Changes Proposed For District Court

From the comment that comes out of Washington relative to budget cuts and tax reduction, one would think that President Reagan's program is strictly economic. Fortunately, for the good of the nation it involves much more. In addition to relieving billions of dollars of tax burden, this change would eliminate much of the evil influence of thousands of undesirable characters now being sustained at taxpayer expense.

The administration plan proposes the elimination of some 40 grant programs at an estimated saving of $3.2 billion, which is a most welcome portion of proposed over-all savings and transferring responsibility for their functions back to state and local government.

This is where responsibility should be in the first place. Traditionally the communities took care of such needs as poverty and education, avoiding the graft and corruption found in so much of our federally funded programs. The public can expect a more proper use of its money when it comes in closer contact with the needs and when administrators are more closely associated with the public.

It's pleasing to think that about 25 percent of the federal program expense, plus another considerable amount for the administrative payroll, can be cut off the federal budget, along with the fact that state and local control will cost much less, and then the country still has the bonus benefit of ceasing to support thousands of subversives and social and moral scum who do more harm than good.

It's estimated that in the 40 programs marked for phasing out there are more than 7000 private organizations operating in more than 25,000 grant sites and including scores of thousands of activists whom we are feeding while paying the expense of their anti-patriotic, anti-social and anti-moral pursuits. This most undesirable situation originated during LBJ's Great Society when civil servants were given authority not merely to implement policies established by elected officials but also to assume the policy-setting functions which are implicit in decisions about assigning public funds to private organizations with avowedly political objectives.

In the name of fighting poverty and overcoming inequality, tens of billions have been assigned during the past two decades to support hundreds of thousands of full time activists employed by tens of thousands of "non-profit corporations" promoting virtually every "liberal" cause from abortion on demand to forced busing to quotas and "welfare rights."

What this amounts to is that the bureaucrats, with consent of congressional liberals, have been giving our ideological enemies billions of dollars of our money to continue cramming their unwanted programs down our throats. Opponents of US defense policies, militant homosexuals, radical feminists, organizers of pro-communist activity and racial riots use our hard earned tax money to support their negative and often violent political goals. Meanwhile the nation's stable people have to pay the bill and pay again in opposing the evils. It's a frustrating situation that no fair minded person can tolerate.

Unfortunately this is what we've had to live with for many years while

Changes in Cooke County's district court system whereby the county would be served entirely by one court only, appeared as a possibility with filing of a bill in the state legislature by Senator Bob Glasgow.

The bill would change a situation which now includes Cooke County in two judicial districts, sharing the 16th district with Denton and the 235th district with Wise and Jack counties.

The proposed change moves the 235th court exclusively to Cooke County and the 16th court exclusively to Denton County, and also calls for creation of another district to serve Jack and Wise counties. Under that arrangement Larry Sullivan would remain with the 235th district court and W.C. Boyd with the 16th district court, and two new positions would become necessary. One is the judge of the new Wise-Jack District, the other is a district attorney of Cooke County. Brock Smith presently in that position with the 235th, who lives at Bridgeport, indicated that he prefers that office with the Wise-Jack district. His transfer would leave an opening in the 235th.

Never a dull moment is the aim of enthusiastic committeemen as they await what is confidently expected to be the biggest and best Germanfest. It will open Friday at 4 in the city park.

As always, a big concern is the weather. Will the festival's good fortune hold out for the sixth time? During Monday and Tuesday's intermittent rains, the predominant hope is that clouds will clear before the weekend, and weather forecasts are encouraging.

The crowded schedule, planned for an anticipated attendance topping last year's record of 30,000, includes a steady stream of entertainment highlighted by the German Fun Run, a Friday street dance, three Saturday night dances, a Sunday street dance, an abundance of food and drinks, a variety of vocal and instrumental presentations at the pavilion, and an assortment of other attractions.

The most plentiful item there will be food, with meals being served in six booths. The emphasis will be on sausage which can be a part of one's meal or a packaged item to take home. And, of course, there will be barbecue, fried chicken, regular or smoked cheese, cake, pie, cookies, strudel and more.

Even more abundant is the beer to be dispensed by the Jaycees from their refrigerated van, the equivalent of a portable tavern with storage and cooling inside and 32 outside spigots, each identified by brand. They'll serve again in their popular 20 oz. souvenir cups, which were a hit at the last two festivals.

Germanfest will have a new look this year. Most conspicuous is the presence of three recently erected 30 foot flag poles just north of the pavilion and flying the flags of the United States, Texas and West Germany. And nearby is a surprise addition, an enormous banner measuring 6 1/2 x 13 feet from the mayor of Munster, capital of Westfalens province of Germany.

There's a story behind the banner. In February a

Dallas resident wrote a letter for Muenster's mayor to the head man of Munster, Germany, whatever his proper title, asking for a flag or coat of arms to be used as a Germanfest decoration. The result, received last week, is the enormous banner which will dominate a wall inside the pavilion.

Tent dimensions are the same as last year, and the larger 60 x 120 size has been erected over the park's two tennis courts. But because the pavilion area was becoming crowded it was necessary to find a new location for the smaller 40 x 60 foot tent. It is situated on

Good News

Romans 12:1-2 Present your bodies a living and holy sacrifice, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service of worship, and do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect.

City Gears Up For Germanfest Crowds

Security is one of the priority concerns of the Germanfest committee and the Muenster City Council as they get set for their big annual festival this weekend.

Their intention is to assure a pleasant atmosphere for visitors by guarding against misbehavior and also to patrol the area after closing time as a precaution against vandalism and theft.

Meanwhile the city is making equal effort to keep order outside the park especially with regard to rowdiness and wild driving.

At a meeting with the council Wednesday night, Co-chairmen Fuhrman and Ferber of the Germanfest revealed that they have arranged with County Sheriff Tiller to have two deputies in the park during the festival hours and two other off-duty deputies there during the non-festival hours. These officers will be in contact with the Muenster police and the sheriff's department for whatever help they should need.

At the same time city security is being upped by the addition of three officers for the duration. In addition to its two regular officers it will have an off-duty member of the Gainesville police who, like the local officers, is authorized to make arrests and write citations in Muenster. Additionally it will have two off-duty Gainesville police who are not certified for arrests and citations but will accompany the other officers as back-up men.

Still another security measure is to have a jailer on duty, just in case of jail offenses. Otherwise a prisoner would have to be taken to the county, a trip causing a considerable loss of time.

It's Time to Change Clocks

Clock changing time is here again. Sunday morning the nation will officially return to Daylight Saving Time, which will be an hour ahead of sun time and our present time. According to the clock, daylight will arrive an hour later but will also remain an hour later in the evening.

Official time of change is 2 a.m. Sunday. People are reminded to set clocks ahead one hour some time during the night Saturday. Otherwise they'll find themselves an hour behind the rest of the country on Sunday morning.

The year is divided evenly into daylight saving time and central time. The next change will be made the last Sunday of October when the setting will be back one hour to agree with the sun.

A Recurring City Problem...

Vandals Strike Again

Just in time for Germanfest, some ugly characters of Muenster managed to put their mark on the preparations. While others were fixing up, they were messing up.

It happened about midnight Friday when an unknown vandal, or vandals, crashed two new metal gates at the south entrance of the city park. Apparently he or they used a pickup or car to force the middle of the gate while the hinge end was still mounted and the other end was obstructed by a tree. Two side-by-side gates received the treatment.

Police Officer Helen Tompkins said that the identity of the guilty ones remains unknown at this time but the department is investigating and has hopes of receiving information that will help. At about the same time, she said, lesser damage was caused when the two gates from the north entrance were removed and placed on Highway 82.

Other recent vandalism at the city park includes breaking all light bulbs in the pavilion and breaking commode tanks in both rest rooms of the pavilion. Also the World War II exhibit plane given to the city by the US Air Force has been demolished by bullets and hammer, and patterns of broken glass indicate that beer bottles have been lined up on park pavement several times for target practice. Also a favorite place to dispose of beer bottles seems to be over the fence into the swimming pool. The bottom is covered with broken glass.

This is only one of the many areas of vandalism around town, with schools getting special attention. For instance, the front lawn of the public school was badly damaged recently by a car doing capers in the mud. Principal Winn estimates that a new landscape job would probably cost $2000. This is more than the school feels able to spare, so it will require many hours of tedious repair work. Other damages include broken windows, sometimes big plate glass windows, and mud splashes on the walls.

Homes and business locations also are the victims of this damage complex where the only object is to cause a loss to someone and satisfy the culprit's own ugly disposition.

According to Officer Tompkins it's a bad situation which Muenster, unfortunately, will have to live with unless people make up their minds to fight it. Under present circumstance the only solution is when an officer catches the culprit in the act. Otherwise citizen help is needed.

Perhaps limited help is sufficient, as when a person phones information on a person or his car involved in a crime. This information will be carefully investigated and perhaps will be sufficient to obtain a confession. It can be given anonymously if a person prefers, she said. This eliminates the old dread of openly accusing and fearing retaliation.

A more positive way, she said is the open accusation of seeing the culprit in the act of crime and agreeing to testify in court if necessary.

Vandalism and other crime can be greatly reduced, Tompkins said, if people will get involved. The culprits will soon find that immunity will not last if more people are willing to take a stand for law and order and property rights.

New Fun Run Record Is In Sight

As the signs are reading now, participation in the 1981 German Fun Run should be considerably higher than last year and prospects of reaching 3000 are in sight.

Up to Thursday Dan Hamric and Ronnie Hess had about 1000 pre-registrations and saw possibilities of as many as 1500 by Friday. Based on previous experience, an equal number is likely to sign up on the day of the race. This assumes, of course, that the weather will be here regardless, but attendance increases sharply in clear, pleasant weather.

As a basis for estimating, the 1980 pre-registers numbered 600 on Tuesday before the race and the total entering the race was 2010, of which 1971 finished. In 1979, 1402 signed up and 1066 finished the race, in 1978 the figures were 1345 and 1165.

Except in number, the event this year is very similar to last year. It will be run in 15 Km and 5 Km divisions and plans for conducting it were completed Sunday in a meeting of the directors and their helpers.

The fun run begins at 2 p.m. Sunday on the third and fourth blocks of Main Street heading north with the 15 Km and 5 Km runners together. After a short distance the two groups will divide and go their separate ways to the same finish line near Muenster Hospital. It's assumed that all short route runners will have finished before the long route finishers arrive.

Youth Nabbed In Vehicle Burglary

A juvenile from Montague County was arrested Saturday behind The Ranch for theft of a CB radio from a motor van owned by Mike Otts of Gainesville. The arrest was made by Officer Robert Stovall who placed the suspect in Cooke County jail charged with burglary of a motor vehicle.

Persons who saw the suspect tampering with Otts' vehicle notified Muenster police, Stovall and Helen Tompkins, who arrived in time to find him leaving with the CB. They also noticed that a number of tapes had been removed from their container and stacked on the seat, apparently to be picked up later.

Citizens Post Reward To Catch A Vandal

Striving to bring an end to vandalism in Muenster, three residents of the city, who prefer to be anonymous, are offering $300 for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons who recently destroyed property for the city and the public school.

Anyone who has such information is asked to tell a member of the city council who will submit it to the police department for investigation, and if the information leads to an arrest the informer will receive the $300. All information will be kept confidential and the informer will remain anonymous.

Emil Rohmer was busy Wednesday setting up the Rohmer's Restaurant booth for Germanfest, and getting ready to serve the crowds who'll come hungry for traditional goodies. Staff Photo

Letter to the Editor...

I am writing to you in regard to the recent vandalism at the city park. Someone completely destroyed the gates at the entrance and the exit of the park. When I saw this act of destruction it really burned me up. Everything that the Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, and the city does gets destroyed by vandalism. I know that some of the residents of Muenster know who is doing the destruction at the park. I just wish that once a citizen would file a complaint against these vandals. Maybe if one of these vandals is prosecuted to the full extent of the law, this vandalism would stop.

The gates are not the only things that are destroyed. Its the park in general. Commodities in the men's and women's rest rooms in the pavilion were destroyed by vandals who overhauled them with sledgehammers and destroyed them. The tennis courts have recently had bottles busted all over them, glass is everywhere. If someone would fall playing tennis, and would fall in this glass it could be a nasty sight. Also, the picnic tables either have broken boards on them or they have profanity carved all over them.

Motorcycles destroy grass on the south side of the park and it really looks terrible. It seems that the youth of Muenster could find better places around the country to ride their motorcycles. Anytime a get-together is held at the park, the restrooms are always out of order, or have garbage spread all over them. People have to run downtown to use the restrooms. Any travelers who stop at the park to eat a bit and try to relax and use the restrooms, can't. Because they are never in usable condition.

People complain about this but are afraid to do something about it. Parents should teach their children that the town and the park were built for the enjoyment of our community not the destruction of it.

I know with the Germanfest coming up this week the park will be in good shape for it. Everything will be in working order. So let the people of Muenster unite and work together and keep it that way. Everyone needs to unite and fight these vandals and this will help Muenster get back the beauty it once had.

Sincerely yours,
Bert Walterscheid

SOCIALISM
Would you like to see a socialist system established in America? If this question were asked by an inquiring reporter it is doubtful if there would be many affirmative answers. This being the case, how can we explain the adoption of so many socialist programs in this country?

There are numerous reasons why, one of the most important of which is that few people understand what socialism is, or the significance of socialism, and don't realize what they are doing when they advocate socialist programs.

Every society must have a system of economic organization. In his book, Planned Chaos, Dr. Ludwig von Mises points out there really are only two types of economic organization: socialism and capitalism, which are sometimes referred to as the planned economy and the market economy.

Capitalism is the economic system of freedom, located on the right of the political spectrum. Socialism, on the other hand, is the system of economic organization of the regimented society, on the left of the spectrum.

Socialism is a system in which the means of production and distribution of goods and services are owned and/or controlled by the government. It is important to understand that socialism is a generic term which encompasses many isms and philosophies including communism.

In the book called "Planned Chaos" we read: "In the terminology of Marx and Engels the words communism and socialism are synonymous. They are alternately applied without any distinction between them. The same was true for the practice of all Marxian groups and sects until 1917." It is significant that the official name of the first communist nation is the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

In addition to the communists, other socialists are the Fabians of the British Labor Party, and so-called democratic socialists of Europe who generally label themselves as Social Democrats. The Nazis of Hitler Germany were national socialists as were the Fascists of Mussolini's Italy. In our own country today socialists are known as "liberals."

The key to identifying socialist individuals, movements and programs is to be found in the type of ownership and control of the means of production and distribution advocated. If government is to own or control the means, the program is socialist; if, on the other hand, it is privately owned and controlled, it is capitalistic.

Although we have adopted many socialist programs in the United States, and are therefore moving toward socialism, we still have a market economy in spite of the fact that it is greatly hampered by government intervention.

But eventually, if we do not halt the intervention, and free the market from its shackles, we will find that, as one intervention after another fails, as they are doomed to, and government adds more interventions to try to correct the previous failures, that step by step we will finally reach the point where all economic freedom is lost and socialism is in full force.

Well-meaning people, who do not really want a socialist America, nevertheless are taking us toward that end when they promote government intervention in the economy.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — There are more government programs that are unworkable, uneconomical, and unpopular with the people the programs were supposed to assist than I could possibly list in six of these columns.

Congress has taken a hard look at all government programs this year, with an eye toward trimming unnecessary and expensive programs. Members of the House Subcommittee on Tobacco and Peanuts, myself included, balked this week, however, at dismantling a program that does work, is economical, and has proven itself to the people it was designed to assist — the peanut producers.

The Reagan Administration had targeted the peanut program for extinction, with the intention of gutting the program of its most vital supply-management provisions.

The current peanut program works. In fact, it works far more economically than the Administration's proposal would work. The federal cost of the current peanut program has been reduced 60 percent in the last three years and peanut growers have proposed a program to continue this trend to a point of zero cost in 1985. To ignore the producer request this year is to ignore the personal sacrifice they have made over the last three years attempting to reduce federal costs and produce peanuts competitively priced for the world market.

The current program has also been beneficial to the consumer by encouraging production of a steady supply of peanuts over the last 25 years, even though this year's supply has been shortened by a rare national drought. With a normal production year, the price of peanuts and peanut products can be expected to return to pre-drought levels.

Peanuts, although grown in only a few counties in the 17th District, play an important social and economic role throughout the state of Texas. If the current government program is phased out, production in the Southwest area of the U.S. would be curtailed, resulting in much larger farms fewer people residing in rural areas, and fewer jobs for everyone in those areas.

I plan to continue to examine government programs with a critical and perhaps miserly eye, in light of our current economic problems in this country, but a program supported by farmers that works as well as the peanut program has worked should not be scrapped to accept a program that will cost more and not work.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The recent death of General of the Army Omar Bradley marked the end of an era. He was the last of the great generals of World War II, a man who stood out among the ranks of many heroes.

On the occasion of his death, I was asked whether we will produce other heroes as great as he from today's military.

I pray daily that we will not have to, that we can maintain peace. That is the goal of our defense program -- to be strong enough that we don't have to go to war.

Neither the Soviet Union nor any other potential adversary will risk pushing us into an armed confrontation as long as they are convinced we are strong enough that their venture would be unsuccessful.

It is for that reason that I and others in Congress and in the Administration are working so hard to try to rebuild our national defense system. History has shown over and over again that he who does not prepare for war is most likely to have to fight one.

Yet, that is only part of the answer to the question I was asked. I do believe that in our armed services we find the stuff from which heroes are made. Those who work to keep the peace deserve as much respect and honor as those who win the battles when the peace is broken.

It is only fitting that we pay tribute to General Bradley and those others who have fought with valor. But we should also pay tribute to those who day-to-day, with little noise and, regrettably, sometimes less praise are our defensive bulwark.

The mechanic who keeps the planes in the air, and takes pride in his work.

The infantryman who drills and trains in the mud preparing for a mission everyone hopes he won't have to undertake.

The sailor, separated from his family for months at a time, who works a 60 or 70 hour week keeping his ship in working order.

When I visit our military bases, I find heroes everywhere, at all ranks. These fine men and women believe in what they are doing.

They are frustrated because they don't have the equipment they need, or the spare parts, or the fuel or ammunition for sufficient training exercises. They wonder if the American people understand their problems -- or their contributions. They read stories attacking the calibre of our military personnel, and they take personally these criticisms.

They are underpaid and overworked. But still they work, still they train, still they believe in their missions. That, to me, is true heroism.

After visiting with these fine Americans, I feel a renewed responsibility to make sure they have what they need to do their jobs. Man for man, we have the best military in the world. But we have not provided them with the wherewithal to do as good a job as they are capable of doing.

We have consistently failed to compensate them properly for the vital work they do.

They are doing their part. We must do ours.

Wouldn't It Be Wonderful If?

...All of us swept up and picked up in front of our own homes or business buildings, in our own back yards and alleys, on our own curbs and street corners and across our own vacant lots?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if all of us presented this impression of Muenster to Germanfest guests?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we kept it up all year long?

To become more energy-independent...

let's use what we've got.

We Americans learn early to be independent and self-reliant, and to use the resources we have. But today we're importing oil for nearly a fourth of our energy needs. This is dangerous because it undermines our security and threatens our national security. And it shouldn't be necessary, because we have the world's largest known energy reserves right here in the United States.

We can help make America self-sufficient by using alternative fuels like coal and uranium. We can stretch our supplies of oil and natural gas by conserving. We'll develop nuclear fusion, while making more use of other sources such as solar, biomass and wind.

But not today. For the next 25 years or more, the energy we need must come from the resources and the know-how we have now.

At your electric company, we're building plants to use the energy and technology we have now. At the same time we're supporting development of other sources of energy, so we'll have them as soon as possible.

To become more energy-independent, let's use what we've got.

Mrs. Elizabeth Neu Nears 110th

When Mrs. Elizabeth Neu celebrates her next birthday on August 21, she will be 110 years old. She is the grand matriarch of the Mathias and Susanna Reinart relationship, in which there are 1,436 descendants.

The story is told in a family history, 1875 to 1980, compiled by Mary Anne Rinehart, a great niece of Mrs. Neu.

For the past two years, Mrs. Elizabeth Neu has been a resident of St. Richard's Villa. She was widowed in 1937 and after that divided her time among her children until failing health sent her to St. Richards. She spends much of her time now in her wheelchair, praying her loved Rosary.

Although her hearing and vision are poor, she still enjoys visits especially with children. She'll hold a visitor's hand and say "I worked hard in my day, but can't now." She also talks about the weather, seasons of the year, gardening, going to church, etc. She continues to enjoy a good appetite, even after recent hospitalization with pneumonia.

Her remarkable story in the family history begins with her paternal grandparents, Nicholas and Anna Maria Reinart, who are considered the first generation of the Reinart lineage in America. Both were born in Prussia, Germany. They had four children including Mathias, Mrs. Neu's father, comprising the second generation. Mathias and Susanna Reinart, were parents of twelve children, including Mrs. Neu, the third generation. In the fourth generation there are 76 descendants; in the fifth are 309 descendants; in the sixth are 751; and in the seventh generation are 288, making a total of 1,436.

Elizabeth married Joseph F. Neu on February 6, 1893 in Rosetta, Iowa, living there for the next five years, then moving to Lindsay seven years after the land was laid out. They witnessed the development from prairie land into a thriving community. The farm they owned is still in the family; a son, Joe H. Neu and his wife live there.

Joseph and Elizabeth were parents of seven children, Mrs. John (Margaret) Kupper, Mrs. Joe (Catherine) Hermes both of Muenster, Mrs. Elmo (Agnes) Gore of Big Sandy, Texas, Joe H. Neu of Lindsay and Mike Neu of Los Angeles. Two children are deceased. Mrs. William (Mary) Walterscheid of Carlsbad, N.M. whose mother died when she was 10 days old.

Mrs. Elizabeth Neu counts 35 grandchildren, 113 great-grandchildren and 15 great-great-grandchildren; in more than a century of living. She was born in Minnesota on August 21, 1871 and attributes her longevity to "hard work and sunshine." Longevity seems to run in her family. Her mother reached 93; a brother almost reached 100; a sister is still living in Nebraska and will be 102 next December.

However, not all the years were spent in good health. At 94, she underwent gallstone surgery, at 95 she broke her right hip, at 97 she broke her left hip. Both times the bone was pinned, followed by long recuperation in a wheelchair. However she recovered to walk again, even up and down stairs. "Durable" is truly her "middle name".

Until several years ago she was able to attend Church services. Even though she is now a member of Sacred Heart parish, she also maintains her membership in St. Peter's parish of Lindsay, where she is a charter, paid up member of St. Anne's Society. In 1974 she received a certificate from the National Catholic Women's Union, Texas Branch, for 60 years of loyal service. Occasionally she attended SNAP in the past. On her 109th birthday she was the honored guest at a SNAP luncheon. One of her proudest possessions is a letter she received from former President and Mrs. Carter on that occasion.

In her 110 years, Mrs. Elizabeth Neu has witnessed the first telephones, first phonographs, first electric lights, the first penny post card, the origination of Montgomery Ward's mail order catalogues, the introduction of barbed wire; the first Model T Fords for $310, the first airplane flight at Kitty Hawk (she made her first trip by air to California at age 80); she once said she remembered when "wealthy ladies first began wearing silk stockings."

She has lived under the administration of 22 presidents and the reign of 6 Popes. Her oldest grandson, Msgr. Hubert Neu is pastor of Most Blessed Sacrament Church in Arlington.

Before her hearing began to fail, when asked how she felt, her answer was invariable an enthusiastic "Fine." Truly, "Durable" is her "middle name."

Willie Walterscheids Honored on 25th

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Walterscheid were honored with a surprise silver anniversary celebration hosted by their sons Terry and Kim on April 11 in the KC Hall. A large number of family members and friends attended.

The hall was decorated in traditional silver and white. A canopy of white paper ropes was suspended from the center of the ceiling. It was bonded by large inflated white balloons at the outer edges. Silver bells were nestled in the center.

The honorees' table was covered with a white cloth edged with wide silver lace. A centerpiece arrangement of white silk flowers was accented by a figurine of a bride and groom. This beautiful creation was made by the talented hands of Mrs. H.H. Homsley, mother of Queenie Walterscheid. The centerpiece was flanked by tall silver candelabra holding glistening white candles. Hand drawn place cards were made by Dr. Martin Kralick, adding a personal touch to the table decor.

First "Schützenfest" Queen Recalls Pioneer Germanfest

We wish to take this opportunity to extend one big collective "Thank You" to all who made our 25th anniversary such a lovely, memorable, unforgettable event. For the beautiful thoughts, gifts and attendance we have a treasured memory. Your individual "Thank You's" will be forthcoming. Bear with us until we get through the wedding of our youngest son, Kim. Much Love,

Queenie and Willie

Mrs. Jennie Schilling was born in Alabama to Michael and Catherine Sieger. She was 1½ years old when they moved to Muenster.

Monday she reminisced about the first "Schützenfest" in 1901 in the young settlement of Muenster and about her selection at age 18 as Queen of the celebration, when she was Jennie Sieger, fiancée of Joe Noggler, and he was "Schützenfest" King.

Noggler won his honor by marksmanship by felling the wooden eagle that had been carved by Joe Markowitz (father of Charlie Markowitz) both expert carpenters and wood carvers.

Jennie was notified at work in Gainesville, she caught a 4 p.m. train to Muenster, was met by the Muenster Brass Band and accompanied in style, to the picnic area where she received her crown, to reign for the next two days, the first days of May.

Entertainment continued each day until dusk. There were band concerts, lots of German songs, lots of dancing, good food, beer, and visiting. Almost everyone in Muenster and Lindsay came each day. It was a great party for homefolks and their relatives.

Meals each day were prepared "on the grounds." The menus were plain but substantial. Townspeople brought and donated most of the groceries. Meats were usually prepared at home and then brought in ready to serve. The menu included pork, chicken and sausages...sauerkraut...lots of pies and cakes...breads, always homemade...lots of beer, always keg.

Meals were served on plain long board tables. Seats were made of 2 x 6's laid on beer kegs. The third day of "Schützenfest" was clean-up day. Almost everyone came back to help.

After reigning as the first Queen in 1901, at age 18, Jennie joined the ranks of those preparing and serving for future celebrations, and was one of the cooks for many years. She was married to Joe Noggler on November 22, 1902. They were parents of two daughters Rosalie, Mrs. Bill Haverkamp, and Gusta, Mrs. Alfons Walterscheid and three sons Tony, Lawrence and John Noggler.

Her husband died in 1918, a victim of the flu epidemic that swept the nation during World War I. Many years later she married John Schilling. They were parents of one daughter, Anna Marie, Mrs. Anton Fleitman. Jennie says proudly "I have lots of grandchildren and great-grandchildren."

Jennie Schilling will be 98 years old on June 19. She has been a resident of St. Richard's Villa for 10 years. Her concern for other residents is revealed by her obvious interest in them. Staff members say she is a joy to all. She remains mentally alert, reasonably active (at her favorite hobby), and incorporates humor and optimism into day to day living.

In recent months she has added a new phase to her favorite hobby, making brightly colored lap covers and lap robes for other residents, for hospital enough to reminisce about the early-day celebration. If possible, it almost seemed she pedaled even more animatedly as she recalled some special delight. The story of that sewing machine is interesting also. It first belonged to the late Maggie Simmons, rectory housekeeper, who loaned it to the late Mrs. Tessie Kathman who assisted Miss Simmons at one time. After her death it was bought by Mrs. Weldon Bezner, the former Rose Marie Walterscheid and was her gift to her grandmother.

And one wonders if the pedaling on the treadle machine provides the same healthful exercise to a wheel chair patient as walking does to others, accounting in part, perhaps, for Jennie Schilling's obvious good health?

patients, for gifts, some sent overseas, for missions, some sent by others as gifts. Now she also makes infant receiving blankets and sleepers, mostly all white, some light pastels lined with white. The infant covers are sent to a clinic in Harlingen where her nieces, Sister Benedict and Sister Madeleine Zimmerer have put her in touch where there is a great need.

The lap robes and receiving blankets usually measure about 1 yd x 1½ yd, and are made of many sizes of scrap pieces of double knit or cotton fabrics.

Monday she told that in 8 years, she had made 4,000 pieces by actual count. In the past two years she feels she has added about 2,000 more. She charges nothing for these but will accept a nominal amount to help defray shipping expenses. She eagerly accepts pieces of fabrics from friends "to keep her in business."

Her treasured possession is her treadle sewing machine. In her wheel chair, she moves up to it and "whirrs" merrily on. In fact, Monday she stopped "whirring" only long

Martinez Family Gathers For Easter Reunion

Happy Easter reuniting took place at the Martinez home where a son and brother visited the family for the first time in two and a half years, and an infant grandchild made the acquaintance of his maternal grandparents.
 John Martinez has completed a tour of duty with the Army and is in Muenster with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Martinez and his sister Lisa. John served as an Army medical specialist in Germany for two and a half years, stationed south of Frankfurt at Landstuhl in the largest Army-Air Force Hospital in Germany.
 He is seeing Muenster for the first time, having entered military service from Rotan, where the Martinez family lived before moving to Muenster in March, 1980.
 During his stay in Germany he was able to travel to several foreign countries and lists Rome as the high point, made so by seeing Pope John Paul II.
 Easter guests in the Martinez home included family members, Mrs. Jan (Rachael) Kumor and infant son Christopher of Los Angeles who will remain for a week, with her parents. Also Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fette and twin sons, Richard and David of Carrollton; and Mr. and Mrs. David Martinez of Lubbock who also visited her parents in Plano.

Mrs. Ben (Lupe) Martinez who had been in Westgate Hospital for a check-up, returned home for the Easter holidays and then returned to Denton for further tests.

A long time oilman and community leader, Felty died Friday in a San Antonio hospital.

Felty was a cousin of Mrs. M.H. King who attended the services. He was born in Myra on May 20, 1903, and lived at Hood before moving to Burk Burnett in 1918. He married Evelyn Conley on July 6, 1929.

He served on the Wichita County Democratic Board, the state Democratic steering committee, the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce and the administrative board of the First United Methodist Church. The Tigerettes of Sacred Heart continued their winning ways last Friday by taking top honor at a meet in Nocona.

Those who earned the points were: Virginia Bartush, second in shot and discus. Donna Trubenbach, second in hurdles. Laurie Endres, Tammy Henscheid, Lisa Hennigan and Marilyn Hartman, first in the mile relay.

Donna Trubenbach, Shellie Walterscheid, Anne Felderhoff and Laurie Endres, second in the 440 relay. Donna Trubenbach, Shellie Walterscheid, Laurie Endres and Tammy Henscheid, second in the 880 relay.

Sacred Heart also participated in a qualifiers meet Saturday at Frisco and found itself competing with 2, 3 and 4-A schools and rain besides. The 400 and 800 meter relay teams survived preliminaries but failed to place in the finals.

Regarding other events finals, were rained out and places determined by preliminary times. Brian Bednorz was second in the 110 hurdles and Donna Trubenbach was fourth in girls hurdles. Another who got on the scoreboard was Jill Walterscheid for third in shot and sixth in discus. Jill was the only MHS entry.

Good Weather Pays In Holidays

School kids of Muenster who failed to appreciate last Friday and Easter Monday had another reason to cheer last week and this week. Extra days which had been included in the school calendar for possible make-up days were not needed, so they were used as holidays. Students of the public school were excused for all of Holy Week and Easter Monday. Sacred Heart students were out on Good Friday and Easter Monday. However, they are scattering their free days. They took one day for the TCIL state basketball tournament and will take another day Friday for Germanfest.

Shop Students Help Build Ticket Booth

Woodshop students of Muenster High School received experience in typical residential construction by helping with the building of a ticket booth for the Hornet stadium.

They learned in areas of finishing concrete, erecting walls and ceiling, building headers, cutting rafters and shingling. They assisted with electrical work, also hung, taped and bedded the sheetrock and helped with exterior painting.

Rudy Koesler and Robert McDaniel supervised student participation and did the finishing work.

Fun Run...

The longer race, in both men's and ladies' divisions, will be divided into nine age groups, as follows: 9 and under; 10 to 13, 14 to 18, 19 to 24, 25 to 29, 30 to 34, 35 to 39, 40 to 49, 50 and over.

Assuming there are at least six entries in each group of each division, there will be 54 trophies and 54 medals awarded. Wouldn't It Be Wonderful If!

...All of us swept up and picked up in front of our own homes or business buildings, in our own back yards and alleys, on our own curbs and street corners and across our own vacant lots & Wouldn't it be wonderful if all of us presented this impression of Muenster to Germanfest guests? Wouldn't it be wonderful if we kept it up all year long?

It could become a lead-in to preparation for Germanfest. It could become a blue-print for action. It could become our stand-out slogan applicable the year round. It could be one facet of a community wide improvement program. It could be just down-to-earth fact!

the lawn east of big tent. Also something new is a $1 admission charge for persons of high school age or older. The gate revenue, after a 5 percent deduction for park improvement, is intended to help finance added expense such as the flagpoles, fireworks display and inflated cost of security, sanitation and maintenance. Among new attractions are a hot air balloon ride for the kids, sponsored by Schlitz. Subject to favorable weather, it will be located on a vacant lot across the creek from the park. Another new one is a mechanical bull ride. Also the National Guard will have an interesting display featuring tow tanks, two jeeps and a helicopter, and Coors will conduct a program on an outside stage.

A celebrity will be there too. Robert Newhouse, No. 44 of the Dallas Cowboys, will be a special visitor, courtesy of Anheuser Busch. Another addition consists of uniform jackets identifying Germanfest personnel. It's made of beige material by Jr. Elite and printing on the back designed by Tops and Teams. In addition Germanfest will have its abundance of regular attractions. The thirty booths inside the tents will have meals, pastry, sweets, strudel, wine, crafts, art, jewelry, ceramics and crystal along with other items and games. And outside there will be another food booth, plus a kids' carnival and train ride, also pony ride and carnival type concessions. More repeat attractions are a motorcycle rodeo, horseshoe tournament, beard and chug-a-lug contests, and near constant musical entertainment in the pavilion. Likewise near constant is the schedule of dancing. It begins Friday night with a street dance with music by Hay Fever. Saturday offers three dances. The Community Center polka dance will feature music by the Polka Patriots. Charter buses from Dallas, Richardson and Lawton are expected to swell the crowd at this event. At the same time the VFW Hall will have a Country and Western dance with music by Hard Times. Also at the same time the pavilion is booked 7 to 11 for polka music by Helga Beckman and the Bavarian Wood Choppers. Dancing is taken for granted when Helga gets her accordion warmed up. Something more for Saturday night is a fireworks display, another new attraction of this year. It will be conducted by professionals on a vacant lot across the creek from the park and clearly visible from the park. Still another dance is on the books. It will be another street dance 8 to 12 Sunday with music by Night Flight. The top feature of the festival, again, is expected to be the German Fun Run. Sponsored by the Muenster Knights of Columbus and directed by Dan Hamric and Ronnie Hess, it appears to be developing into the biggest ever with a fair chance of reaching its ambitious goal of 3000 participants. The number was 2010 last year. Parking accommodations will be ample off streets and on the area across the creek from the park and on paid parking lots of the vicinity. Also the baseball park is available for campers or regular parking. Uptown parkers will be able to reach the park by way of two vans provided by Marty Klement and Ray Wilde. The van route is a loop from the ball park at Oak to Main, to Highway 82, to Germanfest (on Maple), to Cross St., to FM 373, to Eddy, to Walnut, then back to the ball park. The Germanfest committee is headed by Alvin Fuhrman and Dick Ferber as co-chairmen, and others are John Pagel, finance; Henry Weinzapfel, city cleanup; Sam Endres, admissions; Larry Kinard, power and light; John Fisher, entertainment; David Fette, concessions; Monica Hess, publicity.

Weed control spraying on flood control dams of the area was done Monday and Tuesday by this helicopter. SCS has adopted a once in three years spraying schedule expecting weeds to be sufficiently retarded so grass can be kept in control.
Staff Photo

Helicopter
Sprays
Area
Dams

Helicopter spraying is a new method of weed control on the flood control dams and spillways of this area. Working for the Soil Conservation Service, Red Thomas of Millsap was on the job Monday spraying 16 sites of Western Cooke County and again Tuesday afternoon spraying 11 sites of Montague County.

Those were approximately a third of the dams in this area. SCS has set up a schedule whereby the dams get their weed control treatment once every three years. Sites chosen for this year's spraying are those on which the weeds were more dominant.

In this system the dam and spillway get a thorough treatment intended to wipe out the weeds and give grass an opportunity to get back in control. Once established it is believed that the grass will continue to dominate, until it gets another assist from the sprayer.

Copter spraying is very different from regular plane spraying. Not needing speed to keep airborne, the machine can fly slower and closer to the ground. Also the propeller's air current tends to drive the spray down to the vegetation rather than permit it to drift.

3 cups flour
½ teas. salt
2 teas. baking powder
1 teas. vanilla
Cream together sugar, crisco, eggs and vanilla. Gradually add sifted dry ingredients. Mix into large ball. Roll on floured board. Cut into size or shape desired. (My grandchildren preferred them large, round and thick). Bake on ungreased cookie sheet, at 350 degrees until lightly browned.

Colcannon
Mrs. Rose Hofbauer, who received it from her mother the late Mrs. John Walter 2 lb. potatoes boiling water
salt
4 cups coarsely shredded green cabbage
½ cup hot milk
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ teas. pepper

Chicken & Dumplings
The late Mrs. Henry Fette
(Made with a yeast-risen dough instead of with baking powder.)
This is a large recipe and serves a large family. Prepare dough for dumplings in manner similar to white bread dough. This should be started before chicken is cooked. Form dough into 20-25 "balls". Grease well, place on greased cookie sheet in warm place, to rise slightly for about ½ hour or a little longer.

Chicken: 1 large stewing chicken, cut in serving size pieces. Enough water to simmer slowly in heavy pan with dome lid or Dutch oven. Salt to taste, small amount chicken fat.
Begin cooking chicken at about the same time the bread dough was kneaded first time. Simmer chicken pieces in water to barely cover, with salt to taste. If a piece of chicken fat was saved and stored in freezer at a previous time, it may be added. Cook until almost tender. Check liquid at times. Do not allow to become too dry. Add hot water if necessary.

Place rack or small perforated flat lid on chicken peices. On top of lid or rack place dumplings, side by side. Handle very gently. Do not cause dough to fall or collapse. Do not allow liquid on chicken to touch dumplings. Cover tightly; steam for 40-45 minutes with burner on low to medium heat. Do not open lid. Do not uncover during this time. Turn off heat and allow to stand for a few minutes. Have ready about 2 tablespoons corn starch dissolved in 2 tablespoons water. Lift lid carefully. Remove dumplings gently to one side of a hot platter or large flat bowl. Place chicken pieces on other side. Thicken liquid with cornstarch for gravy. Spoon gravy over dumplings and chicken. Serve at once. Serve remaining gravy in side dish.

Frohliche Jungfrauen
The Jolly Spinners
Mrs. A.V. Grant (Mary Ann)

2 oz. sugar
4 eggs
2 tablespoons flour
2 oz. cornflour
grated rind of 1 lemon
Beat egg yolks with sugar and lemon rind until creamy. Add flour and cornflour. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop spoonful of this mixture in hot oil or fat. Fry few minutes until "fritters" are a golden brown. Lift out, drain on absorbent paper. Serve with Wine sauce.

Weinschaum Sauce
Frothy Wine Sauce
2 whole eggs
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 oz. sugar
½ pint of white wine
Beat all ingredients together in a basin. Put over a pan of boiling water, and continue beating until sauce boils. Put aside. If it should separate and not remain thick, it must be returned over hot water and renewed.
Test by placing a bit of sauce into a glass. If it remains firm, the sauce is ready to serve.

Schedule of Meetings

"Families in Action"
"Families in Action in Cooke County" will meet tonight, Thursday, April 23 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Paul's Episcopal Parish Hall, 415 East California St. in Gainesville. Everyone is welcome.

Myra Club
The Myra Community Improvement Club meets regularly on the last Tuesday of the month, April 28.

Germania Farm Mutual
The Germania Farm Mutual Insurance Co. annual meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center Meeting Room.

Pare potatoes and quarter. Cook in ½ inch boiling water and 1 teas. salt until fork tender. Drain. Return pan to low heat, shake to dry potatoes. Meanwhile, in ½ inch boiling water and ½ teas. salt, cover and cook cabbage few minutes or till barely tender. Drain well. Use electric mixer to beat potatoes with 4 tablespoons butter, 1 teas. salt, if desired, and pepper. Add hot milk. Beat until fluffy. Stir in cabbage, mixing well. Return to low heat 5 minutes. Turn Colcannon into heated serving dish. Make depression in center and add butter. Some cooks like to add a touch of onions to the hot milk. 8 servings.

Corn Soup

The late Mrs. Henry Fette
3 cups milk, heated
½ teas. salt
½ teas. sugar
pepper to taste
3 tablespoons butter
1 large can cream style corn
1 small can whole kernel corn
Heat to simmer, but do not allow to boil. Great for a cold-winter-time supper, served with crackers or thick slices of homemade bread.

Homemade Noodles

Served with Croutons & Jelly
A family favorite for meatless Fridays of the family of the late Mrs. Henry Fette
Combine 1 beaten egg, 2 tablespoons milk and ½ teaspoon salt. Add enough sifted flour to make stiff dough, (about 1 cup). On floured surface, roll thin; let stand to dry about a half hour. Roll up gently. Slice ½ inch wide or narrower if preferred. Lift with fingers to spread and let dry about several hours. Then may be used or stored in container.
To cook; drop into boiling salted water, cook uncovered til tender. To serve: drain in colander; turn into serving dish; dress top with croutons made of homemade bread cut into cubes, previously browned very slowly in butter in heavy skillet. Serve with grape or blackberry jelly. yum-Yum!

Fried Hash

A good tasting example of traditional German thrift, and ability to "make-do", with whatever is at hand, creating a favorite family casserole from ordinary leftovers.

A favorite of the late Mrs. Henry Fette's family
4 cups leftover beef roast. (May be obtained by saving small amounts of leftover meat and storing in freezer until sufficient amount is collected.)
1 medium onion, cut into pieces
1 medium green pepper (optional); remove seeds & center
2 cups leftover cooked potatoes, cubed salt and pepper to taste
Put the leftover roast, onion and green pepper through a food chopper or grinder, mix in cubed potatoes; sprinkle on salt and pepper and mix well.

Place about 1 tablespoon oil in heavy skillet. Coat evenly. Place meat mixture in skillet. Form large cake about 2 inches thick. With spatula or pancake turner coax away from side of skillet toward center to form a uniform round shape. Flatten top surface. Place skillet on medium heat and brown meat slowly for 15-20 minutes. Do not stir. Use spatula or pancake turner to lift one edge slightly to check for brown crust underneath. If necessary brown a little longer. A nice brown crust has a wonderful flavor and also makes turning the meat much easier. Loosen around all edges and underneath. With two pancake turners or spatulas, turn entire mixture and allow to brown slowly on second side. Do not stir. Do not allow to fry too fast. Burns easily. Remove to hot platter and serve with catsup or reheated leftover gravy.

Hasenpfeffer

Bill Gates

Fifty years ago, as a boy in Missouri, we used to hunt rabbits, after the first snowfall. My father would always cook up a huge batch of Hasenpfeffer and the longer it sat in the ice box, the better it tasted.

I do not have his original recipe any more, but several years ago I clipped the enclosed recipe from a magazine. It may be a bit complicated for your purposes, but I can vouch for its deliciousness. From Bill Gates, Rt. 1 Box 127 Muenster, Texas.

Thaw 2 pkg. (2-3 lb. each) frozen mature rabbit. Place in shallow glass pan. Add ¼ cups cider vinegar, 1 cup water, 1 cup red bordeaux wine, 1 tablespoon each of sugar, juniper berries, 3 onions sliced, 1 crumbled bay leaf, 6 whole cloves, 2 teaspoons salt, large sprig parsley, 1½ teaspoon thyme leaves, some fresh ground black pepper. Marinade rabbit in all this for 24 hours, turning occasionally.

Lift rabbit from marinade, dry on paper towel, toss in ½ cup seasoned flour. Brown in heavy pan, using ½ cup oil heated with 1 tablespoon butter. Add remaining flour. Strain marinade. Bring to boil and add 1 teaspoon mustard seed. Simmer, tightly covered, 2 hours.

Lift out rabbit, keep warm. Add 2 tablespoons currant jelly to sauce, boil fast for 5 minutes. Remove from heat, stir in 1 cup sour cream; strain over rabbit. Serve with noodles or potato dumplings. Serves 8-10.
