It's ironic and even depressing to think that the nation's observance of Memorial Day is being desecrated by a group of left-leaning individuals whose aim is to undermine our country's security. Traditionally the Memorial Day thought is that those who died shall not have died in vain, but these people insist on a stage of defenselessness which leaves our country in that danger.

The group, calling itself "Jobs with Peace" claims to be a nationwide organization that examines the effect of nuclear arms buildup, foreign military intervention and military spending on our everyday lives.

Its policy statement says "we call upon the US Congress to make money available for jobs and programs — in education, transportation, housing, health care, human services, and other socially productive industries — by significantly reducing the amount of our tax dollars spent on nuclear weapons, foreign military intervention and wasteful military programs; these policies will promote a healthy economy, true national security, and jobs with peace."

In line with this aim "Jobs with Peace" has introduced a resolution H. Res. 46, calling for cuts in military spending and more funding for welfare programs. The resolution does not specify but it refers to an amendment introduced last year which was defeated 348-55. It opposed procurement of MX missiles, Pershing II and Cruise missiles, the B-1 bomber and other strategic and conventional weapons: In other words the group is 100 percent opposed to policies of our government and 100 percent in support of the Soviet side.

But that's not all of the story. The more shocking fact is that these subversive ideas are being pushed by the National Education Association and the Union of Concerned Scientists, two organizations which are very much involved in American education.

The "Education Task Force" of Jobs with Peace has developed a set of three curricula (social studies, science and English) for use in high schools. It is entitled "Crossroads: Quality of life in a Nuclear World." The organization boasts that the curricula, which also reflect an anti-defense spending bias, are now used by teachers in 30 states and are being adopted by several school systems.

Frank Clemente, a program director for the organization said the course was introduced in many schools during April 10-16 when national Jobs with Peace week was held. He also said that Jobs with Peace week which was extensively covered by Marxist newspapers but generally ignored by other media, featured events in 170 cities and towns of the country.

The generous publicity in red publications hints strongly of the nature of the organization. Even more convincing and more shocking, an official list of organizations which endorse the Jobs with Peace campaign includes not only the NEA but also the Communist-controlled US Peace Council and

Wheat harvest waits on weather

With a bountiful crop in sight, grain farmers of the community are waiting anxiously for cooperative weather. They see signs of 35 bushels of wheat per acre, an increase of about 15 bushels over last year's average, if good harvesting conditions will favor them through the season.

Local grain dealers, the Muenster Milling Co. and Tony's Seed and Feed, expect the action to start this week. They say some grain is ready for the combine now, and more will be ready about as soon as the ground can dry sufficiently for the heavy machines to roll.

In that respect farmers are more fortunate than last year. Now as then their cutting is already about two weeks behind the usual schedule. But there's a difference. Grain in 1982 was ready on time but combining was delayed by wet weather. This time the grain's maturity has been delayed by cool weather and should be ready when the ground is ready ... if dry weather takes over soon.

Favored by those fortunate conditions, farmers can enjoy one of their best crops of recent years. The price again is expected to be $3.40 to $3.50 per bushel for hard wheat and about 50 cents less for soft wheat. At the same time the vast acreage decrease because of federal programs may tend to steady the market and prevent a price drop.

County wide, grain acreage is down from 48,000 acres to 35,000 according to Tim Gilbert of the county ASCS office. However higher yields are expected to compensate for acreage cuts, possibly to the extent of matching or topping last year's total yield.

Along with their crops, farmers are in line for benefits from the Payment in Kind (PIK) federal program. Its purpose is to reduce the nation's grain surplus by taking acres out of production and eventually improve price as supply and demand become operative. To make up for each farmer's acreage reduction he is assured a compensating quantity of grain from the federal surplus. The payment becomes a part of his crop income. And the process of acreage reduction pays off in still another way. In reducing acres it was permissible to harvest the young grain crop as hay or by grazing. At that stage of growth the plant is rich in protein content. As a result the community has thousands of extra bales of high quality hay.

Another factor in the crop is moisture. In spite of a total measure of less than three-fourths of normal, crops seem to have suffered little if any. Some reports are that stalks are fewer and kernels in the head are fewer because of lack of spring rain, but they received a welcome finishing touch in recent showers.

Still another factor was a minimum of disease and insect damage. According to Craig Rosenbaum, county extension agent, the disease luckily came too late to do serious harm, and lady bugs, the grain's friends, arrived in time to deal with aphids. Everything considered, conditions are favorable now and the big concern is weather of the next few weeks.

Facilities for handling the crop here are better than they have ever been. Both dealers have ample space for the grain they will buy for themselves as well grain to be stored in the PIK and federal loan program. Capacity of both elevators was more than doubled in the past year's building project. Muenster Mill's total space is 600,000 bushels.

Area grain storage facilities now await harvest input expected to be much higher than that of last year. The muenster Milling company facilities shown here under expansion, are now complete. The large, but short bin on the right is now large and tall. The structure was raised, layer by layer from the bottom and is now a dominant feature of the skyline. Tony's Seed and Feed has also considerably increased their capacity with spring construction.

MHS seniors graduate, receive advice on success through discipline

Being one's self and striving to make that self as good as possible is the good word conveyed to Muenster High graduates at their commencement by Dr. Harry Roark at the MHS auditorium Thursday night.

He advised being totally honest with yourself, know your assets and liabilities, and then look for ways to improve. "Conquer yourself through personal discipline", he said. Say yes ... or no ... when you ought to, and stand on your own two feet when making decisions. And give of yourself in meaningful helpful activity.

One of the most important things to remember, he added is that the greatest blessing is the privilege to work. "Accept the challenge to help make this broken world a better place to live."

Other speakers on the program were Shelly Zimmerer in the salutatory and Brent McElreath in the valedictory. Both thanked parents, teachers and any others who helped in the past 12 years, and referred to the sadness of parting along with the adventures of new interests.

School Board President Dolphy Hellman, accompanied by Superintendent Eddie Green and Class Sponsor Robert McDaniel, awarded diplomas to the thirty-nine graduates.

In addition Principal Green presented the salutatory scholarship to state supported schools to Shelly Zimmerer. Her average was 96.429 percent. And he gave the valedictory scholarship award to Brent McElreath for his average of 97.0298 percent.

Also, he announced that Lisa Martinez has received a scholarship from the local Beta Kappa sorority.

Others on the program were Superintendent Charles Coffey introducing the speaker, School Board Vice President Harold Bindel in the invocation; School Secretary Dennis Hess in the benediction and Rosemary Dankesreiter in the professional and recessional.

Community honors deceased veterans

Sixty nine deceased service men of the community were remembered Sunday in a memorial service conducted by VFW Post 6205 and the Ladies Auxiliary.

It was headed by Gene Davenport enlisting all who served their country and especially those who made the supreme sacrifice in combat.

He said "Memorial Day calls to stand by the silent mounds of sacred dust of our comrades who gave their lives and sacrificed so very much for religious freedom and social and economic liberty."

"We must also remember those men whose bodies are maimed and minds are scared, who endured the horrors of conflict, and now live in hospitals and sanitariums. "Memorial Day calls on us the living to look forward with renewed fervor, revived loyalty and restored confidence.

"Let us remember the scripture 'Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints', for these whom we remember this morning 'have attained the peace that passes understanding.'"

Davenport ended his message with a prayer "that we may be true as they were true, loyal as they were loyal, and that we may serve our country and the cause of pure religion all the days of our lives."

The service started during the 7 a.m. Mass at Sacred Heart Church as Commander Don Eckart and Commander-elect Pat Knabe presented offertory gifts.

After Mass it continued with a procession to the cemetery headed by the post's color and rifle bearers, Auxiliary officers and children bearing flowers.

First stop was the group of Crucifixion statues at which Flora Mae Knabe, Auxiliary chaplain, placed a bouquet and Emmet (Andy) Stelzer, department senior vice-commander, recited a memorial prayer for deceased of the community.

Next stop was the area of service men's graves where Frances Bayer, auxiliary president, and Hilda Sicking, junior vice-president, placed a wreath of flowers and one of Buddy Poppies at the monument and children placed individual carnations on the graves. Then Gene Davenport spoke, the rifle bearers gave their traditional three-volley salute, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Weinzapfel sounded taps.

Four gold star parents were especially honored with flowers from the Auxiliary. Mrs. Frank Bayer and Mrs. Theresa Moster received corsages, Frank Bayer and J.M. Weinzapfel received boutonnières.

VFW members in the color guard and rifle squad were Arthur Bayer, Johnny Rohmer, David Bayer, Theo Voth, Pat Knabe, Dink Hudspeth, Meinard Yosten, Don Hellman, David Fisher, Leo Becker, Bernard Hesse

Good News

Psalm 25: 4-7

Your ways, O Lord, make known to me; teach me your paths,

Guide me in your truth and teach me, for you are God my savior, and for you I wait all the day.

Remember that your compassion, O Lord, and your kindness are from of old.

The sins of my youth and my frailties remember not; in your kindness remember me, because of your goodness, O Lord.

Swimming pool opens

Muenster's municipal swimming pool opened last Friday, promptly after school kids started their summer vacations. It is managed by Larry Holloway whose assistants are Rodney Hess, Leslie Wells, Virginia Bartush, Sandy Ramsey, Janet Reiter and Bob Stoval.

As in previous years, it is open daily except Monday from 1 to 7 p.m. and the admission charge is 75 cents per person, child or adult.

Also it is available for lease for swim parties any time before or after the regular hours or on Monday. The lease charge is $20 per hour.

Spring hangs on

With summer less than three weeks away the temperature remains more like early spring, and the grain harvest which normally would be well advanced still is not started. Because of the coolness the moisture condition remains fair in spite of only 10.68 inches of rain in five months. The total this week was .94 and the total for May was 3.18 inch.

Low and high readings of the week were recorded as follows by Steve Moster.

May 26	62 and 86
May 2713 in. rain 62 and 90
May 2830 in. rain 64 and 86
May 29	66 and 87
May 30	63 and 73
May 3151 in rain 50 and 68

Marie Mosman tours Orient and Islands

A fabulous vacation trip to Honolulu, Manila, Hong Kong and Canton, China was the good fortune of Mrs. Marie Mosman recently, traveling most of the time with her daughter Becky and family.

Enroute to the Philippines, where Becky and Marc Edwards are stationed in Manila, Mrs. Mosman stopped for three days in Honolulu to visit her cousin and family, Margie and Bill Warren.

They took her on a grand tour of Oahu. She saw Diamond Head, Pearl Harbor, the Arizona Memorial, Punch Bowl, walked on Waikiki Beach, attended a Polynesian dinner show at the Hale Kea Hotel and saw pineapple fields. The Warrens also took her to the Polynesian Cultural Center in the northeastern part of the island, where living conditions, culture and dances of Samoa, New Zealand, Fiji, Hawaii, Tahiti, Tonga and the Marquesas Islands are depicted.

Arriving in Manila, she spent three days with the Edwards family Becky, Marc and Missy, and then accompanied them on an eight day tour of Hong Kong and Canton, China.

They toured Ocean Park, Hong Kong's 180 acre

Oceanarium; visited the Tigerbalm Gardens, the Space Museum and Planetarium; they took the ferry to Aberdeen and Stanley Markets; saw the New Territories and drove to the border where they could see the wall dividing China and Hong Kong.

They flew to Canton, China and stayed at the very new western hotel, the White Swan. Tours in China included the Sun Yat Sen Memorial Hall, Yuexiu Park, and the six Banyan Temple and Flower Pagodas, Buddhist buildings dating from 537 A.D.

In Canton they also visited the cultural Park, saw an ivory factory, a paper cut-out factory in Fesham, China and a ceramic and china factory.

They were also privileged to visit a Chinese Commune where 80,000 people live and have their own hospitals, schools, stores and cement and brick factories. Their tour group of twenty enjoyed being served a 10 course meal in the commune. Also in Canton they had a two hour boat ride on the Pearl River.

Mrs. Mosman also enjoyed time to become acquainted with Manila while visiting the Edwards family. Principal languages are Tagalog and English; the main arts are wood carving, shells, embroidery and paintings; the main products are rice, sugar, pineapples, bananas, fish, coconuts, tobacco and rubber.

In Manila Mrs. Mosman and Becky visited the American Memorial of Soldiers; the Ayala Museum; saw the reclaimed land section of Manila; saw the Cultural Center, the Folk Arts Theatre, and the Phillippino Convention Center. They drove to the Intramuros, the old wall surrounding the original city of Manila, visited the San Augustin Museum and, the San Augustin Church built in 1587; and stopped at the Manila Hotel where General Douglas McArthur headquartered during the war.

During the Easter holidays the Edwards and her mother visited three provinces of the Philippines, about 500 miles from Manila. There the Edwards and a group of friends went snorkling and deep sea diving and collected beautiful shells.

The Easter holiday tour completed her visit. She returned to Muenster shortly thereafter.

Darell Walterscheid, Sandra Bezner marry in ceremony at St. Peter's

MRS. DARELL WALTERSCHEID

Mr. and Mrs. Darell Walterscheid are at home in Muenster since returning from their wedding trip. They were married in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay on May 21. Father Cletus Post was celebrant of the Nuptial Mass at 5 p.m. and officiated for their vows in a traditional double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Sandra Bezner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bezner of Lindsay. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Walterscheid of Muenster.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal floor length white wedding gown of organza over satin. An elegant crocheted lace capelet formed sleeves, accenting the fitted bodice and the high neckline of Chantilly lace over net. Seed pearls were embroidered on the bodice and at the edge of the skirt. Matching crocheted lace and tulle surrounded the hemline of the skirt and chapel length train. Her short bridal veil of sheerest tulle was caught to a lace headpiece. Wearing elbow length lace gloves, she carried a lace edged round, silk bridal bouquet of dusty rose, light and deep blue roses, white carnations, ivy and white babies breath.

Attendants

Bridal attendants were Lisa Bezner of Lindsay, bride's sister, as maid of honor, Elaine Walterscheid, groom's sister and Laurie Walterscheid, groom's cousin, both of Muenster as bridesmaids. Their identical gowns, made by the bride, were designed of ice blue moire taffeta, with ruffled, scooped neckline, fitted bodice, gathered skirt and cummerbund. Each carried a white lace fan with dark and light blue, and white silk roses, white babies breath and greenery.

Leslie Fuhrmann, groom's niece and Kristi Macready, both of Lindsay were flower girls. Jeff Walterscheid, bride's cousin was ring bearer.

Jessie Walterscheid of Muenster, groom's brother was best man. Wade Walterscheid, also a brother of the groom and Bruce Bezner of Lindsay, bride's brother were groomsmen. Scott Felderhoff and Brian Herr, friends and Ted Walterscheid, groom's cousin were ushers. Curtis Macready and Mike Dieter were Mass servers.

For the special liturgy Kevin Macready and Irby Macready were lectors and Joe Bezner was lay minister.

Sister Anna Rose Bezner, bride's aunt of San Antonio was organist, presenting wedding music including the processional "Prince of Denmark March", and the recessional "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Jerry Bierschenk of Fort Worth, bride's cousin sang and played the guitar. Selections as guests assembled, and during Mass, included "My Cup Runneth Over", "Let It Be Me", "Alleluia" and "Ave Marie."

Altar decorations by Mrs. Nick Block were of white and blue fresh and silk flowers, ivy and votive candles.

Reception

The reception, dinner and dance were held in the Sacred Heart Community Center of Muenster. Stacie Miller of Muenster, groom's sister, and Gina Dill of Rosston presided at the guest book.

The bride's table was decorated with English ivy and blue votive candles.

The three tiered wedding cake and double ring chocolate groom's cake were made by Debbie Rice, groom's cousin. Assisting with serving the cakes were cousins of the bride, Deann Walterscheid, Rhonda Fleitman, Shari Voth of Muenster, Amy Walterscheid of Gainesville and Denise Prescher of Justin.

The dinner was catered by Emil Rohmer and music for dancing was provided by Remlin Express.

The bride is a graduate of Lindsay High School and is attending Cooke County College. She is employed by the Biology Dept. of CCC. The groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Cooke County College where he earned a degree in Drafting. He is a building contractor employed by JAW Construction.

A First Texas 80's Report: On Investment Options.

"Will interest rates go up or down? Either way, First Texas has the right plan now."

Plan One:
Take advantage of rising interest rates with the escalating-rate MoneyMaker Plus™.

If you think the interest rates will rise, you'll want the First Texas MoneyMaker Plus account. This short-term investment gives you the high interest of a money market fund. Plus, there's one big difference: it offers an escalating interest rate, so the more you invest, the higher your interest rate.

Under	$2,500	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000	$50,000
Rates:	5.25%	8.15%	8.30%	8.50%	8.65%

These rates were effective May 5, 1983 and illustrate the increments of this investment. Interest rates may vary daily.

There are more pluses with this account: Your principal and interest are insured safe up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. There's a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500. You can write checks and make deposits of $500 or more. You also have no activity or management fees. Plus, you can receive a free First Texas regular checking account for one year.

Plan Two:
Lock in a current interest rate with Money Market Certificates.

If you think interest rates will fall in the future, First Texas has a choice of long-term Money Market Certificates.* These investments are a safe way to lock in a current money market interest rate for either two and a half, four, six, eight or even ten years.

You can start with an opening deposit as small as $500. And your investment is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Also, there's an insured, 6-month Certificate with a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500.

Long or short term. The choice is yours.

The fact is, no matter what you think interest rates will do, First Texas has a plan that's right for you, right now.

Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open the account that's right for you. Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll open it over the phone.

NBC prime time schedule announced

When people think of NBC's Mr. T — they usually think of the gold-laden growler on the "The A-Team."

However, there are two Mr. T's at NBC. The other dresses quite conventionally and he's more powerful than his "A-Team" namesake. He's Brandon Tartikoff, president of NBC Entertainment.

Tartikoff recently announced the No. 3 network's 1983-1984 prime-time schedule. It includes nine new series and six returning shows moved to new time slots. Most of his message was punctuated with references to demographics, TV Q scores and the omnipotent Nielsen ratings. He added, "with new shows emphasizing fresh ideas... (it) builds on the momentum we established last season."

Even with the supposed momentum, NBC remained behind ABC and CBS last season. As for "fresh ideas," here are examples. A one-hour drama "about a large family struggling to maintain their working ranch in Texas." The hunchos at 30 Rockefeller Plaza have never watched "Dallas"? Or a half-hour comedy about a ghost who is only visible to one member of a family? Never saw "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" or "Topper," Brandon? And an animal who can talk and is smarter than most people. It sounds like "Mr. Ed." These "fresh" ideas, from "The Yellow Rose," "Jennifer Slept Here" and "Mr. Smith," represent a third of NBC's new roster.

For the "Hill Street Blues" fans, set aside Tuesday nights at 10 p.m. Steven Bochco, executive producer of "Hill Street," has the "Bay City Blues," a California minor league baseball team. "The Yellow Rose" features an impressive cast: David (Remember "Casablanca") Soul; first-time series regulars Cybill (What happened to her movie career?) Shepherd and Selleck esque Sam Elliot; Susan Anspach, Edward Albert Jr. and crusty TV veterans Noah Beery and Ken Curtis.

On Friday nights, there's "An Officer and a Gentleman" clone "For Love and Honor." Besides the recruits' tribulations there will be a romance between a sergeant (Cliff Potts) and a woman officer (Shelley Smith). Sounds like Furillo and Davenport, or how about "From Here to Eternity"?

P.S. Don't worry: "Hill Street Blues," "Cheers," "Family Ties" and "St. Elsewhere" were renewed despite the marginal ratings. That must prove demographics, TV Q's and the Neilsens don't always determine everything.

Playing in the comparative warmth, on a merry-go-round above a puddle of rainwater in Muenster City Park was more popular Wednesday than plunging into the cold swimming pool during basic water safety classes.

Small children enjoyed their spot over the water on the park playground more than this boy in the water in Muenster Swim Pool. Brrr, it was a bit chilly Wednesday morning.

County Agent's Report

Each year between June and August, Cooke County livestock producers can control costly cattle grubs by applying systemic insecticides.

During late fall and winter, the cattle grub appears on the backs of animals. It's too late to begin control measures then since most of the damage has already been done.

However, applying a systemic insecticide—one which is absorbed into the animal's bloodstream—can control grubs effectively between June and September.

In addition to controlling cattle grubs, the insecticide will also provide contact control of horn flies for two to three weeks. This makes the overall cost of treatment favorable.

The cattle grub is the larval stage of the heel fly. The fly has no mouth parts, so it causes no pain to the cattle. However, it frightens cattle, making them difficult to manage. Animals often seek relief by standing in shade or deep water. At other times, you will see cattle running with their tails in the air.

The life cycle begins when the heel fly lays its eggs on an animal. The eggs, glued to hairs, hatch within a few days, and larvae (worms) enter the skin at hair follicles. The worms then migrate through the animal's body for six to eight months and reappear in the animal's back in the fall and winter, forming knot-like marbles or cysts.

Cattle grubs cause greater losses than any other cattle pest. It is difficult to estimate the economic loss with a great deal of accuracy. Besides damaging meat and hides by their burrowing, they lower beef cattle gains and production throughout the year. Profit losses are estimated in the millions of dollars each year.

Since labeling changes quite often on the systemic insecticides, producers should pay attention to restrictions for their use. Many are not labeled for young calves, lactating dairy animals or bulls. Read that label! Observe your cattle for toxic reactions for about two days after treatment. One more thing to consider and that is avoid treating sick or stressed animals.

Pecan Nut Casebearer
The worst insect that attacks the pecan nutlet should be emerging in Cooke County area about June 4 or 5. Watch for the presence of eggs on the nutlets, and time your insecticide applications accordingly.

To time spray applications for casebearer control, first check for eggs on a daily basis. Eggs are usually found on the tips of nutlets and are about the size of the ball in a ball-point pen. The eggs are white when first laid, then turn red over a three-to-five day period before turning white again after they hatch.

Apply an insecticide the third day after the first egg hatches so as to kill the larvae before they enter the nutlets. Since the larvae will hatch over a week-long period or more, a second spraying may be necessary. Insecticides recommended for casebearer control include diazinon and malathion.

Land, largest solar power collector

The use of solar power as an alternative source of energy, although nothing new in itself, has been given a fairly new twist by researchers at Oklahoma State University. Dr. Jim Bose and Bob Weaver, both researchers at OSU, have been conducting experiments on earth-coupled water source heat pumps - systems which take advantage of the largest solar collector anywhere, the land.

Sunlight warms the earth and the soil retains the heat for long periods of time. Heat pumps transfer that heat from one source to another by means of evaporation or condensation of a refrigerant fluid, Freon for instance. Air source heat pumps which transfer heat from one body of air to another, are the type most familiar to the general public. Weaver describes the cooling unit on a household refrigerator as an air source heat pump which moves the heat in one direction only.

An earth-coupled system can be used to cool the house in summer as well as heating in the winter because when the heat pump is reversed, the earth will act as a heat sink.

Cost per foot is one of the major expenses of installing an earth-coupled system because they require long lengths of pipe, which may be installed in either a horizontal or vertical pattern. In the horizontal pattern the pipe is buried at a depth of four to six feet below the surface of the ground, which is both simpler and cheaper, but requires a larger amount of surface land.

In the vertical pattern, U-tubes are sunk more than 200 feet below the surface. This method is best used when surface area is at a premium.

These earth-coupled systems are becoming more popular in Canada and in many of the southern states such as Florida. Ironically, these systems are not eligible for state or federal tax credits, but the researchers believe the ideas are good enough to stand on their own merit.

Fire Ant control is no easy task

One of the most persistent insect pests around today is the red imported fire ant, and despite all efforts to keep the pest in check, it is slowly marching westward, leaving behind a pock-marked landscape and a barrel full of problems.

Fire ants erupted around Mobile, Ala., about 1940 and have since laid claim to all the South from the Carolinas to half of Texas. Their westward trek has reached as far as the San Angelo area.

Fire ants are well-known for their painful stings and for their damage to plants, young livestock and wildlife. Their mounds — often a foot-and-a-half high and as hard as concrete — play havoc with farm machinery during mowing and other field operations and lead to a lot of problems in lawns, parks, playgrounds, school yards, cemeteries, golf courses and the like.

"How to deal effectively with these pests has kept many entomologists and other in the insect control business awake at night," says Dr. Phil Hamman, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Once there was some talk about eradicating the imported fire ant, but now we've got our hands full just thinking about containment and management."

"While we have a number of chemicals that will kill fire ants, there is no such thing as permanent extermination due to reinfestations," points out the entomologist. "The best you can hope to do is to treat existing mounds and to stay on the lookout for new mounds."

A good time to treat mounds is when the ants are most active — during warm weather, late in the afternoon or evening when ants are foraging, and after a rain. During wet weather, the ants will increase the size of their mounds to move their brood up into drier soil. This makes them more vulnerable to control measures, says Hamman.

For effective control, he suggests treating mounds with an approved insecticide diluted in water. Use a sprinkling can or a gallon-sized plastic jug with holes in the screw-on top to sprinkle the solution on the mound like a gentle rain. Wet the mound thoroughly. A granular insecticide can also be sprinkled on top and around the ant mound.

"It's best not to disturb the mound before or during treatment," says Hamman. "Otherwise, part of the colony may move away from the chemical."

Amdro is an effective bait but works slowly, as do some other materials that have been effectively in controlling fire ants. Colonies in treated mounds will usually die out in one to two weeks. However, products containing methyl chloroform, pyrethrum, acephate, diazinon or chlorpyrifos give more immediate results.

"Whatever insecticide you use, follow label directions," says Hamman. "And remember that one treatment won't last forever. Some time or another, the fire ants will be back again, so you'll have to be on guard and ready to treat again."

It pays to topdress pastures.

Pastures are too often overlooked in an otherwise comprehensive fertility program.

The fact is, proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity. It can also dramatically increase your milk production.

Begin with a soil test. Then apply the fertilizer shown to be needed. Add lime, if your soil is found high in acidity.

Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.
