"The stage is set for the kind of observance that will give the millions of Americans who live in cities and suburbs a much better understanding of why a stronger agriculture means a stronger America," Lanphier concluded. "Our goal is to generate a groundswell of support in every state."

Anyone interested in finding out how to become involved in Ag Day '81 should write: Agriculture Day Foundation, P.O. Box 23421, Washington, DC 20024.

Special Attention Needed to Establish Perennial Grasses

By Gary Rainwater
District Conservationist

Many failures in establishing grasses could be prevented by planning ahead and proper management.

It must be first recognized that perennial (permanent) grasses are different from annuals in that they are much slower to get established. Too many landowners expect perennials to perform in the same manner as annuals, and very often plow up the perennial before it has had an opportunity to establish. Annuals are ready for use in just a few weeks after planting, whereas perennials must be protected from grazing. In most cases this is one complete growing season. These seeds should be planted any time between March 1, and May 15th.

Weed competition is one of the major factors in grass establishment, therefore a thorough weed control program is necessary. Weeds can choke out young plant growth and use up available moisture. Fertilizer should be applied in accordance with a current soil analysis.

Failures in seeding can be caused by many factors acting either alone or in combination. Recognizing the causes of failures is a major step in preventing such failures. Such factors include, 1. Poor quality seed 2. seed dormancy, 3. unfavorable temperatures, 4. insufficient soil moisture, 5. depredation by birds and rodents, and 6. insufficient soil coverage.

Problems that the seed has emerging are 1. seeding too deep, 2. soil crusting, 3. wind and water erosion, 4. poor quality seed.

Problems that the young seed has in becoming established are 1. drought, 2. competition from weeds, 3. soil infertility, 4. poor soil drainage, 5. grazed too soon, 6. wind and water erosion.

Here in the Muenster area, the following is a good guide to follow. Kleingrass, bluestems, and lovegrass should be planted anywhere from 1/4 to 3/4 of an inch deep, at least 2 lb. to the acre of pure live seed should be drilled on Kleingrass and lovegrass, and 1.2 lb. of pure live seed on bluestems grass. These seeds should be planted any time between March 1, and May 15th.

Growth Ahead for the American Farm Family

Throughout the past several decades the number of farms in the United States has been declining while the relative size of farms has grown. However, the family farm unit has continued to survive and remains a significant factor on the American agricultural scene.

"Today we are seeing a trend of 'going back to the land' by young people who years ago were more interested in other pursuits," according to Edward R. Vrbljik, president of Estech General Chemicals Corporation, one of the largest producers of fertilizer in the U.S.

Enrollment in ag schools is up as agribusiness horizons broaden and new opportunities arise. Technological advances are helping young farmers gain maximum production efficiency and increase profitability.

There are approximately 55 million Americans living in rural, non-metropolitan areas earning their living through some type of agricultural related employment.

"This group, the farm family, is a social, economic, and political force that makes a substantial contribution to American life," Vrbljik added.

From Maine to California, over 2.7 million commercial farms dot the country with an average size of 450 acres. Gross sales on these farms range from $20,000 to over $200,000.

Our nation's fertile soil allows for the growth of over 430 different crops, however the largest amount of farm products produced fall in three areas of farming: cash grain, livestock and dairy.

Just as the farmer serves his public, Estech General serves over 53,000 customers in 22 counties throughout the country. It has a network of 300 dealer and company-owned service centers.

Good News For Cattlemen

Brucellosis (or contagious abortion in cattle) has long plagued some Texas cowmen. Now from the Texas Animal Health Commission comes good news: a control plan through calfhood vaccination.

Under the new Texas brucellosis plan, calves need only a once-in-a-lifetime vaccination with reduced dosage vaccine. The vaccine is free. Also, the vaccination virtually removes the chance of reactors.

According to the Texas Veterinary Medical Association, the Texas Farm Bureau, and various other livestock groups, this approach offers a number of advantages. These include opportunity for greater freedom in movement of cattle, added protection to herds, and it will prove to be a good protection for the cattleman's investment.

The Commission, the Texas Veterinary Medical Association, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have been conducting workshops for local veterinarians, who will be administering the vaccine. Cattlemen are urged to contact their local veterinarian for details of the plan, and for the management program best suited for them.

Let's Salute Agriculture!

This is the industry that keeps us going...and growing strong as a nation. The American farmer, stockman, dairyman and all those who are part of agri-business have earned our pride and gratitude for their big contribution!

Stenholm Airs Farmers' Marketing Problems

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm told members of the House Agriculture Committee here today that the Free Enterprise System had been "redefined as it applies to agriculture," causing problems with both domestic and foreign marketing efforts.

Testifying before opening hearings on new farm legislation, Stenholm said, "When we face the situation squarely on, we must admit that past farm policy--and therefore the authors of that policy--have redefined the Free Enterprise System as it applies to agriculture. As a result, the American farmer faces the world market not only unaided by its own government, but restricted in its ability to compete against other farm exporting nations who are aggressively supported by their own government policies."

On the domestic side, Stenholm said the farmer has been consistently penalized "by a warped marketing system that forces him to accept an 'end of the year sale' price on his production before one bushel or bale of that crop has reached the elevator or gin."

"In both domestic and world market issues," he continued, "this committee must be willing to investigate the obstacles to the Free Enterprise System and to decide how best to meet the needs of American agriculture through that proven system."

Stenholm told committee members that the new farm bill would be judged "by the American farmer and the American taxpayer--not by how far we proceed from the starting gate, but how close we come to our final goal." That final goal, he continued, was "profitability for the American farmer from the market and an insured supply of fairly priced food and fiber for the American public.

He pointed out that estimated returns to equity for all industry in 1980 totaled 16.1 percent, compared to agriculture's 6.9 percent return. "That's an unfair balance that cannot continue if the American farmer is to stay in business," Stenholm said.

"I am convinced that the farmer, with fair treatment by this committee and other lawmakers, needs only a fair price from the market to survive," Stenholm added.

The committee hearings are the first step in the months-long process of formulating the 1981 Farm Bill, which Stenholm called "one of the most far-reaching pieces of legislation that will go before the House this Session."

All Cattle Brands Must be Recorded

State Senator Bob Glasgow would like to call the attention of all local ranchers and dairy farmers to a recent ruling from the Attorney General's Office. In order for County Clerks to keep accurate, up-dated records, all cattle brands and marks registered before August 30, 1981, must be registered again during the next six months after that date, regardless of when they were originally registered. This ruling clarifies a law passed by the Texas Legislature in 1971 which was designed to prevent mistakes and disputes over the ownership of cattle.

Brown Named Honorary Chairman On Agriculture Day in Texas

AUSTIN--As honorary chairman of the state's 1981 observance of Texas Agriculture Day on March 19, Commissioner Reagan V. Brown wants as many Texans involved in the celebration as possible.

Sponsored by the Agriculture Council of America, the observance was officially established as National Agriculture Day during the past session of Congress. Each state will plan celebrations unique to its conditions.

The theme here will be "Agriculture--It's Your Heartbeat, Texas."

"I believe that the nation should take the time to think about its food and fiber supply, which in the future may be more dependent on other countries if we fail to support domestic agriculture as we should," Brown said.

"Our current production is meeting basic demands, but as our population grows, and as developing nations preserve their harvests for their own citizens, we must do some serious planning to forestall food shortages in the U. S.," he added.

Various farm organizations in Texas will be participating in county and community recognition of agriculture on March 19. "We encourage all groups or individuals to initiate local plans for some type of observance," Brown said. "If they need help, they should contact the Texas Department of Agriculture. We want as many Texans involved in this celebration as possible."

Oh Give Me a Home Where The Buffalo Roam...

By Rosa Driever
Shades of the Old West! This North Texas town has its own buffalo herd.

Gary Hess and his wife Caroline went to a buffalo auction in Lawton, Okla., and came away with four females and one male.

Asked why anyone would want to buy six buffalo, Mrs. Hess said she and her husband hope to crossbreed them with their Charolais cattle.

The Hesses said they have been told that if cow and buffalo herds grow up together, they will crossbreed.

However, she said,

"we've had one buffalo bull for over a year, and he won't have a thing to do with our cows."

We're trying to get our herds compatible," Mrs. Hess said, "and our buffaloes are becoming more friendly."

The couple has more than 100 Charolais and hopes to produce beefalo animals. "(Beefalo meat) is tender, it cooks quicker, it's tasty and it's economical," Mrs. Hess said.

Their buffalo are wild and need special fences, she added.

She said their first buffalo worked his way out of his pen one day and trotted to town. It created quite a stir in the early morning on Main Street, but the animal was led back to the Hess farm by his owner without incident.

Hess plans to sell a couple of his recent purchases, barbecue one and try to produce beefalo with the rest.

Clean Up Television!

Illicit sex, violence, alcohol consumption, and profanity are glamorized daily on television. Aggressively immoral forces within the television industry, the misuse of cable television, and the push for deregulation all signal that the worst in television may be yet to come.

Let's make Texas the cleanest, most beautiful state in the nation! Let's make Muenster the cleanest, prettiest place in the county! Let's realize that littering streets and roads occurs mostly due to people's thoughtlessness and carelessness. It takes volunteers, singly or organized to reverse the trend.

The habit of flipping litter, cans, bottles, trash, paper, wrappers scraps of food etc. out on a street or road differs only in scale from discarding such in a neighbor's living room.

CCD Liturgy Marks Vocations Theme

The CCD classes of Sacred Heart Parish observed "March as Vocation Month", with special liturgical observance on March 11 in which all fifteen members of grade 4A, taught by Mrs. Mike Kleiss and Mrs. Wylie Lewis participated.

The introduction narrative was given by Michael Pagel. He explained that "Vocation" is a "Call from God", urging us to bring our own self and those around us to God. This calling may be to the Religious life as a priest, brother or nun; it may be to the married life; it may be to the single life; in either case, it is the calling to serve God in our own particular circumstance.

Michael Pagel also inroduced those participating in the entrance procession: Father Denis Soerries and the Mass servers; also Sister Romana Rohmer, carrying her "Liturgy of the Hour Book" a part of her religious life and teaching life; also Sister Fidelis Rohmer carrying a cook book, representing the many years she has spent preparing delicious foods for others.

Representing the married vocation were Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Lewis entering with their family Bible to present at the altar.

Representing the single vocation was Lu Vogel, carrying the Christ Candle.

The first Reading was given by Lisa Hamric and the second Reading by LaNell Sicking.

Offertory Gifts were presented at the altar by Laurie Fisher, Chris Klement, Elizabeth Fleitman, Cathy Moser and Curt Bayer.

Prayers of the Faithful and Offertory Petitions were given by Jeanine Walterscheid, Ricky Walterscheid, Murlin Evans, Travis Klement, Shayne Wimmer and Danny Black. Johnny Herr was one of the Mass servers. A Prayer for Vocations to the Religious life was offered during the Communion Meditation and a Prayer for Vocations in general was offered after Mass. Both were led by Betty Rose Walterscheid.

Mrs. Juanita Bright was the organist and community singing was led by Lisa Trubenbach. The altar banner emphasized "We Follow in Jesus' Footsteps."

Governor William P. Clements was presented the first sheet of the 1981 Easter Seals by the 1981 Texas Easter Seal Poster Child, Melinda Ann Housh.

It has always been a tradition with the Easter Seal Society that the Governor of the State of Texas does the honor of opening the annual Easter Seal Appeal in this manner.

The Campaign, which begins March 1 and continues through April 19, is highlighted by the National Easter Seal Telethon on March 28th and 29th.

In addition to medically authorized orthopedic equipment purchase, including wheelchairs, braces and crutches, the Campaign permits the Society and its affiliates to provide therapies, medical, psychological and audiological evaluations and transportation.

CCC Lions Attack

By Teresa Rainwater
Enterprise Staff Writer

The victory over Midland in the championship finals of the Region V men's basketball tournament at Brownwood Saturday advanced the CCC Lions to the first round of the national tournament.

In the regional tournament at Brownwood, the Lions defeated Weatherford in the first round and went on to play Ranger in the semi-finals. Ranger leaped out front with an eight-point lead, but by half-time, Cooke County led 42-34. The game ended in a Lion victory over Ranger, 87-71.

After winning the semi-finals over Ranger, the Lions played Midland Saturday night in the Region V championship finals.

According to Coach Jim Voight, "Midland was ranked No. 1 in the national Jr. College polls during the regular season."

The Cooke County Lions became the Region V representative to the first round of the national JUCO tournament by defeating Midland, 97-86.

The first round of the national tournament is Thursday when the CCC Lions are scheduled to play Tyler, Region 14 champs, at 7:30 p.m. at the Loos Field House in Dallas. The winner of that game will advance to the national tournament's final site in Hutchinson, Kansas next week.

Out of the 22 regions, only 16 teams will be represented in Hutchinson, the final site of the tournament.

Tony Moore of CCC was named most valuable player in the regional tournament last week; James Helmich and Bruce Tipton were named to the all-tournament team.

The CCC Lions are Jeff Ray, 5'7" guard, from Archer City; Russell Taylor, 6' guard, Shreveport, La.; Arnold Madison, 5'11" guard, Milwaukee, Wis.; James Helmich, 6'4" forward, Dallas; Bruce Tipton, 6'4" guard, St. Louis, Mo.; Kevin Shipley, 6'3" guard, Lawton, Oklahoma; Tony Moore, 6'4" forward, Dallas; Tommy Brown, 6'4" forward, Columbus, Ohio; Aaron Fitzgerald, 6'7" center, Lancaster, Pa.; and John Horrocks, 6'11" center from El Paso.

Coach Voight is in his fourth year with the Lions having come to Texas from Liberty, Kentucky in 1977.

The CCC Lionettes advanced to the regional playoffs but were eliminated in the first round of the championships by Clarendon Junior College.

Hearing Called on Hunting, Fishing

State Senator Bob Glasgow has announced that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will hold a public hearing in Cooke County to consider several changes in hunting and fishing regulations for 1981 and 1982.

The meeting will be held at the County Courthouse in Gainesville at 7:00 p.m. on March 16, 1981. Residents who are interested are encouraged to attend and those who have questions about the hearings may call the Parks and Wildlife Department at this toll free number: 1-800-252-9327.

Local Track Season Starts at Saint Jo

Prospects for the current track season at both Muenster teams were encouraging last Friday as they came away from a practice meet on the MHS field. Participating with them were the teams of Lindsay, Callisburg and Alvord plus individuals from Valley View and Saint Jo.

For all of them the action here served as a sort of final appraisal of personal potential and a guide to making the best assignments of positions in the coming meets. Competition for both Muenster teams will begin Saturday in the annual Red River Relays at Saint Jo. Some 20 to 25 schools are expected to be represented, including several in the UIL district with MHS, but not in the TCIL district with Sacred Heart.

In Friday's practice the coaches were more concerned with individual records than competitive achievement, and in general they liked what they saw. The Tigerettes showed a diversification of talent in sprints, distance events, field events and relays with good prospects of scoring in several events. The Tigers too demonstrated ability across the board with nice performances in the jumps, discuss and shot along with long and short runs.

The Sacred Heart track teams this year are included in a Class AAA district of six members. Gorman of Tyler and St. John's of Ennis have joined Notre Dame of Wichita Falls, Alamo of Amarillo, Christ the King of Lubbock and Sacred Heart. Their district meet will be held here on April 11 and the state meet will be held in Houston on April 30 and May 1-2. Until the 11th, Sacred Heart will be in two meets here plus one each at Nocona and Saint Jo.

The MHS Hornets likewise made a good start in the practice meet here last

At the same time he intends to take instructions on all aspects of the golf business including membership in the Professional Golfers Association, which would qualify him to try tour golf, or instruct as a club professional.

Jaycees Have Many Irons In The Fire

The Muenster Jaycees have initiated a membership drive. Anyone interested in joining the local chapter between the ages of 18 and 35 is asked to contact Dave Fette or any of the Jaycees to apply for membership.

In February, the Jaycees installed 3-inch pipe five feet away from and parallel to the existing chain link fence at the park. The pipes are spaced approximately 6 ft. apart and were installed to provide a walkway between parked cars and the fence. The Jaycees also installed several sandboxes at the park. One has since been destroyed by vandalism.

At the March 5 meeting of the Jaycees, two visitors from Wichita Falls attended. They were Chuck Hawthorne and Dennis Dohrer. They came to campaign for Dohrer who is running for Area II vice-president. Area II includes the area from New Braunfels to Gainesville and west to Vernon and south.

Also discussed at last week's meeting was the drainage at the park. It was recommended by local SCS representative, Gary Rainwater, that an open drainage channel lined with concrete be used as opposed to the corrugated metal drainage pipe.

A new project initiated by Jim Endres is the building of a Jaycees' meeting house to be located at the park on the slab south of the tennis courts. "There is a chance it could be completed in time for Germanfest," according to Chuck Barush, secretary. He also said the house will be available for boy scouts, cubs, bluebirds, and other organizations who wish to use it for meetings.

The Jaycees beer van, a 40 foot, 18-wheel refrigerated trailer unit will be taken to the National Jaycee convention in June in San Antonio. The van will be featured in a parade during the convention with all members of the Texas delegation.

Jerry Reed and Gary Rainwater took the beer van to Fort Worth Saturday where it is having a rebuilt diesel engine installed in preparation for Germanfest and the National Convention. The new diesel engine and tank will make it quieter and more efficient.

The Muenster Jaycees went door-to-door and collected $1,150 for the Heart Fund. On behalf of the Muenster Jaycees and the Heart Fund, Chuck Barush, Jaycee secretary, said, "We'd like to express our thanks for the generous contributions of those who gave and apologize to those we missed."

These Jaycees collected for the Heart Fund on Thursday, Feb. 26 and others again on March 5. The total collected by the Muenster Jaycees was $1,150. They are Wayne Klement, Ross Felderhoff, Doris Klement, Chuck Bartush, Jerry Reed, Dave Fette, Claude Klement, Mark Lippe, Mark Klement, J. T. Pagel and Bert Walterscheid.

Forestburg News

by Myrt Denham

When the first good rain of this year started falling in the early morning hours of Sat. Feb. 28th one of our prominent Forestburg ranchers jumped out of bed and opened up the windows to the bedroom. Then he got back in bed to listen and enjoy the rain falling. The fresh cool rainy air proved too much for him and his wife for the next day they both came down with colds. They have been "under the weather" ever since. We do hope that Marion and Howard Sockwell will soon be over the exposure to all that refreshing rainy air.

Visiting with Willie and Ida Kuykendall of the Yes-ter-Home in Saint Jo the weekend of Sat Feb 28th were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook of Irving, Mrs. Jimmie Britian of Forestburg, Mrs. Terry Escobedo and Brad of Myra and Mrs. Norma Britian and sons of Forestburg.

The Forestburg Chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas was organized recently. We are now in the Lenten Season of the Church year. Thinking upon the meaning of this reminded my husband, Perryman, of a little story he read in a magazine - and I'm sure many of you have heard it but it bears repeating. The story goes as this: "A very rich lady died and went to heaven. Upon her arrival there she was met by Saint Peter who took her on a tour of the area. He showed her many a big fine beautiful mansion - telling her one belonged to the washlady, one to the gardener and son on until they came to a small shack. Upon stopping in front of it the lady asked who lived there and Saint Peter told her it was to be her home. The lady asked Him why she only rated the shack and he informed her that was all she had sent in material for!" So what kind of Heavenly Home are you and I building for ourselves?"

Years ago there lived in the Forestburg Community a man by the name of Ben Brown. This name became synonymous with the ailment that has plagued a lot of men here ever since. It is said this man went to a local physician at that time to find out what his trouble was. He told the doctor his symptoms - he had a good appetite and he felt pretty good but when he sat down he just didn't want to get up. The doctor diagnosed his trouble as "Laziness". Thus the expression "That Ben Brown Disease" got started in this area and the Disease seems to be very prevalent to this day.

Pay 2 Bills with 2 Checks, IRS Says

When two different federal tax payments are made at the same time, separate checks or money orders should be used. The Internal Revenue Service says.

An error in crediting one or both payments is possible if two payments are combined, especially if different tax forms are involved.

Taxpayers should write their Social Security numbers, form number and year involved on every check or money order sent to the IRS. This simple procedure ensures the proper crediting to their account, in case the check is separated from the form, according to the IRS.

Checks should be made payable to the "Internal Revenue Service." Cash should never be mailed to the IRS, but can be used to make payments in person at an IRS office.

Millions Can Use Easier 104A Form

There are at least 36 million U.S. taxpayers who could be filing the simpler Federal income tax Form 1040A this year instead of the Form 1040, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Taxpayers who earned $20,000 or less ($40,000 or less if married and filing a joint return) during 1980, and whose income is from wages, salaries, tips or unemployment compensation, and who have not earned more than $400 in interest or $400 in dividends in 1980, can file a Form 1040A. If a taxpayer is filing only for the purpose of getting a refund of the earned income credit, the interest or dividend income can exceed $400. A Form 1040A may also be used if a taxpayer does not claim credits other than the earned income credit or the political contributions credit.

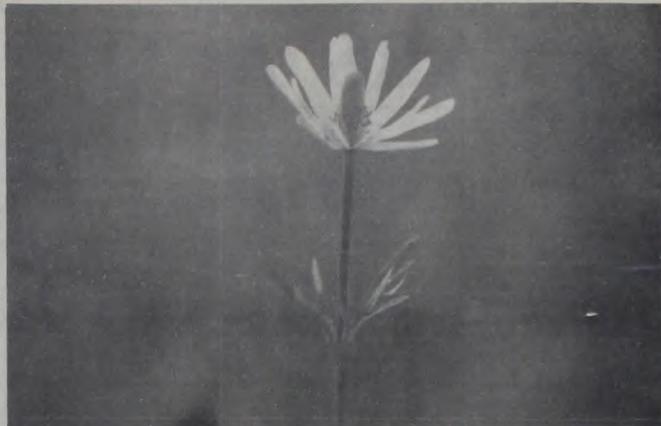

Filing the Form 1040A can save time, is easier, and can make errors less likely. However, many taxpayers must file the regular Form 1040.

For example, taxpayers who itemize deductions, claim more exemptions than are shown in the tax table for their filing status, or wish to income average must file the Form 1040. A taxpayer filing as a qualifying widow(er) with a dependent child must file a Form 1040.

Those taxpayers who choose to claim certain credits such as the child care credit, residential energy credit, credit for the elderly, investment credit, foreign tax credit, or work incentive credit, should file the Form 1040.

There are other situations which also require a taxpayer to file the Form 1040. If a spouse itemized deductions, or if a taxpayer is claimed as a dependent by parents but has both earned and unearned income, then a Form 1040 should generally be used.

Additional guidelines for use of each of the Forms 1040 and 1040A can be found in the instructions of the 1980 Federal Income Tax Forms package.

Cooke County Blooms!

Editor's Note: Gary Rainwater of the Soil Conservation Service has agreed to do a series about native plants of Cooke County. This begins his series of narratives explaining some plant characteristics and uses of the plants.

Anemone (Anemone decapetala)
Anemone is a perennial herb that forms from a small corm. The leaves are basal with the blades being 3-divided. The flowers are solitary on erect stems 4 to 20 inches tall bearing three lobed bracts usually above the middle of the stem, but well below the flower.

The flower is usually 1 1/2 inches across at the ends of the seed stalks. The flower petals may be white, pinkish, reddish, lavender, or deep violet in color. Usually, by mid day the sepals will fall off.

Anemone is a perennial plant in the Buttercup family. Another common name for Anemone is Windflower.

It is one of the earliest of spring flowers. Anemone blooms from February to April, brightening fields and open woods throughout most of the state but thriving especially well in the Blackland Prairie and the Limestone Hill Country.

The plants have long been suspected of being poisonous, but clear-cut proof is lacking. Ranunculin, which breaks down into toxic oil protoanemonin, is contained in these plants, making them potentially dangerous.

Factory Rebate On Cars Not Taxable

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said Texans don't need to pay taxes on factory rebates offered for the purchase of new cars.

He also said car buyers who have mistakenly paid automobile sales tax on the rebate amount are entitled to a refund.

Bullock said the big three American automobile manufacturers are all currently offering some type of rebate to encourage the sale of new cars.

Bullock said rebates are cash discounts regardless of the method used to compute the amount or the method used to pass the rebate along to the consumer.

Rebates should be deducted from the price of a new car before the state's four percent motor vehicle sales tax is calculated.

If the sticker price is $7,500, for example, and the rebate is $500, the price of the car for tax purposes is $7,000, he said.

Information about tax refunds can be obtained through the Comptroller's Motor Vehicle Sales Tax office by calling toll-free, anywhere in Texas, 1-800-252-5555, extension 171.

Sure, our 26-Week Money Market Certificate is a good investment, but it's also a no-risk investment. Your money is insured up to $100,000 by a federal agency. And your deposit is backed by First Texas' over 1.6 billion dollars in assets.

Best of all, at First Texas Savings, your money is always available. Penalty on early withdrawal is 3 months' interest and only on the amount withdrawn. And as a convenient reminder, you will be automatically notified prior to renewal.

Also ask about our 2 1/2-Year Money Market Certificate.

So, before you put your money anywhere, remember: Others may keep you even in the 80's, but First Texas Savings will keep you ahead.
